7663. Not later than 30 days after such application, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion to each applicant school district from the State General Fund, as an advance against future apportionments from the State School Fund to such district, an amount equal to one-half of the basic state aid to which the district is entitled during the first fiscal year of the existence of such district, based upon the estimated average daily attendance of pupils in the regular day junior college of the high school district during the fiscal year immediately preceding the effective date of the inclusion of such high school district in the newly formed junior college district for all purposes.

Abstract, certification,
etc.

7664. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall furnish an abstract of all apportionments made to junior college districts of any county under this chapter to the State Controller, the Department of Finance and to the county auditor, county treasurer and county superintendent of schools of the county and shall certify such apportionments to the State Controller who shall thereupon draw his warrants on the State General Fund in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amounts apportioned to the junior college districts of the county.

Crediting of moneys received

7665. All moneys received by the treasurer of a county under this chapter shall be credited by the treasurer to the general fund of the junior college district of the county exactly as apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

State General Fund

7666. During each of the two successive fiscal years commencing with the first fiscal year of the existence of a newly formed junior college district for all purposes the State Controller shall deduct from apportionments made to each such district from the State School Fund under this division one-half of the amount apportioned to such district under this chapter and shall pay the same into the State General Fund.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Under the existing law whenever a junior college district is formed it is required to establish and maintain one or more junior colleges the first fiscal year of its existence for all purposes. In order to do so the newly formed district is authorized and required to prepare school district budgets for the ensuing school year, elect and appoint employees and administrative personnel for such year, and exercise other powers and duties vested in governing boards of junior college districts, not inconsistent with other provisions of the Education Code. However, because funds with which to employ administrative personnel are not available to newly formed junior college districts prior to the first fiscal year of the existence of such districts for all purposes, it is exceedingly difficult to secure the necessary services for the preparation of budgets, elect and appoint employees for the ensuing school year and perform other duties required of junior college boards in preparation of the ensuing school year. In order to provide the necessary funds with which to exercise the powers and duties conferred upon governing boards of newly formed junior college districts prior to the date such districts become effective for all purposes, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 724

An act to amend Section 1101 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1101 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1101. An admitted insurer's officers, directors, trustees and any persons who have authority in the management of the insurer's funds, shall not, unless otherwise provided in this code:

(a) Receive any money or valuable thing for negotiating, procuring, recommending or aiding in, any purchase by or sale to such insurer of any property, or any loan from such insurer.

(b) Be pecuniarily interested as principal, coprincipal, agent, attorney or beneficiary, in any such purchase, sale or loan.

(c) Directly or indirectly purchase, or be interested in the purchase of, any of the assets of the insurer.

This section shall not apply to the purchase or exchange of stock of an admitted insurer by an admitted insurer or between admitted insurers nor to any merger, consolidation or corporate reorganization of such insurers, and shall not apply as to such purchase, merger, exchange, consolidation or reorganization, nor to the officers, directors, trustees or any persons having authority in the management of such insurers

officers, etc

Exceptions

funds in respect to any such transaction and no such transaction shall be either void or voidable, if

(1) The transaction is just and reasonable as to the insurers involved at the time it is authorized or approved and if no such officer, director, trustee or other person having authority in the management of such insurers funds receives any money or other valuable thing, other than his usual compensation for his regular duties, for negotiating, procuring, recommending or aiding in such transaction, and, either

(2) Any interest in such transaction on the part of any officers, directors, trustees, or persons who have authority in the management of any such insurer's funds is disclosed or known to its board of directors or committee, authorizing, approving or ratifying the transaction, and noted in the minutes thereof, and the board or committee authorizes, approves or ratifies the transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of any interested officers, directors, trustees, or persons who have authority in the management of the funds of any such insurer, or

(3) The fact of such interest is disclosed or known to the shareholders in the case of a stock insurance company, or in the case of a mutual insurer to the policyholders, and they approve or ratify the transaction in good faith by a vote or written consent of a majority of the shares or policyholders, as the case may be, entitled to vote, unless the consent or vote of more than a majority is otherwise required, in which event the vote or written consent shall be that so otherwise required.

Any such officer, director, trustee, or other person who has such interest may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at any meeting which authorizes, approves or ratifies such transaction.

The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of this section shall not apply to any transaction relating to a life insurer if the transaction meets the other requirements of this section and such officers, directors, and trustees of the life insurer do not in the aggregate own more than 5 percent of the stock of any corporation with which the life insurer is entering into a transaction.

The amendment made to this section at the 1955 General Session shall not apply to contracts, sales, transfers or other transactions entered into prior to the effective date hereof.

CHAPTER 725

An act to amend Section 226 of the Civil Code, relating to adoptions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 226 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

226. Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the State Department of Social Welfare at Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action and of any subsequent action taken. In all cases in which consent is required, except in the case of an adoption by a stepparent where one natural or adoptive parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, unless an agency licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare to find homes for children and place children in homes for adoption joins in the petition for adoption, the consent of the natural parent or parents to the adoption by the petitioners must be signed in the presence of an agent of the State Department of Social Welfare or of a licensed county adoption agency on a form prescribed by such department and filed with the clerk of the superior court, in the county of the petitioner's residence.

Petition

parents

Such consent, when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the minor child, shall, when duly acknowledged before such agent, be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and such person's sole right to consent.

In all cases of adoption in which no agency licensed to place children for adoption is a party, except in the case of an adoption by a stepparent where one natural or adoptive parent retains his or her custody and control of the said child, it shall be the duty of the Department of Social Welfare or of the licensed county adoption agency to accept the consent of the natural parents to the adoption of the child by the petitioners and to ascertain whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether the proposed home is suitable for the child, prior to filing report with the court.

In all cases in which the consent of the natural parent or parents is not necessary and an agency licensed to place children for adoption is not a party to the petition, the State Department of Social Welfare or the licensed county adoption agency shall, prior to the hearing of the petition, file its consent to the adoption with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed. Such consent shall not be given by the Department of Social Welfare or the licensed county adoption agency unless the child's welfare will be promoted by the adoption.

Except in the case of the adoption of a child by a stepparent where one natural or adoptive parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, it shall be the duty of the Department of Social Welfare or of the licensed county adoption agency to submit to the court a full report of the facts disclosed by its inquiry with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition within 180 days after the filing of the petition; provided, however, that the court may allow such additional time for the filing of said report as in

Department of Social Welfare or county

its discretion it may see fit, after at least five days' notice to the petitioner or petitioners and opportunity for such petitioner or petitioners to be heard with respect to the request for additional time. The report required of the Department of Social Welfare or of the licensed county adoption agency may be waived by the department in all cases in which an agency, licensed by the Department of Social Welfare to place children in homes for adoption, is a party or joins in the petition for adoption. Such waiver may be issued by the department at any time, either before or after the filing of the petition for adoption.

Whenever any report or findings are submitted to the court by the Department of Social Welfare or by a licensed county adoption agency under any provision of this section, a copy of such report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the attorney for the petitioner in the proceedings, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

Unfavorable
findings

If the findings of the State Department of Social Welfare or the county adoption agency are that the home of the petitioners is not suitable for the child and it recommends that the petition be denied, the county clerk upon receipt of the report of the State Department of Social Welfare or the county adoption agency shall immediately refer it to the superior court for review.

Stepparent
adoptions
parents

In case of an adoption of a child by a stepparent where one natural or adoptive parent retains his or her custody and control of said child, the consent of either or both parents must be signed in the presence of a county clerk or probation officer of any county of this State on a form prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare and the county clerk or probation officer before whom such consent is signed shall immediately file said consent with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the petition is filed and said clerk shall immediately file a certified copy of such consent to adoption with the State Department of Social Welfare.

Consent where
outside State

If the father or mother of a child to be adopted is outside the State of California at the time of signing consent, his or her consent may be signed before a notary or other person authorized to perform notarial acts, and in such case the consent of the Department of Social Welfare or of a licensed county adoption agency will also be necessary, but such consent shall not be necessary where the adoption is by a stepparent and one natural parent retains custody and control of the child.

Consent by minor parent
not revocable

A parent who is a minor shall have the right to sign a consent for the adoption of his or her child and such consent shall not be subject to revocation by reason of such minority.

Appeal from refusal of department or agency to accept or give consent

If for a period of 180 days from the date of filing the petition, or upon the expiration of any extension of said period granted by the court, the Department of Social Welfare or the licensed county adoption agency fails or refuses to accept the consent of the natural parent or parents to the adoption, or if said department or agency fails or refuses to file or to give its consent to an adoption in those cases where its consent is required by this chapter, either the natural parent or parents or the petitioner may appeal from such failure or refusal to the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed, in which event the clerk shall immediately notify the Department of Social Welfare of such appeal and the department or agency shall within 10 days file a report of its findings and the reasons for its failure or refusal to consent to the adoption or to accept the consent of the natural parent. After the filing of said findings, the court may, if it deems that the welfare of the child will be promoted by said adoption, allow the signing of the consent by the natural parent or parents in open court, or if the appeal be from the refusal of said department or agency to consent thereto, grant the petition without such consent.

An act to amend Sections 13091.1 and 13093 of, and to add Section 13680 to, the Education Code, relating to certificated employees of high school districts included in newly formed junior college districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13091.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

13091.1. A permanent employee of a high school district who was classified as such while serving in a junior college maintained by the high school district shall, if the high school district is included in a junior college district, be classified as a permanent employee of the junior college district if employed by the junior college district in a position requiring certification qualifications.

Permanent high school district employee

SEC. 2. Section 13093 of said code is amended to read:

13093. The division, uniting, unionization, unification, or consolidation of any school district or districts, or any change in school district boundaries or organization, shall not affect the classification of certificated employees already employed by any school district affected. Such employees shall have the same status with respect to their classification by the district, including time served as probationary employees of the district after the division, uniting, unionization, unification, or consolidation, or change in school district boundaries or organization as they had prior thereto. If such division, uniting, unionization, unification, or consolidation, or change in school district boundaries or organization results in the school or other place in which any such employee is employed being maintained by another district, any such employee, if a permanent employee of the district which formerly maintained such school or other place of employment, shall be employed as a permanent employee of the district which thereafter maintains the school or other place of employment, unless such employee elects to continue in the employ of the first district. If such employee is a probationary employee of the district which formerly maintained such school or other place of employment, he may be employed by the district which thereafter maintains the school or other place of employment, and, if so employed, his status with respect to classification by such district shall be the same as it would have been had the school or other place of employment continued to be maintained by the district which formerly maintained it.

Change in organization of district

As used in the preceding paragraph of this section "any change in school district boundaries or organization" includes, but is not limited to, the formation of a junior college district which includes a high school district maintaining a junior college.

In case the unionization, unification, uniting, or consolidation of two or more school districts results in a district in which, under the provisions of this code then in effect, the certificated employees are entitled to probationary or permanent classification, the employees of the union, unified, or consolidated district, or of the school district formed by uniting two or more school districts shall be given such classification on the same basis as certificated employees in other districts of like average daily attendance.

SEC. 3. Section 13680 is added to said code, to read:

Sick leave

13680. Whenever any permanent or probationary employee of a high school district is employed by a junior college district pursuant to Section 13091.1 or 13093 such employee shall be entitled to retain all sickness and injury, sabbatical and other leave rights accumulated by service prior to such employment and the district shall recognize and grant such rights, including any accumulated rights allowed by the governing board of the high school district, as fully as if there was no change in the district maintaining the junior college.

Urgency

Section 13093 of Education Code provides in effect that the division, uniting, or consolidation of school districts, or any change in district boundaries or "organization" shall not affect the classification of certificated employees already employed by any district affected. It is not clear, however, whether this section is applicable in those instances in which a new junior college district is formed to include a high school district maintaining a junior college. In order that the governing boards of newly formed junior college districts may know the status of certificated employees of high school districts who were classified as probationary or permanent employees while serving in the junior college of such district at the earliest possible moment, it is essential that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 727

An act to repeal Section 15709 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utility districts.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15709 of the Public Utilities Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 728

An act to amend Sections 232, 411, 450, 452, 456, 457, and 458 of the Military and Veterans Code, relating to the State Militia, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 232 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

232. The commission of an officer shall be vacated by death, by acceptance by proper authority of resignation, by discharge on account of inefficiency, for physical disqualifications, when dropped from the rolls for an absence without leave for three months, by permanent change of residence to a place outside this State, by discharge to accept a commission in the United States Army, United States Air Force, United States Navy, or a reserve component thereof, when transferred to the United States Army Reserve upon the expiration of six months as a member of the Inactive National Guard, upon a finding by the Adjutant General that the officer is a security risk as a result of subversive activity, personal traits of character, or otherwise, upon reversion to reserve officer of the Army or Air Force status after termination of federal recognition, or by dismissal pursuant to sentence of a general court-martial.

commission

SEC. 2.5. Section 411 of said code is amended to read:

411. The board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any city may appropriate money from the general fund of such county or city for the use, benefit, or assistance

County
assistance

of the National Guard or Naval Militia or for National Guard or Naval Militia purposes within such county or city only.

SEC. 2. Section 450 of said code is amended to read:

Military
courts

450. The military courts of this State are: (a) general courts-martial; (b) special courts-martial; (c) summary courts-martial; and (d) courts of inquiry.

Under such regulations as the Adjutant General may prescribe, any commanding officer may, for minor offenses, impose one of the following disciplinary punishments upon persons of his command without the intervention of a court-martial, unless the accused demands trial by court-martial:

(1) Upon officers and warrant officers of his command (a) admonition, reprimand, (b) withholding of privileges not exceeding two consecutive weeks, (c) if imposed by the commanding officer of a division, wing, separate or provisional brigade or equivalent command, forfeiture of not to exceed one-half of his pay per month for a period not exceeding one month, (d) restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty, for a period not to exceed two consecutive weeks.

(2) Upon other military personnel of his command (a) admonition, reprimand, (b) withholding of privileges for a period not to exceed two consecutive weeks, (c) extra duties for a period not to exceed two consecutive weeks, and not to exceed two hours per day, holidays included; restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty, for a period not to exceed two consecutive weeks; reduction to next inferior grade if the grade from which demoted was established by the command or an equivalent or lower command.

SEC. 3. Section 452 of said code is amended to read:

General
martial

452. General courts-martial may be convened by the President of the United States or the Governor or the Adjutant General. The convening authority shall be the approving, reviewing and confirming authority. After authentication the record will be sent by the trial counsel to the reviewing authority for proper action and will thereafter be filed in the Office of the Adjutant General.

SEC. 4. Section 456 of said code is amended to read:

Powers of general courts-
martial

456. General courts-martial have power:

(a) To try:

(1) Commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the National Guard.

(2) Commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the unorganized militia whenever they are called out for service of the State.

(b) To adjudge:

(1) Dismissal, in the case of a commissioned or warrant officer.

(2) Dishonorable discharge, in the case of an enlisted man.

(3) Bad-conduct discharge, in the case of an enlisted man.

(4) Reduction to the ranks, in the case of enlisted personnel of the fourth enlisted pay grade or below. Reduction to next inferior grade in the case of enlisted personnel above the fourth enlisted pay grade.

(5) Forfeiture of pay and allowances.

(6) Fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200).

(7) Confinement not exceeding 200 days.

(8) Fine and confinement, the total of the number of dollars of fine and number of days of confinement not to exceed 200.

(9) Reprimand.

SEC. 5. Section 457 of said code is amended to read:

457. Special courts-martial have power:

(a) To try:

(1) Officers, warrant officers and enlisted men of the National Guard.

(2) Officers, warrant officers and enlisted men of the unorganized militia whenever they are called out for service with the State.

(b) To adjudge:

(1) Dismissal, in case of a warrant officer.

(2) Dishonorable discharge, in the case of an enlisted man.

(3) Reduction to the ranks, in the case of enlisted personnel of the fourth enlisted pay grade or below. Reduction to next inferior grade in the case of enlisted personnel above the fourth enlisted pay grade.

(4) Forfeiture of pay and allowances.

(5) Fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100).

(6) Confinement not exceeding 100 days.

(7) Fine and confinement, the total of the number of dollars of fine and the number of days of confinement not to exceed 100.

(8) Reprimand.

SEC. 6. Section 458 of said code is amended to read:

458. Summary courts-martial have power:

(a) To try:

(1) Enlisted men of the National Guard, except that non-commissioned officers shall not, if they object thereto, be brought to trial before a summary court-martial without the authority of the officer competent to bring them to trial before a special court-martial.

(2) Enlisted men of the unorganized militia whenever they are called out for service with the State, except that non-commissioned officers shall not, if they object thereto, be brought to trial before a summary court-martial without the authority of the officer competent to bring them to trial before a special court-martial.

(b) To adjudge:

(1) Reduction to the ranks in the case of enlisted personnel of the fourth enlisted pay grade or below. Reduction to next inferior grade in the case of enlisted personnel above the fourth enlisted pay grade.

(2) Forfeiture of pay and allowances.

Powers of summary courts-
martial

(3) Fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25).

(4) Confinement not exceeding 25 days.

(5) Fine and confinement, the total of the number of dollars of fine and number of days of confinement not to exceed 25.

Urgency

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The proper functioning of the California National Guard is an important and integral part of the defense preparations of the State. The international situation requires immediate changes in administrative organization, procedures, rules and regulations, property and fiscal matters which control the California National Guard. It is imperative that during the present emergency adequate provisions be immediately made concerning the use, operation and control of the state military forces.

CHAPTER 729

An act to add a new chapter to Division 1 of the Financial Code, to be numbered 10a, relating to nondepartmental banking.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new chapter, to be numbered 10a and to be entitled "Nondepartmental Banks," is hereby added to Division 1 of the Financial Code, to read as follows:

CHAPTER 10a. NONDEPARTMENTAL BANKS

Article 1. General

Acceptance
of savings deposits by commercial bank

1300. Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 9 of Division 1 of this code, a commercial bank, with the prior authorization of the superintendent, may accept savings deposits, if its articles authorize it to engage in the savings bank business, without complying with the provisions of Chapter 9 of Division 1 of this code. Every such bank shall be governed by all of the provisions of this code applicable to commercial banks except the provisions of Article 2 of Chapter 10, Division 1 and except the provisions of Section 1207 and shall also be governed by the provisions of this chapter. Any commercial bank so authorized is referred to in this division as a nondepartmental bank. For issuing the authorization provided for in this section the superintendent shall charge a fee of fifty dollars ($50).

1301. Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 9 of Division 1 of this code any commercial bank or nondepartmental bank, with the prior authorization of the superintendent, may engage in the trust business, if its articles authorize it to engage in the trust business, without complying with the provisions of Chapter 9; provided, it has paid-up capital and surplus at least equal to that which would be required under Section 380 of a bank commencing to do business in the city in which the head office of such bank is located plus the additional capital required for each branch established by it, and in addition thereto paid-up capital at least equal to that which would be required under Section 382 of a trust company with its head office in the city in which the head office of such bank is located. Any bank so authorized shall, in the conduct of its trust business, comply with and be governed by all of the provisions of Chapter 12, Division 1 of this code except the provisions of Article 2 thereof.

Article 2. Loan Limits

1310. The obligations, as defined in Section 1220, excepting the obligations described in Section 1226 and the obligations described in Section 1311, of any one person owing to a nondepartmental bank at any one time shall not exceed the following limitations:

(a) Obligations which are unsecured shall not exceed 10 percent of the capital and surplus of the bank.

(b) Obligations, secured and unsecured, in all shall not exceed 20 percent of the capital and surplus of the bank.

Obligations arising out of the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same and endorsed by such person without limitation, together with the secured and unsecured obligations, if any, of such person, shall not exceed 40 percent of the capital and surplus of the bank.

No bank upon becoming a nondepartmental bank shall be required, solely by reason of the provisions of this article, to dispose of or reduce any loan which complied with the applicable limitations of this division at the time such bank became a nondepartmental bank, nor shall any such bank be prevented solely by reason of the provisions of this article from renewing any such loan from time to time.

The superintendent at his discretion may permit a nondepartmental bank for a period of not exceeding two years from the effective date of this act to make loans upon the identical terms and conditions as when it was a departmental bank.

1311. In addition to the limitations contained in Section 1310 a nondepartmental bank may issue letters of credit and a nondepartmental bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than six months' sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods; or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods; provided, shipping documents conveying or securing title are attached at the time of acceptance; or which are secured at the time of acceptance by a warehouse receipt or other such document conveying or securing title covering readily marketable staples. A nondepartmental bank shall not accept such drafts or bills in the aggregate to an amount exceeding 50 percent of its paid-up capital and surplus or, when authorized by the superintendent, to an amount exceeding 100 percent of its paid-up capital and surplus nor accept such drafts or bills for any one person to an amount exceeding 10 percent of its paid-up capital and surplus, unless the bank is and remains secured by either attached documents or some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance.

Drafts, bills of exchange,
etc.

1312. With the approval of the superintendent a nondepartmental bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than three months' sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, drawn by banks or bankers in foreign countries for the purpose of furnishing dollar exchange as required by the usages of trade in the respective countries; provided, no nondepartmental bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange for any one bank to an amount exceeding 10 percent of the capital and surplus of the accepting bank unless the draft or bill of exchange is accompanied by documents conveying or securing title or unless the bank is secured by some other adequate security. A nondepartmental bank shall not accept such drafts or bills, whether secured or unsecured, in the aggregate to an amount exceeding 50 percent of its capital and surplus.

Security

1313. An obligation shall not be deemed secured by personal property or collateral unless the personal property or collateral held as security is of a kind which has not been declared ineligible by the superintendent and unless it has a market value at least 15 percent greater than the amount of the obligations secured thereby. The superintendent by general regulation may declare any particular kinds or classes of personal property ineligible as security. An obligation shall not be deemed secured by real property unless the obligation and the lien securing the same conform to the provisions of Section 1227 or Section 1228. Secured and unsecured loans shall be represented by separate notes and shall not be combined in any way within one note or notes.

First lien

1314. A nondepartmental bank may lend on the security of a first lien on real property if the loan complies with the provisions of Section 1227.

Transactions with junior liens, etc

1315. A nondepartmental bank may make the loans described in Section 1415; provided, the loans meet the requirements of that section.

Leasehold
property
security, etc

1316. A nondepartmental bank may make the loans provided for in Sections 1228, 1412 and 1414 of this code subject to the restrictions set forth in each of said sections respectively.

1317. A nondepartmental bank shall not lend in the aggregate an amount in excess of 60 percent of the amount of its savings and other time deposits upon the security of real property, in addition to loans guaranteed in whole or in part by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs pursuant to the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 or any act of Congress supplementary or amendatory thereof or under the Veterans' Readjustment Act of 1952 or any act of Congress supplementary or amendatory thereof except that with prior approval of the superintendent such bank may lend an amount up to 75 percent of its savings and other time deposits upon the security of real property in addition to said veterans' loans. Loan limits

1318. A nondepartmental bank shall not lend in the aggregate more than 5 percent of its assets upon the security of the stock of any one corporation or upon the security of the bonds of any one obligor except bonds of the United States or for the payment of which the credit of the United States is pledged, bonds of the State of California or for the payment of which the credit of the State of California is pledged, and bonds of any county, city and county, city, metropolitan water district, school district or irrigation district of the State of California which qualify for investment by savings banks. Same

1321. Nothing in this article restricts a nondepartmental bank in taking any lien or pledge of any property as additional security for a loan already made in good faith. Additional security

Article 3. Reserves

1330. Every nondepartmental bank, at all times, shall maintain against its demand deposits, exclusive of deposits of the United States, postal savings funds, and state, county, municipal, and other deposits of public moneys which are secured by law, the reserves required of other commercial banks under Article 3 of Chapter 10, and in addition thereto shall maintain against its savings deposits reserves in the amount and in the manner set forth in Sections 1430 and 1431. Reserve requirements

1331. If any nondepartmental bank is a member of the Federal Reserve Bank it shall comply with the reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Act and its compliance therewith shall be in lieu of and shall relieve such bank from compliance with the provisions of this article. Federal Reserve Bank members

Article 4. Investments

1335. A nondepartmental bank may purchase for its own account only the investment securities specified in Sections Investment securities

1354 to 1366 inclusive of this code and in addition thereto may invest an amount not exceeding two (2) percent of its deposits, whichever is the lesser, in other securities, except corporation shares, in which in the informed opinion of the bank it is prudent to invest the funds of its depositors.

Limitation on investments

1336. A nondepartmental bank shall not invest an amount exceeding 10 percent of its capital and surplus in the securities of any one obligor or maker, except obligations of the United States and those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest and obligations of the State of California and those for which the credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

Prior
investments

1337. If any commercial bank has made investments prior to becoming a nondepartmental bank which it was authorized to make at the time they were made it shall not be required to dispose of such investments upon becoming a nondepartmental bank pursuant to this chapter.

Article 5. Miscellaneous

Repayment of savings
deposits

1340. A nondepartmental bank accepting savings deposits shall provide by its by-laws or by contract with its savings depositors the time and condition on which repayment is to be made to such depositors. In all cases it shall be provided that notice in writing of at least 30 days, at the option of the bank, may be required to be given of intention to withdraw any savings deposit or any part thereof. The bank shall not waive any requirement of notice before payment of any savings deposit except as to all savings deposits.

Whenever there is any call by savings depositors for repayment of a greater amount than the bank may have disposable for that purpose, the bank must not make any new loan or investment until such excess call has ceased.

Construction

1341. For the purposes of Section 1385 of this code and for the purposes of any other law authorizing or providing for the deposit of funds with a savings bank, a nondepartmental bank accepting savings deposits shall be deemed a savings bank.

CHAPTER 730

An act to amend Section 7726 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to funeral directors and embalmers.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7726 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7726. When a funeral director or embalmer has had his or its license suspended, canceled, or revoked by the board, the board, upon written application by the licensee affected, upon not less than 10 days' notice to all parties of record in the particular case, and after hearing all evidence offered in support of and in opposition to such application, may, in its discretion, and upon such terms as it may deem just, reinstate the applicant; provided, the application, in case of lapse, is accompanied by all fees and penalties, the total of which fees and penalties shall not exceed thirty-five dollars ($35), from the time of the lapse to the date of reinstatement. On or before December 10th of each year the board shall mail to each licensee and each registrant, addressed to him at his last known address, a notice advising him of the provisions of Section 7725.

CHAPTER 731

An act to amend Section 7725 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to funeral directors and embalmers.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7725 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7725. Every licensed funeral director, every licensed embalmer and every registered apprentice, shall pay an annual fee for the renewal of his or its license to the department.

The board shall mail on or before the tenth day of December of each year to each licensed funeral director, each licensed embalmer and each registered apprentice, addressed to him at his last known address a notice that a renewal fee is due and payable.

If a licensee or registrant fails to renew his license or certificate on or before January 31st, it shall expire automatically and may thereafter be renewed only upon application therefor in such form as the board may prescribe and payment of the renewal fee and penalty fee prescribed by this chapter for each year or part thereof since its expiration, except that the total of such fees shall not exceed thirty-five dollars ($35). In no case may the penalty fee be waived.

If the license or certificate is not renewed within one year following its expiration, the board may require as a condition of renewal that the delinquent licensee pass an examination on the appropriate subjects prescribed by this chapter.

Upon the receipt of the fees, the department shall cause the renewal certificate to be issued.

CHAPTER 732

An act to amend Section 1598 of the Education Code, relating to liability for existing bonded indebtedness of a school district by territory annexed thereto without affirmative action by the residents of such territory, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

1598. When any school district is united or in any manner merged with one or more school districts so as to form a single district, the district so formed is liable for all the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the districts united or merged; provided, however, if the territory included in a school district which has been lapsed by the board of supervisors and attached to an adjoining district withdraws from said district to which it has been attached through a proceeding involving affirmative action by the residents of such territory within one year from the date of lapsation, such territory shall cease to be liable for any such bonded indebtedness unless such indebtedness was incurred during the period the territory is attached to the adjoining district.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In cases where a lapsed school district is attached by the board of supervisors of the county in which it is situated to an adjoining district to which the residents of such lapsed school district do not desire it to become attached and thereafter the residents of such territory take affirmative action to withdraw from such district and to transfer the territory to another adjoining school district it is inequitable that such territory should continue to be liable for the bonded indebtedness of the district to which it was involuntarily attached as the residents thereof would derive no benefit from the school facilities purchased with the proceeds of such bonds. In order to prevent any tax levy on said territory for the payment of interest and for the redemption of such bonds during the succeeding fiscal year it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 733

An act to add Section 26464 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to the sale of imported rabbits for food.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26464 is added to Article 1 of Chapter 3 of Division 21 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

26464. It is unlawful to sell for use as food any dead wild rabbit or canned wild rabbit, imported from outside the United States, which does not indicate on the label of the container the words "wild rabbit" in lettering of not less than one-half the size of the largest printing appearing on the label.

CHAPTER 734

An act to amend Sections 26003 and 26008 of the Corporations Code, relating to corporate securities.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26003 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

26003. (a) The fee for filing an original or supplemental application for a permit to issue securities (except applications for permits to issue certificates of deposit, any guarantee of any security, or securities evidencing any change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions on outstanding securities, the fees for which applications are fixed in Sections 26006, 26007, and 26008, respectively) is twenty dollars ($20), plus the sum of the following:

(1) Fifteen one-hundredths of 1 percent of the amount of any excess of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued over one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(2) Five one-hundredths of 1 percent of such amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(3) Three one-hundredths of 1 percent of such amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(4) One one-hundredth of 1 percent of such amount in excess of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(b) For the purpose of determining the fees fixed in subdivision (a):

Permit to issue

Filing fees

Determination

(1) The value of the securities shall be their par or face value unless the consideration for the securities, as alleged in the application or as determined by the commissioner, is in excess of their par or face value, or the securities when issued will have a value, as determined by the commissioner, in excess of their par or face value, in which case the value of the securities shall be the value of the consideration so received or the value as determined by the commissioner, whichever is greater.

(2) Where the securities have no nominal or par value, the value of the securities shall be the price at which the company proposes to sell or issue the securities, or the value, as alleged in the application, or the actual value, as determined by the commissioner, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor, or of the securities when issued, whichever is greater. However, until a new value has been established, each share of no par value stock shall have a value equal to the value which has been established by previous sales for money or other property of other shares of the same class.

(3) Interim or voting trust certificates shall have a value equal to the aggregate value of the securities to be represented by the interim or voting trust certificates.

(4) Rights, warrants, or other certificates evidencing rights to purchase additional securities shall have a value equal to the difference between the selling price of the securities represented by the rights, warrants, or other certificates and the market value of the securities so represented at the date of filing of application; provided, the market price is higher than the selling price, otherwise the rights, warrants, or other certificates shall be deemed to have no value, and the fee for filing such application is twenty dollars ($20).

(5) Where an application is made to issue securities containing a provision entitling the holders thereof to convert or exchange them for a different class of securities, the value of the securities to be so issued shall be an amount equal to twice the amount of the consideration to be received for the securities containing the conversion or exchange provision.

(6) In the case of a share dividend or share split the value of the securities to be issued shall be the amount of surplus proposed to be transferred to stated capital and any surplus account.

SEC. 2. Section 26008 of said code is amended to read:

26008. The fee for filing any application for a permit to issue securities evidencing any change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions on outstanding securities is twenty-five dollars ($25), except where such issuance will result in an increase in the stated capital in which event the fee shall be in accordance with Section 26003(b)(6).

CHAPTER 735

An act to amend Section 9756 of the Education Code, relating to special day and evening classes for adults.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9756 of the Education Code is amended to read:

9756. Governing boards may expend from the general fund of the district any money which is budgeted for community services to establish and maintain special day or evening classes for adults and may charge student fees not to exceed the cost of maintaining such classes or may provide instruction in such classes for remuneration by contract, or with contributions or donations of individuals or groups.

CHAPTER 736

An act to amend Sections 7041 and 9645 of the Education Code, relating to apportionments for emergency schools maintained by the county superintendent of schools, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7041 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7041. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow, in addition to all other allowances, to the county school service fund:

school service fund allowances

(a) For all emergency schools maintained in each elementary school district of the county by the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year, the same amount as he would compute as the foundation program of an elementary school district under Article 4 of this chapter, except that the provisions of Section 7033 shall not apply. No allowance shall be made under this subdivision which is in excess of the actual expense of maintaining the emergency schools during the preceding fiscal year.

(b) Two hundred eighty dollars ($280) for each unit of average daily attendance of physically handicapped pupils of secondary grade educated by the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year.

SEC. 2. Section 9645 of said code is amended to read:

9645. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine the amount of excess expense incurred by each county expense" for physically handicapped pupils

"Excess

superintendent of schools for the education of physically handicapped pupils. "Excess expense" as used in this section means that amount by which the current expense of education incurred for physically handicapped pupils exceeds the amount to be apportioned under the provisions of Article 5 of Chapter 15 of Division 3 of this code to the county school service fund during the then current year on account of the average daily attendance of all pupils whose attendance is credited to the county school service fund at the level for which the excess expense is to be determined, exclusive of the average daily attendance of pupils in a juvenile hall school maintained by the county superintendent of schools during the preceding fiscal year.

Urgency

In certain cases, the allowance of the small elementary school foundation program and the computation of excess cost as the total current expense of education for emergency schools maintained by the county superintendent of schools has resulted in apportionments in excess of actual expenses. In order that apportionments made for emergency schools shall not exceed actual expenses during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

date

SEC. 4. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1955.

CHAPTER 737

An act to amend Section 7012 of the Education Code, relating to pupil transportation, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7012 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7012. (a) "Transportation" as used in this article means, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) The transportation of pupils between their homes and the regular full-time day schools attended by them as provided by a school district.

(2) The payment of moneys by a school district to parents or guardians of pupils in lieu of providing for the transportation of such pupils between their homes and the regular full-time day schools attended by them.

(3) The providing of board and lodging to pupils by a school district in lieu of providing for the transportation of such pupils between their homes and the regular full-time day schools attended by them.

(b) "Pupils" as used in this article does not include pupils for whom the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines excess costs under Section 9617.

(c) "Total current expenses of transportation" as used in Sections 7014, 7015, and 7016 does not include current expenses for the transportation of pupils for whose transportation the Superintendent of Public Instruction makes an allowance to the district under Section 7018.1.

For several years the amount available for pupil transportation under the provisions of subsection (c) of Section 5154 of the Education Code has not been of a sufficient amount to make the allowances required by Article 3 of Chapter 15 of Division 3 of the Education Code. Thus, it has been necessary to apply a deficit factor as provided by subsection (a) of Section 7019 of said code. Furthermore, it is anticipated that the deficit for the Fiscal Year 1955-56 will be even larger than in previous years unless the allowances to school districts and the county school service funds for transportation of pupils is limited to allowances for pupils attending regular full-time day schools. In order to alleviate the amount of such anticipated deficit for the Fiscal Year 1955-56, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 738

An act to amend Section 6907 of, and to add Section 7000.5 to the Education Code, relating to school apportionments, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6907 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6907. If the average daily attendance of pupils residing in territory of a district, hereinafter referred to as the "original district," in the regular day schools of such original district during the fiscal year immediately preceding the effective date of the inclusion of such territory for all purposes in another district of the same type, hereinafter referred to as the "acquiring district," under or pursuant to any provision of law, exceeds 25 units, such average daily attendance shall, for all the purposes of this division, be deemed to have been average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the acquiring district and not average daily attendance in the regular day

"original
district"

schools of the original district, except that if the acquiring district was not in existence for all purposes during said preceding fiscal year, such average daily attendance shall be deemed to have been average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the acquiring district during said preceding fiscal year.

Junior college Credit for junior college maintained by high school district

The average daily attendance of pupils in the regular day junior colleges of an original high school district during the fiscal year immediately preceding the effective date of the inclusion of such high school district in an acquiring junior college district shall, for all the purposes of this division, be deemed to be average daily attendance in regular day junior colleges of the junior college district during said preceding fiscal year and not average daily attendance in the regular day junior colleges of the high school district during said preceding fiscal year.

For the purposes of this section all elementary school districts are districts of the same type, all high school districts are districts of the same type, and all junior college districts are districts of the same type.

Unified
district

The inclusion of the whole or a portion of an elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district in a unified school district shall be deemed to be the inclusion of such elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district or portion thereof in the elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district, as the case may be, within the unified school district.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, and is authorized to do so, adopt such rules and regulations as in his judgment are necessary to give effect to this section.

Computations

SEC. 2. Section 7000.5 is added to said code, to read:

7000.5. If any computation made under, or necessitated by, this chapter, including computations of the total amounts allowed under Articles 11.1 and 15 but excluding other computations under those articles, results in an amount which is:

(a) Less than $1, the amount shall be counted as $1.

(b) More than $1 and includes a fraction of one-half dollar or more, the fraction shall be counted as $1.

(c) More than $1 and includes a fraction of less than one-half dollar, the fraction shall not be counted.

date

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1955.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that funds may be transferred to new districts which become effective July 1, 1955, and in order that the computations of apportionments throughout the year may be made in a uniform manner by rounding off all computations to the nearest dollar, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 739

An act to amend Sections 4964 and 4902.7 of, and to repeal Section 4964.2 of the Education Code, relating to school districts.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4964 of the Education Code is amended to read:

4964. When all or a portion of the territory of any district is divided between two (2) or more unified school districts or between one or more unified school districts and any other type of district, all funds and obligations of the district shall be divided among the affected school districts in the same proportion as the ratio of the assessed valuation of the territory included in an affected school district bears to the total assessed valuation of the district which is being divided, except as otherwise provided in this section.

Division of school
property
Funds and obligations

In making a division of the funds and obligations of a district pursuant to this section, unsecured property taxes levied for the fiscal year commencing on the date when reorganization or unification becomes effective for all purposes but which are due and payable upon the first Monday in March preceding such date shall be distributed to the affected districts in which such taxes are collected as the districts exist on and after the date when the reorganization or unification becomes effective for all purposes.

SEC. 2. Section 4964.2 of said code is repealed.

Repeal

SEC. 3. Section 4902.7 of said code is amended to read:

4902.7. The county committee in the formulation of plans shall provide for the division of the school property, except funds, of a district among two or more unified or otherwise reorganized school districts. In providing for the division, the county committee shall consider the equalized assessed valuation of each portion of the existing district, the number of children of school age residing in each portion of such district, the value and location of the school property of such district, and such other matters as the members of the county committee deem important and pertinent.

CHAPTER 740

An act to amend Section 8815 of the Education Code, relating to junior college classes.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8815 of the Education Code is amended to read:

8815. Junior colleges or junior college classes maintained in a high school district may be maintained for such period and at such times during the school year as the governing board of the high school district may determine.

CHAPTER 741

An act to amend Section 955.1 of the Civil Code, relating to the assignment of rights to payment.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 955.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

955.1. Except as provided in Section 955, and subject to compliance with any applicable statute requiring recording or filing, the transfer of any right to payment, not constituting an account as defined in Section 3017 of this code and not constituting a negotiable instrument, shall be deemed perfected as against third persons upon there being executed and delivered to the transferee an assignment thereof in writing; provided, however, that as between bona fide assignees of the same right for value without notice, the assignee first giving notice thereof to the obligor in writing shall have priority; but such assignment shall not be, of itself, notice to the obligor so as to invalidate any payments made by him to the transferor.

CHAPTER 742

An act to amend Section 441 of the Education Code, relating to the superintendent of schools of a county of the forty-first class.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 441 of the Education Code is amended to read:

441. The annual salary of the county superintendent of schools of a county of the forty-first class is six thousand dollars ($6,000), and he shall possess a valid elementary or secondary administrative credential issued by the State Board of Education.

An act to amend Section 3352 of the Labor Code, relating to part-time gardeners.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3352 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3352. "Employee" excludes:

(a) Any person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession, or occupation of his employer.

(b) Any person employed in farm, dairy, agricultural, viticultural or horticultural labor, or in stock or poultry raising where the compensation provisions of this division are rejected, or do not apply, in accordance with Chapter 9 of this part.

(c) Any person engaged in vending, selling, offering for sale, or delivering directly to the public, any newspaper, magazine or periodical where the title thereto has passed to the person so engaged.

(d) Any person performing services in return for aid or sustenance only, received from any religious, charitable, or relief organization.

(e) Any person holding an appointment as deputy clerk, deputy sheriff, or deputy constable appointed for his own convenience and who receives no compensation from the county or municipal corporation or from the citizens thereof for his services as such deputy. This exclusion is operative only as to employment by the county or municipal corporation and does not deprive any person so deputed from recourse against a private person employing him for injury occurring in the course of and arising out of such employment.

(f) Any convict whose labor is used by the State Highway Commission on state highways or roads.

(g) Any person engaged in household domestic service except as provided in Section 3358.5.

(h) Any person performing voluntary services at or for a recreational camp, hut or lodge operated by a nonprofit organization, exempt from federal income tax under Section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code, of which he or a member of his family is a member and who receives no compensation for such services other than meals, lodging or transportation.

(i) Any person engaged as a part-time gardener in connection with a private dwelling; provided, the number of hours devoted to such work for any individual does not regularly exceed 44 hours per month. This exclusion is operative only as to his employment by the owner or occupant of such a private dwelling, and does not deprive any such part-time gardener from recourse under this division against any other person employing him for injuries occurring in the course of and arising out of the employment.

CHAPTER 744

An act to repeal Sections 302, 303, 304, 306, 310, 316.5, 322, and 375 of, to amend Sections 301, 305, 308, 309, 311, 312, 313, 315, 316, 317, 320, 1942, 1943, 3181 and 4191 of, to add Sections 304, 306, and 316.1 to, the Education Code, relating to the powers, duties and authority of county boards of education.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 25, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. Sections 302, 303, 304, 306, 310, 316.5, 322, and 375 of the Education Code are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 301 of said code is amended to read:

County board of education

301. Except in a city and county, there shall be a county board of education, which shall consist of five or seven members to be elected at large with at least one residing in each of designated trustee areas to be determined by the county committee on school district organization. Not later than March 1, 1956, the county committee on school district organization shall file in writing its determination of the number of members of the county board of education and the designated trustee areas in the county with the county board of supervisors. In chartered counties the manner of selection of the county board of education shall be prescribed in the county charter, or by the county board of supervisors. In a county unified school district or in a unified school district which includes all of the territory over which a county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction, the governing board of the district shall serve as the county board of education.

SEC. 3. Section 304 is added to said code, to read:

Members
of county board of education

304. Any registered voter is eligible to be a member of the county board of education except the county superintendent of schools, any member of his staff, or any employee of a school district.

SEC. 4. Section 305 of said code is amended to read:

Election of
members

305. Members of the county board of education shall be elected on the date and in the manner prescribed for the election of members of governing boards of school districts; provided, such elections are held throughout the county on the same date; otherwise the election shall be consolidated with the direct primary election. The first election held under this article shall be conducted by the county board of supervisors and thereafter by the county board of education. They shall take office on the first day of July subsequent to their election and shall serve for a term to be determined for each county by the county committee on school district organization. The county committee on school district organization shall also determine the manner in which the county board of education first elected under this chapter shall effect a staggering of terms.

SECTION 1. Section 10051.1 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

10051.1. Whenever an election called by a district, city or other political subdivision for the submission of any question or proposition is to be consolidated with a state-wide election, and such question or proposition is to appear upon the same ballot as that provided for such state-wide election, such district, city or other political subdivision must at least sixty (60) days prior to the date of the election file with the board of supervisors, and a copy with the county clerk, a resolution of its governing board requesting such consolidation and setting forth the exact form of any question or proposition to be voted upon at such election, as the same is to appear on the ballot. Such question or proposition to appear on the ballot shall not exceed 175 words in length. The resolution requesting the consolidation may be adopted and filed prior to the adoption of the ordinance, resolution or order calling the election but in that event the ordinance, resolution or order calling the election must be adopted at least 45 days before the election.

CHAPTER 752

An act to amend Sections 13404, 13405, 13441 and 13442 of, and to repeal Section 13407 of, the Education Code, relating to the holding of teachers' institutes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13404 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Day or evening institutes in lieu of annual institute

13404. In lieu of an annual teachers' institute, the superintendent of schools of any county, or of any city and county, or of any city school district governed by a city board of education, or of any other school district employing 200 or more teachers, may hold during the school year, at places in the county, or city and county, or city school district, chosen by the superintendent for their convenience and accessibility to teachers and patrons of the schools, local day or evening institutes or teachers' in-service meetings which shall provide at each of the chosen places, not less than the number of hours of institute work or teachers' in-service meetings as may be determined by the superintendent.

SEC. 2. Section 13405 of said code is amended to read:

Combination of annual institute with local institutes

13405. The annual teachers' institute may be combined with local institutes, by holding an annual teachers' institute in the county, or city and county, or city school district, or other school district employing 200 or more teachers, and also holding during the school year local day or evening teachers' institutes or teachers' in-service meetings at convenient places in the county, or city and county, or city school district, the whole to provide not less than the number of hours of institute work as may be determined by the superintendent.

Repeal

SEC. 3. Section 13407 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 13441 of said code is amended to read:

Expenses

13441. The county superintendent, the city and county superintendent, and the district superintendent, and the city superintendent shall each keep an accurate account of the actual expenses incurred by him in holding any teachers' institute or teachers' in-service meetings whether separate or joint.

SEC. 5. Section 13442 of said code is amended to read:

Warrants

13442. Each county superintendent of schools shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor, who shall draw his warrants on the county school service fund to pay the expenses of the county institute or teachers' in-service meetings.

CHAPTER 753

An act to amend Section 270 of the Penal Code, relating to the duty of a mother to support her children.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 270 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

270. A father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child who wilfully omits without lawful excuse to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both. If the father, during such violation, remains out of the State for 30 days, or if he fails or refuses to comply with the order of a court of competent jurisdiction requiring him to make any provision for the maintenance, support, medical treatment or other remedial care of such minor child and remains out of the State for 10 days without doing so, he is guilty of a felony. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such father from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the mother of such child is legally entitled to the custody of such child nor because the mother of such child, or any other person, or organization, voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for such child, or undertakes to do so.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father, or the omission by such father to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care is wilful and without lawful excuse.

In the event that the father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child is dead or for any other reason whatsoever fails to furnish the necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his minor child, the mother of said child shall become subject to the provisions of this section and be criminally liable for the support of said minor child during the period of failure on the part of the father to the same extent and in the same manner as the father.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the child. A child conceived but not yet born is to be deemed an existing person insofar as this section is concerned.

CHAPTER 754

An act to amend Sections 681 and 685 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to execution of judgments.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 681 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

681. The party in whose favor judgment is given may, at any time within 10 years after the entry thereof, have a writ or order issued for the execution or enforcement of the judgment. If, after the entry of the judgment, the issuing of such writ or order is stayed or enjoined by any judgment or order of court, or by operation of law, the time during which it is so stayed or enjoined must be excluded from the computation of the 10 years within which execution or order may issue.

SEC. 2. Section 685 of said code is amended to read:

685. In all cases the judgment may be enforced or carried into execution after the lapse of 10 years from the date of its entry, by leave of the court, upon motion, and after due notice to the judgment debtor accompanied by an affidavit or affidavits setting forth the reasons for failure to proceed in compliance with the provisions of Section 681 of this code. The failure to set forth such reasons as shall, in the discretion of the court, be sufficient, shall be ground for the denial of the motion.

Judgment in all cases may also be enforced or carried into execution after the lapse of 10 years from the date of its entry, by judgment for that purpose founded upon supplemental proceedings; but nothing in this section shall be construed to revive a judgment for the recovery of money which shall have been barred by limitation at the time of the passage of this act.

CHAPTER 755

An act to amend Sections 2222.7 and 3093 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to refunds to public assistance recipients.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2222.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2222.7. Whenever moneys collected from recipients in repayment of aid granted under this chapter have been collected erroneously, because of mistake of law or fact, refunds shall be made as provided in this section.

Upon investigation and a finding by the county that the repayment of aid was made and collected erroneously, the county shall refund to the recipient the amount of the county and state shares of the repayment, and the State shall allow to the county in computing the amounts payable to the county pursuant to Section 2188 a credit for any amount of such refund which has previously been credited to the State. If the United States Government pays or credits to the State the amount of the repayment which has been credited to the United States Government, the State shall allow a credit to the county in the amount of the credit received by the State from the United States Government, and the county shall refund to the recipient the amount so credited to the county.

3093 Whenever moneys collected from recipients in repayment of aid granted under this chapter or under Chapter 3 of this part have been collected erroneously, because of mistake of law or fact, refunds shall be made as provided in this section.

Upon investigation and a finding by the county that the repayment of aid was made and collected erroneously, the county shall refund to the recipient the amount of the county and state shares of the repayment, and the State shall allow to the county in computing the amounts payable to the county pursuant to Section 3087.2 or Section 3460 a credit for any amount of such refund which has previously been credited to the State. If the United States Government pays or credits to the State the amount of the repayment which has been credited to the United States Government, the State shall allow a credit to the county in the amount of the credit received by the State from the United States Government, and the county shall refund to the recipient the amount so credited to the county.

CHAPTER 756

An act to amend Section 29610 of the Government Code, relating to convention expenses of county and court officers.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29610 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29610. The actual and necessary expenses of the county auditor, clerk, registrar of voters, district attorney, assessor, sheriff, public administrator, coroner, recorder, tax collector, probation officer, surveyor, jury commissioner, treasurer, and, with prior approval of the board of supervisors, necessary deputies for each such officer, one marshal of a municipal court chosen by the marshals of the municipal courts, one clerk of a municipal court chosen by the clerks of the municipal courts, one judge of a justice court chosen by the judges of the justice courts, and one constable chosen by the constables, incurred while traveling to and from and while attending the annual convention of his respective association, not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each such officer and each such deputy, are county charges.

CHAPTER 757

An act to amend Section 5512 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to sexual psychopaths.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5512 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

Order of commitment for observation

5512. If, after examination and hearing, the judge finds that the person is a sexual psychopath within the meaning of this chapter, he shall make and sign an order that the person be placed temporarily in a suitable psychiatric facility maintained by a county or in a state hospital of the Department of Mental Hygiene designated by the court for observation and diagnosis for a period not to exceed 90 days, with the further provision in said order that the superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility shall report to the court the diagnosis and recommendations concerning such person within the 90-day period. The court shall attach to the order for observation its findings and copies of the certification and statement from the other court, any affidavits filed, the written reports of the court-appointed psychiatrists, and the report of the probation officer, together with such social and other data that it has available bearing upon the case, and the same shall be delivered to the institution with such order.

Opinion of hospital superintendent

The superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility shall within 90 days cause the person to be examined and forward to the committing court his opinion as to whether or not the person is a sexual psychopath, whether or not he is a menace to the health and safety of others, and whether or not he will benefit by care and treatment in a state hospital, including therein a report, diagnosis and recommendation concerning the person's future care, supervision and treatment.

Disposition
when not found a
psychopath

If the superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility reports to the court that the person is not a sexual psychopath, the person shall be returned to the court for further disposition of his case. The court shall then cause the person to be returned to the court in which the criminal charge was tried to await further action with reference to such criminal charge.

If the superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility reports to the committing court that the person is a sexual psychopath but will not benefit by care or treatment in a state hospital and is a menace to the health and safety of others, the court shall then cause the person to be returned to the court in which the criminal charge was tried to await further action with reference to such criminal charge. Such court shall resume the proceedings and shall impose sentence or make such other suitable disposition of the case as the court deems necessary. If, however, such court is satisfied that the person is a sexual psychopath but would not benefit by care or treatment in a state hospital and is a menace to the health and safety of others, it may recertify the person to the superior court of the county. If the superior court, after hearing, finds that the person is a sexual psychopath but would not benefit by care or treatment in a state hospital and is a menace to the health and safety of others, it shall make an order committing the person for an indefinite period to the Department of Mental Hygiene for placement in a state institution or institutional unit for the care and treatment of sexual psychopaths designated by the court and provided pursuant to Section 5518. At such hearing or hearings, the person shall be entitled to present witnesses in his own behalf, to be represented by counsel and to cross-examine any witnesses who testify against him. The person shall remain in such institution or institutional unit until he is no longer a menace to the health and safety of others. Thereupon, the proceedings set forth in Section 5517 shall be followed with respect to the certifying of an opinion to the committing court and the release of the person thereby.

when found a sexual psychopath
Hospitalization
unbeneficial

If the superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility reports to the court that the person is a sexual psychopath and that the person could benefit by treatment in a state hospital, the court shall make an order committing the person to the department for placement in a state hospital for an indeterminate period and a copy of such commitment shall be personally served upon said person within five days after the making of such order and such person may within 10 days demand a hearing in court as to the question of sexual psychopathy and upon such demand said court shall order the return of said person to said court and fix a time and place for a hearing. Upon such hearing the court may accept the report of the superintendent of the hospital or person in charge of the county facility, if verified, in lieu of the examination by and testimony of court-appointed psychiatrists, or may consider the report as additional evidence. Upon such further hearing the court may make an order committing the person to the department for placement in a state hospital designated by the court for an indeterminate period, or may make other suitable disposition of the case.

Same Hospitalization beneficial

No person shall be committed for an indeterminate period as a sexual psychopath unless an observation placement has been made and reported, diagnosed and recommended upon as provided by this section.

CHAPTER 758

An act to amend Section 224 of the Civil Code, relating to adoptions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 224 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

224. A legitimate child cannot be adopted without the consent of its parents if living; however, after the custody of any child has, by any judicial decree, been given to the father, and the mother for a period of one year fails to communicate with such child when able to do so, or been given to the mother, and the father for a period of one year shall wilfully fail to pay for the care, support and education of such child when able to do so, then the parent to whom custody has been given alone may consent to such adoption, but only after the parent to whom custody has not been given has been personally served with a copy of a citation requiring him or her to appear at the time and place set for the appearance in court under Section 227 of this code; if the parent to whom custody has not been given cannot be located for personal service, the same may be made by publication as provided for the publication of summons in Section 413 of the Code of Civil Procedure; nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother if living; except that the consent of a father or mother is not necessary in the following cases:

1. When such father or mother has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of such child (a) by order of the juvenile court, declaring such child to be free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents as provided in the Welfare and Institutions Code, adopted May 25, 1937, or any act or acts superseding or amending the same, or (b) by similar order of a court of another jurisdiction, pursuant to any law of that jurisdiction authorizing such order; or when such father or mother has, in a judicial proceeding in another jurisdiction, voluntarily surrendered his right to the custody and control of such child pursuant to any law of that jurisdiction provided for such surrender.

2. Where such father or mother of any child has deserted the child without provision for its identification.

3. Where such father or mother of any child has relinquished said child for adoption as provided in Section 224m of this code; or where such father or mother has relinquished said child for adoption to a licensed or authorized child-placing agency in another jurisdiction pursuant to the law of that jurisdiction.

An act to amend Section 701 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to abandonment proceedings.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 701 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

701. The jurisdiction of the juvenile court extends also to any person who should be declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents. The words "person who should be declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents" shall include any person under the age of 21 years who comes within any of the following descriptions:

(a) Who has been left by either or both of his parents in the care and custody of another without any provision for his support, or without communication from either or both of his parents, for the period of one year with the intent on the part of such parent or parents to abandon such person. Such failure to provide, or such failure to communicate for the period of one year, shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. Such person shall be deemed and called a person abandoned by the parent or parents abandoning him. If in the opinion of the court the evidence indicates that either or both parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child the court may declare the child abandoned by such parent or parents.

(b) Who has been cruelly treated or neglected by either or both of his parents, if such person has been a ward of the juvenile court, and such parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such cruel treatment or neglect, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of a petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such cruel or neglectful parent or parents.

(c) Whose parent or parents are habitually intemperate, or morally depraved, if such person has been a ward of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such intemperance, or moral depravity, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of the petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such habitually intemperate or morally depraved parent or parents.

(d) Whose parent or parents are deprived of their civil rights due to the conviction of a felony, if, after investigation and service of citations as prescribed in this chapter, upon the parent or parents who are imprisoned, the court decides that the felony of which such parent or parents were convicted is of such nature as to prove the unfitness of such parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child, or that the term of sentence of such parent or parents is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for a period of years.

(e) Whose parent or parents have, in a divorce action, been found to have committed adultery and been divorced on that ground, if the court, after service of citations as prescribed in this chapter upon such parent or parents, and the presentation of all the evidence, finds that the future welfare of the child will be promoted by an order depriving such parent or parents of the control and custody of the child.

(f) Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be feeble-minded or insane, if the State Director of Institutions and the superintendent of the state hospital of which, if any, such parent or parents are inmates or patients certify that such parent or parents so declared to be feeble-minded or insane will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

CHAPTER 760

An act to amend Sections 54955 and 54956 of the Government Code, relating to meetings of legislative bodies of local agencies.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 54955 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Adjournment
of meetings

54955. The legislative body of a local agency may adjourn any regular, adjourned regular, special or adjourned special meeting to a time and place specified in the order of adjournment. Less than a quorum may so adjourn from time to time. If all members are absent from any regular or adjourned regular meeting the clerk or secretary of the legislative body may declare the meeting adjourned to a stated time and place and he shall cause a written notice of the adjournment to be given in the same manner as provided in Section 54956 for special meetings, unless such notice is waived as provided for special meetings. When a regular or adjourned regular meeting is adjourned as provided in this section, the resulting adjourned regular meeting is a regular meeting for all purposes. When an order of adjournment of any meeting fails to state the hour at which the adjourned meeting is to be held, it shall be held at the hour specified for regular meetings by ordinance, resolution, by-law, or other rule.

SEC. 2. Section 54956 of said code is amended to read:

54956. A special meeting may be called at any time by the presiding officer of the legislative body of a local agency, or by a majority of the members of the legislative body, by delivering personally or by mail written notice to each member of the legislative body and to each local newspaper of general circulation, radio or television station requesting notice in writing. Such notice must be delivered personally or by mail at least 24 hours before the time of such meeting as specified in the notice. The call and notice shall specify the time and place of the special meeting and the business to be transacted. No other business shall be considered at such meetings by the legislative body. Such written notice may be dispensed with as to any member who at or prior to the time the meeting convenes files with the clerk or secretary of the legislative body a written waiver of notice. Such waiver may be given by telegram. Such written notice may also be dispensed with as to any member who is actually present at the meeting at the time it convenes.

special meetings

CHAPTER 761

An act to amend Sections 2203 and 2214 of the Corporations Code, relating to the rights of shareholders in corporations.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2203 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

2203. Upon request in writing to the president, vice president, or secretary, sent by registered mail or delivered to the officer in person, by any persons entitled to call a meeting of shareholders, the officer forthwith shall cause notice to be given to the shareholders entitled to vote that a meeting will be held at a time, fixed by the officer, not less than 10 nor more than 60 days after the receipt of the request. If the notice is not given within seven days after the date of delivery, or the date of mailing of the request, the persons calling the meeting may fix the time of meeting and give the notice in the manner provided by law or by the by-laws. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as limiting, fixing or affecting the time or date when a meeting of shareholders called by action of the board of directors may be held.

2214. Unless the articles or by-laws otherwise provide, the board of directors may fix a time in the future as a record date for the determination of the shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at any meeting of shareholders or entitled to receive any dividend or distribution, or any allotment of rights, or to exercise rights in respect to any change, conversion, or exchange of shares. The record date so fixed shall be not more than 50 days prior to the date of the meeting or event for the purposes of which it is fixed. When a record date is so fixed, only shareholders of record on that date are entitled to notice of and to vote at the meeting or to receive the dividend, distribution, or allotment of rights, or to exercise the rights, as the case may be, notwithstanding any transfer of any shares on the books of the corporation after the record date.

The board of directors may close the books of the corporation against transfers of shares during the whole or any part of a period of not more than 50 days prior to the date of a shareholders' meeting, the date when the right to any dividend, distribution, or allotment of rights vests, or the effective date of any change, conversion, or exchange of shares

An act to repeal Part 4 of Division 6 of the Water Code, relating to the San Luis Rey Water Authority.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Part 4 of Division 6 of the Water Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 763

An act to amend Section 7044 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7044 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7044. This chapter does not apply to owners of property, building or improving structures thereon for the occupancy of such owner and not offered for sale.

In all actions brought under this chapter, proof of the sale or offering for sale of such structures by the owner-builder within one year after completion of same is presumptive evidence that such structure was undertaken for purposes of sale.

CHAPTER 764

An act to amend Section 10493 of the Insurance Code, relating to benefit and relief associations.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10493 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10493. Any incorporated or unincorporated benefit and relief association organized before January 15, 1951, may procure a certificate of exemption from the commissioner if it complies with all of the following:

(a) All of the other requirements of this article.

(b) As respects life or disability or life and disability insurance transacted by it, it is of an entirely nonprofit nature.

(c) Any one of the following requirements as to membership and purpose:

(1) It is composed of and its membership limited to the appointive officers and employees of a public school district or districts and/or the pupils of any such district or districts, or of any private school or schools.

(2) It is composed of and its membership limited to the appointive officers and employees of a municipal playground system and/or the participants in dancing, recreational, sporting, educational, social and/or theatrical activities sponsored and/or directed by it and carried on through the use of any of its facilities.

(3) Its membership in this State is 1,000 or more and it is either an organization of a purely religious or benevolent character or its membership is limited to the members of such an organization.

(4) It is composed of and its membership is limited to the members of another organization which other organization is of a purely religious or benevolent character and has a total membership in this State of not less than 1,000.

(5) It is a domestic organization, lodge, society or order which prior to September 19, 1947, provided life or disability benefits or both such benefits to its members and

(A) Is of a charitable, benevolent or beneficent character or becomes such within one year from September 4, 1951, and in both instances is thereafter of such character, and

(B) Operates in such a manner that the payment of such benefits even though it be one of the express purposes of such organization, lodge or order, is as a matter of fact incidental to its charitable, benevolent or beneficent purposes or within one year from September 4, 1951, operates in such a manner and in both instances thereafter operates in such a manner.

(6) Officers and employees of a common employer, and related dependents of such officers and employees, comprising wives, husbands and unmarried dependent children under 19 years of age, and living in the same household.

An act to amend Section 541.1 of the Probate Code, relating to the deposit of money or securities of estates of decedents.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 541.1 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

541.1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 541, in any proceedings for the determination of the amount of bond to be required of the executor or administrator (whether at the time of appointment or subsequently), when it appears that the estate of the decedent includes money or securities which have been, or will be, deposited in a bank or banks in this State or in a trust company authorized to transact a trust business in this State upon condition that such money or securities will not be withdrawn except on authorization of the court, the court may, in its discretion, order such money or securities so deposited and exclude such deposited property from the computation of the amount of such bond or reduce the amount of bond to be required in respect of such money or securities to such an amount as it may deem reasonable.

The petitioner for letters testamentary or of administration may deliver to any such bank or trust company any such money or securities in his possession or may allow such bank or trust company to retain any such money or securities already in its possession; and, in either event, the petitioner shall secure and file with the court a written receipt including the agreement of the bank or trust company that such money or securities shall not be allowed to be withdrawn except on authorization of the court. In so receiving and retaining such money or securities, the bank or trust company shall be protected to the same extent as though it had received the same from a person to whom letters testamentary or of administration had been issued.

CHAPTER 766

An act to add Article 8 to Chapter 1, Part 1, Division 1, Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to the boundaries of cities and counties.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 8 consisting of Sections 50190 to 50200, inclusive, is hereby added to Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 8. City Boundaries

50190. If the boundaries between cities or between a city and unincorporated territory are conflicting or incorrectly described, or if by reason of the resubdivision of land, the change in property lines or for other cause, the location of the boundaries becomes indefinite or conflicts with the established property lines, the boundaries may be corrected or relocated to follow definite, established property lines pursuant to this article. Correction of boundaries

50191. The corrected or relocated boundary lines shall conform as nearly as practicable to the former boundaries. Conformation to former boundaries

50192. Where boundary lines are corrected or relocated, the relocation of the new lines shall be made in such a manner that the majority of the area of the parcel or property affected determines the entity within whose boundaries the parcel or property is or shall be located. The purpose of this article is to authorize only minor corrections or relocations to be made, and no corrections or relocations shall be made hereunder which relocate within the boundaries of another entity property in any parcel in excess of one acre in area. Purpose

50193. The legislative body of any city the boundaries of which are incorrectly described, indefinite, or conflict with established property lines, or the board of supervisors of the county in which any such city is located, may file with the legislative body of any other affected city, or the county, a written petition specifically describing the parcels of land affected and the proposed location of the new boundary line and requesting consent to the correction or relocation of such boundaries. Petition

50194. Petitions shall be submitted to and reported upon by the boundary commission of the county prior to being filed or acted upon. Submission to boundary commission

50195. The legislative body or bodies with which such petitions are filed shall by resolution either consent to or disapprove each of the corrections or relocations proposed by the petition within 30 days after receipt thereof. A certified copy of such resolution of consent or disapproval shall be forthwith filed with the clerk of the petitioning legislative body. Action by legislative body

Correction
by initiating
body

50196. The initiating legislative body may thereupon, by resolution, correct, relocate or alter such boundaries to the extent to which all affected legislative bodies have consented. Such resolution shall accurately describe the corrected, relocated or altered boundaries. The enacting legislative body shall cause its clerk to transmit a certified copy of such resolution to the Secretary of State, to the board of supervisors of the county in which the affected boundaries are situated, and to the legislative bodies of all affected cities.

Filing of resolution,
etc.

50197. The Secretary of State shall file the resolution and transmit certificates of the filing thereof to the clerks of the legislative bodies of all affected cities and the board of supervisors in which the cities are situated.

Affidavit of completion,
etc.

50198. The clerk of the legislative body initiating the proceedings shall file the affidavit of completion and the statement of boundary change required by Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5, of this code.

Effective
date of correction

50199. From the date of filing of the affidavit of completion, the correction or alteration of boundaries is complete and effective for all purposes.

Tax liability

50200. If property is excluded from any city or included in any city pursuant to this article, such property shall cease to be liable for taxation for the outstanding indebtedness of the city from which it was excluded and shall become liable to taxation for the outstanding indebtedness of any other city in which it is included

CHAPTER 767

An act to amend Section 34329 and to repeal Section 36504 of the Government Code, relating to members of city councils.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 34329 of the Government Code is amended to read:

34329. Officers, except members of the city council, shall hold office until the first succeeding general municipal election held in the city and until their successors are elected and qualified. Of the five elected members of the city council, the three receiving the lowest number of votes shall hold office until the first succeeding general municipal election held in the city and until their successors are elected and qualified, and the two receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office until the second succeeding general municipal election held in the city and until their successors are elected and qualified. If two or more members of the city council are elected by the same number of votes, the terms of each shall be determined by lot. The members of the city council elected to succeed the members elected at the incorporation election shall hold office for four years from the Tuesday succeeding their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 2. Section 36504 of said code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 768

An act to add Sections 35121.5 and 35313.5 to the Government Code, relating to the annexation of territory to cities.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35121.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

35121.5. If the city legislative body finds that a majority protest has not been made in accordance with Section 35121 and if it elects to proceed it may make such changes in the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed as it finds proper, but it shall not include any territory outside of the boundaries described in the petition nor shall it diminish the land area of the territory proposed to be annexed by more than 5 percent.

SEC. 2. Section 35313.5 is added to said code, to read:

35313.5. If the city legislative body finds that a majority protest has not been presented in accordance with Section 35313 and if it elects to proceed it may make such changes in the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed as it finds proper, but it shall not include any territory outside of the boundaries described in the resolution giving notice of the proposed annexation nor shall it diminish the land area of the territory proposed to be annexed by more than 5 percent.

CHAPTER 769

An act to add Section 35011 to the Government Code, relating to the territory annexed to cities.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35011 is added to the Government Code, to read:

35011. If a suit is brought attacking the regularity or validity of annexation proceedings completed pursuant to this chapter and the city which has annexed such territory is enjoined from exercising jurisdiction over such territory until the final disposition of such suit, such territory shall be deemed to be unincorporated and county ordinances shall continue in full force and effect with respect to the territory and the county in which such territory is situated shall continue to render the same services in such territory in the same manner as it renders services to unincorporated territory in the county, until the final disposition of such suit, and thereafter if it is determined that the annexation proceedings were invalid.

CHAPTER 770

An act to amend Section 12002 of the Financial Code, relating to the definition of a check seller or casher.

In effect
September

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12200 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

12200. No person shall engage in the business, for compensation, of selling or cashing checks, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose, or of receiving money as agent of an obligor for the purpose of paying bills, invoices, or accounts of such obligor without first obtaining a license from the commissioner.

CHAPTER 773

An act to amend Section 12308 of the Financial Code, relating to maximum fees to be charged under Check Sellers and Cashers Law.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12308 of said code is amended to read:

12308. No person shall charge a fee for selling or cashing a check, draft, money order, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose, in excess of one-half of 1 percent of the face amount of said check, draft, money order or other commercial paper or thirty-five cents ($.35), whichever is greater, unless the check, draft, money order or other commercial paper presented for cashing is drawn on a bank located outside of the State or, in a face amount in excess of one hundred dollars ($100), in which event the fee shall not exceed 1 percent of the face amount thereof.

CHAPTER 774

An act to amend Section 12310 of the Financial Code, relating to the sale of checks payable to bearer by a check seller or cashier.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12310 of said code is amended to read:
12310. A licensee under this division shall not sell checks payable to bearer, to cash, or to the purchaser, but a licensee may sell a check in which the name of the payee is not designated in any way if the check does not exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) in amount.

CHAPTER 775

An act to add Sections 1488, 1489 and 1490 to the Probate Code, relating to discharge of sureties.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1488 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1488. When a surety of a guardian desires to be released from responsibility on account of future acts, he may make application to the court, or a judge thereof, for relief. The court or judge shall cite the guardian to appear at a designated time and place and give other security. If the guardian has absconded, left, or removed from the State, or if he cannot be found after due diligence and inquiry, the citation may be served by leaving a copy of it at his residence, or by such publication as the court or judge may order.

SEC. 2. Section 1489 is added to said code, to read:

1489. If the guardian neglects or refuses to give new sureties, to the satisfaction of the judge, on the return of the citation or within such reasonable time as the judge shall allow, unless the surety making the application shall consent to a longer extension of time, the court or judge must revoke his letters.

SEC. 3. Section 1490 is added to said code, to read:

1490. If new sureties be given to the satisfaction of the judge, he shall thereupon make an order that the sureties who applied for relief shall not be liable on their bond for any subsequent act, default or misconduct of the guardian.

CHAPTER 776

An act to amend Section 750 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to actions to quiet title.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 750 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

750. Within one year after the filing of the complaint, as required by the preceding sections, a summons must be issued, which shall contain the matters required by Section 407 of this code, and in addition, a description of the property and a statement of the object of the action. In said summons the said unknown defendants shall be designated as in the complaint, whether they are the sole defendants or not. If as to any defendant the action is one brought under the provisions of Section 738 and sections pertinent thereto of this code, such defendant may be named in the same summons and no separate or additional summons need be issued directed to such defendant.

summons

Within 30 days after the issuance of the summons, the plaintiff shall post or cause to be posted a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the property described in the complaint.

Posting

At any time after the issuance of the summons, the plaintiff, or his agent or attorney, shall make and file an affidavit wherein there shall be stated the following matters:

Affidavit

(a) The names of the defendants, if any, as to whom the action is brought under the provisions of Section 738 and sections pertinent thereto of this code; if there is no such defendant that fact shall be stated;

(b) The names of all the defendants who have been served personally, if any; if there is none that fact shall be stated;

(c) The names of the defendants who reside out of the State and their places of residence, if known to the plaintiff; and

(d) The names of the defendants residing in or out of the State whose place of residence is unknown to the plaintiff.

All defendants as to whom the action is one brought under the provisions of Section 738 and sections pertinent thereto of this code, shall be served with said summons in the manner provided in Title 5 of Part 2 of this code.

Service

All other defendants residing in the State of California, whose place of residence is known to the plaintiff shall be served personally with said summons; provided, that any such defendant who conceals himself to avoid service of summons may be served as provided in Sections 412 and 413 of this code.

Except as otherwise provided, upon the making and filing of the aforesaid affidavit, the court or a judge thereof shall make an order directing the said summons to be served upon the defendants residing out of the State, whose place of residence is known to the plaintiff and upon the defendants residing in or out of the State, whose place of residence is unknown to the plaintiff, and upon all the unknown defendants as stated in the complaint and summons, by publication in some daily or weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where the property is situated, and if there be no such paper in such county, then in some adjoining county, to be designated by the court or a judge thereof, which publication shall be pursuant to Government Code Section 6064.

Within 10 days after the making of the said order directing publication of summons, a copy of the summons and complaint, properly addressed and with the postage thereon fully prepaid, shall be mailed to each of the defendants whose names are known who reside out of the State, at their place of residence, if known, and also to the defendants whose names are known residing in or out of the State, whose place of residence is unknown to plaintiff, addressed to them at the county seat of the county where the action is commenced.

All such unknown persons so served shall have the same rights as are provided by law in cases of all other defendants named, upon whom service is made by publication, or personally, and the action shall proceed against such unknown persons in the same manner as against the defendants who are named upon whom service is made by publication or personally, and with like effect; and any such unknown person who has or claims to have any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the said property, or cloud on the title thereto, adverse to plaintiff, at the time of the commencement of the action, who has been duly served as aforesaid, and anyone claiming under him, shall be concluded by the judgment in such action as effectually as if the action was brought against the said person by his or her name and personal service of process was obtained, notwithstanding any such unknown person may be under legal disability. Service shall be deemed complete upon the completion of the mailing and publication.

In the event that service of any summons shall be required to be by publication as to any defendant as to whom the action is brought under the provisions of Section 738 of this code, the order for such publication, made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 412 and 413 of this code may be made either as a part of the order for publication of summons made as to other defendants, or as a separate order, as the court or a judge thereof may consider proper in the particular case.

CHAPTER 777

An act making appropriations for the support of the Government of the State of California and for several public purposes in accordance with the provisions of Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1955 Filed with

PROVISION FOR SALARY INCREASES

275—For Salary Increase Fund to be allocated only on authorization of the Department of Finance to the several state offices, departments, boards, bureaus, commissions, the Regents of the University of California, and other state agencies, in augmentation of their respective appropriations for support or for other purposes, in such amounts as will make sufficient money available to be paid each state officer or employee in the state service whose compensation, or a portion thereof, is payable from the General Fund, the increase in compensation provided for in any increased salary range established during the 1954-55 or 1955-56 Fiscal Years by the Personnel Board	Salary Increase Fund
--	----------------------

Item	Amount
or other salary-fixing authority with the approval of the Department of Finance-----	11,306,480
For state officers and employees whose compensation, or portion thereof, is payable from special funds, there is hereby appropriated from each special fund from which such officers and employees are paid an amount sufficient to provide increases in compensation for each such officer or employee in accordance with this item, which amount is to be made available by executive order of the Director of Finance in augmentation of their respective appropriations for support or for other purposes.
Allocations to the University of California shall be made by the Department of Finance only upon certification by the executive officer of the State Personnel Board that proposed salary ranges are comparable to those granted civil service employees or are supported by the findings of a survey of wage rates in comparable employments. In making allocations to the University of California the department shall take into consideration any other university funds which are available or which could be made available by the regents for salary increases.
Before the State Personnel Board or other administrative salary-fixing authority establishes any increased salary range during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year, a certification shall be obtained from the Director of Finance that sufficient money either is available in funds authorized for the agencies or may be made available from the appropriation in this item, to meet the cost of the increased salary range; provided, that, except for increases authorized under Section 18853 of the Government Code or by specific statute, increases in compensation provided by increased salary ranges established during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year by the Personnel Board for each state officer or employee in the state civil service whose compensation, or portion thereof, is payable from the General Fund shall not result in total annual salary increases of more than $6,800,000. For purposes of determination of such annual cost, computations may be based upon the number of employees in such classes as of June 30, 1955, as reported by the State Personnel Board. Salary adjustments payable

funds

SEC. 3. The unexpended balance of the appropriation made by Item 287, Budget Act of 1952, as amended by Item 283, Budget Act of 1953, and as amended by Section 4, Budget Act of 1954, is hereby reappropriated for augmentation of revolving funds during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year, to be transferred by the State Controller in such amounts and for such periods as the Director of Finance may authorize; provided further, that any amounts withdrawn may be returned to the credit of this appropriation as the Director of Finance may authorize.

Construction

SEC. 3.1. The appropriation made by Items 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, and 386 shall not be construed as an expression of either approval or disapproval by the Legislature of the plan for expansion and development of the State Park System as set forth in the publication entitled, "California State Park System, Five-year Program" and approved by the State Park Commission, November 19, 1954.

Limitations

SEC. 4. Any construction or improvement project included in any appropriation out of the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund, Fair and Exposition Fund, Motor Vehicle Fund, State Beach Fund, and State Park Fund made herein for major construction, improvements and equipment or for acquisition of real property shall be subject to the provisions of Section 15790 of the Government Code.

SEC. 5. No money appropriated herein in any item for major construction, improvements, and equipment, designs, working plans, and specifications may be expended by any state agency except amounts needed for preliminary surveys, studies, and planning until the State Public Works Board and the Department of Finance have approved preliminary plans for the project to be financed from such item of appropriation for major construction, improvements, and equipment, designs, working plans, and specifications. All appropriations heretofore made for major construction, improvements, and equipment, which are still available for expenditure, are hereby reappropriated for the same purposes and for the same period as heretofore provided by law, but, except as to amounts needed for preliminary plans, shall not be expended until the State Public Works Board and the Department of Finance have approved preliminary plans for the project or projects to be financed from the appropriation; provided, that this restriction shall not apply to projects for which working drawings have been started as of the effective date of this act; provided further, no major project for which appropriation is made hereunder regarding which the Director of Finance or his authorized representative requests review of working plans shall be put out to bid until the working plans therefor have been approved by the Department of Finance; provided further, that no money appropriated herein may be spent for working drawings for any project as to which there has been made substantial change or changes from the preliminary plans as approved by the State Public Works Board and the Department of Finance unless there has first been obtained the approval of the Department of Finance to make such change or changes; provided further, that no money appropriated herein may be spent for equipment until prior approval for purchase of such equipment shall have been given by the Department of Finance.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit or control the Regents of the University of California in the expenditure of funds appropriated for major construction, improvements, and equipment for the use, development or enlargement of the University of California; provided, that the provisions of this section shall be applicable to the appropriation made by Item 350 of Section 2 of this act upon the election by the regents, pursuant to said Item 350, to comply therewith.

SEC. 6. All appropriations made from the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund by this act shall be available for the period prescribed by Section 16407.1 of the Government Code, and the appropriations made by Items 347.1, 347.2, 385.5, 377, 381, 382, 383 and 385 of this act shall be available until June 30, 1958, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 2 hereof which specify general availability of appropriations during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year. Outlay and Savings Fund

SEC. 6.3. On and after July 1, 1955, the undisbursed balances of all appropriations heretofore made to the Department of Natural Resources from the General Fund or the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund, that were required to be repaid to the General Fund out of moneys impounded in the State Lands Act Fund under the decision and order of the United States Supreme Court and released and paid into the State Beach Fund or the State Park Fund, are reappropriated for the same purpose and for the same period of availability and shall be payable from the State Beach Fund or the State Park Fund, as determined and designated by the Department of Finance. Reappropria-
tion of previously
moneys

SEC. 8. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to pay the salary of any authorized state position, which position was vacant and had been vacant or continuously unfilled during the period between October 1, 1954, and July 1, 1955, except with the specific approval of the Department of Finance, subsequent to July 1, 1955. Salary of vacant positions

The Department of Finance, not later than 30 days prior to the convening of the 1956 Budget Session of the Legislature, shall present to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, assembled in meeting, a report of all positions as of July 1, 1955, which were vacant or continuously unfilled during the period between October 1, 1954, and July 1, 1955, and a report of all authorizations to fill vacant positions and all positions abolished pursuant to this section.

Acquisition of motor vehicles

SEC. 9. No purchase order for acquisition or replacement of motor vehicles shall be issued against any appropriation made herein until the Department of Finance has investigated and established the necessity therefor.

All passenger type motor vehicles purchased from any appropriation made by this act for the use of state employees and officers, except constitutional officers, shall be of the light class, as defined by the Board of Control, unless excepted by the Director of Finance on the basis of unusual requirements, such as use by the Highway Patrol, which would justify the need for an automobile of a heavier class.

SEC. 10. All passenger type motor vehicles purchased either from any appropriation made by this act or from any other appropriation available therefor for the use of the Department of Public Works, except for use of officers excepted in Section 9 of this act, shall be of the light class, as defined by the Board of Control, unless excepted by the Director of Finance on the basis of unusual requirements which would justify the need for an automobile of a heavier class.

Limitations
on expenditures House or apartment
furnishings

SEC. 11. None of the money appropriated by this act or for an expenditure which is supplemented from money appropriated by this act shall be used to purchase furnishings for any house or apartment of three or more rooms other than a dormitory which is rented to a state employee except for a superintendent of an institution, warden of a prison, or physicians. This provision shall not apply to the purchase of refrigerators, heaters, air conditioning equipment, stoves, linoleum, or equipment normally furnished in construction of the house as may be determined by the Board of Control. Any such funds that are appropriated by this act for this purpose shall be held intact and be reverted to the fund from which they were appropriated. It is the intent of the Legislature that no money shall be appropriated henceforth for the purpose of house furnishings. Such furnishings are not to be provided by the State nor shall any money be paid from this appropriation for their replacement, repair or otherwise except in connection with the disposal of the same.

Cafeterias

SEC. 12. No moneys appropriated by this act shall be used to purchase equipment or supplies for employee cafeterias or for the cafeteria type blind vending stand where hot meals are served, in any state office building, unless such cafeteria or vending stand has previously been established or the amount therefor is expressly authorized by a schedule in this act.

Office
furnishings

SEC. 13. No money appropriated by this act shall be used, either directly or by supplementing any other appropriation, to furnish rugs or carpets for any state office except for offices used by elective officers and other department heads. The Director of Finance shall furnish a detailed report annually to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee of all rugs or carpets purchased for state offices under this section.

SEC. 14. Whenever herein an appropriation is made for support it shall include salaries and all other proper expenses, including repairs and equipment, incurred in connection with the institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee, or other agency, for which such appropriation is made.

Scope of appropriations
Support

Whenever herein an appropriation is made for construction and improvements, it shall include equipment necessary in connection with such construction or improvements.

Construction and improvements

Whenever herein any item of appropriation is made for acquisition of land or other real property, it shall include all necessary expenses in connection with the acquisition of such property.

Real property

Whenever appropriation is made in accordance with a schedule set forth after such appropriation, the expenditures from such item for each category or project included in the schedule shall be limited to the amount specified for such category or project, except as otherwise provided in this act. Each such schedule is a restriction or limitation upon the expenditure of the respective appropriation made by this act, does not itself appropriate any money, and is not itself an item of appropriation.

Limitation of expenditures

As used in this act in reference to such schedules "category" means a class of expenditures such as, but not limited to:

Definitions

(a) "Salaries and wages" which shall include all expenditures for payment of officers and employees of the State but does not include compensation of independent contractors rendering personal services to the State under contract;

(b) "Operating expenses and equipment" which shall include all expenditures for purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, services (other than services of state officers and employees), and all other proper expenses;

(c) "Construct" when used in connection with a capital outlay project shall include all such related things as fixtures, installed equipment, and auxiliary facilities.

For the purpose of further interpreting the meaning of the words, terms and phrases used in such schedules, reference is hereby made to that document entitled "State of California Budget for the Fiscal Year July 1, 1955, to June 30, 1956," submitted by the Governor to the Legislature at the 1955 Regular Session, the uniform accounting system prescribed by the Department of Finance under the provisions of Section 13290 of the Government Code, and the appropriate portions thereof. The State Board of Control shall establish such interpretations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and shall furnish the same to the State Controller and to every state agency to whom appropriations are made under this act.

SEC. 15. The Director of Finance may, pursuant to a request by the officer, department, division, bureau, board, commission, or other agency to whom an appropriation is made herein, authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for a category or project designated in any schedule set forth for such appropriation in Section 2 by transfer from any of the other designated categories or projects within the same schedule. The Director of Finance shall present to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee assembled in meeting a report on all authorizations given pursuant to this section during the preceding quarter.

Augmen-
tations

SEC. 16. The Director of Finance may authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for any category in the schedules set forth for any appropriation in Section 2 hereof or any additional category in the amount of any funds which he estimates will be received by an officer, department, division, bureau or other agency during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year from any other state agency, from any agency of local government or the Federal Government, from any appropriation made by the Legislature or from any other source which he determines has not been taken into consideration in said schedule, or is in excess of the amount so taken into consideration.

Reductions

The Director of Finance may also reduce any category whenever he determines that funds to be received will be less than the amount taken into consideration in the schedule.

Premiums
for official
bonds

SEC. 17. Premiums for official bonds may be paid out of appropriations contained in this act, notwithstanding the period covered by such bonds.

Expenditures
from Emergency
Fund, etc

SEC. 18. Whenever an expenditure is authorized from the Emergency Fund, from Price Increase Funds, from the Salary Increase Funds, or from a special fund pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code, in addition to an appropriation made by this act, such authorized expenditures shall, for accounting purposes, be deemed to be an augmentation and increase of the appropriation made by this act.

Transfer of unneeded
funds

SEC. 19. The State Board of Control, upon recommendation of the Director of Finance, may authorize that unneeded funds in an appropriation for support for an institution or for family care, school or college within any of the following agencies may be made available, and shall be deemed appropriated, for the support of another institution or for family care, school or college within the same department:

(a) Department of Corrections, upon request of the Director of Corrections;

(b) Department of Youth Authority, upon request of the Director of the Youth Authority;

(c) Department of Education, upon request of the Director of Education;

(d) Department of Mental Hygiene, upon request of the Director of Mental Hygiene.

Transfer of appropriations

SEC. 20. Whenever any of the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, or jurisdiction of any office, officer, board, commission, bureau or other agency of the State are transferred by law to any other office, officer, board, commission, bureau or other agency of the State, that portion of any appropriation herein made for such office, officer, board, commission, bureau or other agency of the State, intended to be used and available for the performance of such duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities or jurisdiction, upon certification by the Department of Finance as to the amount shall, by the State Controller, be transferred to, and the same shall become a part of, the funds available for the office, officer, board, commission, bureau or other agency of the State, to which the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, or jurisdiction of such office, officer, board, commission or other state agency have been transferred.

SEC. 21. Whenever the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of any office, board, commission or other state agency are abolished by law the unexpended portion of the appropriation herein made for the support of such office, board, commission, or other state agency shall upon the effective date of the act abolishing such office, board, commission or other state agency revert to and become a part of the unexpended balance of the fund from which such appropriation was made.

Abolished
state agencies

SEC. 22. Whenever by law a change is made in the fund from which the support of any office, board, commission or other state agency is properly payable, any appropriation made herein for the support of such office, commission or other state agency, or the applicable portion thereof, shall become payable from the fund designated in that law. The State Board of Control shall determine the adjustments to be made in the appropriations provided for herein as a result of any such change in law and shall certify the same to the State Controller, who shall thereupon make the necessary entries upon his records.

in fund

SEC. 23. The appropriations under this act, unless otherwise provided, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13320 of the Government Code requiring expenditures to be made in accordance with the allotments and other provisions of fiscal year budgets approved by the Department of Finance.

Application
of Gov. C., § 13320

The fiscal year budget shall authorize in such manner as the Department of Finance shall prescribe all established positions whose continuance for the year is approved and all new positions. No new positions or change in grade or class of an existing position shall be established unless authorized by the Department of Finance on the basis of work load and organization.

Positions
established

Each fiscal year budget shall provide for a salary savings reserve to which shall be transferred on a document initiated by the agency and approved by the Department of Finance the unencumbered balance remaining in each allotment for salaries and wages at the close of each quarter or other period of time covered by the allotment. The unencumbered balance remaining in each budget allotment for salaries and wages shall be computed by deducting from the amount of the allot-

ings reserve

ment the expenditures and accrued obligations for salaries and wages chargeable to such allotment for the period covered thereby. The amount in the salary savings reserve shall not be available for expenditure except upon transfer to allotments for salaries and wages approved by the Department of Finance. Such transfers shall be approved only after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance that the allotment to be augmented is insufficient to meet necessary expenditures for salaries and wages.

No money in any salary savings reserve may be expended to pay increases in salary ranges established after July 1, 1955, unless the Department of Finance certifies to the State Personnel Board prior to the adoption of such increased salary range that funds will be made available to pay the increased salaries resulting therefrom.

A certification on a pay roll claim that expenditures therein are in accordance with current budgetary provisions as approved by the Department of Finance shall be sufficient evidence to the Controller that such expenditures comply with the provisions of this section.

Expenditures
in excess of appropriations

SEC. 24. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the consent of the State Department of Finance be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by the director of said department, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the State in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by the State Controller nor paid out of any state appropriation. Any member of any such department, board, commission or institution, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the State in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the consent of the State Department of Finance and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

item veto

SEC. 25. If any item of appropriation in this act is vetoed, eliminated or reduced by the Governor under Sections 16 and 34 of Article IV of the Constitution while approving portions of this act, such veto, elimination or reduction shall not affect the other portions of this act and these other portions of this act, so approved, shall have the same effect in law as if any vetoed or eliminated items of appropriation had not been present in this act and as if any reduced item of appropriation had not been reduced.

Constitution-ality

SEC. 26. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 27. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately. Current expenses

There exists an extreme shortage of physical facilities for the operation of the custodial, mental treatment, educational, administrative, military and other agencies of the State Government, the present facilities being entirely inadequate due to great increases in population and added governmental responsibilities. The capital outlay appropriations in this budget are all in continuation of an existing program to remedy the aforesaid shortage of facilities and to promote and sustain the economy of the State. If they are not available for expenditure on July 1, 1955, the existing program will be delayed. The expeditious correction of such condition and the efficient operation of the State's business require the immediate availability of the new capital outlay appropriation and the uninterrupted availability of reappropriated capital outlay items contained in this measure. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 778

An act to amend Section 419 of the Vehicle Code, relating to disclosure of information contained in accident reports.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 419 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

419. Report of Accident Required. Reports and Records Not to Be Evidence in Civil Suits. (a) The driver of every motor vehicle which is in any manner involved in an accident originating from the operation of a motor vehicle on any street or highway within this State which accident has resulted in damage to the property of any one person in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) or in bodily injury or in the death of any person shall within 15 days after such accident report the Accident report accident on a form approved by the department to the office of the department at Sacramento, subject to the following provisions. In the event an involved vehicle was a driverless runaway vehicle, then the registered owner of such vehicle shall be construed to have been the driver of the vehicle for the purposes of this chapter; provided, the vehicle was parked with the express or implied permission of the owner. In the event the driver at the time of an accident was driving a motor vehicle owned, operated, or leased by the employer of such driver and with the permission of the employer, then such driver shall within five days after the accident report the accident to his employer on a form approved by the employer and said employer shall within 10 days after receipt of said report transmit a report on a form approved by the department to the office of the department at Sacramento, except that an employer need not transmit such report to the department when the vehicle involved in the accident is owned or operated as described in Section 422.1 or 422.4 or is owned or operated by any person or corporation who has filed with the department a certificate of an insurance carrier or bonding company that there is in effect a policy or bond meeting the requirements of Section 422.6 and when such insurance policy or bond was in full force and effect in respect to such vehicle at the time of the accident.

Driver
incapable

(b) If any driver be physically incapable of making such report, and is not the owner of the motor vehicle involved in such accident then the owner shall, as soon as he learns of the accident, report the matter in writing to the department. The driver or the owner shall make such other and additional reports relating to such accidents as the department shall require.

Suspension of driving privilege

(c) The department may suspend the driving privilege and any licenses evidencing such privilege of any person who willfully fails, refuses, or neglects to make report of an accident as herein required.

Not evidence in civil suits

(d) Neither the report required by this section, the action taken by the department pursuant to this chapter, the findings if any of the department upon which action is based, nor the security filed as provided in this chapter shall be referred to in any way, or be any evidence of the negligence or due care of any party, at the trial of any action at law to recover damages.

Reports
confidential

CHAPTER 779

An act to amend Section 1013a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service by mail.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1013a of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1013a. Proof of service by mail may be made by one of the following methods:

(1) An affidavit affixed to the original, or to a true copy, of the document served and filed in the cause, showing the name and residence or business address of the person making the service, showing that he is a citizen of the United States and resident or employed in the county where the mailing occurs, that he is over the age of 18 years and not a party to the cause, and showing the date and place of deposit in the mail, the name and address of the person served as shown on the envelope, and also showing that the envelope was sealed and deposited in the mail with the postage thereon fully prepaid.

(2) A certificate affixed to the original, or to a true copy, of the document served and filed in the cause, showing the name and business address of the person making the service, showing that he is an active member of the State Bar of California and is not a party to the cause, and showing the date and place of deposit in the mail, the name and address of the person served as shown on the envelope, and also showing that the envelope was sealed and deposited in the mail with the postage thereon fully prepaid.

An act to add Sections 8216, 8217, and 8218 to the Government Code, relating to discharge of sureties.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8216 is added to the Government Code, to read:

8216. When a surety of a notary desires to be released from responsibility on account of future acts, he may make application to the superior court of the county where the commission is issued, or a judge thereof, for relief. The court or judge shall cite the notary to appear at a designated time and place and give other security. If the notary has absconded, left, or removed from the State, or if he cannot be found after due diligence and inquiry, the citation may be served by leaving a copy of it at his residence, or by such publication as the court or judge may order.

SEC. 2. Section 8217 is added to said code, to read:

8217. If the notary neglects or refuses to give new sureties, to the satisfaction of the judge, on the return of the citation or within such reasonable time as the judge shall allow, unless the surety making the application shall consent to a longer extension of time, the court or judge must revoke his commission.

SEC. 3. Section 8218 is added to said code, to read:

8218. If new sureties be given to the satisfaction of the judge, he shall thereupon make an order that the sureties who applied for relief shall not be liable on their bond for any subsequent act, default or misconduct of the notary.

CHAPTER 781

An act to amend Section 674 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to judgments.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 674 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

674. An abstract of the judgment or decree of any court of this State, including a judgment of any court sitting as a small claims court, or any court of record of the United States, the enforcement of which has not been stayed on appeal, certified by the clerk, judge or justice of the court where such judgment or decree was rendered, may be recorded with the recorder of any county and from such recording the judgment or decree becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterward and before the lien expires, acquire. Such lien continues for 10 years from the date of the entry of the judgment or decree unless the enforcement of the judgment or decree is stayed on appeal by the execution of a sufficient undertaking or the deposit in court of the requisite amount of money as provided in this code, or by the statutes of the United States, in which case the lien of the judgment or decree, and any lien or liability now existing or hereafter created by virtue of an attachment that has been issued and levied in the action, unless otherwise by statutes of the United States provided, ceases, or upon all undertaking on release of attachment, or unless the judgment or decree is previously satisfied, or the lien otherwise discharged. The abstract above mentioned shall contain the following: title of the court and cause and number of the action; date of entry of the judgment or decree; names of the judgment debtor and of the judgment creditor; amount of the judgment or decree, and where entered in judgment book, minutes or docket in the justice court.

CHAPTER 782

An act to amend Section 654.1 of the Agricultural Code, relating to milk and imitations thereof.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 654.1 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

654.1. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (d) of Section 654 shall not apply to a distinctive proprietary food compound (a) not readily mistaken in taste for milk, or for evaporated, skim, condensed or dried milk, (b) prepared and designed for feeding infants and young children, and (c) sold exclusively by druggists, orphan asylums, child welfare associations, hospitals and similar institutions, or for shipment outside of California. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of Section 635, a product described in, and complying with the requirements of, this section may be labeled as modified milk.

CHAPTER 783

An act to repeal Section 5110 and amend Section 5112 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to carriers.

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5110 of the Public Utilities Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 5112 of said code is amended to read:

5112. The regulation of the transportation of used household goods and personal effects, office, store, and institution furniture and fixtures in a motor vehicle or motor vehicles being so used exclusively, over any public highway in this State shall be exclusively as provided in this chapter. Any provision of the Public Utilities Act, City Carriers' Act, or the Highway Carriers Act in conflict with the provisions of this chapter is superseded and repealed.

CHAPTER 784

An act to amend Section 28150 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public service in counties of the fiftieth class.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28150 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Calaveras

Lists of eligibles for such promotive positions, subsequent to those lists in existence on September 19, 1947, shall be composed only of persons holding the next lower rank or ranks of deputy clerks in such municipal courts. Monthly compensation shall determine that such deputy clerks are of the next lower rank or ranks. Temporary appointees shall receive the salary set up opposite the title of their respective positions. Temporary appointments to promotive positions shall be made from the next lower rank or ranks.

CHAPTER 786

An act making an appropriation for construction and equipment of state public works, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund in the State Treasury the sum of five hundred thirty-eight thousand seven hundred forty-three dollars ($538,743) in augmentation of Item 393 of the Budget Act of 1953.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There exists an extreme shortage of physical facilities for the operation of the custodial, mental treatment, educational, administrative, military and other agencies of the State Government, the present facilities being entirely inadequate due to great increases in population and added governmental responsibilities. The capital outlay appropriations in this budget are all in continuation of an existing program to remedy the aforesaid shortage of facilities and to promote and sustain the economy of the State. The expeditious correction of such condition and the efficient operation of the State's business require the immediate availability of the new capital outlay appropriation and the uninterrupted availability of reappropriated capital outlay items contained in this measure. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 787

An act to add Section 13101.7 to the Government Code, relating to the acquisition of easements and rights of way by the State.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13101.7 is added to the Government Code, to read:

13101.7. The Director of Finance may acquire, by condemnation or other means, any easements or rights of way which he determines to be necessary for the proper utilization of real property owned or being acquired by the State.

This section does not apply to land, easements, or rights of way to be acquired by the Department of Public Works.

CHAPTER 788

An act to amend Section 28140 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public service in a county of the fortieth class.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28140 of the Government Code is amended to read:

28140. In a county of the fortieth class the annual salary of each supervisor is three thousand dollars ($3,000). All other officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the salaries and fees fixed pursuant to the charter of the county.

Tehama
County
Salaries
Supervisors

Grand jurors shall receive three dollars ($3) a day for each day's attendance and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents ($0.15) a mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, in going only. Trial jurors in the superior and justice courts shall receive three dollars ($3) per day for the first day and six dollars ($6) per day thereafter during that particular trial, with mileage at the rate of eight cents ($0.08) per mile each way. In criminal cases the fees and mileage of the trial jurors in the superior court shall be paid by the treasurer out of the general fund of the county upon warrants drawn by the auditor on the written order of the judge of the court in which the jurors were in attendance, and the treasurer shall pay the warrants.

Jurors

CHAPTER 789

An act to amend Section 4621 of the Education Code, relating to governing boards of unified school districts coterminous with or including a chartered city or city and county.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4621 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Provision for governing board in chartered city, etc

4621. Each unified school district which is coterminous with or includes within its boundaries a chartered city or city and county shall be governed by the board of education provided for in the charter of the city or city and county.

Election of members when no charter provision

If the charter of any city or city and county fails to provide for a board of education, the unified school district with which the city or city and county is coterminous, or in which it is included, shall be governed by an elective board of education of five members. The members of the governing board of any elementary school district merged into a unified school district of the type described in this section shall become members of the governing board of the unified school district and shall serve as such for the unexpired term for which they were elected or appointed as members of the governing board of the elementary school district.

Appointment and election of members in case of charter
provision

If the charter of any city provides for or has within two years prior to January 1, 1955, provided for a board of education of five members of a unified school district, and said charter has been or is hereafter amended so that it fails to provide for a board of education, a new board of education composed of five members is created under this section immediately upon the effective date of such amendment; the positions thereto shall be filled by appointment of the county superintendent of schools. The terms of the members first so appointed shall expire the last day of June next following the effective date of such charter amendment, and an election shall be held for the members of such board at the time fixed by law for the regular election of members of governing boards of school districts, and the members so elected shall assume office on the first day of July following. If the effective date of such charter amendment is such that a legal election for board members cannot be held as aforesaid prior to the first day of July next following such charter amendment, then the county superintendent of schools shall again appoint the members of such board who shall assume office on the first day of July as aforesaid. The terms of the board members who take office on the first day of July as aforesaid and thereafter shall be for a period of four years except that of the members who take office the first day of July next succeeding such charter amendment, two shall be for a term of two years from such July 1st and three shall be for a term of four years therefrom thereby securing a rotation in membership, and the county superintendent of schools, upon the making of the appointments aforesaid or within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment to this section at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature, whichever is later, shall designate which positions are for the two-year and which for the four-year terms. Except as herein otherwise provided, the members of the board shall be elected at the last time fixed by law for the election of members of governing boards of school districts prior to the commencement of a new term of office. If a general municipal election is to be held within 60 days prior to the time when an election for board members would be held as aforesaid, the board of education may, by resolution filed with the governing body of such city at least 60 days prior to such municipal election, call the school district election to coincide with the municipal election and request the governing body of such city to consolidate such elections in that portion of the school district which lies within such city, and the governing body of such city shall order such elections to be consolidated and to be held as are consolidated elections under the provisions of the Elections Code relating to consolidated elections, in which event the school district shall simultaneously with the holding of such consolidated election conduct an election in any portion of the district not included within such municipality. In the event of the holding of such consolidated election, the school district shall reimburse the city for its proportionate share of the costs of conducting such consolidated election in an amount to be agreed upon between the governing bodies of such school district and such city.

CHAPTER 790

An act to amend Section 7416 of the Public Resources Code, relating to lieu lands.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7416 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

7416. If any applicant desires to purchase any of the lands mentioned in Section 7406, he shall, before filing his application with the commission, properly prepare all papers and documents on the forms prescribed by the commission and the Department of the Interior, and shall also surrender the indemnity certificate or scrip which he desires the commission to use as bases for indemnity. If the applicant complies with the provisions of this article and of law, the commission, unless it first determines that the listing to the State of the lands sought to be purchased by the applicant would be contrary to the best interests of the State, shall thereupon communicate with the United States Land Offices and ask that the lands sought to be purchased be listed to the State in lieu of the bases named in the surrender certificate. The applicant shall also pay to the commission at the time of the presentation of the application all fees required by the United States Land Offices for the location, shall furnish all county recorders' or other certificates required, and shall pay for publication of all notices required by the United States Land Offices.

The county recorder, upon the request of any person or his agent or attorney, shall forthwith, on the payment of the fees allowed by law, furnish the certificate required by this section, or any other certificate that may be required by the rules or regulations of the United States Land Office.

CHAPTER 791

An act to add Section 14305.5 to, and amend Sections 14077 and 14683 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to fire protection districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14305.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

14305.5. Any territory originally within the boundaries of the previously formed district shall not be excluded from the boundaries of a district reorganized pursuant to this chapter by reason of the fact that at the time of the filing of the petition for reorganization the territory shall then be included within a city; provided, that consent for the inclusion of the territory be given by the legislative body of the city prior to the filing of the petition for reorganization.

SEC. 2. Section 14077 of said code is amended to read:

14077. It may take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, and hold, use, enjoy, and lease, or dispose of real and personal property of every kind, necessary for the exercise of the powers of the district, whether the property is located within or outside the boundaries of the district.

SEC. 3. Section 14683 of said code is amended to read:

14683. The directors may acquire real or personal property for the purposes of the district, dispose of property when no longer needed, construct needed structures, and acquire, hold and possess, either by donation or purchase, in the name and on behalf of the district any land or other property necessary for the purposes of the district, whether the property is located within or outside the boundaries of the district.

CHAPTER 792

An act to add Section 35146.1 and 35318.1 to the Government Code, relating to special districts in territory annexed by a city.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35146.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

35146.1. As an alternative to any procedure prescribed by law for the division of taxes or assessments collected in a special district lying partially or wholly in territory annexed by an incorporated city, the city and the special district may enter into an agreement providing that the special district shall continue to perform services for such annexed territory until the close of the fiscal year for which the special district has levied taxes or assessments.

SEC. 2. Section 35318.1 is added to said code, to read:

35318.1. As an alternative to any procedure prescribed by law for the division of taxes or assessments collected in a special district lying partially or wholly in territory annexed by an incorporated city, the city and the special district may enter into an agreement providing that the special district shall continue to perform services for such annexed territory until the close of the fiscal year for which the special district has levied taxes or assessments.

CHAPTER 793

An act to amend Sections 682, 688, 690.11 and 690.26 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to exemptions from attachment or execution proceedings.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 682 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

or marshal, and it must intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the court, the county, and in municipal and justice courts, the judicial district, where the judgment is entered, and if it be for money, the amount thereof, and the amount actually due thereon, and if made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, as provided in Section 667, the execution must also state the kind of money or currency in which the judgment is payable, and must require the officer to whom it is directed to proceed substantially as follows:

1. If it be against the property of the judgment debtor, it must require such officer to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of the personal property of such debtor, or if it is against the earnings of such debtor, only one-half of such earnings of the judgment debtor received for his personal services rendered at any time within 30 days next preceding such levy shall be subject thereto, and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of his real property; or if the judgment be a lien upon real property, then out of the real property belonging to him on the day when the abstract of judgment was filed as provided in Section 674 of this code, or at any time thereafter.

2. If it be against real or personal property in the hands of the personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants, or trustees, it must require such officer to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of such property.

3. If it be against the person of the judgment debtor, it must require such officer to arrest such debtor and commit him to the jail of the county until he pay the judgment, with interest, or be discharged according to law.

4. If it be issued on a judgment made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, as provided in Section 667, it must also require such officer to satisfy the same in the kind of money or currency in which the judgment is made payable, and such officer must refuse payment in any other kind of money or currency; and in case of levy and sale of the property of the judgment debtor, he must refuse payment from any purchaser at such sale in any other kind of money or currency than that specified in the execution. Any such officer collecting money or currency in the manner required by this chapter, must pay to the plaintiff or party entitled to recover the same, the same kind of money or currency received by him, and in case of neglect or refusal to do so, he shall be liable on his official bond to the judgment creditor in three times the amount of the money so collected.

5. If it be for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, it must require such officer to deliver the possession of the same, describing it, to the party entitled thereto, and may at the same time require such officer to satisfy any costs, damages, rents, or profits recovered by the same judgment, out of the personal property of the person against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was rendered to be specified therein if a delivery thereof cannot be had; and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of the real property, as provided in the first subdivision of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 688 of said code is amended to read:

688. All goods, chattels, moneys or other property, both real and personal, or any interest therein, of the judgment debtor, not exempt by law, except one-half of the earnings of the defendant or judgment debtor received for his personal services rendered at any time within 30 days next preceding the levy of attachment or execution, and all property and rights of property seized and held under attachment in the action, are liable to execution. Shares and interests in any corporation or company, and debts and credits, and all other property, both real and personal, or any interest in either real or personal property, and all other property not capable of manual delivery, may be levied upon or released from levy in like manner as like property may be attached or released from attachment, except that a copy of the complaint in the action from which the writ issued need not accompany the writ; provided, that no cause of action nor judgment as such, shall be subject to levy or sale on execution. Gold dust must be returned by the officer as so much money collected at its current value, without exposing the same to sale. Until a levy, the property is not affected by the execution; but no levy shall bind any property for a longer period than one year from the date of the issuance of the execution, except a levy on the interests or claims of heirs, devisees or legatees in or to assets of deceased persons remaining in the hands of executors or administrators, thereof prior to distribution and payment; provided, however, an alias execution may be issued on said judgment and levied on any property not exempt from execution.

liable to execution

SEC. 3. Section 690.11 of said code is amended to read:

690.11. One-half of the earnings of the defendant or judgment debtor received for his personal services rendered at any time within 30 days next preceding the levy of attachment or execution shall be exempt from execution or attachment without filing a claim for exemption as provided in Section 690.26.

Exemption
Earnings

All of such earnings, if necessary for the use of the debtor's family, residing in this State, and supported in whole or in part by such debtor unless the debts are: (a) incurred by such debtor, his wife or family, for the common necessities of life; or, (b) incurred for personal services rendered by any employee, or former employee, of such debtor.

SEC. 4. Section 690.26 of said code is amended to read:

690.26. (1) If the property mentioned in Sections 690.1 to 690.25, inclusive, shall be levied upon under writ of attachment or execution, the defendant or judgment debtor (herein referred to as "the debtor"), in order to avail himself of his exemption rights as to such property, shall deliver to the levying officer an affidavit of himself or his agent, together with a copy thereof, alleging that the property levied upon, identifying it, is exempt, specifying the section or sections of this code

exemption

on which he relies for his claim to exemption, and all facts necessary to support his claim, and also stating therein his address within this State for the purpose of permitting service by mail upon him of the counteraffidavit and any notice of the motion herein provided.

Service of
affidavit

(2) Forthwith upon receiving the affidavit of exemption the levying officer shall serve upon the plaintiff or the person in whose favor the writ runs (herein referred to as "the creditor"), either personally or by mail, a copy of the affidavit of exemption, together with a writing, signed by the levying officer, stating that the claim to exemption has been received and that the officer will release the property unless he receives from the creditor a counteraffidavit within five days after service of such writing.

affidavit

(3) If the creditor desires to contest the claim to exemption, he shall within such period of five days, file with the levying officer a counteraffidavit alleging that the property is not exempt within the meaning of the section or sections relied upon, or if the claim to exemption be based on Sections 690.1, 690.3, 690.6, 690.8, 690.9, 690.12, 690.17, 690.18, 690.21, 690.24, alleging that the value of the property claimed to be exempt is in excess of the value stated in the applicable section or sections, together with proof of service of a copy of such counteraffidavit upon the debtor.

Release of
property

(4) If no such counteraffidavit, with such proof of service, is so filed with the levying officer within the time allowed, the officer shall forthwith release the property.

Motion for hearing

(5) If such counteraffidavit, with such proof of service, is so filed, either the creditor or the debtor shall be entitled to a hearing in the court in which the action is pending or from which the writ issued for the purpose of determining the claim to exemption, or the value of the property claimed to be exempt. Such hearing must be granted by the court upon motion of either party made within five days after the counteraffidavit is filed with the levying officer, and such hearing must be had within 15 days from the date of the making of such motion unless continued by the court for good cause. The party making the motion for hearing must give not less than five days' notice in writing of such hearing to the levying officer and to the other party and specify therein that the hearing is for the purpose of determining the claim to exemption. The notice may be of motion or of hearing and upon the filing of the notice with the clerk of court, the motion is deemed made.

Notice

Failure to make motion

(6) If neither party makes such motion within the time allowed, the levying officer shall forthwith release the property to the debtor.

Sale of perishable
property

(7) At any time while the proceedings are pending upon motion of either party or upon its own motion, the court may (a) order the sale of any perishable property held by such officer and direct disposition of the proceeds of such sale; and (b) make such other orders as may be proper under the particular circumstances of the case. Any orders so made may be modified or vacated by the court or judge granting the same, or by the court in which the proceedings are pending, at any time during the pendency of the proceedings, upon such terms as may be just.

(8) The levying officer in all cases shall retain physical possession of the property levied upon if it be capable of physical possession, or in the case of property not capable of physical possession, the levy shall remain in full force and effect, pending the final determination of the claim to exemption; provided, however, that no sale under execution shall be had prior to such final determination unless an order of the court hearing the claim for exemption shall so provide.

Retention of possession
by levying officer

(9) At such hearing, the party claiming the exemption shall have the burden of proof. The affidavits and counteraffidavits shall be filed by the levying officer with the court and shall constitute the pleadings, subject to the power of the court to permit an amendment in the interests of justice. The affidavit of exemption shall be deemed controverted by the counteraffidavit and both shall be received in evidence. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive anybody of the right to a jury trial in any case where by the Constitution such right is given, but a jury trial shall be waived in any such case in like manner as in the trial of an action. No findings shall be required in a proceeding under this section. When the hearing is before the court sitting without a jury, and no evidence other than the affidavit and counteraffidavit is offered, the court if satisfied that sufficient facts are shown thereby, may make its determination thereon; otherwise, it shall order the hearing continued for the production of other evidence, oral or documentary, or the filing of other affidavits and counteraffidavits. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall give judgment determining whether the claim to exemption shall be allowed or not, in whole or in part, which judgment shall be determinative as to the right of the creditor to have the property taken and held by the officer or to subject the property to payment or other satisfaction of his judgment. In such judgment the court shall make all proper orders for the disposition of such property or the proceeds thereof.

at hearing

(10) A copy of any judgment entered in the trial court shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk to the levying officer in order to permit such officer to either release the property attached or to continue to hold it or sell it, in accordance with the provisions of the writ previously delivered to him. Such officer, unless an appeal from the judgment be waived, or the judgment has otherwise become final, shall continue to hold such property under attachment or execution, continuing the sale of any property held under execution until such judgment becomes final; provided, however, that if a claim to exemption under Section 690.11 be allowed by such judgment, the debtor shall be entitled to a release of the earnings so exempted at the expiration of three days, unless otherwise ordered by the court or unless the levying officer shall have been served with a copy of a notice of appeal from the judgment.

Service by mail

(11) When any documents required hereunder are served by mail, the provisions of this code relating to service by mail shall be applicable thereto.

Extension
of time

(12) Whenever the time allowed for an act to be done hereunder is extended by the court, written notice thereof shall be given promptly to the opposing party, unless such notice be waived, and to the levying officer.

Appeal

(13) An appeal lies from any judgment under this section; such appeal to be taken in the manner provided for appeals in the court in which the proceeding is had.

CHAPTER 794

An act to amend Section 6007 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to sales and use taxes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6007 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6007. A "retail sale" or "sale at retail" means a sale for any purpose other than resale in the regular course of business in the form of tangible personal property.

The delivery in this State of tangible personal property by an owner or former owner thereof or by a factor, or agent of such owner, former owner or factor, if the delivery is to a consumer or person for redelivery to a consumer, pursuant to a retail sale made by a retailer not engaged in business in this State, is a retail sale in this State by the person making the delivery. He shall include the retail selling price of the property in his gross receipts.

CHAPTER 795

An act to amend Section 6384 of, and to add Section 6007.5 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to sales and use taxes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6384 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6384. Notwithstanding any other provision of law the tax imposed under this part shall apply to the gross receipts from the sale of any tangible personal property to contractors purchasing such property either as the agents of the United States or for their own account and subsequent resale to the United States for use in the performance of contracts with the United States for the construction of improvements on or to real property in this State.

SEC. 2. Section 6007.5 is added to said code, to read:

6007.5. A sale of tangible personal property to a contractor or subcontractor for use in the performance of contracts with the United States for the construction of improvements on or to real property in this State is a retail sale. The gross receipts from such a sale or the sales price of property so sold shall be included in the measure of the taxes imposed by this part.

CHAPTER 796

An act to add Sections 404.1, 404.2, 404.3, and 404.4 to the Vehicle Code, relating to service of process on persons outside of the State in actions arising out of the ownership, operation, or driving of motor vehicles, and the time within which such actions must be commenced.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 404.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

404.1. Service of Process on Resident Accepting Certificate of Ownership or Registration. The acceptance by a resident of this State of a certificate of ownership or a certificate of registration of any motor vehicle or any renewal thereof, issued under the provisions of this code, shall constitute the consent by such person that personal service of summons may be made upon him at any place where he may be found, whether or not he is then a resident of this State, with the same force and effect as though served within this State, in any action brought in the courts of this State upon a cause of action arising in this State out of the ownership or operation of said vehicle.

SEC. 2. Section 404.2 is added to said code, to read:

404.2. Service of Process on Person Accepting or Retaining Operator's or Chauffeur's License. The acceptance by a resident of this State, after the effective date of this section, of an operator's or chauffeur's license issued pursuant to the provisions of this code, shall constitute the consent of such person that personal service of summons may be made upon him at any place where he may be found and whether or not he is then a resident of this State, with the same force and effect as if served within the State in any action brought in the courts of this State upon a cause of action arising in this State out of his driving a motor vehicle upon any public road or highway in this State.

Consent to personal service
Resident's
acceptance of certificate of ownership or registration

Same - Resident's acceptance of driver's license

Retention of driver's license

The retention of an operator's or chauffeur's license issued under the provisions of this code by a resident of this State for more than 180 days after the effective date of this section shall likewise operate as a consent of the licensed holder to the service of summons as hereinbefore provided for as to a person accepting an operator's or chauffeur's license after said effective date.

Manner of service

SEC. 3. Section 404.3 is added to said code, to read:

404.3. Manner of Serving Process; Time to Appear. In the event summons is served outside of this State, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 404.1 and 404.2, it may only be served by a public officer of the state in which service is made, qualified by the laws of that state to serve process, or by an elisor appointed for that purpose by the court out of which the summons is issued. In the event of such service outside the State, the person so served shall have 60 days in which to appear in the action in which the summons is issued.

Time to appear

SEC. 4. Section 404.4 is added to said code, to read:

Statute of
limitation
not tolled

404.4. When Statutes of Limitation Are Not Tolloed. Notwithstanding any provisions of Section 351 of the Code of Civil Procedure to the contrary, when summons may be personally served upon a person as provided in Sections 404.1 and 404.2, the time of his absence from this State is part of the time limited for the commencement of the action described in said sections, except when he is out of this State and cannot be located through the exercise of reasonable diligence; provided, this Section 404.4 in no event shall be applicable in any action or proceeding commenced on or before September 7, 1956.

CHAPTER 797

An act to amend Sections 3212 and 3212.5 of the Labor Code, relating to workmen's compensation.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3212 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

Sheriff's office
members, police and firemen

3212. In the case of members of a sheriff's office or of police or fire departments of cities, counties, cities and counties, districts or other public or municipal corporations or political subdivisions, whether such members are volunteer, partly paid, or fully paid, and in the case of active fire-fighting members of the Division of Forestry of the State Department of Natural Resources whose duties require fire fighting or of any county forestry or fire-fighting department or unit, whether voluntary, fully paid, or partly paid, and in the case of members of the warden service of the Wildlife Protection Branch of the Department of Fish and Game whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service, excepting those whose principal duties are clerical or otherwise do not clearly fall within the scope of active law enforcement service such as stenographer, telephone operators, and other office workers, the term "injury" as used in this act includes hernia when any part of the hernia develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service in such office, division, department or unit, and in the case of members of such fire departments, county forestry or fire-fighting departments, and in the case of active fire-fighting members of the Division of Forestry whose duties require fire fighting, and in the case of members of the warden service of the Wildlife Protection Branch of the Department of Fish and Game whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service, excepting those whose principal duties are clerical or otherwise do not clearly fall within the scope of active law enforcement service such as stenographer, telephone operators, and other office workers, the term "injury" includes pneumonia and heart trouble which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service of such office, department or unit. In the case of regular salaried county or city and county peace officers, the term "injury" also includes any hernia which manifests itself or develops during a period while the officer is in the service. The compensation which is awarded for such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia, shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits, as provided by the workmen's compensation laws of this State.

Hernia

Pneumonia and heart trouble

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the commission is bound to find in accordance with it.

Sec. 2. Section 3212.5 of said code is amended to read:

3212.5. In the case of a member of a police department of a city or municipality, or a member of the State Highway Patrol, when any such member is employed under civil service upon a regular, full-time salary, and in the case of a sheriff or deputy sheriff employed upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury" as used in this division includes heart trouble and pneumonia which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member, sheriff, or deputy sheriff is in the service of the police department, or the State Highway Patrol, or the sheriff's office, as the case may be. The compensation which is awarded for such heart trouble or pneumonia shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

City police, highway patrolmen, sheriffs, etc.Pneumonia
and heart
trouble

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment; provided, however, that the member of the police department or State Highway Patrol or the sheriff or deputy sheriff shall have served five years or more in such capacity before the presumption shall arise as to the compensability of heart trouble so developing or manifesting itself. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the commission is bound to find in accordance with it.

CHAPTER 798

An act to amend Section 18932 of the Government Code, relating to age limits for state civil service examinations.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18932 of the Government Code is amended to read:

18932. The board shall not establish any minimum or maximum age limits for any civil service examination, except in the cases of positions involving public health or safety or having the powers and duties of a peace officer, as defined in Section 817 of the Penal Code, and for trainee positions the board may establish minimum and maximum age limits. The board shall waive such age limits for persons competing in examinations on a promotional basis. The board may refuse to examine or after examination to declare or certify as eligible any one who is within one year of the compulsory retirement age provided by law for the class of positions to which the person seeks appointment.

Any person possessing all the minimum qualifications for any state position is eligible, regardless of his age, to take any civil service examination given for that position, except as provided in this section.

An act to repeal Sections 353, 1003, 1004, 1005, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1813, 1830, 1831, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, 1901, 1943, 1944, 2108, 2154, 2155, 2158, 3122, 3123, 3124, 3125, 3126, 3128, 3130, 3131, 3132, 3133, 3152, 3222, 3637, 4121, 4122, 4123, 4124, 4126, 4127, 4128, 4622, 4623, 4624, and 4625 of, to amend Sections 3121, 3151, 4101, 4102, 4103, 4151, 4621, and 4626 of, to add Sections 1800, 1801, 1804, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, 1829, 1830, 1832, 1844, 1873, 1874, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1911, 1912, 2108, 3122, 3124, 4105, 4107, 4622, 4623, 4624, 4625, and 4948 to, to amend and renumber Sections 1002, 1804, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808, 1809, 1810, 1811, 1812, 1814, 1815, 1816, 1817, 1818, 1819, 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, 1827, 1828, 1829, 1861, 1903, 1921, 1941, 1942, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2156, 2157, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 3127, 3129, and 4125 of, to repeal Article 4 of Chapter 10 of Division 2 of, to repeal Article 5, Chapter 12, Division 2 of, to repeal the article headings of Articles 2, 3, 4 and 5, Chapter 4, Division 2 of, to repeal the chapter heading of Chapter 5.5, Division 2 of, to repeal the article heading of Article 2, Chapter 12, Division 2 of, to amend the chapter heading of Chapter 4, Division 2 of, to amend the article headings of Article 1, Chapter 4, Division 2, Articles 2 and 3, Chapter 10, Division 2, Article 1, Chapter 12, Division 2, Article 3, Chapter 12, Division 2 of, and to add new article headings to Articles 2, 3, and 4 of, Chapter 4, Division 2 of, the Education Code, relating to the Public School System.

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Sections 353, 1003, 1004, 1005, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1813, 1830, 1831, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, 1901, 1943, 1944, 2108, 2154, 2155, 2158, 3122, 3123, 3124, 3125, 3126, 3128, 3130, 3131, 3132, 3133, 3152, 3222, 3637, 4121, 4122, 4123, 4124, 4126, 4127, 4128, 4622, 4623, 4624, and 4625 of the Education Code are hereby repealed. Repeals

SEC. 2. The article headings of Articles 2, 3, 4, and 5 of Chapter 4, Division 2, the article heading of Article 2, Chapter 12, Division 2, and the chapter heading of Chapter 5.5, Division 2, of said code are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. Article 4, Chapter 10, Division 2 and Article 5, Chapter 12, Division 2 are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. The chapter heading of Chapter 4, Division 2 of said code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 4. COMPOSITION, ELECTION AND APPOINTMENT OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICT GOVERNING BOARDS

SEC. 5. The article heading of Article 1, Chapter 4, Division 2 of said code is amended to read:

Article 1. General Provisions

SEC. 6. Section 1800 is added to said code, to read:

1800. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Any elementary school district" means elementary school districts of every kind or class. Definitions

(b) "Joint elementary school district" means an elementary school district situated in more than one county.

(c) "Union elementary school district" means an elementary school district composed of two or more elementary school districts situated in the same county.

(d) "Joint union elementary school district" means an elementary school district composed of two or more elementary school districts situated wholly or in part in different counties.

(e) "Voter" means "registered voter."

Except as provided in any city charter or in Sections 2107, 2108, and 2205, the provisions of this chapter other than Sections 1873 and 1874 shall not apply to any elementary school district governed by a city board of education.

SEC. 7. Section 1801 is added to said code, to read:

Qualifications of board
members

1801. Any person, regardless of sex, who is 21 years of age or older, a citizen of the State, a resident of the school district, a registered voter, and who is not disqualified by the Constitution or laws of the State from holding a civil office, is eligible to be elected or appointed a member of a governing board of an elementary school district.

SEC. 8. Section 1002 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Number of members
Elementary
district

1802. Except as provided in this section or in Section 1803, the governing board of any elementary school district shall be composed of three members selected at large from the territory comprising the district. Whenever, in any elementary school district having a governing board of three members, the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year became 300 or more, the governing board of the district shall do either of the following:

(a) By its own action determine that the number of members of the governing board shall be increased to five, in which case two additional members shall be elected at the next regular governing board member election.

(b) Submit the question of whether the number of members of the governing board shall be increased to five to the voters of the elementary school district at the next regular governing board member election. At the same election two additional members shall be elected to take office if the number of governing board members is increased.

If, pursuant to either subdivision (a) or subdivision (b) of this section, two additional governing board members are authorized and elected, the one receiving the higher number of votes shall hold office for a term of two years from July 1st succeeding the election, and the other one shall hold office for a term of one year from July 1st succeeding the election. Thereafter the governing board shall be composed of five members elected in the same manner and for the same term as provided in this chapter for governing boards having five members.

Ballot

1842. The county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall furnish a uniform ballot for elementary school district governing board member elections and no other form of ballot shall be used.

SEC. 34. Section 1819 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Cost of ballots

1843. The cost of printing and distributing ballots to any elementary school district under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools shall be paid by him from the county school service fund.

SEC. 35. Section 1844 is added to said code, to read:

1844. The candidates shall be placed on a single list on the ballot regardless of how many members are to be elected. When one member of the governing board is to be elected, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected. When two or more members are to be elected, the two or more candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected. Each voter may vote for as many candidates as there are members to be elected. The ballot shall contain instructions stating the maximum number of candidates for whom each voter may vote.

Listing of candidates

In an election held under Section 1802 to elect additional governing board members, the candidates for the new offices shall be listed separately from the candidates for the existing office and shall be voted for separately.

When an election to recall a governing board member is held on the third Friday in May, the candidates for the office to succeed the incumbent if he is recalled shall be listed separately from the candidates to succeed governing board members whose recall is not sought.

SEC. 36. Section 1820 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1845. The form of the ballot shall be as follows:

Form of
ballot

“Official ballot provided by the superintendent of schools to be used in the governing board member election on May _____, 19____, in _____ District in the County of _____.”

The name of the county and elementary school district and the date of the election shall be printed or typewritten in as part of the official ballot.

Following the above there shall be listed the names of any incumbent governing board members who are candidates, followed by the names of the other candidates. The names in each group shall be listed alphabetically. The name of each candidate shall be printed or typewritten on the ballot with a blank square after each name in which the voter may place his cross (+). Following the list of candidates, the ballot shall provide at least as many blank lines, with blank squares following, as there are members to be elected.

SEC. 37. Section 1825 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1846. The county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall furnish for any elementary school district governing board member election, in addition to the official ballots, an official roster of voters and tally lists. The heading of the roster of voters shall read: “Official roster of voters of _____ School District for the school election held on the _____ day of May, 19____.” Under this heading shall be arranged two columns. The first column shall have printed

voters and tally list

as its heading: "Write your name as it appears on the great register." The second column shall have printed as its heading: "Write your residence, street and number." Any person offering to vote at the school election shall write his name in the first column of the roster of voters, and his residence in the second column.

SEC. 38. Section 1826 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Form of
tally list

1847. The tally list shall have printed as its heading: "An official tally list of _____ School District for the school election held on the _____ day of May, 19____." It shall be arranged in lines so as to give room for at least five candidates and shall be vertically ruled, providing for counting the votes under a tally system. The final column shall have as its heading: "Total votes cast for each candidate." At the bottom of the page shall be provided a space for the signatures of the election officers and over these signatures shall be printed the words: "We hereby certify that this is a correct report of the election held in _____ School District on _____ of May, 19____."

SEC. 39. Section 1828 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Envelope

1848. The county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall furnish, in addition to the ballots and roster of voters and tally list, an envelope on which shall be printed his name and address, and in the lower left-hand corner the words: "Returns of election held in _____ School District, _____ County, on May _____, 19____."

SEC. 40. Section 1821 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Method of voting

1849. In casting his vote the voter shall stamp or write a cross (+) in the square space immediately following the name of the candidate or candidates of his choice. If the voter desires to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, he shall himself write the name of the person in the space provided for that purpose on the ballot. When the voter writes the name of a person on the ballot he may, but need not, place a cross (+) after the name. After properly marking his ballot the voter shall hand it to the inspector who shall, in the presence of the voter, deposit the ballot in the ballot box.

SEC. 41. Section 1822 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Secret
ballot

1850. The governing board shall provide a private booth or room in which the voter may prepare his ballot.

SEC. 42. Section 1823 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Election-
eering

1851. No electioneering shall be carried on within any building in which the polls are located or within 100 feet of any entrance to the building.

SEC. 43. Section 1814 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1852. Any voter desiring to vote at the election shall write his name and address, or if he is unable to write, shall have his name and address written for him, on a roster of voters provided for that purpose. He shall announce his name and address to one of the election officers, who shall in an audible tone of voice repeat the name and address. If another election officer finds the name on the printed index, and it has not been canceled, he shall in like manner repeat the name and address and deliver to the voter a ballot which he shall be allowed to vote. Method of voting

The election clerk having in charge the copy of the index to the register or affidavits of registration shall, in like manner, repeat the name and shall write in the ruled space opposite the name, in figures, the line number designating the position of the name of the voter on the roster.

SEC. 44. Section 1824 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1853. Any person offering to vote may be challenged by any person entitled to vote in the election. The judges of the election shall thereupon administer to the person challenged an oath, in substance as follows: "You do swear (or affirm) that you are a citizen of the United States, that you are 21 years of age, that you have resided in this State one year, in this county 90 days, and in this school district 54 days preceding this election, that you reside in this school district precinct, and that your name is on the great register of this county, and was on the great register of a general election precinct wholly or partially within this school district at least 54 days before this election, and that you have not before voted this day." If he takes the oath prescribed in this section, his vote shall be received, otherwise his vote shall be rejected. Challenge and oath

SEC. 45. Section 1827 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1854. In any elementary school district governing board member election, the election officials shall publicly canvass the votes immediately after closing the polls, fill out the tally sheet, and certify to the correctness of the canvass made. Canvass by election officers

SEC. 46. Section 1829 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1855. The election officials shall fill in the blanks on the envelopes provided by the county superintendent of schools and shall enclose and seal in the envelopes the roster of voters and tally list and ballots cast at the election. The inspector of the election shall take possession of the returns. They shall be delivered forthwith to the clerk of the elementary school district. The clerk shall sign a receipt for the returns. At the time and place fixed in the notice of the election the governing board of the district shall meet, publicly canvass the returns, and issue certificates of election to the person or persons elected. Duplicate certificates of election shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district. Canvass by governing board Immediately following its canvass of the returns, the governing board shall forward the returns to the county superintendent having jurisdiction over the district. The county superintendent shall keep the returns on file for one year.

SEC. 47. Section 1921 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Election or appointment in suspended
district

1856. Governing board members shall be elected or appointed in a suspended district at the same time and in the same manner as if it were not suspended.

SEC. 48. A new article heading, Article 3, is added to Chapter 4, Division 2 of said code, immediately preceding Section 1871, to read:

Article 3. Vacancies and Resignations on Elementary School District Governing Boards

SEC. 49. Section 1941 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Causes of vacancy

1871. Vacancies on elementary school district governing boards are caused by any of the events specified in Section 1770 of the Government Code, or by a failure to elect. A vacancy resulting from resignation occurs when the written resignation is filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district.

SEC. 50. Section 1942 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Appointment
to fill vacancy

1872. When such a vacancy occurs the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall appoint an eligible person to hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

SEC. 51. Section 1873 is added to said code, to read:

Vacancies in all offices of board

1873. If for any reason vacancies should occur in all of the offices on any elementary school district governing board, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall have all the powers and perform all the duties of the governing board until one or more members are appointed and qualified.

SEC. 52. Section 1874 is added to said code, to read:

Powers and duties of remaining members

1874. Whenever any of the offices on any elementary school district governing board is vacant, the remaining governing board member or members, if any, and any governing board member or members appointed to fill the vacancies or elected, who have qualified, shall have all the powers and perform all the duties of the governing board.

SEC. 53. A new article heading, Article 4, is added to Chapter 4 of Division 2 of said code, immediately succeeding Section 1874, to read:

Article 4. Recall of Elementary School District Governing Board Members

SEC. 54. Section 2151 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1891. Any elected or appointed member of any elective elementary school district governing board may be recalled pursuant to this article.

Recall of member of elective governing board

SEC. 55. Section 2152 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1892. A petition demanding the recall of any governing board member shall be filed for verification of signatures with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district. If more than one governing board member is sought to be recalled, separate petitions shall be filed for each member sought to be recalled.

Petition

Before any signatures are obtained to a recall petition, a copy of the text of the petition shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction, and the recall proceedings shall be deemed to be pending from the date of such filing.

SEC. 56. Section 1893 is added to said code, to read:

1893. No recall petition shall be circulated or filed for verification of signatures against any governing board member until he has held his office for at least six months.

Member in office for six months

SEC. 57. Section 1894 is added to said code, to read:

1894. The recall petition shall not be circulated by any person other than a registered voter of the district.

Circulation by registered voter

SEC. 58. Section 1895 is added to said code, to read:

1895. The recall petition shall contain a statement of not more than 200 words of the grounds on which the recall is sought, for the information of the voters. Any insufficiency of form or substance in this statement shall not affect the validity of the election and proceedings held thereunder.

Statement of grounds for recall

SEC. 59. Section 1896 is added to said code, to read:

1896. The recall petition shall be signed by registered voters equal in number to at least 20 percent of the registered voters of the district as of the time of filing the petition for verification of signatures.

Number of signatures required

SEC. 60. Section 2153 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1897. The signatures to the recall petition need not all be appended to one paper. If the district is situated in more than one county, each paper of the recall petition shall designate one of the counties and, of the signatures appended to such paper, only the signatures of the voters of the county designated shall be valid. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving street and number. If no street or number exists, then a designation of the place of residence shall be given which will enable the location to be readily ascertained.

Signatures, addresses, etc., on separate papers

The date on which each signature was placed on the petition shall be indicated thereon either by the signer or by the person circulating the petition.

SEC. 61. Section 1898 is added to said code, to read:

1898. Each separate paper of each recall petition shall have attached to it an affidavit. The affidavit shall state that the affiant is a registered voter of the district; that the affiant circulated that particular paper and saw each signer write his signature and residence thereon; and that according to the best information and belief of the affiant:

Affidavit of circulator

(a) Each is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

(b) Each signer is a registered voter of the district.

(c) Each signature was obtained on the date indicated on the petition.

SEC. 62. Section 1899 is added to said code, to read:

Verification 1899. No petition shall be valid for the purpose for which it was circulated unless it shall be filed for verification of signatures within six months after the date on which a copy of the text of the petition was filed.

SEC. 63. Section 1900 is added to said code, to read:

Method of verification 1900. The signatures to the recall petition shall be verified as follows:

(a) If the school district is situated wholly in one county, the county superintendent of schools shall send the petition to the county clerk immediately upon the filing of the petition for verification of signatures. The county clerk shall examine the signatures and from the records of registration ascertain whether or not the petition is signed by the requisite number of registered voters. Within 10 days after the county clerk receives the petition, he shall attach to it his certificate showing the results of his examination and shall return the petition to the county superintendent.

(b) If the school district is situated in more than one county, the county superintendent shall, immediately upon the filing of the petition for verification of signatures, send each separate paper constituting the recall petition to the county clerk of the county designated on each paper. Each county clerk shall examine the signatures and from the records of registration ascertain the number of signatures of registered voters in the portion of the district lying in his county. The county clerk shall attach to the papers his certificate showing the results of his examination and also showing the total number of registered voters in the portion of the district lying in his county. Within 10 days after each county clerk receives the papers he shall return them to the county superintendent.

SEC. 64. Section 1901 is added to said code, to read:

Supplemental petition 1901. If the number of signatures is not sufficient, a supplemental petition, in form a duplicate of the original petition, but bearing additional signatures, may be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction within 10 days from the date on which the county superintendent received the last of the county clerks' certificates. In the manner provided in Section 1900, the county superintendent shall send the supplemental petition to the county clerks of the counties in which the district is situated, and the county clerks shall examine, certify, and return the supplemental petition to the county superintendent. If the signatures to the petition are still insufficient, no action shall be taken thereon. The petition shall remain on file as a public record, and the failure to secure sufficient signatures shall not prejudice the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same effect.

SEC. 65. Section 2156 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1902. In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 34333 is added to the Government Code, to read:

34333. Whenever a city has been incorporated from territory formerly unincorporated, the board of supervisors shall continue to furnish, without additional charge, to the area incorporated all services furnished to the area prior to the incorporation. Such services shall be furnished for the remainder of the fiscal year during which the incorporation became effective or until the legislative body of the city requests discontinuance of the services, whichever first occurs.

CHAPTER 802

An act to amend Section 1038 of the Agricultural Code, relating to agricultural mineral sales.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1038 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1038. Upon any sale not exempt from the provisions of this article, of commercial fertilizer, the registered person selling the same shall pay fifteen cents ($0.15) per ton or fraction thereof, and upon such a sale of agricultural minerals, ten cents ($0.10) per ton or fraction thereof, except that during the period from October 1, 1955, until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature the amount shall be three cents ($0.03) per ton or fraction thereof, except where the agricultural mineral is sold to be used and is used in the manufacture of commercial fertilizer. A commercial fertilizers registrant selling agricultural minerals to an unregistered person in the original and properly labeled lots or packages of an agricultural minerals registrant shall pay thereon the agricultural minerals tonnage tax required by this section. Each registered person shall keep accurate accounts of sales of commercial fertilizers and/or agricultural minerals, and such accounts shall be open at all times to inspection by the director. A statement of sales shall be rendered to the director quarterly within one calendar month after March 31st, June 30th, September 30th, and December 31st, of each year, and shall be accompanied by the amount of tonnage license tax required by this section. Any delinquency in making a statement and return, or any deficiency in any return, shall subject the registrant to the payment of a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount due.

On receipt of the tonnage license tax and statement, the director shall issue to the registered seller a certificate of compliance with this section.

Whenever a registered person shall have paid the tonnage license tax herein required, any person acting as his selling agent shall not be required to pay the tonnage license tax.

CHAPTER 803

An act to amend Sections 1269b and 1295 of the Penal Code and Section 72301 of the Government Code, relating to admission to bail in municipal courts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1269b of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1269b. In a municipal court, the clerk of the court shall, in the absence of a judge of said court, have authority to accept bail for the appearance before said court of any defendant charged in such court with a misdemeanor; provided, however, that whenever a defendant has been arrested and booked for having committed a misdemeanor and is held in custody in a county jail or a city jail, the clerk of the municipal court in the judicial district wherein the defendant was arrested and booked may, prior to the filing of a formal complaint, accept bail for the appearance before said court; provided, however, the amount thereof, in either event, shall be in accordance with a schedule of bail previously fixed and approved by the judges of said court unless a warrant shall have been issued for the arrest of the defendant, in which case the bail shall be in the amount fixed in the warrant; and provided also, the bail shall be cash or a surety bond executed by a certified, admitted surety insurer as provided in the Insurance Code of the State of California.

Misdemeanor: Authority of clerk to accept bail

The authority to accept bail as in this section provided shall include authority to approve the same, to issue and sign an order for the release of the defendant, and to set a time and place for the appearance of the defendant before the appropriate division or judge of such court and give the defendant notice thereof.

SEC. 2. Section 1295 of the Penal Code is amended to read :

Deposit of cash in lieu of bail

1295. The defendant, or any other person, at any time after an order admitting defendant to bail or after the arrest and booking of a defendant for having committed a misdemeanor, instead of giving bail may deposit with the clerk of the court in which defendant is held to answer or notified to appear for arraignment, the sum mentioned in the order, or if no order, in accordance with the schedule of bail previously fixed by the judges of said court, and upon delivering to the officer in whose custody defendant is, a certificate of the deposit, defendant must be discharged from custody.

Whenever the defendant has been arrested and booked for having committed a misdemeanor for which the amount of bail has been fixed in a schedule of bail by the judges of the court having jurisdiction, or the amount of bail is endorsed on the warrant of arrest and does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), the defendant, or any other person, may deposit with the officer in charge of the jail wherein the defendant is detained, cash in the amount of the bail so fixed. Upon such deposit being made the defendant shall be notified of the time and place to appear for arraignment and discharged from custody. The money so deposited shall be transmitted to the judge or clerk of the court wherein the defendant is notified to appear for arraignment, or by which the warrant was issued, not later than the next business day.

SEC. 3. Section 72301 of the Government Code is amended to read :

Clerk's schedule
of bail

72301. The clerk of the court or one or more deputy clerks shall be in attendance at the department at all hours of the day and night, including Sundays and holidays, and may fix and accept bail for the appearance before the court of any defendant charged in the court with an offense of which the court has jurisdiction or whenever a defendant has been arrested and booked within the territorial limits of said judicial district for having committed a misdemeanor. The amount of bail shall be pursuant to a schedule of bail in such cases previously fixed and approved by the judges of the court at their annual meeting. If a warrant has been issued for the arrest of the defendant, the bail shall be in the amount fixed in the warrant. The bail shall be cash, negotiable United States Treasury bonds, or a surety bond executed by a certified, admitted surety insurer as provided in the Insurance Code.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are :

Sections 1269b of the Penal Code and 72301 of the Government Code grant authority to clerks of municipal courts to accept bail from persons "charged" with misdemeanors in such courts. It has been the practice to admit most misdemeanants to bail within a few hours after arrest and before the filing of a complaint. However, the Los Angeles County Counsel has recently advised, and the interpretation appears correct, that because these sections are applicable only if the defendant has been "charged," these sections do not grant authority to admit to bail until after a complaint has been filed.

As so interpreted these sections would impose a staggering burden on our already overcrowded jails. In the City of Los Angeles alone there were 148,662 misdemeanor arrests last year. This bill would relieve this situation by making it clear that a misdemeanant can be admitted to bail at any time after arrest and booking. This bill would also make it clear that a person may deposit cash in lieu of bail after arrest and booking for commission of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 804

An act to add Section 1238.4 to the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to eminent domain.

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1238.4 is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1238.4. Subject to the provisions of this title, the right of eminent domain may be exercised in behalf of the following public uses:

Public Assembly Facilities. Public buildings and grounds for convention and exhibition halls, trade and industrial centers, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls and centers, and related facilities for public assembly including off-street motor vehicle parking places and property necessary or convenient for ingress thereto or egress therefrom.

CHAPTER 805

An act to add Section 25351.3 to the Government Code, relating to the powers and duties of boards of supervisors.

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 27, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25351.3 is hereby added to the Government Code, to read:

25351.3. In addition to its other powers and duties the board may acquire land for and construct, lease, sublease, build, furnish, refurnish or repair buildings for convention and exhibition halls, trade and industrial centers, auditoriums, opera houses, music halls and centers, and related facilities as places of public assembly for the use, benefit and enjoyment of the public, including off-street parking places for motor vehicles, ways of ingress and egress and such other facilities and improvements as are necessary or convenient for their use.

The board may acquire land and construct such buildings, structures and facilities thereon in whole or in part, with county funds or it may, by contract or lease with any non-profit association or corporation, provide for the acquisition of land or the construction of such buildings, structures and facilities for such public purposes, upon such terms as the board may determine.

The board may without advertising for bids therefor also enter into a lease or contract with any nonprofit association or corporation for the maintenance, operation and management of such buildings, structures and facilities or any part thereof, including the scheduling and promotion of events therefor, for a specified term or terms. Such contracts shall provide that all revenue from such operation and use of such facilities, after payment of current expenses, taxes, loan payments and other current charges and expenses shall be applied to the cost of the improvement and thereafter shall be paid to the county.

CHAPTER 806

An act to amend Sections 54433 and 54434 of the Government Code and to add Section 20004 to the Water Code, relating to investigation and certification of revenue bonds by the California Districts Securities Commission.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State May 28, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 54433 of the Government Code is amended to read:

54433. Whenever the legislative body declares by resolution that it deems it desirable that the bonds should be certified as provided in this section and in Section 54434, the legislative body shall file a certified copy of the resolution with the California Districts Securities Commission and the bonds shall then be subject to investigation and certification by the California Districts Securities Commission pursuant to the Districts Securities Commission Law.

SEC. 2. Section 54434 of the Government Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

54434. If in the opinion of the commission, the bonds are adequately secured and the revenues of the enterprise and the other funds applicable to the payment of the bonds are, or upon the acquisition, construction, or improvement of the enterprise will be, sufficient to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds, the commission shall certify that the bonds are eligible as legal investments for public and private funds and as security for the deposit of public funds in banks in the State pursuant to the Districts Securities Commission Law and pursuant to Section 54433 and this section.

SEC. 3. Section 20004 is added to the Water Code, to read:

20004. Whenever a public body requests certification of district bonds for a project, the primary purpose of which project is not irrigation, reclamation, or drainage of land, the commission shall determine whether all or part of the provisions of this chapter shall apply to such public body and such bonds and the provisions so determined applicable shall apply, but in no event shall the commission certify any such bonds unless the commission completes an investigation to the extent necessary to protect the public interest.

CHAPTER 807

An act to amend Section 1200 of, and to add Section 1200.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to clinics and dispensaries.

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State May 28, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1200 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1200. No person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, or political subdivision of the State, or other governmental agency within the State shall operate, establish, manage, conduct or maintain a clinic or hold out, represent, or advertise by any means, the operation of a clinic in this State, without first obtaining a license therefor as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 1200.5 is hereby added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1200.5. This chapter does not apply to, and no license is required by, a place or establishment wholly owned and operated by one or more licensed physicians and surgeons or one or more licensed dentists or one or more licensed chiropodists, and used as the office for the practice of medicine and surgery or dentistry or chiropody, as the case may be, of such owners, regardless of the name used publicly to identify such place or establishment.

CHAPTER 808

An act to add Sections 717.1, 748, 1015.4 and 1015.6 to, and to amend Sections 1015.5 and 1065 of, the Fish and Game Code, and to repeal Section 1015.1 of the Fish and Game Code and Section 2 of Chapter 1276 of the Statutes of 1947, relating to commercial fishing and the Marine Research Committee, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor May 31, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 1, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 717.1 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

Yellowtail

717.1. During each of the 12-month periods beginning with July 1, 1955, and July 1, 1956, the total amount of yellowtail which may be taken or received for commercial canning purposes shall be not more than 3,000 tons in the round.

Public announcement of landing trends

From time to time the department shall make public announcement of the landing trends in order that all interested groups may be informed. The department shall estimate from the current trend of landings the prospective date on which the season's quota will be reached and shall recommend that date to the commission as the closing date of the season for yellowtail canning.

Closing
date of season

The department shall inform the commission and publicly announce the date when the season should be closed, and on that date the commission shall close the season; provided, however, that if the quota is not reached by the date announced, the department is hereby authorized to permit continuation of fishing for a period not to exceed 10 days or until the quota is reached, whichever occurs first.

No person shall take or receive yellowtail for canning between said announced date and the next following first day of July. In the absence of any announcement that the total will be reached before the end of the 12-month period, yellowtail canning may continue until the end of the 12-month period specified herein.

In the event that cannery receipts should exceed the quota specified between the time the announcement is made and the effective date for closure, no penalty shall accrue.

Canning for personal use

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the canning of yellowtail for the personal use of the fishermen; provided, that no such canned yellowtail may be sold. Yellowtail for personal noncommercial canning is not included in the total tonnage specified herein.

Regulations

The commission is hereby authorized to adopt regulations pursuant to the provisions of this section to govern the termination of the yellowtail canning season.

SEC. 2. Section 748 is added to said code, to read:

Anchovies

748. During the period from September 1, 1955, to March 31, 1956, the total amount of anchovies which may be taken or received for canning, including canned pet food, shall be not more than 21,000 tons. During the period from April 1, 1956, to March 31, 1957, the total amount of anchovies which may be taken or received for canning, including canned pet food, shall be not more than 35,000 tons.

From time to time the department shall make public announcement of the landing trends in order that all interested groups may be informed. The department shall estimate from the current trend of landings the prospective date on which the season's quota will be reached, and shall recommend that date to the commission as the closing date of the season for anchovy canning.

Public announcement of landing trends

The department shall inform the commission and publicly announce the date when the season should be closed, and on that date the commission shall close the season; provided, however, that if the quota is not reached by the date announced the department is hereby authorized to permit continuation of fishing for a period not to exceed 10 days or until the quota is reached, whichever occurs first.

Closing date of season

No person shall take or receive anchovies for canning between said announced date and the next following first day of April. In the absence of any announcement that the total will be reached before the end of the season specified herein, anchovy canning may continue until the end of the season specified.

In the event that cannery receipts should exceed the quota specified between the time the announcement is made and the effective date for closure, no penalty shall accrue.

No anchovies less than five inches in length measured from tip of snout to tip of tail may be purchased for any purpose except for use as bait; provided, that the allowable percentage of undersized anchovies which may be contained in any load or lot purchased shall be not more than 25 percent by weight of all anchovies in said load or lot.

Size

The commission is hereby authorized to adopt regulations pursuant to the provisions of this section to govern the termination of the anchovy canning season and the manner in which the percentage of undersized anchovies will be determined.

SEC. 3. Section 1015.4 is added to said code, to read:

1015.4. There is in the department the Marine Research Committee consisting of nine members. Five of such members shall be men experienced in, and actively engaged in, the canning or reduction of sardines at the time of their appointment. Of the other four members, at least one shall be a representative of organized sportsmen's groups and at least one shall be a representative of organized labor. All members shall be appointed by the Governor, and shall hold office for two years or until their successors are appointed. The members of the committee shall serve without compensation. They shall be reimbursed from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund for their actual and necessary expenses.

Marine Research Committee

SEC. 4. Section 1015.5 of said code is amended to read:
Privilege tax 1015.5. Every person operating under a license as provided in this article shall, in addition to the license fee and to the tax provided in Section 1015, pay a privilege tax of five cents ($0.05) for each hundred pounds or fraction thereof of sardines, Pacific mackerel, jack mackerel, squid, herring, and anchovies purchased, received or taken by him from the effective date of this act until December '31, 1957.

Said privilege tax shall be paid to the department at the same time and in the same manner as other privilege taxes provided in this article. The money received shall be deposited in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund.

Support of Money so deposited in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund shall be available for the support of the Marine Research Committee and the money shall be disbursed at the direction of a majority of the Marine Research Committee for the purpose of committee expenses and financing research in the development of commercial fisheries of the Pacific Ocean and of marine products susceptible to being made available to the people of California. No research project shall be authorized except by a majority of the committee. The committee may employ such technical and clerical assistants as may be necessary to carry out such research and may contract with any person or agency, public or private, including the Regents of the University of California, for the carrying on of such research projects.

SEC. 5. Section 1015.6 is added to the said code, to read:
Surplus 1015.6. All of the surplus composed of $2\frac{1}{2}$ percent of the privilege tax money collected and deposited and which remains in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund under Section 1015.5, except such sum as may be withdrawn to cover departmental services rendered to the committee, shall be made available to the Marine Research Committee upon the effective date of this section.

Committee The committee shall pay the department for accounting and to pay for other services rendered to the committee by the department. services rendered The fiscal year cost of such services shall not be in excess of 2 percent of the money so collected each fiscal year under Section 1015.5.

SEC. 6. Section 1065 of said code is amended to read:
Sardines 1065. Sardines may be taken for use in a reduction plant, or by a packer, only in accordance with the provisions of this article, as follows: in Districts 4, $4\frac{3}{4}$ and those portions of Districts $3\frac{1}{2}$ and 18 lying south of a line running east and west through Point Arguello, 19, 20A and 21, between October 1st and February 1st, inclusive; elsewhere in the State, except in Districts 19A and 20, between August 1st and January 15th. Sardines may be taken at any time on or after but not prior to June 1, 1957, for the purpose of salting, curing, smoking or drying, or for the purpose of packing in cans commonly known as quarter-pound or square cans less than 10 ounces in net weight; provided, that in a 10-ounce can, fish of a size not less than eight fish to the can may be used. Sardines may be packed in their own natural oil.

SEC. 7. Section 2 of Chapter 1276 of the Statutes of 1947 ^{Repeal} is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 1015.1 of the Fish and Game Code is re- ^{Repeal} pealed.

SEC. 9. Section 8 of this act becomes operative only if ^{Effect} Assembly Bill No. 490 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1955 ^{Stats. 1955,} Regular Session and in such case at the same time as said bill ^{Ch. 77} takes effect.

SEC. 10. Sections 3, 7, 8, and 9 of this act shall become ^{Effective} effective on the ninety-first day following adjournment of this ^{date} session of the Legislature.

SEC. 11. Sections 1, 2, 4, 5, and 6 of this act constitute an ^{Urgency} urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and said sections shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The anchovy, sardine and yellowtail fisheries are among the most important of the State's fishery industries, contributing greatly to the wealth and prosperity of the people, providing valuable food and by-products, and recreational fishing. Indications are that these fish have or may become scarce, causing distress to the industry. Maintenance of these fisheries at a high level of productivity is essential to the well-being of the State's industry, including recreational fishing. In order to provide for the regulation of the 1955 fisheries during the summer, and for the continuation of the tax provisions of Section 1015.5 of the Fish and Game Code, it will be necessary for this act to be in effect on June 1, 1955.

CHAPTER 809

An act to add Section 618.5 to the Vehicle Code, relating to parking lights.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 618.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

618.5. Parking Lights. No vehicle shall be driven upon a highway at any time with the parking lights lighted except when the lights are being used as signal lamps in accordance with Section 637 hereof, and except when the headlamps are also lighted at the same time. Parking lights are those lights permitted by Section 635 hereof, and any other lights mounted on the front of a vehicle, designed to be displayed primarily when the vehicle is parked.

CHAPTER 810

An act to amend Section 525.1 of the Vehicle Code, relating to driving upon highways in the right hand lane.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 525.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

525.1. Driving in Right Hand Lane. Notwithstanding the prima facie speed limits, upon all highways any vehicle proceeding in a direction at less than the normal speed of traffic in such direction at such time shall be driven in the right hand lane for traffic or as close as practicable to the right hand edge or curb, except when overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction or when preparing for a left turn at an intersection or into a private road or driveway.

CHAPTER 811

An act to amend Section 650 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to commission salesmen.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 650 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

650. "Employment" does not include services performed as a real estate, business opportunity, mineral, oil and gas, or cemetery broker or salesman by an individual who is licensed in one of such classes by the State and who is remunerated solely by way of commission.

CHAPTER 812

An act to amend Sections 1552.4 and 1552.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the location and prosecution of parents of needy children.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1552.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1552.4. The board of supervisors shall immediately notify the district attorney of the county whenever aid is granted to a child who is not being supported by a parent unless it is definately established that the parent is financially incapable of providing such support.

The county welfare department shall cooperate with the district attorney or the city prosecutor of any city to whom the duty of prosecuting such parent has been delegated and shall report to him all information contained in the case record which concerns the question of nonsupport and the suitability of prosecution as a method of obtaining support for the child in each case.

The district attorney shall immediately investigate the question of nonsupport and shall take all steps necessary to obtain support for the needy child. The district attorney shall report regularly to the board of supervisors on the progress of his efforts.

SEC. 2. Section 1552.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1552.6. All state, county, and local agencies shall cooperate in the location of parents who have abandoned or deserted children receiving public assistance under Division 2 of Part 2 of the code, and shall on request supply the county welfare department, the district attorney of any county in this State, or the city prosecutor of any city to whom the duty of prosecuting such absent parents has been delegated, with all information on hand relative to the location, income, and property of such absent parents, notwithstanding any other provision of law making such information confidential. The county welfare department shall use such information only for the purposes of administration of aid to needy children, and the district attorney or city prosecutor shall use it only for the purpose of enforcing the support liability of such absent parents, and neither shall use the information, or disclose it, for any other purpose.

An act to add Section 2842.5 to the Elections Code, relating to loyalty oaths.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2842.5 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

2842.5. Each member of a county central committee shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the oath or affirmation set forth in Section 3 of Article XX of the Constitution of California.

The oath or affirmation required by this section may be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and no fee shall be charged by any person before whom the oath is taken or subscribed.

CHAPTER 814

An act to amend Sections 7000.1, 7000.3, and 7190 of, and to add Section 7191 to, the Education Code, relating to correcting apportionments.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7000.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Substitute for assessed valuation

7000.1. Whenever in any section of this chapter any computation is required to be made which is based in whole or in part on the assessed valuation of a school district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district for the preceding year or preceding fiscal year, there shall be substituted for such assessed valuation, as to such computation, a sum determined by adding to such assessed valuation an amount which would, if the current tax rate, as defined in Section 7000.2, of such district were levied on such added amount, produce or will produce 40 percent of the equivalent of all federal funds as federal funds are defined in Section 7000.3 and 75 percent of the equivalent of all miscellaneous funds as miscellaneous funds are defined in Section 7000.4, received or to be received by such district for the fiscal year for which such added amount was determined.

Should the amount of federal funds as defined in Section 7000.3 actually received by a school district for any fiscal year be more or less than that reported for such district by the United States Commissioner of Education to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall during the fiscal year next succeeding that in which the district has received all of the federal funds actually paid the district for the first mentioned fiscal year withhold from or add to the apportionment made to the district from the State School Fund the amount of the excess or deficiency, as the case may be, in the apportionment of State Equalization Aid from the State School Fund for the preceding year, if the amount of the excess or deficiency in such apportionment was one hundred dollars ($100) or more.

SEC. 2. Section 7000.3 of said code is amended to read:

"Federal
funds"

7000.3. "Federal funds" as used in Section 7000.1 means: The amount the United States Commissioner of Education has determined and reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the district has received or will receive for a fiscal year under Section 3, exclusive of increases in local contribution rates made because of unusual geographic factors, and under subsection (c) of Section 5, of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide financial assistance for local educational agencies in areas affected by federal activities, and for other purposes," approved September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874—Eighty-first Congress), or under any similar provisions of any other act of Congress.

SEC. 3. Section 7190 of said code is amended to read:

7190. If during any fiscal year there is apportioned to a school district or to any fund from the State School Fund at least one hundred dollars ($100) more or at least one hundred dollars ($100) less than the amount to which the district or fund was entitled, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in accordance with regulations that he is herewith authorized to adopt not later than the third succeeding fiscal year shall withhold from, or add to, the apportionment made during such fiscal year, the amount of such excess or deficiency, as the case may be. Notwithstanding, any other provision of this code to the contrary, excesses withheld or deficiencies added by the Superintendent of Public Instruction under this Section or Section 7000.1 shall be added to or allowed from any portion of the State School Fund except that portion reserved as allowances for Basic State Aid.

SEC. 4. Section 7191 is added to said code, to read:

7191. When any judgment has been rendered which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of more than the amount actually apportioned thereto during such fiscal year, the difference shall be apportioned to the district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final before any other apportionment from the State School Fund is made. Upon the becoming final of any judgment which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of less than the amount actually apportioned thereto during any fiscal year, the difference shall be deducted from the apportionment made to such district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final.

CHAPTER 815

An act to amend Section 13004 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to the use of fire extinguishers.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13004 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13004. Every person is guilty of a misdemeanor who harvests grain or causes it to be harvested by means of a combined harvester, header, or stationary threshing machine, or who bales hay by means of a hay press, unless he keeps at all times in convenient places upon each machine or press, two suitable chemical fire extinguishers, each of a capacity of not less than two and one-half gallons and fully equipped and ready for immediate use, or two back-pack or pump-type water extinguishers of not less than four-gallon capacity, fully equipped, filled with water and ready for immediate use.

CHAPTER 816

An act to amend Section 4151 of the Public Resources Code, relating to fire permits.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4151 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

4151. No person shall set fire or cause fire to be set to any forest, brush, or other inflammable vegetation growing on lands not his own, without the permission of the owner, lessee, or agent of such land, nor shall any person set fire or cause fire to be set to any such vegetation at any time between April 15th and December 1st of any year without first obtaining a written permit from the owner, lessee, or agent thereof and the State Forester or his duly authorized agent.

CHAPTER 817

An act to amend Section 6048 of the Insurance Code, relating to county mutual insurers.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6048 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

6048. Except as provided in Section 6041 such insurer shall insure only property within the limits of the county wherein it is organized, or in a county next adjoining the county of organization. In the event that no such insurer may, under the provisions of the preceding sentence, insure property in a county contiguous to the said next adjoining county, then such insurer may also insure property in the said contiguous county.

CHAPTER 818

An act to amend Section 2672 of the Elections Code, relating to the disposition of filing fees of candidates.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2672 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2672. A filing fee of ten dollars ($10) shall be paid to the county clerk for filing a declaration of candidacy for an office to be voted for wholly within one county with the following exceptions:

(a) No filing fee is required from any person to be voted for at the presidential primary.

(b) No filing fee is required from any candidate for an office to the holder of which no fixed compensation is payable.

(c) No filing fee is required for offices the compensation to the holder of which does not exceed the sum of six hundred dollars ($600) per annum.

(d) A filing fee of 1 percent of the annual salary of the office shall be paid to the county clerk by each candidate for a judicial office.

(e) The filing fee to be paid to the county clerk by each candidate for a county office other than a judicial office shall be the same percentage of the annual salary of the office as that provided for in subdivision (a) of Section 2671 of this code; provided, that this subdivision (e) shall not apply to any candidate for any such office which has an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or less.

CHAPTER 819

An act to add Section 139.261 to the Vehicle Code, relating to rules and regulations of the California Highway Patrol.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 139.261 is added to the Vehicle Code to follow Section 139.26, to read:

139.261. Every regulation adopted pursuant to Section 139.26 shall be adopted, amended, or repealed in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act.

CHAPTER 820

An act to add Section 1714.1 to the Civil Code, relating to liability of parents for torts of minors.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1714.1 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1714.1. Any act of wilful misconduct of a minor which results in any injury to the property of another shall be imputed to the parents having custody or control of the minor for all purposes of civil damages, and such parents having custody or control shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damages resulting from such wilful misconduct.

The joint and several liability of one or both parents having custody or control of a minor under this section shall not exceed three hundred dollars ($300) for each tort of the minor. The liability imposed by this section is in addition to any liability now imposed by law.

CHAPTER 821

An act to amend Section 818 of the Agricultural Code, relating to potato standards.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 818 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Standards

818. Potatoes shall be free from mold, decay, soft and wet rots, black heart and live insect larvae which have penetrated the flesh; and free from serious damage due to hollow heart, insect injury, freezing, sun scald, dry rots, scab, growth cracks, sunburn, greening, second growth, cuts, bruises, grass roots, nematodes, net necrosis or other internal discoloration, or other causes.

Damage to any one potato is not serious when it is caused by:

(a) Hollow heart unless the cracks or cavities, singly or in combination, are greater in length or width than one-third of the diameter of the tuber measured at the widest portion of the cross section, at a right angle to a straight line drawn from the stem end to the distal end thereof.

(b) Greening unless the affected portion has at least a greenish tinge of color and causes a waste of 10 percent, by weight, of the individual potato. Light tan or cream colored flesh shall not be considered as damage.

(c) Cuts unless, (1) in the case of long varieties, both ends of the potato have been removed, or (2) more than one-fourth of any portion of the potato has been removed as indicated by the contour of the remaining portion of the potato, or (3) in the case of long varieties one end is removed and the remaining portion of the potato weighs less than six ounces, or (4) in the case of long varieties the cuts are on the sides and the total length of any one such cut is more than one-half the length of the potato. "Cuts" means that a portion of the potato has been removed by cutting, breaking or mechanical injury or any other cause.

(d) Net necrosis or other internal discoloration unless the affected portion has dark brown or black areas in the flesh and causes a waste of 10 percent, by weight, of the individual potato.

Not more than 5 percent, by weight, of the potatoes in any one container or bulk lot may contain internal defects, including those caused by hollow heart, net necrosis, or any other type of necrosis, stem-end browning, internal brown spots, or other similar types of discoloration not visible externally, but excluding black heart. Not more than 6 percent, by weight, of the potatoes in any one container or bulk lot may be below the other requirements of this section (including freedom from black heart), but not to exceed one-sixth of this tolerance shall be allowed for soft or wet rots. These tolerances are on a container basis. However, with respect to the 6 percent tolerance and the 5 percent tolerance, separately, individual containers in any lot may contain not more than double the tolerance specified, except that in case of potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown not more than one-tenth of the containers may contain not more than four times the tolerance specified, and except that at least one defective specimen shall be permitted in a container; provided, that the averages for the entire lot, based on sample inspection, are within the tolerances specified. Tolerances

Containers of potatoes shall not bear any marking, brand or designation of quality such as "extra selected," "selected," "select," "extra fancy," "fancy," "choice," "No. 1," or other similar superlative designations which imply a reasonably high quality, unless the contents of the container conform at least to the requirements of the U. S. No. 1 grade established for potatoes by the United States Department of Agriculture. Markings
etc

CHAPTER 822

An act to amend Sections 511.1, 511.3, 511.4 and 740, and to repeal Sections 511.5 and 511.9 of the Vehicle Code, relating to speed of vehicles on highways.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 511.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

Establishment of state speed zones

511.1. Establishment of State Speed Zones. (a) Authority to Increase 25-mile Limit. Whenever the Department of Public Works determines upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that a speed greater than 25 miles per hour would facilitate the orderly movement of vehicular traffic and would be reasonable and safe upon any state highway otherwise subject to a prima facie limit of 25 miles per hour under this code, the department may determine and declare a prima facie speed limit of 30, 35, 40, 45 or 50 miles per hour, whichever is found most appropriate to facilitate the orderly movement of traffic and is reasonable and safe, which declared prima facie speed limit shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected upon said highway.

(b) Authority to Decrease 55-mile Limit. Whenever the Department of Public Works determines upon the basis of an engineering and traffic survey that the prima facie limit of 55 miles per hour is more than is reasonable or safe upon any portion of a state highway where such prima facie limit of 55 miles is applicable under this code, the department may determine and declare a prima facie speed limit of 50, 45, 40, 35 or 30 miles per hour, whichever is found most appropriate to facilitate the orderly movement of traffic and is reasonable and safe, which declared prima facie speed limit shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected upon said highway.

(c) The authority of the Department of Public Works as set forth in this section shall apply upon all state highways, whether within or outside of the limits of any incorporated city or city and county.

SEC. 2. Section 511.3 of said code is amended to read:

Alteration of speed limits by local authorities

511.3. When Local Authorities May Alter Prima Facie Limits. (a) Authority to Increase 25-mile Limit. Whenever a local authority, as defined herein, determines upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that a speed greater than 25 miles per hour would facilitate the orderly movement of vehicular traffic and would be reasonable and safe upon any street otherwise subject to a prima facie limit of 25 miles per hour under this code, such local authority may by ordinance determine and declare a prima facie speed limit of 30, 35, 40, 45 or 50 miles per hour, whichever is found most appropriate to facilitate the orderly movement of traffic and is reasonable and safe, which declared prima facie speed limit shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected upon said street.

(b) Authority to Decrease 55-mile Limit. Whenever a local authority, as defined herein, determines upon the basis of an engineering and traffic survey that the prima facie limit of 55 miles per hour is more than is reasonable or safe upon any portion of any street or highway where such prima facie limit of 55 miles per hour is applicable under this code, such local authority may by ordinance determine and declare a prima facie speed limit of 50, 45, 40, 35 or 30 miles per hour, whichever is found most appropriate to facilitate the orderly movement of traffic and is reasonable and safe, which declared prima facie limit shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected upon such street.

(c) No local authority shall exercise the powers set forth in this section in reference to any state highway or extension thereof. State highways

(d) With respect to boundary line streets and highways where portions thereof are within different jurisdictions, no ordinance adopted under this section shall be effective as to any such portion unless and until all authorities having jurisdiction of the portions of the street or highway concerned have approved the same. The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply in the case of boundary line streets consisting of separate roadways within different jurisdictions. Streets, etc. in different jurisdictions

SEC. 3. Section 511.4 of said code is amended to read:

511.4. Speed Zoning on Multiple-lane Highways. On multiple-lane highways with two or more separate roadways different prima facie speed limits may be established for different roadways under the procedure specified in Sections 511.1, 511.2 or 511.3. Multiple-lane highways

SEC. 4. Sections 511.5 and 511.9 of said code are hereby repealed. Repeal

SEC. 5. Section 740 of said code is amended to read:

740. Speed Charged to be Specified. Every notice to appear and every complaint or information charging a violation of any provision of this code regulating the speed of vehicles upon a highway shall specify the approximate speed at which the defendant is alleged to have driven and exactly the prima facie speed limit applicable at the time and place of the alleged offense and shall state any other speed limit alleged to have been exceeded if applicable to the particular type of vehicle or combination of vehicles operated by the defendant. [Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 919 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

919. As used in this chapter the term "bait net" means a lampara or round haul type net with cotton twine mesh not exceeding standard No. 9 medium cotton seine twine, except that the selvage webbing for a distance of three feet from the cork line, measured stretched, mesh shall not exceed in size standard No. 9 cotton twine. The net shall not have rings along the lead line or any method of pursing the bottom of the net.

Bait nets may be used to take fish for bait in any ocean district except District 20.

CHAPTER 826

An act to amend Section 817 of the Penal Code, defining those having the powers of a peace officer.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 817 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

817. A peace officer is the sheriff, undersheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, deputy coroner, regularly employed and paid as such of a county, marshal of a municipal court, constable of a judicial district, marshal, policeman of a city or town, or any juvenile officer of a city or town engaged in performing juvenile law enforcement functions which are generally performed by the local police department, the Deputy Director of the State Department of Justice, the chief, assistant chief, special agents and the polygraph specialists of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, the chief and inspectors of the Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement, a supervisor or guard employed by the Department of Corrections, while acting in the transportation of prisoners and in the apprehension of prisoners who have escaped, and any parole officer of the State Department of Corrections, and any placement or parole officer of the Youth Authority.

Inspectors and investigators regularly employed and paid as such in the office of a district attorney, members of the California Highway Patrol, policemen of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners for San Francisco Harbor, each member of an arson investigating unit of an organized fire department, the chief and inspectors of the Bureau of Food and Drug Inspection, inspectors and investigators of the California State Board of Pharmacy not exceeding 10 in number, investigators of the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of California, special investigators of the Board of Osteopathic Examiners of the State of California, and investigators of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners of the State of California are respectively peace officers for the purpose only of carrying out the duties of their respective employments.

When in any law a public officer or employee is designated as, given the powers of, or determined to be, a peace officer, such officer or employee shall be deemed to be a peace officer but only for the purpose of that law.

The restriction of peace officer functions of any public officer or employee shall not affect his status for purposes of retirement.

CHAPTER 827

An act to amend Section 39.7 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to the powers and duties of the Fish and Game Commission.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 39.7 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

39.7. The department may, with the approval of the Fish and Game Commission and the Department of Finance, exchange any portion of the property lying within the boundaries of any area or range referred to in this section for any property within or contiguous to such area or range or may sell any portion of the property within such boundaries and with the proceeds thereof acquire any property within or contiguous to such area or range; providing, that no exchange or sale of property as provided for in this section shall materially reduce the total area of any range or area referred to in this section.

A copy of each deed of conveyance executed and delivered by the department, and of each deed conveying lands to the State, pursuant to this section shall be delivered to the State Lands Commission.

The provisions of this section apply to all of the following:

(a) The Madeline Plains Waterfowl Management Area, consisting of five thousand one hundred seventy-six (5,176) acres, more or less, located in Lassen County, near the town of Madeline.

(b) The Doyle Deer Winter Range consisting of thirteen thousand four hundred twenty-nine (13,429) acres, more or less, located in Lassen County, near the town of Doyle.

(c) The Tehama Deer Winter Range, consisting of forty-two thousand eight hundred ninety-six (42,896) acres, more or less, located in Tehama County, near the town of Red Bluff.

(d) The Honey Lake Waterfowl Management Area, consisting of three thousand five hundred nineteen (3,519) acres, more or less, located in Lassen County, near the town of Wendel

(f) The Mendota Waterfowl Management Area, consisting of eight thousand six hundred (8,600) acres, more or less, located in the County of Fresno, near the town of Mendota.

CHAPTER 828

An act to amend Sections 4281 and 4291 of the Agricultural Code, relating to minimum prices for milk and cream.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4281 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

4281. Each such plan shall contain provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers, for fluid milk in one or more of the various classes; provided, however, that the prices so designated or prescribed shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk for the marketing area involved to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing fluid milk over and above costs incurred in producing and marketing manufacturing milk, and also taking into consideration all of the purposes, policies, and standards contained in Sections 4200, 4201, 4204, 4205, and 4246; and provided further, the director finds that such prices will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk.

SEC. 2. Section 4291 of said code is amended to read:

4291. Each such plan may contain provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid cream; provided, that the prices so designated or prescribed shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid cream for the marketing area involved to the price of manufacturing cream, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing fluid cream over and above costs incurred in producing and marketing manufacturing milk, and also taking into consideration all of the purposes, policies, and standards contained in Sections 4200, 4201, 4204, 4205, and 4247; and provided further, that the director finds that such prices will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome cream.

CHAPTER 829

An act to add Section 18059 to the Education Code, relating to the purchase by the governing boards of school districts of books and instructional materials.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18059 is added to the Education Code, to read:

18059. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, the governing board of any school district may purchase supplementary textbooks, library books, and educational films, test materials, and work books, in any amount needed for the operation of the schools of the district without taking estimates or advertising for bids.

CHAPTER 830

An act to amend Section 274 of the Vehicle Code, relating to operators' and chauffeurs' licenses.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 274 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

274. Licenses to Be Signed and Carried. (a) Every person licensed hereunder shall write his usual signature with pen and ink in the space provided for that purpose on the license issued to him, immediately on receipt thereof, and such license shall not be valid until so signed; provided, that if the department issues a form of license which bears the facsimile signature of the applicant as shown upon the application, the license shall be valid even though not so signed.

(b) The licensee shall have such license in his immediate possession at all times when driving a motor vehicle upon a highway and when so driving shall display the same upon demand of a member of the California Highway Patrol or any peace or traffic officer enforcing the provisions of this code.

(c) A licensee shall display his operator's or chauffeur's license upon request of a magistrate or judge before whom he may be brought for violation of any traffic law.

(d) Any charge under subdivision (b) of this section shall be dismissed when the person so charged produces in court an operator's or chauffeur's license theretofore duly issued to such person and valid at the time of his arrest except that upon a third or subsequent charge under subdivision (b) of this section the court in its discretion may dismiss such charge.

CHAPTER 831

An act to amend Section 604.12 of the Vehicle Code, relating to passengers on motorcycles and motor-driven cycles.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 604.12 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

604.12. Passengers on Motorcycles and Motor-driven Cycles. It is unlawful for an operator of a motorcycle or motor-driven cycle to carry any other person thereon, except on a seat securely fastened to the machine in the rear of the operator and provided with footrests and handgrips, or in a sidecar attached to a motorcycle or motor-driven cycle and designed for the purpose of carrying a passenger.

CHAPTER 832

An act to amend Sections 395, 397, and 399 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to place of trial of civil actions.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 395 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Proper
county
for trial

395. (1) In all other cases, except as in this section otherwise provided, and subject to the power of the court to transfer actions or proceedings as provided in this title, the county in which the defendants, or some of them, reside at the commencement of the action, is the proper county for the trial of the action. If the action be for injury to person, or to personal property, or for death from wrongful act, or negligence, either the county where the injury occurs, or where the injury causing death occurs, or the county in which the defendants, or some of them, reside at the commencement of the action, shall be a proper county for the trial of the action. In an action for divorce, the county in which the plaintiff has been a resident for three months next preceding the commencement of the action is the proper county for the trial of the action. When a defendant has contracted to perform an obligation in a particular county, either the county where such obligation is to be performed, or in which the contract in fact was entered into, or the county in which the defendant, or any such defendant, resides at the commencement of the action, shall be a proper county for the trial of an action founded on such obligation, and the county in which such obligation is incurred shall be deemed to be the county in which it is to be performed unless there is a special contract in writing to the contrary. If none of the defendants reside in the State, or, if residing in the State, and the county in which they reside is unknown to the plaintiff, the action may be tried in any county which the plaintiff may designate in his complaint, and if the defendant is about to depart from the State, such action may be tried in any county where either of the parties reside, or where service is had. If any person is improperly joined as a defendant, or has been made a defendant solely for the purpose of having the action tried in the county, city and county, or judicial district where he resides, his residence must not be considered in determining the proper place for the trial of the action.

for trial

(2) The proper court for the trial of any such action in the county hereinabove designated as the proper county, shall be determined as follows:

If there is a municipal or justice court, having jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action, established in the city and county or judicial district, in which the defendant, or any defendant, so resides, or in which the injury to person or to personal property, or the injury causing death, occurs, or, in the cases hereinabove mentioned, in which the obligation was contracted to be performed, such court is a proper court for the trial of such action; otherwise any court in such county, having jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action, is a proper court for the trial thereof.

SEC. 2. Section 397 of said code is amended to read:

Changing
place of trial

397. The court may, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

1. When the court designated in the complaint is not the proper court;
2. When there is reason to believe that an impartial trial cannot be had therein;
3. When the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change;
4. When from any cause there is no judge of the court qualified to act;
5. When an action for divorce has been filed in the county in which the plaintiff has been a resident for three months next preceding the commencement of the action, and the defendant at the time of the commencement of the action is a resident of another county in this State, to the county of the defendant's residence, when the ends of justice would be promoted by the change. If a motion to change the place of trial shall be made under this subsection, the court may, prior to the determination of such motion, consider and determine motions for allowance of temporary alimony, support of children, temporary restraining orders, counsel fees and costs, and make all necessary and proper orders in connection therewith.

SEC. 3. Section 399 of said code is amended to read:

399. When an order is made transferring an action or proceeding under any of the provisions of this title, the clerk, or the judge where there is no clerk, must, upon payment of the costs and fees, transmit the pleadings and papers therein (or if the pleadings be oral a transcript of the same) to the clerk (or to the judge where there is no clerk) of the court to which the same is transferred. When the transfer is sought on any ground specified in subdivisions 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Section 397 of this code, the costs and fees thereof, and of filing the papers in the court to which the transfer is ordered, shall be paid at the time the notice of motion is filed, by the party making the motion for such transfer. When the transfer is sought solely, or is ordered, because the action or proceeding was commenced in a court other than that designated as proper by the provisions of this title, such costs and fees must be paid by the plaintiff before such transfer is made; and if, in any such case, the defendant has paid such costs and fees at the time of filing his notice of motion, the same shall be repaid to him, upon the making of such order. The court to which an action or proceeding is transferred under the provisions of this title shall have and exercise over the same the like jurisdiction as if it had been originally commenced therein, all prior proceedings being saved, and said court may require such amendment of the pleadings, the filing and service of such amended, additional or supplemental pleadings, and the giving of such notice, as may be necessary for the proper presentation and determination of the action or proceeding in said court.

pleadings
and papers

CHAPTER 833

An act to amend Section 6701 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to sales and use taxes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6701 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6701. The board, whenever it deems it necessary to insure compliance with this part, may require any person subject thereto, to place with it such security as the board may determine. The amount of the security shall be fixed by the board but, except as noted below, shall not be greater than twice the estimated average liability of persons filing returns for quarterly periods or three times the estimated average liability of persons required to file returns for monthly periods, determined in such manner as the board deems proper, or ten thousand dollars ($10,000), whichever amount is the lesser. In case of a person who, pursuant to Section 6070 of this part, has been given notice of hearing to show cause why his permit or permits should not be revoked, or a person whose permit or permits has been revoked or suspended, the amount of the security shall not be greater than three times the average liability of persons filing returns for quarterly periods or five times the average liability of persons required to file returns for monthly periods, or ten thousand dollars ($10,000), whichever amount is the lesser. The limitations herein provided apply regardless of the type of security placed with the board. The amount of the security may be increased or decreased by the board subject to the limitations herein provided. The board may sell the security at public auction if it becomes necessary so to do in order to recover any tax or any amount required to be collected, interest, or penalty due. Notice of the sale may be served upon the person who placed the security personally or by mail; if by mail, service shall be made in the manner prescribed for service of a notice of a deficiency determination and shall be addressed to the person at his address as it appears in the records of the board. Security in the form of a bearer bond issued by the United States or the State of California which has a prevailing market price may, however, be sold by the board at private sale at a price not lower than the prevailing market price thereof. Upon any sale any surplus above the amounts due shall be returned to the person who placed the security.

CHAPTER 834

An act to amend Section 452.5 of the Vehicle Code, relating to the application of traffic laws to trolley coaches.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 452.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

452.5. Portions of Code Applicable to Trolley Coaches. The following sections, chapters, and divisions of the Vehicle Code, or such portions thereof hereinafter enumerated, shall apply to trolley coaches: All of Chapter 1 of Division 3, relating to original and renewal of registration; all of Sections 370, 371, 372, 372.5, 373, 376, 378, 379, 382, 383, 383.1 and 384 of Division 6, relating to registration and other fees; all of Sections 451, 452.10, 453, 475, 476, 477, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 510, 511, 513, 514, 525, 526, 528, 529, 531, 543, 544, 550, 551, 552, 554, 560, 572, 575, 576, 577, 596, 596.4, 596.5, 602, and 604.2 in Division 9, relating to traffic laws; all of Section 676 in Chapter 7 of Division 10, relating to equipment; all of Sections 690, 691, 695, 704, 705, 706, 715, and 716 of Division 11, relating to the size, weight and loading of vehicles.

CHAPTER 835

An act to add Title 3, comprising Sections 241 to 254, inclusive, to Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, relating to duties of support and to make uniform the law in respect thereto.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 3 is added to Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, to read:

TITLE 3. UNIFORM CIVIL LIABILITY FOR SUPPORT ACT

241. As used in this title:

(a) "State" includes any state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Definitions

(b) "Obligor" means any person owing a duty of support.

(c) "Obligee" means any person to whom a duty of support is owed.

(d) "Child" means a son or daughter under the age of 21 years and a son or daughter of whatever age who is incapacitated from earning a living and without sufficient means.

(e) "Parent" includes either a natural parent or an adoptive parent.

Duty to support

242. Every man shall support his wife, and his child; and his parent when in need. The duty imposed by this section shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 175, 196, and 206 of the Civil Code.

243. Every woman shall support her child; and her husband and her parent when in need. The duty imposed by this section shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 176, 196, and 206 of the Civil Code.

244. An obligor present or resident in this State has the duty of support as defined in this title regardless of the presence or residence of the obligee.

Jurisdiction
over actions

245. The superior court shall have jurisdiction of all actions brought under this title.

Factors to determine amount due

246. When determining the amount due for support the court shall consider all relevant factors including but not limited to:

(a) The standard of living and situation of the parties;

(b) The relative wealth and income of the parties;

(c) The ability of the obligor to earn;

(d) The ability of the obligee to earn;

(e) The need of the obligee;

(f) The age of the parties;

(g) The responsibility of the obligor for the support of others

Jurisdiction
to modify,
etc

247. The court shall retain jurisdiction to modify or vacate the order of support where justice requires.

County
enforcing right

248. The obligee may enforce his right of support against the obligor and the county may proceed on behalf of the obligee to enforce his right of support against the obligor. Whenever the county furnishes support to an obligee, it has the same right as the obligee to whom the support was furnished, for the purpose of securing reimbursement and of obtaining continuing support. The right of the county to reimbursement shall be subject to any limitation otherwise imposed by the law of this State.

Appeals

249. Appeals may be taken from orders and judgments under this title as in other civil actions.

Privilege, husband
and wife

250. Laws attaching a privilege against the disclosure of communications between husband and wife are inapplicable under this title. Husband and wife are competent witnesses to testify to any relevant matter, including marriage and parentage.

251. The rights herein created are in addition to and not in substitution for any other rights.

Severability

252. If any provision of this title or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the title which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this title are severable.

253. This title shall be so interpreted and construed as to Construction effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

254. This title may be cited as the Uniform Civil Liability Short title for Support Act.

CHAPTER 836

An act to add Section 679.05 to the Vehicle Code, relating to the transportation of poles by pole dolly.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 679.05 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

679.05. Transportation of Poles by Pole Dolly. The provisions of Section 679.1 shall not apply to the transportation of poles on a pole dolly by public utility companies engaged in the business of supplying electricity or telephone service or by the State Department of Public Works when such transportation is between storage yards or between a storage yard and job location where such poles are to be used, but in no event shall more than nine (9) poles be transported on any dolly. Such poles shall be adequately secured when being transported on a dolly to prevent shifting or spilling of loads

CHAPTER 837

An act to repeal Section 646 of, and to add Section 646 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to test and approval of lighting devices on vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 646 of the Vehicle Code is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 646 is added to said code, to read:

646. Application for Test and Approval. (a) The department may require any person desiring approval of any lamp or device to submit to the department two units of each type of such lamp or device for which approval is desired, together with the appropriate fee as set forth in subdivision (c).

(b) The department may require tests of such lamp or device in its own or designated laboratories or it may accept evidence of satisfactory performance from other accredited laboratories. In such latter event no approval fee shall be charged.

(c) Testing fees, when required under this section, shall be paid according to the following schedule:

An act to amend Section 465 of, and to add Section 465.4 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to official traffic control devices and the erection of signs, signals or traffic control devices by the Department of Public Works.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 465 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

Department
of Public Works

465. Official Traffic Control Devices. (a) The State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, shall place and maintain, or cause to be placed and maintained, with respect to highways under its jurisdiction, appropriate signs, signals and other traffic control devices as required hereunder, and may place and maintain, or cause to be placed and maintained, such appropriate signs, signals or other traffic control devices as may be authorized hereunder, or as may be necessary properly to indicate and to carry out the provisions of this code, or to warn or guide traffic upon the highways.

(b) Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions shall place and maintain or cause to be placed and maintained such traffic signs, signals and other traffic control devices upon streets and highways as required hereunder, and may place and maintain or cause to be placed and maintained, such appropriate signs, signals or other traffic control devices as may be authorized hereunder or as may be necessary properly to indicate and to carry out the provisions of this code or local traffic ordinances or to warn or guide traffic. Local authorities

(c) All signs and signals erected in accordance with the provisions of this code shall be deemed official traffic signs and signals.

(d) No section of this division shall modify or limit the authority of the Public Utilities Commission to erect or maintain, or cause to be erected and maintained, signs, signals or other traffic control devices as authorized by law. Public Utilities Commission

(e) It shall be unlawful to fail to obey any sign or signal erected or maintained to indicate and to carry out the provisions of this code or any local traffic ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to a local traffic ordinance. Failure to obey signs, etc

SEC. 2. Section 465.4 is added to said code, to read:

465.4. Regulations Applicable on State Highways. Whenever the Department of Public Works determines that it is necessary for the public safety and for the orderly and efficient use of the highways by the public, said department may erect and maintain or cause to be erected and maintained on any state highway appropriate signs, signals or traffic control devices regulating or prohibiting the turning of vehicles upon the highway, allocating or restricting the use of specified lanes or portion of the highway by moving vehicular traffic, establishing crosswalks at or between intersections, or restricting use of the right of way by the public for other than highway purposes. It shall be unlawful to fail to obey any such sign, signal or device. State highways

An act to add Section 465.2 to the Vehicle Code, relating to intersections designated by traffic signals.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 465.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

465.2. Intersections Designated by Traffic Signals. (a) When the outermost boundaries of two or more intersections are confined within a distance of 200 feet, the Department of Public Works in respect to state highways, and a local authority with respect to highways under its jurisdiction, shall have the power to designate a single intersection by the installation and operation of traffic signals which may be supplemented by signs or markings and when so designated said single intersection shall be the legal intersection for the purposes of traffic movement and regulation.

(b) Whenever a single intersection has been designated by local authorities as set forth in (a), such authorities may designate marked crosswalks at certain locations within any said intersection or contiguous thereto, and when such marked crosswalks are established they shall constitute the only crosswalks at said intersection.

CHAPTER 840

An act to amend Section 85 of the Vehicle Code, relating to the definition of crosswalk.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 85 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

85. "Crosswalk." "Crosswalk" is either:

(a) That portion of a roadway ordinarily included within the prolongation or connection of the boundary lines of sidewalks at intersections where the intersecting roadways meet at approximately right angles, except the prolongation of any such lines from an alley across a street.

(b) Any portion of a roadway distinctly indicated for pedestrian crossing by lines or other markings on the surface.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, there shall not be a crosswalk where local authorities have placed signs indicating no crossing.

CHAPTER 841

An act to amend Section 459.2 of the Vehicle Code, relating to crosswalks.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 459.2 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

459.2 Establishment of Crosswalks. (a) The provisions of this division shall not prevent local authorities, by ordinance, from establishing crosswalks between intersections.

(b) Local authorities may authorize the installation of signs at or adjacent to an intersection in respect to any crosswalk directing that pedestrians shall not cross in the crosswalk so indicated. When signs are so erected it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to cross a roadway at such location in the manner prohibited by said sign.

CHAPTER 842

An act to amend Section 51890 of the Water Code, relating to reclamation districts.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51890 of the Water Code is amended to read:

51890. When any parcel located in a district upon which an assessment has been levied is subdivided, the board upon written application signed by any or all of the landowners within the subdivided parcel, shall enter a minute order directing the reapportionment of the assessment upon such parcel in such manner as will charge each of the smaller parcels with a just proportion of the assessment.

When any parcel in a district is subdivided for the purposes of sale in accordance with Part 2, Division 4 of the Business and Professions Code, the subdivider shall make written application to the board for the reapportionment of any assessment of the district upon such parcels and the board shall proceed to make the reapportionment in the manner provided in this article. The expense of such reapportionment shall be paid by the subdivider.

SEC. 2. Section 980 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

"Veteran"

980. As used in this chapter, "veteran" means any person who served in the active military, naval, or air service of the United States for a period of not less than 90 consecutive days any portion of which was on or after December 7, 1941, and prior to January 1, 1947, and any person who served in the active military, naval or air service of the United States for a period of not less than 90 consecutive days any portion of which was on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to January 31, 1955, and receives an honorable discharge therefrom or is released from active duty under honorable conditions and who was, at the time of his entry into active duty, a native of or a bona fide resident of this State or who, if a minor at such time, entered active duty while in the State of California and had lived in this State for six months immediately preceding his entry into active duty.

As used in this chapter "veteran" does not include:

(a) A person who was separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions at any time after December 7, 1941.

(b) A person who was separated from such forces on account of alienage at any time after December 7, 1941.

(c) A person who performed no military duty whatever or refused to wear the uniform.

(d) A person who has received from another state a bonus, compensation, or benefit, the prerequisite of which is service in such forces, which service is the basis for the claim of benefits under this chapter.

(e) A person who served only in an auxiliary or reserve component of the armed forces whose service therein did not exempt him from the operation of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

(f) A person whose active service in the armed forces was less than 90 days, unless such person was discharged from the service due to a service-connected disability within said 90-day period.

(g) A person whose service with the armed forces was due to temporary active duty orders for the sole purpose of training duty, processing or a physical examination.

SEC. 3. Section 981.14 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

981.14. As used in this article, "veteran" also includes any ^{Same} person who served in the military or naval service of the United States during the period June 27, 1950, to January 31, 1955, and receives an honorable discharge therefrom or is released from active duty under honorable conditions and who was, at the time of his enlistment, induction, commission, or drafting, a native of or a bona fide resident of this State or who, if a minor at such time, had lived in this State for six months immediately preceding his enlistment, induction, commission, or drafting.

SEC. 4. Section 18973 of the Government Code is amended to read:

18973. In the case of all other entrance examinations, a veteran with 30 days or more of service and widows of veterans who become eligible for certification from eligible lists by attaining the passing mark established for the examination, shall be allowed one of the following additional credits: ^{Additional credits re entrance examinations}

(a) Disabled veterans, 15 points.

(b) All other veterans and widows of veterans, 10 points.

(c) In promotional examinations, three points, irrespective of physical condition.

"Veteran"

For the purpose of this section, "veteran" means any person who has served full time for 30 days or more in the armed forces in time of war or in time of peace in a campaign or expedition for service in which a medal has been authorized by the Government of the United States, or during the period September 16, 1940, to December 6, 1941, inclusive, or during the period June 27, 1950, to January 31, 1955, and who has been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable, but does not include any person who served only in auxiliary or reserve components of the armed forces whose service therein did not exempt him from the operation of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

"Disabled veteran"

For the purpose of this section the termination of World War II shall be considered as of midnight, December 31, 1946.

For the purpose of this section "disabled veteran" means any veteran as defined herein who is currently declared by the United States Veterans Administration to be 10 percent or more disabled as a result of his service. Proof of such disability shall be deemed conclusive if it is of record in the United States Veterans Administration.

CHAPTER 844

An act to amend Section 4986 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to canceling of uncollected taxes, penalties, or costs.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4986 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

4986. All or any portion of any uncollected tax, penalty, or costs, heretofore or hereafter levied, may, on satisfactory proof, be canceled by the auditor on order of the board of supervisors with the written consent of the district attorney if it was levied or charged:

- (a) More than once.
- (b) Erroneously or illegally.
- (c) On a portion of an assessment in excess of the cash value of the property by reason of the assessor's clerical error.
- (d) On improvements when the improvements did not exist on the lien date.

(e) On property acquired after the lien date by the State or by any county, city, school district or other political subdivision and because of this public ownership not subject to sale for delinquent taxes, and on property annexed after the lien date by the city owning it.

(f) On property acquired after the lien date by the United States of America if such property upon such acquisition becomes exempt from taxation under the laws of the United States.

(g) On personal property or improvements assessed as a lien against real property acquired after the lien date by the United States of America, the State or by any county, city, school district or other political subdivision which because of this public ownership is not subject to sale for delinquent taxes.

“Property acquired” as used in this section shall include street easements and shall also include other easements for public use where the residual estate remaining in private ownership has a nominal value only.

No cancellation under subparagraphs (b), (e), (f), or (g) of this section shall be made in respect of all or any portion of any tax, or penalties or costs attached thereto, collectible by county officers on behalf of a municipal corporation without the written consent of the city attorney thereof.

No cancellation under subparagraph (g) shall be made in respect of all or any portion of any tax, or penalties or costs attached thereto, until after three years succeeding the lien date of such tax on personal property or improvements and then only if in the opinion of the county auditor and the board of supervisors the remaining real property under the assessment is not of sufficient value to secure payment of the taxes on such personal property or improvements.

CHAPTER 845

An act to amend Sections 1500 and 1505 of the Military and Veterans Code, relating to the California Disaster Act, disaster preparedness, and civil defense.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1500 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

1500. The State has long recognized its responsibility to provide for preparedness against disasters that may result from such calamities as air pollution, flood, fire, earthquake, pestilence, war, sabotage and riot. It is hereby found and declared that it is necessary, to enable the State to more effectively join with political subdivisions, municipal corporations and other public agencies of the State, in preparing to cope with and guard against conditions which may result in extreme peril to life, property and the resources of the State and generally to protect the health and safety and preserve the lives and property of the people of the State, and, in times when the United States of America is engaged in war, to assist the Federal Government in the successful prosecution thereof, that a readjustment of the provisions of law for dealing with such hazards be accomplished in the light of wartime experience, and that advantage be taken of those implements and methods, organizations and arrangements that have already been developed to deal with possible future disasters.

SEC. 2. Section 1505 of said code is amended to read:

1505. As used in this chapter, "state of extreme emergency" means the duly proclaimed existence of conditions of extreme peril to the safety of persons and property within the State caused by an enemy attack or threatened attack by land, sea, or air, or when upon the advice of the commanding general of this area, such an attack is imminent, an air raid alarm, sabotage, or other cause such as air pollution, fire, flood, storm, epidemic, riot or earthquake, which conditions by reason of their magnitude are or are likely to be beyond the control of the protective services, personnel, equipment and facilities of any single county, city and county, or city and require the combined forces of a "mutual aid region or regions" to combat. "State of extreme emergency" does not include nor does any provision of this chapter apply to any condition resulting from a labor controversy

An act to repeal Article 4 of Chapter 7, Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of, and to add Article 4 to Chapter 7, Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of, the Government Code, relating to the election of members of the legislative body of cities by or from districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. Article 4 of Chapter 7, Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Article 4 is added to Chapter 7, Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of said code, to read:

Article 4. Election of Legislative Body by or From Districts in Cities

Application

34870. This article applies only to cities.

Submission
to voters

34871. At any municipal election, or special election held for that purpose, the legislative body may submit to the electors an ordinance providing for the election of members of the legislative body by districts or from districts. The term "by districts" as used in this article shall mean election of members of the legislative body by voters of the district alone. The term "from districts" shall mean election of members of the legislative body who are residents of the district from which they are elected by the voters of the entire city. "Geographical area making up the district" shall in the case of elections by district mean the district, and in the case of elections from districts shall mean the entire city except with respect to the residence requirements imposed by Section 34883.

34872. The ordinance shall state whether there are to be five, seven, or nine districts, describe the boundaries of each, and number them. Contents of ordinance

34873. An ordinance enacted pursuant to this article may be amended or repealed in the same manner; provided, the term of office of any councilman elected shall not be affected. Amendment, etc

34875. The amendatory ordinance shall not be submitted to the voters if (a) one or more of the legislative districts do not close, (b) one or more entire legislative districts are eliminated prior to the termination of the term of office of the councilman of or from the district, (c) the effect is that a greater number of councilmen will be qualified to hold office concurrently than are authorized by this article or the amendatory ordinance. When submission to voters prohibited

34876. The planning commission of the city or, in absence of such body, the legislative body of the city shall make findings as to the matters set forth in Section 34875 by resolution within 90 days after submission of the amendatory ordinance to the city clerk. Failure to make findings shall be constituted as a finding of compliance with Section 34875. Findings

34877. The proposition of establishing or altering legislative districts shall be printed on the ballots substantially as follows: Ballots followed by the words “yes” and “no,” so printed that the voters may express their choice.

34878. If three-quarters of the qualified electors of the city, who vote, vote in favor of the ordinance, at the expiration of the terms of office of the members of the legislative body, or when a vacancy occurs, or as provided by ordinance, members of the legislative body shall be elected by (or from) the districts described and in the manner provided. Three-fourths vote required

34879. The term of office of members of the legislative body elected pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be four years, unless otherwise expressly provided. Term of office

34880. If the petition for incorporation of a city provides for the election of members of the legislative body by (or from) districts and includes substantially the provisions required to be included in an ordinance providing for such Inclusion in petition for incorporation election, the members of the legislative body shall be elected in the manner provided in the petition.

Term of office	34881. The members of the legislative body shall be elected by or from the districts and in the manner provided for in the petition at the election determining whether the city becomes incorporated, and hold office until the next general municipal election. At the next general municipal election the members elected by or from the even-numbered districts shall hold office for four years and the members elected by or from the odd-numbered districts shall hold office for two years. Thereafter the term of office is four years.
One member for each district	34882. One member of the legislative body shall be elected by or from each district. With the possible exception as to the number of members of the legislative body, the officers of the city remain the same.
Qualifications	34883. A person is not eligible to hold office as a member of the legislative body unless he is otherwise qualified and has resided in the geographical area making up the district from which he is elected for 90 days next preceding the first day the legislative body is empowered to canvass the ballot.
Electors' qualifications	34884. Electors signing nomination petitions or voting for a member of the legislative body shall be residents of the geographical area making up the district from which the member is to be elected.
Same. Recall	34885. Electors signing recall petitions for, or voting for the recall of, a member of the legislative body shall be residents of the geographical area making up the district which the member is representing.
Meetings	34886. The legislative body of a city adopting an ordinance establishing or modifying legislative districts shall hold regular meetings at least once a month and at the time and place fixed by ordinance or resolution.
Members' absences	34887. The office of a member of the legislative body of a city shall not be declared vacant because of his absence from any meeting.
Vote required for ordinances, etc.	34888. An ordinance or resolution of the legislative body, or an order for payment of money by the city, is void unless passed by a majority of the members of the legislative body.
Termination date	34889. The provisions of this article shall terminate on December 31, 1956, with respect to any city which has not taken advantage of its provisions by that date.

CHAPTER 847

An act to amend Section 1534a of the Probate Code, relating to guardians' additional bonds.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1534a of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1534a. Before any sale of real property is confirmed, or any mortgage or deed of trust is authorized by which money is to be raised, the guardian must furnish such additional bond to the ward as shall be required by the court, with two or more persons or an authorized surety company as surety, to be approved by the judge if the surety is not an authorized surety company, in order to make the total penalty of the guardian's bonds to his ward equal to that required by Section 1480 of this code, taking into account the proceeds of the sale or mortgage or deed of trust.

CHAPTER 848

An act to amend Sections 664 and 665 of the Probate Code, relating to homesteads.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 2, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 664 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

664. If the homestead so selected and recorded, as provided in Section 663, is returned in the inventory appraised at not over the amount of the homestead exemption, as provided in the Civil Code and in effect at the date of death of the decedent, or was previously appraised as provided in the Civil Code and such appraised value did not exceed that amount, the court shall order it set apart to the persons in whom title is vested by the preceding section. If it is returned in the inventory appraised at more than that amount, the appraisers must, before they make their return, ascertain and appraise the value of the homestead at the time the same was selected, and if such value exceeds that amount, or if the homestead was appraised as provided in the Civil Code and such appraised value exceeded that amount, the appraisers must determine whether the premises can be divided without material injury, and if they find that they can be thus divided, they must admeasure and set apart to the parties entitled thereto such portion of the premises, including the dwelling house, as will equal in value that amount, and make report thereof, giving an exact description of the portion set apart as a homestead.

SEC. 2. Section 665 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

665. If the appraisers find that the value of the premises at the time of their selection exceeded the amount referred to in Section 664, and that they cannot be divided without material injury, they must report such finding, and thereafter the court may make an order for the sale of the premises and the distribution of the proceeds to the parties entitled thereto.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 203.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

203.6. The board of supervisors of counties of the fortieth to fifty-eighth class, inclusive, in connection with the administration of a county hospital may establish in the county treasury a special fund to be known as the "Hospital Trust Fund," into which may be placed deposits made voluntarily by patients entering such hospital.

At the time of any patient's dismissal from a county hospital, there shall be refunded to him, upon the order of the business manager or other person designated by the board of supervisors, such portion of the deposit made voluntarily by the patient at the time of his entrance into the hospital as was unneeded for his care while confined therein. The portion earned by the hospital shall be transferred to the hospital fund in the county treasury.

Upon presentation of an order for refund under this section, the county auditor shall draw his warrant on the Hospital Trust Fund, and the county treasurer shall pay the amount due thereon.

If no refund is made within 30 days after the patient's discharge, the patient may file a claim against the county pursuant to Article 1 of Chapter 4 of Division 3 of Title 3 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 852

An act to add Section 1080.3 to the Agricultural Code, relating to herbicides and injurious pest control materials.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1080.3 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

1080.3. It is unlawful to sell or deliver any material or herbicide for which rules and regulations have been adopted pursuant to Sections 1080 and 1080.1 to any person who is required by such rules and regulations to have a permit to use such material or herbicide unless such person, or his agent to whom delivery is made, signs a written statement, in a form prescribed by the department, that such person holds a valid permit to use the kind and quantity of such material or herbicide delivered.

CHAPTER 853

An act to amend Section 410 of the Education Code, relating to the superintendent of schools of a county of the tenth class.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 410 of the Education Code is amended to read:

San Mateo County Superintendent
of Schools

410. The annual salary of the county superintendent of schools of a county of the tenth class is thirteen thousand five hundred dollars ($13,500), and he shall possess a valid general administrative credential issued by the State Board of Education.

CHAPTER 854

An act to amend Section 16601 of the Education Code, relating to the Public School System.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16601 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16601. Each parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of any child between the ages of 8 and 16 years, not exempted under the provisions of this chapter, shall send the child to the public full-time day school for the full time for which the public schools of the city, city and county, or school district in which the child lives are in session.

CHAPTER 855

An act to amend Section 1503 of the Education Code, relating to the Public School System.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1503 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Interdistrict
attendance

1503. The governing board of any school district may admit to the schools or classes maintained in the district any pupils who live in another school district which maintains schools or classes of the grade levels which the pupils desire to attend, whenever an agreement is entered into between the governing board and the governing board of the district in which the pupil lives stipulating the terms upon which the interdistrict attendance shall be permitted. Said interdistrict attendance agreement may be for a term of not to exceed five (5) consecutive school years. In the event the governing board of either district neglects or refuses to enter into such an agreement within 30 days after the person having the custody of any pupil has requested the board so to do, such person may appeal to the county board of education having jurisdiction over the district in which the pupil lives which shall, within 30 days after the filing of such appeal, determine whether the Appeal to county board

pupil should be permitted to attend in the district in which he desires to attend and for what period of time. If the county board of education determines that the pupil should be permitted to attend in the district in which he desires to attend, the pupil shall be admitted to school in said district without delay and the governing board of the district in which the pupil lives shall pay to the district of attendance, at the close of each school year in which the pupil attends in the district of attendance an amount which shall be: (a) the actual cost to the district of attendance of the education of such pupil, less all state and federal funds apportioned to the district on account of such pupil, or (b) if the school attended by the pupil is one which came into the possession of the district of attendance by reason of the annexation or transfer of territory, including the site of the school, of the district in which the pupil lives to the district of attendance and the pupil would have normally attended such school had its site remained in the district in which the pupil lives, such amount as the county board of education may fix but not more than the actual cost to the district of attendance of educating such pupil, less all state and federal funds apportioned to the district on account of the attendance of such pupil, nor less than the actual average cost to the district in which the pupil lives of educating pupils in schools of the same grade level, less the average amount per pupil of all state and federal funds apportioned to the district on account of the attendance of pupils.

A pupil may be admitted provisionally to the schools of a district other than that in which he lives by the governing board of such district for a period of not exceeding two school months, pending decision by the governing boards of the school districts concerned, or by the county board of education relative to his admittance.

The provisions of this section do not apply to the attendance of pupils in the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school. Exception

CHAPTER 856

An act to amend Section 11624 of the Insurance Code, relating to assigned risk plans.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11624 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11624. Such plan shall contain:

(a) Standards for determining eligibility of applicants for insurance, and in establishing such standards the following may be taken into consideration in respect to the applicant or any other person who may reasonably be expected to operate the applicant's automobile with his permission:

- (1) His criminal conviction record;
- (2) His record of suspension or revocation of a license to operate an automobile;
- (3) His automobile accident records;
- (4) His age and mental, physical and moral characteristics which pertain to his ability to safely and lawfully operate an automobile;
- (5) The condition or use of the automobile.
- (b) Procedures for making application for insurance, for apportionment of eligible applicants among the subscribing insurers and for appeal to the commissioner by persons who believe themselves aggrieved by the operation of the plan.
- (c) A provision that the organization administering such plan shall notify the Department of Motor Vehicles regarding the name of each applicant for insurance who is rejected by the assigned risk plan and the statutory grounds for such rejection. The information contained in such notification shall be for the confidential use of the Department of Motor Vehicles
- (d) Rules and regulations governing the administration and operation of the plan.
- (e) Provisions showing the basis upon which premium charges shall be made, and
- (f) Such other provisions as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of this article.

CHAPTER 857

An act to amend Section 422.3 of the Vehicle Code, relating to persons subject to the security following accident law, and releases, judgments and settlement agreements thereunder.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 422.3 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

422.3. Releases, Judgments and Settlement Agreements. Exemption may be established under Section 422 by filing evidence satisfactory to the department:

(a) That the driver has been released from liability by all other persons injured or damaged in the accident. A covenant not to sue shall relieve the parties thereto as to each other from the security requirements of this chapter. The department may accept, for the purposes of this chapter only, evidence of a release from liability executed by a natural guardian or legal guardian on behalf of a minor without the approval of any court or judge.

(b) That all judgments that may arise out of damages or injuries sustained in the accident have been rendered in favor of the driver or have been satisfied by him.

(c) That a duly acknowledged settlement agreement with respect to all damages or injuries arising out of the accident has been executed by the driver. In the event of a default in any payment under such an agreement, and upon notice of such default, the department shall forthwith suspend the driving privilege of the person defaulting, including all licenses evidencing such privilege, and the privilege or licenses shall not be restored unless and until:

(1) Such driver deposits and thereafter maintains security as required under Section 420 or in such amount as the department may then determine, or

(2) One year shall have elapsed following the date when such security was required and during such period no action at law upon such agreement or for damages arising out of such accident has been instituted and is pending.

(d) The department may accept evidence of a payment to a driver or to the owner of a vehicle involved in any accident by the insurance carrier of any other person involved in such accident on account of damage to property or bodily injury as effective to relieve such driver or owner from the security and suspension provisions of this chapter in respect to any claim for property damage or bodily injury arising out of the accident by the person on whose behalf such payment has been made. A payment to the insurance carrier of a driver or owner under its right of subrogation shall be the equivalent of a payment to such driver or owner.

CHAPTER 858

An act to amend Section 679.1 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles carrying logs or poles.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 679.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

679.1. Loading and Securement of Logs and Poles. The following are the rules governing the loading and securement of logs and poles for transportation over public highways by vehicles:

Loading, etc., of logs and poles

Part 1. General Rules

1. Minimum Binder Requirements (Molly Hogans and Lapped Cold Shuts Prohibited Except in an Emergency). a. Wire Rope. Three-eighths inch ($\frac{3}{8}$ ") plow steel in good condition.

Binder requirements

b. Steel Chain. Three-eighths inch ($\frac{3}{8}$ ") high test steel.

c. Binders shall be equipped with tighteners which shall be of a locking type and designed to develop strength at least equal to that of the binder.

d. Binders and binder tighteners shall be maintained in good condition.

e. Binders securing loads shall be tightened and locked prior to a vehicle entering upon a public highway and inspection shall be made en route to assure that the load is stable and that the binders are tight and locked. If the load becomes unstable, due to shifting or otherwise, the vehicle shall be driven from the main traveled portion of the public highway and shall not be again moved upon the main traveled portion of a public highway until corrective load or binder adjustments are made.

f. Gut wrappers shall be considered as binders except under Rules 9a and 9d, and where load encircling binders are otherwise prescribed. Gut wrappers shall be so arranged and tensioned that they do not bear full support of the logs or poles resting thereon.

Stakes

2. Stakes. a. When wooden stakes are used, unless otherwise provided, stakes shall be not less than two inches by four inches (2" x 4") in thickness and width, respectively, when supporting loads less than five feet (5') in height and shall be not less than four inches by four inches (4" x 4") when supporting loads in excess of five feet (5') in height above top of vehicle bed. Stakes must be straight grained and free from strength impairing knots.

b. Stakes supporting loads shall be connected one to the other longitudinally at or near the top by binder or strap material or by one continuous length of lumber not less than one inch by four inches (1" x 4") in thickness and width, respectively, securely attached to each stake by nails or bolts.

c. When stakes are supporting loads in excess of two feet (2') and less than five feet (5') in height, each opposite pair of stakes shall be connected across the top of the load by materials similar to those described in Rule 2b.

d. When stakes are supporting loads in excess of five feet (5') in height each opposite pair of stakes shall be connected across the top of the load by materials similar to those described in Rule 2b and, in addition, shall be connected at the approximate vertical midpoint by binder or strap material.

Strapping
specifications

3. Minimum Strapping Specifications. When straps are used on stakes the minimum shall be three-fourths inch by thirty-five thousandths inch ($\frac{3}{4}$ " x 0.035"), twenty-nine hundred (2900) pounds test, high tension band, machine tensioned and sealed with one (1) double crimp or two (2) single crimp seals. Straps may be of high tension wire or common annealed wire (twisted taut); provided, that sufficient strands of such wire shall be used to give strength equal to that of the high tension band. The number of strands thus used shall depend upon the breaking strength assigned by a manufacturer to any particular gauge wire.

Stake
pockets

4. Stake Pockets. A stake pocket shall be designed to accept the stake and be equal to the stake strength.

5. Bulkheads. A substantial bulkhead shall be provided Bulkheads which shall extend up to the approximate height of the driver's compartment.

6. Log trailers being carried on trucks shall have at least Log trailers one set of tires resting against a steel cross rail or rails and steel side chocks measuring not less than four inches (4") from base to tip which shall be securely attached to said truck in a manner designed to prevent the forward and sideward movement of such trailer.

7. Bunks and Chock Blocks. a. Chock blocks shall extend Bunks and chock blocks to not less than eight inches (8") above the top edge of the bunk except when hauling poles less than twenty-five inches (25") in diameter at the chock.

b. Chock block chains shall be not less than one-half inch ($\frac{1}{2}$ ") high test steel chain.

c. No portion of chock blocks shall extend beyond the ends of the bunks to a point where tilting occurs.

d. Bunks shall have reasonably sharp top edges to minimize load end shift.

e. Bunks and chock blocks shall be maintained to operate freely without binding.

f. Bunks shall not be bent down in excess of one inch (1") at either end.

Part 2. Logs and Poles

8. Construction of Loads. a. Loads of logs and poles shall Construction of loads be loaded in pyramid fashion unless otherwise provided herein.

b. Loads of logs and poles shall be solidly packed and have the weight centered over the bunks.

c. Logs and poles less than twenty-five inches (25") in diameter at the butt end may be loaded and transported on flat bed vehicles in other than pyramid fashion; provided, that the height of the load does not exceed the height of the bulkhead on the truck portion and that at least three pairs of stakes shall be in place in stake pockets when lengths are less than twenty feet (20') and at least four pairs of stakes shall be in place in stake pockets when lengths exceed twenty feet (20'). Such stakes and stake pockets shall comply with Rules 2 and 4. (See Rule 8d.)

d. Loads constructed and protected in the manner prescribed in Rule 8c are exempted from the binder requirements set forth in Rules 9b to 9e, inclusive; provided, that the load occupies the full space between the opposite stakes and that not less than two (2) load encircling binders are in place, one near each end, tightly tensioned at all times on loads two (2) or more logs or poles in height.

9. Binding Loads on Logging Trucks. a. A single log or pole shall be secured with one binder. Each end of such binder shall be secured to the trailer bunk. Binding loads Logging trucks

b. Loads two (2) or more logs or poles in height shall have four (4) binders at least one of which shall be a gut wrapper around load as evenly spaced as possible but with one binder firmly attached to the rear bunk.

c. Loads over six (6) logs or poles in height shall have six (6) binders, at least one of which shall be a gut wrapper, equally spaced. (See Rule 1. f.)

d. Short logs on top of load shall be secured to the load by two (2) of the binders specified herein.

Binding loads:
Flat bed
vehicles

10. Binding Loads on Flat Bed Vehicles (See also Rules 8c and 8d). a. Logs or poles loaded on flat bed vehicles, pyramid fashion, shall have all binders except gut wrappers secured to the vehicle, and shall also be provided with not less than three (3) stakes, of the type prescribed in Rule 10b, equally spaced on each side of the load

b. Stakes, as prescribed in Rule 10a shall be not less than four inches by four inches (4" x 4"). secured in stake pockets of the type and in the manner prescribed in the general rules. Such stakes shall extend to not less than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) the diameter of the log or pole directly adjacent to the stakes in the bottom layer of a pyramid load.

CHAPTER 859

An act to amend Section 737.5 of the Vehicle Code, relating to procedure after arrest for a violation of the Vehicle Code.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 737.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

737.5. Procedure When Offense Committed by Nonresident Driving Foreign Motor Vehicle and Unable to Give Address in This State. Whenever a nonresident is arrested for violating any section of this code while driving a foreign motor vehicle, and such person does not furnish satisfactory evidence of identity and an address within this State at which he can be located, such arrested person may, in the discretion of the arresting officer, be taken immediately before a magistrate within the county where the offense charged is alleged to have been committed, and who has jurisdiction over such offense and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where the arrest is made, or if the magistrate is not available, before the clerk of the magistrate or the officer in charge of the most accessible county jail, city jail or other place of detention within the county, who shall admit him to bail in accordance with the provisions of Section 737.1. If the magistrate is not available at the time of the arrest and the arrested person is not taken before any other person authorized to receive a deposit of bail, and if the arresting officer does not have the authority or is not required to take the arrested person before a magistrate or other person authorized to receive a deposit of bail by some other provision of law, such arrested person shall be released from custody upon giving a written promise to appear as provided in Section 739 of this code.

CHAPTER 860

An act to amend Section 1963 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to disputable presumptions in actions at law.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1963 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1963. All other presumptions are satisfactory, if uncontradicted. They are denominated disputable presumptions, and may be controverted by other evidence. The following are of that kind:

1. That a person is innocent of crime or wrong;
2. That an unlawful act was done with an unlawful intent;
3. That a person intends the ordinary consequence of his voluntary act;
4. That a person takes ordinary care of his own concerns;
5. That evidence wilfully suppressed would be adverse if produced;
6. That higher evidence would be adverse from inferior being produced;
7. That money paid by one to another was due to the latter;
8. That a thing delivered by one to another belonged to the latter;
9. That an obligation delivered up to the debtor has been paid;
10. That former rent or installments have been paid when a receipt for later is produced;
11. That things which a person possesses are owned by him;
12. That a person is the owner of property from exercising acts of ownership over it, or from common reputation of his ownership;
13. That a person in possession of an order on himself for the payment of money, or the delivery of a thing, has paid the money or delivered the thing accordingly;
14. That a person acting in a public office was regularly appointed to it;
15. That official duty has been regularly performed;
16. That a court or judge, acting as such, whether in this State or any other state or country, was acting in the lawful exercise of his jurisdiction;
17. That a judicial record, when not conclusive, does still correctly determine or set forth the rights of the parties;

18. That all matters within an issue were laid before the jury and passed upon by them; and in like manner, that all matters within a submission to arbitration were laid before the arbitrators and passed upon by them;

19. That private transactions have been fair and regular;

20. That the ordinary course of business has been followed;

21. That a promissory note or bill of exchange was given or endorsed for a sufficient consideration;

22. That an endorsement of a negotiable promissory note or bill of exchange was made at the time and place of making the note or bill;

23. That a writing is truly dated;

24. That a letter duly directed and mailed was received in the regular course of the mail;

25. Identity of person from identity of name;

26. That a person not heard from in seven years is dead;

27. That acquiescence followed from a belief that the thing acquiesced in was conformable to the right or fact;

28. That things have happened according to the ordinary course of nature and the ordinary habits of life;

29. That persons acting as copartners have entered into a contract of copartnership;

30. That a man and woman deporting themselves as husband and wife have entered into a lawful contract of marriage;

31. That a child born in lawful wedlock, there being no divorce from bed and board, is legitimate;

32. That a thing once proved to exist continues as long as is usual with things of that nature;

33. That the law has been obeyed;

34. That a document or writing more than 30 years old is genuine, when the same has been since generally acted upon as genuine, by persons having an interest in the question, and its custody has been satisfactorily explained;

35. That a printed and published book, purporting to be printed or published by public authority, was so printed or published;

36. That a printed and published book, purporting to contain reports of cases adjudged in the tribunals of the State or country where the book is published, contains correct reports of such cases;

37. That a trustee or other person, whose duty it was to convey real property to a particular person, has actually conveyed to him, when such presumption is necessary to perfect the title of such person or his successor in interest;

38. The uninterrupted use by the public of land for a burial ground, for five years, with the consent of the owner, and without a reservation of his rights, is presumptive evidence of his intention to dedicate it to the public for that purpose;

39. That there was a good and sufficient consideration for a written contract;

40. That property owned at the time of death by a person who had been divorced from his or her spouse more than four years prior thereto was not community property acquired during marriage with such divorced spouse, but is his or her separate property.

CHAPTER 861

An act to amend Section 2466 of the Civil Code, relating to the use of fictitious names for transacting business.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2466 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2466. Except as otherwise provided in the next section every person transacting business in this State under a fictitious name and every partnership transacting business in this State under a fictitious name, or a designation not showing the names of the persons interested as partners in such business, must file with the clerk of the county in which his or its principal place of business is situated, a certificate subscribed and acknowledged in the manner provided in Section 2468 of the Civil Code, stating the name in full and the place of residence of such person and stating the names in full of all the members of such partnership and their places of residence.

Such subscribed and acknowledged certificate must be published subsequent to the filing thereof with the county clerk pursuant to Government Code Section 6064, in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none in such county, then in a newspaper in an adjoining county. An affidavit showing the publication of such certificate as in this section provided shall be filed with the county clerk within 30 days after the completion of such publication, but in no event shall such publication be made prior to the filing of such certificate with the county clerk.

CHAPTER 862

An act to amend Section 26820 of the Government Code, relating to fees charged by the county clerk.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26820 of the Government Code is amended to read:

26820. The county clerk shall charge and collect the fees fixed in this article for service performed by him, when not otherwise provided by law.

CHAPTER 863

An act to amend Section 17708 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to cooking in hotel rooms.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17708 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

17708. This part does not prevent the installation, maintenance, or use of a hot plate in a room of any hotel which is occupied, or is ready for occupancy, on the effective date of this section, if:

(a) The hot plate will be, or is, used solely for the cooking or preparation of meals for consumption solely by the occupant of the room.

(b) The hot plate is of an approved type.

(c) The installation, maintenance, or use of a hot plate will not be, or is not, hazardous to life or property.

Such installations in a sleeping room shall not constitute a room in which food is stored or prepared for the purposes of Section 17509 of this code.

As used in this section, "hotel" has the same meaning as defined in Section 15020, except that it may contain less than six guest rooms and it may be occupied; or intended or designed for occupation, by less than six guests.

Any city or county may enact an ordinance to prohibit the installation, maintenance or use of a hot plate in any room of any hotel.

This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature. While it is in effect it shall supersede any existing provision in this code or elsewhere in the law which is in conflict with it; but such conflicting provision is not repealed, and after this section is no longer effective it shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted.

CHAPTER 864

An act to amend Section 468 of the Vehicle Code, relating to speed restriction signs.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 468 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

468. Speed Restriction Signs. (a) Speed restriction signs shall be erected upon every state highway at the entrance thereof into a business or residence district.

(b) Speed restriction signs may, but need not, be erected upon any other street or highway at the entrance thereof into a business or residence district unless required under the provisions of subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) Whenever the State Department of Public Works or a local authority as authorized by this code determines and declares a prima facie speed limit different from the limit otherwise applicable under Section 511 of this code upon any street, highway or portion thereof, appropriate speed restriction signs shall be erected and maintained on said street, highway or portion thereof at the outside entrances of that portion of such street or highway upon which the special prima facie speed limit is applicable.

CHAPTER 865

An act to amend Section 540 of the Vehicle Code, relating to required position and method of turning at intersections.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 540 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

540. Required Position and Method of Turning at Intersections. The driver of a vehicle intending to turn at an intersection shall do so as follows:

(a) Right Turns. Both the approach for a right turn and a right turn shall be made as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway.

(b) Left Turns. The driver of a vehicle intending to turn left at any intersection shall approach the intersection in the extreme left-hand lane lawfully available to traffic moving in the direction of travel of such vehicle and after entering the intersection the left turn shall be made so as to leave the intersection in a lane lawfully available to traffic moving in such direction upon the roadway being entered.

(c) The State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, in respect to highways under its jurisdiction and a local authority in respect to highways under its jurisdiction may cause markers, buttons or signs to be placed within or adjacent to intersections and thereby require and direct that a different course from that specified in this section be traveled by vehicles turning at an intersection or may allocate and indicate more than one lane of traffic from which drivers of vehicles may make right- or left-hand turns and when markers, buttons or signs are so placed, no driver of a vehicle shall turn a vehicle at an intersection other than as directed and required or permitted by such markers, buttons or signs.

CHAPTER 866

An act to amend Section 511 of the Vehicle Code, relating to prima facie speed limits.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 511 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

511. Prima Facie Speed Limits. The speed of any vehicle upon a highway not in excess of the limits specified in this section or established as authorized in this code is lawful unless clearly proved to be in violation of the basic rule declared in Section 510 hereof.

The speed of any vehicle upon a highway in excess of any of the limits specified in this section or established as authorized in this code is prima facie unlawful unless the defendant establishes by competent evidence that any said speed in excess of said limits did not constitute a violation of the basic rule declared in Section 510 hereof at the time, place and under the conditions then existing.

The prima facie limits referred to above are as follows and the same shall be applicable unless changed as authorized in this code and, if so changed, then only when signs have been erected giving notice thereof, in which event the speed designated on the sign shall be the prima facie limit:

(a) 15 miles per hour:

(1) When passing a school building or the grounds thereof, contiguous to the highway while children are going to or leaving such school during opening or closing hours or during the noon recess period. Such prima facie limit shall also apply when passing any school grounds which are not separated from the highway by a fence, gate or other physical barrier while such grounds are in use by children.

(2) When traversing a grade crossing of a steam, electric or street railway, if during the last 100 feet of the approach to such crossing the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such crossing and of any traffic on such railway for a distance of 400 feet in both directions along such railway. This subdivision shall not apply in the case of any railway grade crossing where a human flagman is on duty or a clearly visible electrical or mechanical railway crossing signal device is installed but does not then indicate the immediate approach of a railway train or car.

(3) When traversing any intersection of highways if during the last 100 feet of his approach to such intersection the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such intersection and of any traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of 100 feet along all such highways, except on a through highway or at a traffic-controlled intersection.

(b) 25 miles per hour in any business or residence district unless a different speed is determined by competent authority under procedures set forth in this code.

(c) 55 miles per hour under all other conditions unless a different speed is specifically designated in this code or is determined and declared by competent authority under procedures set forth in this code.

CHAPTER 867

An act to add Title 4, comprising Sections 3425.1 to 3425.5, to Part 1, Division 4, of the Civil Code, relating to actions based upon a single publication, exhibition or utterance.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 4, comprising Sections 3425.1 to 3425.5 is added to Part 1, Division 4, of the Civil Code, to read:

TITLE 4. UNIFORM SINGLE PUBLICATION ACT

3425.1. This title may be cited as the Uniform Single Publication Act.

3425.2. This act shall be so interpreted as to effectuate its purpose to make uniform the law of those states or jurisdictions which enact it.

3425.3. No person shall have more than one cause of action for damages for libel or slander or invasion of privacy or any other tort founded upon any single publication or exhibition or utterance, such as any one issue of a newspaper or book or magazine or any one presentation to an audience or any one broadcast over radio or television or any one exhibition of a motion picture. Recovery in any action shall include all damages for any such tort suffered by the plaintiff in all jurisdictions.

3425.4. A judgment in any jurisdiction for or against the plaintiff upon the substantive merits of any action for damages founded upon a single publication or exhibition or utterance as described in Section 3425.3 shall bar any other action for damages by the same plaintiff against the same defendant founded upon the same publication or exhibition or utterance.

3425.5. This title shall not be retroactive as to causes of action existing on its effective date.

CHAPTER 868

An act to amend Section 635 of the Vehicle Code, relating to parking lights, and declaring the urgency thereof.

In effect
immediate

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 635 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

635. Side, Cowl or Fender Lamps. Any motor vehicle may be equipped with not more than two lighted side lamps, and in addition not more than two lighted cowl or fender lamps, but the light source in any such lamps shall not exceed three standard candlepower and shall emit diffused amber or white light without glare.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Many late model vehicles carry as standard equipment two side lamps in addition to the ordinary lighting devices permitted on vehicles, which side lamps are designed to insure increased safety in operation. It is essential that this act go into immediate effect in order that such vehicles may be legally operated on the highways of this State.

CHAPTER 869

An act to add Chapter 9.5 to Part 4 of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to highway lighting districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 9.5 is added to Division 14, Part 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

CHAPTER 9.5. REPLACEMENT OF OBSOLETE LIGHTING SYSTEM IN EXISTING DISTRICT

Petition:

19165. Upon the receipt of a petition signed by owners of taxable property representing 60 percent or more of the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within an existing highway lighting district, or within a temporary zone requested to be established by said petition in the manner hereinafter provided in this chapter, the governing body of the district may replace an obsolete county-owned lighting system with a new modern county- or utility-owned lighting system where necessary for the proper operation of the district or of the portion thereof lying within such temporary zone.

19166. A petition asking for the removal of obsolete county-owned lights and their replacement with modern county- or utility-owned lights pursuant to this chapter may request the board of supervisors to establish a temporary zone consisting solely of contiguous territory within the district which will be benefited by said replacement lights, for the purpose of levying a special tax therein to finance the cost of removal of the old lights and installation and temporary maintenance of the new lights. In such case the petition shall contain:

(a) A general description of the nature of the proposed replacement lights, together with a map showing the location thereof.

(b) An estimate of all costs or charges which will be incurred in connection with the removal of the old lights and the installation of the new lights, together with a statement as to the period of time, not to exceed three years, proposed for the payment of said costs or charges.

(c) An estimate of the average monthly cost of maintenance of the replacement lights.

(d) A description of the boundaries of the proposed temporary zone.

A proposal to form a temporary zone pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 3 of Title 6 of the Government Code to the same extent as a proposal to form a district.

19167. Upon the presentation of a petition pursuant to this chapter, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall immediately refer the same to an appropriate county officer, who shall certify to the board the number of owners of taxable property within the boundaries of the district or the proposed zone whose names appear on said petition, together with the percentage of the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within the boundaries of the district or zone, which said signatures represent.

Certification
of property owners assessed valuation

19168. If the certifying officer certifies that the petition bears the signatures of owners of taxable property within the district or, if applicable, the proposed zone representing 60 percent or more of the total assessed value of all taxable property therein, the petition shall be filed, and the board of supervisors shall fix a time for hearing the petition and the protests of interested parties, and shall cause a notice of the filing of the petition and the time set for the hearing to be published in a newspaper designated by said board as most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of the district and, if applicable, the proposed zone. If there is no such newspaper, copies of the notice shall be posted in three conspicuous places in the territory included in the district or, if applicable, the proposed zone, for three weeks prior to the date fixed for hearing the petition. The notice shall contain the text of said petition, but the names of the signers of the petition need not be published.

Filing,
hearing, etc.

Denial

If the certifying officer's certificate shows that any petition requesting the establishment of a temporary zone does not bear the required number of signatures, the request for the formation of a temporary zone shall be denied, without prejudice to the filing of a new petition therefor.

In such event, or if the petition does not request the establishment of a temporary zone, and the certifying officer's certificate shows that the petition does not bear the signatures of owners of taxable property representing 60 percent or more of the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within the existing highway lighting district, the petition shall be denied.

Objections

19169. Upon the date fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which it is continued, the board of supervisors shall, in addition to any other proceedings required by law, consider the request for formation of a temporary zone and any objections which may be filed against it or against the formation of the proposed zone.

Establishment of temporary zone

19170. If the board of supervisors determines with respect to a petition for the replacement of lights filed in conformity with this chapter, that

(a) It is just and equitable, and in the public interest, that the obsolete lighting system be replaced as provided in this chapter and that the proposed temporary zone be formed, and

(b) The petition was signed by resident taxpayers representing 60 percent or more of the total assessed valuation of all taxable property within the territory proposed to be formed into a zone, the board shall by resolution, entered in its minutes, fix and describe the boundaries of the proposed zone in such manner that any territory which will not be benefited by inclusion therein, or which is not contiguous thereto, or which is not described in the petition, shall not be included therein; shall declare said zone established, designating it by an identifying name or number; and shall specify the purposes and duration thereof, not to exceed three years from the beginning of the next ensuing fiscal year in which a special tax levy may be made in said zone.

Replacement of entire system

19171. With respect to a petition for the replacement of lights which includes no request for the establishment of a temporary zone, if the board of supervisors determines that it will be just and equitable and in the public interest for the additional cost, if any, of removing the obsolete county-owned lighting system and its replacement with a modern county- or utility-owned lighting system to be paid by the district as a whole, it shall immediately estimate the cost of replacement of the obsolete system and installation and maintenance of the modern system, and shall include in the regular tax levy for the first fiscal year in which it is possible to do so, a tax upon the taxable property within the district, at the equalized value thereof for that year, sufficient to pay such cost of replacement, installation and maintenance. After the tax levy has been made the governing body shall proceed with the replacement of the obsolete system and the installation and maintenance of the modern system.

19172. The provisions of Sections 19036 and 19037 apply to proceedings under this chapter.

19173. A statement regarding the boundaries of a zone established pursuant to this chapter shall be filed as provided by Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, together with a statement as to the period of duration of said zone specified in the resolution establishing it.

Filing
statement of boundaries

19174. In order that the obsolete system may be removed and a modern system installed in its place and maintained immediately after the action of the board pursuant to Section 19170, the governing body may authorize the immediate removal of the obsolete system in the said zone and the installation of the modern system in said zone, and may contract to pay any costs or charges incurred by reason of such removal and such installation in equal periodic payments over a period of not to exceed the period of duration of said zone specified in the resolution establishing it.

Installation of system,
contracts

19175. The board of supervisors may from time to time transfer moneys to the district, for the benefit of said zone, from any available funds of the county. Any moneys so transferred are hereby appropriated, and shall be used, for the payment of any currently payable expenses incurred by reason of the removal of the obsolete system and the installation of the modern system proposed for said zone, and for the cost of maintenance thereof prior to December 1st of the first fiscal year in which a special tax may be levied in and on behalf of said zone. All costs of maintenance of said modern system, subsequent to said date, shall be budgeted and included in the general levy of taxes in and on behalf of the district as a whole.

Costs,
funds, etc

19176. The board of supervisors shall, in the first fiscal year in which a special tax may be levied in and on behalf of said zone, levy a special tax upon the taxable property therein for the purposes of said zone, and shall include in said levy a sum sufficient to repay to the county the amounts transferred to the district pursuant to Section 19175. The amounts so transferred shall be retransferred to the county treasury from the first available receipts from said special levy in said zone.

Special
tax levy

Thereafter in the succeeding fiscal year or years during which said temporary zone remains in existence, the board shall levy a special tax therein sufficient to pay any additional costs or charges incurred by reason of the removal of the obsolete system and the installation of said modern system therein, which may by contract be made payable in such year or years.

All special taxes levied in and on behalf of a zone, pursuant to this section, are in addition to any taxes levied therein for and on behalf of the district as a whole.

Duration,
etc., of zone

19177. A zone shall remain in existence for the period of time specified in the resolution of the board of supervisors which established it, and shall thereafter automatically terminate; provided, there are then no outstanding obligations payable from special taxes to be levied in said zone.

CHAPTER 870

An act to add Section 970.6 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to shrimp traps.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 970.6 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

970.6. Shrimp traps not to exceed 20 inches in width, 18 inches in height, and 24 inches in greatest length, with openings from exterior to interior not to exceed one-half inch in any dimension throughout the trap, may be used in Districts 18, 19, 19B, 20A and 21 to take shrimp only.

CHAPTER 871

An act to amend Section 4668 of the Education Code, relating to the assumption of bonded indebtedness by a unified school district.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4668 of the Education Code is amended to read:

4668. Upon petition of 10 percent of the qualified electors residing in any elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district which has been included in a unified school district requesting him to do so, or by resolution adopted by the governing board of the unified school district, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction of the district shall call an election in the unified school district for the purpose of permitting the qualified electors to vote upon the question of whether or not the unified school district shall assume the bonded indebtedness of the elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district, as the case may be. The election shall be called, held, and conducted as are elections for the issuance of school district bonds excepting that the notice for the election shall contain the following:

- (a) The time and place, or places of holding the election
- (b) The names of the officers of the election appointed to conduct the election.
- (c) The hours of the day during which the polls will be open.
- (d) The amount of the bonded indebtedness and the interest rate thereon proposed to be assumed by the unified school district.

The ballot at the election shall contain the words "Assumption of Bonded Indebtedness—Yes" and "Assumption of Bonded Indebtedness—No," or words of similar import.

No bonded indebtedness shall be assumed by a unified school district unless two-thirds of the qualified electors voting at the election vote in favor of the assumption.

CHAPTER 872

An act to amend Section 19 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the care and protection of children.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

19. The purpose of this code is to provide for protection, care, and assistance to the people of the State in need thereof, and to promote the welfare and happiness of all of the people of the State by providing public assistance to all of its needy and distressed. It is the legislative intent that assistance shall be administered promptly and humanely, with due regard for the preservation of family life, and without discrimination on account of race, religion, or political affiliation; and that assistance shall be so administered as to encourage self-respect, self-reliance, and the desire to be a good citizen, useful to society.

It is also the purpose of this code, in establishing programs and services which are designed to provide protection, support or care of children, to provide protective services to the fullest extent deemed necessary by the juvenile court, probation department or other public agencies designated by the board of supervisors to perform the duties prescribed by this code to insure that the rights or physical, mental or moral welfare of children are not violated or threatened by their present circumstances or environment. Such essential services may be provided irrespective of whether the child or the family of the child is otherwise known to the responsible local agency.

CHAPTER 873

An act to amend Section 446 of the Code of Civil Procedure and Section 118 of the Penal Code, relating to verification of pleadings and the punishment for false statements.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 446 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Subscription,
verification,
etc., of
pleadings

446. Every pleading (except in justice courts when the pleadings are oral) shall be subscribed by the party or his attorney. When the State, any county thereof, city, or school district, or any officer of the State, or of any county thereof, city, or school district, in his official capacity, is plaintiff, the answer shall be verified, unless an admission of the truth of the complaint might subject the party to a criminal prosecution, or, unless a county thereof, city, or school district, or an officer of the State, or of any county, city, or school district, in his official capacity, is defendant. Except in justice courts, when the complaint is verified, the answer shall be verified. In all cases of a verification of a pleadings, the affidavit of the party shall state that the same is true of his own knowledge, except as to the matters which are therein stated on his information or belief, and as to those matters that he believes it to be true; and where a pleading is verified, it shall be by the affidavit of a party, unless the parties are absent from the county where the attorney has his office, or from some cause unable to verify it, or the facts are within the knowledge of his attorney or other person verifying the same. When the pleading is verified by the attorney, or any other person except one of the parties, he shall set forth in the affidavit the reasons why it is not made by one of the parties.

When a corporation is a party, the verification may be made by any officer thereof. When the State, any county thereof, city, or school district, or any officer of the State, or of any county thereof, city, or school district, in his official capacity is plaintiff, the complaint need not be verified; and if the State, any county thereof, city, or school district, or an officer of such state, county, city, or school district in his official capacity is defendant, its or his answer need not be verified.

A person verifying a pleading need not swear to the truth or his belief in the truth of the matters stated therein but may, instead, assert the truth or his belief in the truth of such matters "under penalty of perjury."

SEC. 2. Section 118 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

Perjury

118. Every person who, having taken an oath that he will testify, declare, depose, or certify truly before any competent tribunal, officer, or person, in any of the cases in which such an oath may by law be administered, wilfully and contrary to such oath, states as true any material matter which he knows to be false, and every person who testifies, declares, deposes, or certifies "under penalty of perjury" in any of the cases in which such testimony, declarations, depositions, or certification is permitted by law under "penalty of perjury" and wilfully states as true any material matter which he knows to be false, is guilty of perjury.

CHAPTER 874

An act to amend Sections 12011.7, 12106, and 12107 of, and to add Sections 12758, 12786, 13001.4, and 14002.4 to, the Education Code, relating to persons determined to be sexual psychopaths in respect to employment in the Public School System and to certification documents in connection therewith.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12011.7 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12011.7. "Sex offense" as used in Sections 12107, 12756, 12785, 13001.3, and 14002.3 of this code means any offense defined in Sections 266, 267, 285, 286, 288, 288a, 647a, subdivision 3 or 4 of Section 261, subdivision 5 of Section 647, or subdivision 2 of Section 311 of the Penal Code; or any offense defined in subdivision 1 of Section 311 of the Penal Code committed on or after the effective date of the amendment of this section made at the 1955 Regular Session by the Legislature; or any offense involving lewd and lascivious conduct under Section 702 of the Welfare and Institutions Code; or any attempt to commit any of the above-mentioned offenses; or any offense committed or attempted in any other state which, if committed or attempted in this State, would have been punishable as one or more of the above-mentioned offenses.

offense"

SEC. 2. Section 12106 of said code is amended to read:

12106. The State Board of Education may deny any application for the issuance of a credential or a life diploma or for the renewal of a credential made by any applicant who:

Denial of credential,
etc Grounds

(a) Lacks the qualifications which are prescribed by law or regulations adopted by the State Board of Education pursuant thereto.

(b) Is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit to perform the duties authorized by the credential or life diploma for which he applies.

(c) Is addicted to the use of intoxicating beverages to excess.

(d) Is addicted to the use of narcotics or habit-forming drugs.

(e) Has committed any act involving moral turpitude.

(f) Has had a certification document revoked.

(g) Has intentionally practiced or attempted to practice any material deception or fraud in his application.

(h) Fails or refuses to furnish reasonable evidence of identification or good moral character.

(i) Has been convicted of any offense defined in subdivision 1 of Section 311 of the Penal Code prior to the effective date of the amendment of this section made at the 1955 Regular Session by the Legislature.

SEC. 3. Section 12107 of said code is amended to read:

Same Sexual
psychopath

12107. The State Board of Education shall deny any application for the issuance of a credential or a life diploma or for the renewal of a credential made by any applicant who has been determined to be a sexual psychopath under the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or under similar provisions of law of any other state or who has been convicted of any sex offense as defined in Section 12011.7.

SEC. 4. Section 12758 is added to said code, to read:

Suspension,
revocation of credential
Sexual
psychopath

12758. Whenever the holder of any credential, life diploma, or document issued by the State Board of Education has been determined to be a sexual psychopath under the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or under similar provisions of law of any other state, the State Board of Education shall forthwith suspend the credential, life diploma, or document. If the determination is reversed and the holder is determined not to be a sexual psychopath in a new proceeding or the proceeding to determine whether he is a sexual psychopath is dismissed, the board shall forthwith terminate the suspension of the credential, life diploma, or document. When the determination becomes final, the board shall forthwith revoke the credential, life diploma, or document.

SEC. 5. Section 12786 is added to said code, to read:

12786. Whenever the holder of a certificate issued by a county board of education has been determined to be a sexual psychopath under the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or under similar provisions of law of any other state, the county board of education shall forthwith suspend the certificate. If the determination is reversed and the holder is determined not to be a sexual psychopath in a new proceeding or the proceeding to determine whether he is a sexual psychopath is dismissed, the board shall forthwith terminate the suspension of the certificate. When the determination becomes final, the board shall forthwith revoke the certificate.

SEC. 6. Section 13001.4 is added to said code, to read:

Employment of sexual psychopath

13001.4. Governing boards of school districts shall not employ or retain in employment any person in public school service who has been determined to be a sexual psychopath under the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or under similar provisions of law of any other state. If, however, such determination is reversed and the person is determined not to be a sexual psychopath in a new proceeding or the proceeding to determine whether he is a sexual psychopath is dismissed, this section does not prohibit his employment thereafter.

SEC. 7. Section 14002.4 is added to said code, to read:

14002.4. No person shall be employed or retained in em- Same ployment by a school district who has been determined to be a sexual psychopath under the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or under similar provisions of law of any other state. If, however, such determination is reversed and the person is determined not to be a sexual psychopath in a new proceeding or the proceeding to determine whether he is a sexual psychopath is dismissed, this section does not prohibit his employment thereafter.

CHAPTER 875

An act to amend Sections 103.3 and 2007 of, and to add Section 2007.2 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public assistance.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 103.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

103.3. The provisions of this code relative to public assist- Public ance for which state grants-in-aid are made to the counties assistance shall be administered fairly to the end that all persons who Adminisare eligible and apply for such public assistance shall receive tration of the assistance to which they are entitled promptly, with due provisions consideration for the needs of applicants and the safeguarding of public funds.

(a) Any applicant for, or recipient or payee of, such public Report of assistance shall be informed as to the provisions of eligibility material and his responsibility for reporting facts material to a correct facts determination of eligibility and grant. by applicant, etc

(b) Any applicant for, or recipient or payee of, such public assistance shall be responsible for reporting accurately and completely within his competence those facts required of him pursuant to subdivision (a) and to report promptly any changes in those facts.

(c) Any person who makes full and complete disclosure of those facts as explained to him pursuant to subdivision (a) is entitled to rely upon the award of the board of supervisors as being accurate, except that the county paying the aid shall be allowed a period of two months following the month of payment within which to adjust any errors or changes in amount of grant resulting from changes in income or need which occur too late to be reflected in the grant for the current month.

Overpay-
ments

(d) If any overpayment which results because of the failure to report facts in accordance with subdivision (b) is not adjusted within a period of two months following the month of overpayment, the person receiving the aid shall make restitution and all actions necessary to secure restitution may be brought against him.

If the recipient or family is currently eligible in accordance with law and the rules of the State Social Welfare Board, collection of overpayments shall not be made through discontinuance or reduction of aid beyond the grant adjustment period permitted by subsection (c) except where the recipient or family at the time of determination of the overpayment possessed liquid assets sufficient to support himself or his family at the rate of the grant during the period of reduction or discontinuance thereof.

Possession
of property
in excess of amount permitted

(e) If it is found that a recipient or a family was possessed of property in excess of the amount permitted by law, and it is established that the recipient or family received such aid in good faith, honestly believing eligibility was properly established, the amount collectible shall be limited to an amount equal to the market value of the excess property or the amount of aid granted during the period the excess property was held, whichever is the lesser.

SEC. 2. Section 2007 of said code is amended to read:

Obtaining unentitled
aid

2007. Any person who, knowing he is not entitled thereto, obtains or attempts to obtain aid to which he is not entitled, or a larger amount than that to which he is legally entitled, or the payment of any forfeited installment grant, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 3. Section 2007.2 is added to said code, to read:

Notice of intention to buy or dispose of applicant's
property

2007.2. Any person who, knowing that the owner of the property is an applicant, aids or abets in buying or in any way disposing of the property of an applicant shall give 15 days' notice of the intention to make the transfer, to the board of supervisors by serving upon the chairman of the board a declaration in writing setting forth the name of the owner of the property, the fact that he is an applicant, a description of the property sufficient to enable it to be identified with reasonable certainty, and the time and place where the contemplated transaction will be completed, and failure to give such notice shall constitute a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 876

An act to repeal Article 11 of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of, and to amend Sections 2831, 2840, 2841, 2842, and 2843 of, the Elections Code, relating to county central committees in counties containing 20 or more assembly districts.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 11 of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of the Elections Code is repealed. Repeal

SEC. 2. Section 2831 of said code is amended to read:

2831. At every direct primary there shall be elected in each county a county central committee for each political party. The county central committee shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by the state central committee. County central committees

SEC. 3. Section 2840 of said code is amended to read:

2840. In each county and in each city and county, regardless of the number of assembly districts contained therein, the name of each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot only upon the filing of a nomination paper pursuant to Articles 4 and 5 of this chapter signed in his behalf by the voters of the assembly or supervisorial district in which he is a candidate. Nomination papers

SEC. 4. Section 2841 of said code is amended to read:

2841. In each county and in each city and county regardless of the number of assembly districts contained therein, the number of candidates for membership in a county central committee to which each party is entitled in each assembly or supervisorial district who receive the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; but a candidate for county committeeman shall not be declared elected unless he has received votes equal in number to the minimum of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to place his name on the direct primary ballot as a candidate for member of the county committee. Election

SEC. 5. Section 2842 of said code is amended to read:

2842. Every county central committee shall meet in the courthouse at its county seat, upon call which shall be given by the county clerk of said county and in quarters to be arranged or provided for by the county clerk of said county, on the second Tuesday in July following the direct primary, except that in any year in which a national political party shall have set the national convention of the party to include such date, the existing executive committee of the county central committee of that party shall set the date of the meeting, not to exceed 30 days after the date above specified. At such meeting such county central committee shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary, and such other officers and Meetings committees as it deems necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

SEC. 6. Section 2843 of said code is amended to read :

Chairman

2843. In all counties the county clerk shall within 10 days after the county central committee meets as provided for in Section 2842 ascertain who is the newly elected chairman of each county central committee and shall mail a certificate to that effect to the Secretary of State.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8151 of the Education Code is amended to read:

School
holidays

8151. Except as otherwise provided the public schools shall continue in session or close on holidays as follows:

(a) The public schools shall close on Saturday, Sunday, January 1st, February 12th, February 22d, May 30th, July 4th, September 9th, November 11th, and December 25th.

(b) The Governor in appointing any other day for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday may provide whether the public schools shall close on the day. If the Governor does not provide whether the public schools shall close, they shall continue in session on all special or limited holidays appointed by the Governor, but shall close on all other days appointed by the Governor for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday.

(c) The public schools shall close on every day appointed by the President as a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday, unless it is a special or limited holiday.

(d) The public schools shall continue in session on all legal holidays other than those designated by or pursuant to this section and shall hold proper exercises commemorating the day.

(e) When any of the holidays on which the schools would be closed fall on Sunday, the public schools shall close on the Monday following.

SEC. 1.5. Section 8152 of said code is amended to read:

8152. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the governing board of any school district may declare a holiday in the public schools under its jurisdiction when good reason exists.

Power of governing board

SEC. 2. Section 8153 of said code is amended to read:

8153. All public schools throughout the State shall, on the school day next preceding February 12th and February 22d, hold the customary exercises in memory of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, respectively.

Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays

SEC. 3. Section 8158 of said code is amended to read:

8158. The governing board of any district maintaining a junior college may provide for the maintenance of junior college classes on Saturday.

Saturday classes Junior colleges

SEC. 4. Section 8160 of said code is amended to read:

8160. The governing board of any high school district may provide for the maintenance on Saturday of special day and evening classes in vocational training authorized and provided for by any program of national defense of the Federal Government, or any agency thereof, acting through the State Department of Education.

Saturday vocational training classes National defense

No apportionments from state funds based upon average daily attendance in such special day or evening classes, whether maintained on Saturday or other days, shall be made where the total cost of the classes is borne by the Federal Government, or any agency thereof.

SEC. 5. Section 8286 of said code is amended to read:

8286. Pupils, with the written consent of their parents or guardians, may be excused from school in order to participate in religious exercises or to receive moral and religious instruction at their respective places of worship or at other suitable place or places away from school property designated by the religious group, church, or denomination, which shall be in addition and supplementary to the instruction in manners and morals required elsewhere in this code. Such absence shall not be deemed absence in computing average daily attendance, if all of the following conditions are complied with:

Moral and religious instruction

(a) The governing board of the district of attendance, in its discretion, shall first adopt a resolution permitting pupils to be absent from school for such exercises or instruction.

(b) The governing board shall adopt regulations governing the attendance of pupils at such exercises or instruction and the reporting thereof.

(c) Each pupil so excused shall attend school at least the minimum school day for his grade for elementary schools, and as provided by the relevant provisions of the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education for secondary schools.

(d) No pupil shall be excused from school for such purpose on more than four days per school month.

It is hereby declared to be the intent of the Legislature that this section shall be permissive only.

SEC. 6. Section 8401 of said code is amended to read:

Establishment, etc.,
of kindergartens

8401. The governing board of any school district shall establish and maintain a kindergarten upon petition of the parents or guardians of 25 or more children who will be between the ages of four years and nine months and six years on the next September 1st following the signing of the petition, and who reside within the district.

The governing board of any school district may, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools and county board of education having jurisdiction over the district, establish and maintain a kindergarten.

SEC. 7. Section 8406 of said code is amended to read:

Discontinuance

8406. If the average daily attendance in any kindergarten in any school district is 10 or less for the school year, the governing body of the school district shall, at the close of the school year, either discontinue the kindergarten or combine the kindergarten with the first grade of an elementary school of the district. In the latter event, the attendance of the children enrolled in the kindergarten shall be counted as attendance upon a kindergarten.

SEC. 8. Section 8406.1 is amended to read:

Increase of minimum age

8406.1. If the minimum age fixed by Section 8404 at which children may be admitted to kindergarten is increased, the provisions of Section 8406 shall not apply to any kindergarten the average daily attendance of which for the first school year in which such increase becomes effective is 10 or less, and the governing board of the district maintaining the kindergarten may, in its discretion, continue to maintain the kindergarten in the following school year, without combining it with the first grade.

SEC. 9. Section 8826 of said code is amended to read:

Financing of four-year colleges

8826. Four-year junior colleges shall be financed in the same manner and from the same funds as provided for the financing of two-year junior colleges. The provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 16 of Division 3 of this code relating to the Junior College Tuition Fund shall not be applicable in the case of pupils attending the eleventh and twelfth grades in any four-year junior college except in the case of pupils who reside in an elementary school district not situated in a high school district.

SEC. 10. Section 9858 of said code is amended to read:

"Vocational rehabilitation," "Vocational rehabilitation
services"

9858. "Vocational rehabilitation" and "vocational rehabilitation services" mean any service provided directly or through public or private instrumentalities to a disabled individual to compensate for his employment handicap and to enable him to engage in a remunerative occupation. Such services include, but are not limited to, medical and vocational diagnosis, vocational guidance, counseling and placement, rehabilitation training, physical restoration, transportation, occupational and business licenses, equipment, initial stocks and supplies, including livestock, maintenance, and instructional supplies and equipment which the department may permit to be retained by any trainee to whom furnished if essential to permit him to enter upon and follow an occupation.

SEC. 11. Article 10 is added to Chapter 1 of Division 5 of said code, to read:

Article 10. Instruction Relating to Manners, Morals, Alcohol, and Narcotics

10191. Instruction shall be given in all grades of school and in all classes during the entire school course, in manners and morals. Instruction upon the nature of alcohol and narcotics and their effects upon the human system as determined by science shall be included in the curriculum of all elementary and secondary schools. The governing board of the district shall adopt regulations specifying the grade or grades and the course or courses in which such instruction with respect to alcohol and narcotics shall be included. Manners and morals

10192. All persons responsible for the preparation or enforcement of courses of study shall provide for instruction on the subjects of alcohol and narcotics. Alcohol and narcotics

SEC. 12. Section 11021 of said code is amended to read:

11021. Any principal, teacher, employee, or school officer of any elementary or secondary school who refuses to use the textbooks prescribed by the proper authority for use in the elementary or secondary schools or classes under his charge, or who requires any pupil to purchase any supplementary book or books for the pupil's use in the schools, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100). Refusal to use prescribed books

SEC. 13. Section 11150 is added to said code, to read:

11150. The term "elementary schools" as used in this chapter includes all public schools, except junior high schools, in which instruction is given in the first to the eighth grades, inclusive, or in any one or more of such grades. "Elementary schools"

SEC. 14. Section 11151 of said code is amended to read:

11151. The State Board of Education shall adopt and provide one or more basic textbooks for use in the elementary schools of the State in each of the subjects prescribed for such schools by Section 10302 of this code, except in art and in morals and manners. The board may adopt a single textbook covering more than one of these subjects. The board may also adopt and provide other textbooks, supplementary books, and teachers' manuals for use in the elementary schools of the State. The board may also adopt and provide teachers' manuals for use in the kindergarten schools of the State. The board may cause such textbooks, supplementary books, and teachers' manuals to be printed by the State Department of Finance. Textbooks

The State Board of Education shall make no charge to either school districts or pupils for any textbooks, supplementary books, or teachers' manuals provided pursuant to this section.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the governing board of any school district, or any county library from ordering and purchasing such supplementary textbooks as are required.

SEC. 16. Section 11275 of said code is amended to read:

Refusal, etc., to use textbooks

11275. Any city, county, or city and county superintendent of schools, or any governing board that refuses or neglects to use any state textbook at the time required by this article is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense.

SEC. 17. Section 11291 of said code is amended to read:

Distribution
of textbooks

11291. The State Board of Education shall provide for the distribution of basic textbooks in such manner as to provide each pupil enrolled in each grade of each public elementary school with one copy of each basic textbook adopted for use in such grade during the period of the school year the textbook is in actual use in such school; provided, however, that school districts may order, in lieu thereof, basic textbooks adopted for lower grades or higher grades for use by those pupils for whom such textbooks would be more appropriate. The board shall provide for the distribution of other textbooks, supplementary textbooks, and teachers' manuals in such manner as it may determine. No charge shall be made by the board to any pupil or any school district for any book distributed by it pursuant to this section.

SEC. 18. Section 11674 of said code is amended to read:

Sale of used books

11674. The governing board of a high school district may at the end of any school term sell textbooks owned by the district to pupils of the district at prices which shall not exceed the actual value of the textbooks. The governing board shall not require pupils of the district to purchase textbooks offered for sale by the board.

The proceeds of the sales shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of the general fund of the school district.

SEC. 19. Section 11741 of said code is amended to read:

Notice of listing

11741. The Department of Education shall provide each publisher with a certificate for each book officially listed and shall from time to time notify county superintendents of schools, city superintendents of schools, and high school principals, which books have been officially listed and the maximum prices at which the books may be purchased.

SEC. 20. Section 13861 of said code is amended to read:

Method of
payment

13861. The governing board of each school district when drawing an order for the salary payment due to employees of the district, shall without charge reduce the order by the amount which it has been requested in a revocable written authorization by the employee to deduct for any or all of the following purposes: paying premiums on any policy or certificate of group life insurance for the benefit of the employee or for group disability insurance, or both, for the benefit of the employee or his dependents issued by an admitted insurer on a form of policy or certificate approved by the Insurance Commissioner, or paying rates, dues, fees, or other periodic charges on any hospital service contract for the benefit of the employee, or his dependents, issued by a nonprofit hospital service corporation on a form approved by the Insurance Commissioner pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 11A of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code. The governing board of the district shall each month draw its order upon the funds of the district in favor of the insurer which has issued the policies or certificates or in favor of the nonprofit hospital service corporation which has issued hospital service contracts, for an amount equal to the total of the respective deductions therefor made during the month.

SEC. 21. The heading of Article 1 of Chapter 1 of Division 9 of said code is amended to read:

Article 1. Powers and Duties of Governing Boards of Districts

SEC. 22. Section 18003 of said code is amended to read:

18003. In districts situated within or partly within cities of the first class or of the first and one-half class any board of education may establish a fund in the county treasury for the purpose of covering fire losses to school property in lieu of carrying fire insurance in admitted insurers as provided in Section 18002 of this code. In such fund shall be placed such sums, to be provided in the budget of the district, as will create an amount which, together with investments made from such fund, will be sufficient in the judgment of the board of education upon the advice of competent actuaries to protect such board of education against losses by fire on all or any part of the school property within its jurisdiction. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as prohibiting the board of education from providing protection against fire losses partly by means of such fund and partly by means of fire insurance written by admitted insurers as provided in Section 18002 of this code.

Fire loss
fund

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, such fund shall be considered as separate and apart from all other funds of the district and the balance therein shall not be considered as being part of the working cash of the district in compiling annual budgets or fixing annual tax rates.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, warrants shall not be drawn on or transfers made from the fund so created except to reimburse the district for losses by fire and then only after resolution duly adopted by the board of education based upon findings by competent appraisers.

The cash placed in such fund may be invested and reinvested by the county treasurer with the advice and consent of the board of education in securities which are legal investments for surplus county funds in this State. The income derived from such investments together with interest earned on uninvested funds shall be considered revenue of and be deposited in such fund.

Reports

The county treasurer shall make quarterly reports to the board of education as to the condition of the fund, using as a basis for such report the cost or market value, whichever may be the lower, of the securities held as investments plus the cash in such fund.

Housing
employees

SEC. 23. Section 18008 of said code is amended to read: 18008. The governing board of any school district may construct, lease, or purchase buildings for housing employees of the district, and may equip and maintain the buildings. The employees of the district shall pay rent for the use of the buildings, or the rental value of the buildings used by them shall be taken into account in fixing their compensation.

Grounds

SEC. 24. Section 18022 of said code is amended to read: 18022. The county superintendent of schools may also require the governing board, where practicable, to adorn the school grounds with fruit and ornamental trees and shrubbery. If the governing board neglects to do so, he may cause it to be done and pay for it on his requisition upon the county auditor, who shall draw his warrant payable out of any money to the credit of the district.

Examination
of buildings

SEC. 25. Section 18205 of said code is amended to read: 18205. Upon written request by the governing board of any school district or upon written request by at least 10 percent of the parents having children enrolled as pupils in any school district as certified to by the county superintendent of schools, the Division of Architecture shall make an examination and report on the structural condition of any public school building of the district, subject to the payment by the governing board of the actual expenses incurred by the Division of Architecture. Payment of the expenses may be waived by the Division of Architecture on recommendation of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction when it appears to him that the school district in which the public school building is located cannot afford to pay them.

Report of planning commission

SEC. 26. Section 18403 of said code is amended to read: 18403. To promote the safety of pupils and comprehensive community planning the governing board of each school district before acquiring title to property for a new school site or for an addition to a present school site, shall give the planning commission having jurisdiction notice in writing of the proposed acquisition. The planning commission shall investigate the proposed site and within 30 days after receipt of the notice shall submit to the governing board a written report of the investigation and its recommendations concerning acquisition of the site.

The governing board shall not acquire title to the property until the report of the planning commission has been received. If the report does not favor the acquisition of the property for a school site, or for an addition to a present school site, the governing board of the school district shall not acquire title to the property until 30 days after the commission's report is received.

SEC. 27. Section 18404 of said code is amended to read:

18404. To promote the safety of pupils, comprehensive community planning, and greater educational usefulness of school sites the governing board of each school district, except districts governed by a city board of education, before acquiring title to property for a new school site or for an addition to a present school site, shall give the State Department of Education notice in writing of the proposed acquisition. The State Department of Education shall investigate the proposed site and within 30 days after receipt of the notice shall submit to the governing board a written report and its recommendations concerning acquisition of the site. Report of Department
of Education

The governing board shall not acquire title to the property until the report of the State Department of Education has been received. If the report does not favor the acquisition of the property for a school site or for an addition to a present school site, the governing board shall not acquire title to the property until 30 days after the department's report is received.

on additional centers

19617. No new child care center shall be established unless specifically authorized by the Department of Education after it has surveyed the financial needs of the existing child care centers and finds that the establishment of the new child care center will not financially jeopardize or otherwise curtail the operations of the existing child care centers.

SEC. 35. Section 20356 of said code is amended to read :

Student housing
facilities
Rents, etc.

20356. The Director of Education, with the approval of the Director of Finance, shall fix the rents, charges, and fees to be required of students utilizing student housing facilities operated by a state college, but such rents, charges, and fees shall be fixed to yield not less than the annual revenue required to meet annual operating and maintenance expenses, including repairs and the replacement of equipment.

Charge auxiliary enterprise
fund

All of such rents, charges, and fees collected by any state college shall be paid into a working capital revolving fund in the State Treasury, to be designated the College Auxiliary Enterprise Fund, which fund is hereby created.

Appropriation

All money in the College Auxiliary Enterprise Fund is hereby appropriated to the department for the maintenance, repair, and operation of student housing facilities established under the provisions of this section and for the construction, improvement, and equipment of such student housing facilities pursuant to the provisions of this section, and for the payment of refunds of rents, charges, and fees to any person entitled thereto, as determined by the department in accordance with law.

SEC. 36. Section 20543 of said code is amended to read :

Powers of State Board
of Education

20543. The board, for the purposes of this article, has power and is hereby authorized, in addition to and amplification of all other powers conferred upon said board by the Constitution of the State of California or by any statute of the State of California:

(a) To acquire subject to the Property Acquisition Law, Part 11 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and to hold and use any real or personal property necessary or convenient or useful for the carrying on of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(b) To construct, operate and control any project.

(c) To fix rates, rents or other charges for the use of any project acquired, constructed, equipped, furnished, operated or maintained by the board, or for services rendered in connection therewith, and to alter, change or modify the same at its pleasure, subject to any contractual obligation which may be entered into by the board with respect to the fixing of such rates, rents or charges.

(d) To enter into covenants to increase rates or charges from time to time as may be necessary pursuant to any such contract or agreement with the holders of any bonds of the board.

(e) At any time and from time to time, with the approval of the State Board of Control, to issue revenue bonds in order to raise funds for the purpose of establishing any project or of acquiring lands for any project, or of acquiring, constructing, improving, equipping or furnishing any project, or of refinancing any project, or for any combination of such purposes, which bonds may be secured as hereinafter provided.

(f) To exercise, subject to the Property Acquisition Law, Part 11 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, the right of eminent domain for the condemnation of private property or any right or interest therein.

(g) To adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to enable the board to exercise the powers and to perform the duties conferred or imposed upon the board by this article.

(h) Nothing contained in this section or elsewhere in this article shall be construed directly or by implication to be in anywise in derogation of or in limitation of powers conferred upon or existing in the board by virtue of provisions of the Constitution or statutes of this State.

CHAPTER 878

An act to amend Section 2206 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to mosquito abatement districts.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2206 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

2206. No district formed or proposed to be formed under this chapter shall be subject to any of the provisions of the District Investigation Act of 1933. This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature and thereafter shall be of no force or effect.

CHAPTER 879

An act to amend Sections 481 and 482 of the Vehicle Code, relating to the duty of a driver to stop in the event of an accident.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 481 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

Accidents involving
damage

481. Accidents Involving Property Damage. (a) The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in damage to property shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of such accident and shall fulfill the requirements of Section 482(b) hereof and any person failing to stop or to comply with said requirements under such circumstances is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months or by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) or by both.

(b) This section shall have no application where the driver of a vehicle collides with any vehicle which is unattended.

SEC. 2. Section 482 of said code is amended to read:

Duty to give information and render

482. Duty to Give Information and Render Aid. (a) The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to or death of any person shall also give his name, address and the registration number of the vehicle he is driving, the name of the owner, and shall upon request and if available exhibit his operator's or chauffeur's license to the person struck or the driver or occupants of any vehicle collided with or shall give such information and exhibit such license to any traffic or police officer at the scene of the accident and shall render to any person injured in such accident reasonable assistance, including the carrying or the making arrangements for the carrying of such person to a physician, surgeon or hospital for medical or surgical treatment if it is apparent that such treatment is necessary or if such carrying is requested by the injured person. In the event of death of any person resulting from an accident, the driver of any vehicle involved must, after fulfilling the requirements of Section 480 of this code and the foregoing requirements of this subsection, and if there be no traffic or police officer at the scene of the accident to whom to give the information required by this subsection, shall, without delay, report such accident to the nearest office of the California Highway Patrol or office of a duly authorized police authority and submit with such report the information required by this subsection.

(b) The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in damage to property shall take reasonable steps to locate and notify the owner or person in charge of such property of such fact and of his name and address and of the registration number of the vehicle he is driving and shall upon request and if available exhibit his operator's or chauffeur's license, except that when the driver of any vehicle collides with any vehicle which is unattended the provisions of Section 483 hereof shall apply.

(c) If the driver does not have his operator's or chauffeur's license in his possession, he shall exhibit other valid evidences of identification to the occupants of a vehicle collided with.

CHAPTER 880

An act to add Sections 585.6, 585.7 and 585.8 to and to amend Sections 585 and 585.5 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 585 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

585. When Officers Authorized to Remove Vehicles From Highways. (a) It is unlawful for any peace officer or any unauthorized person to remove any unattended vehicle from a highway to a garage or from said highway to any other place, except as provided in this code.

Removal of vehicles from highways

(b) Any member of the California Highway Patrol or any regularly employed and salaried deputy of the sheriff's office of a county in which a vehicle is located or any regularly employed and salaried officer of a police department in a city in which a vehicle is located is hereby authorized to remove a vehicle from a highway to the nearest garage or other place of safety or to a garage designated or maintained by the governmental agency of which the officer is a member only under the circumstances hereinafter enumerated.

(1) When any vehicle is left unattended upon any bridge, viaduct or causeway or in any tube or tunnel where such vehicle constitutes an obstruction to traffic.

(2) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to block the entrance to a private driveway and it is impracticable to move such vehicle from in front of the driveway to another point on the highway.

(3) When any vehicle is found upon a highway and report has previously been made that such vehicle has been stolen or complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that such vehicle has been embezzled.

(4) When a vehicle upon a highway is so disabled as to constitute an obstruction to traffic and the person or persons in charge of the vehicle are by reason of physical injuries incapacitated to such an extent as to be unable to provide for its custody or removal.

(5) When an officer arrests any person driving or in control of a vehicle for an alleged offense and such officer is by this code or other law required to take the person arrested immediately before a magistrate.

(6) When a vehicle is illegally parked on a highway in violation of local ordinance forbidding standing or parking and the use of a highway or a portion thereof is necessary for repair, construction, the installation of underground utilities or where the use of the highway or any portion thereof is authorized by local authorities for a purpose other than the normal flow of traffic; or for the movement of equipment, articles or structures of unusual size; and the parking of such vehicle would prohibit or interfere with such use or movement and signs are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to ordinance.

Notice to owner

(c) Whenever an officer removes a vehicle from a highway as authorized in this section and the officer knows or is able to ascertain from the registration records in the vehicle or from the registration records of the Department of Motor Vehicles the name and address of the owner thereof, such officer shall immediately give or cause to be given notice in writing to such owner of the fact of such removal, the grounds thereof and of the place to which such vehicle has been removed. In the event any such vehicle is stored in a public garage a copy of such notice shall be given to the proprietor of such garage.

Owner
unknown
Report

(d) Whenever an officer removing a vehicle from a highway under this section does not know and is not able to ascertain the name of the owner or for any other reason is unable to give the notice to the owner as hereinbefore provided and in the event the vehicle is not returned to the owner within a period of 120 hours, then and in that event the officer shall immediately send or cause to be sent written report of such removal by mail to the department at Sacramento and shall file a copy of such notice with the proprietor of any public garage in which the vehicle may be stored. Such report shall be made on a form furnished by the department and shall include a complete description of the vehicle, the date, time and place from which removed, the grounds for such removal and the name of the garage or place where the vehicle is stored.

(e) The department upon receiving a notice as hereinbefore provided of the removal of any vehicle from a highway shall notify the registered and legal owner in writing at the addresses of such persons as shown by the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles, if the vehicle is registered in this State, of the removal of such vehicle, and give the name of the police officer reporting such removal, the grounds upon which the removal was authorized and the location of the vehicle. If the vehicle is not registered in this State, the department shall make reasonable effort to notify the legal or registered owner of the removal and location of the vehicle.

Garage
keeper's
lien

(f) Whenever any vehicle has been removed to a garage under the provisions of this section and the keeper of such garage has received the notice or notices from the arresting officer as provided herein, said keeper shall have a lien dependent upon possession for his compensation for towage and for caring for and keeping safe such vehicle for a period not exceeding 90 days and, if said vehicle is not recovered by the owner within said 90 days or the owner is unknown, the keeper of said garage may satisfy his lien in the manner and after giving the notices required in Sections 427 and 428 of this code. Notwithstanding the provision of this subdivision, if the vehicle is appraised at a value not exceeding seventy-five dollars ($75) by a person authorized to make such appraisal under Section 585.8, the keeper of the garage may, if the vehicle is not recovered by the owner within 40 days or the owner is unknown, satisfy his lien as provided in Section 428.5 of this code.

SEC. 2. Section 585.5 of said code is amended to read:

585.5. When Officers Authorized to Remove Vehicles From Private Property. (a) Any member of the California Highway Patrol or any regularly employed and salaried deputy of the sheriff's office of a county in which a vehicle is located or any regularly employed and salaried officer of a police department in a city in which a vehicle is located is hereby authorized to remove a vehicle from private property to the nearest garage or other place of safety or to a garage designated or maintained by the governmental agency of which the officer is a member when any vehicle is found and report has previously been made that such vehicle has been stolen or complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that such vehicle has been embezzled.

Removal
of vehicles from private
property

(b) The provisions of subsections (c), (d), (e) and (f) of Section 585 shall apply in the case of vehicles removed under this section.

SEC. 3. Section 585.6 is added to said code, to read:

585.6. Unlawful to Abandon Vehicle. (a) No person shall abandon a vehicle upon any highway.

Unlawful to abandon vehicle

(b) No person shall abandon a vehicle upon public or private property without the express or implied consent of the owner or person in lawful possession or control of such property.

SEC. 4. Section 585.7 is added to said code, to read:

585.7. Removal of Abandoned Vehicles. (a) Any member of the California Highway Patrol or any regularly employed and salaried deputy of the sheriff's office of a county in which a vehicle is located or any regularly employed and salaried officer of a police department in a city in which a vehicle is located who has reasonable grounds to believe that such vehicle has been abandoned, is hereby authorized to remove such vehicle from a highway or from public or private property to the nearest garage or other place of safety, or to a garage designated or maintained by the governmental agency of which the officer is a member.

Removal of abandoned
vehicles

(b) Either before or after removal of said vehicle, the public agency employing such officer shall cause an appraisal to be made of any vehicle which reasonably appears to have been abandoned. Such appraisal shall be made by a person authorized to make such appraisal under Section 585.8.

Appraisal

(c) If the vehicle is appraised at a value exceeding seventy-five dollars ($75), the provisions of subdivisions (e), (d), (e) and (f) of Section 585 shall apply.

When notice to owner required

(d) If the vehicle is appraised at a value not exceeding seventy-five dollars ($75), and a lienholder does not within 15 days following such appraisal indicate his intention to exercise any right he may have to sell the vehicle at public sale under

Junking or dismantling vehicle worth $75 or less

Section 428.5, the officer removing said vehicle shall file with the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento a certificate which shall describe the vehicle and shall state the following:

(1) That the vehicle has been appraised at a value not exceeding seventy-five dollars ($75).

(2) That such vehicle will be junked or dismantled.

(3) That the officer removing such vehicle has been unable, after diligent inquiry, to locate any person having any interest in said vehicle, or, that having located a person having an interest in the vehicle, such person has subscribed to an affidavit disclaiming any future interest in the vehicle. In such latter event, such affidavit shall accompany the certificate herein required.

Upon completion and forwarding of such certificate or certificate and affidavit to the Department of Motor Vehicles, such officer, or the public agency employing him, may authorize that said abandoned vehicle be disposed of to a licensed automobile wrecker without the necessity of public sale and free of any lien for fees and penalties due and payable to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Such officer or public agency shall execute and deliver a bill of sale, together with a copy of the documents filed with the Department of Motor Vehicles, to the person receiving said vehicle.

In no event shall such documents be forwarded to the Department of Motor Vehicles nor said vehicle be disposed of until the expiration of 15 days from the day such vehicle was removed from a highway or public or private property.

Disposition
of proceeds

(e) In the event a vehicle as described in subdivision (d) is sold by the public agency removing the same, the proceeds of such sale shall be disposed of in the following manner:

(1) First, to pay any cost of towing and storage involved in removal of the vehicle.

(2) The balance shall be forwarded to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Said department may recover therefrom any fees and penalties due and payable to the Department of Motor Vehicles in respect to such vehicle.

(3) Any balance then remaining shall be paid by the Department of Motor Vehicles first to any legal owner, and second to any registered owner, as their interests may appear upon the records of said department. If such payments cannot be made, the balance shall be deposited in the Motor Vehicle Fund.

SEC. 5. Section 585.8 is added to said code, to read:

Persons authorized to make appraisals

585.8. Persons Authorized to Make Appraisals. (a) The following persons shall have the authority to make appraisals of the value of vehicles for purposes of this chapter, subject to the conditions stated in this section:

(1) Any member of the California Highway Patrol designated by the commissioner.

(2) Any regularly employed and salaried deputy sheriff designated by the sheriff of any county.

(3) Any regularly employed and salaried police officer designated by the chief of police of any city.

(4) Any officer or employee of the Department of Motor Vehicles designated by the director of said department.

(b) The commissioner or any sheriff or chief of police who designates a person authorized to make appraisals shall certify the name of every such person to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento.

CHAPTER 881

An act to add Section 24008 to the Government Code, relating to county fire wardens.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24008 is added to the Government Code, to read:

24008. The board of supervisors may appoint a county fire warden and such assistant and deputy county fire wardens as it may consider necessary. The county fire warden shall aid in enforcing all laws and ordinances and any rules or regulations adopted by the State Board of Forestry and by the State Fire Marshal relating to fires or to fire prevention and protection. The county fire warden, and his deputies and assistants shall perform such duties relating to fires or to fire protection and prevention as are required by the board of supervisors. The county fire warden, and such assistant and deputy county fire wardens as may be designated by the county fire warden, have the powers of peace officers to make arrests without warrant for violation of any state, county, or federal fire laws, and are not liable to civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of their duties. In making any such arrests, the county fire warden, his assistants, and his deputies shall follow the procedure prescribed in Section 4012 of the Public Resources Code. The county fire warden, his assistants, and deputies shall serve at the pleasure of the board of supervisors and shall be paid such salaries and receive such reimbursement for mileage while traveling on official business as may be determined by the board.

Notwithstanding other provisions of this section to the contrary, if the board of supervisors of a county, in which a civil service system has been created for county officers and employees, determines that it is necessary to provide for the appointment of a county fire warden and assistant and deputy county fire wardens, such county fire warden and assistants and deputies shall be selected and appointed pursuant to the provisions relating to such civil service system and the persons so appointed shall be entitled to all of the rights and privileges, and subject to all of the provisions, provided by such system in the same manner and to the same extent as other county officers and employees included in such system. This paragraph does not apply to any county in which the office of county fire warden, or assistant or deputy county fire warden is or has been excluded from the civil service system.

CHAPTER 882

An act to add Article 7 to Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 2, Title 4 of the Government Code, relating to the annexation of territory to cities.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 7, consisting of Sections 35450 to 35458, inclusive, is hereby added to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2, Title 4, of the Government Code, to read:

Article 7. Annexation of County Highways

Annexation of unincorporated territory
Highways

35450. The board of supervisors may effect the annexation to an adjacent city of unincorporated territory consisting solely of a highway or highways, or portions thereof, bounded on both sides by city boundaries, pursuant to the provisions of this article if the annexation of such highway or highways will not result in the creation of an island of unincorporated territory completely surrounded by incorporated territory.

Resolution of intention

35451. Proceedings are initiated by the board of supervisors of the county in which the highway or highways or portions thereof are located, passing a resolution of intention to cause the annexation thereof to one of the abutting cities. Such resolution shall contain a description of the territory proposed to be annexed and indicate the city to which it is proposed to be annexed.

Notice

35452. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall cause notice of the proposed annexation to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. The notice shall contain a general description of the land sought to be annexed, the city to which it is proposed to be annexed, and announce the time and place objections will be heard. The clerk shall mail a copy of such notice to the legislative bodies of all cities whose boundaries are contiguous with any of the area proposed to be annexed at least 10 days prior to the date set for hearing.

Protest

35453. Any taxpayer of the county or of the city to which it is proposed that the territory be annexed, as well as any city whose boundaries are contiguous to the territory proposed to be annexed, may object by filing a written protest with the board prior to the date set for the hearing.

Hearing

35454. At the time specified in the notice, or fixed by postponement, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon the protests. The decision of the board of supervisors upon the protest is final.

35455. After hearing the protests, the board of supervisors shall vote upon the question of the annexation. A majority vote of the board is final upon the question. Vote of board

35456. If the board of supervisors approves the annexation of the territory to the city as proposed, the clerk of the board shall enter upon its minutes, certify, and transmit to the Secretary of State and to the annexing city's legislative body copies of the resolution approving the annexation and the date on which it was passed. Filing

35457. The documents shall be filed by the Secretary of State and from the date of filing thereof the annexation is complete and the annexed territory is a part of the annexing city for all purposes. Date of annexation

35458. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall file the affidavit of completion and the statement of boundary change required by Chapter 8, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5, of this code. Statement of boundary change

CHAPTER 883

An act to add Sections 35104.5 and 35302.5 to the Government Code, relating to the annexation to a city of governmentally owned property.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35104.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

35104.5. Real property belonging to a governmental agency may be annexed pursuant to this article.

SEC. 2. Section 35302.5 is added to said code, to read:

35302.5. Real property belonging to a governmental agency may be annexed pursuant to this article.

CHAPTER 884

An act to amend Sections 35105.5 and 35304.5 of the Government Code, relating to the annexation of territory by cities.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35105.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

35105.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 35002.5, territory consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road, and such street, highway or road to the extent that it Property abutting on a street, etc

abuts such property together with any street, highway, or road which connects such territory to the city may be annexed to a city pursuant to this article; provided, that if any portion of such territory or street, highway, or road is situated within three miles of the boundaries of any other city the consent of the legislative body of such other city shall first be obtained.

For the purposes of this section, the "road strip" is the street, highway or road which connects territory, herein called the "property to be annexed," consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road and such street, highway, or road to the extent it abuts such property to the annexing city.

strip"

Territory described in the first paragraph shall not be annexed if the distance measured by the "road strip" is more than one-half mile from the point at which such "road strip" connects with the city boundary to the point nearest to the city boundary at which it connects with the "property to be annexed."

"Territory
first annexed"

If territory described in the first paragraph of this section is annexed, herein called the "territory first annexed," a city shall not annex other territory consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road and such street, highway, or road to the extent that it abuts such property together with any street, highway, or road which connects such territory to the city if the point at which such "road strip" connects such city with such "property to be annexed" is a point located on any boundary of the "territory first annexed," unless the portion of the "territory first annexed" which constitutes the "road strip" of such territory is less than one-half mile, measured in the same manner as provided in the preceding paragraph, and is not more than one-half mile when added to that portion of the other territory proposed to be annexed which constitutes the "road strip" of such other territory.

Property
abutting on a street,
etc.

SEC. 2. Section 35304.5 of said code is amended to read:

35304.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 35002.5, territory consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road and such street, highway, or road to the extent that it abuts such property together with any street, highway, or road which connects such territory to the city may be annexed to a city pursuant to this article if the owner or owners of all such abutting property either petition for such annexation or file their consent to such annexation in writing with the governing body of the city; provided, that if any portion of such territory or street, highway or road is situated within three miles of the boundaries of any other city the consent of the legislative body of such other city shall first be obtained.

For the purposes of this section, the "road strip" is the street, highway or road which connects territory, herein called the "property to be annexed," consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road and such street, highway, or road to the extent it abuts such property to the annexing city.

Territory described in the first paragraph shall not be annexed if the distance measured by the "road strip" is more than one-half mile from the point at which such "road strip" connects with the city boundary to the point nearest to the city boundary at which it connects with the "property to be annexed."

If territory described in this section is annexed, herein called the "territory first annexed," a city shall not annex other territory consisting of property abutting on a street, highway, or road and such street, highway, or road to the extent that it abuts such property together with any street, highway, or road which connects such territory to the city if the point at which such "road strip" connects such city with such "property to be annexed" is a point located on a boundary of the "territory first annexed," unless the portion of the "territory first annexed" which constitutes the "road strip" of such territory is less than one-half mile, measured in the same manner as provided in the preceding paragraph, and is not more than one-half mile when added to that portion of the other territory proposed to be annexed which constitutes the "road strip" of such other territory.

CHAPTER 885

An act to amend Section 117g of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to small claims courts.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 117g of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117g. No attorney at law or other person than the plaintiff and defendant shall take any part in the filing or the prosecution or defense of such litigation in the small claims court. The plaintiff and defendant shall have the right to offer evidence in their behalf by witnesses appearing at such hearing, or at any other time. The presence of the plaintiff or defendant, whether individual or corporate, at the hearing shall not be required to permit the proof of the items of an account but such proof shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Uniform Business Records as Evidence Act. The judge or justice may also informally make any investigation of the controversy between the parties either in or out of court and give judgment and make such orders as to time of payment or otherwise as may, by him, be deemed to be right and just. The provisions of Section 579 of the Code of Civil Procedure are hereby made applicable to small claims court actions.

CHAPTER 886

An act to amend Section 474 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the pleading of fictitious names.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 474 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

474. When the plaintiff is ignorant of the name of a defendant, he must state that fact in the complaint, or the affidavit if the action is commenced by affidavit, and such defendant may be designated in any pleading or proceeding by any name, and when his true name is discovered, the pleading or proceeding must be amended accordingly; provided, that no default or default judgment shall be entered against a defendant so designated, unless it appears that the copy of the summons or other process, or, if there be no summons or process, the copy of the first pleading or notice served upon such defendant bore on the face thereof a notice stating in substance: "To the person served: You are hereby served in the within action (or proceedings) as (or on behalf of) the person sued under the fictitious name of (designating it)." The certificate or affidavit of service must state the fictitious name under which such defendant was served and the fact that notice of identity was given by endorsement upon the document served as required by this section. The foregoing requirements for entry of a default or default judgment shall be applicable only as to fictitious names designated pursuant to this section and not in the event the plaintiff has sued the defendant by an erroneous name and shall not be applicable to entry of a default or default judgment based upon service, in the manner otherwise provided by law, of an amended pleading, process or notice designating defendant by his true name.

CHAPTER 887

An act to add Section 187 to the Vehicle Code, relating to car dealers and lending agencies.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 187 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

187. Notification of Insurance Coverage. Every dealer who, upon transferring by sale, lease, or otherwise, any new or used vehicle of a type subject to registration, requires the transferee to insure such vehicle, and every lending agency which, as the holder of any security interest in any such vehicle, requires its obligor to insure such vehicle, shall, if the required insurance policy is obtained by the dealer or lending agency and such policy does not insure such transferee or obligor against damages resulting from the ownership or operation of such vehicle arising by reason of personal injury to or the death of any person, or from injury to property, notify the transferee or obligor of such fact in writing on a document other than the insurance policy, but such notice need not be given if such insurance is obtained by the dealer or lending agency because of the failure or refusal of such transferee or obligor to furnish such insurance or to renew any such insurance in accordance with the terms of the contract of sale, encumbrance or other loan agreement.

CHAPTER 888

An act to add Section 69902.5 to the Government Code, relating to the office of the jury commissioner.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69902.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69902.5. Any county having a retirement system for its employees may include in it the jury commissioner, deputy jury commissioners, and other assistants, attaches and employees of the office of the jury commissioner of that county whose salaries are paid by the county. Where such action is taken by any county, the included jury commissioner, deputy jury commissioners, and other assistants, attaches and employees of the office of the jury commissioner shall be subject to all of the provisions of the local retirement system.

CHAPTER 889

An act to add Section 479 to the Vehicle Code, relating to pedestrian crosswalks near schools.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 479 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

479. Pedestrian Crosswalks Near Schools. Whenever a marked pedestrian crosswalk has been established in a roadway contiguous to a school building or the grounds thereof, such crosswalk shall be painted in yellow and there shall be painted in yellow on each side of the street in the lane or lanes leading to such crosswalk the following words, "SLOW—SCHOOL—XING." A crosswalk shall not be painted yellow at any location other than as required in this section.

CHAPTER 890

An act to amend Section 13009 of the Education Code, relating to exchange certificated employees.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13009 of the Education Code is amended to read:

13009. The governing board of any school district, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Education, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Part 7 of Division 2 of the Labor Code may enter into an agreement with the proper authorities of any foreign country, or of any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or other district within the State, for the exchange and employment of regularly credentialed employees and employees of public schools of any foreign country, state, territory, or possession, or other district within this State, of a grade corresponding to that in which the certificated employees of the district are employed. Any certificated person so employed as provided in this section shall be known as an "exchange employee." No exchange shall be made without the consent of the employee to be exchanged.

No person may be employed as an exchange employee by a school district in the State unless he holds the necessary valid credential or credentials issued by the State Board of Education authorizing him to serve as a teacher or administrator in the school district proposing to employ him for a period not to exceed one year, except that, by unanimous consent of the governing board, and of the certificated employees concerned, this period may be extended to two years. The State Board of Education may establish minimum standards for the credentials for exchange certificated employees.

CHAPTER 891

An act to add Section 9354.4 to, and to amend Sections 9355 and 9357.2 of, the Government Code, relating to the Legislators' Retirement System.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9354.4 is added to the Government Code, to read:

9354.4. The Secretary of State, at the time of issuing a certificate of election to the office of Member of the Senate or of the Assembly shall include a notice notifying the member-elect of his right to elect membership in the Legislators' Retirement System.

Notice of right to elect membership
in system

SEC. 2. Section 9355 of said code is amended to read:

9355. Every legislator in office on the effective date of the Statutes of 1953 may file with the board at any time prior to January 1, 1954, a written election to become a member of this system. Every legislator elected thereafter may file such an election within 90 days after the commencement of the first term of office for which he is elected. Upon the filing of the election he becomes a member of this system on the first day of the month following the filing of the election.

Written election to become a member

All elections heretofore filed by the board, or offered to the board for filing, and every written statement to the board of a legislator by which he has indicated his intention to become a member of this system, whether filed by the board or refused filing, is hereby validated and shall be deemed a full compliance with this section.

Every legislator in office on the effective date of the Statutes of 1955 who has not heretofore elected to become a member, may at any time within 90 days after such date, file with the board a written election to become a member of the system.

SEC. 3. Section 9357.2 of said code is amended to read:

9357.2. Any member who rendered service prior to the date he became a member may elect, at any time prior to retirement, to contribute to the Legislators' Retirement Fund for each year or fraction thereof for which he desires to reserve credit for service, four per cent (4%) of the compensation received by him in respect to such service.

Contributions to receive credit for prior service

Such contributions may be paid by lump sum payment or by installment payments over a period not in excess of the length of time for which the member has elected to receive credit for such prior service, at times and in a manner fixed by the board. No member shall receive credit for any service for which he has not contributed as required by this chapter.

CHAPTER 892

An act to amend Section 3088 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to aid to the blind, and introducing a responsibility of relatives scale directly into this part of the code.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3088 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

3088. The board of supervisors or an agent designated by the board shall determine if the applicant or recipient of aid

Determination of existence of relatives liable for support

has within this State a spouse, parent, or adult child responsible to contribute to the support of the applicant or recipient of aid pursuant to the relatives' contribution scale of this section. A form shall be sent to the responsible relative requiring the information essential to a determination of the relative's liability to support under said scale.

Recovery of aid from recipient's kindred

If any applicant for or recipient receiving aid under provisions of this chapter has residing within the State a spouse, parent, or adult child, pecuniarily able to support him, upon the failure of such kindred to perform their duty to support the blind person the board of supervisors may request the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county to proceed against the kindred in the order of their responsibility for support.

Upon such request the district attorney, or other civil legal officer of the county granting aid may, on behalf of the county, maintain an action in the superior court of the county granting such aid, against such relatives, in the order named: (1) to recover for the county such portion of the aid granted as the courts find such relative or relatives pecuniarily able to pay and (2) to secure an order requiring the payment to the county of any sums which may become due in the future for which the relative may be liable. The receipt of aid by the applicant under the provisions of this chapter, however, shall not be contingent upon such recovery or such order. The sums so recovered shall be credited by the county in its settlement with the State.

Determina-
tion of ability to support applicant, etc.

The board of supervisors directly or through an authorized agent shall determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "relatives' contribution scale." Nothing in this section shall preclude the right of an applicant or recipient, or a responsible relative, from appealing directly to the board of supervisors concerning any determination made with respect to the degree of liability of responsible relatives, or of the authority of the board of supervisors to reduce responsible relatives' payment below the amount specified in the scale, where the circumstances justify.

In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "relatives' contributions scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

Income of responsible relative

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative, but not of his or her spouse.

Allowance
for taxes

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

Maximum monthly contribution

The maximum required monthly contribution of responsible relatives in one family where the net monthly income is over one thousand one hundred seventy-five dollars ($1,175) shall be the amount computed by entering the column of maximum required monthly contribution appropriate to number of persons dependent upon income as shown in the relatives' contribution scale for a net monthly income of one thousand one hundred fifty-one dollars ($1,151) to one thousand one hundred seventy-five dollars ($1,175) and then adding to the required monthly contribution thus ascertained an additional sum of five dollars ($5) contribution for each and every bracket of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income over and above one thousand one hundred seventy-five dollars ($1,175), the same as if the relatives' contribution scale were extended by brackets of twenty-five dollars ($25) net income in Column A with corresponding step-by-step increases of five dollars ($5) monthly contribution in each column under B and C.

CHAPTER 893

An act to amend Section 471 of, and to add Section 471.5 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to stop signs.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 471 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

471. Authority to Erect Stop Signs. (a) The State Department of Public Works may erect stop signs at any entrance to any state highway. When such stop signs have been erected at any entrance to a state highway, such highway shall constitute a through highway.

(b) Subject to the provisions of Section 466, any local authority may designate any highway under its jurisdiction as a through highway and may erect like stop signs at specified entrances thereto or may designate any intersection under its exclusive jurisdiction as a stop intersection and erect like signs at one or more entrances thereto.

SEC. 2. Section 471.5 is added to said code, to read:

471.5. Description of Stop Signs. (a) Every stop sign erected after January 1, 1957, shall be of metal and octagonal in shape, shall have a red background and shall carry the word "stop" horizontally in white letters at least one-third the height of the sign. Each side of said sign shall be of equal length and shall be a minimum of 10 inches in length. Each letter of the word "stop" shall be of not less than one-inch stroke. Said sign may be of larger dimensions than specified herein, in which event the stroke of letters shall be increased in the proper proportion.

(b) Every stop sign shall be located at or near the entrance to the highway or intersection where a stop is required.

(c) The lettering upon every stop sign hereafter erected shall from sunset to sunrise be illuminated or reflectorized and the background upon every such sign may be illuminated or reflectorized. Illumination shall be by floodlight upon the face of the sign or by white light in the letters. Reflectorization shall be by white or clear reflecting units or reflecting coating in the letters with or without a red reflecting coating on the background.

(d) Stop signs erected prior to January 1, 1957, shall conform either to the requirements of this section or to the statutory requirements in effect on January 1, 1955 or in effect at the time such signs were erected.

CHAPTER 894

An act to amend Section 2286 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the healing arts.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2286 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2286. There shall be at least 10 questions on each subject included in the examination for each certificate. The answers to the questions shall be marked on a scale of 0 to 100. Each applicant shall obtain not less than a general average of 75 percent and not less than 60 percent in any two subjects. Each applicant shall be granted a credit of 1 percent upon his general average for each year of actual licensed practice in the United States and Canada since graduation, which credit shall not exceed five points upon such general average.

CHAPTER 895

An act to amend Section 19431 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19431 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19431. The board shall establish and maintain a general office for the transaction of its business at a place to be determined by the board. The board may hold meetings at any other place when the convenience of the members of the board requires.

All meetings of the board shall be open and public, and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting of the board.

A majority of the board constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business or for the exercise of any power of the board.

CHAPTER 896

An act to amend Section 19434 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19434 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19434. The secretary shall keep a full and true record of all proceedings of the board, preserve at the general office all books, documents and papers of the board, prepare for service such notices and other papers as may be required of him by the board, and perform such other duties as the board may prescribe. All records of the board shall be open to inspection by the public during regular office hours.

CHAPTER 897

An act to amend Section 19460 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19460 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19460. All licenses granted under this chapter shall be in writing, and are subject to all rules, regulations and conditions from time to time prescribed by the board and shall contain such conditions as are deemed necessary or desirable by the board for the purposes of this chapter.

CHAPTER 898

An act to amend Section 19461 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19461 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19461. All licenses granted under this chapter are subject to suspension or revocation by the board in any case where the board has reason to believe that any condition of its license has not been complied with or that any law or any rule or regulation of the board has been broken or violated.

All proceedings to revoke a license shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 899

An act to amend Sections 1260, 1263, 1280, and 1281 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment insurance.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1280 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1280. An individual's "weekly benefit amount" is the amount appearing in column B in the following table opposite that wage bracket in column A which contains the amount of wages paid to the individual for employment by employers during the quarter of his base period in which his wages were the highest.

A Amount of wages in highest quarter	B Weekly benefit amount

750- 779.99	30
780- 809.99	31
810- 839.99	32
840 and over	33

For the purposes of this section, when an individual has been paid remuneration which would be taxable except for the three thousand dollars ($3,000) limitation on taxable wages, the "quarter of his base period in which his wages were the highest" may be determined by allocating to any quarter of the calendar year falling within the base period that portion of the taxable wages which is equal to the amount of remuneration paid to him in that quarter or eight hundred forty dollars ($840), whichever is the lesser. The term "remuneration" as used in this section means taxable wages as well as wages which would be taxable except for the three thousand dollars ($3,000) limitation on taxable wages.

The provisions of this section as amended at the 1954 First Extraordinary Session shall be applicable to new claims for unemployment compensation benefits filed on and after July 1, 1954. The provisions of this section as they existed prior to the effective date of the amendments enacted at the 1954 First Extraordinary Session shall remain applicable to new claims filed prior to July 1, 1954.

SEC. 2. Section 1281 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

Minimum earning requirement

1281. (a) An individual cannot establish a valid claim or a benefit year during which any benefits are payable unless he has during his base period been paid wages for employment by employers of not less than six hundred dollars ($600). If more than 75 percent of his base-period wages were paid during a single calendar quarter, he is not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits unless his total wages during the base period are not less than 30 times his weekly benefit amount, or not less than seven hundred fifty dollars ($750), whichever is lower.

Maximum benefits
payable

(b) The maximum amount of unemployment compensation benefits payable to an individual during any one benefit year shall be 26 times his weekly benefit amount but in no case shall the total amount of such benefits payable be more than one-half the total wages paid to the individual during his base period. If the benefit is not a multiple of one dollar ($1) it shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1).

Wages due and unpaid

(c) For the purpose of this section and Section 1280, "wages" includes wages due to any individual but unpaid within the time limit provided by law.

SEC. 3. Section 1260 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

Period of disqualifi-
cation

1260. If an individual is disqualified under Section 1256, under a determination transmitted to him by the department, he is ineligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits for the week subsequent to the occurrence of the cause of his disqualification in which he first registers for work and for not more than four weeks which immediately follow that week. If an individual is disqualified under Section 1257, under a determination transmitted to him by the department, he is ineligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits for the week subsequent to the occurrence of the cause of his disqualification in which he first registers for work and for not more than nine weeks which immediately follow that week. An individual so disqualified shall be required to report at a public employment office as provided in subdivision (b) of Section 1253 and an additional week of disqualification shall be imposed for each week during which he does not so report unless good cause for such failure is shown.

SEC. 4. Section 1263 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1263. Any individual convicted under Section 2101 by any court of competent jurisdiction of wilfully making a false statement or knowingly failing to disclose a material fact to obtain or increase any benefit or payment under this division shall forfeit any rights to benefits after such conviction commencing with the week in which said false statement or representation or wilful nondisclosure occurred and continuing for the fifty-one (51) consecutive calendar weeks which immediately follow such week.

CHAPTER 900

An act to add Sections 471.1 and 550.1 to, and to amend Section 550 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to traffic signs and signals.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 471.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

471.1. Yield Right-of-Way Signs. (a) The State Department of Public Works in respect to state highways, and any local authority in respect to highways under its jurisdiction, may erect yield right-of-way signs at one or more approaches to an intersection of streets and highways under its jurisdiction which are not through highways.

Yield right-of-way
signs

(b) Every yield right-of-way sign hereafter erected shall carry the message "Yield Right of Way" with letters of the word "yield" at least six inches in height, and shall otherwise conform to the specifications as set forth in the National Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways.

(c) Every yield right-of-way sign shall be located at or near the entrance to the intersection where motorists are required to yield the right of way.

SEC. 2. Section 550 of said code is amended to read:

550. Vehicle Approaching or Entering Intersection. (a) The driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection shall yield

Vehicle

or entering intersection

the right of way to a vehicle which has entered the intersection from a different highway.

(b) When two vehicles enter an intersection from different highways at the same time the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right of way to the driver of the vehicle on the right.

(c) This section shall not apply at intersections controlled by traffic control signals, stop signs or yield right-of-way signs, or to vehicles approaching each other from opposite directions, when the driver of one of such vehicles is intending to or is making a left turn.

SEC. 3. Section 550.1 is added to said code, to read:

Intersection
controlled by yield right-of-way
sign

550.1. Vehicle Entering Intersection of Roadway Controlled by Yield Right-of-Way Sign. (a) The driver of any vehicle upon approaching any yield right-of-way sign at the entrance to a highway or intersection shall not drive at a speed exceeding 15 miles per hour across such highway or intersection and shall slow down and stop if necessary and shall yield the right of way to other vehicles which have entered the intersection from an intersecting street or which are approaching so closely on the intersecting street as to constitute an immediate hazard.

(b) Said driver, having so yielded, may then proceed and the drivers of all other vehicles approaching the intersection on the intersecting roadway shall yield the right of way to the vehicle so about to enter or cross the roadway protected by the yield right-of-way sign.

CHAPTER 901

An act to add Article 4 to Chapter 10 of Division 7 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to disincorporation of public utility districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 is added to Chapter 10 of Division 7 of the Public Utilities Code, to read:

Article 4. Disincorporation Where the District Is Entirely Within a City

Petition

18000. Whenever the legislative body of a city has succeeded to the powers of the board of directors of a district pursuant to Section 15533, the legislative body may present a petition to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district is situated, requesting the assignment of all the property of the district to the overlapping city, and disincorporation of the district.

18001. The board of supervisors, prior to making any assignment, shall cause a notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district to be discontinued and if none is so published, then in some newspaper published in the county, setting the time and place when the proposed transfer and discontinuation will be considered by the board of supervisors, and notifying all persons interested in the transfer and discontinuation to appear and be heard and also notifying all persons having any claims or indebtedness against the district to present them for allowance and payment. Notice

18002. At the time of the hearing, the board of supervisors shall consider all matters in connection with the proposed transfer and discontinuation, and shall, if it determines the transfer and discontinuation to be for the best interest of the district and of the city, transfer all property of the district to the city. The transfer, however, shall not be effective until the board of supervisors finds that all claims, indebtedness and bonds have been paid and discharged. To effectuate the transfer, the board of supervisors acting on behalf of the district, shall execute all necessary deeds, assignments, and bills of sale to the city. Hearing

18003. When the transfer of the property of the district has been completed, then the board of supervisors shall enter an order reciting compliance with this article and the transfer of the property of the utility to the overlapping city, and ordering discontinuation of the district. Order

18004. A certified copy of the discontinuation of the district shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the discontinued district is situated, and a copy filed with the Board of Equalization of the State of California. Recreation

An act to amend Section 254.6 of the Vehicle Code, relating to student licenses.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 254.6 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

254.6. Student Licenses. (a) Any student over 14 years of age taking a course in automobile driver training, maintained pursuant to Article 11 of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of the Education Code in a secondary school or enrolled in a driver training course offered by a private or parochial school of secondary level may apply to the principal of the school for a student license. Application shall be made upon a form provided by the department. The application form must be signed by the applicant before the principal of the school, or a staff member assigned to such duty. The application must be accompanied by a statement, on a form provided by the department, signed by the parents or guardian or person having custody of the minor, consenting to the issuance of a student license to the student and accepting liability for civil damages arising out of the student's driving a motor vehicle upon a highway as provided for in Section 352 of this code.

(b) The principal or staff member assigned such duty may issue or reissue a student license without cost whenever in his opinion the applicant is qualified to take the course of instruction and has filed a proper application therefor.

(c) Upon the issuance of a student license the application together with the statement of consent signed by the parents, or other persons required to sign, shall be forwarded to the department for filing.

(d) A student license shall limit the operation of a motor vehicle to such times as the licensee is taking driver training in connection with the driver education program and then only at the direction and under the supervision of the instructor, and shall be valid only for the period covered by the course and for not more than one year from the date of issuance.

(e) A student license may be canceled by the principal of the school or by the department whenever, in the opinion of either, the safety of the licensee or other persons requires such action, and shall be canceled upon the written request of the parent or other person who signed the consent to issue the license.

(f) All student licenses shall be surrendered and returned to the department whenever canceled or upon completion of the course of instruction for which issued.

(g) The department may adopt, amend, or repeal, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, reasonably necessary regulations relative to the issuance of a student license.

CHAPTER 903

An act to amend Section 28115 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public service in counties of the fifteenth class.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28115 of the Government Code is amended to read:

28115. In a county of the fifteenth class the following shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following sums:

Tulare
County
officers:
Salaries

(a) The county auditor, seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) a year.

(b) The district attorney, ten thousand dollars ($10,000) a year. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in the private practice of law during his term in office.

(c) Each supervisor, five thousand four hundred dollars ($5,400) a year for all personal services performed by him as supervisor and member of the board of equalization, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in performing any of the duties of his office, the claim for which shall be allowed and paid out of the county general fund in the same manner as other claims are allowed and paid. The traveling expenses exclusive of meals and hotel accommodations shall not exceed seven cents ($0.07) a mile.

(d) Each member of the grand jury shall be allowed four dollars ($4) for each day in attendance upon the sessions of the grand jury or for each day's active and necessary service as a member of any committee of the grand jury. Each grand juror shall be allowed mileage at the rate of five cents ($0.05) a mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in attendance upon and returning from meetings of the grand jury or any actual or necessary session of a grand jury committee duly called by the secretary or committee chairman, but no mileage shall be allowed outside of the county. For attending as a trial juror in a criminal action in the superior court, three dollars ($3) per day if called but not sworn to try the cause, and four dollars ($4) per day if called and sworn to try the cause. For attending as a trial juror in a civil action in the superior court, four dollars ($4) per day if called but not sworn to try the cause and five dollars ($5) per day if called and sworn to try the cause. For attending as a trial juror in the justice court for each juror sworn to try the cause, two dollars ($2) a day. For each mile actually traveled in attending court as a juror, seven cents ($0.07) a mile each way from the place of residence to the court.

An act to amend Section 29434 of the Government Code, relating to the population basis for a sheriff's special fund.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29434 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29434. The population basis is that fixed by the last decennial federal census.

CHAPTER 905

An act to amend Section 29403 of the Government Code, relating to the population basis for a district attorney's special fund.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29403 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29403. The population basis is that fixed by the last decennial federal census.

CHAPTER 906

An act to amend Section 7714.1 of the Education Code, relating to state school building aid.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7714.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Apportionment
application
for site, etc.
not part of construction
project

7714.1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, a district which applies for an apportionment for the purchase of a site or comprehensive master plan, which is not a part of a construction project, shall make a separate application for such site or comprehensive master plan.

All of the provisions of this chapter apply to such application and apportionment except that:

(a) Any application for the site or comprehensive master plan pursuant to this section which is received by the board shall be transmitted to the Department of Education. If the Department of Education determines that within five years from the date of the application there will be sufficient enrollment in the district to show the need of such site or comprehensive master plan, it may approve the application and refer it to the board which shall either approve or reject the application pursuant to Section 7713. Any provision of Section 7713 inconsistent with this section shall not apply to such application.

(b) Sections 7705 and 7705.1 do not apply.

(c) An application for a site pursuant to this section may include an amount for the preparation of a comprehensive master plan for the development of the site.

(d) If the application is approved and an apportionment granted therefor the district shall repay the full amount of such apportionment and the interest thereon. The repayment of the apportionment, and the interest thereon, may be over a period of years, not to exceed 30 years from the first day of January of the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment became final. The number of years allowed for repayment shall be determined by the board at the time it fixes interest on the apportionment. Such repayment is in addition to any other repayment required under this chapter. If the site is subsequently used in a construction project for which an apportionment is received under other provisions of this chapter, the district shall not be required to make any further repayments for site pursuant to this section and the unpaid balance of the apportionment and interest owing on the apportionment for the site pursuant to this section shall be added to the principal amount of the apportionment and accrued interest thereon for the construction project.

CHAPTER 907

An act to amend Sections 1593 and 2712.5 of, and to add Section 2404 to, the Education Code, relating to school districts.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1593 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1593. In the case of every other action referred to in this article, the action shall be effective as to any district in any way affected by the action on the date the action is completed for the following purposes:

Effective
date of formation,
etc., of school districts

(a) The determination of the assessed valuation of any district or districts affected by the action.

(b) The appointment or election of members of the governing boards of the school districts affected.

(c) The preparation and submission of school district budgets.

(d) The election or appointment of employees for the ensuing school year.

(e) The calling and conducting of elections for and the issuance and sale of school district bonds as to any district in any way affected by the action whether it be a newly formed district or one which territory has been added to or taken from by the action and including the calling and conducting of such elections only in that portion of the district remaining after territory has been excluded therefrom in any manner by such action.

(f) The exercise by the governing boards of the school districts affected of other powers and duties vested in governing boards of school districts of the same type or class and not inconsistent with other provisions of this code.

(g) The holding of an election to determine whether a newly formed elementary school district, or a district comprised within a newly formed union or joint union elementary school district shall become a part of a high school district.

(h) The calling and conducting of elections to increase the maximum rates of tax for district or districts affected.

(i) The calling and conducting of elections for the assumption of bonded indebtedness.

(j) The unionization or uniting of the district with one or more school districts, its annexation to another school district, the unification of the district, the changing of its boundaries, or other reorganization affecting it.

(k) The calling and conducting of elections for the acceptance and repayment of any allocation of state funds under any state school building aid law, as to any district in any way affected by the action, whether it be a newly formed district or one which territory has been added to or taken from by the action.

SEC. 2. Section 2712.5 of said code is amended to read:

Uniting with contiguous district
Election

2712.5. At any time following the formation of the elementary school district, the governing board of any contiguous elementary school district lying wholly within the county in which the greater part of the population of the district formed under this chapter is located may call an election in the contiguous elementary school district for the purpose of submitting to the electors of such contiguous elementary school district the question of whether such contiguous elementary school district shall become a part of the elementary school district formed under this chapter. Such election shall be called, held and conducted substantially in the manner provided for in Article 1 of Chapter 4 of this division except that the ballot shall contain the words: "Shall the (-----)

Insert name

School District become a part of the (-----) School District?"

Insert name

The voter shall write or print after the words on his ballot the word "yes" or the word "no."

If a majority of the votes cast at such election is in the affirmative, such contiguous elementary school district shall thereafter become a part of the elementary school district formed under this chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 2404 is added to said code, to read:

"Elementary" not to be used

2404. The word "elementary" shall not be used as a part of a designation of any school district.

CHAPTER 908

An act to amend Section 2183.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to aid to the aged.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2183.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2183.9. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article whenever a recipient becomes ineligible for aid due to income he derives from employment, an agent of the board of supervisors shall be authorized to grant aid without further order of the board whenever the income of such person does not exceed the amount allowed under this chapter if the person is otherwise eligible. Aid shall begin not later than the first of the month following the date restoration is requested and shall be delivered to the recipient within 30 days of the date restoration is requested.

The provisions of this section shall not apply when aid has been discontinued for one year or more.

CHAPTER 909

An act to add Sections 11513.1 and 11513.2 to the Insurance Code, relating to the provision of group hospital service coverage.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11513.1 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11513.1. A corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter is permitted to provide group hospital service coverage prior to the approval of the form of the contract or certificate if all the conditions of (a) are met prior thereto and if thereafter it acts as required by (b).

(a) The conditions precedent are:

(1) The group is one eligible for coverage pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; and

(2) An executed memorandum has been or is concurrently delivered to the subscriber containing a provision that unless a group hospital service certificate, the form of which has been approved by the commissioner and issued under a group hospital service contract the form of which has been approved by the commissioner, and embodying the coverage, has been issued and delivered to the subscriber within 90 days after the date on which the coverage is provided or agreed to be provided, the coverage provided pursuant to such memorandum terminates

Group coverage prior to approval of contract Required
provisions

120 days after such date, and containing a specification in either complete or summary form of:

- (i) The class or classes of employees eligible for coverage;
 - (ii) The benefits to be provided; and
 - (iii) The exceptions and reductions to such benefits, if any.
- (b) A corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter providing coverage pursuant to this section shall:

(1) Within 60 days after the date on which the coverage is provided or agreed to be provided submit to the commissioner for approval a form of a group hospital service contract, and a form of a certificate of individual coverage drafted to provide the coverage provided by such memorandum and in good faith attempts to meet all requirements of law;

(2) Make such revisions in the contract and certificate submitted as the commissioner may lawfully require; and

(3) Terminate such coverage in accordance with the provisions of (a) (2) above if approval of such contract and certificate is not secured within the time specified therein.

Upon written request from the corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter filed within 50 days after the date on which the coverage is provided or agreed to be provided and upon proof satisfactory to him that the corporation is acting with due diligence and that hardship will result unless an extension is granted, the commissioner may extend the time set forth in (b) (1) hereof for a period of not to exceed 30 days. Upon such extension, the corporation with the consent of the subscriber may amend the memorandum referred to in (a) (2) hereof to extend the time within which the certificate must be issued and delivered to the subscriber to 30 days after the date to which the commissioner has extended the time within which a form of contract and certificate must be submitted to him for approval and to extend the date for termination of coverage to 30 days thereafter.

A contract and certificate submitted to the commissioner with a letter from the corporation stating that coverage has been provided in accordance with this section shall be automatically approved unless the commissioner disapproves the same within 30 days of the date of its submission to him.

SEC. 2. Section 11513.2 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

Suspension
or revocation

11513.2. The commissioner may suspend or revoke the permission granted by Section 11513.1 if, after notice and hearing in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, he finds that the corporation has:

- (a) Misrepresented the conditional nature of the coverage;
- (b) Neglected or refused either to cancel or otherwise terminate such coverage within the time required by such section;
- (c) Delivered any such memorandum which did not comply with subsection (a) (2) of Section 11513.1.

(d) Shown a lack of diligence in making revisions in the contract or certificate necessary to obtain its approval by the commissioner;

(e) Failed so often in so many important respects in drafting any such contract or certificate to conform to the applicable requirements of the Insurance Code that a conclusion of lack of good faith or competency in drafting is reasonably justified;

(f) Circulated announcements of coverage to individual subscribers which failed to advise them of the conditional nature of the coverage; or

(g) In any other manner so negligently or carelessly handled the effecting of group hospital service coverage under Section 11513 1 or the administration thereof that the subscriber or the persons covered by the contract or certificate have been misled or exposed to the danger of loss.

CHAPTER 910

An act to add Section 602 5 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to probation committees.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 602 5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

602 5. Notwithstanding any other provision of Section 602, in any county wherein the internal affairs of the juvenile hall or branch juvenile hall are under the management and control of the probation committee of the county as provided in Section 662, the board of supervisors may by ordinance provide for the compensation to be paid to the members of the probation committee.

CHAPTER 911

An act to amend Section 164.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to sending lists of patients to Department of Veterans Affairs.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 164 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

164.5. The Department of Mental Hygiene shall send to the Department of Veterans Affairs whenever requested a list of all persons who have been patients for six months or more in each state institution within the jurisdiction of the department and who are known to have served in the armed forces of the United States.

CHAPTER 912

An act to amend Sections 4017, 4018, and 4019 of, and to add Section 4019.2 to, the Penal Code, relating to labor and time off for good behavior by prisoners in county and city jails.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4017 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

Order
requiring performance of labor

4017. All persons confined in the county jail, industrial farm or road camp under a final judgment of imprisonment rendered in a criminal action or proceeding and all persons confined in the county jail, industrial farm or road camp as a condition of probation after suspension of imposition of a sentence or suspension of execution of sentence may be required by an order of the board of supervisors to perform labor on the public works or ways in the county.

"Labor on public works"

"Labor on Public Works" Defined. The phrase "labor on the public works" as used in this section shall include among other things clerical and menial labor in the county jail, industrial farm or in the camps maintained for the labor of such persons upon the ways in the county.

SEC. 2. Section 4018 of said code is amended to read:

Rules and regulations

4018. The board of supervisors making such order may prescribe and enforce the rules and regulations under which such labor is to be performed; and provide clothing of such a distinctive character for said prisoners as such board, in its discretion, may deem proper. For each month in which the prisoner appears, by the record, to have given a cheerful and willing obedience to the rules and regulations, and that his conduct is reported by the officer in charge of the jail, industrial farm or road camp to be positively good, five days shall, with the consent of the board of supervisors, be deducted from his period of confinement.

SEC. 3. Section 4019 of said code is amended to read:

Time off for good behavior

4019. For each month in which a prisoner confined in a county jail, industrial farm or road camp or any city jail, industrial farm or road camp under a judgment of imprisonment, or in which a prisoner confined in the county jail, industrial farm or road camp, or any city jail, industrial farm or road camp as a condition of probation after suspension of imposition of a sentence or suspension of execution of sentence, in a criminal action or proceeding, appears, by the record, to have given a cheerful and willing obedience to the reasonable rules and regulations established by the county board of parole commissioners for the conduct of such prisoners, and that his conduct is reported by the officer in charge of the jail, industrial farm or road camp to be positively good, five days shall, with the consent of the county board of parole commissioners, be deducted from his period of confinement.

SEC. 4. Section 4019.2 is added to said code, to read:

4019.2. For each month in which a prisoner confined in or committed to a county jail, industrial farm or road camp has satisfactorily performed his assigned work, as reported and recorded by the officer in charge, five days shall, with the consent of the board of supervisors or the county board of parole commissioners, be deducted from his period of confinement. The deduction allowed pursuant to this section shall be granted regardless of whether or not a deduction is made pursuant to Sections 4018 or 4019, but no prisoner shall be granted a total deduction under these sections in excess of 10 days for any single month.

Same Limit on total deduction

CHAPTER 913

An act to add Section 610.5 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to possession of fish.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 610.5 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

610.5. The provisions of this section apply only to trout taken in districts or parts of districts lying within Mono and Inyo Counties. Not more than one daily bag limit of trout may be possessed in said counties, except that, in addition to the one daily bag limit that may be so possessed, one additional daily bag limit may be possessed in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the commission. Not more than one such additional daily bag limit shall be possessed by any one person at any one time and not more than three such additional daily bag limits may be possessed by any one person during any one open season for trout. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this code, trout taken in said counties shall not be shipped by common carrier but trout lawfully possessed in said counties pursuant to this section may be transported and possessed in any part of the State by the person by whom such trout were taken. It is unlawful for any person to possess more than one daily bag limit of trout except in conformity with this section. The provisions of this section shall become operative on January 1, 1956, and shall remain in effect until December 31, 1957, and thereafter shall have no force or effect.

CHAPTER 914

An act to amend Section 773 of, and to add Section 773.5 to the Vehicle Code, relating to the waiver of driver training penalty assessments.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 773 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

Penalty
assessments for driver training

773. Penalty Assessment Levied to Reimburse General Fund for Driver Training Appropriations. To reimburse the General Fund for amounts appropriated therefrom for driver training pursuant to Section 5154.5 of the Education Code, on and after January 1, 1954, there shall be levied a penalty assessment on all offenses involving a violation of a section of this code or of a city or county ordinance, relating to the operation of motor vehicles, except offenses relating to parking or registration, in the following amounts:

- (1) Where a fine is imposed -----$1 for each $20 of fine, or fraction thereof.
- (2) If sentence is suspended -----$1 if jail only, otherwise based on the amount of the fine levied, as in subsection (1).
- (3) If bail is forfeited -----$1 for each $20 of bail, or fraction thereof.
- (4) Where multiple offenses are involved -----The penalty assessment shall be based on the total fine or bail for all offenses, or $1 for each jail sentence.

Reduction

When a fine is suspended, in whole or in part, the penalty assessment shall be reduced in proportion to the suspension.

Bail

When any deposit of bail is made for an offense to which this section applies, the person making such deposit shall also deposit a sufficient amount to include the penalty assessment prescribed in this section for forfeited bail. If bail is forfeited, the amount of such penalty assessment shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the county treasury and thence to the State Treasury pursuant to this section.

Disposition of moneys
collected

After a determination by the court of the amount due, the clerk of the court shall collect the same and transmit it to the county treasury. It shall then be transmitted to the State Treasury to be deposited in the General Fund. The transmission to the State Treasury shall be carried out in the same manner as fines collected for the State by a county.

SEC. 2. Section 773.5 is added to said code, to read:

773.5. Waiver of Driver Training Penalty Assessment. In ^{Waiver} any case where a person convicted of any violation of this code punishable by fine and the levy of the penalty assessment specified in Section 773 is imprisoned until the fine is satisfied, the judge may waive all or any part of the penalty assessment the payment of which would work a hardship on the person convicted or his immediate family.

CHAPTER 915

An act to amend Sections 34301, 34306, 34308, 34310, 35113, 35114, 35115, 35307, 35308 and 35314 of, to repeal Sections 34309 and 35309 of, and to add Sections 34302.5, 34302.6, 34303.1 and 34325.1 to, the Government Code, relating to the organization and boundaries of cities, declaring the urgency hereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 34301 of the Government Code is amended to read:

34301 "Qualified signer," as used in this chapter, means <sup>"Qualified signer"</sup> the owner in fee of land situated within the limits of the city proposed to be incorporated, except where such land is subject to a written agreement to buy, in which event the purchaser under such written agreement shall be deemed the "qualified signer."

SEC. 2. Section 34302.5 is added to said code, to read:

34302.5. Before circulating a petition seeking the incorporation of a new city, the proponents shall file a notice of <sup>Notice of intention</sup> intention to so do with the board of supervisors. The notice shall contain the names of the proponents intending to circulate the petition and the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be incorporated.

Notice of receipt of the notice of intention to circulate shall be given by the clerk of the board of supervisors to the legislative bodies of all cities whose territorial limits lie within three miles of any of the territory proposed to be incorporated into a new city. Such notice shall be given by mail addressed to the legislative bodies of the cities entitled thereto and shall in general terms indicate the area proposed to be incorporated. <sup>Notice of receipt of notice of intention</sup>

SEC. 3. Section 34302.6 is added to said code, to read:

34302.6. For a period of 50 days after the filing of such <sup>Restrictions
After filing</sup> notice of intention (a) no other notice of intention shall be filed hereunder for the incorporation of any of the same territory described in the filed notice; (b) no notice of intention to circulate a petition for the annexation of any such territory under the provisions of the Annexation Act of 1913 shall be filed or consented to by the legislative body of any city; (c) no petition shall be filed with, and no proceedings shall be instituted by, the legislative body of any city for the annexation of any such territory under the provisions of this division.

SEC. 4. Section 34303.1 is added to said code, to read:

Same After proceedings initiated

34303.1. When proceedings for the incorporation of a city have been initiated and until it has been determined that the board of supervisors is without jurisdiction to proceed further, or such incorporation has been defeated by the electors: (a) no notice of intention to circulate a petition for the incorporation of any of the territory included in the pending proceedings or within the boundaries as established by the pending proceedings shall be filed; (b) no notice of intention to circulate a petition for the annexation of any such territory under the provisions of the Annexation Act of 1913 shall be filed or consented to by the legislative body of any city; (c) no petition shall be filed with, and no proceedings shall be instituted by, the legislative body of any city for the annexation of any such territory under the provisions of this division.

SEC. 5. Section 34306 of said code is amended to read:

Checking

34306. The board shall cause its clerk to ascertain whether the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers and whether it correctly describes the boundaries of the proposed city. The clerk shall report to the board within 30 days.

Except to the extent that proof to the contrary has been submitted to him, the clerk in ascertaining whether the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers may assume that the assessee on the last equalized assessment roll of the county are the qualified signers as herein defined. Proof of qualification as a signer shall be in writing and, except for copies of instruments of title, shall be verified.

SEC. 6. Section 34308 of said code is amended to read:

Publication
fee

34308. If the report shows that the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers and accurately describes the boundaries of the proposed city, the board shall direct its clerk to accept the amount of money fixed by the board to defray the costs of the publication of the petition and the notice of election. If the amount of money so deposited is less than the actual cost of publication, the petitioners shall deposit with the clerk an additional amount equal to the difference between the actual cost of publication and the amount first deposited. Immediately upon ascertaining the actual cost of publication the clerk shall notify the petitioners if such an additional amount is required and, if so, the petitioners shall deposit such amount with the clerk within five days after the completion of the publication.

If the amount first deposited exceeds the actual cost of publication, the clerk shall, upon the request of the petitioners, return to the petitioners the amount of such excess.

SEC. 7. Section 34309 of said code is hereby repealed. Repeal

SEC. 8. Section 34310 of said code is amended to read:

34310. At its next regular meeting after the deposit of the amount fixed by the board to defray publication costs, the board shall fix a time for a hearing and direct its clerk to cause the petition and a notice stating the time of the hearing to be published for at least two weeks before the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county. Notice of hearing

SEC. 9. Section 34325.1 is added to said code, to read:

34325.1. If a majority of the votes cast is against incorporation, no further proceedings for the incorporation of the same or substantially the same area shall be initiated for one year after the date of the election. Vote against incorporation

SEC. 10. Section 35113 of the Government Code is amended to read:

35113. Within 15 days after such filing, the legislative body may adopt a resolution acknowledging receipt of the notice and approving the circulation of the petition. For a period of 50 days after the adoption of such a resolution (a) no notice of intention to incorporate a new city shall be filed including any of the territory described in the notice; (b) no notice of intention to circulate a petition for the annexation of any such territory under the provisions of this article shall be filed with or consented to by a legislative body of any city; (c) no petition shall be filed with, and no proceedings shall be instituted by, the legislative body of any city for the annexation of any of such territory under the provisions of this division. Resolution Restrictions After resolution adopted

SEC. 11. Section 35114 of said code is amended to read:

35114. Twenty-one days after the publication or posting of the notice and statement, the petition may be circulated among the voters within the area proposed to be annexed pursuant to the Elections Code. In no event shall such petition be circulated prior to securing the consent to circulate provided for in Section 35113. Circulation of petition

SEC. 12. Section 35115 of said code is amended to read:

35115. When a petition for the annexation of any new territory, containing a sufficient number of valid signatures, has been received by its legislative body, jurisdiction over the proceedings is acquired, and until annexation to such city has been defeated by the electors of the territory or until proceedings relating to the annexation become void or are otherwise terminated: Restrictions After petition received

(a) No other petition provided for in this division asking for the annexation of any of the territory described in the filed petition shall be filed, presented to or acted upon by the legislative body of any other city.

(b) No other legislative body shall consent to the circulation of a petition or initiate any proceedings on its own motion under the provisions of this division for the annexation of any part of the territory described in the filed petition.

(c) No notice of intention to circulate a petition for incorporation of any part of the territory described in the filed petition shall be filed.

SEC. 13. Section 35307 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Time of
hearing

35307. The hearing shall be held not less than 40 nor more than 60 days after the passage of the resolution.

SEC. 14. Section 35308 of said code is amended to read:

Restriction
After petition received

35308. When a valid and sufficient petition for the annexation of any territory to a city has been received by its legislative body or its legislative body has initiated proceedings as hereinafter provided and until an ordinance disapproving such annexation becomes effective (a) no notice of intention to incorporate a new city shall be filed which includes any of the territory described in the annexation proceedings; (b) no notice of intention to circulate a petition for the annexation of any such territory under the Annexation Act of 1913 shall be filed or consented to by the legislative body of any city; (c) no petition shall be filed with, and no proceedings shall be instituted by, the legislative body of any city for the annexation of any such territory under this division.

Repeal

SEC. 15. Section 35309 of said code is hereby repealed.

Protest

SEC. 16. Section 35314 of said code is amended to read:

35314. If such a protest is not made, the legislative body shall forthwith approve or disapprove the annexation, by ordinance.

Urgency

SEC. 17. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect, to become operative July 1, 1955. The facts concerning such necessity are:

date

The present law is uncertain, as between conflicting annexation and incorporation proceedings as to which such proceeding has priority. In order to provide an orderly procedure for rapidly growing areas which are in urgent need of municipal type services to obtain them immediately and without unnecessary delay, confusion and litigation, by annexing to existing cities or incorporating as cities, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 916

An act to amend Sections 58103 and 58106 of, and to add Section 58309 to, the Government Code, relating to district organizations.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 58103 of the Government Code is amended to read:

58103. If the supervising authority finds that protest has been made, prior to the supervising authority's final determination for formation, by the owners of real property within the proposed district the assessed value of which, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll, constitutes more than one-half of the total assessed value of the real property within the proposed district, the proceeding shall terminate. The supervising authority shall order the proceedings terminated when such protests are received. Termination upon protest

SEC. 2. Section 58106 of the Government Code is amended to read:

58106. In so doing the supervising authority shall exclude any land which it finds will not be benefited by the proposed project and shall make a specific finding as to each parcel of land with respect to which a written request for exclusion has been presented on the question of whether it will or will not be benefited by the proposed project. In making such finding the supervising authority shall consider present use of such land, reasonable prospective use, topography, the nature of the proposed improvements, and any other pertinent factors. The present use of lands for rights of way for railroads, power and communication lines, or other public utility facilities shall be presumed by the supervising authority to be permanent. Exclusion of unbenefited land

The supervising authority may include any land if it finds that the land will be benefited and that its inclusion will be to the interest of the district.

If lands are excluded by the supervising authority pursuant to this section, such lands shall not thereafter be annexed to or included in the district in the absence of a finding, based on substantial evidence, of a change in the circumstances upon which the decision to exclude such lands was based.

SEC. 3. Section 58309 is added to the Government Code, to read:

58309. In case of a conflict between the provisions of this chapter and the provisions of the law providing for the creation of a particular district or type of district, the provisions of this chapter shall prevail. Application

CHAPTER 917

An act to add Sections 50.5, 670, 670.05, and 670.7 to, to amend Sections 233, 670.4 and 670.5 of, and to repeal Sections 670 and 670.3 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to brake requirements for vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

"Manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating"

50.5. "Manufacturer's Gross Vehicle Weight Rating." "Manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating" means the weight in pounds of the chassis of a truck or truck tractor with lubricants, radiator full of water, full fuel tank or tanks plus the weights of the cab or driver's compartment, body, special chassis and body equipment and pay load as authorized by the chassis manufacturer.

In the event a vehicle is equipped with an identification plate or marker bearing the manufacturer's name and manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating, the rating stated thereon shall be prima facie evidence of the manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating.

SEC. 2. Section 233 of said code is amended to read:

Sale etc., of vehicle without manufacturer's number or weight rating

233. Vehicles Without Manufacturers' Numbers or Weight Rating. No person shall knowingly buy, receive, dispose of, sell, offer for sale or have in his possession any motor vehicle, or motor removed from a motor vehicle, from which the manufacturer's serial or motor number or manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating or other distinguishing number or identification mark or number placed thereon under assignment from the department has been removed, defaced, covered, altered or destroyed for the purpose of concealing or misrepresenting the identity or manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of said motor vehicle or motor.

Repeal

SEC. 3. Section 670 of said code is hereby repealed.

Brakes

SEC. 4. Section 670 is added to said code to read:

670. Brakes. (a) Brake equipment shall be required upon vehicles as follows:

1. Every motor vehicle, other than a motorcycle or motor-driven cycle, when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of and to stop and hold such vehicle, including two separate means of applying the brakes, a service brake and an emergency brake, each of which shall be effective to apply the brakes to at least two wheels. If these two separate means of applying the brakes are connected in any way, they shall be so constructed that failure of any one part of the operating mechanism shall not leave the motor vehicle without brakes on at least two wheels.

2. Every motorcycle and every motor-driven cycle, when operated upon a highway, shall be equipped with at least one brake, which may be operated by hand or foot.

3. One of the means of brake operation upon a motor vehicle, other than a motorcycle or motor-driven cycle, shall consist of a mechanical connection from the operating lever to brake shoes or bands and shall be capable of locking the rear driving wheels and of being set to hold the vehicle, or combination of vehicles, stationary to the limit of traction of such braked wheels.

4. The brake shoes operating within or upon the drums on the vehicle wheels of any motor vehicle may be used for both service brake and emergency brake operation.

SEC. 4.5. Section 670.05 is added to said code, to read :

670.05. Stopping Distance Requirements. (a) Every motor vehicle or combination of vehicles, at any time and under all conditions of loading, shall, upon application of the service brake, be capable of stopping from an initial speed of 20 miles per hour according to the following requirements:

	Maximum stopping distance (feet)
(1) Any passenger motor vehicle designed to carry not more than 9 persons including driver-----	25
(2) Any single motor vehicle with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of less than 10,000 lbs.---	30
(3) Any combination of vehicles consisting of a passenger vehicle designed to carry not more than nine persons including driver or any motor vehicle with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of less than 10,000 lbs. in combination with any trailer, semitrailer or trailer coach-----	40
Any single motor vehicle with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 lbs. or more. -	40
Any passenger motor vehicle designed to carry more than nine persons including driver-----	40
(4) All other combinations of vehicles-----	50

(b) In respect to any motor vehicle designed, used or maintained primarily for the transportation of property which is not equipped with a plate or marker showing the manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating, the provisions of this subsection shall apply for purposes of this section:

(1) Any such motor vehicle having less than six wheels shall be deemed the equivalent of a vehicle having a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of less than 10,000 pounds.

(2) Any such motor vehicle having six wheels or more shall be deemed the equivalent of a vehicle having a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating of 10,000 pounds or more.

(c) Tests shall be conducted on a substantially level, dry, smooth, hard-surfaced road that is free from loose material and where the grade does not exceed plus or minus 1 percent. Stopping distance shall be measured from the instant brake controls are moved and from an initial speed of approximately 20 miles per hour. No test of brake performance shall be made upon a highway at a speed in excess of 25 miles per hour.

(d) All brakes shall be maintained in good working order and shall be so adjusted as to operate as equally as practicable with respect to the wheels on opposite sides of the vehicle.

(e) Implements of husbandry, special mobile equipment, equipment operated under special permit as authorized in this code and any chassis without body or load shall not be subject to the foregoing provisions of this section, but shall be subject to the following requirements:

Any such vehicle or equipment which cannot be stopped within 32 feet from an initial speed of 15 miles per hour may be operated upon a highway but shall not be operated at a speed in excess of that permitting a stop in 32 feet.

Repeal

SEC. 5. Section 670.3 of said code is hereby repealed.

Truck and trailer brakes

SEC. 6. Section 670.4 of said code is amended to read:

670.4. Truck and Trailer Brakes. (a) Any new motor vehicle first registered in this State after January 1, 1940, shall not exceed a gross weight of 14,000 pounds unless it is equipped with power brakes, except that any such vehicle having a gross weight of less than 18,000 pounds may, in lieu of power brakes, be equipped with two-stage hydraulic actuators of a type designed to increase braking effect of its brakes.

(b) After January 1, 1942, all motor vehicles shall be so equipped as to permit application of the brakes at least once for the purpose of bringing the vehicle to a stop within the legal stopping distance after the engine has become inoperative.

(c) Any new trailer or semitrailer, first registered in this State after January 1, 1940, and drawn by a truck and having a gross weight of 6,000 pounds or more and which is operated at a speed over 20 miles per hour shall be equipped with brakes, which brakes shall be adequate, supplemental to the brakes on the towing vehicle, to enable such combination of vehicles to comply with the requirements of Section 670. This subdivision shall not apply to such vehicles operated solely within the limits of incorporated cities.

SEC. 7. Section 670.5 of said code is amended to read:

670.5. Brakes on Trailer Coaches. Every trailer coach having a weight of 1,500 pounds or more equipped for the road but exclusive of passengers shall be equipped with brakes which can be controlled by the driver of the towing vehicle and which brakes shall be adequate, supplemental to the brakes on the towing vehicle, to enable such combination of vehicles to comply with the requirements of Section 670.

SEC. 8. Section 670.7 is added to said code, to read:

Brakes on combinations
of vehicles

670.7. Operation of Brakes on Combinations of Vehicles.

(a) Power brakes on any trailer or semitrailer first registered after December 31, 1955, and required to be equipped with brakes shall be designed to be automatically applied upon breakaway from the towing vehicle and shall be capable of stopping and holding such vehicle stationary for not less than 15 minutes.

(b) Every new truck or truck tractor first registered after December 31, 1955, used in towing a vehicle shall be equipped with brakes capable of stopping the truck or truck tractor in the event of breakaway of the towed vehicle.

CHAPTER 918

An act to add Sections 10252.7, 10276.5, 10501.5, and 10516.5 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to nonresident licenses in the business opportunity and mineral, oil and gas business.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10252.7 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

10252.7. A nonresident of California may become a business opportunity broker by conforming to all of the provisions of this part: Business opportunity broker
Nonresident
applicant

SEC. 2. Section 10276.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

10276.5. Every nonresident applicant for a business opportunity broker's license shall, along with his application, file with the commissioner an irrevocable consent that if in any action commenced against him in this State personal service of process upon him cannot be made in this State after the exercise of due diligence, a valid service may thereupon be made upon him by delivering the process to the Secretary of State. Consent to service of process

Insofar as possible, the provisions of Section 1018 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of process on the Secretary of State, are applicable to this section.

SEC. 3. Section 10501.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

10501.5. A nonresident of California may become a mineral, oil and gas broker by conforming to all of the provisions of this part. Mineral, oil and gas
broker
Nonresident
applicant

SEC. 4. Section 10516.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

10516.5. Every nonresident applicant for a mineral, oil and gas broker's license shall, along with his application, file with the commissioner an irrevocable consent that if in any action commenced against him in this State personal service of process upon him cannot be made in this State after the exercise of due diligence, a valid service may thereupon be made upon him by delivering the process to the Secretary of State. Consent to service of process

Insofar as possible, the provisions of Section 1018 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of process on the Secretary of State, are applicable to this section.

CHAPTER 919

An act to add Section 19480.3 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19480.3 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19480.3. No person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation who is licensed under this chapter to conduct a horse racing meeting at any place, inclosure, or track shall own any stock or hold any financial interest in any other licensed place, inclosure, or track, or in the operation thereof or in the operation of licensed wagering on the results of races at any such other licensed place, inclosure, or track.

CHAPTER 920

An act to amend Section 19490 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19490 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19490. In order to encourage and develop harness racing, whenever a fair conducted by the State Agricultural Society, or a district or county fair conducts a program of horse races on which there is pari-mutuel wagering, it shall provide a program of harness racing on the same days that it provides a program of racing in which the horses participating are mounted by jockeys, if sufficient harness horses are available to provide competition in one or more harness races.

CHAPTER 921

An act to add Section 19540.5 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19540.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19540.5. The board shall allocate the racing days for the conduct of racing.

CHAPTER 922

An act to add Section 19568 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19568 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19568. All moneys imposed as penalties or fines by the stewards of a horse race meeting shall be collected by the licensee conducting the horse race meeting and paid within 10 days after the close of the meeting to the board, and the board shall deposit all such moneys in the State Treasury for the credit of the General Fund.

CHAPTER 923

An act to amend Section 19598 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19598 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19598. From and after the effective date of this section, any person claiming to be entitled to any part of a redistribution from a pari-mutuel pool operated by a licensee under this chapter, who fails to claim the money due him prior to the completion of the racing meet at which such pool was formed, may, within 60 days after the close of such meet file with the board a verified claim in such form as the board shall prescribe setting forth in detail the claim of such person and such other information as may be necessary to identify the particular pool and the amount claimed therefrom, together with a substantial portion of the pari-mutuel ticket upon which such claim is based sufficient to identify the particular track, race, and horse involved, the amount wagered, and whether the ticket was a win, place, or show ticket. The board shall hear such claim and proof offered in support thereof. Unless the claimant satisfactorily establishes his right to participate in such pool, such claim shall be rejected. If the claim be allowed, the licensee shall upon order of the board pay the same to the claimant. Ninety days after the close of any racing meet hereafter conducted any moneys subjected to this section not theretofore successfully claimed, shall be paid to the board and the board shall immediately pay such money into the State Treasury to the credit of the General Fund.

CHAPTER 924

An act to add Article 1.5 to Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to pension trust benefit plans for local public employees.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 1.5 is added to Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 1.5. Pension Trusts

"Local agency"

53215. "Local agency" as used in this article means a city, city and county, district, school district, municipal or public corporation, political subdivision, or other public agency of the State, or any instrumentality of one or more of any such agencies.

Establishment of pension trust

53216. The legislative body of a local agency may establish a pension trust funded by individual life insurance contracts, individual annuities, group policies of life insurance, or group annuities, or any one or combination of them, for benefit of its officers and employees who elect to accept the benefits of such plan and who authorize the legislative body to deduct their plan contributions from their compensation.

Payments for premiums,
expenses

53217. From funds under its jurisdiction the legislative body may authorize payment to the trust of amounts equaling all or any portion of the premium due on such policies or contracts purchased by the trust. The legislative body may also authorize payment of amounts to cover the reasonable expenses of the administration of the trust. Such expenditures are charges against the funds of the agency making them.

Salary
deductions

53218. Any law prohibiting, restricting, or limiting the assignment of or order for wages or salary does not prohibit, restrict, or limit the powers conferred in this article nor the power of officers or employees to authorize and approve payment of trust contributions by wage and salary deductions.

Trustees, agents, or
officers

53219. A pension trust established pursuant to this article shall have trustees, agents or officers who shall carry on the business of the pension trust. The by-laws or declaration of trust shall prescribe the manner in which and the officers or agents by whom the pension trust may be conducted and the manner in which its funds shall be collected and disbursed. The funds and investments of a pension trust shall be held separately and independently of the funds and investments of the employer and of any other person.

Participation voluntary

53220. This article does not make it compulsory upon an officer or employee of a local agency to accept or join in any pension trust plan or to authorize deductions from their wages or salary as contributions toward such plan.

CHAPTER 925

An act to add Section 3606.1 to the Public Resources Code, relating to oil and gas.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3606.1 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

3606.1. The 150-foot restriction in Sections 3600 and elsewhere in this chapter shall apply only to wells drilled and producing from the same zone or pool; provided, however, that the well density shall not exceed one well per acre unless the supervisor shall determine that more than one zone or pool underlies the property and that it is not practical to produce from all of such zones or pools from a single well per acre and that such other zones or pools are being drained by offset wells. In such cases only, a maximum density of two wells per acre may be approved. These exceptions to the general spacing rule shall apply also to properties qualifying under Sections 3602 and 3606.

CHAPTER 926

An act to amend Section 595 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to extension of time and continuances in civil and administrative actions and proceedings.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 595 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

595. The trial of any civil action, or proceeding in a court, or of any administrative proceeding before a state board or commission or officer, irrespective of the date of the filing thereof or when it became at issue, or the hearing of any motion, demurrer, or other proceeding, shall be postponed when it appears to the court, board, commission, or officer before which such action or proceeding is pending that either a party thereto, or any attorney of record therein (whether he became an attorney of record before or after the commencement of a legislative session or before or after his appointment to a legislative committee), or a principal witness, is a Member of the Legislature of this State and that the Legislature is in session or in recess (not exceeding a recess of forty (40) days) or that a legislative interim committee of which he is a duly appointed member is meeting, or is to meet within a period which the court finds does not exceed the time reasonably

ment of court action
Party, etc.
Member of Legislature

necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel. When the Legislature is in session or in recess such action or proceeding shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record therein, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment of the Legislature or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If a date is available during recess, continuance shall be given if possible to such earlier date. When a legislative committee is meeting or is to meet within a period which the court finds does not exceed the time reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel, such action or proceeding shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record therein, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of such period necessary following the adjournment or recess of the committee meeting as the court finds is reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the place of trial or hearing by the ordinary mode of travel from the place of the committee meeting, unless at the expiration of that period the Legislature is to be in session; and in that case the action or proceeding shall not, without such consent, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If a date is available during the recess, continuance shall be given to such earlier date.

Absence of evidence

A motion to postpone a trial on the ground of the absence of evidence can only be made upon affidavit showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained, and that due diligence has been used to procure it. The court may require the moving party, where application is made on account of the absence of a material witness, to state upon affidavit the evidence which he expects to obtain; and if the adverse party thereupon admits that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed.

Stipulation

In all cases, the court shall postpone a trial, or the hearing of any motion or demurrer, for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, when all attorneys of record of parties who have appeared in the action agree in writing to such postponement.

Actions involving mining claims

In actions involving the title to mining claims, or involving trespass for damage upon mining claims, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that, in order that justice may be done and the action fairly tried on its merits, it is necessary that further developments should be made, underground or upon the surface of the mining claims involved in such action, the court shall grant the postponement of the trial of the action, giving the party a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial and to do said development work.

CHAPTER 927

An act to amend Section 988.2 of the Military and Veterans Code, relating to veterans' benefits.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 988.2 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

988.2. Out of any money available in the Veterans' Farm and Home Building Fund of 1943, the department may advance to any purchaser upon his application, and under such policies as the department may, from time to time, prescribe, sums for the purpose of paying taxes and assessments, or making permanent improvements, or keeping in good order or repair, or for painting, redecorating or remodeling, all buildings, fences or other permanent improvements on, or the insuring against fire or other hazards, any building, fence or other permanent improvements or crops on the property being purchased from the department, or the department may advance to any such purchaser moneys actually expended in so doing.

All the money advanced to a purchaser by the department shall be added to the deferred principal of the purchaser's account and bear interest at the same rate and shall be repaid by the purchaser to the department under such conditions as it may prescribe.

The moneys advanced may, in the discretion of the department, be in addition to the maximum purchase price of a farm or home as limited by the provisions of Sections 986.4 and 986.5 of this code.

The department shall be the sole judge of the need and desirability of making such advances.

CHAPTER 928

An act to amend Sections 4200 and 4201 of the Health and Safety Code and to add Section 25827 to the Government Code, relating to the power of counties to collect, contract for the collection of, and to grant franchises for the collection of combustible and noncombustible rubbish and garbage, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4200 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

Grant of franchise

4200. Every franchise or privilege for the collection, disposal or destruction, or any combination thereof, of garbage, waste, offal, and debris, shall be granted by the board of supervisors of any county only under the terms and conditions of this chapter.

Resolution

SEC. 2. Section 4201 of said code is amended to read:

4201. Any county may, by resolution of the board of supervisors, call for bids for the granting of a franchise, exclusive or otherwise, for the collection, disposal or destruction, or any combination thereof, of garbage, waste, offal, and debris, according to the terms and conditions set forth in the resolution, for a period of time not to exceed 25 years.

Notice

Thereafter the board of supervisors shall cause to be published once a week for two successive weeks a notice which shall set forth all of the terms and conditions embraced in the resolution and the time, date, and place for the receiving and opening of sealed bids which shall not be sooner than four full weeks from date of the first publication of the notice.

Bids

Upon examination by the board of supervisors of the bids, the franchise may be awarded to the best bidder. The board of supervisors may postpone the granting of the franchise from time to time until it has had a full and complete opportunity to examine into the merits of each bid.

SEC. 3. Section 25827 is hereby added to the Government Code, to read:

Counties
with population exceeding
3,000,000

25827. In any county having a population in excess of 3,000,000 the board of supervisors may collect or contract for the collection, or both, of garbage, waste, refuse, rubbish, offal, trimmings, or other refuse matter under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the board of supervisors by resolution or ordinance. For such purposes the board of supervisors may levy a yearly tax on property within the unincorporated area of the county, excluding territory within existing garbage disposal districts.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The County of Los Angeles is within a mountain-rimmed basin affected with a condition of temperature inversion particularly prevalent during the summer and early fall months. Airborne accumulations of gases and solids are confined by such topographical and meteorological conditions and during such periods constitute a serious menace to the health, safety and welfare of the persons residing therein. It has been determined that the incineration of rubbish in single chamber incinerators is a substantial contributing factor to such pollutants and accordingly the control thereof is essential. The effectiveness of such control is conditioned upon the ability of the county to provide either directly, through contract, or by franchise an adequate rubbish collection service within unincorporated territory. The county is without such powers, and absent urgency legislation will be powerless to take effective measures against such pollutants during the forthcoming summer period of high inversion.

CHAPTER 929

An act to amend Section 1254 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to condemnation of property for the use of school districts.

[Approved by Governor June 4, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1254 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1254. At any time after trial and judgment entered or pending an appeal from the judgment to the Supreme Court, whenever the plaintiff shall have paid into court, for the defendant, the full amount of the judgment, and such further sum as may be required by the court as a fund to pay any further damages and costs that may be recovered in said proceeding, as well as all damages that may be sustained by the defendant, if, for any cause, the property shall not be finally taken for public use, the superior court in which the proceeding was tried may, upon notice of not less than 10 days, authorize the plaintiff, if already in possession, to continue therein, and if not, then to take possession of and use the property during the pendency of and until the final conclusion of the litigation, and may, if necessary, stay all actions and proceedings against the plaintiff on account thereof. In an action for condemnation of property for the use of a school district, an order so authorizing possession or continuation of possession by such school district is not appealable. The defendant, who is entitled to the money paid into court for him upon any judgment, shall be entitled to demand and receive the same at any time thereafter upon obtaining an order therefor from the court. It shall be the duty of the court, or a judge thereof, upon application being made by such defendant, to order and direct that the money so paid into court for him be delivered to him upon his filing a satisfaction of the judgment, or upon his filing a receipt therefor, and an abandonment of all defenses to the action or proceeding, except as to the amount of damages that he may be entitled to in the event that a new trial shall be granted. A payment to a defendant, as aforesaid, shall be held to be an abandonment by such defendant of all defenses interposed by him, excepting his claim for greater compensation. In ascertaining the amount to be paid into court, the court shall take care that the same be sufficient and adequate. The payment of the money into court, as hereinbefore provided for, shall not discharge the plaintiff from liability to keep the said fund full and without diminution; but such money shall be and remain, as to all accidents, defalcations, or other contingencies (as between the parties to the proceedings), at the risk of the plaintiff, and shall so remain until the amount of the compensation or damages is finally settled by judicial determination, and until the court awards the money, or such part thereof as shall be determined upon, to the defendant, and until he is authorized or required by rule of court to take it. If, for any reason, the money shall at any time be lost, or otherwise abstracted or withdrawn, through no fault of the defendant, the court shall require the plaintiff to make and keep the sum good at all times until the litigation is finally brought to an end, and until paid over or made payable to the defendant by order of court, as above provided, and until such time or times the county clerk shall be deemed to be the custodian of the money, and shall be liable to the plaintiff upon his official bond for the same, or any part thereof, in case it be for any reason lost or otherwise abstracted or withdrawn. The court may order the money to be deposited in the State Treasury, and in such case it shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to receive all such moneys, duly receipt for, and to safely keep the same in a special fund, to be entered on his books as a condemnation fund for such purpose, and for such duty he shall be liable to the plaintiff upon his official bond. The State Treasurer shall pay out such money so deposited in such manner and at such times as the court or a judge thereof may, by order or decree, direct. In all cases where a new trial has been granted upon the application of the defendant, and he has failed upon such trial to obtain greater compensation than was allowed him upon the first trial, the costs of such new trial shall be taxed against him.

CHAPTER 930

An act to amend Sections 1603, 1628, 1651, 1670, 1679, 1723, and 1747, and to repeal Section 1745 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the practice of dentistry and dental hygiene and the administration of the laws relating thereto.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1603 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

1603. Members of the board shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, and each member shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of his suc-

Board of Dental
Examiners Appointment, terms,
etc., of
members

cessor or until six months shall have elapsed since the expiration of the term for which he was appointed, whichever first occurs.

The terms of the members of the board in office when this chapter takes effect shall expire as follows: two members, January 15, 1938; one member, January 15, 1939; two members, January 15, 1940; and two members, January 15, 1941. The terms shall expire in the same relative order as to each member as the term for which he holds office before this chapter takes effect.

A vacancy occurring during a term shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term, within 30 days after it occurs.

No person shall serve as a member of the board for more than two terms, but this provision shall not prevent any member from completing any term of office in which he may be serving at the time this limitation takes effect.

SEC. 2. Section 1628 of said code is amended to read:

1628. Any person over 21 years of age is eligible to take an examination before the board upon making application therefor and:

Qualifications of applicant

(a) Paying the fee for applicants for examination provided by this chapter;

(b) Furnishing satisfactory testimonials of good moral character;

(c) Furnishing satisfactory evidence of having graduated from a reputable dental college, which shall have been approved by the board; provided, also, that applicants furnishing evidence of having graduated after 1921 shall also present satisfactory evidence of having completed at such dental school or schools the full number of academic years of undergraduate courses required for graduation.

SEC. 3. Section 1651 of said code is amended to read:

1651. Any dentist who removes his place of practice shall register each change made by him within one month after making said change. In the event any licensed dentist fails to notify the board of any change in the address of his place of practice within the time prescribed by this section, the board shall not renew such person's license until the penalty fixed by this chapter is paid. An applicant for the annual renewal of a license to practice dentistry shall specify in his application whether he has changed the address of his place of practice during the previous year, and if so, the date of such change, and the board may accept such statement as evidence of such fact. When any licentiate hereunder desires to have more than one place of practice, he shall, prior to the opening of any additional office, make application therefor to the State Board of Dental Examiners on a form prescribed by the board and receive permission in writing from said board to have such additional place of practice. The board shall have power to carry out the provisions of this section by uniform rules and regulations.

SEC. 4. Section 1670 of said code is amended to read:

Revocation,
etc., of license Unprofessional conduct, etc

1670. Any dentist may have his license revoked or suspended or be reprimanded or be placed on probation by the board for unprofessional conduct and any licentiate under this chapter may have his license revoked or suspended or be reprimanded or placed on probation for gross ignorance or inefficiency in his profession, or for any other cause applicable to the licentiate provided in this chapter. The proceedings under this article shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein.

SEC. 5. Section 1679 of said code is amended to read:

Conviction of felony, etc

1679. Any licentiate under this chapter may have his license revoked or suspended or be reprimanded or be placed on probation by the board for conviction of a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, in which case the record of conviction or a certified copy thereof, certified by the clerk of the court or by the judge in whose court the conviction is had, shall be conclusive evidence.

The board shall undertake proceedings under this section upon the receipt of a certified copy of the record of conviction. A plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere made to a charge of a felony or of any offense involving moral turpitude is deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section. The board may order the license suspended or revoked, or may decline to issue a license, when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal or when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence, irrespective of a subsequent order under the provisions of Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code allowing such person to withdraw his plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, or setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information or indictment.

SEC. 6. Section 1723 of said code is amended to read:

Fines, etc., paid to secretary

1723. All fines, penalties and forfeitures including the examination fee imposed or collected by the board under any provision of this chapter shall be paid to the secretary.

Fee schedule

The amount of charges and fees for dentists prescribed by this chapter is that fixed by the following schedule:

(a) The fee for applicants for examination shall be that fixed annually by the board in an amount not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and not more than fifty dollars ($50). Applicants who are found to be ineligible to take the examination shall be entitled to a refund in an amount annually fixed by the board.

(b) The annual license fee is seven dollars ($7) but the board may reduce the fee to not less than three dollars ($3).

(c) The restoration fee for a license forfeited for the non-payment of the annual fee is ten dollars ($10).

(d) The restoration fee for a license forfeited for non-registration is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(e) The penalty for late registration of change of place of practice is ten dollars ($10).

SEC. 7. Section 1745 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 1747 of said code is amended to read:

1747. The board may take action under Article 4 of this chapter against any licensed dentist who shall permit any dental hygienist operating under his supervision to perform any operation other than that permitted under the provisions of this article, and the board may also take action under said article against any dental hygienist violating the provisions of this article. The proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein

CHAPTER 931

An act to amend Section 1191 of, and to add Section 1191.3 to the Military and Veterans Code, relating to the powers of memorial districts.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1191 of the Military and Veterans Code is amended to read:

1191. Every district may:

Powers
Halls

(a) Provide and maintain memorial halls, assembly halls, buildings, or meeting places for the use of veteran soldiers, sailors and marines who have honorably served the United States in any wars or campaigns recognized by law for the purposes of Section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution, or for the use of patriotic, fraternal, or benevolent associations of such persons.

(b) Purchase, receive by donation, condemn, lease, or acquire real or personal property necessary or convenient for the construction or maintenance of such halls, buildings and meeting places and improve, preserve, manage and control the same.

Acquisition
of property

(c) Purchase, construct, lease, build, furnish, or repair such halls, buildings and meeting places upon sites owned or leased by the district or made available to the district; and provide custodians, employees, attendants, and supplies for the proper maintenance, care and management thereof.

Construction,
maintenance etc

(d) Furnish sites for such halls, buildings, or meeting places, to be built either by the district or by or for patriotic, fraternal or benevolent associations of veterans, the funds for such sites to be supplied by the district or from other sources.

Sites

(e) Enter into agreements with county, municipal, school, park, or other public authorities or agencies, conveying, leasing, or making available to the district either gratuitously or

Agreements with other agencies

for compensation, sites upon public lands, for the construction, maintenance, and management thereon by the district of such assembly or memorial halls, buildings or meeting places; and construct and maintain thereon such halls, buildings or meeting places.

(f) Sell or lease any district property; provided, that any sale or lease shall be to the highest responsible bidder as determined by the board, except as provided in Section 1191.3. The board shall, prior to any sale, make a call for bids and advertise such call by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the district or two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in the district inviting sealed bids for the sale or lease of the property. The board may either accept the highest responsible bid or reject all bids. The board may require the successful bidder to file with the board good and sufficient undertaking to be approved by the board to insure faithful performance of the contract of sale or lease. No sales or lease shall be transacted, however, if a petition has been filed with the board requesting them not to enter into the sales or leasing of the property. Such petition shall:

(1) Have affixed thereto, as petitioners, the signatures, indicating place of residence and place of signing, of the electors of the district in a number equal to at least ten percent (10%) of the votes cast in the district at the last preceding general election held in the State.

(2) Should the petition be found to meet the requirements of (1) above, as determined by the records of the county clerk or registrar of voters for the county or counties in which said district lies, the board shall not convey the property or shall submit to the electors of the district to be voted upon at the next primary or general election, or at a special election called for the purpose to ratify or reject the action of the district to sell or lease the property.

(g) Sell or lease any district property to any political subdivision in which the district lies, or any portion thereof, to be used for the purpose of roads, streets or highways, or for the improvements thereof, without regard to the highest responsible bidder but otherwise meeting the requirements in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (f) above.

(h) Adopt, from time to time, reasonable rules and regulations for the use of such halls, buildings and meeting places by veterans or by organizations thereof, and when incidental to such uses, allow such halls, buildings and meeting places to be used for lawful purposes consistent with the objects hereof by persons or organizations other than veterans either free of charge or for stated compensation to aid in defraying the cost of maintenance thereof.

SEC. 2. Section 1191.3 is added to said code, to read:

1191.3. When the district desires to sell real property that was donated to the district by a city or county, the district shall offer to reconvey it to the city or county before selling it and shall reconvey it if the city or county agrees to accept it. If the property was sold to the district by a city or county, or was given or sold by a private person, or his successors in interest as determined by the district, the district shall offer to reconvey it at the then market price as determined by it, before selling it to any other person. In any case no sale or other use of the real property shall be made which is contrary to the provisions of any instrument under which the district holds title to or any interest in the property.

CHAPTER 932

An act to add Section 7125.1 to, and to amend Sections 8755 and 8762 of, the Education Code, relating to apportionments for junior high schools, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7125.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

7125.1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall withhold from the apportionment to an elementary school district the amount allowed the elementary school district for the average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8 in a junior high school by reason of the operation of subdivision (a) of Section 7000. The amount withheld shall be the larger of the following amounts:

(a) One hundred twenty dollars ($120) per unit of average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8 of the junior high school.

(b) An amount determined by the following process:

(1) Divide the district aid computed under Section 7081 or the amount which would have resulted had the tax used for such computation been eighty cents ($.80), whichever amount was used in computing equalization aid apportioned to the district, by the units of average daily attendance in kindergarten and grades 1 through 8;

(2) Subtract the quotient resulting from the computation in subparagraph (1) from the amount allowed per unit of average daily attendance as a foundation program for units of average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8 in the district;

(3) Multiply the result obtained in subparagraph (2) by the units of average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8 in a junior high school.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall add the amount withheld to the apportionment required to be made to the high school district maintaining the junior high school

SEC. 2. Section 8755 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Tuition for junior high schools

8755. The governing board of any elementary school district situated within a high school district maintaining a junior high school shall permit pupils who have completed the sixth year of the elementary school to attend the junior high school and shall pay to the high school district for the education of the pupils a tuition charge which shall be fixed by the governing board of the elementary school district but shall not be less than the average net cost of educating pupils in the first six grades of the elementary schools of the elementary school district, less the amount of any apportionments withheld from the said elementary school district and added to said high school district pursuant to Section 7125.1, but not more than the actual net cost to the high school district of educating such pupils, less the amount of any apportionments withheld from said elementary school district and added to said high school district pursuant to Section 7125.1.

SEC. 3. Section 8762 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Tuition rate

8762. The board of school trustees shall not pay a tuition charge greater than the average net cost per pupil for educating pupils in the first six years of the elementary school district in which they reside, as ascertained by the county superintendent of schools, less the amount of any apportionments withheld from said elementary school district and added to said high school district pursuant to Section 7125.1, and the tuition charge shall cease to be paid after the pupil has completed two years of work in the junior high school.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Present provisions of the Education Code require apportionments for the attendance of seventh and eighth grade pupils in a junior high school maintained by a high school district to be made to the elementary school district in which the seventh and eighth grade pupils reside. This provision has caused hardship to the high school district because in many instances the high school district did not receive tuition payments from the elementary school district. This bill will correct this situation.

It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately in order that apportionments for attendance of junior high school pupils may be made directly to high school districts during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year.

date

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1955.

CHAPTER 933

An act to repeal Sections 1047, 5010 (as added by Chapter 533, Statutes 1953), 9196, 19310, and 19627 of, and to amend Sections 5010 (as added by Chapter 1028, Statutes 1953), 5902, and 16143 of the Education Code, relating to audits and the Public School System.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1047 of the Education Code is re- Repeal pealed.

SEC. 2. Section 5010 (as added by Chapter 533, Statutes Repeal 1953) is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 5010 (as added by Chapter 1028, Statutes 1953) is amended to read:

5010. Not later than the first day of June of each fiscal Annual audit year each county superintendent of schools shall provide for an audit of all funds under his jurisdiction and control and the governing board of each district shall either provide for an audit of the books and accounts of the district or make arrangements with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district to provide for such auditing. In the event the governing board of a school district has not provided for an audit of the books and accounts of the district by May 1st, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district shall provide for the audit.

Each audit shall include all funds of the district including the student body and cafeteria funds and accounts and any other funds under the control or jurisdiction of the district.

The cost of the audits provided for by the county superintendent of schools shall be paid from the county school service fund and the county superintendent of schools shall transfer the pro rata share of the cost chargeable to each district from district funds.

The cost of the audit provided for by a governing board shall be paid from district funds. The audit of the funds under the jurisdiction and control of the county superintendent of schools shall be paid from the county school service fund.

The audits shall be made by a certified public accountant or a public accountant, licensed by the State Board of Accountancy. Not later than December 31st, a report of each audit for the preceding fiscal year shall be filed with the county clerk and the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the district is located, the Department of Education and the Department of Finance. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make any adjustments necessary in future apportionments of state funds, to correct any discrepancies revealed by such audit reports under the provisions of Section 7190 of this code.

If a governing board or county superintendent of schools fails or is unable to make satisfactory arrangements for audit pursuant to this section, the Department of Finance may make arrangements for the audit and the cost of such audit shall be paid from school district funds or the county school service fund as the case may be.

The Department of Finance with the cooperation of the Department of Education shall prescribe the statements and other information to be included in the audit reports filed with the State. The Department of Finance may make such audits, surveys and reports, and may develop suggested procedures for carrying out the purposes of this section, as in the judgment of the department will serve the best interests of the State.

Nothing in this section shall be considered as authorizing examination into or report on the curriculum used or provided for in any school district.

SEC. 4. Section 5902 of said code is amended to read:

Bond of officer

5902. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) of this section, the officer for whose use the revolving cash fund is created shall file with the governing body of the district a bond in favor of the district, executed by him as principal and by a surety company authorized under the laws of the State to execute bonds as surety, in an amount not less than double the amount of the revolving cash fund. The bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful administration of the revolving cash fund and upon the willingness and ability of the principal to account for and pay over the revolving cash fund at any time upon the demand of the governing board of the district. The premium on the bond shall be a legal charge against the district, payable from the funds of the district.

(b) In lieu of the bond required by subdivision (a) of this section, an officer may be bonded as provided by Section 5006.

SEC. 5. Section 16143 of said code is amended to read:

Supervision of student body funds

16143. The governing board of any school district shall provide for the supervision of all funds raised by any student body or student organization using the name of the school.

The cost of supervision may constitute a proper charge against the funds of the district.

The governing board of a school district may also provide for a continuing audit of student body funds with school district personnel.

Repeal

SEC. 6. Sections 9196, 19310, and 19627 of said code are repealed.

CHAPTER 934

An act to amend the title of Article 4 of Chapter 8 of Division 3 of, to amend Sections 5003, 5007, 5961, 5968, and 6301 of, to repeal Sections 5962, 5963, 5964, 5965, 5966, and 5967 of, and to add Sections 5962 and 5963 to, the Education Code, relating to school funds.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of Article 4 of Chapter 8 of Division 3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Article 4. Special Reserve Fund

SEC. 2. Section 5003 of said code is amended to read:

5003 All moneys received by any school district or paid into the county or city and county treasury to the credit of the district from state apportionments, county, district or municipal taxes, other than moneys required to be placed in a special reserve fund, a building fund or bond interest and sinking fund, and moneys authorized to be paid into a cafeteria fund or account, shall be deposited in the general fund of the district, which fund is continued in existence in each county and city and county treasury.

Deposits in
general fund

Nothing in this section shall be construed as discontinuing, nor as affecting the disposition of moneys in emergency cash funds, in revolving funds for warehouse stock, in cafeteria funds or accounts, in special reserve funds, in building funds, or in bond interest and sinking funds created or established under this code.

SEC. 3. Section 5007 of said code is amended to read:

5007. The governing board of any school district which now has, or hereafter shall have, funds in a special reserve fund of the district or any surplus moneys not required for the immediate necessities of the district, is hereby authorized to invest all or any part of such funds in bonds, notes, bills or certificates issued by the United States of America. Any bonds, notes, bills or certificates so purchased may be sold and the proceeds reinvested in similar bonds, notes, bills or certificates of the United States of America or placed in the county treasury for credit to the fund of the district from which purchased. This section shall not be construed as in any way limiting or modifying the application of any other law providing for or authorizing the investment of any funds of a school district. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, interest earned on funds representing the proceeds of bonds of the district shall be deposited and retained in the interest and sinking fund of the district to meet the principal and interest falling due on such bonds.

Investment
of funds

SEC. 4. Section 5961 of said code is amended to read:

Accumulation of funds 5961. The governing board of a school district may provide for the accumulation over a period of school years of funds for capital outlay purposes derived from the receipts of taxes levied for the district and from other sources, including balances, and not required to be used for other than capital outlay purposes.

Repeal SEC. 5. Sections 5962, 5963, 5964, 5965, 5966, and 5967 of said code are repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 5962 is added to said code, to read:

Establishment of special reserve funds 5962. Upon the filing of identical copies of a resolution of the governing board with the superintendent of schools, auditor, and treasurer of the county specifying the purpose or purposes of a special reserve fund, the fund shall be established for such purpose or purposes. From time to time thereafter, the governing board may file identical copies of resolutions specifying additional purposes of the fund or withdrawing any purpose previously designated. The auditor and treasurer shall transfer from the general fund to the special reserve fund of the district such amounts as may be specified by the governing board during the fiscal year.

SEC. 7. Section 5963 is added to said code, to read:

Expenditure 5963. The governing board may expend the money in the fund for the purpose or purposes specified in any resolution filed pursuant to Section 5962 unless the purpose has been withdrawn pursuant to that section.

SEC. 8. Section 5968 of said code is amended to read:

Transfer 5968. Any moneys remaining in the special reserve fund of the district shall be transferred to the general fund of the district by the auditor and treasurer upon written request to the superintendent of schools, auditor, and treasurer of the county by the governing board of the district, and the auditor and treasurer shall discontinue the special reserve fund.

SEC. 9. Section 6301 of said code is amended to read:

Tentative budget 6301. (a) On or before the first day of July in each year, the governing board of each school district shall file with the county superintendent of schools a tentative budget showing all the purposes for which the school district will need money and the estimated amount of money that will be needed for each purpose for the ensuing fiscal year. These purposes shall be classified to set forth the data by functions and objects of expenditure within the major classifications of administration, instruction, operation of plant, maintenance of plant, auxiliary services, community services, capital outlay, and such additional major classifications as may be prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and expenditures proposed to be made from bonds or other income not yet authorized. Within the major classifications of administration, instruction, operation of plant, maintenance of plant, auxiliary agencies, and community services there shall be set forth as separate entries the amount of proposed expenditures for salaries and wages and maintenance and operation and such additional intermediate classification as may be prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Proposed capital outlay appropriations shall be set forth by land, building, and equipment classifications. Wherever a district has a special reserve fund, as provided in Article 4 of Chapter 8 of this division, the amount in such fund at the end of the last preceding fiscal year, and the amount to be added during the ensuing fiscal year, shall be shown.

(b) The tentative budget shall also contain an amount to be known as the general reserve in such sum as the governing board may deem sufficient, for the next succeeding fiscal year, to meet the cash requirements to which the district's credit may be legally extended for that portion of said next succeeding fiscal year until adequate proceeds of the taxes levied for, or apportionment of state funds made to, the district during such succeeding fiscal year are available to the district.

(c) The tentative budget may also contain an amount to be known as the undistributed reserve. The funds in the undistributed reserve shall be available for appropriation by a two-thirds vote of the members of the governing board, to cover expenditures that have not been provided for or that may have been insufficiently provided for, or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise.

SEC. 10. Any balances remaining in the special accumulative building fund after the effective date of this act shall be transferred by the auditor and treasurer of the county to the general fund or the special reserve fund as specified by the governing board of the district.

CHAPTER 935

An act to amend Sections 1390 and 1401, and the title of Article 6 of Chapter 3, Part 2, Division 1, of the Insurance Code, relating to reciprocal insurers.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of Article 6 of Chapter 3, Part 2, Division 1 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

Article 6. Assessment of Insurers

SEC. 2. Section 1390 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1390. The provisions of this article shall apply only to exchanges writing liability, common carrier liability or workmen's compensation insurance, except that any exchange may apply for and receive the certificate provided for by Section 1401.

Applicability

SEC. 3. Section 1401 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

Certification
of surplus by commissioner

1401. If an exchange has a surplus of admitted assets over all liabilities in a sum equal to one and one-half times the minimum paid-in capital required of incorporated insurers issuing policies on a reserve basis and doing the same classes of insurance, then the Insurance Commissioner, upon written request, shall issue his certificate stating such fact. Subscribers at an exchange so certified shall have no liability for assessment on policies issued while such certificate remains in effect. Whenever the commissioner finds such fact does not exist, he shall revoke and require the surrender of his certificate. Upon revocation of such certificate no policy shall thereafter be issued nor be permitted to remain in force beyond the date fixed for the next payment of premium without written indorsement thereon providing for assessment liability in accordance with the terms of this chapter.

CHAPTER 936

An act to amend Sections 9201, and 9204 of the Public Resources Code, relating to soil conservation districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9201 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

Nomination for director

9201. Not less than 60 days prior to the election, any five or more electors in the district may file with the board of supervisors of the county in which is situated all or the greatest portion of the land in the district a petition requesting that the names of certain persons specified in the petition be placed upon the ballot as candidates for the office of director. Each person nominated shall be an owner of land within the district.

SEC. 2. Section 9204 of said code is amended to read:

Noncontested elections.
Failure to nominate

9204. If on the fiftieth day prior to the day fixed for the general soil conservation district election it appears that one person but not more than one, or that no person, has been nominated for each of the positions of director, which are to be filled at that election and that a petition, signed by not less than 5 percent of the registered voters in the district requesting that the general soil conservation district election in the district be held, has not been presented to the board of supervisors of the principal county, an election shall not be held, but the board of supervisors of the principal county at a regular, adjourned, or special meeting held prior to the day fixed for said election shall appoint to each of said positions the person who has been nominated for such position, or if no person has been nominated, any qualified person. The persons so appointed shall qualify, take office and serve exactly as if elected at a general soil conservation district election.

In such instances a notice that no election is to be held but that the board of supervisors will appoint those nominated, or qualified persons if none have been nominated, for said positions of director, shall be published at least five days prior to the date upon which said election would have been held.

CHAPTER 937

An act to amend Section 1194.8 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1194.8 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1194.8. Excess fund investments may be made by a life insurer in real estate and leases thereof and in making improvements thereon for business or residential purposes as an investment for the production of income. The phrase "business or residential purposes" shall not include real estate or leases primarily intended for use or valued as agricultural, horticultural, farm, ranch or mineral property. Any such investment may be made only by admitted insurers having admitted assets aggregating in value not less than twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000). Real estate and leases acquired and improvements made thereon under this section shall not exceed in the aggregate an amount equal to 10 percent of the insurer's admitted assets. Real estate and leases acquired under this section shall be in addition to that which is authorized to be acquired under the provisions of paragraphs (a) to (h) inclusive of Section 1150. Except upon the prior approval in writing of the commissioner, an investment may not be made under the authority of this section if at the time of the making of such investment it would result in the insurer then owning real estate and leases thereof, other than of the kind and for the purposes described in paragraphs (a), (b) and (f) of Section 1150, in an amount exceeding 10 percent of the insurer's admitted assets. Any investment in a single parcel of real estate or in a single leasehold including improvements thereon made under the authority of this section shall not be made in an amount in excess of 1 percent of the insurer's admitted assets. A lease eligible for purchase hereunder shall be for a term which at the date of purchase shall not expire for at least 24 years. Percentage or dollar value of assets as provided herein shall be determined by the insurer's last preceding annual statement of conditions and affairs made as of the December 31st last preceding and which has been filed with the commissioner pursuant to law.

CHAPTER 938

An act to add Sections 23051, 23052, 23053, 23054, 23055, 23056, 23057 and 23058 to, and to amend Sections 23186a, 23225 and 23333 of, and to add Section 23504 to, and to amend Sections 23701a, 23731a, 23732, 23732h, 23735 and 23736.1 of, and to repeal Chapters 5 to 9, inclusive, comprising Sections 23851 to 25295a, inclusive, of, and to add Chapters 5 to 18, inclusive, comprising Sections 24251 to 25207, inclusive, to, and to renumber Chapters 10 to 15, inclusive, of, and to amend Section 25403, 25675, 25901c, 25902, 25931, 26073a, 26073b and 26134 of Part 11 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the taxation of banks, corporations, associations and Massachusetts trusts, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect
inmediately

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23051 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

"Bank and Corporation Tax Law
of 1954"

23051. The term "Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954," means Part 11 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code as enacted by Statutes 1949, Chapter 557, and as subsequently amended, including all amendments enacted prior to December 31, 1954.

SEC. 2. Section 23052 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Construction

23052. The provisions of this code insofar as they are substantially the same as existing statutory provisions relating to the same subject matter shall be construed as restatements and continuations thereof, and not as new enactments.

SEC. 3. Section 23053 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Effect of repeals

23053. The repeal of any provision of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 shall not affect any act done or any right accruing or accrued, or any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause, before such repeal; but all rights and liabilities under such law shall continue, and may be enforced in the same manner, as if such repeal had not been made.

SEC. 4. Section 23054 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

References

23054. For the purpose of applying the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 or the Bank and Corporation Tax Law as herein enacted to any period, any reference in either such law to another provision of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 or the Bank and Corporation Tax Law as herein enacted which is not then applicable to such period shall be deemed a reference to the corresponding provision of the other law which is then applicable to such period.

SEC. 5. Section 23055 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23055. Any provision of this part which refers to the application of any portion of this part to a prior period (or which depends upon the application to a prior period of any portion of this part) shall, when appropriate and consistent with the purpose of such provision, be deemed to refer to (or depend upon the application of) the corresponding provision of Part 11 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or of such other Bank and Corporation Tax Laws as were applicable to the prior period. Application

SEC. 6. Section 23056 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23056. Division, part, chapter, article, section and subsection headings contained herein shall not be deemed to govern, limit, modify, or in any manner affect the scope, meaning, or intent of the provisions of this code. Construction

SEC. 7. Section 23057 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23057. If any chapter, article, section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this part which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this part, or the application thereof to any person, taxpayer or circumstance, is for any reason determined unconstitutional, such determination shall not affect the remainder of this part, nor, will the application of any such provision to other persons, taxpayers or circumstances, be affected thereby. Severability

SEC. 8. Section 23058 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23058. Unless otherwise specifically provided the provisions of any law effecting changes in the computation of taxes shall be applied only in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning after December 31st of the year preceding enactment and the remaining provisions of any such law shall become effective on the date it becomes law. Application of amendments in computing tax

SEC. 9. Section 23186a of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23186a. The Franchise Tax Board, after public hearing and opportunity given to examine the data on which its determination is based, shall determine not later than the thirty-first day of December of each year the average percentage of net income above specified, and, within 30 days after its determination, shall mail notice of its determination and the amount of tax payable on the basis of such determination to all banks and financial corporations affected thereby, which are then classified on its records as banks or financial corporations, but such determination shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of Article 1 of Chapter 20. The data gathered by the Franchise Tax Board in determining the rate, referred to herein, shall be made avail- Determination of average percentage of net income able to the taxpayers affected by such determination at the time and in the manner prescribed by regulations adopted by the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 10. Section 23225 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Due date of adjusted tax

23225. The adjusted tax, as provided in Sections 23222 to 23224, inclusive, for any taxable year in excess of the prepayment for that year, shall be due and payable in one amount on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of that taxable year, or on or before the expiration of the period of extension where an extension has been granted by the Franchise Tax Board under Article 1 of Chapter 19, and, if not so paid, interest shall be added thereto in the manner and at the rate or rates provided in Article 1 of Chapter 21.

SEC. 11. Section 23333 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Rate of tax
Taxpayer dissolved or withdrawn prior to rate determination

23333. A taxpayer subject to Section 23186 shall, if it dissolves or withdraws prior to the date the rate is determined under Section 23186, pay a tax under the preceding paragraph at the maximum rate prescribed by said Section 23186; if the rate is subsequently determined to be less than the maximum prescribed by Section 23186, a refund shall, within thirty (30) days of such determination, be made as prescribed by Article 1 of Chapter 22; that part of the tax thus determined which is in excess of four percent (4%) shall be collected as a demand for second installment under Article 3 of Chapter 19.

SEC. 12. Section 23504 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is added to read:

Change in applicable
tax

23504. Where a corporation formerly subject to tax under Chapter 2 becomes subject to tax under Chapter 3, it shall file an information return for the income year in which the change occurs. The tax for the year in which the change occurs will be assessed under Chapter 2 and not under Chapter 3. For years subsequent to the year in which the change occurs, the tax will be assessed under Chapter 3.

SEC. 13. Section 23701a of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Exemptions
Labor etc., organizations

23701a. Labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, other than cooperative organizations described in Sections 24404 or 24405.

SEC. 14. Section 23731a of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Organizations subject to tax

23731a. The tax imposed under Section 23731 shall apply in the case of any organization (other than a church, a convention or association of churches) which is exempt, except as provided in this article, from taxation under this part by reason of Sections 23701a, 23701d or 23701e. Such taxes shall also apply to an organization described in Section 23701h if the income is payable to an organization which itself is subject to the tax imposed under Section 23731 or to a church or to a convention or association of churches.

SEC. 15. Section 23732 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23732. The term "unrelated business net income" means the gross income derived by any organization from any unrelated trade or business, as defined in Section 23734, regularly carried on by it, less the deductions allowed by Articles 1 and 2 of Chapter 7, which are directly connected with the carrying on of such trade or business, subject to the exceptions, additions, and limitations prescribed in Sections 23732a to 23732h, inclusive "Unrelated business net income"

SEC. 16. Section 23732h of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23732h. In the case of any organization described in Section 23731a, the so-called "charitable contribution" deduction allowed by Section 24357 shall be allowed (whether or not directly connected with the carrying on of the trade or business), but shall not exceed 5 percent of the unrelated business net income computed without the benefit of this section. Charitable contributions Limitation

SEC. 17. Section 23735 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23735. (a) The term "Article 2 lease" means a lease for a term of more than five years of real property by an organization (or by a partnership of which it is a member), if at the close of the lessor's taxable year there is an Article 2 lease indebtedness (as defined in Section 23735a) with respect to such property. "Article 2 lease"

(b) For purposes of subsection (a)—

(1) In computing the term of a lease which contains an option for renewal or extension, the term of such lease shall be considered as including any period for which such option may be exercised; and the term of any lease made pursuant to an exercise of such option shall include the period during which the prior lease was in effect. If real property is acquired subject to a lease, the term of such lease shall be considered to begin on the date of such acquisition.

(2) If the property has been occupied by the same lessee for a total period of more than five years commencing not earlier than the date of acquisition of the property by the organization (whether such occupancy is under one or more leases, renewals, extensions, or continuations thereof), the occupancy of such lessee shall be considered to be under a lease for a term of more than five years within the meaning of subsection (a). However, Section 23735e shall apply in the case of a tenancy described in this paragraph (and not within paragraph (1)) only with respect to the sixth and succeeding years of occupancy by the same lessee. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "same lessee" shall include any lessee of the property whose relationship with a lessee of the same property is such that losses in respect of sales or exchanges of property between the two lessees would be disallowed under Section 24427.

(c) No lease shall be considered an Article 2 lease if (1) such lease is entered into primarily for purposes which are substantially related (aside from the need of such organization for income or funds or the use it makes of the rents derived) to the exercise or performance by such organization of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function constituting the basis for its exemption under Article 1, or (2) the lease is of premises in a building primarily designed for occupancy and occupied by the organization.

(d) If a lease for more than five years to a tenant is for only a portion of the real property, and space in the real property is rented during the taxable year under a lease for not more than five years to any other tenant of the organization, leases of the real property for more than five years shall be considered as Article 2 leases during the taxable year only if—

(1) The rents derived from the real property during the taxable year under such leases represent 50 percent or more of the total rents derived during the taxable year from the real property; or the area of the premises occupied under such leases represents, at any time during the taxable year, 50 percent or more of the total area of the real property rented at such time; or

(2) The rent derived from the real property during the taxable year from any tenant under such a lease, or from a group of tenants (under such leases) who are (A) members of an affiliated group (as defined in Section 23361) or (B) partners, represents more than 10 percent of the total rents derived during the taxable year from such property; or the area of the premises occupied by any one such tenant, or by any such group of tenants, represents at any time during the taxable year more than 10 percent of the total area of the real property rented at such time. In the application of paragraph (1), if during the last half of the term of a lease a new lease is made to take effect after the expiration of such lease, the unexpired portion of such lease on the date the second lease is made shall not be treated as a part of the term of the second lease.

SEC. 18. Section 23736.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

“Prohibited transaction”

23736.1. For the purposes of this article, the term “prohibited transaction” means any transaction in which an organization subject to the provisions of this article—

(a) Lends any part of its income or corpus, without the receipt of adequate security and a reasonable rate of interest, to;

(b) Pays any compensation, in excess of a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, to;

(c) Makes any part of its services available on a preferential basis to;

(d) Makes any substantial purchase of securities or any other property, for more than adequate consideration in money or money's worth, from;

(e) Sells any substantial part of its securities or other property, for less than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, to; or

(f) Engages in any other transaction which results in a substantial diversion of its income or corpus to;

the creator of such organization (if a trust); a person who has made a substantial contribution to such organization; a member of the family (as defined in Section 17289(d) of this code) of an individual who is the creator of such trust or who has made a substantial contribution to such organization; or a corporation controlled by such creator or person through the ownership, directly or indirectly, of 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation.

SEC. 19. Chapters 5 to 9, inclusive, comprising Sections ^{Repeal} 23851 to Sections 25295a, inclusive, of Part 11 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code are hereby repealed.

SEC. 20. Chapters 5 to 18, inclusive, comprising Sections 24251 to 25207, inclusive, are added to Part 11 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code to read :

CHAPTER 5. COMPUTATION OF TAX WHEN LAW CHANGED

24251. The tax on any taxpayer for a period beginning in one calendar year (called "first calendar year") and ending in the following calendar year (called "second calendar year") where the law applicable to the computation of taxes for calendar year taxpayers for the second calendar year is different from the law applicable to computation of taxes for calendar year taxpayers for the first calendar year, shall, except as otherwise provided, be the sum of:

Rate of tax
when law changed

(a) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law and rates applicable to the first calendar year which the portion of the period falling within the first year is of the entire period; and

(b) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law and rates applicable to the second calendar year which the portion of the period falling within the second calendar year is of the entire period.

Any tax that has been paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year if in excess of the tax imposed by this section shall be refunded or credited to the taxpayer as provided in Chapter 22. Any tax in addition to that paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year made necessary by this article shall be immediately due and payable upon notice and demand from the Franchise Tax Board.

CHAPTER 6. GROSS INCOME

Article 1. Definitions

Gross
Income

24271. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part, gross income means all income from whatever source derived, including (but not limited to) the following items:

- (1) Compensation for services, including fees, commissions, and similar items;
- (2) Gross income derived from business;
- (3) Gains derived from dealings in property;
- (4) Interest;
- (5) Rents;
- (6) Royalties;
- (7) Dividends;
- (8) Annuities;
- (9) Income from life insurance and endowment contracts;
- (10) Income from discharge of indebtedness;
- (11) Distributive share of partnership gross income;
- (12) Income from an interest in an estate or trust.

Same

24272. For the purposes of the tax imposed under Chapter 2, "gross income" includes all interest received from federal, state, municipal or other bonds.

Loans from Commodity Credit
Corporation

24273. (a) Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation shall, at the election of the taxpayer, be considered as income and shall be included in gross income for the income year in which received.

(b) If a taxpayer exercises the election provided for in subsection (a) for any income year, then the method of computing income so adopted shall be adhered to with respect to all subsequent income years unless with the approval of the Franchise Tax Board a change to a different method is authorized.

Article 2. Exclusions

Exclusions
from gross
income

24301. In computing the tax imposed under this part, "gross income" does not include any of the items specified in this article.

Amounts received under life insurance,
endowment,
etc., contracts

24302. (a) Amounts received other than amounts paid by reason of the death of the insured under life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts, either during the term or at maturity or upon surrender of the contract, equal to the total amount of premiums paid thereon. In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration by assignment or otherwise, of a life insurance, endowment or annuity contract or any interest therein, only the actual value of such consideration and the amount of the premiums and other sums subsequently paid by the transferee shall be excluded from gross income under Section 24305 or this section. The preceding sentence shall not apply in the case of such a transfer if such contract or interest therein has a basis for determining gain or loss in the hands of a transferee determined in whole or in part by reference to such basis of such contract or interest therein in the hands of the transferor.

24305. Amounts received under life insurance policies and ^{Same} contracts paid by reason of the death of the insured but if such amounts are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments shall be included in gross income.

24307. (a) No amount shall be included in gross income by reason of the discharge, in whole or in part, within the income year, of any indebtedness for which the taxpayer is liable, or subject to which the taxpayer holds property, if—

(1) The indebtedness was incurred or assumed—

(A) By a corporation; or

(B) By an individual in connection with property used in his trade or business; and

(2) Such taxpayer makes and files a consent to the regulations prescribed under Section 24918 (relating to adjustment of basis) then in effect at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board by regulations prescribes.

In such case, the amount of any income of such taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the income year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income, and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the income year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction.

(b) No amount shall be included in gross income by reason of the discharge, cancellation, or modification, in whole or in part, within the income year, of any indebtedness of a railroad corporation, as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act (11 U. S. C. 205(m)), if such discharge, cancellation, or modification is effected pursuant to an order of a court in a receivership proceeding or in a proceeding under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act. In such cases, the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the income year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income, and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the income year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction. Subsection (a) of this section shall not apply with respect to any discharge of indebtedness to which this subsection applies. This subsection shall not apply to any discharge occurring in an income year beginning after December 31, 1955.

24308. If a stockholder or stockholders of a taxpayer cancels any indebtedness owing to the stockholder or stockholders by the taxpayer, such cancellation shall not constitute income to the taxpayer except to the extent that the taxpayer received a tax benefit, under this part, from such indebtedness. ^{Cancellation of indebtedness to stockholder}

of lease

24309. Gross income does not include income (other than rent) derived by a lessor of real property on the termination of a lease, representing the value of such property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee.

Recovery of bad debts,
etc

24310. (a) Gross income does not include income attributable to the recovery during the income year of a bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, to the extent of the amount of the recovery exclusion with respect to such debt, tax, or amount.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a)—

"Bad debt"

(1) The term "bad debt" means a debt on account of the worthlessness or partial worthlessness of which a deduction was allowed for a prior income year.

"Prior tax"

(2) The term "prior tax" means a tax on account of which a deduction or credit was allowed for a prior income year.

"Delinquency
amount"

(3) The term "delinquency amount" means an amount paid or accrued on account of which a deduction or credit was allowed for a prior income year and which is attributable to failure to file return with respect to a tax, or pay a tax, within the time required by the law under which the tax is imposed, or to failure to file return with respect to a tax or pay a tax.

"Recovery
exclusion"

(4) The term "recovery exclusion," with respect to a bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, means the amount, determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, of the deductions or credits allowed, on account of such bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, which did not result in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax under this part or corresponding provisions of prior tax laws, reduced by the amount excludable in previous income years with respect to such debt, tax or amount under this section.

CHAPTER 7. NET INCOME

Article 1. Deductions

"Net
income"

24341. "Net income" means the gross income, computed under Chapter 6, less the deductions allowed under this article and Article 2 of this chapter.

Deductions
Ordinary and necessary business
expenses

24343. (a) There shall be allowed as a deduction all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the income year in carrying on any trade or business, including—

(1) A reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered; and

(2) Rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession, for purposes of the trade or business, of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which it has no equity.

(b) No deduction shall be allowed under subsection (a) for any contribution or gift which would be allowable as a deduction under Section 24357 were it not for the percentage limitations, or the requirements as to the time of payment, set forth in such section.

24344. There shall be allowed as a deduction all interest paid or accrued during the income year on indebtedness of the taxpayer to the extent that such interest exceeds the income of the taxpayer from interest and dividends, except: (a) dividends deductible under the provisions of Section 24402 and (b) dividends from corporations, 50 percent or more of the outstanding stock of which is owned by the taxpayer, which is not included in the measure of the tax imposed by this part; or to the extent of interest and dividends included in the measure of the tax imposed by this part, whichever is the greater.

24345. There shall be allowed as a deduction—

(a) Taxes or licenses paid or accrued during the income year except: Interest payments

(1) Taxes paid to the State under this part.

(2) Taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the income year imposed by the authority of

(A) The Government of the United States or any foreign country; or

(B) Any state, territory, county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any state or territory.

(3) Taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this does not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of the taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges. Nor does this exclude the allowance of any irrigation or other water district taxes or assessments which are levied for the payment of the principal of any improvement or other bonds for which a general assessment on all lands within the district is levied as distinguished from a special assessment levied on part of the area within the district.

(b) (1) In this subsection, "retail sales tax" means a tax imposed by any state, territory, district, or possession of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, upon persons engaged in: "Retail sales tax"

(A) Selling tangible personal property at retail, which is measured by the gross sales price or the gross receipts from the sale or which is a stated sum per unit of the property sold.

(B) Furnishing services at retail, which is measured by the gross receipts for furnishing the services.

(2) If the amount of a retail sales tax is separately stated, to the extent that the amount so stated is paid by the purchaser (otherwise than in connection with the purchaser's trade or business) the amount shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the net income of the purchaser as if the amount were a tax imposed upon and paid by the purchaser.

24347. (a) There shall be allowed as a deduction any loss sustained during the income year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. Uncompensated loss adjusted basis provided in Section 24911 for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the basis for determining the amount of the deduction for any loss shall be the

(c) For purposes of subsection (a), any loss arising from theft shall be treated as sustained during the income year in which the taxpayer discovers such loss.

(d) If any security becomes worthless during the income year, the loss resulting therefrom shall, for purposes of this part, be treated as a loss from its sale or exchange, on the last day of the income year.

Bad debts

24348. There shall be allowed as a deduction debts which become worthless within the income year; or, in the discretion of the Franchise Tax Board, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable in part only the Franchise Tax Board may allow such debt, in an amount not in excess of the part charged off within the income year, as a deduction; provided, however, that if a debt was actually worthless prior to January 1, 1943, but was not ascertained to be worthless and charged off prior to said date, a deduction may be taken therefor during the first income year ending after December 31, 1942; and, provided, that if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt which in any prior year was charged off, regardless of whether claimed as a deduction in such prior year.

Depreciation
of business
property

24349. There shall be allowed as a deduction a reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business.

Basis for depreciation

24350. The basis of the allowance for depreciation prescribed in Section 24349 is the adjusted basis provided in Article 2 of Chapter 15, for the purpose of determining gain upon the sale or other disposition of the property.

Amortization
of emergency
facilities

24355. A taxpayer may elect to claim a deduction for amortization of emergency facilities, as defined by Section 124 and Section 124A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939, as amended by Section 216 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1950 and Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Contributions
or gifts

24357. There shall be allowed as a deduction contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the income year to or for the use of:

(a) The United States, any state, territory, or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia, or any possession of the United States, for exclusively public purposes; or

(b) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof or under the law of the United States, or of any state or territory, or of the District of Columbia, or of any possession of the United States, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, veteran rehabilitation service, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals (but in the case of contributions or gifts to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation, payment of which is made within an income year beginning after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, only if such contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States or any of its possessions exclusively for such purposes), no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation. For disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions, otherwise allowable under this subsection, see Section 24359; or

(c) Posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units of, or trusts or foundations for, any such posts or organizations, if such posts, organizations, units, trusts, or foundations are organized in the United States or any of its possessions, and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual; or

(d) A corporation or organization which is organized in the United States or any of its possessions by or for members of the armed forces of the United States for the purpose of aiding or assisting members of such forces or their relatives if no part of the net earnings of such corporation or organization inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(e) The amount of aggregate deductions allowable under subsections (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section is limited to the extent it does not exceed 5 percent of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefits of this subsection.

Such contributions or gifts shall be allowable as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

24358. In the case of a bank or corporation reporting its net income on the accrual basis, at the election of the taxpayer any contribution or gift, payment of which is made after the close of the income year and on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of such year shall, for the purposes of Section 24357, be considered as paid during such income year if, during such year, the board of directors authorized such contribution or gift. Such election shall be made only at the time of the filing of the return for the income year and shall be signified in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board shall by regulation prescribe.

Authorized gift by bank or corporation

24359. No gift or bequest for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes (including the encouragement of art and the prevention of cruelty to children or animals), otherwise allowable as a deduction, shall be allowed as a deduction if made to an organization which, in the income year of the organization in which the gift or bequest is made, is not exempt under Section 23701d by reason of the provisions of Article 2 of Chapter 4. With respect to any income year of

Gift to nonexempt organization
nonde-ductible

the organization for which the organization is not exempt pursuant to the provisions of Section 23736.2 by reason of having engaged in a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting the corpus or income such organization from its exempt purposes and such transaction involved a substantial part of such corpus or income, and which income year is the same, or prior to the, income year of the organization in which such transaction occurred, such deduction shall be disallowed the donor only if it was a party to such prohibited transaction.

For the purposes of this section, the term "gift or bequest" means any gift, contribution, bequest, devise, legacy, or transfer.

Amortizable
bond
premiums

24360. In the case of any bond, as defined in Section 24363, the following rules shall apply to the amortizable bond premium (determined under Section 24361 on the bond):

(a) In the case of a bond, the amount of the amortizable bond premium for the income year shall be allowed as a deduction.

(b) In the case of any bond the interest on which is excludable from gross income under Chapter 3, no deduction shall be allowed for the amortizable bond premium for the taxable year.

Determination of bond
premium

24361. (a) For purposes of subsection (b), the amount of bond premium, in the case of the holder of any bond, shall be determined—

(1) With reference to the amount of the basis (for determining loss on sale or exchange) of such bond;

(2) With reference to the amount payable on maturity or on earlier call date; and

(3) With adjustments proper to reflect unamortized bond premium, with respect to the bond, for the period before the date as of which Section 24360 becomes applicable with respect to the taxpayer with respect to such bond.

In no case shall the amount of bond premium on a convertible bond include any amount attributable to the conversion features of the bond.

(b) The amortizable bond premium of the income year shall be the amount of the bond premium attributable to such year. In the case of a bond described in Section 24362(a) issued after January 22, 1951, and acquired after January 22, 1954, which has a call date not more than three years after the date of such issue, the amount of bond premium attributable to the income year in which the bond is called shall include an amount equal to the excess of the amount of the adjusted basis (for determining loss on sale or exchange) of such bond as of the beginning of the income year over the amount received on redemption of the bond or (if greater) the amount payable on maturity.

(c) The determinations required under subsections (a) and (b) shall be made—

(1) In accordance with the method of amortizing bond premium regularly employed by the holder of the bond, if such method is reasonable;

(2) In all other cases, in accordance with regulations prescribing reasonable methods of amortizing bond premium prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

24362. (a) Sections 24360 to 24363, inclusive, shall apply ^{Taxpayer's election} to the bonds only if the taxpayer has elected to have these sections apply; in the case of any taxpayer, bonds the interest on which is not excludable from gross income.

24363. For purposes of Sections 24360 to 24363, inclusive, ^{"Bond"} the term "bond" means any bond, debenture, note, or certificate or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any corporation and bearing interest (including any like obligation issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), but does not include any such obligation which constitutes stock in trade of the taxpayer or any such obligation of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the income year, or any such obligation held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

24364. Notwithstanding Article 3, Chapter 7, all expenditures (other than expenditures for the purchase of land or depreciable property or for the acquisition of circulation through the purchase of any part of the business of another publisher of a newspaper, magazine, or other periodical) to establish, maintain, or increase the circulation of a newspaper, magazine, or other periodical shall be allowed as a deduction; except that the deduction shall not be allowed with respect to the portion of such expenditures as, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, is chargeable to capital account if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat such portion as so chargeable. Such election, if made, must be for the total amount of such portion of the expenditures which is so chargeable to capital account, and shall be binding for all subsequent income years unless, upon application by the taxpayer, the Franchise Tax Board permits a revocation of such election subject to such conditions as it deems necessary. ^{Expenditures to establish, etc., circulation of newspaper, etc}

For the purposes of this section, the term "expenditures made for the purpose of soil and water conservation and the prevention of erosion" means expenditures for the treatment, moving, or cultivation of earth, including (but not limited to) leveling, grading and terracing, contour furrowing, the construction of diversion channels and drainage ditches, the control and protection of watercourses, outlets, and ponds, the planting and cultivation of cover and protective crops or wind-breaks, the control of weeds and brush and other special or emergency cultivation and tillage; but such term does not include the purchase, construction, installation, or improvement of structures, appliances, and facilities made of masonry, concrete, tile, metal, or wood, such as tanks, reservoirs, pipes, conduits, canals, dams, wells, and pumps, which are subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 24349. For the purpose of this section, the term "land used in farming" means land used (prior to the expenditure for conservation made by the taxpayer) by the taxpayer or its tenant or the predecessor owner or its tenant for the production of crops, fruits, and similar agricultural products or for the sustenance of livestock.

Interest paid to depositors by mutual savings bank

24370. There shall also be allowed as a deduction, under Chapter 2 of this part, in the case of a mutual savings bank, the entire amount of interest paid to depositors possessing no proprietary interest in the institution or in its surplus, and interest on their deposits to members possessing a proprietary interest in the institution or in its surplus at a rate determined by the State Superintendent of Banks to be the going rate of interest upon savings deposits in the State during the calendar year preceding the taxable year, such rate to be certified by him to the Franchise Tax Board on or before the first day of March of each year.

Recomputa-
tion of tax Validity of provisions

24371. For the purposes of the tax imposed under Chapter 2, if any deduction provided for in this article is finally adjudged discriminatory against a national banking association contrary to Title 12, Section 548, United States Code, or is for any reason finally adjudged invalid, in that event the tax of the favored taxpayer shall be recomputed by the Franchise Tax Board for the taxable year in question, as of the time of allowance of the deduction, by disallowing the deduction, and any difference between the amount of the tax as recomputed and the amount of the tax as originally computed shall be subject to the provisions hereof relating to original computations.

Article 2. Special Deductions

Special
deductions

24401. In addition to the deductions provided in Article 1, there shall be allowed as deductions in computing taxable income the items specified in this article.

Dividends

24402. Dividends received during the income year declared from income which has been included in the measure of the taxes imposed under Chapter 2 or Chapter 3 of this part upon the taxpayer declaring the dividends.

24403. In the case of a building and loan association, organized and operating wholly or partly on a mutual plan, or a federal savings and loan association, organized and operating wholly or partly on a mutual plan, the return paid or credited on or apportioned to their withdrawable shares. Return paid on withdrawable shares by building and loan, etc. association

24404. In the case of farmers, fruit growers, or like associations organized and operated in whole or in part on a cooperative or mutual basis, (a) for the purpose of marketing the products of members or other producers, and turning back to them the proceeds of sales, less the necessary marketing expenses, which may include reasonable reserves, on the basis of either the quantity or the value of the products furnished by them, or (b) for the purpose of purchasing, or producing, supplies and equipment for the use of members or other persons, and turning over such supplies and equipment to them at actual cost, plus necessary expenses, all income resulting from or arising out of such business activities for or with their members carried on by them or their agents; or when done on a nonprofit basis for or with nonmembers. Income of nonprofit farm cooperative, etc

24405. In the case of other associations organized and operated in whole or in part on a cooperative or mutual basis, all income resulting from or arising out of business activities for or with their members carried on by them or their agents; or when done on a nonprofit basis for or with nonmembers. Income from other cooperative organizations

Article 3. Items Not Deductible

24421. In computing "net income" of taxpayers under this part, no deduction shall be allowed for the items specified in this article. Items not deductible

24422. No deduction shall be allowed for—

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate. This subsection shall not apply to— Permanent improvements

(1) Expenditures for the development of mines or deposits deductible under Section 24836;

(2) Soil and water conservation expenditures deductible under Section 24369.

(b) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

24423. Notwithstanding Section 24422, regulations shall be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board under this part corresponding to the regulations which granted the option to deduct as expenses intangible drilling and development costs in the case of oil and gas wells and which were recognized and approved by the Congress in House Concurrent Resolution 50, Seventy-ninth Congress. Regulations re intangible drilling expenses, etc., of oil and gas wells

24424. (a) No deduction shall be allowed for—

Life insurance
premiums

(1) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under such policy.

(2) Any amount paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry a single premium life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract. Paragraph (2) shall apply in respect of annuity contracts only as to contracts purchased after December 31, 1954.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a) (2), a contract shall be treated as a single premium contract—

(1) If substantially all the premiums on the contract are paid within a period of four years from the date on which the contract is purchased; or

(2) If an amount is deposited after December 31, 1954, with the insurer for payment of a substantial number of future premiums on the contract.

Amounts not included in measure of tax

24425. Any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction which is allocable to one or more classes of income not included in the measure of the tax imposed by this part, regardless of whether such income was received or accrued during the income year.

Amounts chargeable to capital account

24426. Amounts paid or accrued for such taxes and carrying charges as, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, are chargeable to capital account with respect to property, if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat such taxes or charges as so chargeable.

Additional items not deductible Family, etc.,
transactions

24427. No deduction shall be allowed—

In respect of losses from sales or exchanges of property (other than losses in cases of distributions in corporate liquidations), directly or indirectly, between persons specified within any one of the paragraphs of Section 24428.

In respect of expenses, otherwise deductible under Section 24343, or of interest, otherwise deductible under Section 24344—

(a) If within the period consisting of the income year of the taxpayer and $2\frac{1}{2}$ months after the close thereof (1) such expenses or interest are not paid, and (2) the amount thereof is not includible in the gross income of the person to whom the payment is to be made; and

(b) If, by reason of the method of accounting of the person to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless paid, includible in the gross income of such person for the income year in which or with which the income year of the taxpayer ends; and

(c) If, at the close of the income year of the taxpayer or at any time within $2\frac{1}{2}$ months thereafter, both the taxpayer and the person to whom the payment is to be made are persons specified within Section 24428.

(d) The amount of expenses incurred or interest accrued, the deduction of which is disallowed under this section in the year incurred or accrued, may be deducted in the year paid.

24428. The persons referred to in Section 24427 are:

Persons

(1) Members of a family, as defined in Section 24429(d);

(2) An individual and a corporation more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual.

24429. For purposes of determining, in applying Section 24428, the ownership of stock—

Determination of stock
ownership

(a) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate, or trust shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners, or beneficiaries;

(b) An individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his family;

(c) An individual owning (otherwise than by the application of subsection (b)) any stock in a corporation shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his partner;

(d) The family of an individual shall include only his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants; and

(e) Stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of subsection (a) shall, for the purpose of applying subsections (a), (b), or (c), be treated as actually owned by such person, but stock constructively owned by an individual by reason of the application of subsections (b) or (c) shall not be treated as owned by him for the purpose of again applying either of such subsections in order to make another the constructive owner of such stock.

24431. If—

Acquisitions of corporate stock or property to avoid tax

(a) Any person or persons acquire, or acquired on or after October 8, 1940, directly or indirectly, control of a corporation; or

(b) Any corporation acquires, or acquired on or after October 8, 1940, directly or indirectly, property of another corporation, not controlled, directly or indirectly, immediately before such acquisition, by such acquiring corporation or its stockholders, the basis of which property, in the hands of the acquiring corporation, is determined by reference to the basis in the hands of the transferor corporation; and the principal purpose for which such acquisition was made is evasion or avoidance of tax under this part by securing the benefit of a deduction, credit, or other allowance which such person or corporation would not otherwise enjoy, then such deduction, credit, or other allowance shall not be allowed. For purposes of subsections (a) and (b), control means the ownership of stock possessing a least 50 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or at least 50 percent of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation.

Same Authority of Franchise
Tax Board

24432. In any case to which Section 24431 applies the Franchise Tax Board is authorized—

(a) To allow as a deduction, credit, or allowance any part of any amount disallowed by such section, if it determines that such allowance will not result in the evasion or avoidance of tax under this part for which the acquisition was made; or

(b) To distribute, apportion, or allocate gross income, and distribute, apportion, or allocate the deductions, credits, or allowances the benefit of which was sought to be secured, between or among the corporations, or properties, or parts thereof, involved, and to allow such deductions, credits, or allowances so distributed, apportioned, or allocated, but to give effect to such allowance only to such extent as it determines will not result in the evasion or avoidance of tax under this part for which the acquisition was made; or

(c) To exercise its powers in part under subsection (a) and in part under subsection (b).

Same
Prima facie evidence of evasion or avoidance

24433. The fact that the consideration paid upon an acquisition by any person or corporation described in Section 24431 is substantially disproportionate to the aggregate—

(a) Of the adjusted basis of the property of the corporation (to the extent attributable to the interest acquired specified in subsection (a) of Section 24431), or of the property acquired specified in Section 24431; and

(b) Of the tax benefits (to the extent not reflected in the adjusted basis of the property) not available to such person or corporation otherwise than as a result of such acquisition;

shall be prima facie evidence of the principal purpose of evasion or avoidance of tax under this part. This section shall apply only with respect to acquisitions after December 31, 1954.

Worthless debts owed by political party

24434. (a) In the case of a taxpayer (other than a bank as defined in Section 23039) no deduction shall be allowed under Section 24348 (relating to bad debts) or under Section 24347(d) (relating to worthlessness of securities) by reason of the worthlessness of any debt owed by a political party.

“Political party”

(b) (1) For purposes of subsection (a), the term “political party” means—

(A) A political party;

(B) A national, state, or local committee of a political party; or

(C) A committee, association, or organization which accepts contributions or makes expenditures for the purpose of influencing or attempting to influence the election of presidential or vice presidential electors or of any individual whose name is presented for election to any federal, state, or local elective public office, whether or not such individual is elected.

“Contributions”

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)(C), the term “contributions” includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit, of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement to make a contribution, whether or not legally enforceable.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1)(C), the term "expenditures" includes a payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift, of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement to make an expenditure, whether or not legally enforceable. "Expenditures"

24435. Any amount attributable to the transfer of a share of stock pursuant to the exercise of a "restricted stock option," as defined in Chapter 5, Article 2, of Part 10 of this division, by an employer bank or corporation, or its parent or subsidiary bank or corporation to an employee of the bank or corporation. Restricted stock option

24436. In computing net income, no deductions shall be allowed to any taxpayer on any of its gross income derived from illegal activities as defined in Chapters 9, 10 or 10.5 of Title 9 of Part 1 of the Penal Code of California; nor shall any deduction be allowed to any taxpayer on any of its gross income derived from any other activities which tend to promote or to further, or are connected or associated with, such illegal activities. Illegal activities

CHAPTER 8. CORPORATE DISTRIBUTIONS AND ADJUSTMENTS

Article 1. Effects on Recipients

24451. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part, a distribution of property (as defined in Section 24496(a)) made by a corporation to a shareholder with respect to its stock shall be treated in the manner provided in Section 24453. Distribution of property

24453. In the case of a distribution to which Section 24451 applies— Dividends and non-dividends

(a) That portion of the distribution which is a dividend (as defined in Section 24495) shall be included in gross income.

(b) That portion of the distribution which is not a dividend shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock.

(c) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), that portion of the distribution which is not a dividend, to the extent that it exceeds the adjusted basis of the stock, shall be treated as gain from the sale or exchange of property.

24455. If a corporation cancels or redeems its shares (whether or not such shares were issued as a stock dividend) at such time and in such manner as to make the distribution and cancellation or redemption in whole or in part essentially equivalent to the distribution of a taxable dividend, the amount so distributed in redemption or cancellation of the shares, to Cancellation or redemption of shares the extent that it represents a distribution of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, shall be treated as a taxable dividend.

Stock distribution:

24463. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), gross income does not include the amount of any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders, with respect to the stock of such corporation, in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to a distribution by a corporation of its stock (or rights to acquire its stock), and the distribution shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 24451 to 24453 apply—

(1) To the extent that the distribution is made in discharge of preference dividends for the taxable year of the corporation in which the distribution is made or for the preceding taxable year; or

(2) If the distribution is, at the election of any of the shareholders (whether exercised before or after the declaration thereof), payable either—

(A) In its stock (or in rights to acquire its stock); or

(B) In property.

Effect of sale or disposal of Section
24464 stock

24464. If a shareholder sells or otherwise disposes of Section 24464 stock (as defined in Section 24466)—

(a) If such disposition is not a redemption (within the meaning of Section 24496(b))—

(1) The amount realized shall be treated as gain from the sale of property which is not a capital asset. This paragraph shall not apply to the extent that—

(A) The amount realized, exceeds

(B) Such stock's ratable share of the amount which would have been a dividend at the time of distribution if (in lieu of Section 24464 stock) the corporation had distributed money in an amount equal to the fair market value of the stock at the time of distribution.

(2) Any excess of the amount realized over the sum of—

(A) The amount treated under paragraph (1) as gain from the sale of property which is not a capital asset; plus

(B) The adjusted basis of the stock, shall be treated as gain from the sale of such stock.

(3) No loss shall be recognized.

(b) If the disposition is a redemption, the amount realized shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 24451 and 24453 apply.

When not
applicable

24465. Section 24464 shall not apply—

(a) (1) If the disposition—

(A) Is not a redemption;

(B) Is not, directly or indirectly, to a person the ownership of whose stock would (under Section 24497(a)) be attributable to the shareholder; and

(C) Terminates the entire stock interest of the shareholder in the corporation (and for purposes of this subparagraph, Section 24497(a) shall apply).

(2) If the disposition is a redemption and Section 24454 applies.

(b) If the Section 24464 stock is redeemed in a distribution in partial or complete liquidation to which Section 24501 and following apply.

(c) To the extent that, under any provision of this part, gain or loss to the shareholder is not recognized with respect to the disposition of the Section 24464 stock.

(d) If it is established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board—

(1) That the distribution, and the disposition or redemption; or

(2) In the case of a prior or simultaneous disposition (or redemption) of the stock with respect to which the Section 24464 stock disposed of (or redeemed) was issued, that the disposition (or redemption) of the Section 24464 stock, was not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of tax under this part.

24466. (a) For purposes of this chapter, the term "Section 24464 stock" means stock which meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this subsection. Section 24464 stock"

(1) Stock (other than common stock issued with respect to common stock) which was distributed to the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock if, by reason of Section 24463(a), any part of such distribution was not includible in the gross income of the shareholder.

(2) Stock which is not common stock and—

(A) Which was received, by the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization (within the meaning of Section 25562), or in a distribution or exchange to which Section 24533 (or so much of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, as relates to Section 24533) applied; and

(B) With respect to the receipt of which gain or loss to the shareholder was to any extent not recognized by reason of Chapter 10, but only to the extent that either the effect of the transaction was substantially the same as the receipt of a stock dividend, or the stock was received in exchange for Section 24464 stock.

For purposes of this article, a receipt of stock to which the foregoing provisions of this paragraph apply shall be treated as a distribution of stock.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2), stock the basis of which (in the hands of the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock) is determined by reference to the basis (in the hands of such shareholder or any other person) of Section 24464 stock.

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "Section 24464 stock" does not include any stock no part of the distribution of which would have been a dividend at the time of the distribution if money had been distributed in lieu of the stock.

Stock
rights

24467. For purposes of Sections 24464 to 24471, inclusive—

(a) Stock rights shall be treated as stock; and

(b) Stock acquired through the exercise of stock rights shall be treated as stock distributed at the time of the distribution of the stock rights, to the extent of the fair market value of such rights at the time of the distribution.

24468. For purposes of Section 24466—

Exchange of
24464 stock

(a) If Section 24464 stock was issued with respect to common stock and later such Section 24464 stock is exchanged for common stock in the same corporation (whether or not such exchange is pursuant to a conversion privilege contained in the Section 24464 stock), then (except as provided in subsection (b)) the common stock so received shall not be treated as Section 24464 stock; and

Common stock with conversion
privilege

(b) Common stock with respect to which there is a privilege of converting into stock other than common stock (or into property), whether or not the conversion privilege is contained in such stock, shall not be treated as common stock.

Change in stock's terms and conditions

24470. If a substantial change is made in the terms and conditions of any stock, then, for purposes of this article—

(a) The fair market value of such stock shall be the fair market value at the time of the distribution or at the time of such change, whichever such value is higher;

(b) Such stock's ratable share of the amount which would have been a dividend if money had been distributed in lieu of stock shall be determined as of the time of distribution or as of the time of such change, whichever such ratable share is higher; and

(c) Section 24466(b) shall not apply unless the stock meets the requirements of such section both at the time of such distribution and at the time of such change.

Applicability

24471. If stock—

(a) Was received in a distribution or reorganization to which the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 (or the corresponding provisions of prior law) applied;

(b) Such stock would have been Section 24464 stock if this part applied to such distribution or reorganization; and

(c) Such stock is disposed of or redeemed on or after December 31, 1954, then Sections 24464 to 24470, inclusive, shall not apply in respect of such disposition or redemption. The extent to which such disposition or redemption shall be treated as a dividend shall be determined as if the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 (as modified by the provisions of this part other than Sections 24464 to 24470, inclusive) continued to apply in respect of such disposition or redemption.

Basis of
stock

24473. (a) If a shareholder in a corporation receives its stock or rights to acquire its stock (referred to in this subsection as "new stock") in a distribution to which Section 24463(a) applies, then the basis of such new stock and of the stock with respect to which it is distributed (referred to in this section as "old stock"), respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock. Such allocation shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) (1) If—

(A) A corporation distributes rights to acquire its stock to a shareholder in a distribution to which Section 24463(a) applies, and

(B) The fair market value of such rights at the time of the distribution is less than 15 percent of the fair market value of the old stock at such time, then subsection (a) shall not apply and the basis of such rights shall be zero, unless the taxpayer elects under paragraph (2) of this subsection to determine the basis of the old stock and of the stock rights under the method of allocation provided in subsection (a).

(2) The election referred to in paragraph (1) shall be made in the return filed within the time prescribed by law (including extensions thereof) for the taxable year in which such rights were received. Such election shall be made in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, and shall be irrevocable when made.

Article 2. Effects on Distributor

24481. Except as provided in Sections 24482 and 24483 and Section 24670, no gain or loss shall be recognized to a corporation on the distribution, with respect to its stock, of— Nonrecognizable gains and losses

(a) Its stock (or rights to acquire its stock); or

(b) Property.

24482. (a) If a corporation inventorying goods under the method provided in Sections 24702 to 24706, inclusive (relating to last-in, first-out inventories), distributes inventory assets (as defined in subsection (b)(1)), then the amount (if any) by which— Distribution of inventory assets

(1) The inventory amount (as defined in subsection (b)(2)) of such assets under a method authorized by Section 24701 (relating to general rule for inventories), exceeds

(2) The inventory amount of such assets under the method provided in Sections 24702 to 24706, inclusive, shall be treated as gain to the corporation recognized from the sale of such inventory assets.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a)—

(1) The term "inventory assets" means stock in trade of the corporation, or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the corporation if on hand at the close of the income year. "Inventory assets"

(2) The term "inventory amount" means, in the case of inventory assets distributed during an income year, the amount of such inventory assets determined as if the income year closed at the time of such distribution. "Inventory amount"

In termination of inventory
amount

(c) For purposes of this section, the inventory amount of assets under a method authorized by Section 24701 shall be determined—

(1) If the corporation uses the retail method of valuing inventories under Sections 24702 to 24706, inclusive, by using such method; or

(2) If paragraph (1) does not apply, by using cost or market, whichever is lower.

Recognizable gain on
property
distribution

24483. If—

(a) A corporation distributes property to a shareholder with respect to its stock;

(b) Such property is subject to a liability, or the shareholder assumes a liability of the corporation in connection with the distribution; and then gain shall be recognized to the distributing corporation in an amount equal to such excess as if the property distributed had been sold at the time of the distribution. In the case of a distribution of property subject to a liability which is not assumed by the shareholder, the amount of gain to be recognized under the preceding sentence shall not exceed the excess, if any, of the fair market value of such property over its adjusted basis.

(c) The amount of such liability exceeds the adjusted basis (in the hands of the distributing corporation) of such property;

Decrease of earnings,
etc.

24484. Except as otherwise provided in this section, and Sections 24485 to 24491, inclusive, on the distribution of property by a corporation with respect to its stock, the earnings and profits of the corporation (to the extent thereof) shall be decreased by the sum of—

(a) The amount of money;

(b) The principal amount of the obligations of such corporation; and

(c) The adjusted basis of the other property, so distributed.

Adjustment
of earnings
and profits

24485. (a) On the distribution by a corporation, with respect to its stock, of inventory assets (as defined in subsection (b)(1)) the fair market value of which exceeds the adjusted basis thereof, the earnings and profits of the corporation—

(1) Shall be increased by the amount of such excess; and

(2) Shall be decreased by whichever of the following is the lesser:

(A) The fair market value of the inventory assets distributed;

or

(B) The earnings and profits (as increased under paragraph (1)).

"Inventory
assets"

(b) (1) For purposes of subsection (a), the term "inventory assets" means—

(A) Stock in trade of the corporation, or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the corporation if on hand at the close of the income year;

(B) Property held by the corporation primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business; and

(C) Unrealized receivables or fees, except receivables from sales or exchanges of assets other than assets described in this paragraph.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)(C), the term "unrealized receivables or fees" means, to the extent not previously includible in income under the method of accounting used by the corporation, any rights (contractual or otherwise) to payment for—

"Unrealized
receivables
or fees"

(A) Goods delivered, or to be delivered, to the extent that the proceeds therefrom would be treated as amounts received from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset; or

(B) Services rendered or to be rendered.

24486. In making the adjustments to the earnings and profits of a corporation under Section 24484 or 24485, proper adjustment shall be made for—

Additional
adjustments

(a) The amount of any liability to which the property distributed is subject;

(b) The amount of any liability of the corporation assumed by a shareholder in connection with the distribution; and

(c) Any gain to the corporation recognized under Section 24482 or 24483.

24487. (a) The distribution to a distributee by or on behalf of a corporation of its stock or securities, of stock or securities in another corporation, or of property, in a distribution to which this part applies, shall not be considered a distribution of the earnings and profits of any corporation—

Distribution
of stock,
etc., in another
corporation

(1) If no gain to such distributee from the receipt of such stock or securities, or property, was recognized under this part; or

(2) If the distribution was not subject to tax in the hands of such distributee by reason of Section 24463(a).

(b) In the case of a distribution of stock or securities, or property, to which Section 23911g of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of prior law) applied, the effect on earnings and profits of such distribution shall be determined under such Section 23911g of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, or the corresponding provision of prior law, as the case may be.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "stock or securities" includes rights to acquire stock or securities.

"Stock or
securities"

24488. In the case of amounts distributed in partial liquidation or in a redemption to which Section 24455 applies, the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be treated as a distribution of earnings and profits.

Distributions
in partial liquidation, etc

24489. (a) The gain or loss realized from the sale or other disposition (after February 28, 1913) of property by a corporation—

Computation
of realized
gain or loss

(1) For the purpose of the computation of the earnings and profits of the corporation, shall (except as provided in paragraph (2)) be determined by using as the adjusted basis the adjusted basis (under the law applicable to the year in which the sale or other disposition was made) for determining gain, except that no regard shall be had to the value of the property as of March 1, 1913; but

Gain or loss so realized shall increase or decrease the earnings and profits to, but not beyond, the extent to which such a realized gain or loss was recognized in computing taxable income under the law applicable to the year in which such sale or disposition was made. Where, in determining the adjusted basis used in computing such realized gain or loss, the adjustment to the basis differs from the adjustment proper for the purpose of determining earnings and profits, then the latter adjustment shall be used in determining the increase or decrease above provided. For purposes of this section, a loss with respect to which a deduction is disallowed under Section 24998 (relating to wash sales of stock or securities), or the corresponding provision of prior law, shall not be deemed to be recognized.

(b) Where a corporation receives (after February 28, 1913) a distribution from a second corporation which (under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made) was not a taxable dividend to the shareholders of the second corporation, the amount of such distribution shall not increase the earnings and profits of the first corporation in the following cases:

(1) No such increase shall be made in respect of the part of such distribution which (under such law) is directly applied in reduction of the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made; and

24490 (a) If any increase or decrease in the earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, with respect to any matter would be different had the adjusted basis of the property involved been determined without regard to its March 1, 1913, value, then, except as provided in subsection (b), an increase (properly reflecting such difference) shall be made in that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

Same When

value of property accrued before

(b) If the application of Section 24489 to a sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, results in a loss which is to be applied in decrease of earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, then, notwithstanding Section 24489 and in lieu of the rule provided in subsection (a), the amount of such loss so to be applied shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which the adjusted basis of the property used in determining the loss exceeds the adjusted basis computed without regard to the value of the property on March 1, 1913, and if such amount so applied in reduction of the decrease exceeds such loss, the excess over such loss shall increase that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

24491. In the case of a distribution or exchange to which Section 24533 (or so much of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, as relate to Section 24533) applies, proper allocation with respect to the earnings and profits of the distributing corporation and the controlled corporation (or corporations) shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Authority to prescribe regulations re allocation of earnings, etc.

24492. If the whole or any part of a dividend is paid to a shareholder in any medium other than money, then the property received other than money shall be included in gross income at its fair market value at the time as of which it becomes income to the shareholder.

Dividend in medium other than money

24495. For purposes of this part, the term "dividend" means any distribution of property made by a corporation to its shareholders—

"Dividend"

(a) Out of its earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913; or

(b) Out of its earnings and profits of the income year (computed as of the close of the income year without diminution by reason of any distributions made during the income year), without regard to the amount of the earnings and profits at the time the distribution was made.

Except as otherwise provided in this part, every distribution is made out of earnings and profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings and profits. To the extent that any distribution is, under any provision of this chapter, treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 24451 and 24453 apply, such distribution shall be treated as a distribution of property for purposes of this section.

24496. (a) For purposes of this article, the term "property" means money, securities, and any other property; except that such term does not include stock in the corporation making the distribution (or rights to acquire such stock).

"Property"

(b) For purposes of this article, stock shall be treated as redeemed by a corporation if the corporation acquires its stock from a shareholder in exchange for property, whether or not the stock so acquired is canceled, retired, or held as treasury stock.

Stock treated as redeemed

Ownership
of stock

24497. (a) For purposes of those provisions of this chapter to which the rules contained in this section are expressly made applicable—

(1) (A) An individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for—

(i) His spouse (other than a spouse who is legally separated from the individual under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance); and

(ii) His children, grandchildren, and parents.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A)(ii), a legally adopted child of an individual shall be treated as a child of such individual by blood.

(2) If 50 percent or more in value of the stock in a corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for any person, then—

(A) Such person shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for that corporation, in that proportion which the value of the stock which such person so owns bears to the value of all the stock in such corporation; and

(B) Such corporation shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for that person.

(3) If any person has an option to acquire stock, such stock shall be considered as owned by such person. For purposes of this paragraph, an option to acquire such an option, and each one of a series of such options, shall be considered as an option to acquire such stock.

(4) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) shall, for purposes of applying paragraph (1), (2), or (3), be treated as actually owned by such person.

(B) Stock constructively owned by an individual by reason of the application of paragraph (1) shall not be treated as owned by him for purposes of again applying paragraph (1) in order to make another the constructive owner of such stock.

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, if stock may be considered as owned by an individual under paragraph (1) or (3), it shall be considered as owned by him under paragraph (3).

CHAPTER 9. CORPORATE LIQUIDATIONS

Article 1. Effects on Recipients

Distribu-
tions
Complete and partial liquidation

24501. (a) Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock.

(b) Amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation (as defined in Section 24516) shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock.

24502. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized on the receipt by a corporation of property distributed in complete liquidation of another corporation. Complete liquidation of another corporation

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), a distribution shall be considered to be in complete liquidation only if—

(1) The corporation receiving such property was, on the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, and has continued to be at all times until the receipt of the property, the owner of stock (in such other corporation) possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and the owner of at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends); and either

(2) The distribution is by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock, and the transfer of all the property occurs within the income year; in such case the adoption by the shareholders of the resolution under which is authorized the distribution of all the assets of such corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock shall be considered an adoption of a plan of liquidation, even though no time for the completion of the transfer of the property is specified in such resolution; or

(3) Such distribution is one of a series of distributions by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock in accordance with a plan of liquidation under which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is to be completed within three years from the close of the income year during which is made the first of the series of distributions under the plan, except that if such transfer is not completed within such period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under paragraph (1) until the completion of such transfer, no distribution under the plan shall be considered a distribution in complete liquidation.

If such transfer of all the property does not occur within the income year, the Franchise Tax Board may require of the taxpayer such bond, or waiver of the statute of limitations on assessment and collection, or both, as he may deem necessary to insure, if the transfer of the property is not completed within such three-year period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under paragraph (1) until the completion of such transfer, the assessment and collection of all taxes then imposed by law for such income year or subsequent income years, to the extent attributable to property so received. A distribution otherwise constituting a distribution in complete liquidation within the meaning of this subsection shall not be considered as not constituting such a distribution merely because it does not constitute a distribution or liquidation within the meaning of the corporate law under which the distribution is made; and for purposes of this subsection a transfer of property of such other corporation to the taxpayer shall not be considered as not constituting a distribution (or one of a series of distributions) in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock of such other corporation, merely because the carrying out of the plan involves (A) the transfer under the plan to the taxpayer by such other corporation of property, not attributable to shares owned by the taxpayer, on an exchange described in Section 24551, and (B) the complete cancellation or redemption under the plan, as a result of exchanges described in Section 24531, of the shares not owned by the taxpayer.

(c) If—

(1) A corporation is liquidated and subsection (a) applies to such liquidation; and

(2) On the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, such corporation was indebted to the corporation which meets the 80 percent stock ownership requirements specified in subsection (b);

then no gain or loss shall be recognized to the corporation so indebted because of the transfer of property in satisfaction of such indebtedness.

24503. (a) In the case of property distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation, if—

Complete liquidation. Recognizable gain to qualified electing shareholder

(1) The liquidation is made in pursuance of a plan of liquidation adopted on or after December 31, 1954; and then in the case of each qualified electing shareholder (as defined in subsection (c)) gain on the shares owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation shall be recognized only to the extent provided in subsection (f).

(2) The distribution is in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock, and the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month;

“Excluded corporation”

(b) For purposes of this section, the term “excluded corporation” means a corporation which at any time between January 1, 1955, and the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, both dates inclusive, was the owner of stock possessing 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan.

“Qualified electing shareholder”

(c) For purposes of this section, the term “qualified electing shareholder” means a shareholder (other than an excluded corporation) of any class of stock (whether or not entitled to vote on the adoption of the plan of liquidation) who is a shareholder at the time of the adoption of such plan, and whose written election to have the benefits of subsection (a) has been made and filed in accordance with subsection (d), but—

(1) In the case of a shareholder other than a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by shareholders (other than corporations) who at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation; or

(2) In the case of a shareholder which is a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by corporate shareholders (other than an excluded corporation) which at the time of the adoption of such plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by an excluded corporation and by shareholders who are not corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation.

(d) The written elections referred to in subsection (c) must be made and filed in such manner as to be not in contravention of regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. The filing must be within 30 days after the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation.

(f) In the case of a qualified electing shareholder which is a corporation, the gain shall be recognized only to the extent of the greater of the two following—

(1) The portion of the assets received by it which consists of money, or of stock or securities acquired by the liquidating corporation after December 31, 1954; or

(2) Its ratable share of the earnings and profits of the liquidating corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, such earnings and profits to be determined as of the close of the month in which the transfer in liquidation occurred under subsection (a)(2), but without diminution by reason of distributions made during such month; but by including in the computation thereof all amounts accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed.

24504. (a) If property is received in a distribution in partial or complete liquidation (other than a distribution to which Section 24503 applies), and if gain or loss is recognized on the receipt of such property, then the basis of the property in the hands of the distributee shall be the fair market value of such property at the time of the distribution.

Basis of
property
received in
liquidation

(b) (1) If property is received by a corporation in a distribution in complete liquidation of another corporation (within the meaning of Section 24502(b)), then except as provided in paragraph (2), the basis of the property in the hands of the distributee shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor. If the property is received by a corporation in a transfer to which Section 24502(c) applies, and if paragraph (2) of this subsection does not apply, then the basis of the property in the hands of the transferee shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor.

(2) If property is received by a corporation in a distribution in complete liquidation of another corporation (within the meaning of Section 24502(b)), and if—

(A) The distribution is pursuant to a plan of liquidation adopted—

(i) On or after December 31, 1954; and

(ii) Not more than two years after the date of the transaction described in subparagraph (B) (or, in the case of a series of transactions, the date of the last such transaction); and then the basis of the property in the hands of the distributee shall be the adjusted basis of the stock with respect to which the distribution was made. For purposes of the preceding sentence, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, proper adjustment in the adjusted basis of any stock shall be made for any distribution made to the distributee with respect to such stock before the adoption of the plan of liquidation, for any money received, for any liabilities assumed or subject to which the property was received, and for other items.

(B) Stock of the distributing corporation possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends), was acquired by the distributee by purchase (as defined in paragraph (3)) during a period of not more than 12 months,

“Purchase”

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2)(B), the term “purchase” means any acquisition of stock, but only if—

(A) The basis of the stock in the hands of the distributee is not determined in whole or in part by reference to the adjusted basis of such stock in the hands of the person from whom acquired;

(B) The stock is not acquired in an exchange to which Section 24521 applies; and

(C) The stock is not acquired from a person the ownership of whose stock would, under Section 24497(a), be attributed to the person acquiring such stock.

“Distributee”

(4) For purposes of this subsection, the term “distributee” means only the corporation which meets the 80 percent stock ownership requirements specified in Section 24502(b).

(c) If—

(1) Property was acquired by a shareholder in the liquidation of a corporation in cancellation or redemption of stock; and

(2) With respect to such acquisition—

(A) Gain was realized; but

(B) As the result of an election made by the shareholder under Section 24503, the extent to which gain was recognized was determined under Section 24503;

then the basis shall be the same as the basis of such stock canceled or redeemed in the liquidation, decreased in the amount of any money received by the shareholder, and increased in the amount of gain recognized to him.

Article 2. Effects on Distributor

24511. Except as provided in Section 24670 (relating to disposition of installment obligations), no gain or loss shall be recognized to a corporation on the distribution of property in partial or complete liquidation.

Effect on distributor in liquidation

24512. If—

(a) A corporation adopts a plan of complete liquidation on or after December 31, 1954; and

Plan of complete
liquidation

(b) Within the 12-month period beginning on the date of the adoption of such plan, all of the assets of the corporation are distributed in complete liquidation, less assets retained to meet claims;

then no gain or loss shall be recognized to such corporation from the sale or exchange by it of property within such 12-month period.

24513. (a) For purposes of Section 24512, the term “property” does not include—

“Property”

(1) Stock in trade of the corporation, or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the corporation if on hand at the close of the taxable year, and property held by the corporation primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business;

Exclusions

(2) Installment obligations acquired in respect of the sale or exchange (without regard to whether such sale or exchange occurred before, on, or after the date of the adoption of the plan referred to in Section 24512 of stock in trade or other property described in paragraph (1)); and

(3) Installment obligations acquired in respect of property (other than property described in paragraph (1)) sold or exchanged before the date of the adoption of such plan of liquidation.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (a), if substantially all of the property described in paragraph (1) of subsection (a) which is attributable to a trade or business of the corporation is, in accordance with this section, sold or exchanged to one person in one transaction, then for purposes of Section 24512 the term “property” includes—

(1) Such property so sold or exchanged; and

Inclusions

(2) Installment obligations acquired in respect of such sale or exchange.

24514. (a) This section and Sections 24512 and 24513 shall not apply to any sale or exchange following the adoption of a plan of complete liquidation, if Section 24503 applies with respect to such liquidation.

Sales, etc., following adoption of liquidation
plan

(b) In the case of a sale or exchange following the adoption of a plan of complete liquidation, if Section 24502 applies with respect to such liquidation, then

(1) If the basis of the property of the liquidating corporation in the hands of the distributee is determined under Section 24504(b)(1), this section and Sections 24512 and 24513 shall not apply; or

(2) If the basis of the property of the liquidating corporation in the hands of the distributee is determined under Section 24504(b)(2), this section and Sections 24512 and 24513 shall apply only to that portion (if any) of the gain which is not greater than the excess of (A) that portion of the adjusted basis (adjusted for any adjustment required under the second sentence of Section 24504(b)(2)) of the stock of the liquidating corporation which is allocable, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to the property sold or exchanged, over (B) the adjusted basis, in the hands of the liquidating corporation, of the property sold or exchanged.

When
distribution treated as partial
liquidation

24516. (a) For purposes of this chapter, a distribution shall be treated as in partial liquidation of a corporation if—

(1) The distribution is one of a series of distributions in redemption of all of the stock of the corporation pursuant to a plan; or

(2) The distribution is not essentially equivalent to a dividend, is in redemption of a part of the stock of the corporation pursuant to a plan, and occurs within the income year in which the plan is adopted or within the succeeding income year, including (but not limited to) a distribution which meets the requirements of subsection (b).

(b) A distribution shall be treated as a distribution described in subsection (a)(2) if the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection are met.

(1) The distribution is attributable to the corporation's ceasing to conduct, or consists of the assets of, a trade or business which has been actively conducted throughout the five-year period immediately before the distribution, which trade or business was not acquired by the corporation within such period in a transaction in which gain or loss was recognized in whole or in part.

(2) Immediately after the distribution the liquidating corporation is actively engaged in the conduct of a trade or business, which trade or business was actively conducted throughout the five-year period ending on the date of the distribution and was not acquired by the corporation within such period in a transaction in which gain or loss was recognized in whole or in part.

Whether or not a distribution meets the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection shall be determined without regard to whether or not the distribution is pro rata with respect to all of the shareholders of the corporation.

CHAPTER 10. CORPORATE ORGANIZATIONS AND REORGANIZATIONS

Article 1. Corporate Organizations

Transfer of property for stock, etc.

24521. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more persons solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation and immediately after the exchange such person or persons are in control (as defined in Section 24564) of the corporation. For purposes of this section, stock or securities issued for services shall not be considered as issued in return for property.

(b) If subsection (a) would apply to an exchange but for the fact that there is received, in addition to the stock or securities permitted to be received under subsection (a), other property or money, then—

(1) Gain (if any) to such recipient shall be recognized, but not in excess of—

(A) The amount of money received, plus

(B) The fair market value of such other property received; and

(2) No loss to such recipient shall be recognized.

(c) In determining control, for purposes of this section, the fact that any corporate transferor distributes part or all of the stock which it receives in the exchange to its shareholders shall not be taken into account.

Article 2. Effects on Shareholders and Security Holders

24531. (a) (1) No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to a reorganization are, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization. Exchanges in a reorganization

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if—

(A) The principal amount of any such securities received exceeds the principal amount of any such securities surrendered; or

(B) Any such securities are received and no such securities are surrendered

(b) (1) Subsection (a) shall not apply to an exchange in pursuance of a plan of reorganization within the meaning of Section 24562(a)(4), unless—

(A) The corporation to which the assets are transferred acquires substantially all of the assets of the transferor of such assets; and

(B) The stock, securities, and other properties received by such transferor, as well as the other properties of such transferor, are distributed in pursuance of the plan of reorganization.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, subsection (a)(1) (and so much of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, as relate to this section) shall apply with respect to a plan of reorganization (whether or not a reorganization within the meaning of Section 24562) for a railroad approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act, or under Section 20b of the Interstate Commerce Act, as being in the public interest.

24533 If there is distributed, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to the reorganization, stock (other than preferred stock) Stock distribution in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, without the surrender by such shareholder of stock, no gain to the distributee from the receipt of such stock shall be recognized unless it appears that (a) any corporation which is a party to such reorganization was not intended to continue the active conduct of a trade or business after such reorganization, or (b) the corporation whose stock is distributed was used principally as a device for the distribution of earnings and profits to the shareholders of any corporation a party to the reorganization.

Property
or money received in exchange for which gain is partially recognized

24535. (a) If—

(1) Section 24531 or 24533 would apply to an exchange but for the fact that—

(2) The property received in the exchange consists not only of property permitted by Section 24531 or 24533 to be received without the recognition of gain but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

(b) If an exchange is described in subsection (a) but has the effect of the distribution of a dividend, then there shall be treated as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under subsection (a) as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under subsection (a) shall be treated as gain from the exchange of property.

Property or money received in distribution for which gain is partially recognized

24536. If—

(a) Section 24533 would apply to a distribution but for the fact that—

(b) The property received in the distribution consists not only of property permitted by Section 24533 to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money;

then an amount equal to the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 24451 and 24453 apply.

Loss from exchange on distribution

24537. If—

(a) Section 24531 would apply to an exchange, or Section 24533 would apply to an exchange or distribution, but for the fact that—

(b) The property received in the exchange or distribution consists not only of property permitted by Section 24531 or 24533 to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money; then no loss from the exchange or distribution shall be recognized.

24538. For purposes of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive—

“Other
property”

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b), the term “other property” includes securities.

(b) The term "other property" does not include securities to the extent that, under Section 24531, such securities would be permitted to be received without the recognition of gain.

If—

(1) In any exchange described in Section 24531 (other than subsection (c) thereof), securities of a corporation a party to the reorganization are surrendered and securities of any corporation a party to the reorganization are received; and then, with respect to such securities received, the term "other property" means only the fair market value of such excess. For purposes of this subsection and subsection (c), if no securities are surrendered, the excess shall be the entire principal amount of the securities received.

(2) The principal amount of such securities received exceeds the principal amount of such securities surrendered;

(c) If, in an exchange or distribution described in Section 24533, the principal amount of the securities in the controlled corporation which are received exceeds the principal amount of the securities in the distributing corporation which are surrendered, then, with respect to such securities received, the term "other property" means only the fair market value of such excess.

24539. Notwithstanding any other provision of these Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, to the extent that any of the other property (or money) is received in exchange for Section 24464 stock, an amount equal to the fair market value of such other property (or the amount of such money) shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 24451 to 24454, inclusive, apply.

Other
property
received in exchange

24540. (a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), if—

Assumption
of liability, etc., not
treated as money, etc

(1) The taxpayer receives property which would be permitted to be received under Section 24521, 24551, or 24571 without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration; and

(2) As part of the consideration, another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer, or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability;

then such assumption or acquisition shall not be treated as money or other property, and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of Section 24521, 24551, or 24571, as the case may be.

(b) (1) If, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition described in subsection (a)—

(A) Was a purpose to avoid tax under this part on the exchange; or

(B) If not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose;

then such assumption or acquisition (in the total amount of the liability assumed or acquired pursuant to such exchange) shall, for purposes of Section 24521, 24551, or 24571 (as the case may be), be considered as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange.

(2) In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove such assumption or acquisition is not to be treated as money received by the taxpayer, such burden shall not be considered as sustained unless the taxpayer sustains such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence.

(c) (1) In the case of an exchange—

(A) To which Section 24521 applies; or

(B) To which Section 24551 applies by reason of a plan of reorganization within the meaning of Section 24562(a)(4), if the sum of the amount of the liabilities assumed, plus the amount of the liabilities to which the property is subject, exceeds the total of the adjusted basis of the property transferred pursuant to such exchange, then such excess shall be considered as a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset or of property which is not a capital asset, as the case may be.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any exchange to which—

(A) Subsection (b)(1) of this section applies; or

(B) Section 24571 applies.

Basis of exchanged
property

24541. (a) In the case of an exchange to which Section 24521, 24531, 24533, 24535, 24551, or 24571 applies—

(1) The basis of the property permitted to be received under such section without the recognition of gain or loss shall be the same as that of the property exchanged—

(A) Decreased by—

(i) The fair market value of any other property (except money) received by the taxpayer; and

(ii) The amount of any money received by the taxpayer; and

(B) Increased by—

(i) The amount which was treated as a dividend; and

(ii) The amount of gain to the taxpayer which was recognized on such exchange (not including any portion of such gain which was treated as a dividend).

(2) The basis of any other property (except money) received by the taxpayer shall be its fair market value.

(b) (1) Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the basis determined under subsection (a)(1) shall be allocated among the properties permitted to be received without the recognition of gain or loss.

(2) In the case of an exchange to which Section 24533 (or so much of Section 24535 as relates to Section 24533) applies, then in making the allocation under paragraph (1) of this subsection, there shall be taken into account not only the property so permitted to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also the stock or securities (if any) of the distributing corporation which are retained, and the allocation of basis shall be made among all such properties.

(c) For purposes of this section, a distribution to which Section 24533 (or so much of Section 24535 as relates to Section 24533) applies shall be treated as an exchange, and for such purposes the stock and securities of the distributing corporation which are retained shall be treated as surrendered, and received back, in the exchange.

(d) Where, as part of the consideration to the taxpayer, another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for purposes of this section, be treated as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange.

(e) This section shall not apply to property acquired by a corporation by the issuance of its stock or securities as consideration in whole or in part for the transfer of the property to it.

Article 3. Effects on Corporations

24551. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if a corporation a party to a reorganization exchanges property, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, solely for stock or securities in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

Exchange of property for stock under reorganization

(b) (1) If subsection (a) would apply to an exchange but for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of stock or securities permitted by subsection (a) to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then—

(A) If the corporation receiving such other property or money distributes it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, no gain to the corporation shall be recognized from the exchange, but

(B) If the corporation receiving such other property or money does not distribute it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, the gain, if any, to the corporation shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property so received, which is not so distributed.

(2) If subsection (a) would apply to an exchange but for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by subsection (a) to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

24552. If property was acquired on or after December 31, 1954, by a corporation—

Basis Property acquired on or after December 31, 1954

(a) In connection with a transaction to which Section 24521 (relating to transfer of property to corporation controlled by transferor) applies; or

(b) As paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain recognized to the transferor on such transfer.

Basis

24553. If property was acquired by a corporation in connection with a reorganization to which this article applies, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain recognized to the transferor on such transfer. This section shall not apply if the property acquired consists of stock or securities in a corporation a party to the reorganization, unless acquired by the issuance of stock or securities of the transferee as the consideration in whole or in part for the transfer.

Property
other than money

24554. (a) Notwithstanding Section 24552(b), if property other than money—

(1) Is acquired by a corporation, on or after December 31, 1954, as a contribution to capital; and

(2) Is not contributed by a shareholder as such, then the basis of such property shall be zero.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 24552(b), if money—

(1) Is received by a corporation, on or after December 31, 1954, as a contribution to capital; and

(2) Is not contributed by a shareholder as such, then the basis of any property acquired with such money during the 12-month period beginning on the day the contribution is received shall be reduced by the amount of such contribution. The excess (if any) of the amount of such contribution over the amount of the reduction under the preceding sentence shall be applied to the reduction (as of the last day of the period specified in the preceding sentence) of the basis of any other property held by the taxpayer. The particular properties to which the reductions required by this subsection shall be allocated shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Stock

24555. If the property consists of stock distributed to a taxpayer in connection with a transaction described in Section 24533 (hereinafter in this section called "new stock"), or consists of stock in respect of which such distribution was made (hereinafter in this section called "old stock"), then the basis of the new stock and of the old stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock; such allocation to be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 4. Special Rule; Definitions

Foreign
corporations

24561. In determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized in the case of any of the exchanges described in Section 24502, 24521, 24531, 24533, 24535, or 24551, a foreign corporation shall not be considered as a corporation unless, before such exchange, it has been established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of taxes under this part.

24562. (a) For purposes of Chapters 8 and 9 and this chapter, the term "reorganization" means—

"Reorganization"

(1) A statutory merger or consolidation;

(2) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock, of stock of another corporation if, immediately after the acquisition, the acquiring corporation has control of such other corporation (whether or not such acquiring corporation had control immediately before the acquisition);

(3) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of substantially all of the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded;

(4) A transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor, or one or more of its shareholders (including persons who were shareholders immediately before the transfer), or any combination thereof, is in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred; but only if, in pursuance of the plan, stock or securities of the corporation to which the assets are transferred are distributed in a transaction which qualifies under Section 24531, 24533, or 24535;

(5) A recapitalization; or

(6) A mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

(b) (1) If a transaction is described in both subsection (a)(3) and subsection (a)(4), then, for purposes of this chapter, such transaction shall be treated as described only in subsection (a)(4).

(2) If—

(A) One corporation acquires substantially all of the properties of another corporation;

(B) The acquisition would qualify under subsection (a)(3) but for the fact that the acquiring corporation exchanges money or other property in addition to voting stock; and

(C) The acquiring corporation acquires, solely for voting stock described in subsection (a)(3), property of the other corporation having a fair market value which is at least 80 percent of the fair market value of all of the property of the other corporation;

then such acquisition shall (subject to paragraph (1) of this subsection) be treated as qualifying under subsection (a)(3). Solely for the purpose of determining whether subparagraph

(C) of the preceding sentence applies, the amount of any liability assumed by the acquiring corporation, and the amount of any liability to which any property acquired by the acquiring corporation is subject, shall be treated as money paid for the property.

(3) A transaction otherwise qualifying under subsection (a) (1) or subsection (a) (3) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that part or all of the assets which were acquired in the transaction are transferred to a corporation controlled by the corporation acquiring such assets.

"A party to a reorganization"

24563. For purposes of this article, the term "a party to a reorganization" includes—

(a) A corporation resulting from a reorganization; and

(b) Both corporations, in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another.

In the case of a reorganization qualifying under Section 24562(a)(3), if the stock exchanged for the properties is stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation, the term "a party to a reorganization" includes the corporation so controlling the acquiring corporation. In the case of a reorganization qualifying under subsection (a) (1) or (a) (3) of Section 24562 by reason of subsection (b) (3) of Section 24562, the term "a party to a reorganization" includes the corporation controlling the corporation to which the acquired assets are transferred.

"Control"

24564. For purposes of Chapter 8, and this article, the term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

CHAPTER 11. INSOLVENCY REORGANIZATIONS

Property transferred pursuant to court order

24571. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property of a corporation (other than a railroad corporation, as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act (49 Stat. 922; 11 U. S. C. 205)) is transferred in pursuance of an order of the court having jurisdiction of such corporation—

(1) In a receivership, foreclosure, or similar proceeding; or

(2) In a proceeding under Chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act (52 Stat. 883-905; 11 U. S. C., Chapter 10) or the corresponding provisions of prior law; to another corporation organized or made use of to effectuate a plan of reorganization approved by the court in such proceeding, in exchange solely for stock or securities in such other corporation.

(b) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a) if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of stock or securities

permitted by subsection (a) to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then—

(1) If the corporation receiving such other property or money distributes it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, no gain to the corporation shall be recognized from the exchange, but

(2) If the corporation receiving such other property or money does not distribute it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, the gain, if any, to the corporation shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property so received, which is not so distributed.

24572 (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized on an exchange consisting of the relinquishment or extinguishment of stock or securities in a corporation the plan of reorganization of which is approved by the court in a proceeding described in Section 24571, in consideration of the acquisition solely of stock or securities in a corporation organized or made use of to effectuate such plan of reorganization.

Exchange consisting of relinquishment, etc., of stock, etc

(b) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a) if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by subsection (a) to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

24573. If an exchange would be within the provisions of Section 24571(a) or 24572(a) if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by Section 24571(a) or 24572(a) to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

No recognized loss in exchange

24574. In the case of a transaction involving an assumption of a liability or the acquisition of property subject to a liability, the rules provided in Section 24540 shall apply.

Assumption of liability

24575. If property was acquired by a corporation in a transfer to which—

Basis

(a) Section 24571 applies;

(b) So much of Section 24573 as relates to Section 24571 applies; or

(c) The corresponding provisions of prior law apply; then notwithstanding the provisions of Section 270 of the Bankruptcy Act (54 Stat. 709; 11 U. S. C. 670), the basis in the hands of the acquiring corporation shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the corporation whose property was so acquired, increased in the amount of gain recognized to the corporation whose property was so acquired under the law applicable to the year in which the acquisition occurred, and such basis shall not be adjusted under Section 24918 by reason of a discharge of indebtedness in pursuance of the plan of reorganization under which such transfer was made.

Railroad
corporation
property
Transfer by court order

24576. No loss shall be recognized if property of a railroad corporation, as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act (49 Stat. 922; 11 U. S. C. 205), is transferred in pursuance of an order of the court having jurisdiction of such corporation—

(a) In a receivership proceeding; or

(b) In a proceeding under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act, to a railroad corporation (as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act) organized or made use of to effectuate a plan of reorganization approved by the court in such proceeding.

Property
acquired after December
31, 1942

24577. (a) If the property of a railroad corporation (as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act) was acquired after December 31, 1942, in pursuance of an order of the court having jurisdiction of such corporation—

(1) In a receivership proceeding; or

(2) In a proceeding under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act, and the acquiring corporation is a railroad corporation (as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act) organized or made use of to effectuate a plan of reorganization approved by the court in such proceeding, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the railroad corporation whose property was so acquired.

(b) If the property of any street, suburban, or interurban electric railway corporation engaged as a common carrier in the transportation of persons or property in interstate commerce was acquired after December 31, 1942, in pursuance of an order of the court having jurisdiction of such corporation in a proceeding under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act (48 Stat. 912), and the acquiring corporation is a street, suburban, or interurban electric railway engaged as a common carrier in the transportation of persons or property in interstate commerce, organized or made use of to effectuate a plan of reorganization approved by the court in such proceeding, then, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 270 of the Bankruptcy Act (52 Stat. 904; 11 U. S. C. 670), the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the corporation whose property was so acquired.

CHAPTER 12. PENSION PLAN

Article 1. Pension, Profit-sharing, Stock Bonus Plans

Pension,
etc., plans.
Deduction of
contributions, etc

24601. If contributions are paid by an employer to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or if compensation is paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, such contributions or compensation shall not be deductible under Section 24343 (relating to trade or business expenses) but if they satisfy the conditions of the section, they shall be deductible under this section, subject, however, to the following limitations as to the amounts deductible in any year:

In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a pension trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Section 17631 of Part 10, Division 2 of this code, in an amount determined as follows:

(a) An amount not in excess of 5 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to all the employees under the trust, but such amount may be reduced for future years if found by the Franchise Tax Board upon periodical examinations at not less than five-year intervals to be more than the amount reasonably necessary to provide the remaining unfunded cost of past and current service credits of all employees under the plan; plus

(b) Any excess over the amount allowable under paragraph (a) necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount, or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, but if such remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 percent of such remaining unfunded cost, the amount of such unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five taxable years, or

(c) In lieu of the amounts allowable under paragraphs (a) and (b) above, an amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, plus, if past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount not in excess of 10 percent of the cost which would be required to completely fund or purchase such pension or annuity credits as of the date when they are included in the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, except that in no case shall a deduction be allowed for any amount (other than the normal cost) paid in after such pension or annuity credits are completely funded or purchased.

(d) Any amount paid in an income year in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each such succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for such year in accordance with the foregoing limitations.

24602. In the income year when paid, in an amount determined in accordance with Section 24601, if the contributions are paid toward the purchase of retirement annuities and such purchase is a part of a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501(c), (d), (e), and (f) of Part 10 of Division

Retirement
annuities

2 of this code, and if refunds of premiums, if any, are applied within the current income year or next succeeding income year toward the purchase of such retirement annuities.

Stock bonus
or profit-sharing trust

24603. (a) In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Section 17631 of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code, in an amount not in excess of 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan. If in any income year there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under the preceding sentence, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any such succeeding income year shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such succeeding income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in any income year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this subsection shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding income year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this subsection shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. The term "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust," as used in this subsection, shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially as provided in Section 24601. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, such trusts shall be considered a single trust for purposes of applying the limitations in this subsection.

(b) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, or a stock bonus plan in which contributions are determined with reference to profits, of a group of corporations which is an affiliated group within the meaning of Section 1504 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if any member of such affiliated group is prevented from making a contribution which it would otherwise have made under the plan, by reason of having no current or accumulated earnings or profits or because such earnings or profits are less than the contributions which it would otherwise have made, then so much of the contribution which such member was so prevented from making may be made, for the benefit of the employees of such member, by the other members of the group, to the extent of current or accumulated earnings or profits, except that such contribution by each such other member shall be limited, where the group does not file a consolidated return, to that proportion of its total current and accumulated earnings or profits remaining after adjustment for its contribution deductible without regard to this subsection which the total prevented contribution bears to the total current and accumulated earnings or profits of all members of the group remaining after adjustment for all contributions deductible without regard to this subsection. Contributions made under the preceding sentence shall be deductible under subsection (a) by the employer making such contribution, and, for the purpose of determining amounts which may be carried forward and deducted under the second sentence of subsection (a) in succeeding income years, shall be deemed to have been made by the employer on behalf of whose employees such contributions were made.

24605. If a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing trust would qualify for exemption under Section 17631 of Part 10, of Division 2 of this code except for the fact that it is a trust created or organized outside the United States, contributions to such a trust by an employer which is a resident, or corporation, or other entity of the United States, shall be deductible under the preceding sections.

Deductible
contributions for trusts outside United States

24606. In the income year when paid, if the plan is not one included in Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, if the employees' rights to or derived from such employer's contribution or such compensation are nonforfeitable at the time the contribution or compensation is paid.

When rights nonforfeitable

24607. For purposes of Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, a taxpayer on the accrual basis shall be deemed to have made a payment on the last day of the year of accrual if the payment is on account of such income year and is made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such income year (including extensions thereof).

Accrual basis
taxpayer

24608. If amounts are deductible under Sections 24601 and 24603, or Sections 24602 and 24603, or Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, in connection with two or more trusts, or one or more trusts and an annuity plan, the total amount deductible in an income year under such trusts and plans shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to the persons who are the beneficiaries of the trusts or plans. In addition, any amount paid into such trust or under such annuity plans in any income year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding income year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 30 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income years to the beneficiaries under the trusts or plans. This section shall not have the effect of reducing the amount otherwise deductible under Sections 24601, 24602, and

deductible
amounts

24603, if no employee is a beneficiary under more than one trust, or a trust and an annuity plan.

If no plan

24609. If there is no plan but a method of employer contributions or compensation has the effect of a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or similar plan deferring the receipt of compensation, Sections 24601 to 24608, inclusive, shall apply as if there were such a plan.

24610. If contributions are paid by an employer—

Plan concerning medical, etc., benefits

(a) Under a plan under which such contributions are held in trust for the purpose of paying (either from principal or income or both) for the benefit of employees and their families and dependents at least medical or hospital care, and pensions on retirement or death of employees; and

such contributions shall not be deductible under this article or be made nondeductible by this article, but the deductibility thereof shall be governed solely by Section 24343 (relating to trade or business expenses). This section shall have no application with respect to amounts contributed to a trust on or after any date on which such trust is qualified for exemption from tax under Section 17631 of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code.

Unused deductions, etc., in excess of allowable deductions

24611. The amount of any unused deductions or contributions in excess of the deductible amounts for income years to which this article does not apply which under Sections 17324 to 17324.17, inclusive, or Part 10 of Division 2 of this code would be allowable as deductions in later years had such Sections 17324 to 17324.17, inclusive, of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code remained in effect, shall be allowable as deductions in income years to which this part applies as if such Sections 17324 to 17324.17, inclusive, of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code were continued in effect for such years. However, the deduction under the preceding sentence shall not exceed an amount which, when added to the deduction allowable under Sections 24601 to 24608, inclusive, for contributions made in income years to which this article applies, is not greater than the amount which would be deductible under Sections 24601 to 24608, inclusive, if the contributions which give rise to the deduction under the preceding sentence were made in an income year to which this article applies.

Article 2. Employee Stock Option

Employee stock option

24621. Gross income does not include any amount, other than the option price, received by any bank or corporation, or its parent or subsidiary bank or corporation, as consideration for the issuance of stock to an employee of such bank or corporation, as a result of the exercise by the employee of a "restricted stock option" as defined in Chapter 5, Article 2, of Part 10 of this division.

CHAPTER 13. ACCOUNTING PERIODS AND METHODS OF ACCOUNTING

Article 1. Accounting Periods

24631. (a) Income shall be computed on the basis of the ^{Income} taxpayer's income year.

(b) For purposes of this part, the term "income year" ^{"Income year"} means—

(1) The taxpayer's annual accounting period, if it is a calendar year or a fiscal year;

(2) The calendar year, if subsection (g) applies; or

(3) The period for which the return is made, if a return is made for a period of less than 12 months.

(c) For purposes of this part, the term "annual accounting period" ^{"Annual accounting period"} means the annual period on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes its income in keeping its books.

(d) For purposes of this part, the term "calendar year" ^{"Calendar year"} means a period of 12 months ending on December 31st.

(e) For purposes of this part, the term "fiscal year" ^{"Fiscal year"} means a period of 12 months ending on the last day of any month other than December. In the case of any taxpayer who has made the election provided by subsection (f), the term means the annual period (varying from 52 to 53 weeks) so elected

(f) (1) A taxpayer who, in keeping its books, regularly computes its income on the basis of an annual period which varies from 52 to 53 weeks and ends always on the same day of the week and ends always—

(A) On whatever date such same day of the week last occurs in a calendar month, or

(B) On whatever date such same day of the week falls which is nearest to the last day of a calendar month, may (in accordance with the regulations prescribed under paragraph (3)) elect to compute its income for purposes of this part on the basis of such annual period. This paragraph shall apply to income years ending after the date of the enactment of this part.

(2) (A) In any case in which the effective date or the applicability of any provision of this part is expressed in terms of income years beginning or ending with reference to a specified date which is the first or last day of a month, an income year described in paragraph (1) shall be treated—

(i) As beginning with the first day of the calendar month beginning nearest to the first day of such income year, or

(ii) As ending with the last day of the calendar month ending nearest to the last day of such income year, as the case may be.

(B) In the case of a change from or to an income year described in paragraph (1)—

(i) If such change results in a short period (within the meaning of Section 24634) of 359 days or more, or less than seven days, Section 24636 shall not apply;

(ii) If such change results in a short period of less than seven days, such short period shall, for purposes of this part, be added to and deemed a part of the following income year; and

(iii) If such change results in a short period to which Section 24634 applies, the income for such short period shall be placed on an annual basis for purposes of such subsection by multiplying such income by 365 and dividing the result by the number of days in the short period, and the tax shall be the same part of the tax computed on the annual basis as the number of days in the short period is of 365 days.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as it deems necessary for the application of this subsection.

(g) Except as provided in Section 24634 (relating to returns for periods of less than 12 months), the taxpayer's income year shall be the calendar year if—

(1) The taxpayer keeps no books;

(2) The taxpayer does not have an annual accounting period; or

(3) The taxpayer has an annual accounting period, but such period does not qualify as a fiscal year.

Change of annual accounting
period

24633. If a taxpayer changes its annual accounting period, the new accounting period shall become the taxpayer's income year only if the change is approved by the Franchise Tax Board. For purposes of this part, if a taxpayer to whom Section 24631(g) applies adopts an annual accounting period (as defined in Section 24631(c)) other than a calendar year, the taxpayer shall be treated as having changed its annual accounting period.

Return for period less than 12 months

24634. (a) A return for a period of less than 12 months (referred to in this article as "short period") shall be made under any of the following circumstances:

(1) When the taxpayer, with the approval of the Franchise Tax Board, changes its annual accounting period. In such a case, the return shall be made for the short period beginning on the day after the close of the former income year and ending at the close of the day before the day designated as the first day of the new income year.

(2) When the taxpayer is in existence during only part of what would otherwise be its income year.

(3) When the Franchise Tax Board terminates the taxpayer's income year under Section 25761 (relating to tax in jeopardy).

24635. Where a separate return is made under Section 24634, on account of a change in the accounting period, the income shall be computed on the basis of the period for which the separate return is made. The due date of the separate return for such period is the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of that period. Separate return

24636. (a) If a separate return is made by a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2, under Section 24634 on account of a change in the accounting period the net income, computed on the basis of the period for which separate return is made, referred to in this section as "the short period," shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by 12, and dividing by the number of months in the short period. The Franchise Tax Board shall compute the amount of a tax on the income placed on such annual basis, and shall allow the offset provided for in Article 3 of Chapter 2, from such tax. The tax due under this section, which shall not be subject to offset, shall be such part of the tax, less the offset allowed, computed on such annual basis as the number of months in the short period is of 12 months. Same Computation of
net income

(b) If a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2 establishes the amount of its net income for the period of 12 months beginning with the first day of the short period, computed as if such 12-month period were an income year, under the law applicable to such year, then the tax for the short period shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed on the net income for such 12-month period as the net income computed on the basis of the short period is of the net income for the 12-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file its return without the application of this section. If the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets prior to the end of such 12-month period, then in lieu of the net income for such 12-month period there shall be used for the purposes of this section the net income for the 12-month period ending with the last day of the short period. The tax computed under this section shall in no case be less than the tax computed on the net income for the short period without placing such net income on an annual basis. The benefits of this section shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require (but not after the time prescribed for the filing of the return for the first income year which ends on or after 12 months after the beginning of the short period), makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations. Such application, in case the return was filed without regard to this section, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund with respect to the amount by which the tax is reduced under this section. The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as it may deem necessary for the application of this section.

Rate of tax.

24637. The tax on any taxpayer for a period beginning in one calendar year (called "first calendar year") and ending in the following calendar year (called "second calendar year") where the law applicable to the computation of taxes for calendar year taxpayers for the second calendar year is different from the law applicable to computation of taxes for calendar year taxpayers for the first calendar year, shall, except as otherwise provided, be the sum of:

(a) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law and rates applicable to the first calendar year which the portion of the period falling within the first year is of the entire period; and

(b) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law and rates applicable to the second calendar year which the portion of the period falling within the second calendar year is of the entire period.

Any tax that has been paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year if in excess of the tax imposed by this section shall be refunded or credited to the taxpayer as provided in Chapter 22. Any tax in addition to that paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year made necessary by this article shall be immediately due and payable upon notice and demand from the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 2. Methods of Accounting

Computation
of income

24651. (a) Income shall be computed under the method of accounting on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes its income in keeping its books.

(b) If no method of accounting has been regularly used by the taxpayer, or if the method used does not clearly reflect income, the computation of income shall be made under such method as, in the opinion of the Franchise Tax Board, does clearly reflect income.

Methods of
accounting

(c) Subject to the provisions of subsections (a) and (b), a taxpayer may compute income under any of the following methods of accounting—

- (1) The cash receipts and disbursements method;
- (2) An accrual method;
- (3) Any other method permitted by this part; or
- (4) Any combination of the foregoing methods permitted under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) A taxpayer engaged in more than one trade or business may in computing income, use a different method of accounting for each trade or business.

(e) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, a taxpayer who changes the method of accounting on the basis of which it regularly computes its income in keeping its books shall, before computing its income under the new method, secure the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 3. Year of Inclusion

24661. The amount of any item of gross income shall be included in the gross income for the income year in which received by the taxpayer, unless, under the method of accounting used in computing income, such amount is to be properly accounted for as of a different period. Period of inclusion

24667. Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, a person who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as income therefrom in any income year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the gross profit, realized or to be realized when payment is completed, bears to the total contract price. Sales on installment plan

24668. (a) Income from—

(1) A sale or other disposition of real property; or Sales of real property, etc.

(2) A casual sale or other casual disposition of personal property (other than property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the income year) for a price exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), may (under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) be returned on the basis and in the manner prescribed in Section 24667.

(b) Subsection (a) shall apply—

(1) In the case of a sale or other disposition during an income year beginning after December 31, 1954 (whether or not such income year ends after the date of enactment of this part), only if in the income year of the sale or other disposition—

(A) There are no payments; or

(B) The payments (exclusive of evidences of indebtedness of the purchaser) do not exceed 30 percent of the selling price.

(2) In the case of a sale or other disposition during an income year beginning before January 1, 1955, only if the income was (by reason of Section 25292 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954) returnable on the basis and in the manner prescribed in Section 25292 of such law.

24669. (a) If a taxpayer entitled to the benefits of Section 24667 elects for any income year to report his income on the installment basis, then in computing his income for such year (referred to in this section as "year of change") or for any subsequent year— Computation of income reportable on installment basis

(1) Installment payments actually received during any such year on account of sales or other dispositions of property made in any income year before the year of change shall not be excluded; but

(2) The tax imposed by this part for any income year (referred to in this section as "adjustment year") beginning after December 31, 1954, shall be reduced by the adjustment computed under subsection (b).

(b) In determining the adjustment referred to in subsection (a) (2), first determine, for each income year before the year of change, the amount which equals the lesser of—

(1) The portion of the tax for such prior income year which is attributable to the gross profit which was included in gross income for such prior income year, and which by reason of subsection (a) (1) is includible in gross income for the income year; or

(2) The portion of the tax for the adjustment year which is attributable to the gross profit described in paragraph (1). The adjustment referred to in subsection (a) (2) for the adjustment year is the sum of the amounts determined under the preceding sentence.

(3) For purposes of subsection (b), the portion of the tax for a prior income year, or for the adjustment year, which is attributable to the gross profit described in such subsection is that amount which bears the same ratio to the tax imposed by this part (or by the corresponding provisions of prior laws) for such income year (computed without regard to subsection (b)) as the gross profit described in such subsection bears to the gross income for such income year. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the provisions of this part of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 shall be treated as the corresponding provisions of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954.

Installment obligation satisfied, etc., at other than face value

24670. (a) If an installment obligation is satisfied at other than its face value or distributed, transmitted, sold, or otherwise disposed of, gain or loss shall result to the extent of the difference between the basis of the obligation and—

(1) The amount realized, in the case of satisfaction at other than face value or a sale or exchange; or

(2) The fair market value of the obligation at the time of distribution, transmission, or disposition, in the case of the distribution, transmission, or disposition otherwise than by sale or exchange.

Any gain or loss so resulting shall be considered as resulting from the sale or exchange of the property in respect of which the installment obligation was received.

(b) The basis of an installment obligation shall be the excess of the face value of the obligation over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligation satisfied in full.

(c) (1) If—

(A) An installment obligation is distributed by one corporation to another corporation in the course of a liquidation; and

(B) Under Section 24502 (relating to complete liquidations of subsidiaries) no gain or loss with respect to the receipt of such obligation is recognized in the case of the recipient corporation;

then no gain or loss with respect to the distribution of such obligation shall be recognized in the case of the distributing corporation.

(2) If—

(A) An installment obligation is distributed by a corporation in the course of a liquidation; and

(B) Under Sections 24512, 24513 and 24514 (relating to gain or loss on sales or exchanges in connection with certain liquidations) no gain or loss would have been recognized to the corporation if the corporation had sold or exchanged such installment obligation on the day of such distribution;

then no gain or loss shall be recognized to such corporation by reason of such distribution.

24672. (a) Where a taxpayer elects to report income from the sale or other disposition of property as provided in this article, and the entire income therefrom has not been reported prior to the year that the taxpayer ceases to be subject to the tax measured by net income imposed under Chapter 2 or Chapter 3 of this part, the unreported income shall be included in the measure of the tax for the last year in which the taxpayer is subject to the tax measured by net income imposed under Chapter 2 or Chapter 3 of this part. Abatement shall not be allowed under the provisions of Sections 23331 to 23333, inclusive, for any tax measured by unreported installment income which is included in the measure of the tax by reason of this section or installment income reported during the year preceding the year in which the taxpayer ceases to be subject to the tax imposed by this part. Abatement shall be allowed for any tax measured by unreported profit from installment sales made during the income year preceding dissolution or withdrawal or cessation of business. This section shall not be applicable where the installment obligation is transferred pursuant to a reorganization as defined in Sections 24562 and 24563 to another taxpayer a party to the reorganization subject to tax under the same chapter as the transferor. The determination of any deficiency resulting from this section shall be made under the provisions of Chapter 20, Article 1, but the period of limitation under that article, and the accrual of interest under Chapter 21, Article 1, shall commence on the date the taxpayer ceases to be subject to the tax imposed under Chapter 2 or Chapter 3 of this part.

Unreported
income

(b) "Cessation of business" as herein used means the failure to do business during an entire taxable year.

"Cessation
of business"

24673. Where a corporation subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2 is engaged in the performance of a contract in this State which will require more than a year to complete, the Franchise Tax Board may require that the income from the contract be reported on the basis of percentage of completion unless the corporation furnishes bond or other security guaranteeing the payment of a tax measured by the income received on the completion of the contract even though the corporation

Contracts
requiring more than one year for completion

is not doing business in this State in the year subsequent to the year of completion.

Noninterestbearing obligations issued at discount,
etc.

24674. (a) If, in the case of a taxpayer owning any non-interest-bearing obligation issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals the increase in the redemption price of such obligation occurring in the income year does not (under the method of accounting used in computing its income) constitute income to it in such year, such taxpayer may, at its election made in its return for any income year, treat such increase as income received in such income year. If any such election is made with respect to any such obligation, it shall apply also to all such obligations owned by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first income year to which it applies and to all such obligations thereafter acquired by it and shall be binding for all subsequent income years, unless on application by the taxpayer the Franchise Tax Board permits it, subject to such conditions as the Franchise Tax Board deems necessary, to change to a different method.

(b) In the case of any obligation—

(1) Of the United States; or

(2) Of a state, a territory, or a possession of the United States, or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing, or of the District of Columbia, which is issued on a discount basis and payable without interest at a fixed maturity date not exceeding one year from the date of issue, the amount of discount at which such obligation is originally sold shall not be considered to accrue until the date on which such obligation is paid at maturity, sold, or otherwise disposed of.

Article 4. Year of Deduction

Year of
deduction

24681. (a) The amount of any deduction or credit allowed by this part shall be taken for the income year which is the proper income year under the method of accounting used in computing income.

(b) (1) If the income is computed under an accrual method of accounting, then, at the election of the taxpayer, any real property tax which is related to a definite period of time shall be accrued ratably over that period.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any real property tax, to the extent that such tax was allowable as a deduction under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 for an income year which began before January 1, 1955. In the case of any real property tax which would, but for this subsection, be allowable as a deduction for the first income year of the taxpayer which begins after December 31, 1954, then, to the extent that such tax is related to any period before the first day of such first income year, the tax shall be allowable as a deduction for such first income year.

(3) (A) A taxpayer may, without the consent of the Franchise Tax Board, make an election under this subsection for its first income year which begins after December 31, 1954, and ends after the date of enactment of this part in which the taxpayer incurs real property taxes. Such an election shall be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such year (including extensions thereof).

(B) A taxpayer may, with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board, make an election under this subsection at any time.

Article 5. Inventories

24701. Whenever in the opinion of the Franchise Tax Board the use of inventories is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer on such basis as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and as most clearly reflecting the income. Inventories

24702. A taxpayer may use the method provided in Section 24703 (whether or not such method has been prescribed under Section 24701) in inventorying goods specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe. The change to and the use of such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income. Permission to use statutory method of inventory

24703. In inventorying goods specified in the application described in Section 24702, the taxpayer shall: Method of inventorying goods

(a) Treat those remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being: First, those included in the opening inventory of the income year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof; and second, those acquired in the taxable year;

(b) Inventory them at cost; and

(c) Treat those included in the opening inventory of the income year in which such method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

24704. Section 24702 shall apply only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in subsections (a) and (c) of Section 24703 in inventorying such goods to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of the first income year for which the method described in Section 24703 is to be used, for the purpose of a report or statement covering such income year— Prerequisites for use of statutory procedure

(a) To shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries; or

(b) For credit purposes.

24705. In determining income for the income year preceding the income year for which the method described in Section 24703 is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in the application referred to in Section 24702 shall be at cost. Closing inventory

Consistent use of same method

24706. If a taxpayer, having complied with Section 24702, uses the method described in Section 24703 for any income year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent income years unless—

Exceptions

(a) With the approval of the Franchise Tax Board a change to a different method is authorized; or,

(b) The Franchise Tax Board determines that the taxpayer has used for any such subsequent income year some procedure other than that specified in Section 24703(a) in inventorying the goods specified in the application to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of such subsequent income year for the purpose of a report or statement covering such income year (1) to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or beneficiaries, or (2) for credit purposes; and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in Section 24703 beginning with such subsequent income year or any income year thereafter.

If subsections (a) or (b) of this section applies, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income

Article 6. Adjustments Required by Changes in Method

Adjustments

24721. In computing the taxpayer's income for any income year (referred to in this article as the "year of the change")—

(a) If such computation is under a method of accounting different from the method under which the taxpayer's income for the preceding income year was computed; then

(b) There shall be taken into account those adjustments which are determined to be necessary solely by reason of the change in order to prevent amounts from being duplicated or omitted, except there shall not be taken into account any adjustment in respect of any income year to which this article does not apply.

Computation
of tax when method
changed

24722. (a) If—

(1) The method of accounting from which the change is made was used by the taxpayer in computing his income for the two income years preceding the year of the change; and then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in income shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes under this part (or under the corresponding provisions of prior laws) which would result if one-third of such increase were included in income for the year of the change and one-third of such increase were included for each of the two preceding income years.

(b) If—

then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in income shall not be greater than the net increase in the taxes under this part which would result if the adjustments required by Section 24721(b) were allocated to the income year or years specified in paragraph (2) to which they are properly allocable under the new method of accounting and the balance of the adjustments required by Section 24721(b) was allocated to the income year of the change.

24723. In the case of any change described in Section 24721, the taxpayer may, in such manner and subject to such conditions as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, take the adjustments required by Section 24721(b) into account in computing the tax imposed by this part for the income year or years permitted under such regulations.

Allowance of adjustments

24724. Sections 24721 to 24723, inclusive, shall not apply to a change to which Sections 24667 to 24670, inclusive, (relating to change to installment method) apply.

Nonapplicability

24725. In any case of two or more organizations, trades, or businesses (whether or not incorporated, whether or not organized in the United States, and whether or not affiliated) owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the Franchise Tax Board may distribute, apportion, or allocate gross income, deductions, credits, or allowances between or among such organizations, trades, or businesses, if it determines that such distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of any of such organizations, trades, or businesses.

tions, etc.,

CHAPTER 14. NATURAL RESOURCES

24831. The basis upon which depletion is to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Article 2 of Chapter 15 for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property, except as provided in Sections 24832, 24833 and 24834, inclusive.

Depletion

24832. In the case of oil and gas wells the allowance for depletion under Section 24835 shall be 27½ percent of the gross income from the property during the income year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 percent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under Section 24835 be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

wells

Amount of depletion
allowance

24833. The allowance for depletion under Section 24835 shall be:

(a) In the case of sand, gravel, slate, stone (including pumice and scoria), brick and tile clay, shale, oyster shell, clam shell, granite, marble, sodium chloride, and, if from brine wells, calcium chloride, magnesium chloride, and bromide, 5 percent;

(b) In the case of coal, asbestos, brucite, dolomite, magnesite, perlite, wollastonite, calcium carbonates, and magnesium carbonates, 10 percent;

(c) In the case of metal mines aplite, bauxite, fluorspar, flake graphite, vermiculite, beryl, garnet, feldspar, mica, tale (including pyrophyllite), lepidolite, spodumene, barite, ball clay, sagger clay, china clay, phosphate rock, rock asphalt, trona, bentonite, gilsonite, thenardite, borax, fuller's earth, tripoli, refractory and fire clay, quartzite, diatomaceous earth, metallurgical grade limestone, chemical grade limestone, and potash, 15 percent;

(d) In the case of sulfur, 23 percent; of the gross income from the property during the income year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property.

Limitation

Such allowance shall not exceed 50 percent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under Section 24835 be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

"Gross income from
property"
"Mining"

24834. As used in Section 24833 "gross income from property" means the gross income from mining. "Mining" includes not merely the extraction of the ores or minerals from the ground but also the ordinary treatment processes normally applied by mine owners or operators in order to obtain the commercially marketable mineral product or products, and so much of the transportation of ores or minerals (whether or not by common carrier) from the point of extraction from the ground to the plants or mills in which the ordinary treatment processes are applied thereto as is not in excess of 50 miles unless the Franchise Tax Board finds that the physical and other requirements are such that the ore or mineral must be transported a greater distance to such plants or mills.

"Ordinary treatment
processes"

"Ordinary treatment processes" includes the following: (a) In the case of coal—cleaning, breaking, sizing, and loading for shipment; (b) in the case of sulphur—pumping to vats, cooling, breaking, and loading for shipment; (c) in the case of iron ore, bauxite, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, and minerals which are customarily sold in the form of a crude mineral product—sorting, concentrating, and sintering to bring to shipping grade and form, and loading for shipment; and (d) in the case of lead, zinc, copper, gold, silver, or fluorspar ores, potash, and ores which are not customarily sold in the form of the crude mineral product—crushing, grinding, and beneficiation by concentration (gravity, flotation, amalgamation, electrostatic, or magnetic), cyanidation, leaching, crystallization, precipitation (but not including as an ordinary treatment process electrolytic deposition, roasting, thermal or electric smelting, or refining), or by substantially equivalent processes or combination of processes used in the separation or extraction of the product or products from the ore, including the furnacing of quicksilver ores.

24835. In the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements according to the peculiar conditions in each case, such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, then such prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this section for subsequent income years shall be based upon such revised estimate. In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee.

Reasonable allowance for depletion and depreciation of improvements

24836. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing income all expenditures paid or incurred during the income year for the development of a mine or other natural deposit (other than an oil or gas well) if paid or incurred after the existence of ores or minerals in commercially marketable quantities has been disclosed. This section shall not apply to expenditures for the acquisition or improvement of property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 24349, but allowances for depreciation shall be considered, for purposes of this section, as expenditures.

Development expenses after discovery of ores, etc

(b) At the election of the taxpayer, made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, expenditures described in subsection (a) paid or incurred during the income year shall be treated as deferred expenses and shall be deductible on a ratable basis as the units of produced ores or minerals benefited by such expenditures are sold. In the case of such expenditures paid or incurred during the development stage of the mine or deposit, the election shall apply only with respect to the excess of such expenditures during the income year over the net receipts during the income year from the ores or minerals produced from such mine or deposit. The election under this subsection, if made, must be for the total amount of such expenditures, or the total amount of such excess, as the case may be, with respect to the mine or deposit, and shall be binding for such income year.

(c) The amount of expenditures which are treated under subsection (b) as deferred expenses shall be taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of the mine or deposit, except that such amount, and the adjustments to basis provided in Section 24916, shall be disregarded in determining the adjusted basis of the property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under Section 24831.

Exploration
expenses

24837. (a) In the case of expenditures paid or incurred during the income year for the purpose of ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of ore or other mineral, and paid or incurred prior to the beginning of the development stage of the mine or deposit, in computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction so much of such expenditures as does not exceed seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).

This section shall apply only with respect to the amount of such expenditures which, but for this section, would not be allowable as a deduction for the income year.

This section shall not apply to expenditures for the acquisition or improvement of property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 24349, but allowances for depreciation shall be considered, for the purposes of this section, as expenditures paid or incurred.

In no case shall this section apply with respect to amounts paid or incurred for the purpose of ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of oil or gas.

(b) If the taxpayer elects, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to treat as deferred expenses any portion of the amount deductible for the income year under subsection (a), such portion shall not be deductible under subsection (a) but shall be deductible on a ratable basis as the units of produced ores or minerals discovered or explored by reason of such expenditures are sold. An election made for any income year shall be binding for such year.

(c) This section shall not apply to any amounts paid or incurred in any income year if in any four preceding years the taxpayer, or any individual or corporation who has transferred to the taxpayer any mineral property under circumstances which make the provisions of Section 17883, 18135, 24552, 24553, 24577, 24575, 24988, 25404, or 29461 applicable to such transfer, has either (1) been allowed a deduction under subsection (a) of this section or (2) made the election provided under subsection (b) of this section.

(d) The amount of expenditures which are treated under subsection (b) as deferred expenses shall be taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of the mine or deposit, but such amounts, and the adjustments to basis provided in Section 24916 shall be disregarded in determining the adjusted basis of the property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under this chapter.

CHAPTER 15. GAIN OR LOSS ON DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY

Article 1. Computation of Gain or Loss

24901. (a) The gain from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the excess of the amount realized therefrom over the adjusted basis provided in Section 24911 for determining gain, and the loss shall be the excess of the adjusted basis provided in such section for determining loss over the amount realized. Computation of gain or loss

(b) The amount realized from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the sum of any money received plus the fair market value of the property (other than money) received.

(c) In the case of a sale or exchange of property, the extent to which the gain or loss determined under this section shall be recognized for purposes of this part shall be determined under Section 24902.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent (in the case of property sold under contract providing for payment in installments) the taxation of that portion of any installment payment representing gain or profit in the year in which such payment is received.

Article 2. Basis for Computation of Gain or Loss

24911. The adjusted basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, whenever acquired, shall be the basis (determined under Section 24912) or other applicable sections of Chapter 15 and Chapter 8 (relating to corporate distributions and adjustments), adjusted as provided in Sections 24916 and 24917. Adjusted basis

24912. The basis of property shall be the cost of such property, except as otherwise provided in Chapter 15 and Chapter 8 (relating to corporate distributions and adjustments). Basis Cost

24914. (a) If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that if such basis (adjusted for the period before the date of the gift as provided in Sections 24916 and 24917) is greater than the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, then for Gift the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be such fair market value. If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee, the Franchise Tax Board shall, if possible, obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner, or any other person cognizant thereof. If the Franchise Tax Board finds it impossible to obtain such facts, the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the Franchise Tax Board as of the date or approximate date at which, according to the best information that the Franchise Tax Board is able to obtain, such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner.

Trust

(b) If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a gift, bequest, or devise), the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor on such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

Adjustments
of basis

24916. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made—

(a) For expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items properly chargeable to capital account, but no such adjustment shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges or for expenditures described in Section 24364 and Section 24369 for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the income year or prior income years;

(b) For exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion:

(1) In the case of taxpayers subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1928, and to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this part, except that no deduction shall be made for amounts in excess of the amount which would have been allowable had depreciation not been computed on the basis of January 1, 1928, value and amounts in excess of the adjustments required by Section 113(b)(1)(B) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1938 for depletion prior to January 1, 1932.

(2) In the case of a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1937, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under the provisions of this part.

(3) If a taxpayer has not claimed an amortization deduction for an emergency facility, the adjustment under paragraph (1) shall be made only to the extent ordinarily provided under Sections 24348, 24355 and 24835.

(c) In the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing subsections) for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax-free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921).

(d) (1) In the case of taxpayers subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 2, in the case of any bond (as defined in Section 24363) to the extent of the deductions allowable pursuant to Section 24360 with respect thereto.

(2) In the case of taxpayers subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, in the case of any bond (as defined in Section 24363) the interest on which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part, to the extent of the amortizable bond premium disallowable as a deduction pursuant to Section 24361, and in the case of any other bond (as defined in Section 24363) to the extent of the deductions allowable pursuant to Section 24361 with respect thereto.

(3) In the case of property pledged to the Commodity Credit Corporation, to the extent of the amount received as a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation and treated by the taxpayer as income for the year in which received pursuant to Section 24273, and to the extent of any deficiency on such loan with respect to which the taxpayer has been relieved from liability.

(e) Proper adjustment shall be made for amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under subdivision (b) of Section 24836 (relating to certain expenditures in the development of mines) and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax, but not less than the amounts allowable under such section for the income year and prior years.

(f) Proper adjustment shall be made for amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under subdivision (b) of Section 24837 (relating to certain exploration expenditures) and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax, but not less than the amounts allowable under such section for the income year and prior years.

24917. The term "substituted basis" as used in this article means a basis determined under any provision of this article providing that the basis shall be determined:

(a) By reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor, donor, or grantor; or

(b) By reference to other property held at any time by the person for whom the basis is to be determined.

Whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, then the adjustments provided in Section 24916 shall be made after first making in respect of such substituted basis proper adjustments of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor, or during which the other property was held by the person for whom the basis is to be determined. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of substituted bases.

"Substituted basis"

Basis—Reduced by amount excluded from gross income for discharge of debt

24918. Where any amount is excluded from gross income under Section 24307(a) (relating to income from discharge of indebtedness) on account of the discharge of indebtedness the whole or a part of the amount so excluded from gross income shall be applied in reduction of the basis of any property held (whether before or after the time of the discharge) by the taxpayer during any portion of the income year in which such discharge occurred. The amount to be so applied (not in excess of the amount so excluded from gross income, reduced by the amount of any deduction disallowed under Section 24307(a)) and the particular properties to which the reduction shall be allocated, shall be determined under regulations (prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) in effect at the time of the filing of the consent by the taxpayer referred to in Section 24307(a). The reduction shall be made as of the first day of the income year in which the discharge occurred, except in the case of property not held by the taxpayer on such first day, in which case it shall take effect as of the time the holding of the taxpayer began.

Leased real
property

24919. Neither the basis nor the adjusted basis of any portion of real property shall, in the case of the lessor of such property, be increased or diminished on account of income derived by the lessor in respect of such property and excludable from gross income under Section 24309 (relating to improvements by lessee on lessor's property). If an amount representing any part of the value of real property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by a lessee in respect of such property was included in gross income of the lessor for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, the basis of each portion of such property shall be properly adjusted for the amount so included in gross income.

Article 3. Nontaxable Exchanges

Nontaxable
exchanges:
Property held for productive use in trade, etc.

24941. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale, nor stocks, bonds, notes, choses in action, certificates of trust or beneficial interest, or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment.

(b) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a), of Section 24950, or of Section 24951, if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such provisions to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

(c) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a), of Section 24950, or of Section 24951, if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such provisions to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

(d) If property was acquired on an exchange described in this section, Section 24950, or Section 24951, then the basis shall be the same as that of the property exchanged decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain to the taxpayer that was recognized on such exchange. If the property so acquired consisted in part of the type of property permitted by this section, Section 24950, or Section 24951, to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, and in part of other property, the basis provided in this subsection shall be allocated between the properties (other than money) received, and for the purpose of the allocation there shall be assigned to such other property an amount equivalent to its fair market value at the date of the exchange. For purposes of this section, Section 24950, and Section 24951, where as part of the consideration to the taxpayer another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall be considered as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange.

24943. If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted—

Compulsory or involuntary conversion. Similar property

(a) Into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, no gain shall be recognized.

(b) Into money, and the disposition of the converted property occurred before January 1, 1953, no gain shall be recognized if such money is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund. If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain shall be recognized to the extent of the money which is not so expended (regardless of whether such money is received in one or more income years and regardless of whether or not the money which is not so expended constitutes gain). For purposes of this subsection and Section 24944, the term "disposition of the converted property" means the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of the converted property, or the sale or exchange of such property under threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation.

"Disposition of the converted property"

24944. If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily

Compulsory or involuntary conversion: Dissimilar property converted into money or into property not similar or related in service or use to the converted property, and the disposition of the converted property (as defined in Section 24943(b)) occurred after December 31, 1952, the gain (if any) shall be recognized except to the extent hereinafter provided in this section:

(a) If the taxpayer during the period specified in subsection (b), for the purpose of replacing the property so converted, purchases other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or purchases stock in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, at the election of the taxpayer the gain shall be recognized only to the extent that the amount realized upon such conversion (regardless of whether such amount is received in one or more income years) exceeds the cost of such other property or such stock. Such election shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe. For purposes of this subsection—

(1) No property or stock acquired before the disposition of the converted property shall be considered to have been acquired for the purpose of replacing such converted property unless held by the taxpayer on the date of such disposition; and

(2) The taxpayer shall be considered to have purchased property or stock only if, but for the provisions of Section 24947, the unadjusted basis of such property or stock would be its cost within the meaning of Section 24912.

(b) The period referred to in subsection (a) shall be the period beginning with the date of the disposition of the converted property, or the earliest date of the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation of the converted property, whichever is the earlier, and ending—

(1) One year after the close of the first income year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized; or

(2) Subject to such terms and conditions as may be specified by the Franchise Tax Board, at the close of such later date as the Franchise Tax Board may designate on application by the taxpayer. Such application shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe.

24945. If a taxpayer has made the election provided in Section 24944(a), then—

Period for assessing deficiency

(a) The statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency, for any income year in which any part of the gain on such conversion is realized, attributable to such gain shall not expire prior to the expiration of three years from the date the Franchise Tax Board is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe) of the replacement of the converted property or of an intention not to replace; and

(b) Such deficiency may be assessed before the expiration of such three-year period notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

24946. If the election provided in Section 24944(a) is Same made by the taxpayer and such other property or such stock was purchased before the beginning of the last income year in which any part of the gain upon such conversion is realized, any deficiency, to the extent resulting from such election, for any income year ending before such last income year may be assessed (notwithstanding the provisions of Section 25663 or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment) at any time before the expiration of the period within which a deficiency for such last income year may be assessed.

24947. If the property was acquired, after February 28, Basis 1913, as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion described in Section 24943, the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property so converted, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer which was not expended in accordance with the provisions of law (applicable to the year in which such conversion was made) determining the taxable status of the gain or loss upon such conversion, and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer recognized upon such conversion under the law applicable to the year in which such conversion was made. In the case of property purchased by the taxpayer in a transaction described in Section 24944 which resulted in the nonrecognition of any part of the gain realized as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion, the basis shall be the cost of such property decreased in the amount of the gain not so recognized; and if the property purchased consists of more than one piece of property, the basis determined under this sentence shall be allocated to the purchased properties in proportion to their respective costs.

24950. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized on the exchange of— Nontaxable exchanges of insurance, etc., contracts

(1) A contract of life insurance for another contract of life insurance or for an endowment or annuity contract; or

(2) A contract of endowment insurance (A) for another contract of endowment insurance which provides for regular payments beginning at a date not later than the date payments would have begun under the contract exchanged, or (B) for an annuity contract; or

(3) An annuity contract for an annuity contract.

(b) For the purpose of this section—

(1) A contract of endowment insurance is a contract with a life insurance company which depends in part on the life expectancy of the insured, but which may be payable in full in a single payment during his life. Endowment insurance contract

(2) An annuity contract is a contract to which paragraph (1) applies but which may be payable during the life of the annuitant only in installments. Annuity contract

contract

(3) A contract of life insurance is a contract to which paragraph (1) applies but which is not ordinarily payable in full during the life of the insured.

Common,
preferred
stock

24951. No gain or loss shall be recognized if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation, or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation.

Article 4. Special Rules for Basis

Special rules for basis
Property
acquired by affiliated corporation,
etc.

24961. In the case of the property acquired by a corporation, during a period of affiliation, from a corporation with which it was affiliated, the basis of such property, after such period of affiliation, shall be determined, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board without regard to intercompany transactions in respect of which gain or loss was not recognized. The basis in case of property acquired by a corporation during any period, in the income year 1929 or any subsequent income year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Article 9 of Chapter 2 or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or in the case of a corporation subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, the Federal Revenue Act of 1938. The basis in the case of property held by a corporation during any period, in the income year 1929 or any subsequent income year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Article 9 of Chapter 2 or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or, in the case of a corporation subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938, shall be adjusted in respect of any items relating to such period, in accordance with regulations prescribed under Article 9 of Chapter 2 or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or in the case of a corporation subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 3, or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938, applicable to such period.

Property
acquired after February
28, 1913

24962. (a) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any income year beginning before January 1, 1934, and the basis thereof, for purposes of the Revenue Act of 1932 was prescribed by Section 113(a) (6), (7), or (9) of such act (47 Stat. 199), then for purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1932.

(b) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any income year beginning before January 1, 1937, and the basis thereof, for purposes of the Revenue Act of 1934, was prescribed by Section 113(a) (6), (7), or (8) of such act (48 Stat. 706), then for purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1934.

(c) Stock rights acquired after February 28, 1913, and before January 1, 1955, shall have the basis assigned to such property under Section 25071m of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954.

24963. In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, if the basis otherwise determined under this part, adjusted (for the period before March 1, 1913) as provided in Section 24916, is less than the fair market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, then the basis for determining gain shall be such fair market value. In determining the fair market value of stock in a corporation as of March 1, 1913, due regard shall be given to the fair market value of the assets of the corporation as of that date.

Property

24964. Whenever a taxpayer has realized gain or loss upon the receipt after January 1, 1928, at a time when it was subject to a tax under this part, of all or substantially all of the business or property of a taxpayer over which it exercised control within the meaning of Section 24564, and such gain or loss actually was not taken into account in the computation of taxes imposed by this part, the basis of the property or business acquired shall be the same as it was in the hands of the transferor.

24971. If the sale or exchange of property (including stock in a corporation) is certified by the Federal Communications Commission to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the commission with respect to the ownership and control of radio broadcasting stations, such sale or exchange shall, if the taxpayer so elects, be treated as an involuntary conversion of such property within the meaning of Sections 24943 to 24947, inclusive. For purposes of such section as made applicable by the provisions of this section, stock of a corporation operating a radio broadcasting station, whether or not representing control of such corporation, shall be treated as property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted. The part of the gain, if any, on such sale or exchange to which Sections 24943 to 24947, inclusive, is not applied shall nevertheless not be recognized, if the taxpayer so elects, to the extent that it is applied to reduce the basis for determining gain or loss on sale or exchange of property, of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under Section 24349, remaining in the hands of the taxpayer immediately after the sale or exchange, or acquired in the same income year. The manner and amount of such reduction shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Any election made by the taxpayer under this section shall be made by a statement to that effect in his return for the income year in which the sale or exchange takes place, and such election shall be binding for the income year and all subsequent income years.

24988. In the case of stocks or securities received by a taxpayer on or after January 1, 1943, under circumstances described in Section 24981, the basis of such stocks or securities shall be the same as that of the stocks or securities for the surrender of which they were acquired.

Article 5. Wash Sales of Stock or Securities

Wash sales

24998. (a) In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained from any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that, within a period beginning 30 days before the date of such sale or disposition and ending 30 days after such date, the taxpayer has acquired (by purchase or by an exchange on which the entire amount of gain or loss was recognized by law), or has entered into a contract or option so to acquire, substantially identical stock or securities, then no deduction shall be allowed a corporation under Section 24347(a) unless it is a dealer in stocks or securities, and the loss is sustained in a transaction made in the ordinary course of its business.

(b) If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which is not deductible shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is not less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility of the loss shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) If the property consists of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under this section or corresponding provisions of prior laws) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, then the basis shall be the basis of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference, if any, between the price at which the property was acquired and the price at which such substantially identical stock or securities were sold or otherwise disposed of.

CHAPTER 16. WAR LOSS RECOVERIES

25001. On the recovery in the income year of any money or property in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, the amount of such recovery shall be included in gross income to the extent provided in Section 25002, unless Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, apply to an income year pursuant to an election made by the taxpayer under Section 25009. War loss recoveries

25002. The amount of the recovery of any money or property in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of such money and the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery. Amount of recovery

25003. (a) To the extent that the amount of the recovery plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous such recoveries do not exceed that part of the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior income years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part, such amount shall not be includible in gross income and shall not be deemed gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure. Treatment of recovery

(c) To the extent that such amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous such recoveries exceed the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior income years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, such amount shall be considered a gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure and shall be recognized or not recognized as provided in Sections 24943 to 24947, inclusive (relating to involuntary conversions).

(d) If for any previous income year the taxpayer chose under Article 3 Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 to treat any obligations and liabilities as discharged or satisfied out of the property or interest described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, and if such obligations and liabilities were not so discharged or satisfied, the amount of such obligations and liabilities treated as discharged or satisfied under such Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 shall be considered for purposes of this part as a deduction by reason of such Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part.

(e) For purposes of this section, an allowable deduction for any income year on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 shall, to the extent not allowed in computing the tax of the taxpayer for such an income year, be considered an allowable deduction which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part.

Amount of recovery for property
seized or destroyed

25004. If this section applies to the income year pursuant to an election made by the taxpayer under Section 25009 or Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, the amount of the recovery in the income year of any money or property in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of such money and the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery. For purposes of this section and Sections 25005 and 25006, in the case of the recovery of the same property or interest considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized, the fair market value of such property or interest shall, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered an amount equal to the adjusted basis (for determining loss) of such property or interest in the hands of the taxpayer on the date such property or interest was considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized. The amount of the recovery determined under this section shall be reduced for purposes of Sections 25005 and 25006 by the amount of the obligations or liabilities with respect to the property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized in respect of which the recovery was received, if the taxpayer for any previous income year chose under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 to treat such obligations or liabilities as discharged or satisfied out of such property, and such obligations or liabilities were not so discharged or satisfied before the date of the recovery.

Treatment
of recovery

25005. That part of the amount of the recovery, in respect of any property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized, which is not in excess of the allowable deductions in prior income years on account of such destruction or seizure of the property (the amount of such allowable deductions being first reduced by the aggregate amount of any prior recoveries in respect of the same property) shall be excluded from gross income for an income year of the recovery for purposes of computing the tax under this part; but there shall be added to, and assessed and collected as a part of, the tax under this part for the income year of the recovery the total increase in the tax under this part for all income years which would result by decreasing, in an amount equal to such part of the recovery so excluded, such deductions allowable in the prior income years with respect to the destruction or seizure of the property. Such increase in the tax for each such year so resulting shall be computed in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Such regulations shall give effect to previous recoveries of any kind (including recoveries described in Section 24310, relating to recovery of bad debts, etc.) with respect to any prior year, and shall provide for the case where there was no tax for the prior year.

25006. The amount of any recovery or part thereof, in respect of property considered under such Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized which is not excluded from gross income under Section 25005, shall be considered for an income year of the recovery as gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure and shall be recognized or not recognized as provided in Sections 24943 to 24947, inclusive. Same

25008. For purposes of this article, the restoration in whole or in part of the value of any interest described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 by reason of any recovery of money or property in respect of property to which such interest related and which was considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized shall be deemed a recovery of property in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized. In applying Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, such restoration shall be treated as the recovery of the same interest considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized. Restoration of value of
interest

25009. If the taxpayer elects to have Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, apply to an income year in which he recovered any money or property in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, shall apply to all income years of the taxpayer beginning after December 31, 1941, and such election, once made, shall be irrevocable. The election shall be made in such manner and at such time as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, except that no election under this section may be made unless the taxpayer recovers money or property (in respect of property considered under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized) during an income year for which the Election by taxpayer

election is made. If pursuant to such election Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, apply to any income year—

(a) The period of limitations provided in Section 25663 on the making of assessments and the beginning of distraint or a proceeding in court for collection shall not, with respect to—

(1) The amount to be added to the tax for such an income year under Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive; and

(2) Any deficiency for such an income year or for any other income year, to the extent attributable to the basis of the recovered property being determined under Section 25010(b), expire before the expiration of two years following the date of the making of such election, and such amount and such deficiency may be assessed at any time before the expiration of such period notwithstanding any law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment and collection; and

(b) In case refund or credit of any overpayment resulting from the application of Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, to such income year is prevented on the date of the making of such election, or within one year from such date, by the operation of any law or rule of law, refund or credit of such overpayment may, nevertheless, be made or allowed if claim therefor is filed within one year from such date.

In the case of any income year ending before the date of the making by the taxpayer of an election under this section, no interest shall be paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of Sections 25004 to 25006, inclusive, to such income year, and no interest shall be assessed or collected with respect to any amount or any deficiency specified in subsection (a) for any period before the expiration of six months following the date of the making of such election by the taxpayer.

Unadjusted
basis of property
recovered

25010. (a) The unadjusted basis of property recovered in respect of property considered as destroyed or seized under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 shall be determined under this section. Such basis shall be an amount equal to the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery, reduced by an amount equal to the excess of the aggregate of such fair market value and the amounts of previous recoveries of money or property in respect of property considered under such Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized over the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior income years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in such Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954, and increased by that portion of the amount of the recovery which, under Sections 25002 and 25003, is treated as a recognized gain from the involuntary conversion of property. On application of the taxpayer, the aggregate of the basis (determined under the preceding sentence) of any properties recovered in respect of properties considered under such Article 3

of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized may be allocated among the properties so recovered in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may determine under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, and the amounts so allocated to any such property so recovered shall be the unadjusted basis of such property in lieu of the unadjusted basis of such property determined under the preceding sentence.

(b) In the case of a taxpayer who has made an election under Section 25009, the basis of property recovered shall be an amount equal to the value at which such property is included in the amount of the recovery under Section 25004 (determined without regard to the last sentence thereof), reduced by such part of the gain under Section 25006 which is not recognized as provided in Sections 24943 to 24947, inclusive.

25011. (a) The determination as to whether and to what extent an allowable deduction on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 did or did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part of such code shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Determination of prior tax reduction

(b) The part of the stock or other interest of the taxpayer treated under Article 3 of Chapter 6 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law of 1954 as property described in such article shall be treated in the same manner for purposes of this chapter.

CHAPTER 17. ALLOCATION OF INCOME

25101. When the income of a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed under this part is derived from or attributable to sources both within and without the State, the tax shall be measured by the net income derived from or attributable to sources within this State. Such income shall be determined by an allocation upon the basis of sales, purchases, expenses of manufacture, pay roll, value and situs of tangible property or by reference to any of these or other factors or by such other method of allocation as is fairly calculated to determine the net income derived from or attributable to sources within this State. Income from business carried on partly within and partly without this State shall be allocated in such a manner as is fairly calculated to apportion such income among the states or countries in which such business is conducted. Income attributable to isolated or occasional transactions in states or countries in which the taxpayer is not doing business shall be allocated to the state in which the taxpayer has its principal place of business or commercial domicile.

Allocation
of income within and without the State

If the Franchise Tax Board reallocates net income upon its examination of any return, it shall, upon the written request of the taxpayer, disclose to him the basis upon which its re-allocation has been made.

Taxpayers owned or controlled by same interests

25102. In the case of two or more persons, as defined in Section 19 of this code, owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the Franchise Tax Board may permit or require the filing of a combined report and such other information as it deems necessary and is authorized to impose the tax due under this part as though the combined entire net income was that of one taxpayer, or to distribute, apportion, or allocate the gross income or deductions between or among such taxpayers, if it determines that such consolidation, distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to reflect the proper income of any such taxpayers.

Corporation
benefiting its members or stockholders
by transactions at less than fair price

25103. In the case of a corporation doing business within the meaning of this part, whether under agreement or otherwise, in such manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit the members or stockholders of the corporation, or any of them, or any person or persons, directly or indirectly interested in such business, by rendering services of any nature whatsoever, or acquiring or disposing of its products or the goods or commodities in which it deals, at less than a fair price therefore, the Franchise Tax Board, in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of such corporation, may require a report of such facts as it deems necessary, and may determine the amount which shall be deemed to be the entire net income allocable to this State of the business of such corporation for the calendar or fiscal year, and compute the tax upon such net income. In determining the entire net income the Franchise Tax Board shall have regard to the fair profits which, but for any agreement, arrangement, or understanding, might be or could have been obtained from dealing in such products, goods or commodities.

Consolidated
report of parent and subsidiary
corporations

25104. In the case of a corporation liable to report under this part owning or controlling, either directly or indirectly, another corporation, or other corporations, and in the case of a corporation liable to report under this part and owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by another corporation, the Franchise Tax Board may require a consolidated report showing the combined net income or such other facts as it deems necessary. The Franchise Tax Board is authorized and empowered, in such manner as it may determine, to assess the tax against either of the corporations whose net income is involved in the report upon the basis of the combined entire net income and such other information as it may possess, or it may adjust the tax in such other manner as it shall determine to be equitable if it determines it to be necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or to clearly reflect the net income earned by said corporation or corporations from business done in this State.

Ownership
or control

25105. Direct or indirect ownership or control of more than 50 percent of the voting stock of the taxpayer shall constitute ownership or control for the purposes of this article.

CHAPTER 18. RENEGOTIATIONS

25201. In the case of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or any subcontract thereunder, which is made by the taxpayer, if a renegotiation is made in respect of such contract or subcontract and an amount of excessive profits received or accrued under such contract or subcontract for an income year (hereinafter referred to as "prior income year") is eliminated and, in an income year ending after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to pay or repay to the United States or any agency thereof the amount of profits eliminated or the amount of profits eliminated is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer, then the profits so eliminated shall be excluded from gross income for the prior income year if they were included in gross income for the prior income year. For the purposes of this article—

Renegotiated profits

(a) The term "renegotiation" includes any transaction which is a renegotiation within the meaning of the federal renegotiation act applicable to such transaction, any modification of one or more contracts with the United States or any agency thereof, and any agreement with the United States or any agency thereof in respect of one or more such contracts or subcontracts thereunder.

"Renegotiation"

(b) The term "excessive profits" includes any amount which constitutes excessive profits within the meaning assigned to such term by the applicable federal renegotiation act, any part of the contract price of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, any part of the subcontract price of a subcontract under such a contract, and any profits derived from one or more such contracts or subcontracts.

"Excessive profits"

(c) The term "subcontract" includes any purchase order or agreement which is a subcontract within the meaning assigned to such term by the applicable federal renegotiation act.

"Subcontract"

(d) The term "federal renegotiation act" includes Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act (Public Law 528, Seventy-seventh Congress, Second Session), as amended or supplemented, the Renegotiation Act of 1948, as amended or supplemented, and the Renegotiation Act of 1951, as amended or supplemented.

"Federal renegotiation act"

25202. In the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract between the United States or any agency thereof and the taxpayer, if an item for which the taxpayer has been reimbursed by the United States or any agency thereof is disallowed as an item of cost chargeable to such contract, and, in an income year ending after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to repay the United States or any agency thereof the amount disallowed, or the amount disallowed is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer, for the purposes of this part the amount so disallowed or so applied as an offset shall be allowed as a deduction in the income year in which the reimbursement for such item was received or was accrued to the extent that the taxpayer's taxable net income for the Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts year in which the cost was incurred would have been reduced had no such reimbursement been received or accrued.

Payments,
etc., not deductible
for year paid, incurred Different accounting method
permitted

25203. The amount of the payment, repayment, or offset described in Section 25201 or Section 25202 shall not constitute a deduction for the year in which paid or incurred.

25204. The foregoing provisions of this article shall not apply in respect of any contract if the taxpayer shows to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that a different method of accounting for the amount of the payment, repayments, or disallowance clearly reflects income, and in such case the payment, repayment, or disallowance shall be accounted for with respect to the income year provided for under such method.

Refund or credit of over-payment

25205. Any overpayment in tax which results from the application of this article shall be credited or refunded as provided in this part. Notwithstanding the provisions of any statute of limitations, such credit or refund shall be made if claim therefor is filed within four years from the last day prescribed for filing the return or within two years from the date of payment, repayment, or offset described in Section 25202 or Section 25203, whichever is later.

Claim in abatement

25206. If prior to the payment of the last installment of tax for the taxable year the taxpayer becomes entitled to the exclusions or deductions provided in this article for its income year, the taxpayer may, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, file a claim in abatement of any unpaid tax or portion thereof, but not in excess of the reduction in tax resulting from the application of this article.

Reduction of tax abated

25207. In any case in which a claim in abatement is filed pursuant to Section 25206 and the Franchise Tax Board makes such abatement, the tax disclosed by the original return shall, for the purpose of Article I of Chapter 20, be deemed to be reduced by the amount of tax so abated.

This section does not limit the Franchise Tax Board's right to offset or recoup barred assessments against overpayments.

SEC. 31. Section 25931 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

25931. If any taxpayer fails to make and file a return required by this part on or before the due date of the return or the due date as extended by the Franchise Tax Board, Failure to file return

then, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to wilful neglect, 5 percent of the tax shall be added to the tax for each 30 days or fraction thereof elapsing between the due date of the return and the date on which filed, but the total addition shall not exceed 25 percent of the tax. In the case of a commencing corporation, the penalty shall apply to all tax accruable on the due date of the return. The amount so added to the tax shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 32. Section 26073a of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Time
extension

26073a. If (1), the taxpayer has, within the period prescribed in, agreed in writing, under the provisions of Chapter 20, Article 1, to extend the time within which the Franchise Tax Board may propose an additional assessment, or, (2) the taxpayer has agreed with the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue for an extension, or renewals thereof, of the period for proposing and assessing deficiencies in federal income tax for any year, the period within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, shall be the period within which the Franchise Tax Board may make an assessment or a proposed additional assessment under such circumstances. The provisions of this section shall apply to any claim filed, or credit or refund allowed or made, before the execution of such agreements.

SEC. 33. Section 26073b of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Bad debts

26073b. A claim for credit or refund based upon an overpayment on account of the deductibility, under Section 24348, of a bad debt as one which became worthless, or an erroneous inclusion of an amount attributable to the recovery of a bad debt, prior tax or delinquency amount under Section 24310, due to an adjustment of a bad debt deduction, shall be filed within seven years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year with respect to which the claim is made.

SEC. 34. Section 26134 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Taxpayer's
remedies

26134. Any taxpayer from which a tax is collected by withholding under this section shall be entitled to the remedies set forth in Chapter 22. [Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapters 1 to 9, inclusive, comprising Sections 17001 to 18305, inclusive, of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code are hereby repealed. Repeal

SEC. 2. Chapters 1 to 16, inclusive, comprising Sections 17001 to 18361, inclusive, are added to Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

17001. This part is known and may be cited as the "Personal Income Tax Law." Short title

17002. Except where the context otherwise requires, the definitions given in this chapter govern the construction of this part. Definitions

17003. "Franchise Tax Board" means the Franchise Tax Board described in Part 10, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. "Board" means the State Board of Equalization. "Franchise Tax Board"

17004. "Taxpayer" includes any individual, fiduciary, estate, or trust subject to the tax imposed by this part. "Taxpayer"

17005. "Individual" means a natural person. "Individual"

17006. "Fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person, whether individual or corporate, acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, estate or trust. "Fiduciary"

17007. "Person" includes individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships, and corporations. "Person"

"Partnership"

17008. "Partnership" includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, and which is not, within the meaning of this part, a trust or estate or a corporation.

"Partner"

"Partner" includes a member in such a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or organization.

A person shall be recognized as a partner for income purposes if he owns a capital interest in a partnership in which capital is a material income-producing factor, whether or not such interest was derived by purchase or gift from any other person.

"Corporation"

17009. "Corporation" includes joint-stock companies or associations, insurance companies, and business trusts or so-called "Massachusetts trusts."

"Taxable year"

17010. "Taxable year" means the calendar year or the fiscal year upon the basis of which the taxable income is computed under this part. If no fiscal year has been established, "taxable year" means the calendar year.

"Taxable year" means, in the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year under this part or under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the period for which the return is made.

"Fiscal year"

17011. "Fiscal year" means an accounting period of 12 months ending on the last day of any month other than December.

"Paid or incurred,"
"paid or accrued"

17012. "Paid or incurred" and "paid or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the taxable income is computed under this part.

"Assessment"

17013. "Assessment" includes "proposed additional assessment."

"Resident"

17014. "Resident" includes:

(a) Every individual who is in this State for other than a temporary or transitory purpose.

(b) Every individual domiciled in this State who is outside the State for a temporary or transitory purpose.

Any individual who is a resident of this State continues to be a resident even though temporarily absent from the State.

"Nonresident"

17015. "Nonresident" means every individual other than a resident.

Presumption of residence

17016. Every individual who spends in the aggregate more than nine months of the taxable year within this State shall be presumed to be a resident. The presumption may be overcome by satisfactory evidence that the individual is in the State for a temporary or transitory purpose.

"United States"

17017. "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the states, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States.

"State"

17018. "State" includes the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States.

17019. "Foreign country" means any jurisdiction other than one embraced within the United States. "Foreign country"

17020. "Trade or business" includes the performance of the functions of a public office. "Trade or business"

17021. As used in this part, if the husband and wife therein referred to are divorced, wherever appropriate to the meaning of this part, the term "wife" shall be read "former wife" and the term "husband" shall be read "former husband." If the payments described in this part are made by or on behalf of the wife or former wife to the husband or former husband instead of vice versa, wherever appropriate to the meaning of this part, the term "husband" shall be read "wife" and the term "wife" shall be read "husband." "Husband," "wife"

17022. The term "military or naval forces of the United States" and the term "armed forces of the United States" each includes all regular and reserve components of the uniformed services which are subject to the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Navy, or the Secretary of the Air Force, and each term also includes the Coast Guard. The members of such forces include commissioned officers and personnel below the grade of commissioned officers in such forces. "Military or naval forces of the United States," etc.

17023. The term "counsel for the Franchise Tax Board," and "Franchise Tax Counsel" as used in this part, means attorney or attorneys appointed or employed by the Franchise Tax Board and acting subject to the approval and under the supervision of the Attorney General. "Counsel for the Franchise Tax Board," etc

17024. The term "Personal Income Tax Law of 1954," means Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code as enacted by the Statutes 1943, Chapter 659, and as subsequently amended, including all amendments enacted prior to January 1, 1955. "Personal Income Tax Law of 1954"

17025. The term "induction period" means any period during which, under laws heretofore or hereafter enacted relating to the induction of individuals for training and service in the armed forces of the United States, individuals (other than individuals liable for induction by reason of a prior deferment) are liable for induction for such training and service. "Induction period"

17026. This part applies to the taxable income of taxpayers received or accrued on or after January 1, 1935. Applicable date

17027. For the purpose of applying the provisions of Sections 17138 and 17140 with respect to accident and health insurance or accident and health plans, for the purpose of applying the provisions of Section 17132(b) with respect to employees' death benefits, and for the purpose of applying the provisions of this part with respect to contributions to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, and with respect to distributions under such a plan, or by a trust forming part of such a plan, the term "employee" shall include a full-time life insurance salesman who is considered an employee for the purpose of Chapter 21 of the Federal "Employee"

Internal Revenue Code, or in the case of services performed before January 1, 1953, who would be considered an employee if his services were performed during 1953.

Construction

17028. The provisions of this code insofar as they are substantially the same as existing statutory provisions relating to the same subject matter shall be construed as restatements and continuations thereof, and not as new enactments.

Effect of repeal of provision of 1954 law

17029. The repeal of any provision of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall not affect any act done or any right accruing or accrued, or any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause, before such repeal; but all rights and liabilities under such law shall continue, and may be enforced in the same manner, as if such repeal had not been made.

Reference to other provisions

17030. For the purpose of applying the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 or the Personal Income Tax Law as herein enacted to any period, any reference in either such law to another provision of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 or the Personal Income Tax Law as herein enacted which is not then applicable to such period shall be deemed a reference to the corresponding provision of the other law which is then applicable to such period.

17031. Any provision of this part which refers to the application of any portion of this part to a prior period (or which depends upon the application to a prior period of any portion of this part) shall, when appropriate and consistent with the purpose of such provision, be deemed to refer to (or depend upon the application of) the corresponding provision of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or of such other Personal Income Tax Laws as were applicable to the prior period.

Effect of division,
etc.,
headings

17032. Division, part, chapter, article, section and subsection headings contained herein shall not be deemed to govern, limit, modify, or in any manner affect the scope, meaning, or intent of the provisions of this part.

Severability

17033. If any chapter, article, section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this part which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this part, or the application thereof to any person, taxpayer or circumstance, is for any reason determined unconstitutional, such determination shall not affect the remainder of this part, nor, will the application of any such provision to other persons, taxpayers or circumstances, be affected thereby.

Application of amendments

17034. Unless otherwise specifically provided the provisions of any law effecting changes in the computation of taxes shall be applied only in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning after December 31st, of the year preceding enactment and the remaining provisions of any such law shall become effective on the date it becomes law.

CHAPTER 2. IMPOSITION OF TAX

17041. (a) There shall be levied, collected, and paid for Tax levy, etc each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every resident of this State and upon the entire taxable income of every nonresident which is derived from sources within this State, taxes in the following amounts and at the following rates upon the amount of taxable income:

Upon taxable incomes not in excess of five thousand dollars Rates ($5,000), 1 percent of such taxable incomes.

Fifty dollars ($50) upon taxable incomes of five thousand dollars ($5,000); and upon taxable incomes in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000) and not in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), 2 percent in addition of such excess.

One hundred fifty dollars ($150) upon taxable incomes of ten thousand dollars ($10,000); and upon taxable incomes in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and not in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), 3 percent in addition of such excess.

Three hundred dollars ($300) upon taxable incomes of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000); and upon taxable incomes in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and not in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), 4 percent in addition of such excess.

Five hundred dollars ($500) upon taxable incomes of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000); and upon taxable incomes in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) and not in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), 5 percent in addition of such excess.

Seven hundred fifty dollars ($750) upon taxable incomes of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); and upon taxable incomes in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), 6 percent in addition of such excess.

(b) The tax imposed by this part is not a surtax.

Tax not a surtax

17042. For purposes of this part, an individual shall be considered a head of a household if, and only if, such individual is not married at the close of his taxable year, and either—

Head of household

(a) Maintains as his home a household which constitutes for such taxable year the principal place of abode, as a member of such household, of—

(1) A son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of the taxpayer, or a descendant of a son or daughter of the taxpayer, but if such son, stepson, daughter, stepdaughter, or descendant is married at the close of the taxpayer's taxable year, only if the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction for such person under Section 17181; or

(2) Any other person who is a dependent of the taxpayer, if the taxpayer is entitled to a deduction for the taxable year for such person under Section 17181.

For purposes of this section, an individual shall be considered as maintaining a household only if over half of the cost of maintaining the household during the taxable year is furnished by such individual.

Determination of status

17043. For purposes of Section 17042—

(a) A legally adopted child of a person shall be considered a child of such person by blood;

(b) An individual who is legally separated from his spouse under a final decree of divorce or a decree of separate maintenance shall not be considered as married; and

(c) A taxpayer shall be considered as married at the close of his taxable year if his spouse died during the taxable year.

Tax in case of joint return

17045. In the case of a joint return of a husband and wife under Section 18402, the tax imposed by Section 17041 shall be twice the tax which would be imposed if the taxable income were cut in half.

Optional tax

17048. (a) In lieu of the tax imposed under Section 17041 of this part, there shall be levied, collected and paid for each taxable year upon the taxable income of each individual whose adjusted gross income for such year is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or in the case of a married couple filing a joint return for such year whose adjusted gross income is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and who has elected to pay the tax imposed by this section for such year, the tax shown in the following table:

Credit for dependents.

In applying the above schedule to determine the tax of a taxpayer with one or more dependents, there shall be subtracted from his adjusted gross income four hundred dollars ($400) for each such dependent.

Definitions

(b) For the purpose of this section—

(1) "Married person" means a married person on the last day of the taxable year, unless his spouse dies during the taxable year, in which case such determination shall be made as of the date of the spouse's death.

(2) "Dependent" means a person who is a dependent under Section 17182.

(3) An individual not a head of a household or a married person shall be treated as a single person.

Manner of election

17049. The election referred to in Section 17048 shall be made in the manner provided in regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Election of husband or wife

17050. A husband or wife may not elect to pay the optional tax imposed by Section 17048 if the tax of the other spouse is determined under Section 17041 on the basis of taxable income computed without regard to the standard deduction. For purposes of the preceding sentence, determination of marital status shall be made under Section 17173.

When optional tax inapplicable

17051. Section 17048 shall not apply to—

(a) An individual making a return under Section 17553(a) of less than 12 months on account of a change in his accounting period; or

(b) An estate or trust.

Determination of taxable income on election

17052. Whenever it is necessary to determine the taxable income of a taxpayer who made the election referred to in Section 17048, the taxable income shall be determined under Section 17073(b) (relating to definition of taxable income for individuals electing standard deduction).

CHAPTER 3. COMPUTATION OF TAXABLE INCOME

Article 1. Definition of Gross Income, Adjusted Gross Income, and Taxable Income

"Gross Income"

17071. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part, gross income means all income from whatever source derived, including (but not limited to) the following items:

(1) Compensation for services, including fees, commissions, and similar items;

(2) Gross income derived from business;

(3) Gains derived from dealings in property;

(4) Interest;

(5) Rents;

(6) Royalties;

(7) Dividends;

(8) Alimony and separate maintenance payments;

(9) Annuities;

(10) Income from life insurance and endowment contracts;

(11) Pensions;

- (12) Income from discharge of indebtedness;
- (13) Distributive share of partnership gross income;
- (14) Income in respect of a decedent; and
- (15) Income from an interest in an estate or trust.

(b) For items specifically included in gross income, see Article 2 (Section 17081 and following). For items specifically excluded from gross income, see Article 3 (Section 17131 and following).

17072. For purposes of this part, the term "adjusted ^{"Adjusted gross income"} gross income" means, in the case of an individual, gross income minus the following deductions:

(a) The deductions allowed by this part (other than by Article 7 of this chapter) which are attributable to a trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, if such trade or business does not consist of the performance of services by the taxpayer as an employee.

(b) (1) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) which consist of expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer, in connection with the performance by him of services as an employee, under a reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement with his employer.

(2) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) which consist of expenses of travel, meals, and lodging while away from home, paid or incurred by the taxpayer in connection with the performance by him of services as an employee.

(c) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) as losses from the sale or exchange of property.

(d) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following), by Section 17252 (relating to expenses for production of income), and by Section 17681 (relating to depletion) which are attributable to property held for the production of rents or royalties.

(e) In the case of a life tenant of property, or an income beneficiary of property held in trust, or an heir, legatee, or devisee of an estate, the deduction for depreciation allowed by Section 17208 and the deduction allowed by Section 17681. Nothing in this section shall permit the same item to be deducted more than once.

17073. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), for ^{"Taxable income"} purposes of this part the term "taxable income" means gross income, minus the deductions allowed by this part, other than the standard deduction allowed by Article 4 (Section 17171 and following).

(b) In the case of an individual electing under Sections 17174 and 17175 to use the standard deduction provided in Article 4 (Section 17171 and following), for purposes of this part the term "taxable income" means adjusted gross income, minus—

- (1) Such standard deduction; and
- (2) The deductions for exemptions provided in Section 17181.

Article 2. Items Specifically Included in Gross Income

Items included in gross
income
Alimony and separate maintenance
payments

17081. (a) If a wife is divorced or legally separated from her husband under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, the wife's gross income includes periodic payments (whether or not made at regular intervals) received after such decree in discharge of (or attributable to property transferred, in trust or otherwise, in discharge of) a legal obligation which, because of the marital or family relationship, is imposed on or incurred by the husband under the decree or under a written instrument incident to such divorce or separation.

(b) If a wife is separated from her husband and there is a written separation agreement executed after August 16, 1954, the wife's gross income includes periodic payments (whether or not made at regular intervals) received after such agreement is executed which are made under such agreement and because of the marital or family relationship (or which are attributable to property transferred, in trust or otherwise, under such agreement and because of such relationship). This subsection shall not apply if the husband and wife make a single return jointly.

(c) If a wife is separated from her husband, the wife's gross income includes periodic payments (whether or not made at regular intervals) received by her from her husband under a decree entered after March 1, 1954, requiring the husband to make the payments for her support or maintenance. This subsection shall not apply if the husband and wife make a single return jointly.

Payments
to support minor children

17082. Section 17081 shall not apply to that part of any payment which the terms of the decree, instrument, or agreement fix, in terms of an amount of money or a part of the payment, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of the husband. For purposes of the preceding sentence, if any payment is less than the amount specified in the decree, instrument, or agreement, then so much of such payment as does not exceed the sum payable for support shall be considered a payment for such support.

Principal sum paid in installments

17083. (a) (1) For purposes of Section 17081, installment payments discharging a part of an obligation the principal sum of which is, either in terms of money or property, specified in the decree, instrument, or agreement shall not be treated as periodic payments.

(2) If, by the terms of the decree, instrument, or agreement, the principal sum referred to in paragraph (1) is to be paid or may be paid over a period ending more than 10 years from the date of such decree, instrument, or agreement, then (notwithstanding subsection (a)) the installment payments shall be treated as periodic payments for purposes of Section 17081, but (in the case of any one taxable year of the wife) only to the extent of 10 percent of the principal sum. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the part of any principal sum which is allocable to a period after the taxable year of the wife in which it is received shall be treated as an installment payment for the taxable year in which it is received.

(b) The husband's gross income does not include amounts received which, under Section 17081, are (1) includible in the gross income of the wife; and (2) attributable to transferred property.

17101. Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 percent of the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for the annuity (whether or not paid during the taxable year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income under this part in respect of the annuity, increased by the amount which would have been excluded from gross income in respect of the annuity had this part been in effect continuously from the date at which payments under the annuity were first received, equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for the annuity. Annuity

17102. In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration, by assignment or otherwise, of a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract, or any interest therein, only the actual value of the consideration and the amount of the premiums and other sums subsequently paid by the transferee shall be exempt from taxation under Section 17101, 17108, 17131, or 17132. Consideration of transfer of life insurance or annuity

17104. If an annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan with respect to which the employer's contribution is deductible under Article 2 of Chapter 5 of this part, or Sections 24601 to 24610, inclusive, of this code, or if an annuity contract is purchased for an employee by an employer exempt under Article 4 of Chapter 12, Part 11, Division 2 of this code, the employee shall include in his income the amounts received under such contract for the year received. If the employee paid any of the consideration for the annuity, the annuity shall be included in his income as provided in Section 17101, 17108, 17131, or 17132. The consideration for the annuity is the amount contributed by the employee. Annuity contract for employee

17105. Except as provided in Section 17104, if the employee's rights under the contract are nonforfeitable other than for failure to pay future premiums, the amount contributed by the employer for such annuity contract on or after such rights become nonforfeitable shall be included in the income of the employee in the year in which the amount is contributed. This amount, together with any amounts con- Employee annuities nonforfeitable tributed by the employee, shall constitute the consideration paid for the annuity contract in determining the amount of the annuity required to be included in the income of the employee under Sections 17101, 17108, 17131, and 17132.

Joint and survivor's
annuity

17106. For purposes of Sections 17101, 17131, 17132, 17104, and 17105, where amounts are received by a surviving annuitant under a joint and survivor's annuity contract and the basis of such survivor annuitant's interest is determined under Section 18044 the consideration paid for such survivor's annuity shall be considered to be an amount equal to such basis.

Survivor's interest in joint and survivor's
annuity

17107. For the purposes of this section and Sections 18044 and 18045(f), the survivor's interest in a joint and survivor's annuity shall be considered to be property "acquired by bequest, devise or inheritance" from the decedent if the death of the decedent was after December 31, 1952, and if the value of any part of such interest was required to be included in determining the value of the decedent's interest taxable under the California Inheritance Tax Law.

Life insurance, other than death
benefits

17108. Gross income also does not include amounts received (other than amounts paid by reason of the death of the insured and interest payments on such amounts and other than amounts received as annuities) under a life insurance or endowment contract, but if such amounts (when added to amounts received before the taxable year under such contract) exceed the aggregate premiums or consideration paid (whether or not paid during the taxable year) then the excess shall be included in gross income.

Prizes and awards

17114. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b) and in Section 17150 (relating to scholarships and fellowship grants), gross income includes amounts received as prizes and awards.

(b) Gross income does not include amounts received as prizes and awards made primarily in recognition of religious, charitable, scientific, educational, artistic, literary, or civic achievement, but only if—

(1) The recipient was selected without any action on his part to enter the contest or proceeding; and

(2) The recipient is not required to render substantial future services as a condition to receiving the prize or award.

Short-term
municipal
bonds

17115. In computing the gross income of a taxpayer who holds during the taxable year a short-term municipal bond (as defined in Section 17116(a)) primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business—of the term "bond" did not exclude such short-term municipal bond; or

(a) If the gross income of the taxpayer from such trade or business is computed by the use of inventories and his inventories are valued on any basis other than cost, the cost of securities sold (as defined in Section 17116(b)) during such year shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amortizable bond premium which would be disallowed as a deduction for such year by Section 17217(b) (relating to deduction for amortizable bond premium) if the definition in Section 17220

(b) If the gross income of the taxpayer from such trade or business is computed without the use of inventories, or by use of inventories valued at cost, and the short-term municipal bond is sold or otherwise disposed of during such year, the adjusted basis (computed without regard to this subsection) of the short-term municipal bond shall be reduced by the amount of the adjustment which would be required under Section 18052(e) (relating to adjustment to basis for amortizable bond premium) if the definition in Section 17220 of the term "bond" did not exclude such short-term municipal bond.

17116. For purposes of Section 17115—

"Short-term
municipal bond"

(a) The term "short-term municipal bond" means any obligation issued by a government or political subdivision thereof if the interest on such obligation is excludable from gross income; but such term does not include such an obligation if—

(1) It is sold or otherwise disposed of by the taxpayer within 30 days after the date of its acquisition by him; or

(2) Its earliest maturity or call date is a date more than five years from the date on which it was acquired by the taxpayer.

(b) The term "cost of securities sold" means the amount ascertained by subtracting the inventory value of the closing inventory of a taxable year from the sum of—

"Cost of securities
sold"

(1) The inventory value of the opening inventory for such year; and

(2) The cost of securities and other property purchased during such year which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year.

17117. (a) Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation shall, at the election of the taxpayer, be considered as income and shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which received.

Loans from Commodity Credit Corporation

(b) If a taxpayer exercises the election provided for in subsection (a) for any taxable year, then the method of computing income so adopted shall be adhered to with respect to all subsequent taxable years unless with the approval of the Franchise Tax Board a change to a different method is authorized.

17118. Gross income also includes any salary, wages, or compensation of any officer or employee of this State, or of any political subdivision, district, or municipality of this State, and any compensation of officers and employees of the United States or agencies or instrumentalities of the United States to the extent the collection of state taxes thereon is not prohibited by the terms of the "Public Salary Tax Act of 1939," (it being hereby declared to be the policy of this State to comply with the provisions of that act) and all other gains,

Gross income
of governmental
employees

profits, and income which the State may now or hereafter constitutionally tax.

Excess value on purchase or exchange transactions

17119. Where property is acquired in a transaction purporting to be a purchase or an exchange (including transactions described in Article 7 of Chapter 4 of this part, relating to the nonrecognition of gain, but excluding foreclosures or repossessions of properties held for security), and the value thereof is substantially in excess of the value of the money or property surrendered or agreed to be surrendered as a condition of such acquisition, the excess value shall be considered ordinary income taxable under this part unless it can be established (a) that the sole consideration for the acquisition of the property was the money or property surrendered or agreed to be surrendered, or (b) that the excess value was a gift, or (c) that for some other reason the excess value does not constitute income or the gain represented thereby is not recognized.

Article 3. Items Specifically Excluded From Gross Income

Items excluded from gross income
Life Insurance

17131. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b) and in Section 17134, gross income does not include amounts received (whether in a single sum or otherwise) under a life insurance contract if such amounts are paid by reason of the death of the insured.

(b) In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration, by assignment, or otherwise, of a life insurance contract or any interest therein, the amount excluded from gross income by paragraph (a) shall not exceed an amount equal to the sum of the actual value of such consideration and the premiums and other amounts subsequently paid by the transferee.

Employee death benefits

17132. (a) Gross income does not include amounts received (whether in a single sum or otherwise) by the beneficiaries or the estate of an employee, if such amounts are paid by or on behalf of an employer and are paid by reason of the death of the employee.

(b) (1) The aggregate amounts excludable under subsection (a) with respect to the death of any employee shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(2) Subsection (a) shall not apply to amounts with respect to which the employee possessed, immediately before his death, a nonforfeitable right to receive the amounts while living (other than total distributions payable, as defined in Section 17503(e), which are paid to a distributee, by a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or under an annuity contract under a plan which meets the requirements of subsections (c), (d), (e), and (f) of Section 17501, within one taxable year of the distributee by reason of the employee's death).

(3) Subsection (a) shall not apply to amounts received by a surviving annuitant under a joint and survivor's annuity contract after the first day of the first period for which an amount was received as an annuity by the employee (or would have been received if the employee had lived).

(4) In the case of any amount to which Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive (relating to annuities, etc.), apply, the amount which is excludable under subsection (a) (as modified by this subsection) shall be determined by reference to the value of such amount as of the day on which the employee died. Any amount so excludable under subsection (a) shall, for purposes of Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive, be treated as additional consideration paid by the employee.

17133. If any amount excluded from gross income by Sections 17131 or 17132 is held under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments shall be included in gross income. Interest

17134. (a) The amounts held by an insurer with respect to any beneficiary shall be prorated (in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) over the period or periods with respect to which such payments are to be made. There shall be excluded from the gross income of such beneficiary in the taxable year received— Proration of amounts held by insurer

(1) Any amount determined by such proration; and

(2) In the case of the surviving spouse of the insured, that portion of the excess of the amounts received under one or more agreements specified in subsection 17134(b)(1) (whether or not payment of any part of such amounts is guaranteed by the insurer) over the amount determined in subsection (a)(1) of this section which is not greater than one thousand dollars ($1,000) with respect to any insured.

Gross income includes, to the extent not excluded by the preceding sentence, amounts received under agreements to which this section applies.

(b) An amount held by an insurer with respect to any beneficiary shall mean an amount to which Section 17131 applies which is—

(1) Held by any insurer under an agreement provided for in the life insurance contract, whether as an option or otherwise to pay such amount on a date or dates later than the death of the insured; and

(2) Is equal to the value of such agreement to such beneficiary—

(A) As of the date of death of the insured (as if any option exercised under the life insurance contract were exercised at such time); and

(B) As discounted on the basis of the interest rate and mortality tables used by the insurer in calculating payments under the agreement.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "surviving spouse" means the spouse of the insured as of the date of death, including a spouse legally separated but not under a decree of final divorce.

(d) This section shall not apply to any amount to which Section 17133 is applicable.

Alimony,
etc.,
payments

17135. (a) Sections 17131 to 17134, inclusive, shall not apply to so much of any payment as is includible in the gross income of the wife under Sections 17081, 17082 and 17083 (relating to alimony) or Sections 17819 and 17820 (relating to income of an estate or trust in case of divorce, etc.).

(b) For definition of "wife" see Section 17021.

Gifts, etc.

17136. (a) Gross income does not include the value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not exclude from gross income—

(1) The income from any property referred to in subsection (a); or

(2) Where the gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance is of income from property, the amount of such income.

Where, under the terms of the gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance, the payment, crediting, or distribution thereof is to be made at intervals, then, to the extent that it is paid or credited or to be distributed out of income from property, it shall be treated for purposes of paragraph (2) as a gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance of income from property. Any amount included in the gross income of a beneficiary under Chapter 9 shall be treated for purposes of paragraph (2) as a gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance of income from property.

Constitutionally
income

17137. Gross income does not include income which this State is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution or laws of the United States of America or under the Constitution of this State.

Compensation
for injury or sickness

17138. (a) Except in the case of amounts attributable to (and not in excess of) deductions allowed under Sections 17253 to 17256, inclusive (relating to medical, etc., expenses) for any prior taxable year, gross income does not include—

(1) Amounts received under workmen's compensation acts as compensation for personal injuries or sickness;

(2) The amount of any damages received (whether by suit or agreement) on account of personal injuries or sickness;

(3) Amounts received through accident or health insurance for personal injuries or sickness (other than amounts received by an employee, to the extent such amounts (A) are attributable to contributions by the employer which were not includible in the gross income of the employee, or (B) are paid by the employer); and

(4) Amounts received as a pension, annuity, or similar allowance for personal injuries or sickness resulting from active service in the armed forces of any country or in the Coast and Geodetic Survey or the Public Health Service.

(b)(1) For exclusion from employee's gross income of employer contributions to accident and health plans, see Section 17140.

(2) For exclusion of part of disability retirement pay from the application of subsection (a)(4) of this section, see Section 402(h) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949 (37 U. S. C. 272(h)).

17140. Gross income does not include contributions by the employer to accident or health plans for compensation (through insurance or otherwise) to his employees for personal injuries or sickness.

Contributions by employer to sickness, etc., plans

17141. In the case of a minister of the gospel, gross income does not include—

Minister's rental allowance

(1) The rental value of a home furnished to him as part of his compensation; or

(2) The rental allowance paid to him as part of his compensation, to the extent used by him to rent or provide a home.

17142. No amount shall be included in gross income by reason of the discharge, in whole or in part, within the taxable year, of any indebtedness for which the taxpayer is liable, or subject to which the taxpayer holds property, if

(a) The indebtedness was incurred or assumed by an individual in connection with property used in his trade or business; and

(b) Such taxpayer makes and files a consent to the regulations prescribed under Section 18054 (relating to adjustment of basis) then in effect at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board by regulations prescribes.

In such case, the amount of any income of such taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income, and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction.

17143. Gross income does not include income (other than rent) derived by a lessor of real property on the termination of a lease, representing the value of such property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee.

Lessee improvements on lessor's property

17144. Gross income does not include income attributable to the recovery during the taxable year of a bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, to the extent of the amount of the recovery exclusion with respect to such debt, tax, or amount.

Recovery of bad debts

17145. For purposes of Section 17144—

(a) The term "bad debt" means a debt on account of the worthlessness or partial worthlessness of which a deduction was allowed for a prior taxable year.

"Bad debt"

(b) The term "prior tax" means a tax on account of which a deduction or credit was allowed for a prior taxable year.

"Prior tax"

(c) The term "delinquency amount" means an amount paid or accrued on account of which a deduction or credit was allowed for a prior taxable year and which is attributable to failure to file return with respect to a tax, or pay a tax, within

"Delinquency amount"

the time required by the law under which the tax is imposed, or to failure to file a return with respect to a tax or pay a tax.

"Recovery
exclusion"

(d) The term "recovery exclusion," with respect to a bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, means the amount, determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, of the deductions or credits allowed, on account of such bad debt, prior tax, or delinquency amount, which did not result in a reduction of the taxpayer's tax under this part or corresponding provisions of prior income tax laws, reduced by the amount excludable in previous taxable years with respect to such debt, tax, or amount under Section 17144

Salaries,
etc., of members of armed forces

17146. Gross income does not include the salary, wages, bonuses, allowances, and other compensation received by an individual for his services as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, including any auxiliary branch thereof, up to and including one thousand dollars ($1,000) per annum in the aggregate.

Mustering out payments, etc

17147. Gross income does not include amounts received during the taxable year as mustering out payments and terminal leave and unused leave pay and bonds, and educational benefits received under federal or state legislation with respect to services in the military or naval forces of the United States.

Scholarships and fellowships

17150. (a) Gross income does not include—

(1) Any amount received—

(A) As a scholarship at an educational institution (as defined in subsection (c)); or

(B) As a fellowship grant; including the value of contributed services and accommodations; and

(2) Any amount received to cover expenses for—

(A) Travel;

(B) Research;

(C) Clerical help; or

(D) Equipment;

which are incident to such a scholarship or to a fellowship grant, but only to the extent that the amount is so expended by the recipient.

(b) (1) In the case of an individual who is a candidate for a degree at an educational institution (as defined in subsection (c)), subsection (a) shall not apply to that portion of any amount received which represents payment for teaching, research, or other services in the nature of part-time employment required as a condition to receiving the scholarship or the fellowship grant. If teaching, research, or other services are required of all candidates (whether or not recipients of scholarships or fellowship grants) for a particular degree as a condition to receiving such degree, such teaching, research, or other services shall not be regarded as part-time employment within the meaning of this subsection.

(2) In the case of an individual who is not a candidate for a degree at an educational institution (as defined in subsection (c)), subsection (a) shall apply only if the condition in paragraph (A) is satisfied and then only within the limitations provided in paragraph (B).

(A) The grantor of the scholarship or fellowship grant is an organization described in Section 23701d of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law which is exempt from tax under Section 23701 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, the United States, an instrumentality or agency thereof, or a state, a territory, or a possession of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia.

(B) The amount of the scholarship or fellowship grant excluded under subsection (a)(1) in any taxable year shall be limited to an amount equal to three hundred dollars ($300) times the number of months for which the recipient received amounts under the scholarship or fellowship grant during such taxable year, except that no exclusion shall be allowed under subsection (a) after the recipient has been entitled to exclude under this section for a period of 36 months (whether or not consecutive) amounts received as a scholarship or fellowship grant while not a candidate for a degree at an educational institution (as defined in subsection (c)).

(c) For the purposes of this section and Section 17185, the term "educational institution" means only an educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on. "Educational institution"

17151. There shall be excluded from gross income of an employee the value of any meals or lodging furnished to him by his employer for the convenience of the employer, but only if— Meals or lodging

(a) In the case of meals, the meals are furnished on the business premises of the employer; or

(b) In the case of lodging, the employee is required to accept such lodging on the business premises of his employer as a condition of his employment.

In determining whether meals or lodging are furnished for the convenience of the employer, the provisions of an employment contract or of a state statute fixing terms of employment shall not be determinative of whether the meals or lodging are intended as compensation.

17153. Gross income does not include wages, fees, or salary of an employee of a foreign country (including a consular or other officer, or a nondiplomatic representative) receive as compensation for official services to that country: Compensation of foreign country employee

(a) If the employee is not a citizen of the United States; and

(b) If the services are of a character similar to those performed by employees of the United States in foreign countries; and

(c) If the foreign country and political subdivisions thereof do not tax the wages, fees, or salaries of employees of the United States performing similar services in that country.

Article 4. Standard Deduction

Standard
deduction

17171. (a) A taxpayer, at his election, may take a standard deduction as follows:

(1) If his adjusted gross income is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more, the standard deduction shall be three hundred dollars ($300);

(2) If his adjusted gross income is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), the standard deduction shall be an amount equal to 6 percent of the adjusted gross income upon the basis of which the tax applicable to the adjusted gross income of the taxpayer is determined under the tax table provided in Section 17048;

(3) If the adjusted gross income of a married couple filing a joint return is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the standard deduction shall be an amount equal to twice 6 percent of one-half of the total adjusted gross income of both taxpayers upon the basis of which the tax applicable to one-half of the adjusted gross income of the taxpayers is determined under the tax table provided in Section 17048;

(4) If the adjusted gross income of a married couple filing a joint return is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more, the standard deduction shall be six hundred dollars ($600).

(b) The standard deduction provided for in subsection (a) shall be in lieu of all deductions other than those which under Section 17072 are to be subtracted from gross income in computing adjusted gross income.

Same.
Husband
or wife

17172. (a) The standard deduction shall not be allowed to a husband or wife if the tax of the other spouse is determined under Section 17041 on the basis of the taxable income computed without regard to the standard deduction.

(b) The standard deduction shall not be allowed in computing the taxable income of—

(1) An individual making a return under Section 17553 (a) for a period of less than 12 months on account of a change in his annual accounting period; or

(2) An estate or trust, common trust fund, or partnership.

17173. For purposes of this article—

(a) The determination of whether an individual is married shall be made as of the close of his taxable year; except that if his spouse dies during his taxable year such determination shall be made as of the time of such death; and

(b) An individual legally separated from his spouse under a final decree of divorce or of separate maintenance shall not be considered as married.

Election

17174. (a) If the adjusted gross income shown on the return is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more, or in the case of a married couple is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more, the standard deduction shall be allowed if the taxpayer so elects in his return, and the Franchise Tax Board shall by regulations prescribe the manner of signifying such election in the return. If the adjusted gross income shown on the return is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more, or in the case of a married couple is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more, but the correct adjusted gross income is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or in the case of a married couple is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), then an election by the taxpayer under the preceding sentence to take the standard deduction shall be considered as his election to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048 (relating to tax based on tax table); and his failure to make under the preceding sentence an election to take the standard deduction shall be considered his election not to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048.

(b) If the adjusted gross income shown on the return is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or in the case of a married couple is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the standard deduction shall be allowed only if the taxpayer elects, in the manner provided in Sections 17049 and 17050 to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048. If the adjusted gross income shown on the return is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or in the case of a married couple is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), but the correct adjusted gross income is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more, or in the case of a married couple is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more, then an election by the taxpayer to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048 shall be considered as his election to take the standard deduction; and his failure to elect to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048 shall be considered his election not to take the standard deduction.

(c) If the taxpayer on making his return fails to signify, in the manner provided by subsection (a) or (b), his election to take the standard deduction or to pay the tax imposed by Section 17048, as the case may be, such failure shall be considered his election not to take the standard deduction.

Failure
election

17175. Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, a change of an election for any taxable year to take, or not to take, the standard deduction, or to pay, or not to pay, the tax under Section 17048, may be made after the filing of the return for such year. If the spouse of the taxpayer filed a separate return for any taxable year corresponding, for purposes of Section 17172, to the taxable year of the taxpayer, the change shall not be allowed unless, in accordance with such regulations—

election

(a) The spouse makes a change of election with respect to the standard deduction for the taxable year covered in such separate return, consistent with the change of election sought by the taxpayer; and

(b) The taxpayer and his spouse consent in writing to the assessment, within such period as may be agreed on with the Franchise Tax Board, of any deficiency, to the extent attributable to such change of election, even though at the time of the filing of such consent the assessment of such deficiency would otherwise be prevented by the operation of any law or rule of law.

Article 5. Deductions for Personal Exemption

Deductions
for personal exemptions

17181. (a) In the case of an individual, the exemptions provided by this section shall be allowed as deductions in computing taxable income.

(b) In the case of a single individual a personal exemption of two thousand dollars ($2,000), or, in the case of a head of a household or a married individual, a personal exemption of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500). A husband and wife shall receive but one personal exemption of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500). If the husband and wife make separate returns, the personal exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

(c) (1) An additional exemption of five hundred dollars ($500) for the taxpayer if he is blind at the close of his taxable year.

(2) An additional exemption of five hundred dollars ($500) for the spouse of the taxpayer if a separate return is made by the taxpayer, and if the spouse is blind and, for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

(3) For the purposes of this section an individual is blind only if either: his central visual acuity does not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or his visual acuity is greater than 20/200 but is accompanied by a limitation in the fields of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

(d) An exemption of four hundred dollars ($400) for each dependent (as defined in Section 17182).

"Dependents"

17182. For the purposes of this part, the term "dependents" means any of the following individuals over half of whose support, for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, was received from the taxpayer (or is treated under Section 17184 as received from the taxpayer):

(a) A son or daughter of the taxpayer, or a descendant of either;

(b) A stepson or stepdaughter of the taxpayer;

(c) A brother, sister, stepbrother, or stepsister of the taxpayer;

(d) The father or mother of the taxpayer or an ancestor of either;

(e) A stepfather or stepmother of the taxpayer;

(f) A son or daughter of a brother or sister of the taxpayer;

(g) A brother or sister of the father or mother of the taxpayer;

(h) A son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the taxpayer

17183. For purposes of Section 17182—

(a) The terms "brother" and "sister" include a brother or sister by the half blood. "Brother" and "sister"

(b) In determining whether any of the relationships specified in Section 17182 or subsection (a) of this section exists, a legally adopted child of an individual shall be treated as a child of such individual by blood. A child shall be deemed legally adopted when placed in custody of the taxpayer for adoption by the latter or his spouse. Legally adopted child

(c) The term "dependent" does not include any individual who is not a citizen of the United States unless such individual is a resident of the United States, of a country contiguous to the United States, of the Canal Zone, or of the Republic of Panama. "Dependent"

(d) A payment to a wife which is includible in the gross income of the wife under Section 17081 or 17819 shall not be treated as a payment by her husband for the support of any dependent. Payments of wife includible in wife's gross income

(e) If the taxpayer would not occupy the status of head of a household except by reason of there being one or more dependents for whom he would be entitled to claim a deduction under Section 17181, the deduction shall be disallowed with respect to one of the dependents. Dependents of head of household 17184. For purposes of Section 17182 half of the support of an individual for a calendar year shall be treated as received from the taxpayer if— Multiple support agreement.

(a) No one person contributed over half of such support;

(b) Over half of such support was received from persons each of whom, but for the fact that he did not contribute over half of such support, would have been entitled to claim such individual as a dependent for a taxable year beginning in such calendar year;

(c) The taxpayer contributed over 10 percent of such support; and

(d) Each person described in subsection (b) (other than the taxpayer) who contributed over 10 percent of such support files a written declaration (in such manner and form as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe) that he will not claim such individual as a dependent for any taxable year beginning in such calendar year

17185. For purposes of Section 17182, in the case of any individual who is— Special support test in case of students

(a) A son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of the taxpayer (within the meaning of this Article), and

(b) A student, amounts received as scholarships for study at an educational institution (as defined in Section 17150(c)) shall not be taken into account in determining whether such individual received more than half of his support from the taxpayer.

17186. For purposes of this part—

(a) The determination of whether an individual is married or is the head of a household shall be made as of the close of his taxable year; except that if an individual or his spouse Determination of status of individual

dies during his taxable year such determination shall be made as of the time of such death; and

(b) If an individual, his spouse, or in the case of head of household the dependent giving the taxpayer that status dies during the taxable year, such determination shall be made as of the date of death.

Article 6. Itemized Deductions

Itemized
deductions
Allowance

17201. In computing taxable income under Section 17073, there shall be allowed as deductions the items specified in this article, subject to the exceptions provided in Article 8 (Section 17281 and following, relating to items not deductible).

Trade or business
expenses

17202. (a) There shall be allowed as a deduction all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including—

(1) A reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered;

(2) Traveling expenses (including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging) while away from home in the pursuit of a trade or business; and

(3) Rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession, for purposes of the trade or business, of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which he has no equity.

(b) No deduction shall be allowed under subsection (a) for any contribution or gift which would be allowable as a deduction under Section 17214 were it not for the percentage limitations, or the requirements as to the time of payment, set forth in such section.

(c) For special rule relating to expenses in connection with subdividing real property for sale, see Sections 18197 and 18198.

Interest on Indebtedness

17203. In computing taxable income there shall be allowed as a deduction all interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness of the taxpayer. However, no deduction shall be allowed (a) to the extent that it is connected with income not taxable under this part; or (b) for interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations, the interest upon which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deduction with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Taxes

17204. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, there shall be allowed as a deduction taxes paid or accrued within the taxable year.

(b) No deduction shall be allowed for the following taxes:

(1) Taxes paid or accrued to the State under this part;

(2) Taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the taxable year imposed by the authority of:

(A) The Government of the United States or any foreign country;

(B) Any state, territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any state or territory;

(3) Estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes;

(4) Taxes computed as an addition to, or as a percentage of, taxes which are not deductible under this section;

(5) Taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this does not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of the taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges. Nor does this exclude the allowance of any irrigation or other water district taxes or assessments which are levied for the payment of the principal of any improvement or other bonds for which a general assessment on all lands within the district is levied as distinguished from a special assessment levied on part of the area within the district.

(c) (1) In the case of any state or local sales tax, if the amount of the tax is separately stated, then, to the extent that the amount so stated is paid by the consumer (otherwise than in connection with the consumer's trade or business) to his seller, such amount shall be allowed as a deduction to the consumer as if it constituted a tax imposed on, and paid by, such consumer.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (c)(1), the term "State or local sales tax" means a tax imposed by a state, a territory, a possession of the United States, or a political subdivision of any of the foregoing, or by the District of Columbia, which tax—

(A) Is imposed on persons engaged in selling tangible personal property at retail (or on persons selling gasoline or other motor vehicle fuels at wholesale or retail) and is a stated sum per unit of property sold or is measured either by the gross sales price or by the gross receipts from the sale; or

(B) Is imposed on persons engaged in furnishing services at retail and is measured by the gross receipts for furnishing such services.

17206. (a) There shall be allowed as a deduction any loss ^{Losses} sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the basis for determining the amount of the deduction for any loss shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041 for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

(c) In the case of an individual, the deduction under subsection (a) shall be limited to—

(1) Losses incurred in a trade or business;

(2) Losses incurred in any transaction entered into for profit, though not connected with a trade or business; and

(3) Losses of property not connected with a trade or business, if such losses arise from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft. No loss described in this paragraph shall be allowed if at the time of the filing of the return, such loss has been claimed for inheritance tax purposes in the inheritance tax return.

(d) Losses from wagering transactions shall be allowed only to the extent of the gains from such transactions.

(e) For purposes of subsection (a), any loss arising from theft shall be treated as sustained during the taxable year in which the taxpayer discovers such loss.

(f) Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent allowed in Section 18152.

(g) (1) If any security which is a capital asset becomes worthless during the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall, for purposes of this part, be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of the taxable year, of a capital asset.

“Security” (2) For purposes of this subsection, the term “security” means—

(A) A share of stock in a corporation;

(B) A right to subscribe for, or to receive, a share of stock in a corporation; or

(C) A bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by a corporation or by a government or political subdivision thereof, with interest coupons or in registered form.

Bad debts 17207. In computing taxable income there shall be allowed as a deduction debts which become worthless within the taxable year or, in the discretion of the Franchise Tax Board, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the Franchise Tax Board may allow the debt as a deduction in an amount not in excess of the part charged off within the taxable year as a deduction. If a debt was actually worthless prior to January 1, 1943, but was not ascertained to be worthless and charged off prior to that date, a deduction may be taken therefor during the first taxable year ending after December 31, 1942; if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt which was charged off, regardless of whether or not claimed as a deduction in any prior year. This section does not apply to a debt evidenced by a security as defined in Section 17206(g)(2)(C).

Depreciation 17208. In computing taxable income there shall be allowed as a deduction a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business or of property held for the production of taxable income, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence. A taxpayer may elect to claim a deduction for amortization of emergency facilities, as defined by Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each.

17209. The basis on which exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence are to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041 for the purpose of determining the gain on the sale or other disposition of such property. Same Basis

17214. In computing taxable income there shall be allowed as a deduction, in the case of an individual, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of: Charitable, etc., contributions and gifts

(a) The United States, any state, territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, for exclusively public purposes.

(b) A corporation, or trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation. For disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions otherwise allowable under this subsection, see Article 6 of Chapter 9.

(c) The special fund for vocational rehabilitation authorized by Section 12 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924.

(d) Posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units or societies of any such posts or organizations, if the posts, organizations, units, or societies are organized in the United States and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(e) A fraternal society, order, or association, operating under the lodge system, but only if the contributions or gifts are to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

17215. Deductions for contributions or gifts shall be allowed to an amount which in all cases listed in Section 17214 combined does not exceed 20 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income. The contributions or gifts shall be allowed as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Same:

17216.1. No gift or bequest for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes (including encouragement of art and the prevention of cruelty to children or animals), otherwise allowable as a deduction under Sections 17214(b), 17734, and 17216 shall be allowed as a deduction if made to an organization which, in the taxable year of the organization in which the gift or bequest is made, is not exempt under Section 23701d of this code by reason of the provisions of Sections 23736.2 and 23736.3 of this code. With respect to any taxable year of the organization for which the organization is not exempt pursuant to the provisions of Section 23736.2 of this code by reason of having engaged in a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting the corpus or income of such organization from its exempt purposes and such transaction involved a substantial part of such corpus or income, and which taxable year is the same, or prior to the, taxable year of the organization in which such transaction occurred, such deduction shall be disallowed the donor only if such donor or any member of his family (as defined in Section 17289(d)) was a party to such prohibited transaction.

"Gift or bequest"

For the purposes of this section the term "gift or bequest" means any gift, contribution, bequest, devise, legacy, or transfer.

Amortizable
bond
premium

17217. In the case of any bond, as defined in Section 17220, the following rules shall apply to the amortizable bond premium (determined under Section 17218) on the bond:

(a) In the case of a bond (other than a bond the interest on which is excludable from gross income), the amount of the amortizable bond premium for the taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction.

(b) In the case of any bond the interest on which is excludable from gross income, no deduction shall be allowed for the amortizable bond premium for the taxable year.

(c) For adjustment to basis on account of amortizable bond premium, see Section 18052(d).

Determination of amount of bond
premium

17218. (a) For purposes of subsection (b), the amount of bond premium, in the case of the holder of any bond, shall be determined—

(1) With reference to the amount of the basis (for determining loss on sale or exchange) of such bond;

(2) With reference to the amount payable on maturity or on earlier call date (but in the case of bonds issued after December 31, 1951, and acquired after December 31, 1954, only if such earlier call date is a date more than three years after the date of such issue); and

(3) With adjustments proper to reflect unamortized bond premium, with respect to the bond, for the period before the date as of which Section 17217 becomes applicable with respect to the taxpayer with respect to such bond.

In no case shall the amount of bond premium on a convertible bond include any amount attributable to the conversion features of the bond.

(b) The amortizable bond premium of the taxable year shall be the amount of the bond premium attributable to such year. In the case of a bond issued after December 31, 1951, and acquired after December 31, 1954, which has a call date not more than three years after the date of such issue, the amount of bond premium attributable to the taxable year in which the bond is called shall include an amount equal to the excess of the amount of the adjusted basis (for determining loss on sale or exchange) of such bond as of the beginning of the taxable year over the amount received on redemption of the bond or (if greater) the amount payable on maturity.

(c) The determinations required under subsections (a) and (b) shall be made—

(1) In accordance with the method of amortizing bond premium regularly employed by the holder of the bond, if such method is reasonable;

(2) In all other cases, in accordance with regulations prescribing reasonable methods of amortizing bond premium prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

17219. (a) The amount of the amortizable bond premium for the taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction only if a taxpayer has elected to claim a deduction.

Election to deduct amortizable
premium

(b) The election authorized under this section shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe. If such election is made with respect to any bond of the taxpayer, it shall also apply to all such bonds held by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first taxable year to which the election applies and to all such bonds thereafter acquired by him and shall be binding for all subsequent taxable years with respect to all such bonds of the taxpayer, unless, on application by the taxpayer, the Franchise Tax Board permits him, subject to such conditions as the Franchise Tax Board deems necessary, to revoke such election. In the case of bonds held by a common trust fund, as defined in Section 17671, the election authorized under this section shall be exercisable with respect to such bonds only by the common trust fund. In case of bonds held by an estate or trust, the election authorized under this section shall be exercisable with respect to such bonds only by the fiduciary.

17220. For purposes of Section 17217, the term "bond" means any bond, debenture, note, or certificate or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any corporation and bearing interest (including any like obligation issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), but does not include any such obligation which constitutes stock in trade of the taxpayer or any such obligation of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or any such obligation held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

Titles re dealers in tax-exempt
securities

17221. For special rules applicable, in the case of dealers in securities, with respect to premium attributable to certain wholly tax-exempt securities, see Sections 17115 and 17116.

Circulation
expenditures

17222. Notwithstanding Section 17283, all expenditures (other than expenditures for the purchase of land or depreciable property or for the acquisition of circulation through the purchase of any part of the business of another publisher of a newspaper, magazine, or other periodical) to establish, maintain, or increase the circulation of a newspaper, magazine, or other periodical shall be allowed as a deduction; except that the deduction shall not be allowed with respect to the portion of such expenditures as, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, is chargeable to capital account if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat such portion as so chargeable. Such election, if made, must be for the total amount of such portion of the expenditures which is so chargeable to capital account, and shall be binding for all subsequent taxable years unless, upon application by the taxpayer, the Franchise Tax Board permits a revocation of such election subject to such conditions as it deems necessary.

Expenditures
for soil and water conservation, etc

17224. (a) In the case of a taxpayer engaged in the business of farming, expenditures made for the purpose of soil and water conservation and the prevention of erosion of land used in farming shall be allowed as deductions under Section 17202.

(b) For the purposes of subsection (a); the term "expenditures made for the purpose of soil and water conservation and the prevention of erosion" means expenditures for the treatment, moving, or cultivation of earth, including (but not limited to) leveling, grading and terracing, contour furrowing, the construction of diversion channels and drainage ditches, the control and protection of watercourses, outlets, and ponds, the planting and cultivation of cover and protective crops or windbreaks, the control of weeds and brush and other emergency cultivation and tillage; but such term does not include the purchase, construction, installation, or improvement of structures, appliances, and facilities made of masonry, concrete, tile, metal, or wood such as tanks, reservoirs, pipes, conduits, canals, dams, wells, and pumps, which are subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17208.

"Land used in farming"

(c) For the purpose of subsection (a) the term "land used in farming" means land used (prior to the expenditure for conservation made by the taxpayer) by the taxpayer or his tenant or the predecessor owner or his tenant for the production of crops, fruits, and similar agricultural products or for the sustenance of livestock.

17225. The deductions permitted by Section 17202 shall not be allowed to the extent that they are connected with the production of income not taxable under this part. Proper apportionment and allocation of such deductions with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Expense deduction limitations

Article 7. Additional Itemized Deductions

17251. In computing taxable income under Section 17073 (a), there shall be allowed as deductions the items specified in this article, subject to the exceptions provided in Article 8 (Section 17281 and following, relating to items not deductible). Additional itemized deductions

17252. In the case of an individual, there shall be allowed as a deduction all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year— Expenses for production of income

(a) For the production or collection of income;

(b) For the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income; or

(c) In connection with the determination, collection, or refund of any tax.

17253. In computing taxable income, there shall be allowed as a deduction, except as limited under Sections 17254 and 17255, expenses paid during the taxable year, not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent of the taxpayer specified in Section 17181(d). The term "medical care," shall include amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance). Medical expenses

17255. An individual who files a separate return may deduct only those expenses as exceed 5 percent of the adjusted gross income of the taxpayer, and the maximum deduction for the taxable year shall be not in excess of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) in the case of the head of a household, and not in excess of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($1,250) in the case of all other individuals. Limitation for separate return

17256. In the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return or an individual filing a separate return, if the husband or wife or the individual has reached the age of 65 before the close of the taxable year, the expenses for the Individual 65 years of age medical care of the husband or wife or the individual are deductible without regard to the 5 percent limitation specified in Sections 17254 and 17255.

This section does not relate to or in any way affect the deductibility of expenses incurred for the medical care of a dependent.

Adoption
expense

17259. (a) In computing taxable income, there shall be allowed as a deduction, except as limited under subsections (b) and (c), any expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer or his spouse in connection with the adoption of a child by them. Such expenses include any medical and hospital expenses of the mother of an adopted child which are incident to the child's birth, and any welfare agency, legal and other fees or costs relating to the adoption.

(b) A husband and wife who file a joint return may deduct only those adoption expenses which exceed 5 percent of the aggregate adjusted gross income of the husband and wife, and the maximum deduction in any such return for any such expenses shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

(c) A taxpayer who files a separate return may deduct only those adoption expenses which exceed 5 percent of the adjusted gross income of the taxpayer, and the maximum deduction in any such return for any such expenses shall not exceed one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($1,250).

Medical and adoption
expenses

17260. (a) The maximum amount allowable for both medical expenses and adoption expenses in the case of a husband and wife who file a joint return and claim deductions for both medical expenses and adoption expenses is two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

Maximum

(b) The maximum amount allowable for both medical expenses and adoption expenses in the case of a taxpayer who files a separate return and claims deductions for both medical expenses and adoption expenses is one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($1,250).

Limitations

17261. A husband and wife who have paid or incurred both medical expenses and adoption expenses which in the aggregate exceed 5 percent of the aggregate adjusted gross income of the husband and wife shall be allowed a deduction in the amount of such excess, subject to the usual applicable limitations, notwithstanding that the amount paid or incurred for each such type of expenses does not exceed 5 percent of the aggregate adjusted gross income.

A taxpayer who files a separate return and who has paid or incurred both medical expenses and adoption expenses which in the aggregate exceed 5 percent of his adjusted gross income shall be allowed a deduction in the amount of such excess, subject to the usual applicable limitations, notwithstanding that the amount paid or incurred for each such type of expenses does not exceed 5 percent of the adjusted gross income.

Alimony

17263. In the case of a husband described in Section 17081, there shall be allowed as a deduction amounts includible under Section 17081 in the gross income of his wife, payment of which is made within the husband's taxable year. No deduction shall be allowed under the preceding sentence with respect to any payment if, by reason of Section 17083, 17819 or 17820, the amount thereof is not includible in the husband's gross income.

17264. In computing taxable income, there shall be allowed as a deduction in the case of a tenant-stockholder, amounts, not otherwise deductible, paid or accrued to a cooperative apartment corporation within the taxable year, if those amounts represent that proportion of the real estate taxes on the apartment building and the land on which it is situated, allowable as deductions under Section 17204, paid or incurred by the corporation, or of the interest paid or incurred by the corporation on its indebtedness contracted in the acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of the apartment building or in the acquisition of the land on which the building is located, which the stock of the corporation owned by the tenant-stockholder is of the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that held by the corporation.

Taxes and interest paid to cooperative apartment corporation

17265. (a) As used in Section 17264 "cooperative apartment corporation" means a corporation—

"Cooperative apartment corporation"

(1) Having one and only one class of stock outstanding;

(2) All of the stockholders of which are entitled, solely by reason of their ownership of stock in the corporation, to occupy for dwelling purposes apartments in a building owned or leased by such corporation, and who are not entitled, either conditionally or unconditionally, except upon a complete or partial liquidation of the corporation, to receive any distribution not out of earnings and profits of the corporation; and

(3) Eighty percent or more of the gross income of which for the taxable year in which the taxes and interest described in Section 17264 are paid or incurred, is derived from tenant-stockholders.

(b) As used in Section 17264, "tenant-stockholder" means an individual who is a stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation, and whose stock is fully paid-up in an amount not less than an amount shown to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board as bearing a reasonable relationship to the portion of the value of the corporation's equity in the building and the land on which it is situated, which is attributable to the apartment which such individual is entitled to occupy.

"Tenant-stockholder"

Article 8. Items Not Deductible

17281. In computing taxable income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of the items specified in this article.

Items not deductible

17282. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, no deduction shall be allowed for personal, living, or family expenses.

Personal, etc. expenses

17283. No deduction shall be allowed for—

New buildings, etc

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate. This subsection shall not apply to—

Mines, etc

(1) Expenditures for the development of mines or deposits deductible under Section 17690;

Soil, etc conservation

(2) Soil and water conservation expenditures deductible under Section 17224.

Restoring
property,
etc

(b) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

17284. (a) No deduction shall be allowed for—

Life insurance
contracts

(1) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under such policy.

(2) Any amount paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry a single premium life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract. Paragraph (2) shall apply in respect of annuity contracts only as to contracts purchased after December 31, 1954.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a) (2), a contract shall be treated as a single premium contract—

(1) If substantially all the premiums on the contract are paid within a period of four years from the date on which the contract is purchased; or

17285. No deduction shall be allowed for—

Interest and expenses re
income

(a) Any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction which is allocable to one or more classes of income other than interest (whether or not any amount of income of that class or classes is received or accrued) wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by this part, or any amount otherwise allowable under Section 17252 (relating to expenses for production of income) which is allocable to interest (whether or not any amount of such interest is received or accrued) wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by this part.

(b) Interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations the interest on which is wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by this part. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deduction with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Taxes and carrying charges,
etc

17286. No deduction shall be allowed for amounts paid or accrued for such taxes and carrying charges as, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, are chargeable to capital account with respect to property, if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat such taxes or charges as so chargeable.

17287. (a) No deduction shall be allowed—

(1) In respect of losses from sales or exchanges of property (other than losses in cases of distributions in corporate liquidations), directly or indirectly, between persons specified within Section 17288.

Losses
expenses,
and interest
from transactions between related persons

(2) In respect of expenses, otherwise deductible under Section 17202 or 17252, or of interest, otherwise deductible under Section 17203—

(b) If within the period consisting of the taxable year of the taxpayer and two and one-half months after the close thereof (1) such expenses or interest are not paid, and (2) the amount thereof is not includible in the gross income of the person to whom the payment is to be made; and

(c) If, by reason of the method of accounting of the person to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless paid, includible in the gross income of such person for the taxable year in which or with which the taxable year of the taxpayer ends; and

(d) If, at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer or at any time within two and one-half months thereafter, both the taxpayer and the person to whom the payment is to be made are persons specified within any one of the paragraphs of Section 17288.

17288. The persons referred to in Section 17287 are:

Relationships

(a) Members of a family, as defined in Section 17289(d);

(b) An individual and a corporation more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual;

(c) Two corporations more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of each of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the same individual, if either one of such corporations, with respect to the taxable year of the corporation preceding the date of the sale or exchange was, under the law applicable to such taxable year, a personal holding company or a foreign personal holding company;

(d) A grantor and a fiduciary of any trust;

(e) A fiduciary of a trust and a fiduciary of another trust, if the same person is a grantor of both trusts;

(f) A fiduciary of a trust and a beneficiary of such trust;

(g) A fiduciary of a trust and a beneficiary of another trust, if the same person is a grantor of both trusts;

(h) A fiduciary of a trust and a corporation more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the trust or by or for a person who is a grantor of the trust; or

(i) A person and an organization to which Section 23701d of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law (relating to certain educational and charitable organizations which are exempt from tax) applies and which is controlled directly or indirectly by such person or (if such person is an individual) by members of the family of such individual.

Constructive ownership
of stock

17289. For purposes of determining, in applying Section 17288, the ownership of stock—

(a) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate, or trust shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners, or beneficiaries;

(b) An individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his family;

(c) An individual owning (otherwise than by the application of subsection (b)) any stock in a corporation shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his partner;

(d) The family of an individual shall include only his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants; and

(e) Stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of subsection (a) shall, for the purpose of applying subsection (a), (b), or (c), be treated as actually owned by such person, but stock constructively owned by an individual by reason of the application of subsection (b) or (c) shall not be treated as owned by him for the purpose of again applying either of such subsections in order to make another the constructive owner of such stock.

Unharvested crop

17291. Where an unharvested crop sold by the taxpayer is considered under the provisions of Section 18182 as "property used in the trade or business," in computing taxable income no deduction (whether or not for the taxable year of the sale and whether for expenses, depreciation, or otherwise) attributable to the production of such crop shall be allowed.

Bad debts of
parties

17293. (a) No deduction shall be allowed under Section 17207 (relating to bad debts) or under Section 17206(g) (relating to worthlessness of securities) by reason of the worthlessness of any debt owed by a political party.

"Political party"

(b) (1) For purposes of subsection (a), the term "political party" means—

(A) A political party;

(B) A national, state, or local committee of a political party; or

(C) A committee, association, or organization which accepts contributions or makes expenditures for the purpose of influencing or attempting to influence the election of presidential or vice-presidential electors or of any individual whose name is presented for election to any federal, state, or local elective public office, whether or not such individual is elected.

"Contribu-
tions"

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)(C), the term "contributions" includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit, of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement to make a contribution, whether or not legally enforceable.

"Expenditures"

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1)(C), the term "expenditures" includes a payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or gift, of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement to make an expenditure, whether or not legally enforceable.

17295. Amounts paid under the laws of any state, territory, District of Columbia, possession of the United States, or foreign country as income to the holder of a life or terminable interest acquired by gift, bequest, or inheritance shall not be reduced or diminished by any deduction for shrinkage (by whatever name called) in the value of such interest due to the lapse of time, or by any deduction allowed by this part (except the deductions provided for in Sections 17208 and 17681) for the purpose of computing the taxable income of an estate or trust but not allowed under the laws of such state, territory, District of Columbia, possession of the United States, or foreign country for the purpose of computing the income to which such holder is entitled.

Holders of life or terminable
interest

17297. In computing taxable income, no deductions shall be allowed to any taxpayer on any of his gross income derived from illegal activities as defined in Chapters 9, 10 or 10.5 of Title 9 of Part 1 of the Penal Code of California; nor shall any deductions be allowed to any taxpayer on any of his gross income derived from any other activities which tend to promote or to further, or are connected or associated with, such illegal activities.

Illegal activities

17298. In computing taxable income no deduction shall be allowed to the obligor of a covenant bond for the payment of the tax imposed by this part, or any other tax paid pursuant to the tax-free covenant clause, nor shall such tax be included in the gross income of the obligee.

Obligor of covenant
bond

Article 9. Deductions of Nonresidents

17301. In the case of a nonresident taxpayer the deductions allowed by Articles 6 and 7 of this chapter shall unless otherwise provided in this article be allowed only to the extent that they are connected with the income arising from sources within this State and taxable under this part to a nonresident taxpayer. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the State shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Nonresident
deductions
Extent

17302. Taxes or licenses paid or accrued to this State or its political subdivisions which are deductible under Section 17204 are deductible by nonresidents even though not connected with income from sources within this State.

Taxes and licenses

17303. In the case of a nonresident taxpayer the deductions for contributions and gifts shall be allowed only as to contributions or gifts to corporations or associations incorporated by or organized under the laws of this State or to the Vocational Rehabilitation Fund or to this State or any political subdivision thereof for exclusively public purposes.

Contributions to local corporations

CHAPTER 4. CORPORATE DISTRIBUTIONS AND ADJUSTMENTS

Article 1. Effects on Recipients

Distributions
of property
Corporation to stockholder

17321. Except as otherwise provided in this part, a distribution of property (as defined in Section 17383 (a)) made by a corporation to a shareholder with respect to its stock shall be treated in the manner provided in Section 17323.

Amount of
distribution

17322. (a) For purposes of Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, the amount of any distribution shall be the amount of money received, plus the fair market value of the other property received.

(b) The amount of any distribution determined under subsection (a) shall be reduced (but not below zero) by—

(1) The amount of any liability of the corporation assumed by the shareholder in connection with the distribution; and

(2) The amount of any liability to which the property received by the shareholder is subject immediately before, and immediately after, the distribution.

(c) For purposes of this section, fair market value shall be determined as of the date of the distribution.

17323. In the case of a distribution to which Section 17321 applies—

(a) That portion of the distribution which is a dividend (as defined in Section 17381) shall be included in gross income.

(b) That portion of the distribution which is not a dividend shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock.

(c) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), that portion of the distribution which is not a dividend, to the extent that it exceeds the adjusted basis of the stock, shall be treated as gain from the sale or exchange of property.

(2) That portion of the distribution which is not a dividend, to the extent that it exceeds the adjusted basis of the stock and to the extent that it is out of increase in value accrued before March 1, 1913, shall be exempt from tax.

Basis of
property

17324. The basis of property received in a distribution to which Section 17321 applies shall be the fair market value of such property.

Distributions
in redemption
of stock

17325. If a corporation redeems its stock (within the meaning of Section 17383 (b)), and if subsection 17326 (a), (b), (c) or (d) applies, such redemption shall be treated as a distribution in part or full payment in exchange for the stock.

Redemptions
treated as
exchanges

17326. (a) Section 17325 shall apply if the redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend.

(b) (1) Section 17325 shall apply if the distribution is substantially disproportionate with respect to the shareholder.

(2) This subsection shall not apply unless immediately after the redemption the shareholder owns less than 50 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote.

(3) For purposes of this subsection, the distribution is substantially disproportionate if—

(A) The ratio which the voting stock of the corporation owned by the shareholder immediately after the redemption bears to all of the voting stock of the corporation at such time, is less than 80 percent of—

(B) The ratio which the voting stock of the corporation owned by the shareholder immediately before the redemption bears to all of the voting stock of the corporation at such time.

For purposes of this subsection, no distribution shall be treated as substantially disproportionate unless the shareholder's ownership of the common stock of the corporation (whether voting or nonvoting) after and before redemption also meets the 80 percent requirement of the preceding sentence. For purposes of the preceding sentence, if there is more than one class of common stock, the determinations shall be made by reference to fair market value.

(4) Subsection (b) shall not apply to any redemption made pursuant to a plan the purpose or effect of which is a series of redemptions resulting in a distribution which (in the aggregate) is not substantially disproportionate with respect to the shareholder.

(c) Section 17325 shall apply if the redemption is in complete redemption of all of the stock of the corporation owned by the shareholder.

(d) Section 17325 shall apply if the redemption is of stock issued by a railroad corporation (as defined in Section 77 (m) of the Bankruptcy Act, as amended) pursuant to a plan of reorganization under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act.

(e) In determining whether a redemption meets the requirements of subsection (a), the fact that such redemption fails to meet the requirements of subsection (b), (c), or (d) shall not be taken into account. If a redemption meets the requirements of subsection (c) and also the requirement of subsection (a), (b), or (d), then so much of Section 17327(b) as would (but for this sentence) apply in respect of the acquisition of an interest in the corporation within the 10-year period beginning on the date of the distribution shall not apply.

17327. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), Section 17384 shall apply in determining the ownership of stock for purposes of Sections 17325 and 17326. Ownership
of stock

(b) (1) In the case of a distribution described in Section 17326(c), Section 17384(a) shall not apply if—

(A) Immediately after the distribution the distributee has no interest in the corporation (including an interest as officer, director, or employee), other than an interest as a creditor;

(B) The distributee does not acquire any such interest (other than stock acquired by bequest or inheritance) within 10 years from the date of such distribution; and

(C) The distributee, at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board by regulations prescribes, files an agreement to notify the Franchise Tax Board of any acquisition described in clause (B) and to retain such records as may be necessary for the application of this section.

If the distributee acquires such an interest in the corporation (other than by bequest or inheritance) within 10 years from the date of the distribution, then the periods of limitation provided in Sections 18648 and 18831 on the making of an assessment and the collection by levy or a proceeding in court shall, with respect to any deficiency (including interest and additions to the tax) resulting from such acquisition, include one year immediately following the date on which the distributee (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) notifies the Franchise Tax Board of such acquisition; and such assessment and collection may be made notwithstanding any provision of law or rule of law which otherwise would prevent such assessment and collection.

(2) Subsection (b) shall not apply if—

(A) Any portion of the stock redeemed was acquired, directly or indirectly, within the 10-year period ending on the date of the distribution by the distributee from a person the ownership of whose stock would (at the time of distribution) be attributable to the distributee under Section 17384(a); or

(B) Any person owns (at the time of the distribution) stock the ownership of which is attributable to the distributee under Section 17384(a) and such person acquired any stock in the corporation, directly or indirectly, from the distributee within the 10-year period ending on the date of the distribution, unless such stock so acquired from the distributee is redeemed in the same transaction.

The preceding sentence shall not apply if the acquisition (or, in the case of clause (B), the disposition) by the distributee did not have as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income tax.

Corporate redemption
of its stock

17328. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, if a corporation redeems its stock (within the meaning of Section 17383(b)), and if Section 17327 does not apply, such redemption shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, apply.

Redemption
through use of related corporations

17332. (a) For purposes of Sections 17325 to 17328, inclusive, if—

(1) One or more persons are in control of each of two corporations; and

(2) In return for property, one of the corporations acquires stock in the other corporation from the person (or persons) so in control;

then (unless subsection (b) applies) such property shall be treated as a distribution in redemption of the stock of the corporation acquiring such stock. In any such case, the stock so acquired shall be treated as having been transferred by the person from whom acquired, and as having been received by the corporation acquiring it, as a contribution to the capital of such corporation.

(b) For purposes of Sections 17325 to 17328, inclusive, if—

(1) In return for property, one corporation acquires from a shareholder of another corporation stock in such other corporation; and

(2) The issuing corporation controls the acquiring corporation, then such property shall be treated as a distribution in redemption of the stock of the issuing corporation.

17333. (a) In the case of any acquisition of stock to which Section 17332 applies, determinations as to whether the acquisition is, by reason of Section 17326, to be treated as a distribution in part or full payment in exchange for the stock shall be made by reference to the stock of the issuing corporation. In applying Section 17384 (relating to constructive ownership of stock) with respect to Section 17326 for purposes of this subsection, Section 17384 shall be applied without regard to the 50 percent limitation contained therein. Acquisition of stock

(b) (1) In the case of any acquisition of stock to which subsection (a) (and not subsection (b)) of Section 17332 applies, the determination of the amount which is a dividend shall be made solely by reference to the earnings and profits of the acquiring corporation.

(2) In the case of any acquisition of stock to which Section 17332 (b) applies, the determination of the amount which is a dividend shall be made as if the property were distributed by the acquiring corporation to the issuing corporation and immediately thereafter distributed by the issuing corporation.

17334. (a) For purposes of Sections 17332 and 17333, control means the ownership of stock possessing at least 50 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or at least 50 percent of the total value of shares of all classes of stock. If a person (or persons) is in control (within the meaning of the preceding sentence) of a corporation which in turn owns at least 50 percent of the total combined voting power of all stock entitled to vote of another corporation, or owns at least 50 percent of the total value of the shares of all classes of stock of another corporation, then such person (or persons) shall be treated as in control of such other corporation. Control

(b) Section 17384 (relating to the constructive ownership of stock) shall apply for purposes of determining control under subsection (a). For purposes of the preceding sentence, Section 17384(b) (3) shall be applied without regard to the 50 percent limitation contained therein.

17335. Except as provided in Section 17336, gross income does not include the amount of any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders, with respect to the stock of such corporation, in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock. Distribution of stock and stock rights

17336. Section 17335 shall not apply to a distribution by a corporation of its stock (or rights to acquire its stock), and the distribution shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, apply—

(a) To the extent that the distribution is made in discharge of preference dividends for the taxable year of the corporation in which the distribution is made or for the preceding taxable year; or

(b) If the distribution is, at the election of any of the shareholders (whether exercised before or after the declaration thereof), payable either—

(1) In its stock (or in rights to acquire its stock); or

(2) In property.

Disposition of "Sections 17337 to 17344
stock"

17337. If a shareholder sells or otherwise disposes of "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" (as defined in Section 17339)—

(a) If such disposition is not a redemption (within the meaning of Section 17383(b))

(1) The amount realized shall be treated as gain from the sale of property which is not a capital asset. This subsection shall not apply to the extent that—

(A) The amount realized, exceeds

(B) Such stock's ratable share of the amount which would have been a dividend at the time of distribution if (in lieu of "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock") the corporation had distributed money in an amount equal to the fair market value of the stock at the time of distribution.

(2) Any excess of the amount realized over the sum of—

(A) The amount treated under paragraph (1) as gain from the sale of property which is not a capital asset; plus

(B) The adjusted basis of the stock; shall be treated as gain from the sale of such stock.

(3) No loss shall be recognized.

(b) If the disposition is a redemption, the amount realized shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, apply.

Exceptions

17338. Section 17337 shall not apply—

(a) (1) If the disposition—

(A) Is not a redemption;

(B) Is not, directly or indirectly to a person the ownership of whose stock would (under Section 17384) be attributable to the shareholder; and

(C) Terminates the entire stock interest of the shareholder in the corporation (and for purposes of this clause, Section 17384 shall apply).

(2) If the disposition is a redemption and Section 17326 applies.

(b) If the "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" is redeemed in a distribution in partial or complete liquidation to which Articles 4 and 5 (Sections 17401 and following) apply.

(c) To the extent that, under any provision of this part, gain or loss to the shareholder is not recognized with respect to the disposition of the "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock."

(d) If it is established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board—

(1) That the distribution, and the disposition or redemption, or

(2) In the case of a prior or simultaneous disposition (or redemption) of the stock with respect to which the "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" disposed of (or redeemed) was issued, that the disposition (or redemption) of the "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock," was not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income tax.

17339. (a) For purposes of this chapter, the term "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" means stock which meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of this subsection. "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock"

(1) Stock (other than common stock issued with respect to common stock) which was distributed to the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock if, by reason of Section 17335, any part of such distribution was not includible in the gross income of the shareholder.

(2) Stock which is not common stock and—

(A) Which was received, by the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization (within the meaning of Section 17461), or in a distribution or exchange to which Sections 17433 and 17434 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relates to Sections 17433 and 17434) applied; and

(B) With respect to the receipt of which gain or loss to the shareholder was to any extent not recognized by reason of Articles 7, 8, or 9 but only to the extent that either the effect of the transaction was substantially the same as the receipt of a stock dividend, or the stock was received in exchange for "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock."

For purposes of Sections 17337 to 17344, inclusive, a receipt of stock to which the foregoing provisions of this subsection apply shall be treated as a distribution of stock.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2), stock the basis of which (in the hands of the shareholder selling or otherwise disposing of such stock) is determined by reference to the basis (in the hands of such shareholder or any other person) of "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock."

(b) For purposes of Sections 17337 to 17344, inclusive, the term "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" does not include any stock no part of the distribution of which would have been a dividend at the time of the distribution if money had been distributed in lieu of the stock.

17340. For purposes of Sections 17337 to 17344 inclusive—

(a) Stock rights shall be treated as stock; and

Stock rights

(b) Stock acquired through the exercise of stock rights shall be treated as stock distributed at the time of the distribution of the stock rights, to the extent of the fair market value of such rights at the time of the distribution.

17341. For purposes of Section 17340—

(a) If "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" was issued with respect to common stock and later such "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" is exchanged for common stock in the same cor- Convertible stock

poration (whether or not such exchange is pursuant to a conversion privilege contained in the "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock"), then (except as provided in subsection (b)), the common stock so received shall not be treated as "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock"; and

(b) Common stock with respect to which there is a privilege of converting into stock other than common stock (or into property), whether or not the conversion privilege is contained in such stock, shall not be treated as common stock.

Change in terms or conditions
of stock

17343. If a substantial change is made in the terms and conditions of any stock, then, for purposes of Sections 17337 to 17344, inclusive—

(a) The fair market value of such stock shall be the fair market value at the time of the distribution or at the time of such change, whichever such value is higher;

(b) Such stock's ratable share of the amount which would have been a dividend if money had been distributed in lieu of stock shall be determined as of the time of distribution or as of the time of such change, whichever such ratable share is higher; and

(c) Section 17339(b) shall not apply unless the stock meets the requirements of such section both at the time of such distribution and at the time of such change.

Exceptions

17344. If stock—

(a) Was received in a distribution or reorganization to which the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 (or the corresponding provisions of prior law) applied;

(b) Such stock would have been "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock" if this part applied to such distribution or reorganization; and

(c) Such stock is disposed of or redeemed on or after December 31, 1954, then the foregoing subsections of Sections 17337 to 17344, inclusive, shall not apply in respect of such disposition or redemption. The extent to which such disposition or redemption shall be treated as a dividend shall be determined as if the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 (as modified by the provisions of this part other than Sections 17337 to 17344, inclusive) continued to apply in respect of such disposition or redemption.

Basis of
stock

17345. If a shareholder in a corporation receives its stock or rights to acquire its stock (referred to in this section as "new stock") in a distribution to which Section 17335 applies, then the basis of such new stock and of the stock with respect to which it is distributed (referred to in this section as "old stock"), respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock. Such allocation shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

17346. (a) If—

Same
Stock rights

(1) A corporation distributes rights to acquire its stock to a shareholder in a distribution to which Section 17335 applies; and

(2) The fair market value of such rights at the time of the distribution is less than 15 percent of the fair market value of the old stock at such time;

then Section 17345 shall not apply and the basis of such rights shall be zero, unless the taxpayer elects under subsection (b) of this section to determine the basis of the old stock and of the stock rights under the method of allocation provided in Section 17345.

(b) The election referred to in subsection (a) shall be made in the return filed within the time prescribed by law (including extensions thereof) for the taxable year in which such rights were received. Such election shall be made in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, and shall be irrevocable when made.

17347. If a stock right was acquired prior to January 1, 1935, and it constituted income within the purview of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared shall not be affected and the basis of the right shall be its fair market value as of the date of its acquisition.

Where the shareholder acquired the right to acquire stock in the corporation in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941, and sold the right, and there was included in the gross income for the year of sale the entire amount of the proceeds of the sale, then if before July 19, 1941, the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of the right should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the stock shall be determined without regard to Sections 17345 and 17347, and no part of the proceeds of the sale of the right shall ever be excluded from the gross income for the year of the sale.

Article 2. Effects on Earnings and Profits

17361. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and Sections 17362 to 17364, inclusive, on the distribution of property by a corporation with respect to its stock, the earnings and profits of the corporation (to the extent thereof) shall be decreased by the sum of—

Effects on earnings
and profits

(1) The amount of money,

(2) The principal amount of the obligations of such corporation, and

(3) The adjusted basis of the other property, so distributed.

(b) (1) On the distribution by a corporation, with respect to its stock, of inventory assets (as defined in paragraph (2) (A)) the fair market value of which exceeds the adjusted basis thereof, the earnings and profits of the corporation—

(A) Shall be increased by the amount of such excess; and
(B) Shall be decreased by whichever of the following is the lessor:

(i) The fair market value of the inventory assets distributed, or

(ii) The earnings and profits (as increased under subparagraph (A)).

"Inventory assets"

2 (A) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "inventory assets" means—

(i) Stock in trade of the corporation, or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the corporation if on hand at the close of the taxable year;

(ii) Property held by the corporation primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business; and

(iii) Unrealized receivables or fees, except receivables from sale or exchanges of assets other than assets described in this subparagraph.

"Unrealized receivables or fees"

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A)(iii), the term "unrealized receivables or fees" means, to the extent not previously includible in income under the method of accounting used by the corporation, any rights (contractual or otherwise) to payment for—

(i) Goods delivered, or to be delivered, to the extent that the proceeds therefrom would be treated as amounts received from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset, or

(ii) Services rendered or to be rendered.

(c) In making the adjustments to the earnings and profits of a corporation under subsection (a) or (b), proper adjustment shall be made for—

(1) The amount of any liability to which the property distributed is subject,

(2) The amount of any liability of the corporation assumed by a shareholder in connection with the distribution, and

(3) Any gain to the corporation recognized under Sections 24482 or 24483 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law.

(d) The distribution to a distributee by or on behalf of a corporation of its stock or securities, of stock or securities in another corporation, or of property, in a distribution to which this part applies, shall not be considered a distribution of the earnings and profits of any corporation—

(1) If no gain to such distributee from the receipt of such stock or securities, or property, was recognized under this part; or

(2) If the distribution was not subject to tax in the hands of such distributee by reason of Section 17335(a).

(b) In the case of a distribution of stock or securities, or property, to which Section 17162 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of prior law) applied, the effect on earnings and profits of such distribution shall be determined under such Section 17162, or the corresponding provision of prior law, as the case may be.

17362. In the case of amounts distributed in partial liquidation (whether before, on, or after December 31, 1954) or in a redemption to which Section 17325 applies, the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be treated as a distribution of earnings and profits.

Partial
liquidation or certain redemptions

17363. (a) The gain or loss realized from the sale or other disposition (after February 28, 1913) of property by a corporation—

Effect on earnings and profits of
gain or loss

(1) For the purpose of the computation of the earnings and profits of the corporation shall (except as provided in paragraph (2)) be determined by using as the adjusted basis the adjusted basis (under the law applicable to the year in which the sale or other disposition was made) for determining gain, except that no regard shall be had to the value of the property as of March 1, 1913; but

Gain or loss so realized shall increase or decrease the earnings and profits to, but not beyond, the extent to which such a realized gain or loss was recognized in computing taxable income under the law applicable to the year in which such sale or disposition was made. Where, in determining the adjusted basis used in computing such realized gain or loss, the adjustment to the basis differs from the adjustment proper for the purpose of determining earnings and profits, then the latter adjustment shall be used in determining the increase or decrease above provided. For purposes of this section, a loss with respect to which a deduction is disallowed under Section 18141 (relating to wash sales of stock or securities), or the corresponding provision of prior law, shall not be deemed to be recognized.

(b) Where a corporation receives (after February 28, 1913) a distribution from a second corporation which (under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made) was not a taxable dividend to the shareholders of the second corporation, the amount of such distribution shall not increase the earnings and profits of the first corporation in the following cases:

Effect on earnings and profits of receipt of tax-free
distributions

(1) No such increase shall be made in respect of the part of such distribution which (under such law) is directly applied in reduction of the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made; and

(2) No such increase shall be made if (under such law) the distribution causes the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made to be allocated between such stock and the property received (or such basis would, but for Section 17346, be so allocated).

Earnings and profits
Increase in value accrued before

17364. (a) If any increase or decrease in the earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, with respect to any matter would be different had the adjusted basis of the property involved been determined without regard to its March 1, 1913, value, then, except as provided in subsection (b), an increase (properly reflecting such difference) shall be made in that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

(b) If the application of Section 17363 to a sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, results in a loss which is to be applied in decrease of earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, then, notwithstanding Section 17363 and in lieu of the rule provided in subsection (a), the amount of such loss so to be applied shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which the adjusted basis of the property used in determining the loss exceeds the adjusted basis computed without regard to the value of the property on March 1, 1913, and if such amount so applied in reduction of the decrease exceeds such loss, the excess over such loss shall increase that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

17365. The repeal in 1937 of subdivision (o) of Section 2 and Section 34 of the Personal Income Tax Act of 1935 shall not be construed to sanction double taxation of income.

Allocation
of earnings, etc., in corporate reorganization

17366. In the case of a distribution or exchange to which Sections 17433 and 17434 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relates to Sections 17433 and 17434) applies, proper allocation with respect to the earnings and profits of the distributing corporation and the controlled corporation (or corporations) shall be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 3. Definitions; Constructive Ownership of Stock

"Dividend"

17381. For purposes of this part, the term "dividend" means any distribution of property made by a corporation to its shareholders—

(a) Out of its earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913; or

(b) Out of its earnings and profits of the taxable year (computed as of the close of the taxable year without diminution by reason of any distributions made during the taxable year), without regard to the amount of the earnings and profits at the time the distribution was made.

Except as otherwise provided in this part, every distribution is made out of earnings and profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings and profits.

To the extent that any distribution is, under any provision of this chapter, treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324 inclusive apply, such distribution shall be treated as a distribution of property for purposes of this section.

17383. (a) For purposes of this article, the term "property" means money, securities, and any other property; except that such term does not include stock in the corporation making the distribution (or rights to acquire such stock). "Property"

(b) For purposes of this article, stock shall be treated as redeemed by a corporation if the corporation acquires its stock from a shareholder in exchange for property, whether or not the stock so acquired is canceled, retired, or held as treasury stock.

17384. For purposes of those provisions of this chapter to which the rules contained in this section are expressly made applicable— Constructive ownership of stock
Members of family

(a) (1) An individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for—

(A) His spouse (other than a spouse who is legally separated from the individual under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance); and

(B) His children, grandchildren, and parents.

(2) For purposes of subparagraph (1)(B), a legally adopted child of an individual shall be treated as a child of such individual by blood.

(b) (1) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a partnership or estate shall be considered as being owned proportionately by its partners or beneficiaries. Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a partner or a beneficiary of an estate shall be considered as being owned by the partnership or estate. Partnerships or estates

(2) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a trust shall be considered as being owned by its beneficiaries in proportion to the actuarial interest of such beneficiaries in such trust. Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a beneficiary of a trust shall be considered as being owned by the trust, unless such beneficiary's interest in the trust is a remote contingent interest. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a contingent interest of a beneficiary in a trust shall be considered remote if, under the maximum exercise of discretion by the trustee in favor of such beneficiary, the value of such interest, computed actuarially, is 5 percent or less of the value of the trust property. Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for any portion of a trust of which a person is considered the owner under article 5 of chapter 9 (relating to grantors and others treated as substantial owners) shall be considered as being owned by such person; and such trust shall be treated as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for that person. This subsection shall not apply with respect to any employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631. Trusts

Corporations (3) If 50 percent or more in value of the stock in a corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for any person, then—

(A) Such person shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for that corporation, in that proportion which the value of the stock which such person so owns bears to the value of all the stock in such corporation; and

(B) Such corporation shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for that person.

(c) If any person has an option to acquire stock, such stock shall be considered as owned by such person. For purposes of this subsection an option to acquire such an option, and each one of a series of such options, shall be considered as an option to acquire such stock.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of subsection (a), (b), or (c) shall, for purposes of applying subsection (a), (b), or (c), be treated as actually owned by such person.

(2) Stock constructively owned by an individual by reason of the application of subsection (a) shall not be treated as owned by him for purposes of again applying subsection (a) in order to make another the constructive owner of such stock.

(3) For purposes of this subsection, if stock may be considered as owned by an individual under subsection (a) or (c), it shall be considered as owned by him under subsection (c).

Article 4. Effects of Corporate Liquidations on Recipients

Effect of corporate liquidations

17401. (a) (1) Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock.

(2) Amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation (as defined in Section 17421) shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock.

(b) Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, (relating to effects on shareholder of distributions of property) shall not apply to any distribution of property in partial or complete liquidation.

(1) For general rule for determination of the amount of gain or loss to the distributee, see Section 18031.

(2) For general rule for determination of the amount of gain or loss recognized, see Section 18032.

Election as to recognition of gain
in certain
liquidations

17402. (a) In the case of property distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation, if—

(1) The liquidation is made in pursuance of a plan of liquidation adopted after December 31, 1950, whether the taxable year of the corporation began on, before, or after January 1, 1951; and

(2) The distribution is in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock, and the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month in 1951,

1952, or 1953—then in the case of each qualified electing shareholder (as defined in subsection (b)) gain upon the shares owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation shall be recognized only to the extent provided in subsection (d).

(b) For purposes of this section, the term “qualified electing shareholder” means a shareholder (other than an excluded corporation) of any class of stock (whether or not entitled to vote on the adoption of the plan of liquidation) who is a shareholder at the time of the adoption of such plan, and whose written election to have the benefits of subsection (a) has been made and filed in accordance with subsection (c), but in the case of a shareholder other than a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by shareholders (other than corporations) who at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation.

Written election

(c) The written elections referred to in subsection (b) must be made and filed in such manner as to be not in contravention of regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. The filing must be within 30 days after the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation.

(d) In the case of a qualified electing shareholder—

(1) There shall be recognized, and treated as a dividend, so much of the gain as is not in excess of his ratable share of the earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, such earnings and profits to be determined as of the close of the month in which the transfer in liquidation occurred under subsection (a)(2), but without diminution by reason of distributions made during such month; but by including in the computation thereof all amounts accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed; and

Recognition as dividend

(2) There shall be recognized, and treated as a capital gain so much of the remainder of the gain as is not in excess of the amount by which the value of that portion of the assets received by him which consists of money, or of stock or securities acquired by the corporation after August 15, 1950, exceeds his ratable share of such earnings and profits.

Recognition as capital gain

17403. (a) If property is received in a distribution in partial or complete liquidation (other than a distribution to which Section 17402 applies), and if gain or loss is recognized on receipt of such property, then the basis of the property in the hands of the distributee shall be the fair market value of such property at the time of the distribution.

Basis of property

(b) If—

(1) Property was acquired by a shareholder in the liquidation of a corporation in cancellation or redemption of stock; and

(2) With respect to such acquisition—

(A) Gain was realized, but

(B) As the result of an election made by the shareholder under Section 17402, the extent to which gain was recognized was determined under Section 17402, then the basis shall be the same as the basis of such stock canceled or redeemed in the liquidation, decreased in the amount of any money received by the shareholder, and increased in the amount of gain recognized to him.

Article 5. Collapsible Corporations

17411. Gain from—

Collapsible
corporation Treatment
of gain to shareholders

(a) The sale or exchange of stock of a collapsible corporation;

(b) A distribution in partial or complete liquidation of a collapsible corporation, which distribution is treated under this part as in part or full payment in exchange for stock; and

(c) A distribution made by a collapsible corporation which, under Section 17323(c)(1), is treated, to the extent it exceeds the basis of the stock, in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property, to the extent that it would be considered (but for the provisions of this article) as gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset shall, except as provided in Section 17414, be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is not a capital asset.

corporation”

17412. (a) For purposes of this article, the term “collapsible corporation” means a corporation formed or availed of principally for the manufacture, construction, or production of property, for the purchase of property which (in the hands of the corporation) is property described in subsection (c), or for the holding of stock in a corporation so formed or availed of, with a view to—

(1) The sale or exchange of stock by its shareholders (whether in liquidation or otherwise), or a distribution to its shareholders, before the realization by the corporation manufacturing, constructing, producing, or purchasing the property of a substantial part of the taxable income to be derived from such property; and

(2) The realization by such shareholders of gain attributable to such property.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), a corporation shall be deemed to have manufactured, constructed, produced, or purchased property, if—

(1) It engaged in the manufacture, construction, or production of such property to any extent;

(2) It holds property having a basis determined, in whole or in part, by reference to the cost of such property in the hands of a person who manufactured, constructed, produced, or purchased the property; or

(3) It holds property having a basis determined, in whole or in part, by reference to the cost of property manufactured, constructed, produced, or purchased by the corporation.

(c) For purposes of this article, the term "Section 17412(c) assets" means property held for a period of less than three years which is—

(1) Stock in trade of the corporation, or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the corporation if on hand at the close of the taxable year;

(2) Property held by the corporation primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business;

(3) Unrealized receivables or fees, except receivables from sales of property other than property described in this paragraph; or

(4) Property described in Section 18182 (without regard to any holding period therein provided), except such property which is or has been used in connection with the manufacture, construction, production, or sale of property described in paragraph (1) or (2).

In determining whether the three-year holding period specified in this subsection has been satisfied, Sections 18163 to 18171, inclusive, shall apply, but no such period shall be deemed to begin before the completion of the manufacture, construction, production, or purchase.

(d) For purposes of paragraph (c)(3), the term "unrealized receivables or fees" means, to the extent not previously includible in income under the method of accounting used by the corporation, any rights (contractual or otherwise) to payment for—

"Unrealized
receivables
or fees"

(1) Goods delivered, or to be delivered, to the extent the proceeds therefrom would be treated as amounts received from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset; or

(2) Services rendered or to be rendered.

17413. (a) For purposes of Sections 17411 to 17414, inclusive, a corporation shall, unless shown to the contrary, be deemed to be a collapsible corporation if (at the time of the sale or exchange, or the distribution, described in Section 17411) the fair market value of its Section 17412(c) assets (as defined in Section 17412(c)) is—

When
corporation deemed collapsible

(1) 50 percent or more of the fair market value of its total assets; and

(2) 120 percent or more of the adjusted basis of such Section 17412(c) assets.

Absence of the conditions described in paragraphs (1) and (2) shall not give rise to a presumption that the corporation was not a collapsible corporation.

(b) In determining the fair market value of the total assets of a corporation for purposes of paragraph (a)(1) there shall not be taken into account—

(1) Cash;

(2) Obligations which are capital assets in the hands of the corporation; and

(3) Stock in any other corporation.

Limitations

17414. In the case of gain realized by a shareholder with respect to his stock in a collapsible corporation, Sections 17411 to 17413, inclusive, shall not apply—

(a) Unless, at any time after the commencement of the manufacture, construction, or production of the property, or at the time of the purchase of the property described in Section 17412(c) or at any time thereafter, such shareholder (1) owned (or was considered as owning) more than 5 percent in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation, or (2) owned stock which was considered as owned at such time by another shareholder who then owned (or was considered as owning) more than 5 percent in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation;

(b) To the gain recognized during a taxable year, unless more than 70 percent of such gain is attributable to the property so manufactured, constructed, produced, or purchased; and

(c) To gain realized after the expiration of three years following the completion of such manufacture, construction, production, or purchase.

For purposes of subsection (a), the ownership of stock shall be determined in accordance with the rules prescribed in Section 17289; except that, in addition to the persons prescribed by subsection (d) of that section, the family of an individual shall include the spouses of that individual's brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood) and the spouses of that individual's lineal descendants.

Article 6. Partial Liquidation Defined

Partial
liquidation
defined

17421. (a) For purposes of this chapter, a distribution shall be treated as in partial liquidation of a corporation if—

(1) The distribution is one of a series of distributions in redemption of all of the stock of the corporation pursuant to a plan; or

(2) The distribution is not essentially equivalent to a dividend, is in redemption of a part of the stock of the corporation pursuant to a plan, and occurs within the taxable year in which the plan is adopted or within the succeeding taxable year, including (but not limited to) a distribution which meets the requirements of subsection (b).

(b) A distribution shall be treated as a distribution described in subsection (a)(2) if the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection are met.

(1) The distribution is attributable to the corporation's ceasing to conduct, or consists of the assets of, a trade or business which has been actively conducted throughout the five-year period immediately before the distribution, which trade or business was not acquired by the corporation within such period in a transaction in which gain or loss was recognized in whole or in part.

(2) Immediately after the distribution the liquidating corporation is actively engaged in the conduct of a trade or business, which trade or business was actively conducted throughout the five-year period ending on the date of the distribution and was not acquired by the corporation within such period in a transaction in which gain or loss was recognized in whole or in part.

Whether or not a distribution meets the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection shall be determined without regard to whether or not the distribution is pro rata with respect to all of the shareholders of the corporation.

(c) The fact that, with respect to a shareholder, a distribution qualifies under Section 17325 (relating to redemptions treated as distributions in part or full payment in exchange for stock) by reason of Section 17326 shall not be taken into account in determining whether the distribution, with respect to such shareholder, is also a distribution in partial liquidation of the corporation.

Article 7. Corporate Organizations and Reorganizations

17431. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more persons solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation and immediately after the exchange such person or persons are in control (as defined in Section 17463) of the corporation. For purposes of this section, stock or securities issued for services shall not be considered as issued in return for property.

Corporate
organizations and reor-ganizations Transfer to corporation controlled by transferor

(b) If subsection (a) would apply to an exchange but for the fact that there is received, in addition to the stock or securities permitted to be received under subsection (a), other property or money, then—

(1) Gain (if any) to such recipient shall be recognized, but not in excess of—

(A) The amount of money received; plus

(B) The fair market value of such other property received; and

(2) No loss to such recipient shall be recognized.

(c) In determining control, for purposes of this section, the fact that any corporate transferor distributes part or all of the stock which it receives in the exchange to its shareholders shall not be taken into account.

(d) (1) For special rule where another party to the exchange assumes a liability, or acquires property subject to a liability, see Section 17440.

(2) For the basis of stock, securities, or property received in an exchange to which this section applies, see Sections 17441 to 17444.

(3) For special rule in the case of an exchange described in this section but which has the effect of the payment of compensation by the corporation or by a transferor, see Section 17071.

Exchanges
of stock and securities in certain reor-
ganizations

17432. (a) (1) No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to a reorganization are, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if—

(A) The principal amount of any such securities received exceeds the principal amount of any such securities surrendered, or

(B) Any such securities are received and no such securities are surrendered.

(3) For treatment of the exchange if any property is received which is not permitted to be received under this subsection (including an excess principal amount of securities received over securities surrendered), see Sections 17435 to 17439.

(b) (1) Subsection (a) shall not apply to an exchange in pursuance of a plan of reorganization within the meaning of Section 17461(a)(4), unless,

(A) The corporation to which the assets are transferred acquires substantially all of the assets of the transferor of such assets; and

(B) The stock, securities, and other properties received by such transferor, as well as the other properties of such transferor, are distributed in pursuance of the plan of reorganization.

(2) For special rules for certain exchanges in pursuance of plans of reorganization within the meaning of Section 17461(a)(4), see Sections 17433 and 17434.

Distribution of stock of controlled
corporation

17434. If there is distributed, in pursuance of a plan or reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to the reorganization, stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, without the surrender by such shareholder of stock, no gain to the distributee from the receipt of such stock shall be recognized unless it appears that (a) any corporation which is a party to such reorganization was not intended to continue the active conduct of a trade or business after such reorganization, or (b) the corporation whose stock is distributed was used principally as a device for the distribution of earnings and profits to the shareholders of any corporation a party to the reorganization.

additional consideration: Gain on
exchanges

17435. (a) If—

(1) Sections 17432 and 17434 would apply to an exchange but for the fact that—

(2) The property received in the exchange consists, not only of property permitted by Sections 17432 and 17434 to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

(b) If an exchange is described in subsection (a) but has the effect of the distribution of a dividend, then there shall be treated as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under subsection (a) as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under subsection (a) shall be treated as gain from the exchange of property.

(a) Sections 17433 and 17434 would apply to a distribution but for the fact that—

Same.
In certain
distributions

(b) The property received in the distribution consists, not only of property permitted by Sections 17433 and 17434 to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then an amount equal to the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, apply.

17437. If—

Same. Loss

(a) Section 17432 would apply to an exchange, or Section 17434 applies to an exchange or distribution, but for the fact that

(b) The property received in the exchange or distribution consists not only of property permitted by Sections 17432 and 17434 to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange or distribution shall be recognized.

17438. For purposes of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive,

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b), the term "other property" includes securities.

Same.
Securities
as other
property

(b) (1) The term "other property" does not include securities to the extent that, under Sections 17432 and 17434, such securities would be permitted to be received without the recognition of gain.

(2) If—

(A) In an exchange described in Section 17432, securities of a corporation, a party to the reorganization, are surrendered and securities of any corporation, a party to the reorganization, are received, and then, with respect to such securities received, the term "other property" means only the fair market value of such excess. For purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (3), if no securities are surrendered, the excess shall be the entire principal amount of the securities received.

(B) The principal amount of such securities received exceeds the principal amount of such securities surrendered,

(3) If, in an exchange or distribution described in Section 17434, the principal amount of the securities in the controlled corporation which are received exceeds the principal amount of the securities in the distributing corporation which are surrendered, then, with respect to such securities received, the term "other property" means only the fair market value of such excess.

Same.
Exchanges
for "Sections 17337
to 17344
stock"

17439. Notwithstanding any other provision of Sections 17435 to 17438, inclusive, to the extent that any of the other property (or money) is received in exchange for "Sections 17337 to 17344 stock," an amount equal to the fair market value of such other property (or the amount of such money) shall be treated as a distribution of property to which Sections 17321 to 17324, inclusive, apply.

Assumption
of liability

17440. (a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), if—

(1) The taxpayer received property which would be permitted to be received under Sections 17431 and 17481 to 17484, inclusive, without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and

(2) As part of the consideration, another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer, or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, then such assumption or acquisition shall not be treated as money or other property, and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of Sections 17431 and 17481 to 17484, inclusive, as the case may be.

(b) (1) If, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition described in subsection (a)—

(A) Was a purpose to avoid income tax on the exchange, or

(B) If not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose,

then such assumption or acquisition (in the total amount of the liability assumed or acquired pursuant to such exchange) shall, for purposes of Sections 17431 and 17481 to 17484, inclusive (as the case may be), be considered as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange.

(2) In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove such assumption or acquisition is not to be treated as money received by the taxpayer, such burden shall not be considered as sustained unless the taxpayer sustains such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence.

(c) (1) In the case of an exchange to which Section 17431 applies, if the sum of the amount of the liabilities assumed, plus the amount of the liabilities to which the property is subject, exceeds the total of the adjusted basis of the property transferred pursuant to such exchange, then such excess shall be considered as a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset or of property which is not a capital asset, as the case may be.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any exchange to which—

(A) Subsection (b) (1) of this section applies, or

(B) Sections 17481 to 17484, inclusive, apply.

17441. In the case of an exchange to which Section 17431, 17432, 17433, 17434, 17435 to 17439, inclusive, or 17482 applies— Basis to distributees

(a) The basis of the property permitted to be received under such sections without the recognition of gain or loss shall be the same as that of the property exchanged—

(1) Decreased by—

(A) The fair market value of any other property (except money) received by the taxpayer, and

(B) The amount of any money received by the taxpayer, and (2) increased by—

(A) The amount which was treated as a dividend, and

(B) The amount of gain to the taxpayer which was recognized on such exchange (not including any portion of such gain which was treated as a dividend).

(b) The basis of any other property (except money) received by the taxpayer shall be its fair market value.

17442. (a) Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the basis determined under Section 17441 (a) shall be allocated among the properties permitted to be received without the recognition of gain or loss. Allocation of basis

(b) In the case of an exchange to which Sections 17433 and 17434 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relate to Sections 17433 and 17434) apply, then in making the allocation under subsection (a) of this section, there shall be taken into account not only the property so permitted to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also the stock or securities (if any) of the distributing corporation which are retained, and the allocation of basis shall be made among all such properties.

17443. For purposes of Sections 17441 to 17444, inclusive, a distribution to which Sections 17433 and 17434 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relate to Sections 17433 and 17434) apply shall be treated as an exchange, and for such purposes the stock and securities of the distributing corporation which are retained shall be treated as surrendered, and received back, in the exchange. Certain distributions treated as exchange

17444. Where, as part of the consideration to the taxpayer, another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for purposes of Sections 17441 to 17443, inclusive, be treated as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange. Assumption, etc., of liability re exchange

Sections 17431 to 17439, inclusive, a foreign corporation shall not be considered as a corporation unless, before such exchange, it has been established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income taxes. For purposes of this section, any distribution described in Sections 17433 and 17434 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relates to Sections 17433 and 17434) shall be treated as an exchange whether or not it is an exchange.

Article 8. Definitions Relating to Corporate Reorganizations

“Reorganizations”

17461. (a) For purposes of Articles 1 to 7, inclusive, of this Chapter, the term “reorganization” means—

- (1) A statutory merger or consolidation;
 - (2) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock, of stock of another corporation if, immediately after the acquisition, the acquiring corporation has control of such other corporation (whether or not such acquiring corporation had control immediately before the acquisition);
 - (3) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of substantially all of the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded;
 - (4) A transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor, or one or more of its shareholders (including persons who were shareholders immediately before the transfer), or any combination thereof, is in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred; but only if, in pursuance of the plan, stock or securities of the corporation to which the assets are transferred are distributed in a transaction which qualifies under Sections 17432 to 17439, inclusive;
 - (5) A recapitalization; or
 - (6) A mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.
- (b) (1) If a transaction is described in both paragraph (a)(3) and paragraph (a)(4), then, for purposes of this chapter, such transactions shall be treated as described only in paragraph (a)(4).
- (2) If—
- (A) One corporation acquires substantially all of the properties of another corporation,
 - (B) The acquisition would qualify under paragraph (a)(3) but for the fact that the acquiring corporation exchanges money or other property in addition to voting stock, and

(C) The acquiring corporation acquires, solely for voting stock described in paragraph (a)(3), property of the other corporation having a fair market value which is at least 80 percent of the fair market value of all of the property of the other corporation, then such acquisition shall (subject to paragraph (1) of this subsection) be treated as qualifying under paragraph (a)(3). Solely for the purpose of determining whether clause (C) of the preceding sentence applies, the amount of any liability assumed by the acquiring corporation, and the amount of any liability to which any property acquired by the acquiring corporation is subject, shall be treated as money paid for the property.

(3) A transaction otherwise qualifying under paragraph (a)(1) or paragraph (a)(3) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that part or all of the assets which were acquired in the transaction are transferred to a corporation controlled by the corporation acquiring such assets.

17462. For purposes of this article, the term "a party to a reorganization" includes—

"A party to a reorganization"

(a) A corporation resulting from a reorganization, and

(b) Both corporations, in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another. In the case of a reorganization qualifying under Section 17461(a)(3), if the stock exchanged for the properties is stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation, the term "a party to a reorganization" includes the corporation so controlling the acquiring corporation. In the case of a reorganization qualifying under Section 17461(a)(1) or (3) by reason of Section 17461(b)(3), the term "a party to a reorganization" includes the corporation controlling the corporation to which the acquired assets are transferred.

17463. For purposes of Articles 1 to 8, inclusive (other than Sections 17332 to 17335, inclusive), the term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

Article 9. Insolvency Reorganizations

17481. No gain or loss shall be recognized if property of a corporation (other than a railroad corporation as defined in Section 77(m) of the Bankruptcy Act (49 Stat. 922; 11 U. S. C. 205) is transferred in pursuance of an order of the court having jurisdiction of such corporation—

Insolvency reorganizations: Exchanges by corporations

(a) In a receivership, foreclosure, or similar proceeding, or

(b) In a proceeding under Chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act (52 Stat. 883-905; 11 U. S. C., Chapter 10) or the corresponding provisions of prior law, to another corporation organized or made use of to effectuate a plan of reorganization approved by the court in such proceeding, in exchange solely for stock or securities in such other corporation.

Exchanges
by security holders

17482. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized on an exchange consisting of the relinquishment or extinguishment of stock or securities in a corporation the plan or reorganization of which is approved by the court in a proceeding described in Section 17481, in consideration of the acquisition solely of stock or securities in a corporation organized or made use of to effectuate such plan of reorganization.

Gain from exchanges not solely
in kind

(b) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a) if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by subsection (a) to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

Loss from
exchanges,
not solely
in kind

17483. If an exchange would be within the provisions of Section 17481 or 17482(a) if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by Section 17481 or 17482(a) to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

Assumption,
etc., of liability

17484. In the case of a transaction involving an assumption of a liability or the acquisition of property subject to a liability, the rules provided in Section 17440 shall apply.

CHAPTER 5. DEFERRED COMPENSATION

Article 1. Pension, Profit-sharing and Stock Bonus Plans

Qualified
pension, profit-sharing and stock bonus
plans

17501. A trust created or organized in the United States and forming part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries shall constitute a qualified trust under this article—

(a) If contributions are made to the trust by such employer, or employees, or both, or by another employer who is entitled to deduct his contributions under Section 17516(b) (relating to deduction for contributions to profit-sharing and stock bonus plans), for the purpose of distributing to such employees or their beneficiaries the corpus and income of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with such plan;

(b) If under the trust instrument it is impossible, at any time prior to the satisfaction of all liabilities with respect to employees and their beneficiaries under the trust, for any part of the corpus or income to be (within the taxable year or thereafter) used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries;

(c) If the trust, or two or more trusts, or the trust or trusts and annuity plan or plans are designated by the employer as constituting parts of a plan intended to qualify under this section which benefits either—

(1) Seventy percent or more of all the employees, or 80 percent or more of all the employees who are eligible to benefit under the plan if 70 percent or more of all the employees are eligible to benefit under the plan, excluding in each case employees who have been employed not more than a minimum period prescribed by the plan, not exceeding five years, employees whose customary employment is for not more than 20 hours in any one week, and employees whose customary employment is for not more than five months in any calendar year, or

(2) Such employees as qualify under a classification set up by the employer and found by the Franchise Tax Board not to be discriminatory in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist in supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees;

and

(d) If the contributions or benefits provided under the plan do not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist in supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees.

(e) A classification shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subsection (c)(2) or (d) merely because it excludes employees the whole of whose remuneration constitutes "wages" under Section 3121(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) or merely because it is limited to salaried or clerical employees. Neither shall a plan be considered discriminatory within the meaning of such provisions merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of the employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, or merely because the contributions or benefits based on that part of an employee's remuneration which is excluded from "wages" by Section 3121(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, or of the California Unemployment Insurance Act differ from the contributions or benefits based on employee's remuneration not so excluded, or differ because of any retirement benefits created under state or federal law.

(f) A plan shall be considered as meeting the requirements of subsection (c) during the whole of any taxable year of the plan if on one day in each quarter it satisfied such requirements.

17502. A stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan shall be considered as satisfying the requirements of

Retroactive changes in plan

Section 17501(c),(d),(e), and (f) for the period beginning with the date on which it was put into effect and ending with the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year of the employer in which the plan was put in effect, if all provisions of the plan which are necessary to satisfy such requirements are in effect by the end of such period and have been made effective for all purposes with respect to the whole of such period.

Employees'
trusts Tax-ability of beneficiary of exempt
trust

17503. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), the amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee by any employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 shall be taxable to him, in the year in which so distributed or made available, under Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive. The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee shall not include net unrealized appreciation in securities of the employer corporation attributable to the amount contributed by the employee. Such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of such securities shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) In the case of an employees' trust described in Section 17501, which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, if the total distributions payable with respect to any employee are paid to the distributee within one taxable year of the distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of the death of the employee after his separation from the service, the amount of such distribution, to the extent exceeding the amounts contributed by the employee, which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amounts theretofore distributed to him which were not includible in gross income, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than two years, but not more than five years.

Where such total distributions include securities of the employer corporation, there shall be excluded from such excess the net unrealized appreciation attributable to that part of the total distributions which consists of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed. The amount of such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) For purposes of this section—

"Securities"

(1) The term "securities" means only shares of stock and bonds or debentures issued by a corporation with interest coupons or in registered form.

"Securities
of the employer
corporation"

(2) The term "securities of the employer corporation" includes securities of a parent or subsidiary corporation (as defined in Section 17535(a) and (b)) of the employer corporation.

"Total
distributions
payable"

(3) The term "total distributions payable" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to a distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of his death after separation from the service.

17504. Contributions to an employees' trust made by an employer during a taxable year of the employer which ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is not exempt from tax under Section 17631 shall be included in the gross income of an employee for the taxable year in which the contribution is made to the trust in the case of an employee whose beneficial interest in such contribution is non-forfeitable at the time the contribution is made. The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee by any such trust shall be taxable to him, in the year in which so distributed or made available, under Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive.

Taxability of beneficiary of nonexempt
trust

17505. For purposes of Sections 17503 and 17504, a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing trust which would qualify for exemption from tax under Section 17631 except for the fact that it is a trust created or organized outside the United States shall be treated as if it were a trust exempt from tax under Section 17631.

Taxability of beneficiary of trusts
created, etc., outside U S

17506. Notwithstanding Section 17504 or any other provision of this part, a contribution to a trust by an employer shall not be included in the gross income of the employee in the year in which the contribution is made if—

Employees'
annuities

(a) Such contribution is to be applied by the trustee for the purchase of annuity contracts for the benefit of such employee;

(b) Such contribution is made to the trustee pursuant to a written agreement entered into prior to September 1, 1943, between the employer and the trustee, or between the employer and the employee; and

(c) Under the terms of the trust agreement the employee is not entitled during his lifetime, except with the consent of the trustee, to any payments under annuity contracts purchased by the trustee other than annuity payments.

The employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contracts for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive. This section shall have no application with respect to amounts contributed to a trust after June 1, 1951, if the trust on such date was exempt under Sections 18156 to 18167, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954. For purposes of this section, amounts paid by an employer for the purchase of annuity contracts which are transferred to the trustee shall be deemed to be contributions made to a trust or trustee and contributions applied by the trustee for the purchase of annuity contracts; the term "annuity contracts purchased by the trustee" shall include annuity contracts so purchased by the employer and transferred to the trustee; and the term "employee" shall include only a person who was in the employ of the employer, and was covered by the agreement referred to in subsection (b) prior to September 1, 1943.

Termination
of stock
bonus, etc.,
plans

17507. For purposes of Section 17503, distributions made after December 31, 1954, and before January 1, 1956, as a result of the complete termination of a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan of an employer which is a corporation, if the termination of the plan is incident to the complete liquidation, occurring before the date of enactment of this title, of the corporation, whether or not such liquidation is incident to a reorganization as defined in Section 17461, shall be considered to be distributions on account of separation from service.

Taxation of employee
annuities.
Under
qualified annuity plan

17511. Except as provided in subsection (a), if an annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan with respect to which the employer's contribution is deductible under Section 17515 or Chapter 12 of Part 11, Division 2, of this code, or if an annuity contract is purchased for an employee by an employer described in Section 23701d of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law which is exempt from tax under Section 23701 of such law, the employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive.

(a) If—

(1) An annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501(c), (d), (e), and (f);

(2) Such plan requires that refunds of contributions with respect to annuity contracts purchased under such plan be used to reduce subsequent premiums on the contracts under the plan; and

(3) The total amounts payable by reason of an employee's death or other separation from the service, or by reason of the death of an employee after the employee's separation from the service, are paid to the payee within one taxable year of the payee, then the amount of such payments, to the extent exceeding the amount contributed by the employee which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amounts theretofore paid to him which were not includable in gross income, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than two years, but not more than five years.

"Total
amounts"

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the term "total amounts" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to the payee by reason of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or by reason of his death after separation from the service.

Under non-qualified annuity

17512. If an annuity contract purchased by an employer for an employee is not subject to Section 17511 and the employee's rights under the contract are nonforfeitable, except for failure to pay future premiums, the amount contributed by the employer for such annuity contract on or after such rights become nonforfeitable shall be included in the gross income of the employee in the year in which the amount is contributed. The employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17108, inclusive.

17513. If contributions are paid by an employer to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or if compensation is paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, such contributions or compensation shall not be deductible under Section 17202 (relating to trade or business expenses) or Section 17252 (relating to expenses for the production of income) but if they satisfy the conditions of either of such sections, they shall be deductible under Sections 17513 to 17523, inclusive, subject, however, to the limitations contained in Sections 17514 to 17523, inclusive, as to the amounts deductible in any year.

Deductions:
Stock bonus,
etc., plan
contributions

17514. If the contributions are paid into a pension trust, and if such taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Section 17631, the amount deductible is determined as follows:

Contributions paid
into pension
trust

(a) An amount not in excess of 5 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to all the employees under the trust, but such amount may be reduced for future years if found by the Franchise Tax Board upon periodical examinations at not less than five-year intervals to be more than the amount reasonably necessary to provide the remaining unfunded cost of past and current service credits of all employees under the plan, plus

(b) Any excess over the amount allowable under subsection (a) necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount, or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, but if such remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 percent of such remaining unfunded cost, the amount of such unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five taxable years, or

(c) In lieu of the amounts allowable under subsections (a) and (b) above, an amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board plus, if past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount not in excess of 10 percent of the cost which would be required to completely fund or purchase such pension or annuity credits as of the date when they are included in the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, except that in no case shall a deduction be allowed for any amount (other than the normal cost) paid in after such pension or annuity credits are completely funded or purchased.

(d) Any amount paid in a taxable year in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each such succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for such year in accordance with the foregoing limitations.

Contributions paid toward purchase of retirement
annuities,
etc

17515. A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, in an amount determined in accordance with Section 17514, if the contributions are paid toward the purchase of retirement annuities and such purchase is a part of a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501(c), (d), (e), and (f), and if refunds of premiums, if any, are applied within the current taxable year or next succeeding taxable year towards the purchase of such retirement annuities.

Contributions paid into stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, etc.

17516. (a) A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if such taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Section 17631, in an amount not in excess of 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan. If in any taxable year there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under the preceding sentence, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible, shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any such succeeding taxable year shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such succeeding taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in any taxable year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan. The term "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust," as used in this section, shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially as provided in Section 17514. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, such trusts shall be considered a single trust for purposes of applying the limitations in this section.

"Stock
bonus or profit-sharing
trust"

(b) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, or a stock bonus plan in which contributions are determined with reference to profits, of a group of corporations which is an affiliated group within the meaning of Section 1504 of The Federal Internal Revenue Code, if any member of such affiliated group is prevented from making a contribution which it would otherwise have made under the plan, by reason of having no current or accumulated earnings or profits or because such earnings or profits are less than the contributions which it would otherwise have made, then so much of the contribution which such member was so prevented from making may be made, for the benefit of the employees of such member, by the other members of the group, to the extent of current or accumulated earnings or profits, except that such contribution by each such other member shall be limited, where the group does not file a consolidated return, to that proportion of its total current and accumulated earnings or profits remaining after adjustment for its contribution deductible without regard to this subsection which the total prevented contribution bears to the total current and accumulated earnings or profits of all the members of the group remaining after adjustment for all contributions deductible without regard to this subsection. Contributions made under the preceding sentence shall be deductible under subsection (a) of this section by the employer making such contributions, and, for the purpose of determining amounts which may be carried forward and deducted under the second sentence of subsection (a) of this section in succeeding taxable years, shall be deemed to have been made by the employer on behalf of whose employees such contributions were made.

17517. If a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing trust would qualify for exemption under Section 17631 except for the fact that it is a trust created or organized outside of this State, contributions to such a trust by an employer which is a resident, or corporation, or other entity of this State, shall be deductible under the preceding sections. Trusts created, etc., outside U S

17518. A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, if the plan is not one included in Section 17514, 17515, or 17516, if the employees' rights to or derived from such employer's contribution or such compensation are non-forfeitable at the time the contribution or compensation is paid. Other plans

17519. For purposes of Section 17514, 17515, or 17516, a taxpayer on the accrual basis shall be deemed to have made a payment on the last day of the year of accrual if the payment is on account of such taxable year and is made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such taxable year (including extensions thereof). Taxpayers on accrual basis

17520. If amounts are deductible under Sections 17514 and 17516, or 17515 and 17516, or 17514, 17515, and 17516, in connection with two or more trusts, or one or more trusts and an annuity plan, the total amount deductible in a taxable year under such trusts and plans shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to the persons who are the beneficiaries of the trusts or plans. In Limit of deduction addition, any amount paid into such trust or under such annuity plans in any taxable year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 30 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such taxable years to the beneficiaries under the trusts or plans. This section shall not have the effect of reducing the amount otherwise deductible under Sections 17514, 17515, and 17516, if no employee is a beneficiary under more than one trust, or a trust and an annuity plan.

Where
no plan

17521. If there is no plan but a method of employer contributions or compensation has the effect of a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or similar plan deferring the receipt of compensation, Sections 17513 to 17520, inclusive, shall apply as if there were such a plan.

Employer's
contributions for medical care, etc

17522. If contributions are paid by an employer—

(a) Under a plan under which such contributions are held in trust for the purpose of paying (either from principal or income or both) for the benefit of employees and their families and dependents at least medical or hospital care, and pensions on retirement or death of employees; and

(b) Such plan was established prior to January 1, 1955, as a result of an agreement between employee representatives and the Government of the United States during a period of government operation, under seizure powers, of a major part of the productive facilities of the industry in which such employer is engaged, such contributions shall not be deductible under this section nor be made nondeductible by this section, but the deductibility thereof shall be governed solely by Section 17202 (relating to trade or business expenses). This section shall have no application with respect to amounts contributed to a trust on or after any date on which such trust is qualified for exemption from tax under Section 17631.

Carryover of unused
deductions

17523. The amount of any unused deductions or contributions in excess of the deductible amounts for taxable years to which this article does not apply which under Sections 17324 to 17324.17, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 would be allowable as deductions in later years had such sections remained in effect, shall be allowable as deductions in taxable years to which this article applies as if such sections were continued in effect for such years. However, the deduction under the preceding sentence shall not exceed an amount which, when added to the deduction allowable under Sections 17513 to 17520, inclusive, for contributions made in taxable years to which this article applies, is not greater than the amount which would be deductible under Sections 17513 to 17520, inclusive, if the contributions which give rise to the deduction under the preceding sentence were made in a taxable year to which this article applies.

Article 2. Employee Stock Options

17531. If a share of stock is transferred to an individual pursuant to his exercise after December 31, 1950, of a restricted stock option, and no disposition of such share is made by him within two years from the date of the granting of the option nor within six months after the transfer of such share to him no income shall result at the time of the transfer of such share to the individual upon his exercise of the option with respect to such share; this section and 17532 shall not apply unless (a) the individual, at the time he exercises the restricted stock option, is an employee of either the corporation granting such option, a parent or subsidiary corporation of such corporation, or a corporation or a parent or subsidiary of such corporation issuing or assuming a stock option in a transaction to which Section 17540 is applicable, or (b) the option is exercised by him within three months after the date he ceases to be an employee of such corporations.

Employee
stock options
Treatment

17532. If no disposition of a share of stock acquired by an individual on his exercise after December 31, 1950, of a restricted stock option is made by him within two years from the date of the granting of the option nor within six months after the transfer of such share to him, but, at the time the restricted stock option was granted, the option price (computed under Section 17534(a)(1)) was less than 95 percent of the fair market value at such time of such share, then, in the event of any disposition of such share by him, or in the event of his death (whenever occurring) while owning such share, there shall be included as compensation (and not as gain upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset) in his gross income, for the taxable year in which falls the date of such disposition or for the taxable year closing with his death, whichever applies—

Option price less than 95 percent of fair market value

(a) In the case of a share of stock acquired under an option qualifying under Section 17534(a)(1), an amount equal to the amount (if any) by which the option price is exceeded by the lesser of—

(1) The fair market value of the share at the time of such disposition or death, or

(2) The fair market value of the share at the time the option was granted; or

(b) In the case of stock acquired under an option qualifying under Section 17534(a)(2), an amount equal to the lesser of—

(1) The excess of the fair market value of the share at the time of such disposition or death over the price paid under the option, or

(2) The excess of the fair market value of the share at the time the option was granted over the option price (computed as if the option had been exercised at such time).

In the case of the disposition of such share by the individual, the basis of the share in his hands at the time of such disposition shall be increased by an amount equal to the amount so includible in his gross income.

Acquisition
of new stock

17533. If stock is received by an individual in a distribution to which Section 17335, 17336, 17432, 17433, 17434, 17435, or 18102, or so much of Section 18081 as relates to Section 18102, applies and such distribution was made with respect to stock transferred to him upon his exercise of the option, such stock shall be considered as having been transferred to him on his exercise of such option. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of such distributions.

"Restricted
stock
option"

17534. For purposes of Sections 17531, 17532, and 17533—The term "restricted stock option" means an option granted after February 26, 1945, to an individual, for any reason connected with his employment by a corporation, if granted by the employer corporation or its parent or subsidiary corporation, to purchase stock of any of such corporations, but only if—

(a) At the time such option is granted—

(1) The option price is at least 85 percent of the fair market value at such time of the stock subject to the option, or

(2) In case the purchase price of the stock under the option is fixed or determinable under a formula in which the only variable is the value of the stock at any time during a period of six months which includes the time the option is exercised, the option price (computed as if the option had been exercised when granted) is at least 85 percent of the value of the stock at the time such option is granted; and

(b) Such option by its terms is not transferable by such individual otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable, during his lifetime, only by him; and

(c) Such individual, at the time the option is granted, does not own stock possessing more than 10 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the employer corporation or of its parent or subsidiary corporation. This section shall not apply if at the time such option is granted the option price is at least 110 percent of the fair market value of the stock subject to the option and such option either by its terms is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date such option is granted or is exercised within one year after the date of enactment of this part.

For purposes of this section—

(1) Such individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants; and

(2) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate, or trust, shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners, or beneficiaries; and

(d) Such option by its terms is not exercisable after the expiration of 10 years from the date such option is granted, if such option has been granted on or after December 31, 1954.

17535. (a) The term "parent corporation" means any corporation (other than the employer corporation) in an unbroken chain of corporations ending with the employer corporation if, at the time of the granting of the option, each of the corporations other than the employer corporation owns stock possessing 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock in one of the other corporations in such chain.

"Parent
corporation"

(b) The term "subsidiary corporation" means any corporation (other than the employer corporation) in an unbroken chain of corporations beginning with the employer corporation if, at the time of the granting of the option, each of the corporations other than the last corporation in the unbroken chain owns stock possessing 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock in one of the other corporations in such chain.

"Subsidiary
corporation"

(c) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), the term "disposition" includes a sale, exchange, gift, or a transfer of legal title, but does not include—

"Disposition"

(A) A transfer from a decedent to an estate or a transfer by bequest or inheritance;

(B) An exchange to which Section 17335, 17336, 17432, 17433, 17434, 17435, or 18102 (or so much of Section 18081 as relates to Section 18102) applies; or

(C) A mere pledge or hypothecation.

(2) The acquisition of a share of stock in the name of the employee and another jointly with the right of survivorship or a subsequent transfer of a share of stock into such joint ownership shall not be deemed a disposition, but a termination of such joint tenancy (except to the extent such employee acquires ownership of such stock) shall be treated as a disposition by him occurring at the time such joint tenancy is terminated.

17536 If the grant of an option is subject to approval by stockholders, the date of grant of the option shall be determined as if the option had not been subject to such approval.

Stockholder
approval

17537. (a) If a restricted stock option is exercised subsequent to the death of the employee by the estate of the decedent, or by a person who acquired the right to exercise such option by bequest or inheritance or by reason of the death of the decedent, the provisions of Sections 17531 to 17537, inclusive, shall apply to the same extent as if the option had been exercised by the decedent except that—

Exercise
by estate

(1) The holding period and employment requirements of Section 17531 shall not apply, and

(2) Any transfer by the estate of stock acquired shall be considered a disposition of such stock for purposes of Section 17532.

(b) If an amount is required to be included under Section 17532 in gross income of the estate of the deceased employee or of a person described in subsection (a), there shall be allowed to the estate or such person a deduction with respect to the inheritance tax attributable to the inclusion in the taxable estate of the deceased employee of the net value for inheritance tax purposes of the restricted stock option. For this purpose, the deduction shall be determined under Sections 17836 and 17837 as if the option acquired from the deceased employee were an item of gross income in respect of the decedent under Sections 17831 to 17838, inclusive, and as if the amount includible in gross income under Section 17532 were an amount included in gross income under Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive, in respect of such item of gross income.

Modifica-
tion, etc.,
of option

17538. (a) For purposes of Section 17537, if the terms of any option to purchase stock are modified, extended, or renewed, the following rules shall be applied with respect to transfers of stock made on the exercise of the option after the making of such modification, extension, or renewal—

(1) Such modification, extension, or renewal shall be considered as the granting of a new option;

(2) The fair market value of such stock at the time of the granting of such option shall be considered as—

(A) The fair market value of such stock on the date of the original granting of the option;

(B) The fair market value of such stock on the date of the making of such modification, extension, or renewal; or

(C) The fair market value of such stock at the time of the making of any intervening modification, extension, or renewal, whichever is the highest.

Paragraph (2) shall not apply if the aggregate of the monthly average fair market values of the stock subject to the option for the 12 consecutive calendar months before the date of the modification, extension, or renewal, divided by 12, is an amount less than 80 percent of the fair market value of such stock on the date of the original granting of the option or the date of the making of any intervening modification, extension, or renewal, whichever is the highest.

“Modification”

(b) The term “modification” means any change in the terms of the option which gives the employee additional benefits under the option, but such term shall not include a change in the terms of the option—

(1) Attributable to the issuance or assumption of an option under Section 17540; or

(2) To permit the option to qualify under Section 17534(a)(2).

If an option is exercisable after the expiration of 10 years from the date such option is granted, paragraph (2) shall not apply unless the terms of the option are also changed to make it not exercisable after the expiration of such period.

Effect of disqualifying
disposition

17539. If a share of stock, acquired by an individual pursuant to his exercise of a restricted stock option, is disposed of by him within two years from the date of the granting of the option or within six months after the transfer of such share to him, then any increase in the income of such individual or deduction from the income of his employer corporation for the taxable year in which such exercise occurred attributable to such disposition, shall be treated as an increase in income or a deduction from income in the taxable year of such individual or of such employer corporation in which such disposition occurred.

17540. For purposes of Sections 17531 to 17539, inclusive, the term "issuing or assuming a stock option in a transaction to which Section 17540 is applicable" means a substitution of a new option for the old option, or an assumption of the old option, by an employer corporation, or a parent or subsidiary of such corporation, by reason of a corporate merger, consolidation, acquisition of property or stock, separation, reorganization, or liquidation, if—

"Issuing or assuming stock option in transaction to which Section 17540 is applicable"

(a) The excess of the aggregate fair market value of the shares subject to the option immediately after the substitution or assumption over the aggregate option price of such shares is not more than the excess of the aggregate fair market value of all shares subject to the option immediately before such substitution or assumption over the aggregate option price of such shares; and

(b) The new option or the assumption of the old option does not give the employee additional benefits which he did not have under the old option

For purposes of this section, the parent-subsidiary relationship shall be determined at the time of any such transaction under this section.

CHAPTER 6. ACCOUNTING PERIODS AND METHODS OF ACCOUNTING

Article 1. Accounting Periods

17551. (a) Taxable income shall be computed on the basis of the taxpayer's taxable year.

Accounting periods, "Taxable year"

(b) For purposes of this part, the term "taxable year" means—

(1) The taxpayer's annual accounting period, if it is a calendar year or a fiscal year;

(2) The calendar year, if subsection (g) applies; or

(3) The period for which the return is made, if a return is made for a period of less than 12 months.

(c) For purposes of this part, the term "annual accounting period" means the annual period on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes his income in keeping his books.

"Annual accounting period"

(d) For purposes of this part, the term "calendar year" means a period of 12 months ending on December 31st.

"Calendar year"

(e) For purposes of this part, the term "fiscal year" means a period of 12 months ending on the last day of any month

"Fiscal year"

other than December. In the case of any taxpayer who has made the election provided by subsection (f), the term means the annual period (varying from 52 to 53 weeks) so elected.

Computati
n of taxable income on annual accounting
period

(f) (1) A taxpayer who, in keeping his books, regularly computes his income on the basis of an annual period which varies from 52 to 53 weeks and ends always on the same day of the week and ends always—

(A) On whatever date such same day of the week last occurs in a calendar month; or

(B) On whatever date such same day of the week falls which is nearest to the last day of a calendar month; may (in accordance with the regulations prescribed under paragraph (3)) elect to compute his taxable income for purposes of this part on the basis of such annual period.

(2) (A) In any case in which the effective date or the applicability of any provision of this part is expressed in terms of taxable years beginning or ending with reference to a specified date which is the first or last day of a month, a taxable year described in paragraph (1) shall be treated—

(i) As beginning with the first day of the calendar month beginning nearest to the first day of such taxable year; or

(ii) As ending with the last day of the calendar month ending nearest to the last day of such taxable year; as the case may be.

(B) In the case of a change from or to a taxable year described in paragraph (1)—

(i) If such change results in a short period (within the meaning of Sections 17553 to 17556, inclusive) of 359 days or more, or of less than seven days, Sections 17554 and 17555, shall not apply;

(iii) If such change results in a short period to which Sections 17554 and 17555 apply, the taxable income for such short period shall be placed on an annual basis for purposes of such sections by multiplying such income by 365 and dividing the result by the number of days in the short period, and the tax shall be the same part of the tax computed on an annual basis as the number of days in the short period is of 365 days.

(3) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as it deems necessary for the application of this section.

(g) Except as provided in Section 17553 (relating to returns for periods of less than 12 months), the taxpayer's taxable year shall be the calendar year if—

(1) The taxpayer keeps no books;

(2) The taxpayer does not have an annual accounting period; or

(3) The taxpayer has an annual accounting period, but such period does not qualify as a fiscal year.

17552. If a taxpayer changes his annual accounting period, the new accounting period shall become the taxpayer's taxable year only if the change is approved by the Franchise Tax Board. For purposes of this part, if a taxpayer to whom Section 17551(g) applies adopts an annual accounting period (as defined in Section 17551(c)) other than a calendar year, the taxpayer shall be treated as having changed his annual accounting period.

Change of
annual accounting
period

17553. A return for a period of less than 12 months (referred to in this section as "short period") shall be made under any of the following circumstances:

"Short period"—
less than 12
months

(a) When the taxpayer, with the approval of the Franchise Tax Board, changes his annual accounting period. In such a case, the return shall be made for the short period beginning on the day after the close of the former taxable year and ending at the close of the day before the day designated as the first day of the new taxable year.

(b) When the taxpayer is in existence during only part of what would otherwise be his taxable year.

(c) When the Franchise Tax Board terminates the taxpayer's taxable year under Section 18642 (relating to tax in jeopardy).

17554. If a return is made under Section 17553(a), the taxable income for the short period shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying such income by 12 and dividing the result by the number of months in the short period. The tax shall be the same part of the tax computed on the annual basis as the number of months in the short period is of 12 months.

Tax computation on change
of annual accounting
period

17555. (a) If the taxpayer applies for the benefits of this section and establishes the amount of his taxable income for the 12-month period described in subsection (b), computed as if that period were a taxable year and under the law applicable to that year, then the tax for the short period, computed under Section 17554, shall be reduced to the greater of the following:

Exception

(1) An amount which bears the same ratio to the tax computed on the taxable income for the 12-month period as the taxable income computed on the basis of the short period bears to the taxable income for the 12-month period; or

(2) The tax computed on the taxable income for the short period without placing the taxable income on an annual basis.

The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to whom paragraph (b)(2) applies) shall compute the tax and file his return without the application of this section.

(b) The 12-month period referred to in subsection (a) shall be—

(1) The period of 12 months beginning on the first day of the short period, or

(2) The period of 12 months ending at the close of the last day of the short period, if at the end of the 12 months referred to in subparagraph (1) the taxpayer is not in existence.

(c) Application for the benefits of this section shall be made in such manner and at such time as the regulations prescribed under subsection (d) may require; except that the time so prescribed shall not be later than the time (including extensions) for filing the return for the first taxable year which ends on or after the day which is 12 months after the first day of the short period. Such application, in case the return was filed without regard to this section, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund with respect to the amount by which the tax is reduced under this section.

Franchise
Tax Board regulations
Adjustment
in deduction for personal
exemption

(d) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as it deems necessary for the application of this section.

17556. If a return is made for a short period by reason of Section 17553(a) and if the tax is not computed under Section 17555, then the exemptions allowed as a deduction under Section 17181 (and any deduction in lieu thereof) shall be reduced to amounts which bear the same ratio to the full exemptions as the number of months in the short period bears to 12.

Article 2. General Rule for Methods of Accounting

Methods of
accounting

17561. (a) Taxable income shall be computed under the method of accounting on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes his income in keeping his books.

(b) If no method of accounting has been regularly used by the taxpayer, or if the method used does not clearly reflect income, the computation of taxable income shall be made under such method as, in the opinion of the Franchise Tax Board, does clearly reflect income.

(c) Subject to the provisions of subsections (a) and (b), a taxpayer may compute taxable income under any of the following methods of accounting—

- (1) The cash receipts and disbursements method;
- (2) An accrual method;
- (3) Any other method permitted by this part; or
- (4) Any combination of the foregoing methods permitted under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) A taxpayer engaged in more than one trade or business may, in computing taxable income, use a different method of accounting for each trade or business.

(e) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this part, a taxpayer who changes the method of accounting on the basis of which he regularly computes his income in keeping his books shall, before computing his taxable income under the new method, secure the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 3. Taxable Year for Which Items of Gross Income Included

Taxable year
for inclusion of gross
income

17571 (a) The amount of any item of gross income shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year in which received by the taxpayer, unless, under the method of accounting used in computing taxable income, such amount is to be properly accounted for as of a different period.

(b) In the case of the death of a taxpayer whose taxable income is computed under an accrual method of accounting, any amount accrued only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be included in computing taxable income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death.

17577. Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, a person who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as income therefrom in any taxable year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the gross profit, realized or to be realized when payment is completed, bears to the total contract price.

Installment

Dealers in personal
property

17578. (a) Income from—

(1) A sale or other disposition of real property, or

(2) A casual sale or other casual disposition of personal property (other than property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year) for a price exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000),

Casual personal property or real property

may (under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) be returned on the basis and in the manner prescribed in Section 17577.

(b) Subsection (a) shall apply—

(1) In the case of a sale or other disposition during a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1954, only if in the taxable year of the sale or other disposition—

(A) There are no payments, or

(B) The payments (exclusive of evidences of indebtedness of the purchaser) do not exceed 30 percent of the selling price.

(2) In the case of a sale or other disposition during a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1955, only if the income was (by reason of Section 17532 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954) returnable on the basis and in the manner prescribed in Section 17531 of such law.

17579. (a) If a taxpayer entitled to the benefits of Section 17577 elects for any taxable year to report his taxable income on the installment basis, then in computing his taxable income for such year (referred to in this section as "year of change") or for any subsequent year—

Installment reporting
"Year of change"

(1) Installment payments actually received during any such year on account of sales or other dispositions of property made in any taxable year before the year of change shall not be excluded; but

(2) The tax imposed by this part for any taxable year (referred to in this section as "adjustment year") beginning after December 31, 1954, shall be reduced by the adjustment computed under subsection (b).

year"

(b) In determining the adjustment referred to in subsection (a) (2), first determine, for each taxable year before the year of change, the amount which equals the lesser of—

(1) The portion of the tax for such prior taxable year which is attributable to the gross profit which was included in gross income for such prior taxable year, and which by reason of subsection (a) (1) is includible in gross income for the taxable year; or

(2) The portion of the tax for the adjustment year which is attributable to the gross profit described in subsection (a).

The adjustment referred to in subsection (a) (1) for the adjustment year is the sum of the amounts determined under the preceding sentence.

(c) For purposes of subsection (b), the portion of the tax for a prior taxable year, or for the adjustment year, which is attributable to the gross profit described in such subsection is that amount which bears the same ratio to the tax imposed by this part (or by the corresponding provisions of prior income tax laws) for such taxable year (computed without regard to subsection (b)) as the gross profit described in such subsection (b) bears to the gross income for such taxable year.

Installment
obligations Gain or loss
on disposition

17580. (a) If an installment obligation is satisfied at other than its face value or distributed, transmitted, sold, or otherwise disposed of, gain or loss shall result to the extent of the difference between the basis of the obligation and—

(1) The amount realized, in the case of satisfaction at other than face value or a sale or exchange, or

(2) The fair market value of the obligation at the time of distribution, transmission, or disposition, in the case of the distribution, transmission, or disposition otherwise than by sale or exchange.

Any gain or loss so resulting shall be considered as resulting from the sale or exchange of the property in respect of which the installment obligation was received.

(b) The basis of an installment obligation shall be the excess of the face value of the obligation over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligation satisfied in full.

(c) Except as provided in Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive (relating to recipients of income in respect of decedents), this section shall not apply to the transmission of installment obligations at death.

bearing obligations issued at discount
Election in reporting

17581. If, in the case of a taxpayer owning any noninterest-bearing obligation issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals, the increase in the redemption price of such obligation occurring in the taxable year does not (under the method of accounting used in computing his taxable income) constitute income to him in such year, such taxpayer may, at his election made in his return for any taxable year, treat such increase as income received in such taxable year. If any such election is made with respect to any such obligation, it shall apply also to all such obligations owned by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first taxable year to which it applies and to all such obligations thereafter acquired by him and shall be binding for all subsequent taxable years, unless on application by the taxpayer the Franchise Tax Board permits him, subject to such conditions as the Franchise Tax Board deems necessary, to change to a different method. In the case of any such obligations owned by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first taxable year to which his election applies, the increase in the redemption price of such obligations occurring between the date of acquisition and the first day of such taxable year shall also be treated as income received in such taxable year.

Effect of

17582. In the case of any noninterest-bearing obligation—which is issued on a discount basis and payable without interest at a fixed maturity date not exceeding one year from the date of issue, the amount of discount at which such obligation is originally sold shall not be considered to accrue until the date on which such obligation is paid at maturity, sold, or otherwise disposed of.

Article 4. Taxable Year for Which Deduction Taken

17591. (a) The amount of any deduction or credit allowed by this part shall be taken for the taxable year which is the proper taxable year under the method of accounting used in computing taxable income.

Taxable year
for taking
deductions

(b) In the case of the death of a taxpayer whose taxable income is computed under an accrual method of accounting, any amount accrued as a deduction or credit only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be allowed in computing taxable income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death.

17596. When the status of a taxpayer changes from resident to nonresident, or from nonresident to resident, there shall be included in determining income from sources within or without this State, as the case may be, income and deductions accrued prior to the change of status even though not otherwise includible in respect of the period prior to such change, but the taxation or deduction of items accrued prior to the change of status shall not be affected by the change.

Article 5. Inventories

17601. Whenever in the opinion of the Franchise Tax Board the use of inventories is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer on such basis as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and as most clearly reflecting the income.

Inventories taken as prescribed by Franchise
Tax Board

17602. A taxpayer may use the method provided in Section 17603 (whether or not such method has been prescribed

Method of inventorying goods

under Section 17601) in inventorying goods specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe. The change to, and the use of, such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

First in,
last out
method

17603. In inventorying goods specified in the application described in Section 17602, the taxpayer shall:

(a) Treat those remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being: First, those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof; and second, those acquired in the taxable year;

(b) Inventory them at cost; and

(c) Treat those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year in which such method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

Limitation

17604. Section 17602 shall apply only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in Section 17603(a) and (c) in inventorying such goods to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of the first taxable year for which the method described in Section 17603 is to be used, for the purpose of a report or statement covering such taxable year—

(a) To shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries; or

(b) For credit purposes.

Closing inventory
at cost

17605. In determining income for the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which the method described in Section 17603 is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in the application referred to in Section 17602 shall be at cost.

Subsequent
inventories

17606. If a taxpayer, having complied with Section 17602, uses the method described in Section 17603 for any taxable year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless—

(a) With the approval of the Franchise Tax Board a change to a different method is authorized; or,

(b) The Franchise Tax Board determines that the taxpayer has used for any such subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in Section 17603(a) in inventorying the goods specified in the application to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of such subsequent taxable year for the purpose of a report or statement covering such taxable year (A) to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or beneficiaries, or (B) for credit purposes; and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in Section 17603 beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter.

If subsection (a) or (b) of this section applies, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

Article 6. Adjustments

17611. In computing the taxpayer's taxable income for any taxable year (referred to in Sections 17611 to 17614, inclusive, as the "year of the change")—

Adjustments required by changes in accounting
method

(a) If such computation is under a method of accounting different from the method under which the taxpayer's taxable income for the preceding taxable year was computed; then

(b) There shall be taken into account those adjustments which are determined to be necessary solely by reason of the change in order to prevent amounts from being duplicated or omitted, except there shall not be taken into account any adjustment in respect of any taxable year to which Sections 17611 to 17614, inclusive, do not apply.

17612. (a) If—

(1) The method of accounting from which the change is made was used by the taxpayer in computing his taxable income for the two taxable years preceding the year of the change, and then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in taxable income shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes under this part (or under the corresponding provisions of prior income tax laws) which would result if one-third of such increase were included in taxable income for the year of the change and one-third of such increase were included for each of the two preceding taxable years.

(b) If—

(2) The taxpayer establishes his taxable income (under the new method of accounting) for one or more taxable years consecutively preceding the taxable year of the change for which the taxpayer in computing taxable income used the method of accounting from which the change is made;

then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in taxable income shall not be greater than the net increase in the taxes under this part which would result if the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) were allocated to the taxable year or years specified in paragraph (2) to which

- they are properly allocable under the new method of accounting and the balance of the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) was allocated to the taxable year of the change.
- Adjustments under regulations 17613. In the case of any change described in Section 17611, the taxpayer may, in such manner and subject to such conditions as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, take the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) into account in computing the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year or years permitted under such regulations.
- Exception 17614. Sections 17611 to 17614, inclusive, shall not apply to a change to which Section 17579 (relating to change to installment method) applies.
- Allocation of income and deductions among taxpayers 17615. In any case of two or more persons, organizations, trades, or businesses (whether or not incorporated, whether or not organized in this State, and whether or not affiliated) owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the Franchise Tax Board may distribute, apportion, or allocate gross income, deductions, credits, or allowances between or among such persons, organizations, trades, or businesses, if it determines that such distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of any of such persons, organizations, trades, or businesses.
- Separate returns of husband and wife 17616. In any case where husband and wife file separate returns, the Franchise Tax Board may distribute, apportion or allocate gross income between the spouses, if it is determined that such distribution, apportionment or allocation is necessary in order to reflect the proper income of the spouses.

CHAPTER 7. EXEMPT TRUSTS AND COMMON TRUST FUNDS

Article 1. Taxation of Business Income of Certain Exempt Trusts

- "Article 1 taxable income" 17631. The term "Article 1 taxable income" of a trust means the amount by which its unrelated business taxable income (as defined in Section 17632) exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000).
- "Unrelated business taxable income" 17632. The term "unrelated business taxable income" means the gross income derived by any trust from any unrelated trade or business (as defined in Section 17654) regularly carried on by it, less the deductions allowed by Article 6 of Chapter 3 which are directly connected with the carrying on of such trade or business, subject to the exceptions, additions, and limitations prescribed in Sections 17633 to 17640, inclusive.
- Dividends, etc., excluded 17633. There shall be excluded all dividends, interest, and annuities, and all deductions directly connected with such income.
- Royalties excluded 17634. There shall be excluded all royalties (including overriding royalties) whether measured by production or by gross or taxable income from the property, and all deductions directly connected with such income.

17635. There shall be excluded all rents from real property (including personal property leased with the real property), and all deductions directly connected with such rents. Rents excluded

17636. Notwithstanding Section 17635, in the case of a lease (as defined in Sections 17645 and 17646) there shall be included, as an item of gross income derived from an unrelated trade or business, the amount ascertained under Section 17649(a) and there shall be allowed, as a deduction, the amount ascertained under Section 17649(b). Lease included

17637. There shall be excluded all gains or losses from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of property other than (A) stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includable in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or (B) property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business. This section shall not apply with respect to the cutting of timber which is considered, upon the application of Section 17711, as a sale or exchange of such timber. Sales, etc. gains or losses excluded

17638. There shall be excluded all income derived from research for (A) the United States or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, or (B) any state or political subdivision thereof; and there shall be excluded all deductions directly connected with such income. Income from research excluded

17639. In the case of a college, university, or hospital, there shall be excluded all income derived from research performed for any person, and all deductions directly connected with such income. College, etc., research excluded

17640. In the case of a trust operated primarily for the purposes of carrying on fundamental research the results of which are freely available to the general public, there shall be excluded all income derived from research performed for any person, and all deductions directly connected with such income. Trust for research, etc., excluded from the need of such organization for income or funds or the use it makes of the rents derived) to the exercise or performance by such trust of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function under Section 17734, or (B) the lease is of premises in a building primarily designed for occupancy, and occupied, by the trust. If a lease for more than five years to a tenant is for only a portion of the real property, and space in the real property is rented during the taxable year under a lease for not more than five years to any other tenant of the trust, leases of the real property for more than five years shall be considered as Article 1 leases during the taxable year only if—

17646. In computing the term of a lease which contains an option for renewal or extension, the term of such lease shall be considered as including any period for which such option may be exercised; and the term of any lease made pursuant to an exercise of such option shall include the period during which the prior lease was in effect. If real property is acquired subject to a lease, the term of such lease shall be considered to begin on the date of such acquisition. No lease shall be considered an Article 1 lease if (A) such lease is entered into primarily for purposes which are substantially related (aside Computation of lease term

(a) The rents derived from the real property during the taxable year under such leases represent 50 per centum or more of the total rents derived during the taxable year from the real property; or the area of the premises occupied under such leases represents, at any time during the taxable year, 50 per centum or more of the total area of the real property rented at such time; or

(b) The rent derived from the real property during the taxable year from any tenant under such a lease, or from a group of tenants (under such leases) who are partners, represents more than 10 per centum of the total rents derived during the taxable year from such property; or the area of the premises occupied by any one such tenant, or by any such group of tenants, represents at any time during the taxable year more than 10 per centum of the total area of the real property rented at such time.

“Article 1 lease indebtedness”

17647. The term “Article 1 lease indebtedness” means, with respect to any real property leased for a term of more than five years, the unpaid amount of—

(a) The indebtedness incurred by the lessor in acquiring or improving such property;

(b) The indebtedness incurred prior to the acquisition or improvement of such property if such indebtedness would not have been incurred but for such acquisition or improvement; and

(c) The indebtedness incurred subsequent to the acquisition or improvement of such property if such indebtedness would not have been incurred but for such acquisition or improvement and the incurrence of such indebtedness was reasonably foreseeable at the time of such acquisition or improvement.

Realty
acquired subject to mortgage,
etc.

Where real property is acquired subject to a mortgage or other similar lien, the amount of the indebtedness secured by such mortgage or lien shall be considered (whether the acquisition was by gift, devise, or purchase) as an indebtedness of the lessor incurred in acquiring such property even though the lessor did not assume or agree to pay such indebtedness, except that where real property was acquired by a gift, bequest, or devise prior to January 1, 1951, subject to a mortgage or other similar lien, the amount of such mortgage or other similar lien shall not be considered as an indebtedness of the lessor incurred in acquiring such property. Where real property was acquired by gift, bequest, or devise prior to January 1, 1951, subject to a lease requiring improvements in such property upon the happening of stated contingencies, indebtedness incurred in improving such property in accordance with the terms of such lease shall not be considered as an indebtedness for purposes of this section. In the case of a corporation described in Section 23701h of this code, all of the stock of which was acquired prior to January 1, 1951, by a trust described in Section 17734 (and more than one-third of such stock was acquired by such trust by gift or bequest), any indebtedness incurred by such corporation prior to January 1, 1951, and any indebtedness incurred by such corporation on or after such date in improving real property in accordance with the terms of a lease entered into prior to such date, shall not be considered as an indebtedness with respect to such trust for purposes of this section. In determining the amount of the Article 1 lease indebtedness where only a portion of the real property is subject to an Article 1 lease, proper allocation to the premises covered by such lease shall be made of the indebtedness incurred by the lessor with respect to the real property.

17648. For the purposes of this article, the term "real property" and the term "premises" include personal property of the lessor leased by it to a lessee of its real estate if the lease of such personal property is made under, or in connection with, the lease of such real estate.

"Real
property."
"premises"

17649. In computing under Sections 17632 to 17640, inclusive, the unrelated business taxable income for any taxable year—

Computation
of unrelated business taxable income

(a) There shall be included with respect to each Article 1 lease, as an item of gross income derived from an unrelated trade or business, an amount which is the same percentage (but not in excess of 100 per centum) of the total rents derived during the taxable year under such lease as (1) the Article 1 lease indebtedness, at the close of the taxable year, with respect to the premises covered by such lease is of (2) the adjusted basis, at the close of the taxable year, of such premises.

(b) There shall be allowed with respect to each Article 1 lease, as a deduction to be taken into account in computing unrelated business taxable income, an amount which is the same percentage (but not in excess of 100 per centum) of the sum determined under subsection (c) as the amount determined under clause (1) of subsection (a) is of the amount determined under clause (2) of such subsection.

(c) The sum referred to in subsection (b) is the sum of the following deductions allowable under Article 6 of Chapter 3:

(1) Taxes and other expenses paid or accrued during the taxable year upon or with respect to the real property subject to the Article 1 lease.

(2) Interest paid or accrued during the taxable year on the Article 1 lease indebtedness.

(3) A reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear (including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence) of the real property subject to such lease.

Where only a portion of the real property is subject to the Article 1 lease, there shall be taken into account under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) only those amounts which are properly allocable to the premises covered by such lease.

Article 2. Deductions: Computation of Taxable Income

Computation
of trust taxable
income

17651. Except as otherwise provided in this article as to deductions, the taxable income of the trust shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as in the case of an individual.

Charitable
contributions

17652. In the case of any trust described in Section 17734, the so-called "charitable contribution" deduction allowed by Section 17734 shall be allowed (whether or not directly connected with the carrying on of the trade or business), and for such purpose a distribution made by the trust to a beneficiary described in Section 17734 shall be considered as a gift or contribution. The deduction allowed by this section shall not exceed 20 per centum of the unrelated business taxable income computed without the benefit of this section.

Trust as member of
partnership

17653. If a trade or business regularly carried on by a partnership of which a trust is a member is an unrelated trade or business with respect to such trust, such trust in computing its unrelated business net income shall, subject to the exceptions, additions, and limitations contained in Sections 17633 through 17640 include its share (whether or not distributed) of the gross income of the partnership from such unrelated trade or business and its share of the partnership deductions directly connected with such gross income. If the taxable year of the trust is different from that of the partnership, the amounts to be so included or deducted in computing the unrelated business net income shall be based upon the income and deductions of the partnership for any taxable year of the partnership (whether beginning on, before, or after January 1, 1951) ending within or with the taxable year of the trust.

"Unrelated trade or
business"

17654. The term "unrelated trade or business" means, in the case of any trust subject to the tax imposed by Article 1, any trade or business the conduct of which is not substantially related (aside from the need of such trust for income or funds or the use it makes of the profits derived) to the exercise or performance by such trust of its charitable, educational, or other purpose or function, except that such term shall not include any trade or business—

(a) In which substantially all the work in carrying on such trade or business is performed for the trust without compensation; or

(b) Which is carried on by the trust primarily for the convenience of its members, students, patients, officers, or employees; or

(c) Which is the selling of merchandise, substantially all of which has been received by the organization as gifts or contributions.

The term "unrelated trade or business" means, in the case of a trust computing its unrelated business taxable income under this section for the purposes of Section 17655, any trade or business regularly carried on by such trust or by a partnership of which it is a member.

17655. In computing the deduction allowable under Section 17734 to a trust for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, no amount otherwise allowable under Section 17734 as a deduction shall be allowed as a deduction with respect to income of the taxable year which is allocable to its unrelated business income for such year. As used in this article the term "unrelated business income" means an amount equal to the amount which, if such trust were one described in Section 17734, would be computed as its unrelated business taxable income under Sections 17632 to 17640, inclusive, 17646, 17647, and 17648 (relating to income derived from certain business activities and from certain leases).

Disallowance
of Section 17734
deduction

Article 3. Common Trust Funds

17671. For purposes of this part, the term "common trust fund" means a fund maintained by a bank—

"Common
trust fund"

(a) Exclusively for the collective investment and reinvestment of moneys contributed thereto by the bank in its capacity as a trustee, executor, administrator, or guardian; and

(b) In conformity with the rules and regulations, prevailing from time to time, of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pertaining to the collective investment of trust funds by national banks; or

(c) A fund established and operated in accordance with the provisions of the Bank Act by a trust company, bank, or other corporation qualified under the Bank Act to engage in the trust business in California.

17672. A common trust fund shall not be subject to taxation under this part and for the purposes of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law shall not be considered a corporation.

Not subject to taxation

17673. (a) Each participant in the common trust fund in computing its taxable income shall include, whether or not distributed and whether or not distributable—

Taxable income of participants

(1) As part of its capital gains or losses, its proportionate share of the net capital gains or losses of the common trust fund;

(2) Its proportionate share of the ordinary taxable income or the ordinary net loss of the common trust fund, computed as provided in Section 17674.

(b) The appropriate or proportionate share of any participant in any income of a common trust fund which would not be taxable by this State or which this State would be prohibited from taxing by the Constitution of this State or of the United States if received directly by the participants shall not be taxable to the recipients of such income.

Computation
of taxable
income

17674. The taxable income of a common trust fund shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as in the case of an individual, except that—

(a) There shall be segregated the capital gains or losses, and the net capital gain shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of Section 18151 and other applicable provisions of this code.

(b) After excluding all items of capital gain or loss, there shall be computed—

(1) An ordinary taxable income which shall consist of the excess of the gross income over deductions; or

(2) An ordinary net loss which shall consist of the excess of the deductions over the gross income;

(c) The deductions provided by Section 17214 (relating to charitable, etc., contributions and gifts) shall not be allowed; and

(d) The standard deduction provided in Section 17171 shall not be allowed.

Admission or withdrawal of participants

17675. No gain or loss shall be realized by the common trust fund by the admission or withdrawal of a participant. The withdrawal of any participating interest by a participant shall be treated as a sale or exchange of such interest by the participant, but any gain or loss realized thereby shall be adjusted by an amount equal to the net aggregate gain or loss previously included in computing such participant's net income under Section 17673(a)(1).

Taxable year
of common trust fund different
participant

17676. If the taxable year of the common trust fund is different from that of a participant, the inclusions with respect to the taxable income of the common trust fund, in computing the taxable income of the participant for its taxable year, shall be based upon the taxable income of the common trust fund for any taxable year of the common trust fund ending within or with the taxable year of the participant.

Tax return

17677. Every trust company operating a common trust fund shall make a return under penalties of perjury for each taxable year, stating specifically with respect to such fund the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this article and shall include in the return information sufficient to identify the trusts and estates entitled to share in the taxable income of the common trust fund and the amount of the proportionate share of each such participant.

CHAPTER 8. NATURAL RESOURCES

Article 1. Deductions

17681. (a) In the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits, and timber, there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing taxable income a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements, according to the peculiar conditions in each case; such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, then such prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this section for subsequent taxable years shall be based on such revised estimate.

Deductions
Depletion

(b)(1) In the case of a lease, the deduction under this section shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and lessee.

(2) In the case of property held by one person for life with the remainder to another person, the deduction under this section shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant.

(3) In the case of property held in trust, the deduction under this section shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each.

(4) In the case of an estate, the deduction under this section shall be apportioned between the estate and the heirs, legatees, and devisees on the basis of the income of the estate allocable to each.

(c) For other rules applicable to depreciation of improvements, see Sections 17208 and 17209.

17682. The basis upon which depletion is to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041, for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property, except as provided in the remainder of this article.

Basis

17683. In the case of mines (except mines in respect of which percentage depletion is allowable under Section 17687) discovered by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, the basis for depletion shall be the fair market value of the property at the date of discovery or within 30 days thereafter, if such mines were not acquired as the result of purchase of a proven tract or lease, and if the fair market value of the property is materially disproportionate to the cost.

Same
Mines

17684. The depletion allowance under Section 17681 based on discovery value provided in Section 17683 shall not exceed

Depletion
allowance
limited

50 percent of the taxable income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property upon which the discovery was made, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance be less than it would be if computed without reference to discovery value.

Discovery,

17685. Discoveries shall include minerals in commercial quantities contained within a vein or deposit discovered in an existing mine or mining tract by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, if the vein or deposit thus discovered was not merely the uninterrupted extension of a continuing commercial vein or deposit already known to exist, and if the discovered minerals are of sufficient value and quantity that they could be separately mined and marketed at a profit.

Oil and gas wells:
Percentage depletion

17686. In the case of oil and gas wells the allowance for depletion under Section 17681 shall be $27\frac{1}{2}$ percent of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. The allowance shall not exceed 50 percent of the taxable income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

Mines
Percentage depletion

17687. The allowance for depletion under Section 17681 shall be:

(a) In the case of sand, gravel, slate, stone (including pumice and scoria), brick and tile clay, shale, oyster shell, clam shell, granite, marble, sodium chloride, and, if from brine wells, calcium chloride, magnesium chloride, and bromide, 5 percent;

(b) In the case of coal, asbestos, brucite, dolomite, magnesite, perlite, wollastonite, calcium carbonates, and magnesium carbonates, 10 percent;

(c) In the case of metal mines, aplite, bauxite, fluorspar, flake graphite, vermiculite, beryl, garnet, feldspar, mica, talc (including pyrophyllite), lepidolite, spodumene, barite, ball clay, sagger clay, china clay, phosphate rock, rock asphalt, trona, bentonite, gilsonite, thenardite, borax, fuller's earth, tripoli, refractory and fire clay, quartzite, diatomaceous earth, metallurgical grade limestone, chemical grade limestone, and potash, 15 percent;

(d) In the case of sulfur, 23 percent; of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property.

The allowance shall not exceed 50 percent of the taxable income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property except in no case shall the depletion allowance under Section 17681 be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

"Gross income from the property"

17688. As used in Section 17687, the term "gross income from the property" means the gross income from mining. The term "mining," as used herein, shall be considered to include "Mining" not merely the extraction of the ores or minerals from the ground but also the ordinary treatment processes normally applied by mine owners or operators in order to obtain the commercially marketable mineral product or products, and so much of the transportation of ores or minerals (whether or not by common carrier) from the point of extraction from the ground to the plants or mills in which the ordinary treatment processes are applied thereto as is not in excess of 50 miles unless the Franchise Tax Board finds that the physical and other requirements are such that the ore or mineral must be transported a greater distance to such plants or mills. The term "ordinary treatment processes," as used herein, shall include the following: (A) In the case of coal—cleaning, breaking, sizing, and loading for shipment; (B) in the case of sulphur—pumping to vats, cooling, breaking, and loading for shipment; (C) in the case of iron ore, bauxite, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, and minerals which are customarily sold in the form of a crude mineral product—sorting, concentrating, and sintering to bring to shipping grade and form, and loading for shipment; and (D) in the case of lead, zinc, copper, gold, silver, or fluorspar ores, potash, and ores which are not customarily sold in the form of the crude mineral product—crushing, grinding, and beneficiation by concentration (gravity, flotation, amalgamation, electrostatic, or magnetic), cyanidation, leaching, crystallization, precipitation (but not including as an ordinary treatment process electrolytic deposition, roasting, thermal or electric smelting, or refining), or by substantially equivalent processes or combination of processes used in the separation or extraction of the product or products from the ore, including the furnacing of quicksilver ores. "Ordinary treatment processes"

17689. (a) In the case of expenditures paid or incurred during the taxable year for the purpose of ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of ore or other mineral, and paid or incurred before the beginning of the development stage of the mine or deposit, there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing taxable income so much of such expenditures as does not exceed seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000). This section shall apply only with respect to the amount of such expenditures which, but for this section, would not be allowable as a deduction for the taxable year. This section shall not apply to expenditures for the acquisition or improvement of property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17208, but allowances for depreciation shall be considered, for purposes of this section, as expenditures paid or incurred. In no case shall this section apply with respect to amounts paid or incurred for the purpose of ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of oil or gas. Mines Exploration expenses

expenses any portion of the amount deductible for the taxable year under subsection (a), such portion shall not be deductible in the manner provided in subsection (a) but shall be deductible on a ratable basis as the units of produced ores or minerals discovered or explored by reason of such expenditures are sold. An election made under this subsection for any taxable year shall be binding for such year.

Limitation

(c) This section shall not apply to any amount paid or incurred in any taxable year if in any four preceding years a deduction or election under this section, or the corresponding provision of prior laws, has been allowed to, or exercised by—

(1) The taxpayer; or

(2) The individual or corporation who has transferred to the taxpayer any mineral property.

Paragraph (2) shall apply only if (A) the taxpayer was required to take into account under Section 17314.7 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, the deduction allowed to or election exercised by such individual or corporation; or (B) the taxpayer acquired any mineral property under circumstances which make Section 17783, 18135, or Section 24552, 24553, 24575, 24577, 24988, 25404, or 29461 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law apply to such transfer.

Adjusted
basis

(d) The amount of expenditures which are treated under subsection (b) as deferred expenses shall be taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of the mine or deposit, but such amounts, and the adjustments to basis provided in Section 18052(j) shall be disregarded in determining the adjusted basis of the property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under Section 17681.

Mines: Development
expenses

17690. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing taxable income all expenditures paid or incurred during the taxable year for the development of a mine or other natural deposit (other than an oil or gas well) if paid or incurred after the existence of ores or minerals in commercially marketable quantities has been disclosed. This section shall not apply to expenditures for the acquisition or improvement of property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Sections 17208 and 17209, but allowances for depreciation shall be considered, for purposes of this section, as expenditures.

election

(b) At the election of the taxpayer, made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, expenditures described in subsection (a) paid or incurred during the taxable year shall be treated as deferred expenses and shall be deductible on a ratable basis as the units of produced ores or minerals benefited by such expenditures are sold. In the case of such expenditures paid or incurred during the development stage of the mine or deposit, the election shall apply only with respect to the excess of such expenditures during the taxable year over the net receipts during the taxable year from the ores or minerals produced from such mine or deposit. The election under this subsection, if made, must be for the total amount of such expenditures, or the total amount of such excess, as the case may be, with respect to the mine or deposit, and shall be binding for such taxable year.

(c) The amount of expenditures which are treated under subsection (b) as deferred expenses shall be taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of the mine or deposit, except that such amount, and the adjustments to basis provided in Section 18052(i), shall be disregarded in determining the adjusted basis of the property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under Section 17681. Adjusted basis

Article 2. Sales and Exchanges

17711. If the taxpayer so elects upon his return for a taxable year, the cutting of timber (for sale or for use in the taxpayer's trade or business) during such year by the taxpayer who owns, or has a contract right to cut, such timber (providing he has owned such timber or has held such contract right for a period of more than six months prior to the beginning of such year) shall be considered as a sale or exchange of such timber cut during such year. In case such election has been made, gain or loss to the taxpayer shall be recognized in an amount equal to the difference between the adjusted basis for depletion of such timber in the hands of the taxpayer and the fair market value of such timber. Such fair market value shall be the fair market value as of the first day of the taxable year in which such timber is cut, and shall thereafter be considered as the cost of such cut timber to the taxpayer for all purposes for which such cost is a necessary factor. If a taxpayer makes an election under this section such election shall apply with respect to all timber which is owned by the taxpayer or which the taxpayer has a contract right to cut and shall be binding upon the taxpayer for the taxable year for which the election is made and for all subsequent years, unless the Franchise Tax Board, on showing of undue hardship, permits the taxpayer to revoke his election; such revocation, however, shall preclude any further elections under this section except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board. Timber cutting
Election to treat as sale or exchange

17712. In the case of the disposal of timber held for more than six months before such disposal, by the owner thereof under any form or type of contract by virtue of which such owner retains an economic interest in such timber, the difference between the amount realized from the disposal of such timber and the adjusted depletion basis thereof, shall be considered as though it were a gain or loss, as the case may be, on the sale of such timber. In determining the gross income, the adjusted gross income, or the taxable income of the lessee, the deductions allowable with respect to rents and royalties shall be determined without regard to the provisions of this section. The date of disposal of such timber shall be deemed to be the date such timber is cut, but if payment is made to the owner under the contract before such timber is cut the owner may Disposal of timber with retained economic interest elect to treat the date of such payment as the date of disposal of such timber. For purposes of this section, the term "owner" means any person who owns an interest in such timber, including a sublessor and a holder of a contract to cut timber.

CHAPTER 9. ESTATES, TRUSTS, BENEFICIARIES, AND DECEDENTS

Article 1. General Rules for Taxation of Estates and Trusts

Taxation of estates and trusts
Income
includible

17731. (a) The taxes imposed by this part on individuals shall apply to the taxable income of estates or of any kind of property held in trust, including—

(1) Income accumulated in trust for the benefit of unborn or unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests, and income accumulated or held for future distribution under the terms of the will or trust;

(2) Income which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the beneficiaries, and income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct;

(3) Income received by estates of deceased persons during the period of administration or settlement of the estate; and

(4) Income which, in the discretion of the fiduciary, may be either distributed to the beneficiaries or accumulated.

(b) The taxable income of an estate or trust shall be computed in the same manner as in the case of an individual, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. The tax shall be computed on such taxable income and shall be paid by the fiduciary.

Deduction
Personal
exemption

17733. An estate shall be allowed a deduction of one thousand dollars ($1,000). A trust shall be allowed a deduction of one hundred dollars ($100); provided, that if the amount of tax otherwise due under this part after applying said deduction is less than one dollar ($1) the amount of the deduction shall be the taxable income of the trust, but in no event shall such deduction exceed two hundred dollars ($200). The deductions allowed by this section shall be in lieu of the deductions allowed under Section 17181 (relating to deduction for personal exemption).

Same:
Charitable
contributions

17734. In the case of an estate or trust (other than a trust meeting the specifications of Article 2) there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing its taxable income (in lieu of the deductions allowed by Section 17214, relating to deduction for charitable, etc., contributions and gifts) any amount of the gross income, without limitation, which pursuant to the terms of the governing instrument is, during the taxable year, paid or permanently set aside for a purpose specified in Section 17214, or is to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or for the establishment, acquisition, maintenance or operation of a public cemetery not operated for profit. In the case of a trust, the deduction allowed by this section shall be subject to Sections 17811 to 17818, inclusive (relating to unrelated business income and prohibited transactions).

17735. An estate or trust shall be allowed the deduction for depreciation and depletion only to the extent not allowable to beneficiaries under Sections 17208 and 17681(b). Same:
Depreciation
depletion

17736. The benefit of the deductions for amortization of emergency facilities provided by Section 17208 shall be allowed to estates and trusts in the same manner as in the case of an individual. The allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the fiduciary under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Amortiza-
tion of emergency
facilities

17737. If on the termination of an estate or trust, the estate or trust has for the last taxable year of the estate or trust deductions (other than the deductions allowed under Section 17733 or 17734) in excess of gross income for such year, then such carryover or such excess shall be allowed as a deduction, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to the beneficiaries succeeding to the property of the estate or trust. Termination of estate,
etc. Unused loss carryovers and excess
deductions

17738. For disallowance of standard deduction in case of estates and trusts see Section 17172. Disallowance of standard
deduction

17739. For purposes of this chapter, the term "distributable net income" means, with respect to any taxable year, the taxable income of the estate or trust computed with the following modifications: "Distribut-able net
income"

(a) No deduction shall be taken under Sections 17751 and 17761 (relating to additional deductions).

(b) No deduction shall be taken under Section 17733 (relating to deduction for personal exemptions).

(c) Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded to the extent that such gains are allocated to corpus and are not (1) paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year, or (2) paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in Section 17734. Losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded, except to the extent such losses are taken into account in determining the amount of gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets which are paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year.

(d) For purposes only of Article 2 (relating to trusts which distribute current income only), there shall be excluded those items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, does not pay or credit to any beneficiary by reason of his determination that such dividends are allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law.

(e) There shall be included any tax-exempt interest to which Section 17137 applies, reduced by any amounts which would be deductible in respect of disbursements allocable to such interest but for the provisions of Section 17285 (relating to disallowance of certain deductions).

If the estate or trust is allowed a deduction under Section 17734, the amount of the modification specified in subsection (e) shall be reduced to the extent that the amount of income which is paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in Section 17734 is deemed to consist of items specified in subsection (e). For this purpose, such amount shall (in the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument) be deemed to consist of the same proportion of each class of items of income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total of all classes.

“Income” 17740. For purposes of this article and Articles 2, 3, and 4, the term “income,” when not preceded by the words “taxable,” “distributable net,” “undistributed net,” or “gross,” means the amount of income of the estate or trust for the taxable year determined under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law. Items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, determines to be allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law shall not be considered income.

“Beneficiary” 17741. For purposes of Articles 1 to 6, inclusive, the term “beneficiary” includes heir, legatee, devisee.

Income of estate or trust
Taxability 17742. Except as otherwise provided in Articles 1 to 6, inclusive, of this chapter, the income of an estate or trust is taxable to the estate or trust. The tax applies to the entire taxable income of an estate, if the decedent was a resident, regardless of the residence of the fiduciary or beneficiary, and to the entire taxable income of a trust, if the fiduciary or beneficiary is a resident, regardless of the residence of the settlor.

Residence of fiduciary 17743. Where the taxability of income under Articles 1 to 6, inclusive, of this chapter depends on the residence of the fiduciary and there are two or more fiduciaries for the trust, the income taxable under Section 17742 shall be apportioned according to the number of fiduciaries resident in this State pursuant to rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Residence of beneficiary 17744. Where the taxability of income under Articles 1 to 6, inclusive, of this chapter depends on the residence of the beneficiary and there are two or more beneficiaries of the trust, the income taxable under Section 17742 shall be apportioned according to the number and interest of beneficiaries resident in this State pursuant to rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Liability of beneficiaries 17745. If, for any reason, the taxes imposed on income of a trust which is taxable to the trust because the fiduciary or beneficiary is a resident of this State are not paid when due and remain unpaid when such income is distributable to the beneficiaries, or in case the income is distributable to the beneficiaries before the taxes are due, if the taxes are not paid when due, such income shall be taxable to the beneficiaries when distributable to them except that in the case of non-resident beneficiaries such income shall be taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Article 2. Trusts Which Distribute Current Income Only

17751. (a) In the case of any trust the terms of which— Deduction of amounts currently distributable
(1) Provide that all of its income is required to be distributed currently; and

(2) Do not provide that any amounts are to be paid, permanently set aside, or used for the purposes specified in Section 17734 (relating to deduction for charitable, etc., purposes), there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of the trust the amount of the income for the taxable year which is required to be distributed currently. This section shall not apply in any taxable year in which the trust distributes amounts other than amounts of income described in paragraph (1).

(b) If the amount of income required to be distributed currently exceeds the distributable net income of the trust for the taxable year, the deduction shall be limited to the amount of the distributable net income. For this purpose, the computation of distributable net income shall not include items of income which are not included in the gross income of the trust and the deductions allocable thereto. Limitation

17752. (a) Subject to subsection (b), the amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently by a trust described in Section 17751 shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiaries to whom the income is required to be distributed, whether distributed or not. If such amount exceeds the distributable net income, there shall be included in the gross income of each beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income as the amount of income required to be distributed to such beneficiary bears to the amount of income required to be distributed to all beneficiaries. Inclusions in beneficiaries' gross income

(b) The amounts specified in subsection (a) shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the trust. For this purpose, the amounts shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income of the trust as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the trust, unless the terms of the trust specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income shall be allocated among the items of distrib-

utable net income in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) If the taxable year of a beneficiary is different from that of the trust, the amount which the beneficiary is required to include in gross income in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be based upon the amount of income of the trust for any taxable year or years of the trust ending within or with his taxable year.

(d) In the case of a nonresident beneficiary income derived through such a trust is taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Article 3. Estates or Trusts Which May Accumulate Income or Which Distribute Corpus

Deduction
for estates,
etc., which accumulate income or distribute corpus

17761. (a) In any taxable year there shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of an estate or trust (other than a trust to which Article 2 applies), the sum of—

(1) Any amount of income for such taxable year required to be distributed currently (including any amount required to be distributed which may be paid out of income or corpus to the extent such amount is paid out of income for such taxable year); and

(2) Any other amounts properly paid or credited or required to be distributed for such taxable year;
but such deduction shall not exceed the distributable net income of the estate or trust.

(b) The amount determined under subsection (a) shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the estate or trust in the absence of the allocation of different classes of income under the specific terms of the governing instrument. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income (including the deduction allowed under Section 17733) shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) No deduction shall be allowed under subsection (a) in respect of any portion of the amount allowed as a deduction under that subsection (without regard to this subsection) which is treated under subsection (b) as consisting of any item of distributable net income which is not included in the gross income of the estate or trust.

Inclusions in beneficiaries'
gross income

17762. Subject to Section 17763, there shall be included in the gross income of a beneficiary to whom an amount specified in Section 17761(a) is paid, credited, or required to be distributed (by an estate or trust described in Section 17761), the sum of the following amounts:

(a) The amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently to such beneficiary, whether distributed or not. If the amount of income required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income (computed without the deduction allowed by Section 17734, relating to deduction for charitable, etc., purposes) of the estate or trust, then, in lieu of the amount provided in the preceding sentence, there shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (as so computed) as the amount of income required to be distributed currently to such beneficiary bears to the amount required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries. For purposes of this section, the phrase "the amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently" includes any amount required to be paid out of income or corpus to the extent such amount is paid out of income for such taxable year.

(b) All other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to such beneficiary for the taxable year. If the sum of—

(1) The amount of income for the taxable year required to be distributed currently to all beneficiaries; and

(2) All other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to all beneficiaries exceeds the distributable net income of the estate or trust, then, in lieu of the amount provided in the preceding sentence, there shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary an amount which bears the same ratio to distributable net income (reduced by the amounts specified in (1)) as the other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the beneficiary bear to the other amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to all beneficiaries.

(c) In the case of a nonresident beneficiary income derived through such an estate or trust is taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

17763. The amounts determined under Section 17762 shall have the same character in the hands of the beneficiary as in the hands of the estate or trust. For this purpose, the amounts shall be treated as consisting of the same proportion of each class of items entering into the computation of distributable net income as the total of each class bears to the total distributable net income of the estate or trust unless the terms of the governing instrument specifically allocate different classes of income to different beneficiaries. In the application of the preceding sentence, the items of deduction entering into the computation of distributable net income (including the deduction allowed under Section 17734) shall be allocated among the items of distributable net income in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. In the application of this section to the amount determined under Section 17762(a), distributable net income shall be computed without regard to any portion of the deduction under Section 17734 which is not attributable to income of the taxable year.

Character of amounts paid

Different
taxable years

17764. If the taxable year of a beneficiary is different from that of the estate or trust, the amount to be included in the gross income of the beneficiary shall be based on the distributable net income of the estate or trust and the amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the beneficiary during any taxable year or years of the estate or trust ending within or with his taxable year.

Exclusions

17765. There shall not be included as amounts falling within Section 17761 or 17762—

(a) Any amount which, under the terms of the governing instrument, is properly paid or credited as a gift or bequest of a specific sum of money or of specific property and which is paid or credited all at once or in not more than three installments. For this purpose an amount which can be paid or credited only from the income of the estate or trust shall not be considered as a gift or bequest of a specific sum of money.

(b) Any amount paid or permanently set aside or otherwise qualifying for the deduction provided in Section 17734 (computed without regard to Sections 17811 to 17818, inclusive).

(c) Any amount paid, credited, or distributed in the taxable year, if Section 17751 or Section 17761 applied to such amount for a preceding taxable year of an estate or trust because credited or required to be distributed in such preceding taxable year.

Separate shares treated as separate
trusts

17767. For the sole purpose of determining the amount of distributable net income in the application of Sections 17761 and 17762 to 17764, inclusive, in the case of a single trust having more than one beneficiary, substantially separate and independent shares of different beneficiaries in the trust shall be treated as separate trusts. The existence of such substantially separate and independent shares and the manner of treatment as separate trusts, including the application of Article 4, shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 4. Treatment of Excess Distributions by Trusts

"Undis-
tributed
net income"

17771. (a) For purposes of this article, the term "undistributed net income" for any taxable year means the amount by which distributable net income of the trust for such taxable year exceeds the sum of—

(1) The amounts for such taxable year specified in paragraphs (1) and (2) of Section 17761(a); and

(2) The amount of taxes imposed on the trust.

"Accumulation distribution"

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "accumulation distribution" for any taxable year of the trust means the amount (if in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000)) by which the amounts specified in paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) for such taxable year exceed distributable net income reduced by the amounts specified in paragraph (1) of Section 17761(a). For purposes of this subsection, the amount specified in paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) shall be determined without regard to Sections 17772 to 17774, inclusive, and shall not include—

(1) Amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed to a beneficiary as income accumulated before the birth of such beneficiary or before such beneficiary attains the age of 21;

(2) Amounts properly paid or credited to a beneficiary to meet the emergency needs of such beneficiary;

(3) Amounts properly paid or credited to a beneficiary upon such beneficiary's attaining a specified age or ages if—

(A) The total number of such distributions cannot exceed four with respect to such beneficiary,

(B) The period between each such distribution to such beneficiary is four years or more; and

(C) As of January 1, 1954, such distributions are required by the specific terms of the governing instrument; and

(4) Amounts properly paid or credited to a beneficiary as a final distribution of the trust if such final distribution is made more than nine years after the date of the last transfer to such trust.

(c) For purposes of this article, the term "taxes imposed on the trust" means the amount of the taxes which are imposed for any taxable year on the trust under this part (without regard to this article) and which, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, are properly allocable to the undistributed portion of the distributable net income. The amount determined in the preceding sentence shall be reduced by any amount of such taxes allowed, under Sections 17775, 17776, and 17777, as a credit to any beneficiary on account of any accumulation distribution determined for any taxable year.

imposed on the
trust"

(d) For purposes of this article, the term "preceding taxable year" does not include any taxable year of the trust to which Articles 1 to 6, inclusive, do not apply. In the case of a preceding taxable year with respect to which a trust qualifies (without regard to this article) under the provisions of Article 2, for purposes of the application of this article to such trust for such taxable year, such trust shall, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, be treated as a trust to which Article 3 applies.

"Preceding
year"

17772. In the case of a trust which for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1954, is subject to Article 3, the amount of the accumulation distribution of such trust for such taxable year shall be deemed to be an amount within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) distributed on the last day of each of the five preceding taxable years to the extent that such amount exceeds the total of any undistributed net incomes for any taxable years intervening between the taxable year with respect to which the accumulation distribution is determined and such preceding taxable year. The amount deemed to be distributed in any such pre-

Accumulation
distribution
allocated to five preceding years

ceding taxable year under the preceding sentence shall not exceed the undistributed net income of such preceding taxable year. For purposes of this section, undistributed net income for each of such five preceding taxable years shall be computed without regard to such accumulation distribution and without regard to any accumulation distribution determined for any succeeding taxable year.

Total taxes
distributed

17773. If any portion of an accumulation distribution for any taxable year is deemed under Section 17772 to be an amount within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) distributed on the last day of any preceding taxable year, and such portion of such accumulation distribution is not less than the undistributed net income for such preceding taxable year, the trust shall be deemed to have distributed on the last day of such preceding taxable year an additional amount within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a). Such additional amount shall be equal to the taxes imposed on the trust for such preceding taxable year. For purposes of this section, the undistributed net income and the taxes imposed on the trust for such preceding taxable year shall be computed without regard to such accumulation distribution and without regard to any accumulation distribution determined for any succeeding taxable year.

portion of
distributed

17774. If any portion of an accumulation distribution for any taxable year is deemed under Section 17772 to be an amount within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) distributed on the last day of any preceding taxable year and such portion of the accumulation distribution is less than the undistributed net income for such preceding taxable year, the trust shall be deemed to have distributed on the last day of such preceding taxable year an additional amount within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a). Such additional amount shall be equal to the taxes imposed on the trust for such taxable year multiplied by the ratio of the portion of the accumulation distribution to the undistributed net income of the trust for such year. For purposes of this section, the undistributed net income and the taxes imposed on the trust for such preceding taxable year shall be computed without regard to the accumulation distribution and without regard to any accumulation distribution determined for any succeeding taxable year.

Denial of refund of trusts

17775. The amount of taxes imposed on the trust under this part, which would not have been payable by the trust for any preceding taxable year had the trust in fact made distributions at the times and in the amounts deemed under Sections 17772 to 17774, inclusive, shall not be refunded or credited to the trust, but shall be allowed as a credit under Section 17777 against the tax of the beneficiaries who are treated as having received the distributions. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the amount of taxes which may not be refunded or credited to the trust shall be an amount equal to the excess of (1) the taxes imposed on the trust for any preceding taxable year (computed without regard to the accumulation distribution for the taxable year) over (2) the amount of taxes for such preceding taxable year imposed on the undistributed portion of distributable net income of the trust for such preceding taxable year after the application of this article on account of the accumulation distribution determined for such taxable year.

17776. The total of the amounts which are treated under Sections 17772 to 17774, inclusive, as having been distributed by the trust in a preceding taxable year shall be included in the income of a beneficiary or beneficiaries of the trust when paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the extent that such total would have been included in the income of such beneficiary or beneficiaries under Sections 17762(b) and 17763 if such total had been paid to such beneficiary or beneficiaries on the last day of such preceding taxable year. The portion of such total included under the preceding sentence in the income of any beneficiary shall be based upon the same ratio as determined under the second sentence of Section 17762(b) for the taxable year in respect of which the accumulation distribution is determined, except that proper adjustment of such ratio shall be made, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, for amounts which fall within paragraphs (1) through (4) of Section 17771(b). The tax of the beneficiaries attributable to the amounts treated as having been received on the last day of such preceding taxable year of the trust shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes attributable to those amounts had they been included in the gross income of the beneficiaries on such day in accordance with Sections 17762(b) and 17763.

Treatment

in preceding years

17777. The tax imposed on beneficiaries under this part shall be credited with a pro rata portion of the taxes imposed on the trust under this part for such preceding taxable year which would not have been payable by the trust for such preceding taxable year had the trust in fact made distributions to such beneficiaries at the times and in the amounts specified in Sections 17772 to 17774, inclusive.

Article 5. Grantor and Others Treated as Substantial Owners

17781. Where it is specified in this article that the grantor or another person shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor or the other person those items of income, deductions, and credits against tax of the trust which are attributable to that portion of the trust to the extent that such items would be taken into account under this part in computing taxable income or credits against the tax of an individual. Any remaining portion of the trust shall be subject to Articles 1 through 4. No items of a trust shall be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor or of any other person solely on the grounds of his dominion and control over the trust under Section 17071 (relating to definition of gross income) or any other provision of this part, except as specified in this article.

17782. (a) For purposes of this article, the term "adverse party" means any person having a substantial beneficial interest in the trust which would be adversely affected by the exercise or nonexercise of the power which he possesses respecting the trust. A person having a general power of appointment over the trust property shall be deemed to have a beneficial interest in the trust.

"Nonadverse party"

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "nonadverse party" means any person who is not an adverse party.

"Related or subordinate party"

(c) For purposes of this article, the term "related or subordinate party" means any nonadverse party who is—

(1) The grantor's spouse if living with the grantor;

(2) Any one of the following: The grantor's father, mother, issue, brother or sister; an employee of the grantor; a corporation or any employee of a corporation in which the stock holdings of the grantor and the trust are significant from the viewpoint of voting control; a subordinate employee of a corporation in which the grantor is an executive.

For purposes of Sections 17784 to 17787, inclusive, and 17788, a related or subordinate party shall be presumed to be subservient to the grantor in respect of the exercise or nonexercise of the powers conferred on him unless such party is shown not to be subservient by a preponderance of the evidence.

Conditions precedent to exercise of power

(d) A person shall be considered to have a power described in this article even though the exercise of the power is subject to a precedent giving of notice or takes effect only on the expiration of a certain period after the exercise of the power.

Grantor treated as owner
Reversionary interest

17783. (a) The grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust in which he has a reversionary interest in either the corpus or the income therefrom if, as of the inception of that portion of the trust, the interest will or may reasonably be expected to take effect in possession or enjoyment within 10 years commencing with the date of the transfer of that portion of the trust.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to the extent that the income of a portion of a trust in which the grantor has a reversionary interest is, under the terms of the trust, irrevocably payable for a period of at least two years (commencing with the date of the transfer) to a designated beneficiary, which beneficiary is of a type described in Section 17214(b).

(c) The grantor shall not be treated under subsection (a) as the owner of any portion of a trust where his reversionary interest in such portion is not to take effect in possession or enjoyment until the death of the person or persons to whom the income therefrom is payable.

(d) Any postponement of the date specified for the reacquisition of possession or enjoyment of the reversionary interest shall be treated as a new transfer in trust commencing with the date prescribed by the postponement. However, income for any period shall not be included in the income of the grantor by reason of the preceding sentence if such income would not be so includible in the absence of such postponement.

17784. The grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust in respect of which the beneficial enjoyment of the corpus or the income therefrom is subject to a power of disposition, exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both, without the approval or consent of any adverse party. Power to control beneficial enjoyment

17785. Section 17784 shall not apply to the following Exceptions powers regardless of by whom held:

(a) A power described in Section 17791 to the extent that the grantor would not be subject to tax under that section.

(b) A power, the exercise of which can only affect the beneficial enjoyment of the income for a period commencing after the expiration of a period such that a grantor would not be treated as the owner under Section 17783 if the power were a reversionary interest; but the grantor may be treated as the owner after the expiration of the period unless the power is relinquished.

(c) A power exercisable only by will, other than a power in the grantor to appoint by will the income of the trust where the income is accumulated for such disposition by the grantor or may be so accumulated in the discretion of the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both, without the approval or consent of any adverse party.

(d) A power to determine the beneficial enjoyment of the corpus or the income therefrom if the corpus or income is irrevocably payable for a purpose specified in Section 17214 (relating to definition of charitable contributions).

(e) A power to distribute corpus either—

(1) To or for a beneficiary or beneficiaries or to or for a class of beneficiaries (whether or not income beneficiaries) provided that the power is limited by a reasonably definite standard which is set forth in the trust instrument; or

(2) To or for any current income beneficiary, provided that the distribution of corpus must be chargeable against the proportionate share of corpus held in trust for the payment of income to the beneficiary as if the corpus constituted a separate trust.

A power does not fall within the powers described in this subsection if any person has a power to add to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to a class of beneficiaries designated to receive the income or corpus, except where such action is to provide for after-born or after-adopted children.

(f) A power to distribute or apply income to or for any current income beneficiary or to accumulate the income for him, provided that any accumulated income must ultimately be payable—

(1) To the beneficiary from whom distribution or application is withheld, to his estate, or to his appointees (or persons named as alternate takers in default of appointment) provided that such beneficiary possesses a power of appointment which does not exclude from the class of possible appointees any person other than the beneficiary, his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate, or

(2) On termination of the trust, or in conjunction with a distribution of corpus which is augmented by such accumulated income, to the current income beneficiaries in shares which have been irrevocably specified in the trust instrument.

Accumulated income shall be considered so payable although it is provided that if any beneficiary does not survive a date of distribution which could reasonably have been expected to occur within the beneficiary's lifetime, the share of the deceased beneficiary is to be paid to his appointees or to one or more designated alternate takers (other than the grantor or the grantor's estate) whose shares have been irrevocably specified. A power does not fall within the powers described in this subsection if any person has a power to add to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to a class of beneficiaries designated to receive the income or corpus except where such action is to provide for after-born or after-adopted children.

(g) A power exercisable only during—

(1) The existence of a legal disability of any current income beneficiary; or

(2) The period during which any income beneficiary shall be under the age of 21 years, to distribute or apply income to or for such beneficiary or to accumulate and add the income to corpus. A power does not fall within the powers described in this subsection if any person has a power to add to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to a class of beneficiaries designated to receive the income or corpus, except where such action is to provide for after-born or after-adopted children.

(h) A power to allocate receipts and disbursements as between corpus and income, even though expressed in broad language.

Same Power exer-cisable by independent trustee

17786. Section 17784 shall not apply to a power solely exercisable (without the approval or consent of any other person) by a trustee or trustees, none of whom is the grantor, and no more than half of whom are related or subordinate parties who are subservient to the wishes of the grantor—

(a) To distribute, apportion, or accumulate income to or for a beneficiary or beneficiaries, or to, for, or within a class of beneficiaries; or

(b) To pay out corpus to or for a beneficiary or beneficiaries or to or for a class of beneficiaries (whether or not income beneficiaries).

A power does not fall within the powers described in this section if any person has a power to add to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to a class of beneficiaries designated to receive the income or corpus, except where such action is to provide for after-born or after-adopted children.

17787. Section 17784 shall not apply to a power solely exercisable (without the approval or consent of any other person) by a trustee or trustees, none of whom is the grantor or spouse living with the grantor, to distribute, apportion, or accumulate income to or for a beneficiary or beneficiaries, or to, for, or within a class of beneficiaries, whether or not the conditions of Section 17785(f) or (g) are satisfied, if such power is limited by a reasonably definite external standard which is set forth in the trust instrument. A power does not fall within the powers described in this section if any person has a power to add to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or to a class of beneficiaries designated to receive the income or corpus except where such action is to provide for after-born or after-adopted children.

Administrative powers

(a) A power exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both, without the approval or consent of any adverse party enables the grantor or any person to purchase, exchange, or otherwise deal with or dispose of the corpus or the income therefrom for less than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth.

(b) A power exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both, enables the grantor to borrow the corpus or income, directly or indirectly, without adequate interest or without adequate security except where a trustee (other than the grantor) is authorized under a general lending power to make loans to any person without regard to interest or security.

(c) The grantor has directly or indirectly borrowed the corpus or income and has not completely repaid the loan, including any interest, before the beginning of the taxable year. The preceding sentence shall not apply to a loan which provides for adequate interest and adequate security, if such loan is made by a trustee other than the grantor and other than a related or subordinate trustee subservient to the grantor.

(d) A power of administration is exercisable in a nonfiduciary capacity by any person without the approval or consent of any person in a fiduciary capacity. For purposes of this subsection, the term "power of administration" means any one or more of the following powers: (1) A power to vote or direct the voting of stock or other securities of a corporation in which the holdings of the grantor and the trust are significant from the viewpoint of voting control; (2) a power to control the investment of the trust funds either by directing investments or reinvestments, or by vetoing proposed investments or reinvestments, to the extent that the trust funds consist of stocks or securities of corporations in which the holdings of the grantor and the trust are significant from the viewpoint of voting control; or (3) a power to reacquire the trust corpus by substituting other property of an equivalent value.

Same Power

17789. (a) The grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, whether or not he is treated as such owner under any other provision of this article, where at any time the power to revest in the grantor title to such portion is exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both.

Exception

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to a power the exercise of which can only affect the beneficial enjoyment of the income for a period commencing after the expiration of a period such that a grantor would not be treated as the owner under Section 17783 if the power were a reversionary interest. But the grantor may be treated as the owner after the expiration of such period unless the power is relinquished.

17790. The grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust whether or not he is treated as such owner under Sections 17784 to 17787, inclusive, whose income without the approval or consent of any adverse party is, or, in the discretion of the grantor or a nonadverse party, or both, may be—

(a) Distributed to the grantor;

(b) Held or accumulated for future distribution to the grantor; or

(c) Applied to the payment of premiums on policies of insurance on the life of the grantor (except policies of insurance irrevocably payable) for a purpose specified in Section 17214 (relating to definition of charitable contributions).

This section shall not apply to a power the exercise of which can only affect the beneficial enjoyment of the income for a period commencing after the expiration of a period such that the grantor would not be treated as the owner under Section 17783 if the power were a reversionary interest; but the grantor may be treated as the owner after the expiration of the period unless the power is relinquished.

Exception

17791. Income of a trust shall not be considered taxable to the grantor under Section 17790 or any other provision of this part merely because such income in the discretion of another person, the trustee, or the grantor acting as trustee or co-trustee, may be applied or distributed for the support or maintenance of a beneficiary whom the grantor is legally obligated to support or maintain, except to the extent that such income is so applied or distributed. In cases where the amounts so applied or distributed are paid out of corpus or out of other than income for the taxable year, such amounts shall be considered to be an amount paid or credited within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) and shall be taxed to the grantor under Section 17762.

17792. (a) A person other than the grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust with respect to which: Person other than grantor treated as owner

(1) Such person has a power exercisable solely by himself to vest the corpus or the income therefrom in himself; or

(2) Such person has previously partially released or otherwise modified such a power and after the release or modification retains such control as would, within the principles of Sections 17783 to 17791, inclusive, subject a grantor of a trust to treatment as the owner thereof.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply with respect to a power over income, as originally granted or thereafter modified, if the grantor of the trust is otherwise treated as the owner under Sections 17783 to 17791, inclusive. Exceptions

(c) Subsection (a) shall not apply to a power which enables such person, in the capacity of trustee or co-trustee, merely to apply the income of the trust to the support or maintenance of a person whom the holder of the power is obligated to support or maintain except to the extent that such income is so applied. In cases where the amounts so applied or distributed are paid out of corpus or out of other than income of the taxable year, such amounts shall be considered to be an amount paid or credited within the meaning of paragraph (2) of Section 17761(a) and shall be taxed to the holder of the power under Section 17762.

(d) Subsection (a) shall not apply with respect to a power which has been renounced or disclaimed within a reasonable time after the holder of the power first became aware of its existence.

Article 6. Miscellaneous

17811. In computing the deduction allowable under Section 17734 to a trust, no amount otherwise allowable under Section 17734 as a deduction shall be allowed as a deduction with respect to income of the taxable year which is allocable to its unrelated business income for such year. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "unrelated business income" means an amount equal to the amount which, if such trust were one described in Section 17734 would be computed as its unrelated business taxable income under Sections 17652, 17653 and 17654 (relating to income derived from certain business activities and from certain leases). Unrelated business income Charitable contribution deduction disallowed

17812. The amount otherwise allowable under Section 17734 as a deduction shall not exceed 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without the benefit of Section 17734 but with the benefit of Section 17214) if the trust has engaged in a prohibited transaction, as defined in Section 17813. Charitable contribution deduction limitation

17813. For purposes of Sections 17812 to 17816, inclusive, the term "prohibited transaction" means any transaction after December 31, 1950, in which any trust while holding income or corpus which has been permanently set aside or is to be "Prohibited transaction" used exclusively for charitable or other purposes described in Section 17734—

(a) Lends any part of such income or corpus, without receipt of adequate security and a reasonable rate of interest, to;

(b) Pays any compensation from such income or corpus, in excess of a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, to;

(c) Makes any part of its services available on a preferential basis to;

(d) Uses such income or corpus to make any substantial purchase of securities or any other property, for more than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, from;

(e) Sells any substantial part of the securities or other property comprising such income or corpus, for less than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, to; or

(f) Engages in any other transaction which results in a substantial diversion of such income or corpus to; the creator of such trust; any person who has made a substantial contribution to such trust; a member of a family (as defined in Section 17289 (d)) of an individual who is the creator of the trust or who has made a substantial contribution to the trust; or a corporation controlled by any such creator or person through the ownership, directly or indirectly, of 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation.

affected

17814. The amount otherwise allowable under Section 17734 as a deduction shall be limited as provided in Section 17812 only for taxable years after the taxable year during which the trust is notified by the Franchise Tax Board that it has engaged in such transaction, unless such trust entered into such prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in Section 17734, and such transaction involved a substantial part of such corpus or income.

Removal of

17815. If the deduction of any trust under Section 17734 has been limited as provided in Sections 17812 to 17816, inclusive, such trust, with respect to any taxable year following the taxable year in which notice is received of limitation of deduction under Section 17734, may, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, file claim for the allowance of the unlimited deduction under Section 17734, and if the Franchise Tax Board, pursuant to such regulations, is satisfied that such trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction, the limitation provided in Section 17812 shall not apply with respect to taxable years after the year in which such claim is filed.

17816. No gift or bequest for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes (including the encouragement of art and the prevention of cruelty to children or animals), otherwise allowable as a deduction under Section 17215, 17216, 17216.1, or 17734, shall be allowed as a deduction if made in trust and, in the taxable year of the trust in which the gift or bequest is made, the deduction allowed the trust under Section 17734 is limited by Section 17812. With respect to any taxable year of a trust in which such deduction has been so limited by reason of entering into a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in Section 17734, and such transaction involved a substantial part of such income or corpus, and which taxable year is the same, or before the, taxable year of the trust in which such prohibited transaction occurred, such deduction shall be disallowed the donor only if such donor or (if such donor is an individual) any member of his family (as defined in Section 17289) was a party to such prohibited transaction.

Disallowance
of certain charitable,
etc.,
deductions

17817. For purposes of Sections 17812 to 17816, inclusive, the term "gift or bequest" means any gift, contribution, bequest, devise, or legacy, or any transfer without adequate consideration.

"Gift or bequest"

17818. If the amounts permanently set aside, or to be used exclusively for the charitable and other purposes described in Section 17734 during the taxable year or any prior taxable year and not actually paid out by the end of the taxable year—

Accumulated
income

(a) Are unreasonable in amount or duration in order to carry out such purposes of the trust;

(b) Are used to a substantial degree for purposes other than those prescribed in Section 17734; or

(c) Are invested in such a manner as to jeopardize the interests of the religious, charitable, scientific, etc., beneficiaries;

the amount otherwise allowable under Section 17734 as a deduction shall be limited to the amount actually paid out during the taxable year and shall not exceed 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without the benefit of Section 17734).

17819. There shall be included in the gross income of a wife who is divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance (or who is separated from her husband under a written separation agreement) the amount of the income of any trust which such wife is entitled to receive and which, except for this section, would be includible in the gross income of her husband, and such amount shall not, despite any other provision of this part, be includible in the gross income of such husband. This section shall not apply to that part of any such income of the trust which the terms of the decree, written separation agreement, or trust instrument fix, in terms of an amount of money or a portion

trusts:
Income not includible in return

of such income, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of such husband. In case such income is less than the amount specified in the decree, agreement or instrument, for the purpose of applying the preceding sentence, such income to the extent of such sum payable for such support, shall be considered a payment for such support.

Same
Income

wife's return

17820. For purposes of computing the taxable income of the estate or trust and the taxable income of a wife to whom Section 17819 or Section 17081 applies, such wife shall be considered as the beneficiary specified in this article. A periodic payment under Section 17081 to any portion of which this part applies shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary in the taxable year in which under this part such portion is required to be included.

Application

17821. (a) This chapter shall apply only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1954.

(b) In the case of any beneficiary of an estate or trust—

(1) This chapter shall not apply to any amount paid, credited, or to be distributed by the estate or trust in any taxable year of such estate or trust to which this part does not apply, and

(2) The Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall apply for purposes of determining the amount includible in the gross income of the beneficiary.

To the extent that any amount paid, credited, or to be distributed by an estate or trust in the first taxable year of such estate or trust to which this part applies would be treated, if the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 were applicable, as paid, credited, or to be distributed on the last day of the preceding taxable year, such amount shall not be taken into account for purposes of this part but shall be taken into account as provided in the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954.

Article 7. Income in Respect of Decedents

Income in respect of decedents Inclusion in gross income

17831. The amount of all items of gross income in respect of a decedent which are not properly includible in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death or a prior period (including the amount of all items of gross income in respect of a prior decedent, if the right to receive such amount was acquired by reason of the death of the prior decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the prior decedent) shall be included in the gross income, for the taxable year when received, of:

(a) The estate of the decedent, if the right to receive the amount is acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent;

(b) The person who, by reason of the death of the decedent, acquires the right to receive the amount, if the right to receive the amount is not acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent; or

(c) The person who acquires from the decedent the right to receive the amount by bequest, devise, or inheritance, if the amount is received after distribution by the decedent's estate of such right.

17832. If a right, described in Section 17831, to receive an amount is transferred by the estate of the decedent or a person who received such right by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, there shall be included in the gross income of the estate or such person, as the case may be, for the taxable period in which the transfer occurs, the fair market value of such right at the time of such transfer plus the amount by which any consideration for the transfer exceeds such fair market value. For purposes of this section, the term "transfer" includes sale, exchange, or other disposition, or the satisfaction of an installment obligation at other than face value, but does not include transmission at death to the estate of the decedent or a transfer to a person pursuant to the right of such person to receive such amount by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent.

Transfer of right to receive sum in decedent's estate

"Transfer"

17833. The right, described in Section 17831, to receive an amount shall be treated, in the hands of the estate of the decedent, or any person who acquired such right by reason of the death of the decedent, or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, as if it had been acquired by the estate or such person in the transaction in which the right to receive the income was originally derived and the amount includible in gross income under Section 17831 or 17832 shall be considered in the hands of the estate or such person to have the character which it would have had in the hands of the decedent if the decedent had lived and received such amount.

Character of right

17834. (a) In the case of an installment obligation received by a decedent on the sale or other disposition of property, the income from which was properly reportable by the decedent on the installment basis under Sections 17577 to 17580, inclusive, if such obligation is acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent or by any person by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent—

Installment obligations

(a) An amount equal to the excess of the face amount of such obligation over the basis of the obligation in the hands of the decedent (determined under Section 17580) shall, for the purpose of Section 17831, be considered as an item of gross income in respect of the decedent; and

(b) Such obligation shall, for purposes of Sections 17832 and 17833, be considered a right to receive an item of gross income in respect of the decedent, but the amount includible in gross income under Section 17832 shall be reduced by an amount equal to the basis of the obligation in the hands of the decedent (determined under Section 17580).

17835. The amount of any deduction specified in Section 17202, 17203, 17204, 17205, 17252, or 17681 (relating to deductions for expenses, interest, taxes, and depletion) in respect of a decedent which is not properly allowable to the decedent in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, or a prior period, shall be allowed:

Deduction of expenses, interest, etc

(a) In the case of a deduction specified in Section 17202, 17203, 17204, or 17252 in the taxable year when paid to the estate of the decedent; except that if the estate of the decedent is not liable to discharge the obligation to which the deduction relates, to the person who, by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance acquires, subject to such obligation, from the decedent an interest in property of the decedent.

(b) In the case of the deduction specified in Section 17681, to the person described in Section 17831(a), (b), or (c) who, in the manner described therein, receives the income to which the deduction relates, in the taxable year when such income is received.

17836. (a) A person who includes an amount in gross income under Sections 17831 to 17834, inclusive, shall be allowed, for the same taxable year, as a deduction an amount which bears the same ratio to the inheritance tax attributable to the net value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17831 as the value for inheritance tax purposes of the items of gross income or portions thereof in respect of which such person included the amount in gross income (or the amount included in gross income, whichever is lower) bears to the value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17831.

(b) In the case of an estate or trust, the amount allowed as a deduction under subsection (a) shall be computed by excluding from the gross income of the estate or trust the portion (if any) of the items described in Section 17831 which is properly paid, credited, or to be distributed to the beneficiaries during the taxable year. This section shall apply to the same taxable years, and to the same extent, as is provided in Section 17821.

"Inheritance
tax"

17837. For purposes of Section 17836—

(a) The term "inheritance tax" means the tax imposed on the beneficiary of the decedent or any prior decedent under Part 8, Division 2 of this code.

(b) The net value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17831 shall be the excess of the value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17831 over the deductions from the gross estate in respect of claims which represent the deductions described in Section 17835. Such net value shall be determined with regard to the provisions of Section 17537(b), relating to the deduction for inheritance tax with respect to restricted stock options.

(c) The inheritance tax attributable to such net value shall be an amount equal to the excess of the inheritance tax over the inheritance tax computed without including in the gross estate such net value.

CHAPTER 10. PARTNERS AND PARTNERSHIPS

Article 1. Determination of Tax Liability

17851. A partnership as such shall not be subject to the tax imposed by this part. Persons carrying on business as partners shall be liable for income tax only in their separate or individual capacities. Partner's tax liability

17852. In determining his income tax, each partner shall take into account separately his distributive share of the partnership's— Partner's share of gains, losses, deductions, etc

(a) Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets;

(b) Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of property described in Sections 18181 and 18182 (relating to certain property used in a trade or business and involuntary conversions);

(c) Charitable contributions (as defined in Section 17214);

(d) Taxes, described in Section 18006, paid to another state or country on such income;

(e) Other items of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit, to the extent provided by regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board; and

(f) Taxable income or loss, exclusive of items requiring separate computation under other subsections of this section.

17853. (a) The character of any item of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit included in a partner's distributive share under Section 17852(a) through (f) shall be determined as if such item were realized directly from the source from which realized by the partnership, or incurred in the same manner as incurred by the partnership. Character of items

(b) In any case where it is necessary to determine the gross income of a partner for purposes of this part, such amount shall include his distributive share of the gross income of the partnership.

17854. (a) The taxable income of a partnership shall be computed in the same manner as in the case of an individual except that— Partnership computations

(1) The items described in Section 17852 shall be separately stated; and

(2) The following deductions shall not be allowed to the partnership:

(A) The standard deduction provided in Section 17171;

(B) The deductions for personal exemptions provided in Section 17181;

(C) The deduction for taxes provided in Section 17204(a) with respect to taxes, described in Section 18006, paid to another state or country and to possessions of the United States;

(D) The deduction for charitable contributions provided in Sections 17214 to 17216, inclusive; and

(E) The additional itemized deductions for individuals provided in Article 7 of Chapter 3.

(b) Any election affecting the computation of taxable income derived from a partnership shall be made by the partnership.

Partner's distributive share
Effect of partnership
agreement

17855. A partner's distributive share of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit shall, except as otherwise provided in this section, and Section 17856 to 17859, inclusive, be determined by the partnership agreement.

Share determined by income or loss ratio

17856. A partner's distributive share of any item of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit shall be determined in accordance with his distributive share of taxable income or loss of the partnership, as described in Section 17852(f), for the taxable year, if—

(a) The partnership agreement does not provide as to the partner's distributive share of such item, or

(b) The principal purpose of any provision in the partnership agreement with respect to the partner's distributive share of such item is the avoidance or evasion of any tax imposed by this part.

Contributed
property

17857. (a) In determining a partner's distributive share of items described in Section 17852, depreciation, depletion, or gain or loss with respect to property contributed to the partnership by a partner shall, except to the extent otherwise provided in subsection (b) or (c), be allocated among the partners in the same manner as if such property had been purchased by the partnership.

(b) If the partnership agreement so provides, depreciation, depletion, or gain or loss with respect to property contributed to the partnership by a partner shall, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, be shared among the partners so as to take account of the variation between the basis of the property to the partnership and its fair market value at the time of contribution.

(c) If the partnership agreement does not provide otherwise, depreciation, depletion, or gain or loss with respect to undivided interests in property contributed to a partnership shall be determined as though such undivided interests had not been contributed to the partnership. This subsection shall apply only if all the partners had undivided interests in such property prior to contribution and their interests in the capital and profits of the partnership correspond with such undivided interests.

Limitation on allowance of losses

17858. A partner's distributive share of partnership loss (including capital loss) shall be allowed only to the extent of the adjusted basis of such partner's interest in the partnership at the end of the partnership year in which such loss occurred. Any excess of such loss over such basis shall be allowed as a deduction at the end of the partnership year in which such excess is repaid to the partnership.

Recognition
as partner

17859. (a) A person shall be recognized as a partner for purposes of this part if he owns a capital interest in a partnership in which capital is a material income-producing factor, whether or not such interest was derived by purchase or gift from any other person.

(b) In the case of any partnership interest created by gift, the distributive share of the donee under the partnership agreement shall be includible in his gross income, except to the extent that such share is determined without allowance of reasonable compensation for services rendered to the partnership by the donor, and except to the extent that the portion of such share attributable to donated capital is proportionately greater than the share of the donor attributable to the donor's capital. The distributive share of a partner in the earnings of the partnership shall not be diminished because of absence due to military service.

Distributive
share of donee

(c) For purposes of this article, an interest purchased by one member of a family from another shall be considered to be created by gift from the seller, and the fair market value of the purchased interest shall be considered to be donated capital. The "family" of any individual shall include only his spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants, and any trusts for the primary benefit of such persons.

"Family"
transactions

17860. (a) The adjusted basis of a partner's interest in a partnership shall, except as provided in subsection (b), be the basis of such interest determined under Section 17882 (relating to contributions to a partnership) or Section 17902 (relating to transfers of partnership interests)—

Adjusted
basis of partner's
interest

(1) Increased by the sum of his distributive share for the taxable year and prior taxable years of—

(A) Taxable income of the partnership as determined under Section 17854(a),

(B) Income of the partnership exempt from tax under this part; and

(C) The excess of the deductions for depletion over the basis of the property subject to depletion; and

(2) Decreased (but not below zero) by distributions by the partnership as provided in Section 17893 and by the sum of his distributive share for the taxable year and prior taxable years of—

(A) Losses of the partnership; and

(B) Expenditures of the partnership not deductible in computing its taxable income and not properly chargeable to capital account.

(b) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe by regulations the circumstances under which the adjusted basis of a partner's interest in a partnership may be determined by reference to his proportionate share of the adjusted basis of partnership property upon a termination of the partnership.

17861. In computing the taxable income of a partner for a taxable year, the inclusions required by Sections 17852 and 17853 and 17866 with respect to a partnership shall be based on the income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit of the partnership for any taxable year of the partnership ending within or with the taxable year of the partner.

Computing partner's
income

Partner-
ship's
taxable year

17862. (a) The taxable year of a partnership shall be determined as though the partnership were a taxpayer. A partnership may not change to, or adopt, a taxable year other than that of all its principal partners unless it establishes, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, a business purpose therefor.

(b) A partner may not change to a taxable year other than that of a partnership in which he is a principal partner unless he establishes, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, a business purpose therefor.

(c) For the purpose of this section, a principal partner is a partner having an interest of 5 percent or more in partnership profits or capital.

Closing

17863. (a) Except in the case of a termination of a partnership and except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the taxable year of a partnership shall not close as the result of the death of a partner, the entry of a new partner, the liquidation of a partner's interest in the partnership, or the sale or exchange of a partner's interest in the partnership.

(b) (1) The taxable year of a partnership shall close—

(A) With respect to a partner who sells or exchanges his entire interest in a partnership, and

(B) With respect to a partner whose interest is liquidated, except that the taxable year of a partnership with respect to a partner who dies shall not close prior to the end of the partnership's taxable year.

Such partner's distributive share of items described in Section 17852 for such year shall be determined, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, for the period ending with such sale, exchange, or liquidation.

(2) The taxable year of a partnership shall not close (other than at the end of a partnership's taxable year as determined under Section 17862(a)) with respect to a partner who sells or exchanges less than his entire interest in the partnership or with respect to a partner whose interest is reduced, but such partner's distributive share of items described in Section 17852 shall be determined by taking into account his varying interests in the partnership during the taxable year.

Partner-
partnership
transactions

17864. If a partner engages in a transaction with a partnership other than in his capacity as a member of such partnership, the transaction shall, except as otherwise provided in Sections 17865 and 17866, be considered as occurring between the partnership and one who is not a partner.

Losses
disallowed

17865. (a) No deduction shall be allowed in respect of losses from sales or exchanges of property (other than an interest in the partnership), directly or indirectly, between—

(1) A partnership and a partner owning, directly or indirectly, more than 50 percent of the capital interest, or the profits interest, in such partnership; or

(2) Two partnerships in which the same persons own, directly or indirectly, more than 50 percent of the capital interests or profits interests.

(b) In the case of a sale or exchange, directly or indirectly, of property, which, in the hands of the transferee, is property other than a capital asset as defined in Section 18161—

Gains
treated as
income

(1) Between a partnership and a partner owning, directly or indirectly, more than 80 percent of the capital interest, or profits interest, in such partnership; or

(2) Between two partnerships in which the same persons own, directly or indirectly, more than 80 percent of the capital interests or profits interests;

any gain recognized shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset.

(c) For purposes of subsections (a) and (b), the ownership of a capital or profits interest in a partnership shall be determined in accordance with the rules for constructive ownership of stock provided in Section 17289 other than subsection (c) of such section.

Ownership
of capital or profits
interest

17866. (a) To the extent determined without regard to the income of the partnership, payments to a partner for services or the use of capital shall be considered as made to one who is not a member of the partnership, but only for the purposes of Section 17071(a) (relating to gross income) and Section 17202(a) (relating to trade or business expenses).

Payments to partner by partnership

(b) In the case of a nonresident partner, payments described in subsection (a) shall be gross income from sources within this State.

17867. (a) For purposes of this article, an existing partnership shall be considered as continuing if it is not terminated.

Continuation of partnership.

(b) (1) For purposes of subsection (a), a partnership shall be considered as terminated only if—

Termination

(A) No part of any business, financial operation, or venture of the partnership continues to be carried on by any of its partners in a partnership, or

(B) Within a 12-month period there is a sale or exchange of 50 percent or more of the total interest in partnership capital and profits.

(2) (A) In the case of the merger or consolidation of two or more partnerships, the resulting partnership shall, for purposes of this section, be considered the continuation of any merging or consolidating partnership whose members own an interest of more than 50 percent in the capital and profits of the resulting partnership.

Merger or consolidation

(B) In the case of a division of a partnership into two or more partnerships, the resulting partnerships (other than any resulting partnership the members of which had an interest of 50 percent or less in the capital and profits of the prior partnership) shall, for purposes of this section, be considered a continuation of the prior partnership.

Division

Article 2. Contributions to a Partnership

17881. No gain or loss shall be recognized to a partnership or to any of its partners in the case of a contribution of

Contributions to
partnership

property to the partnership in exchange for an interest in the partnership.

Basis of
interest

17882. The basis of an interest in a partnership acquired by a contribution of property, including money, to the partnership shall be the amount of such money and the adjusted basis of such property to the contributing partner at the time of the contribution.

Basis of
property

17883. The basis of property contributed to a partnership by a partner shall be the adjusted basis of such property to the contributing partner at the time of the contribution.

Article 3. Distributions by a Partnership

Distribu-
tions Recognition of gain
or loss

17891. (a) In the case of a distribution by a partnership to a partner—

(1) Gain shall not be recognized to such partner, except to the extent that any money distributed exceeds the adjusted basis of such partner's interest in the partnership immediately before the distribution; and

(2) Loss shall not be recognized to such partner, except that upon a distribution in liquidation of a partner's interest in a partnership where no property other than that described in subparagraph (A) or (B) is distributed to such partner, loss shall be recognized to the extent of the excess of the adjusted basis of such partner's interest in the partnership over the sum of—

(A) Any money distributed; and

(B) The basis to the distributee, as determined under Section 17892, of any unrealized receivables (as defined in Section 17913) and inventory (as defined in Section 17914(b)).

Any gain or loss recognized under this section shall be considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of the partnership interest of the distributee partner.

(b) No gain or loss shall be recognized to a partnership on a distribution to a partner of property, including money.

(c) This section shall not apply to the extent otherwise provided by Sections 17896 and 17897 (relating to payments to a retiring partner or a deceased partner's successor in interest) and Sections 17911 to 17914, inclusive (relating to unrealized receivables and inventory items).

Basis of
distributed

17892. (a) (1) The basis of property (other than money) distributed by a partnership to a partner other than in liquidation of the partner's interest shall, except as provided in paragraph (2), be its adjusted basis to the partnership immediately before such distribution.

(2) The basis to the distributee partner of property to which paragraph (1) is applicable shall not exceed the adjusted basis of such partner's interest in the partnership reduced by any money distributed in the same transaction.

(b) The basis of property (other than money) distributed by a partnership to a partner in liquidation of the partner's interest shall be an amount equal to the adjusted basis of such partner's interest in the partnership reduced by any money distributed in the same transaction.

(c) The basis of distributed properties to which subsection (a)(2) or subsection (b) is applicable shall be allocated—

(1) First to any unrealized receivables (as defined in Section 17913) and inventory items (as defined in Section 17914(b)) in an amount equal to the adjusted basis of each such property to the partnership (or if the basis to be allocated is less than the sum of the adjusted bases of such properties to the partnership, in proportion to such bases); and

(2) To the extent of any remaining basis, to any other distributed properties in proportion to their adjusted bases to the partnership.

(d) For purposes of subsections (a), (b), and (c), a partner who acquired all or a part of his interest by a transfer with respect to which the election provided in Section 17917 is not in effect, and to whom a distribution of property (other than money) is made with respect to the transferred interest within two years after such transfer, may elect, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to treat as the adjusted partnership basis of such property the adjusted basis such property would have if the adjustment provided in Section 17904 were in effect with respect to the partnership property. The Franchise Tax Board may by regulations require the application of this subsection in the case of a distribution to a transferee partner, whether or not made within two years after the transfer, if at the time of the transfer the fair market value of the partnership property (other than money) exceeded 110 percent of its adjusted basis to the partnership.

(e) This section shall not apply to the extent that a distribution is treated as a sale or exchange of property under Section 17912 (relating to unrealized receivables and inventory items).

17893. In the case of a distribution by a partnership to a partner other than in liquidation of a partner's interest, the adjusted basis to such partner of his interest in the partnership shall be reduced (but not below zero) by—

Adjusted
basis of interest

(a) The amount of any money distributed to such partner; and

(b) The amount of the basis to such partner of distributed property other than money, as determined under Section 17892.

17894. (a) The basis of partnership property shall not be adjusted as the result of a distribution of property to a partner unless the election, provided in Section 17917 (relating to optional adjustment to basis of partnership property), is in effect with respect to such partnership.

Change in
basis of partnership
property

(b) In the case of a distribution of property to a partner, a partnership, with respect to which the election provided in Section 17917 is in effect, shall—

(1) Increase the adjusted basis of partnership property by—

(A) The amount of any gain recognized to the distributee partner with respect to such distribution under Section 17891(a); and

(B) In the case of distributed property to which Section 17892(a)(2) or (b) applies, the excess of the adjusted basis of the distributed property to the partnership immediately before the distribution (as adjusted by Section 17892(d)) over the basis of the distributed property to the distributee, as determined under Section 17892; or

(2) Decrease the adjusted basis of partnership property by—

(A) The amount of any loss recognized to the distributee partner with respect to such distribution under Section 17891(a); and

(B) In the case of distributed property to which Section 17892(b) applies, the excess of the basis of the distributed property to the distributee; as determined under Section 17892, over the adjusted basis of the distributed property to the partnership immediately before such distribution (as adjusted by Section 17892(d)).

(c) The allocation of basis among partnership properties where subsection (b) is applicable shall be made in accordance with the rules provided in Section 17918.

Gain or loss
on disposition
of distributed
property

17895. (a) (1) Gain or loss on the disposition by a distributee partner of unrealized receivables (as defined in Section 17913) distributed by a partnership, shall be considered gain or loss from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset.

(2) Gain or loss on the sale or exchange by a distributee partner of inventory items (as defined in Section 17914(b)) distributed by a partnership shall, if sold or exchanged within five years from the date of the distribution, be considered gain or loss from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset.

(b) In determining the period for which a partner has held property received in a distribution from a partnership (other than for purposes of subsection (a)(2)), there shall be included the holding period of the partnership, as determined under Sections 18163 to 18171, inclusive, with respect to such property.

Payments to liquidate partner's
interest

17896. Payments made in liquidation of the interest of a retiring partner or a deceased partner shall, except as provided in Section 17897, be considered—

(a) As a distributive share to the recipient of partnership income if the amount thereof is determined with regard to the income of the partnership, or

(b) As a guaranteed payment described in Section 17866 if the amount thereof is determined without regard to the income of the partnership.

17897. (a) Payments made in liquidation of the interest of ^{Same} a retiring partner or a deceased partner shall, to the extent such payments (other than payments described in subsection (b)) are determined, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to be made in exchange for the interest of such partner in partnership property, be considered as a distribution by the partnership and not as a distributive share or guaranteed payment under Section 17896.

(b) For purposes of this section, payments in exchange for an interest in partnership property shall not include amounts paid for—

(1) Unrealized receivables of the partnership (as defined in Section 17913); or

(2) Good will of the partnership, except to the extent that the partnership agreement provides for a payment with respect to good will.

Article 4. Transfers of Interests in a Partnership

17901. In the case of a sale or exchange of an interest in a partnership, gain or loss shall be recognized to the transferor partner. Such gain or loss shall be considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset, except as otherwise provided in Sections 17911 to 17914, inclusive (relating to unrealized receivables and inventory items which have appreciated substantially in value). ^{Recognition of gain or loss on transfer}

17902. The basis of an interest in a partnership acquired other than by contribution shall be determined under Article 2 of Chapter 13 (Section 18041 and following). ^{Basis of interest}

17903. The basis of partnership property shall not be adjusted as the result of a transfer of an interest in a partnership by sale or exchange or on the death of a partner unless the election provided by Section 17917 (relating to optional adjustment to basis of partnership property) is in effect with respect to such partnership. ^{Basis of partnership property}

17904. In the case of a transfer of an interest in a partnership by sale or exchange or upon the death of a partner, a partnership with respect to which the election provided in Section 17917 is in effect shall— ^{Adjustment of basis upon transfer of interest}

(a) Increase the adjusted basis of the partnership property by the excess of the basis to the transferee partner of his interest in the partnership over his proportionate share of the adjusted basis of the partnership property, or

(b) Decrease the adjusted basis of the partnership property by the excess of the transferee partner's proportionate share of the adjusted basis of the partnership property over the basis of his interest in the partnership.

Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, such increase or decrease shall constitute an adjustment to the basis of partnership property with respect to the transferee partner only. A partner's proportionate share of the adjusted basis of partnership property shall be determined in accordance with his interest in partnership capital and, in the case of an agreement described in Section 17857(b) (relating to effect of partnership agreement on contributed property), such share shall be determined by taking such agreement into account. In the case of an adjustment under this section to the basis of partnership property subject to depletion, any depletion allowable shall be determined separately for the transferee partner with respect to his interest in such property.

Allocation
of basis

17905. The allocation of basis among partnership properties where Section 17904 is applicable shall be made in accordance with the rules provided in Section 17918.

Article 5. Provisions Common to Other Articles

Unrealized
receivables
and appreciated inventory
items

17911. The amount of any money, or the fair market value of any property, received by a transferor partner in exchange for all or a part of his interest in the partnership attributable to—

(a) Unrealized receivables of the partnership; or

(b) Inventory items of the partnership which have appreciated substantially in value;

shall be considered as an amount realized from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset.

Partnership
property
distributed

17912. (a) To the extent a partner receives in a distribution—

(1) Partnership property described in Section 17911 in exchange for all or a part of his interest in other partnership property (including money), or

(2) Partnership property (including money) other than property described in Section 17911 in exchange for all or a part of his interest in partnership property described in Section 17911, such transactions shall, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, be considered as a sale or exchange of such property between the distributee and the partnership (as constituted after the distribution).

(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to—

(1) A distribution of property which the distributee contributed to the partnership; or

(2) Payments, described in Section 17896, to a retiring partner or successor in interest of a deceased partner.

"Unrealized
receivables"

17913. For purposes of this chapter, the term "unrealized receivables" includes, to the extent not previously includible in income under the method of accounting used by the partnership, any rights (contractual or otherwise) to payment for—

(a) Goods delivered, or to be delivered, to the extent the proceeds therefrom would be treated as amounts received from the sale or exchange of property other than a capital asset; or

(b) Services rendered, or to be rendered.

17914. (a) Inventory items of the partnership shall be considered to have appreciated substantially in value if their fair market value exceeds—

Substantially appreciated inventory
items

(1) 120 percent of the adjusted basis to the partnership of such property; and

(2) 10 percent of the fair market value of all partnership property, other than money.

(b) For purposes of this chapter the term “inventory items” means—

(1) Property of the partnership of the kind described in Section 18161(a);

(2) Any other property of the partnership which, on sale or exchange by the partnership, would be considered property other than a capital asset and other than property described in Sections 18181 and 18182; and

(3) Any other property held by the partnership which, if held by the selling or distributee partner, would be considered property of the type described in paragraph (1) or (2).

17915. (a) Any increase in a partner's share of the liabilities of a partnership, or any increase in a partner's individual liabilities by reason of the assumption by such partner of partnership liabilities, shall be considered as a contribution of money by such partner to the partnership.

Assumption of liabilities by partner or
partnership

(b) Any decrease in a partner's share of the liabilities of a partnership, or any decrease in a partner's individual liabilities by reason of the assumption by the partnership of such individual liabilities, shall be considered as a distribution of money to the partner by the partnership.

(c) For purposes of this section, a liability to which property is subject shall, to the extent of the fair market value of such property, be considered as a liability of the owner of the property.

(d) In the case of a sale or exchange of an interest in a partnership, liabilities shall be treated in the same manner as liabilities in connection with the sale or exchange of property not associated with partnerships.

17916. The amount includible in the gross income of a successor in interest of a deceased partner under Section 17897(a) shall be considered income in respect of a decedent under Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive.

Gross income
of successor

17917. If a partnership files an election, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the basis of partnership property shall be adjusted, in the case of a distribution of property, in the manner provided in Section 17894 and, in the case of a transfer of a partnership interest, in the manner provided in Sections 17903 to 17905, inclusive. Such an election shall apply with respect to all distributions of property by the partnership and to all transfers of interests in the partnership during the taxable year with respect to which such election was filed and all subsequent taxable years. Such

Election for adjustment
of property
basis

election may be revoked by the partnership, subject to such limitations as may be provided by regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Allocation of changes in adjusted
basis

17918. (a) Any increase or decrease in the adjusted basis of partnership property under Section 17894(b) (relating to the optional adjustment to the basis of undistributed partnership property) or Section 17904 (relating to the optional adjustment to the basis of partnership property in the case of a transfer of an interest in a partnership) shall, except as provided in subsection (b), be allocated—

(1) In a manner which has the effect of reducing the difference between the fair market value and the adjusted basis of partnership properties, or

(2) In any other manner permitted by regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) In applying the allocation rules provided in subsection (a), increases or decreases in the adjusted basis of partnership property arising from a distribution of, or a transfer of an interest attributable to, property consisting of—

(1) Capital assets and property described in Section 18182; or

(2) Any other property of the partnership; shall be allocated to partnership property of a like character except that the basis of any such partnership property shall not be reduced below zero. If, in the case of a distribution, the adjustment to basis of property described in paragraph (1) or (2) is prevented by the absence of such property or by insufficient adjusted basis for such property, such adjustment shall be applied to subsequently acquired property of a like character in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Article 6. Definitions

“Partnership”

17921. (a) For purposes of this part, the term “partnership” includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, and which is not, within the meaning of this part, a corporation or a trust or estate. Under regulations the Franchise Tax Board may, at the election of all the members of an unincorporated organization, exclude such organization from the application of all or part of this chapter, if it is availed of—

(1) For investment purposes only and not for the active conduct of a business; or

(2) For the joint production, extraction, or use of property, but not for the purpose of selling services or property produced or extracted, if the income of the members of the organization may be adequately determined without the computation of partnership taxable income.

“Partner”

(b) For purposes of this part, the term “partner” means a member of a partnership.

(c) For purposes of this chapter, a partnership agreement includes any modifications of the partnership agreement made prior to, or at, the time prescribed by law for the filing of the partnership return for the taxable year (not including extensions) which are agreed to by all the partners, or which are adopted in such other manner as may be provided by the partnership agreement. Partnership agreement

(d) For purposes of this chapter, the term "liquidation of a partner's interest" means the termination of a partner's entire interest in a partnership by means of a distribution, or a series of distributions, to the partner by the partnership. "Liquidation of a partner's interest"

Article 7. Effective Date for Chapter and Returns Required

17931. (a) (1) This chapter shall apply with respect to— Application

(A) Any partnership taxable year beginning after December 31, 1954; and

(B) Any part of a partner's taxable year falling within such partnership taxable year.

(2) Sections 17751, 18301 to 18305, inclusive, and 17008 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall apply with respect to—

(A) Any partnership taxable year beginning before January 1, 1955; and

(B) Any part of a partner's taxable year falling within such partnership taxable year.

(b) In the case of a partnership taxable year beginning after December 31, 1954, and before January 1, 1956, a partnership may elect, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, with respect to distributions made during such year to any partner, other than in liquidation of the partner's interest, to apply the rules in Sections 17891, 17892(a), (c), and (e), 17893, 17895, 17912, 17913, and 17914 (and, to the extent applicable, the rules provided in Sections 17860, 17915, and 17921(d)). If a partnership so elects, such rules shall be effective for the partnership and all members of such partnership with respect to such distributions.

17932. Every partnership shall make a return for each taxable year, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this part. The return shall include the names and addresses of the individuals, whether residents or nonresidents, who would be entitled to share in the net income if distributed and the amount of the distributive share of each individual. The return shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, signed by one of the partners. Returns

CHAPTER 11. GROSS INCOME OF NONRESIDENTS

17951. In the case of nonresident taxpayers the gross income includes only the gross income from sources within this State. Gross income of nonresidents Sources within State

Intangible personal
property

17952. Income of nonresidents from stocks, bonds, notes, or other intangible personal property is not income from sources within this State unless the property has acquired a business situs in this State, except that if a nonresident buys or sells such property in this State or places orders with brokers in this State to buy or sell such property so regularly, systematically, and continuously as to constitute doing business in this State, the profit or gain derived from such activity is income from sources within this State irrespective of the situs of the property.

Estates and
trusts

17953. Income of estates and trusts distributed or distributable to nonresident beneficiaries is income from sources within this State only if distributed or distributable out of income of the estate or trust derived from sources within this State. For the purposes of this section, the nonresident beneficiary shall be deemed to be the owner of intangible personal property from which the income of the estate or trust is derived.

Allocation

17954. Gross income from sources within and without this State shall be allocated and apportioned under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

CHAPTER 12. CREDIT FOR TAXES PAID

Income taxes paid another state or country
Residents

18001. Subject to the following conditions, residents shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes imposed by and paid to another state or country on income taxable under this part:

(a) The credit shall be allowed only for taxes paid to the other state or country on income derived from sources within that state or country which is taxable under its laws irrespective of the residence or domicile of the recipient.

(b) The credit shall not be allowed if the other state or country allows residents of this State a credit against the taxes imposed by that state or country for taxes paid or payable under this part.

(c) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the other state or country and also taxable under this part bears to the taxpayer's entire income upon which the tax is imposed by this part.

Nonresidents

18002. Subject to the following conditions, nonresidents shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes imposed by and paid to the state or country of residence on income taxable under this part:

(a) The credit shall be allowed only if the state or country of residence either does not tax income of residents of this State derived from sources within that state or country or allows residents of this State a credit against the taxes imposed by that state or country on such income for taxes paid or payable thereon under this part.

(b) The credit shall not be allowed for taxes paid to a state or country which allows its residents a credit against the taxes imposed by that state or country for income taxes paid or payable under this part irrespective of whether its residents are allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for income taxes paid to that state or country.

(c) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the taxes paid to the state or country of residence as the income taxable under this part and also subject to tax in the state or country of residence bears to the entire income upon which the taxes paid to the state or country of residence are imposed.

(d) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the state or country of residence and also taxable under this part bears to the entire income taxable under this part.

18003. For the purposes of this article an estate or trust is considered a resident of the state or country which taxes the income of the estate or trust irrespective of whether the income is derived from sources within that state or country.

Residence
of estate
or trust

18004. If an estate or trust is a resident of this State and also a resident of another state or country, it shall notwithstanding the limitations contained in Sections 18001 and 18002, be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes imposed by and paid to the other state or country, subject to the following conditions:

Estate or trust both resident and
non resident

(a) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the taxes paid to the other state or country as the income taxable under this part and also subject to tax in the other state or country bears to the entire income upon which the taxes paid to the other state or country are imposed.

(b) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the other state or country and also taxable under this part bears to the entire income taxable under this part.

18005. A resident beneficiary of an estate or trust who is taxable on the income of the estate or trust under Chapter 9 of this part shall, subject to the following conditions, be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part on such income for net income taxes paid by the estate or trust to another state or country on such income:

Resident
beneficiary

(a) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the tax paid to the other state or country by the estate or trust as the income of the estate or trust which is taxable to the beneficiary under this part and also taxed to the estate or trust in the other state or country bears to the entire income of the estate or trust upon which the taxes paid to the other state or country were imposed.

(b) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income of the estate or trust which is taxable to the beneficiary under this part and also taxed to the estate or trust in the other state or country bears to the beneficiary's entire income upon which the tax is imposed by this part.

Partner of partnership taxed by another
state

18006. (a) A member of a partnership who is taxable on the income thereof shall, subject to the conditions prescribed in (b) and (c), be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part on such income for net income taxes paid by the partnership to another state or country on such income.

(b) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the tax paid to such other state or country by the partnership as the income of the partnership which is taxable to the partner under this law and also taxed to the partnership in such other state or country bears to the entire income of the partnership upon which the taxes paid to such other state or country were imposed.

(c) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this law as the income of the partnership which is taxable to the partner under this law and also taxed to the partnership in such other state or country bears to the partner's entire income upon which the tax is imposed by this law.

report

18007. If any taxes paid to another state or country for which a taxpayer has been allowed a credit under this article are at any time credited or refunded to the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall immediately report that fact to the Franchise Tax Board.

Tax on

18008. A tax equal to the credit allowed for the taxes credited or refunded by the other state or country is due and payable from the taxpayer upon notice and demand from the Franchise Tax Board.

Interest

18009. Interest shall be added to and collected as a part of the tax at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date the credit was allowed under this part to the date of the notice and demand.

Same

18010. If the tax and interest are not paid within 10 days from the date of notice and demand, there shall be collected as a part of the tax interest upon the unpaid amount of tax and interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date of the notice and demand until the amount is paid.

Credit not allowed if invalid discrimination

18011. The credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes paid to another state or country shall not be allowed to any taxpayer or any class of taxpayers if the allowance of the credit will result in an invalid or illegal discrimination against another taxpayer or another class of taxpayers.

CHAPTER 13. GAIN OR LOSS ON DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY

Article 1. Determination of Amount of Gain or Loss

Determina-
tion of
gain or loss

18031. (a) The gain from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the excess of the amount realized therefrom over the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041 for determining gain, and the loss shall be the excess of the adjusted basis provided in such section for determining loss over the amount realized.

(b) The amount realized from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the sum of any money received plus the fair market value of the property (other than money) received.

(c) In the case of a sale or exchange of property, the extent to which the gain or loss determined under this section shall be recognized for purposes of this part shall be determined under Section 18032.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent (in the case of property sold under contract providing for payment in installments) the taxation of that portion of any installment payment representing gain or profit in the year in which such payment is received.

18032. Except as otherwise provided in this part, on the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss, determined under Section 18031, shall be recognized. Recognition of entire gain or loss

Article 2. Basic Rules of General Application

18041. The adjusted basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, whenever acquired, shall be the basis (determined under Section 18042 or other applicable sections of this chapter and Chapters 4 (relating to corporate distributions and adjustments), 10 (relating to partners and partnerships), and 14 (relating to capital gains and losses)), adjusted as provided in Sections 18052 and 18053. Adjusted basis

18042. The basis of property shall be the cost of such property, except as otherwise provided in this chapter and Chapters 4 (relating to corporate distributions and adjustments), 10 (relating to partners and partnerships), and 14 (relating to capital gains and losses). Basis. Cost of property

18043. If the property should have been included in the last inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value thereof. Inventory value

18044. Except as otherwise provided in this article, the basis of property in the hands of a person acquiring the property from a decedent or to whom the property passed from a decedent shall, if not sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of before the decedent's death by such person, be the fair market value of the property at the time of its acquisition. Property acquired from decedent

18045. For purposes of Section 18044, the following property shall be considered to have been acquired from or to have passed from the decedent: Property considered acquired or passed from decedent

(a) Property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance, or by the decedent's estate from the decedent;

(b) Property transferred by the decedent during his lifetime in trust to pay the income for life to or on the order or direction of the decedent, with the right reserved to the decedent at all times before his death to revoke the trust;

(c) Property transferred by the decedent during his lifetime in trust to pay the income for life to or on the order or direction of the decedent with the right reserved to the decedent at all times before his death to make any change in the enjoyment thereof through the exercise of a power to alter, amend, or terminate the trust;

(d) Property passing without full and adequate consideration under a general power of appointment exercised by the decedent by will;

(e) In the case of decedents dying after April 8, 1953, property which represents the surviving spouse's one-half share of community property held by the decedent and the surviving spouse under the community property laws of any state, territory, or possession of the United States or any foreign country, if at least one-half of the whole of the community interest in such property was includible in determining the value of the decedent's gross estate under Chapter 3 of the California Inheritance Tax Law.

(f) In the case of decedents dying after December 31, 1952, property which represents the survivor's interest in a joint and survivor's annuity if the value of any part of such interest was required to be included in determining the value of decedent's gross estate under the California Inheritance Tax Law.

(g) In the case of decedents dying after December 31, 1954, property acquired from the decedent by reason of death, form of ownership, or other conditions (including property acquired through the exercise or nonexercise of a power of appointment), if by reason thereof the property is required to be included in determining the value of the decedent's estate under Division 2, Part 8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. In such case, if the property is acquired before the death of the decedent, the basis shall be the amount determined under Section 18044 reduced by the amount allowed to the taxpayer as deductions in computing taxable income under this part or prior income tax laws or exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion on such property before the death of the decedent. Such basis shall be applicable to the property commencing on the death of the decedent. This paragraph shall not apply to—

(A) Property described in any other subsection of this section.

Exceptions

18046. Sections 18044 and 18045 shall not apply to property which constitutes a right to receive an item of income in respect of a decedent under Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive.

18047. Sections 18044 and 18045 shall not apply to restricted stock options described in Sections 17531 to 17540, inclusive, which the employee has not exercised at death.

Property
acquired by gift

18049. If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that if such basis (adjusted for the period before the date of the gift as provided in Sections 18052 and 18053) is greater than the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, then for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be such fair market value. If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee, the Franchise Tax Board shall, if possible, obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner, or any other person cognizant thereof. If the Franchise Tax Board finds it impossible to obtain such facts, the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the Franchise Tax Board as of the date or approximate date at which, according to the best information that the Franchise Tax Board is able to obtain, such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner.

18050. If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a gift, bequest, or devise), the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor on such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

Transfer in trust after December
31, 1920

18051. If the property was acquired by gift or transfer in trust on or before December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the fair market value of such property at the time of such acquisition.

Gift or transfer in trust before December
31, 1920

18052. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made—

Adjustments to basis for capital
expenditures,
depreciation,
etc

(a) For expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items, properly chargeable to capital account, but no such adjustment shall be made—

(1) For taxes or other carrying charges described in Section 17286; or

(2) For expenditures described in Section 17222 (relating to circulation expenditures); for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining taxable income for the taxable year or prior taxable years;

(b) For exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization and depletion, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1935, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this part. However, if a taxpayer has not claimed an amortization deduction for an emergency facility, an adjustment shall be made only to the extent ordinarily provided under Section 17208.

(c) In the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing subsection) for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax-free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1918 (40 Stat. 1057), or the Revenue Act of 1921 (42 Stat. 227), out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921);

(d) In the case of any bond (as defined in Section 17220) the interest on which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part, to the extent of the amortizable bond premium disallowable as a deduction pursuant to Section 17217;

(e) In the case of any short-term municipal bond (as defined in Section 17116), to the extent provided in Section 17115(b);

(f) In the case of a residence the acquisition of which resulted, under Sections 18091 to 18100, inclusive, in the non-recognition of any part of the gain realized on the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of another residence, to the extent provided in Sections 18091 to 18100, inclusive;

(g) In the case of property pledged to the Commodity Credit Corporation, to the extent of the amount received as a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation and treated by the taxpayer as income for the year in which received pursuant to Section 17117, and to the extent of any deficiency on such loan with respect to which the taxpayer has been relieved from liability;

(h) For amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under Section 17690(b) (relating to certain expenditures in the development of mines) and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's taxes under this part, but not less than the amounts allowable under such section for the taxable year and prior years;

(i) For amounts allowed as deductions as deferred expenses under Section 17689(b) (relating to certain exploration expenditures) and resulting in a reduction of the taxpayer's taxes under this part but not less than the amounts allowable under such section for the taxable year and prior years;

(j) For deductions to the extent disallowed under Section 17291 (relating to sale of land with unharvested crops), notwithstanding the provisions of any other subsection of this section.

Adjustments
in substituted basis

18053. Whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, then the adjustments provided in Section 18052 shall be made after first making in respect of such substituted basis proper adjustments of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor, or during which the other property was held by the person for whom the basis is to be determined. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of substituted bases. The term "substituted basis" as used in this section means a basis determined under any provision of this chapter and Chapters 4 (relating to corporate distributions and adjustments), 10 (relating to partners and partnerships), and 14 (relating to capital gains and losses), or under any corresponding provision of a prior income tax law, providing that the basis shall be determined—

(a) By reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor, donor, or grantor; or

(b) By reference to other property held at any time by the person for whom the basis is to be determined.

18054. Where any amount is excluded from gross income under Section 17142(a) (relating to income from discharge of indebtedness) on account of the discharge of indebtedness the whole or a part of the amount so excluded from gross income shall be applied in reduction of the basis of any property held (whether before or after the time of the discharge) by the taxpayer during any portion of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred. The amount to be so applied (not in excess of the amount so excluded from gross income, reduced by the amount of any deduction disallowed under Section 17142(a)) and the particular properties to which the reduction shall be allocated, shall be determined under regulations (prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) in effect at the time of the filing of the consent by the taxpayer referred to in Section 17142(a). The reduction shall be made as of the first day of the taxable year in which the discharge occurred, except in the case of property not held by the taxpayer on such first day, in which case it shall take effect as of the time the holding of the taxpayer began.

Reduction
of basis upon cancellation of indebtedness

18055. Neither the basis nor the adjusted basis of any portion of real property shall, in the case of the lessor of such property, be increased or diminished on account of income derived by the lessor in respect of such property and excludable from gross income under Section 17143 (relating to improvements by lessee on lessor's property). If an amount representing any part of the value of real property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by a lessee in respect of such property was included in gross income of the lessor for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, the basis of each portion of such property shall be properly adjusted for the amount so included in gross income.

Adjustments
for lessee's improvements

Article 3. Common Nontaxable Exchanges

18081. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale, nor stocks, bonds, notes, choses in action, certificates of trust or beneficial interest, or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment.

Exchange for property of like kind

(b) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a), of Section 18101, or of Section 18102, if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such provisions to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

Exchanges
not solely in kind Gains

Loss

(c) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (a), of Section 18101, or of Section 18102, if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such provisions to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

Basis

(d) If property was acquired on an exchange described in this section, Section 18101, or Section 18102, then the basis shall be the same as that of the property exchanged decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain to the taxpayer that was recognized on such exchange. If the property so acquired consisted in part of the type of property permitted by this section, Section 18101, or Section 18102, to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, and in part of other property, the basis provided in this subsection shall be allocated between the properties (other than money) received, and for the purpose of the allocation there shall be assigned to such other property an amount equivalent to its fair market value at the date of the exchange. For purposes of this section, Section 18101, and Section 18102, where as part of the consideration to the taxpayer another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall be considered as money received by the taxpayer on the exchange.

Involuntary
conversion

18082. If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted—

(a) Into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, no gain shall be recognized

(b) Into money, and the disposition of the converted property occurred before January 1, 1953, no gain shall be recognized if such money is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund. If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain shall be recognized to the extent of the money which is not so expended (regardless of whether such money is received in one or more taxable years and regardless of whether or not the money which is not so expended constitutes gain). For the purposes of this section and Section 18083, the term "disposition of the converted property" means the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of the converted property, or the sale or exchange of such property under threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation.

(c) Into money or into property not similar or related in service or use to the converted property, and the disposition of the converted property (as defined in subsection (b)) occurred after December 31, 1952, the gain (if any) shall be recognized except to the extent hereinafter provided in Section 18083.

18083. If the taxpayer during the period specified in Section 18084, for the purpose of replacing the property so converted, purchases other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or purchases stock in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, at the election of the taxpayer the gain shall be recognized only to the extent that the amount realized upon such conversion (regardless of whether such amount is received in one or more taxable years) exceeds the cost of such other property or such stock. Such election shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe. For the purposes of this section—

Property
acquired upon involuntary conversion
election

(a) No property or stock acquired before the disposition of the converted property shall be considered to have been acquired for the purpose of replacing such converted property unless held by the taxpayer on the date of such disposition; and

(b) The taxpayer shall be considered to have purchased property or stock only if, but for the provisions of Section 18088, the unadjusted basis of such property or stock would be its cost within the meaning of Section 18042

18084. The period referred to in Section 18083 shall be the period beginning with the date of the disposition of the converted property, or the earliest date of the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation of the converted property, whichever is the earlier, and ending—

Time
limitation

(a) One year after the close of the first taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized; or

(b) Subject to such terms and conditions as may be specified by the Franchise Tax Board, at the close of such later date as the Franchise Tax Board may designate upon application by the taxpayer. Such application shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe.

18085. If a taxpayer has made the election provided in Section 18083, then: (a) the statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency, for any taxable year in which any part of the gain upon such conversion is realized, attributable to such gain shall not expire prior to the expiration of four years from the date the Franchise Tax Board is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe) of the replacement of the converted property or of an intention not to replace; and (b) such deficiency may be assessed prior to the expiration of such four-year period notwithstanding the provisions of Section 18586 or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

Deficiency
assessment

18086. If the election provided in Section 18083 is made by the taxpayer and such other property or such stock was purchased prior to the beginning of the last taxable year in which any part of the gain upon such conversion is realized, any deficiency, to the extent resulting from such election, for any taxable year ending before such last taxable year may be assessed (notwithstanding the provisions of Section 18586 or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment) at any time before the expiration of the period within which a deficiency for such last taxable year may be assessed.

taxpayer

18087. Sections 18082 to 18086, inclusive, shall not apply in the case of property used by a taxpayer as his principal residence, if the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation of the residence, or the sale or exchange of such residence under threat or imminence thereof, occurs after December 31, 1951, and before January 1, 1955.

Basis of property acquired after February
28, 1913

18088. If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion described in Section 18082(a) or (b), the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property so converted, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer which was not expended in accordance with the provisions of law (applicable to the year in which such conversion was made) determining the taxable status of the gain or loss upon such conversion, and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer recognized upon such conversion under the law applicable to the year in which such conversion was made. This section shall not apply in respect of property acquired as a result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence if the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of such residence, or the sale or exchange of such residence under threat or imminence thereof, occurred after December 31, 1951, and before January 1, 1955. In the case of property purchased by the taxpayer in a transaction described in Sections 18082 to 18086, inclusive, which resulted in the nonrecognition of any part of the gain realized as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion, the basis shall be the cost of such property decreased in the amount of the gain not so recognized; and if the property purchased consists of more than one piece of property, the basis determined under this sentence shall be allocated to the purchased properties in proportion to their respective costs.

Sale of "old residence"
after December
31, 1952

18091. If property (hereinafter in this article called "old residence") used by the taxpayer as his principal residence is sold by him after December 31, 1952, and, within a period beginning one year prior to the date of such sale and ending one year after such date, property (hereinafter in this article called "new residence") is purchased and used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, gain (if any) from such sale shall be recognized only to the extent that the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence exceeds the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence.

18093. For purposes of this article—

(a) An exchange by the taxpayer of his residence for other property shall be treated as a sale of such residence, and the acquisition of a residence on the exchange of property shall be treated as a purchase of such residence. Exchange, involuntary conversion

(b) A residence any part of which was constructed or reconstructed by the taxpayer shall be treated as purchased by the taxpayer. In determining the taxpayer's cost of purchasing a residence, there shall be included only so much of his cost as is attributable to the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, and improvements made which are properly chargeable to capital account, during the period specified in Section 18091.

(c) If a residence is purchased by the taxpayer before the date of his sale of the old residence, the purchased residence shall not be treated as his new residence if sold or otherwise disposed of by him before the date of the sale of the old residence.

(d) If the taxpayer, during the period described in Section 18091, purchases more than one residence which is used by him as his principal residence at some time within one year after the date of the sale of the old residence, only the last of such residences so used by him after the date of such sale shall constitute the new residence.

(e) In the case of a new residence the construction of which was commenced by the taxpayer before the expiration of one year after the date of the sale of the old residence, the period specified in Section 18091, and the one year referred to in subsection (d) of this section, shall be treated as including a period of 18 months beginning with the date of the sale of the old residence.

18095. Where the purchase of a new residence results, under Section 18091 or 17690.1 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, in the nonrecognition of gain upon the sale of an old residence, in determining the adjusted basis of the new residence as of any time following the sale of the old residence, the adjustments to basis shall include a reduction by an amount equal to the amount of the gain not so recognized upon the sale of the old residence. For this purpose, the amount of the gain not so recognized upon the sale of the old residence includes only so much of such gain as is not recognized by reason of the cost, up to such time, of purchasing the new residence. Adjusted basis of new residence

apartment

18096. For the purposes of this article, Section 18052(f), and Section 18169, references to property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, and references to the residence of a taxpayer, shall include stock held by a tenant-stockholder (as defined in Section 17265(b)) in a cooperative apartment as defined in Section 17265(a) if—

(a) In the case of stock sold, the apartment which the taxpayer was entitled to occupy as such stockholder was used by him as his principal residence; and

(b) In the case of stock purchased, the taxpayer used as his principal residence the apartment which he was entitled to occupy as such stockholder.

Allocations between spouses

18097. If the taxpayer and his spouse, in accordance with regulations which shall be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board pursuant to this section, consent to the application of subdivision (b) of this section, then—

(a) For the purposes of this section, the words “taxpayer’s selling price of the old residence” shall mean the selling price (of the taxpayer, or of the taxpayer and his spouse) of the old residence, and the words “taxpayer’s cost of purchasing the new residence” shall mean the cost (to the taxpayer, his spouse, or both) of purchasing the new residence (whether held by the taxpayer, his spouse, or the taxpayer and his spouse); and

(b) So much of the gain upon the sale of the old residence as is not recognized solely by reason of this section, and so much of the adjustment under Section 18095 to the basis of the new residence as results solely from this section shall be allocated between the taxpayer and his spouse as provided in such regulations.

This section shall apply only if the old residence and the new residence are each used by the taxpayer and his spouse as their principal residence. In case the taxpayer and his spouse do not consent to the application of subsection (b) of this section, then the recognition of gain upon the sale of the old residence shall be determined under this article without regard to the rules provided in this section.

Tolling
statute of limitations
Military
service

18098. The running of any period of time specified in Section 18091 or 18093 (other than the one year referred to in Section 18093(d)) shall be suspended during any time that the taxpayer (or his spouse if the old residence and the new residence are each used by the taxpayer and his spouse as their principal residence) serves on extended active duty with the armed forces of the United States after the date of the sale of the old residence and during an induction period (as defined in Section 17025), except that any such period as so suspended shall not extend beyond the date four years after the date of the sale of the old residence. For the purpose of this section, the term “extended active duty” means any period of active duty pursuant to a call or order to such duty for a period in excess of 90 days or for an indefinite period.

18099. (a) For purposes of Sections 18091 to 18098, inclusive, the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of property, or the sale or exchange of property under threat or imminence thereof—

When property destroyed etc., treated as sale

(1) If occurring after December 31, 1952, and before January 1, 1955, shall be treated as the sale of such property; and

(2) If occurring after December 31, 1954, shall not be treated as the sale of such property.

(b) For treatment of residences involuntarily converted after December 31, 1955, see Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive, (relating to involuntary conversions).

18100. If after December 31, 1952, the taxpayer during a taxable year sells at a gain property used by him as his principal residence, then—

Period for deficiency assessment

(a) The statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency attributable to any part of such gain shall not expire prior to the expiration of four years from the date the Franchise Tax Board is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the board may by regulations prescribe) of—

(1) The taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence which the taxpayer claims results in nonrecognition of any part of such gain;

(2) The taxpayer's intention not to purchase a new residence within the period specified in Section 18091; or

(3) A failure to make such purchase within such period; and

(b) Such deficiency may be assessed prior to the expiration of such four-year period notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

18101. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized on the exchange of—

Exchange for annuity contract

(1) A contract of life insurance for another contract of life insurance or for an endowment or annuity contract; or

(2) A contract of endowment insurance (A) for another contract of endowment insurance which provides for regular payments beginning at a date not later than the date payments would have begun under the contract exchanged, or (B) for an annuity contract; or

(3) An annuity contract for an annuity contract.

(b) For the purpose of this section—

(1) A contract of endowment insurance is a contract with a life insurance company which depends in part on the expectancy of the insured, but which may be payable in a single payment during his life.

(2) An annuity contract is a contract to which paragraph (1) applies but which may be payable during the life annuitant only in installments.

(3) A contract of life insurance is a contract to which paragraph (1) applies but which is not ordinarily payable full during the life of the insured.

(c) (1) For rules relating to recognition of gain or loss where an exchange is not solely in kind, see subsections (b) and (c) of Section 18081.

(2) For rules relating to the basis of property acquired in an exchange described in subsection (a), see subsection (d) of Section 18081.

Exchange of stock for stock in same
corporation

18102. (a) No gain or loss shall be recognized if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation, or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation.

(b) (1) For rules relating to recognition of gain or loss where an exchange is not solely in kind, see subsections (b) and (c) of Section 18081.

(2) For rules relating to the basis of property acquired in an exchange described in subsection (a), see subsection (d) of Section 18081.

Article 4. Special Rules

Special
rules for determining
basis

18111. (a) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1934, and the basis thereof, for purposes of the Revenue Act of 1932 was prescribed by Section 113(a)(6), (7), or (9) or such act (47 Stat. 199), then for purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1932.

(b) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, and the basis thereof, for purposes of the Revenue Act of 1934, was prescribed by Section 113(a)(6), (7), or (8) of such act (48 Stat. 706), then for purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1934.

(c) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in a transaction to which the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 applied, and the basis thereof, for purposes of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, was prescribed by Section 17747, 17751, 17755, 17756, 17757, 17758, or 17788 of such law, then for purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954.

18112. In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, if the basis otherwise determined under this part, adjusted (for the period before March 1, 1913) as provided in Sections 18052 and 18053, is less than the fair market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, then the basis for determining gain shall be such fair market value. In determining the fair market value of stock in a corporation as of March 1, 1913, due regard shall be given to the fair market value of the assets of the corporation as of that date.

Article 5. Exchanges to Effectuate F. C. C. Policy

18121. (a) If the sale or exchange of property (including stock in a corporation) is certified by the Federal Communications Commission to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the commission with respect to the ownership and control of radio broadcasting stations, such sale or exchange shall, if the taxpayer so elects, be treated as an involuntary conversion of such property within the meaning of Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive. For purposes of such sections as made applicable by the provisions of this section, stock of a corporation operating a radio broadcasting station, whether or not representing control of such corporation, shall be treated as property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted. The part of the gain, if any, on such sale or exchange to which Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive, is not applied shall nevertheless not be recognized, if the taxpayer so elects, to the extent that it is applied to reduce the basis for determining gain or loss on sale or exchange of property of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under Sections 17208 and 17209, inclusive, remaining in the hands of the taxpayer immediately after the sale or exchange, or acquired in the same taxable year. The manner and amount of such reduction shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Any election made by the taxpayer under this section shall be made by a statement to that effect in his return for the taxable year in which the sale or exchange takes place, and such election shall be binding for the taxable year and all subsequent taxable years.

Exchanges to effectuate
F C C policy

(b) For basis of property acquired on a sale or exchange treated as an involuntary conversion under subsection (a), see Section 18088.

Article 6. Exchanges in Obedience to S. E. C. Orders

18131. No gain or loss shall be recognized to a shareholder from a distribution of stocks or securities in liquidation of a corporation made pursuant to an order of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission under authority vested in it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended.

Exchanges in obedience to S E C orders Nonrecogni-
tion of
gain or loss

18132. (a) If an exchange would be within the provisions of Section 18131 if it were not for the fact that property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such section to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property, and the loss, if any, to the recipient shall not be recognized.

Exchanges
not solely
in kind

(b) If an exchange is within the provisions of subsection (a) and if it includes a distribution which has the effect of the distribution of a taxable dividend, then there shall be taxed as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under such subsection as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under subsection (a) shall be taxed as a gain from the exchange of property.

Limitations

18133. The provisions of Section 18131 shall not apply to an exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale unless—

(a) The order of the Securities and Exchange Commission in obedience to which such exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale was made recites that such exchange, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of Section 11(b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (49 Stat. 820; 15 U. S. C. 79k(b));

(b) Such order specifies and itemizes the stock and securities and other property which are ordered to be acquired, transferred, received, or sold on such exchange, acquisition, expenditure, distribution, or sale, and, in the case of an investment, the investment to be made; and

(c) Such exchange, acquisition, expenditure, investment, distribution, or sale was made in obedience to such order, and was completed within the time prescribed therefor.

Application

18134. If a distribution described in Section 18131, or an exchange or distribution made in obedience to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission, is within any of the provisions of this article and may also be considered to be within any of the other provisions of this chapter and Chapter 4 (Section 17321 and following, relating to corporate distributions and adjustments), then the provisions of this article only shall apply.

Basis
Securities
acquired after January 1, 1939

18135. In the case of stocks or securities received by a taxpayer on or after January 1, 1939, under circumstances described in Section 18131 the basis of such stocks or securities shall be the same as that of the stocks or securities for the surrender of which they were acquired.

Article 7. Wash Sales of Stock or Securities

Wash sales of stock or securities
loss

18141. In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained from any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that, within a period beginning 30 days before the date of the sale or disposition and ending 30 days after that date, the taxpayer has acquired (by purchase or by an exchange upon which the entire amount of gain or loss was recognized by law) or has entered into a contract or option so to acquire, substantially identical stock or securities, then no deduction for the loss shall be allowed.

If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which is not deductible shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is not less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility of the loss shall be determined under the rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

18142. If the property consists of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under this section or corresponding provisions of prior income tax laws) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, then the basis shall be the basis of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference, if any, between the price at which the property was acquired and the price at which such substantially identical stock or securities were sold or otherwise disposed of. Basis

CHAPTER 14. CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES

Article 1. Gain or Loss Taken Into Account

18151. In the case of any taxpayer, only the following percentages of the gain or loss recognized upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset shall be taken into account in computing taxable income: Capital gain or loss Percentage recognized

One hundred percent if the capital asset has been held for not more than one year;

Eighty percent if the capital asset has been held for more than one year but not for more than two years;

Sixty percent if the capital asset has been held for more than two years but not more than five years;

Forty percent if the capital asset has been held for more than five years but not for more than ten years;

Thirty percent if the capital asset has been held for more than ten years.

18152. Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent of two thousand dollars ($2,000) plus the gains from such sales or exchanges. Limitation on capital losses

However, in the case of a joint return by husband and wife, losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent of four thousand dollars ($4,000) plus the gains from such sales or exchanges.

Article 2. General Rules for Determining Capital Gains and Losses

"Capital asset"

18161. For purposes of this part, the term "capital asset" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include—

(a) Stock in trade of the taxpayer or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business;

(b) Property, used in his trade or business, of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Sections 17208 and 17209. or real property used in his trade or business;

(c) A copyright, a literary, musical, or artistic composition, or similar property, held by—

(1) A taxpayer whose personal efforts created such property; or

(2) A taxpayer in whose hands the basis of such property is determined, for the purpose of determining gain from a sale or exchange, in whole or in part by reference to the basis of such property in the hands of the person whose personal efforts created such property;

(d) Accounts or notes receivable acquired in the ordinary course of trade or business for services rendered or from the sale of property described in subsection (a).

Holding
period of
property
Computation

18163. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property received in an exchange, there shall be included the period for which he held the property exchanged if, under this part, the property has, for the purpose of determining gain or loss from a sale or exchange, the same basis in whole or in part in his hands as the property exchanged, and, in the case of such exchanges after December 31, 1954, the property exchanged at the time of such exchange was a capital asset as defined in Section 18161 or property described in Section 18181 or 18182. For purposes of this section—

(a) An involuntary conversion described in Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive, shall be considered an exchange of the property converted for the property acquired; and

(b) A distribution to which Section 17433 or 17434 (or so much of Section 17435 as relates to Section 17433 or 17434) applies shall be treated as an exchange.

Tacking on holding periods

18164. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property however acquired there shall be included the period for which such property was held by any other person, if under this part such property has, for the purpose of determining gain or loss from a sale or exchange, the same basis in whole or in part in his hands as it would have in the hands of such other person.

18165. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities received upon a distribution where no gain was recognized to the distributee under Section 18132 (or under Section 112(g) of the Revenue Act of 1928, 45 Stat. 818, or the Revenue Act of 1932, 48 Stat. 705), there shall be included the period for which he held the stock or securities in the distributing corporation before the receipt of the stock or securities on such distribution.

Holding in distributing corporation
receipt

18166. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the non-deductibility (under Section 18141 relating to wash sales) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, there shall be included the period for which he held the stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which was not deductible.

Effect of
wash sales

18167. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or rights to acquire stock received on a distribution, if the basis of such stock or rights is determined under Section 17348 (or under so much of Section 18111(c) as refers to Section 17788 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954), there shall (under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) be included the period for which he held the stock in the distributing corporation before the receipt of such stock or rights upon such distribution.

Stock
options

18168. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities acquired from a corporation by the exercise of rights to acquire such stock or securities, there shall be included only the period beginning with the date on which the right to acquire was exercised.

Exercise of option

18169. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held a residence, the acquisition of which resulted under Sections 18091 to 18100, inclusive, in the nonrecognition of any part of the gain realized on the sale or exchange of another residence, there shall be included the period for which such other residence had been held as of the date of such sale or exchange. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "sale or exchange" includes an involuntary conversion occurring after December 31, 1952, and before January 1, 1955.

Sale or
residence

18170. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held a commodity acquired in satisfaction of a commodity futures contract there shall be included the period for which he held the commodity futures contract if such commodity futures contract was a capital asset in his hands.

Commodity
contract

18171. Any reference in Sections 18163 to 18170, inclusive, to a provision of this part shall, where applicable, be deemed a reference to the corresponding provision of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, or prior income tax laws.

Construction

Article 3. Special Rules for Determining Capital Gains and Losses

Computation
of capital gains and losses
Property used in trade or business, etc

18181. (a) If during the taxable year, the recognized gains upon sales or exchanges of property used in the trade or business, plus the recognized gains from the compulsory or involuntary conversion, as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof, of property used in the trade or business and capital assets into other property or money, exceed the recognized losses from the sales, exchanges, and conversions, the gains and losses shall be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. If the gains do not exceed the losses, the gains and losses shall not be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets.

(b) In determining, for purposes of subsection (a), whether gains exceed losses, the gains and losses described therein shall be included only if and to the extent taken into account in computing taxable income except that Sections 18151 and 18152 shall not apply.

(c) For purposes of subsection (a), losses upon the destruction, in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or requisition or condemnation of property used in the trade or business or capital assets shall be considered losses from a compulsory or involuntary conversion.

"Property
used in trade or
business"

18182. (a) For the purposes of Section 18181, the term "property used in the trade or business" means property used in the trade or business, of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17208 and real property used in the trade or business, which is not.

(1) Property of a kind which would properly be includible in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year; or

(2) Property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business; or

(3) A copyright, a literary, musical or artistic composition, or similar property, held by a taxpayer described in Section 18161(c).

(b) Such term also includes timber with respect to which Sections 17711 and 17712 are applicable. Such term also includes livestock, regardless of age, held by the taxpayer for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes, and held by him for 12 months or more from the date of acquisition. It does not include poultry.

(c) In the case of an unharvested crop on land used in the trade or business and held for more than one year, if the crop and the land are sold or exchanged (or compulsorily or involuntarily converted as described in Section 18181) at the same time and to the same person, the crop shall be considered as "property used in the trade or business."

18183. For the purpose of this part, in the case of bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates or other evidences of indebtedness, which are capital assets in the hands of the tax payer, and which are issued by any corporation, or government or political subdivision thereof—

Bonds and other evidences of indebtedness

(a) Amounts received by the holder on retirement of such bonds or other evidences of indebtedness shall be considered as amounts received in exchange therefor (except that in the case of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued before January 1, 1955, this paragraph shall apply only to those issued with interest coupons or in registered form, or to those in such form on December 31, 1954).

(b) (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), upon sale or exchange of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued after December 31, 1954, any gain realized which does not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the original issue discount (as defined in Section 18184) as the number of complete months that the bond or other evidences of indebtedness were held by the taxpayer bears to the number of complete months from the date of original issue to the date of maturity, shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is not a capital asset. Gain in excess of such amount shall be considered gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset.

(2) This subsection shall not apply to—

Exceptions

(A) Obligations the interest on which is not includible in gross income under Section 17137 (relating to certain governmental obligations); or

(B) Any holder who has purchased the bond or other evidence of indebtedness at a premium.

(3) In the case of obligations with respect to which the taxpayer has made an election provided by Section 17581 (relating to accounting rules for certain obligations issued at a discount), this section shall not require the inclusion of any amount previously includible in gross income.

18184. (a) For purposes of Section 18183, the term “original issue discount” means the difference between the issue price and the stated redemption price at maturity. If the original issue discount is less than one-fourth of 1 percent of the redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years to maturity, then the issue discount shall be considered to be zero. For purposes of this subsection, the term “stated redemption price at maturity” means the amount fixed by the last modification of the purchase agreement and includes dividends payable at that time.

“Original issue discount”

(b) In the case of issues of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the term “issue price” means the initial offering price to the public (excluding bond houses and brokers) at which price a substantial amount of such bonds or other evidences of indebtedness were sold. In the case of privately placed issues of bonds or other evidence of indebtedness, the issue price of each such bond or other evidence of indebtedness is the price paid by the first buyer of such bond. For purposes of this subsection, the terms "initial offering price" and "price paid by the first buyer" include the aggregate payments made by the purchaser under the purchase agreement, including modifications thereof.

"Date of original issue"

(c) In the case of issues of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the term "date of original issue" means the date on which the issue was first sold to the public at the issue price. In the case of privately placed issues of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, the term "date of original issue" means the date on which each such bond or other evidence of indebtedness was sold by the issuer.

18185. If—

Bonds with excess number of coupons attached

(a) A bond or other evidence of indebtedness issued at any time with interest coupons is purchased after the date of enactment of this part; and then the gain on the sale or other disposition of such evidence of indebtedness by such purchaser shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is not a capital asset to the extent that the market value (determined as of the time of the purchase) of the evidence of indebtedness with coupons attached exceeds the purchase price. If this section and Section 18183(b)(1) apply with respect to gain realized on the retirement of any bond, then Section 18183(b)(1) shall apply with respect to that part of the gain to which this section does not apply.

(b) The purchaser does not receive all the coupons which first become payable more than 12 months after the date of the purchase;

Gain or loss from short sale

18186. For purposes of this part, gain or loss from the short sale of property shall be considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset.

Option to buy or sell real property

18191. Gain or loss attributable to the sale or exchange of, or loss on failure to exercise, a privilege or option to buy or sell property which in the hands of the taxpayer constitutes (or if acquired would constitute) a capital asset shall be considered gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for one year or less.

Transfer of patents

18192. A transfer (other than by gift, inheritance, or devise) of property consisting of all substantial rights to a patent, or an undivided interest therein which includes a part of all such rights, by any holder shall be considered the sale or exchange of a capital asset, regardless of whether or not payments in consideration of such transfer are—

(a) Payable periodically over a period generally coterminous with the transferee's use of the patent; or

(b) Contingent on the productivity, use, or disposition of the property transferred.

"Holder"

18193. For purposes of Section 18192, the term "holder" means—

(a) Any individual whose efforts created such property; or
(b) Any other individual who has acquired his interest in such property in exchange for consideration in money or money's worth paid to such creator prior to actual reduction to practice of the invention covered by the patent, if such individual is neither—

(1) The employer of such creator; nor

(2) Related to such creator (within the meaning of Section 18195).

18194. Section 18192 shall be applicable with regard to any amounts received, or payments made, pursuant to a transfer described in Section 18192 in any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1954. Application

18195. Section 18192 shall not apply to any sale or exchange between an individual and any other related person (as defined in Section 17288), except brothers and sisters, whether by the whole or half blood. Related persons

18196. (a) Gain by a dealer in securities from the sale or exchange of any security shall in no event be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset unless— Dealers in securities

(1) The security was, before the expiration of the thirtieth day after the date of its acquisition, clearly identified in the dealer's records as a security held for investment or if acquired before March 8, 1953, was so identified before April 8, 1953; and

(2) The security was not, at any time after the expiration of such thirtieth day, held by such dealer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

(b) Loss by a dealer in securities from the sale or exchange of any security shall in no event be considered as loss from the sale or exchange of property which is not a capital asset if at any time after April 8, 1953, the security was clearly identified in the dealer's records as a security held for investment.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "security" means any share of stock in any corporation, certificate of stock or interest in any corporation, note, bond, debenture, or evidence of indebtedness, or any evidence of an interest in or right to subscribe to or purchase any of the foregoing.

18197. Any lot or parcel which is part of a tract of real property in the hands of a taxpayer shall not be deemed to be held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of trade or business at the time of sale solely because of the taxpayer having subdivided such tract for purposes of sale or because of any activity incident to such subdivision or sale, if— Real property held for sale

(a) Such tract, or any lot or parcel thereof, had not previously been held by such taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of trade or business (unless such tract at such previous time would have been covered by this section) or, in the same taxable year in which the sale occurs, such taxpayer does not so hold any other real property; and

(b) No substantial improvement that substantially enhances the value of the lot or parcel sold is made by the taxpayer on such tract while held by the taxpayer or is made pursuant to a contract of sale entered into between the taxpayer and the buyer. For purposes of this subsection, an improvement shall be deemed to be made by the taxpayer if such improvement was made by—

(1) The taxpayer or members of his family (as defined in Section 17289(d)), by a corporation controlled by the taxpayer, or by a partnership which included the taxpayer as a partner; or

(2) A lessee, but only if the improvement constitutes income to the taxpayer; or

(3) Federal, state, or local government, or political subdivision thereof, but only if the improvement constitutes an addition to basis for the taxpayer; and

(c) Such lot or parcel, except in the case of real property acquired by inheritance or devise, is held by the taxpayer for a period of five years.

Where
more than five lots, etc., in same tract sold

18198. (a) If more than five lots or parcels contained in the same tract of real property are sold or exchanged, gain from any sale or exchange (which occurs in or after the taxable year in which the sixth lot or parcel is sold or exchanged) of any lot or parcel which comes within the provisions of Section 18197 shall be deemed to be gain from the sale of property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business to the extent of 5 percent of the selling price.

(b) For the purpose of computing gain under subsection (a), expenditures incurred in connection with the sale or exchange of any lot or parcel shall neither be allowed as a deduction in computing taxable income, nor treated as reducing the amount realized on such sale or exchange; but so much of such expenditures as does not exceed the portion of gain deemed under subsection (a) to be gain from the sale of property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of trade or business shall be so allowed as a deduction, and the remainder, if any, shall be treated as reducing the amount realized on such sale or exchange.

(c) No improvement shall be deemed a substantial improvement for purposes of Section 18197 if the lot or parcel is held by the taxpayer for a period of 10 years and if—

(1) Such improvement is the building or installation of water or sewer facilities or roads (if such improvement would except for this paragraph constitute a substantial improvement);

(2) It is shown to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the lot or parcel, the value of which was substantially enhanced by such improvement, would not have been marketable at the prevailing local price for similar building sites without such improvement; and

(3) The taxpayer elects, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to make no adjustment to basis of the lot or parcel, or of any other property owned by the taxpayer, on account of the expenditures for such improvements. Such election shall not make any item deductible which would not otherwise be deductible.

18199. For the purposes of Sections 18197 and 18198, the term "tract of real property" means a single piece of real property, except that two or more pieces of real property shall be considered a tract if at any time they were contiguous in the hands of the taxpayer or if they would be contiguous except for the interposition of a road, street, railroad, stream, or similar property. If, following the sale or exchange of any lot or parcel from a tract of real property, no further sales or exchanges of any other lots or parcels from the remainder of such tract are made for a period of five years, such remainder shall be deemed a tract.

18200. Gain from the sale or exchange of property, to the extent that the adjusted basis of such property is less than its adjusted basis determined without regard to Section 17208 (relating to amortization deduction of emergency facilities), shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in Sections 18181 and 18182.

18201. (a) In the case of a sale or exchange, directly or indirectly, of property described in subsection (b)—

(1) Between a husband and wife; or

(2) Between an individual and a corporation more than 80 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned by such individual, his spouse, and his minor children and minor grandchildren;

any gain recognized to the transferor from the sale or exchange of such property shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in Sections 18181 and 18182.

(b) This section shall apply only in the case of a sale or exchange by a transferor of property which in the hands of the transferee is property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Sections 17208 and 17209.

18202. Amounts received from the assignment of release by an employee, after more than 20 years' employment, of all his rights to receive, after termination of his employment and for a period of not less than five years (or for a period ending with his death), a percentage of future profits or receipts of his employer shall be considered an amount received from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than two years but not more than five years, if—

(a) Such rights were included in the terms of the employment of such employee for not less than 12 years;

(b) Such rights were included in the terms of the employment of such employee before the date of enactment of this part; and

(c) The total of the amounts received for such assignment or release is received in one taxable year and after the termination of such employment.

Cancellation
of lease or distributor's agreement

18203. Amounts received by a lessee for the cancellation of a lease, or by a distributor of goods for the cancellation of a distributor's agreement (if the distributor has a substantial capital investment in the distributorship), shall be considered as amounts received in exchange for such lease or agreement.

CHAPTER 15. READJUSTMENT OF TAX BETWEEN YEARS AND SPECIAL LIMITATIONS

Article 1. Income Attributable to Several Taxable Years

Income attributable to several taxable
years

18241. (a) If an individual or partnership—

(1) Engages in an employment as defined in subsection (b); and

(2) The employment covers a period of 36 months or more (from the beginning to the completion of such employment); and

from employment

(3) The gross compensation from the employment received or accrued in the taxable year of the individual or partnership is not less than 80 percent of the total compensation from such employment;

then the tax attributable to any part of the compensation which is included in the gross income of any individual shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes attributable to such part had it been included in the gross income of such individual ratably over that part of the period which precedes the date of such receipt or accrual.

"An employment"

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "an employment" means an arrangement or series of arrangements for the performance of personal services by an individual or partnership to effect a particular result, regardless of the number of sources from which compensation therefor is obtained.

(c) An individual who is a member of a partnership receiving or accruing compensation from an employment of the type described in subsection (a) shall be entitled to the benefits of that subsection only if the individual has been a member of the partnership continuously for a period of 36 months or the period of the employment immediately preceding the receipt or accrual. In such a case the tax attributable to the part of the compensation which is includible in the gross income of the individual shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes which would have been attributable to that part had it been included in the gross income of the individual ratably over the period in which it was earned or the period during which the individual continuously was a member of the partnership, whichever period is the shorter. For purposes of this subsection, a member of a partnership shall be deemed to have been a member of the partnership for any period, ending immediately prior to becoming such a member, in which he was an employee of such partnership, if during the taxable year he received or accrued compensation attributable to employment by the partnership during such period.

18242. (a) If—

(1) An individual includes in gross income amounts in respect of a particular invention or artistic work created by the individual; and Inventions and artistic works

(2) The work on the invention or the artistic work covered a period of 24 months or more (from the beginning to the completion thereof); and

(3) The amounts in respect of the invention or the artistic work includible in gross income for the taxable year are not less than 80 percent of the gross income in respect of such invention or artistic work in the taxable year plus the gross income therefrom in previous taxable years and the 12 months immediately succeeding the close of the taxable year;

then the tax attributable to the part of such gross income of the taxable year which is not taxable as a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes attributable to such part had it been received ratably over, in the case of an invention, that part of the period preceding the close of the taxable year or 60 months, whichever is shorter, or, in the case of an artistic work, that part of the period preceding the close of the taxable year but not more than 36 months.

(b) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term “invention” means a patent covering an invention of the individual. “Invention”

(2) The term “artistic work” means a literary, musical, or artistic composition or a copyright covering a literary, musical, or artistic composition. “Artistic work”

18243. If the amount of the back pay received or accrued by an individual during the taxable year exceeds 15 percent of the gross income of the individual for such year, the part of the tax attributable to the inclusion of such back pay in gross income for the taxable year shall not be greater than the aggregate of the increases in the taxes which would have resulted from the inclusion of the respective portions of such back pay in gross income for the taxable years to which such portions are respectively attributable, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Back pay exceeding 15 percent of gross income

18244. For purposes of Section 18243, the term “back pay” means amounts includible in gross income under this part which are one of the following— “Back pay”

(a) Remuneration, including wages, salaries, retirement pay, and other similar compensation, which is received or accrued during the taxable year by an employee for services performed before the taxable year for his employer and which would have been paid before the taxable year except for the intervention of one of the following events:

(1) Bankruptcy or receivership of the employer;
(2) Dispute as to the liability of the employer to pay such remuneration, which is determined after the commencement of court proceedings;

(3) If the employer is the United States, a state, a territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing, lack of funds appropriated to pay such remuneration; or

(4) Any other event determined to be similar in nature under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) Wages or salaries which are received or accrued during the taxable year by an employee for services performed before the taxable year for his employer and which constitute retroactive wage or salary increases ordered, recommended, or approved by any federal or state agency, and made retroactive to any period before the taxable year.

(c) Payments which are received or accrued during the taxable year as the result of an alleged violation by an employer of any state or federal law relating to labor standards or practices, and which are determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to be attributable to a prior year.

Computation

18245. (a) For purposes of this article, a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it should be considered as a month.

(b) For the purpose of computing the tax attributable to the amount of an item of gross income allocable under this article to a particular taxable year, such amount shall be considered income only of the person who would be required to include the item of gross income in a separate return filed for the taxable year in which such item was received or accrued.

(c) Subsection (c) of Section 18241 and subsection (b) of this section shall apply only to amounts received or accrued after December 31, 1954. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, Sections 17054 to 17059, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall apply to amounts received or accrued as a partner on or before December 31, 1954, under this section and to the computation of tax on amounts received or accrued on or before December 31, 1954.

Article 2. War Loss Recoveries

War loss recoveries

18301. On the recovery in the taxable year of any money or property in respect of property considered under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, the amount of such recovery shall be included in gross income to the extent provided in Sections 18302 and 18303, unless Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, apply to the taxable year pursuant to an election made by the taxpayer under Section 18309.

18302. The amount of the recovery of any money or property in respect of property considered under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of such money and the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery.

Amount of
recovery

18303. (a) To the extent that the amount of the recovery plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous such recoveries do not exceed that part of the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under any prior income tax law, such amount shall not be includible in gross income and shall not be deemed gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure.

Amount

income

(b) To the extent that such amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous such recoveries exceed that part of the aggregate of such deductions, which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under such income tax law and do not exceed that part of the aggregate of such deductions which did result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under such laws, such amount shall be included in gross income but shall not be deemed a gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure.

Portion
income

(c) To the extent that such amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous such recoveries exceed the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, such amount shall be considered a gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure and shall be recognized or not recognized as provided in Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive, (relating to involuntary conversions).

Portion
treated as gain on involuntary
conversion

(d) If for any previous taxable year the taxpayer chose under Sections 17334 to 17336, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 to treat any obligations and liabilities as discharged or satisfied out of the property or interest described in such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, and if such obligations and liabilities were not so discharged or satisfied, the amount of such obligations and liabilities treated as discharged or satisfied under such Sections 17334 to 17336, inclusive, shall be considered for purposes of this part as a deduction by reason of such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954.

Obligations
not discharged

(e) For purposes of this section, an allowable deduction for any taxable year on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, shall, to the extent not allowed in computing the tax of the taxpayer for such taxable year, be considered an allowable benefits.

Amount of recovery

18304. If this article applies to the taxable year pursuant to an election made by the taxpayer under Section 18309 the amount of the recovery in the taxable year of any money or property in respect of property considered under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of such money and the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery. For purposes of Sections 18304 to 18306, inclusive, in the case of the recovery of the same property or interest considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized, the fair market value of such property or interest shall, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered an amount equal to the adjusted basis (for determining loss) of such property or interest in the hands of the taxpayer on the date such property or interest was considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized. The amount of the recovery determined under this paragraph shall be reduced for purposes of Sections 18305 and 18306 by the amount of the obligations or liabilities with respect to the property considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized in respect of which the recovery was received, if the taxpayer for any previous taxable year chose under Section 17335 of such law to treat such obligations or liabilities as discharged or satisfied out of such property, and such obligations or liabilities were not so discharged or satisfied before the date of the recovery.

Adjustment
for prior tax benefits

18305. That part of the amount of the recovery, in respect of any property considered under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, which is not in excess of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of such destruction or seizure of the property (the amount of such allowable deductions being first reduced by the aggregate amount of any prior recoveries in respect of the same property) shall be excluded from gross income for the taxable year of the recovery for purposes of computing the tax under this part; but there shall be added to, and assessed and collected as a part of, the tax under this part for the taxable year of the recovery the total increase in the tax under Chapter 2 of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 for all taxable years which would result by decreasing, in an amount equal to such part of the recovery so excluded, such deductions allowable in the prior taxable years with respect to the destruction or seizure of the property. Such increase in the tax for each such year so resulting shall be computed in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Such regulations shall give effect to previous recoveries of any kind (including recoveries described in Section 17144, relating to recovery of bad debts, etc.) with respect to any prior year, and shall provide for the case where there was no tax for the prior year (relating to corrections of errors). All credits allowable against the tax for any year shall be taken into account in computing the increase in the tax.

18306. The amount of any recovery or part thereof, in respect of property considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized, which is not excluded from gross income under Section 18305, shall be considered for the taxable year of the recovery as gain on the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure and shall be recognized or not recognized as provided in Sections 18082 to 18088, inclusive. Gain on recovery

18307. For purposes of Sections 18401 to 18405, inclusive, (relating to persons required to make income tax returns), the recovery in the taxable year of any money or property in respect of property considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 as destroyed or seized in any prior taxable year shall be deemed to be an item includible in gross income for the taxable year in which the recovery is made. Recovery of seized, etc., property treated as ordinary income

18309. If the taxpayer elects to have Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, apply to any taxable year in which he recovered any money or property in respect of property considered under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as destroyed or seized, Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, shall apply to all taxable years of the taxpayer beginning after December 31, 1941, and such election, once made, shall be irrevocable. The election shall be made in such manner and at such time as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, except that no election under this section may be made unless the taxpayer recovers money or property (in respect of property considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized) during the taxable year for which the election is made. If pursuant to such election Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, apply to any taxable year— Election by taxpayer

(a) The period of limitations provided in Chapter 18 on the making of assessments and the beginning of distraint or a proceeding in court for collection shall not, with respect to—

(1) The amount to be added to the tax for such taxable year under Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive; and

(2) Any deficiency for such taxable year or for any other taxable year, to the extent attributable to the basis of the recovered property being determined under Section 18311 (b);

expire before the expiration of two years following the date of the making of such election, and such amount and such deficiency may be assessed at any time before the expiration of such period notwithstanding any law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment and collection, and

(b) In case refund or credit of any overpayment resulting from the application of Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, to such taxable year is prevented on the date of the making of such election, or within one year from such date, by the operation of any law or rule of law, refund or credit of such overpayment may, nevertheless, be made or allowed if claim therefor is filed within one year from such date. In the case of any taxable year ending before the date of the making by the taxpayer of an election under this section, no interest shall be paid on any overpayment resulting from the application of Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive, to such taxable year, and no interest shall be assessed or collected with respect to any amount or any deficiency specified in subsection (a) for any period before the expiration of six months following the date of the making of such election by the taxpayer.

recovered
property

18310. (a) The unadjusted basis of property recovered in respect of property considered as destroyed or seized under Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall be determined under this section. Such basis shall be an amount equal to the fair market value of such property, determined as of the date of the recovery, reduced by an amount equal to the excess of the aggregate of such fair market value and the amounts of previous recoveries of money or property in respect of property considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized over the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, and increased by that portion of the amount of the recovery which under Sections 18302 and 18303 is treated as a recognized gain from the involuntary conversion of property. On application of the taxpayer, the aggregate of the bases (determined under the preceding sentence) of any properties recovered in respect of properties considered under such Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, as destroyed or seized may be allocated among the properties so recovered in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may determine under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, and the amounts so allocated to any such property so recovered shall be the unadjusted basis of such property in lieu of the unadjusted basis of such property determined under the preceding sentence.

(b) In the case of a taxpayer who has made an election under Section 18309, the basis of property recovered shall be an amount equal to the value at which such property is included in the amount of the recovery under Section 18304 (determined without regard to the last sentence thereof), reduced by such part of the gain under Section 18306 which is not recognized as provided in Sections 18304 to 18307, inclusive.

18311. (a) The determination as to whether and to what extent an allowable deduction on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in Sections 17330 to 17333, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, did or did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under Chapter 2 of such law shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

Applicable
regulations

(b) The part of the stock or other interest of the taxpayer treated under Sections 17348 to 17350, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954, as property described in Sections 17330.5 to 17332, inclusive, of the Personal Income Tax Law of 1954 shall be treated in the same manner for purposes of this article.

CHAPTER 16. MITIGATION OF EFFECT OF RENEGOTIATION OF GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

18351. In the case of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or any subcontract thereunder, which is made by the taxpayer:

Mitigation of effect of renegoti-ation.
Reduction
for prior
taxable year

(a) If a renegotiation is made in respect of that contract or subcontract and an amount of excessive profits received or accrued under the contract or subcontract for a taxable year (hereinafter referred to as "prior taxable year") is eliminated; and

(b) In a taxable year ending after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to pay or repay to the United States or any agency thereof the amount of profits eliminated; or

(c) The amount of profits eliminated is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer; then the profits so eliminated shall be excluded from gross income for the prior taxable year if they were included in gross income for the prior taxable year.

18352. As used in Section 18351, "renegotiation" includes:

(a) Any transaction which is a renegotiation within the meaning of the Federal Renegotiation Act applicable to such transaction;

"Renegotiation"

(b) Any modification of one or more contracts with the United States or any agency thereof; and

(c) Any agreement with the United States or any agency thereof in respect of one or more such contracts or subcontracts thereunder.

18353. As used in Section 18351, "excessive profits" includes:

"Excessive
profits"

(a) Any amount which constitutes excessive profits within the meaning assigned to such term by the applicable Federal Renegotiation Act;

(b) Any part of the contract price of a contract with the United States or any agency thereof;

(c) Any part of the subcontract price of a subcontract under a contract; and

(d) Any profits derived from one or more contracts or subcontracts.

"Subcontract"

18354. As used in Section 18351, "subcontract" includes any purchase order or agreement which is a subcontract within the meaning assigned to that term by the applicable Federal Renegotiation Act.

"Federal Renegotiation Act"

18355. The term "Federal Renegotiation Act" includes Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act (Public Law 528, Seventy-seventh Congress, Second Session), as amended or supplemented, and the Renegotiation Act of 1948, as amended or supplemented, and the Renegotiation Act of 1951, as amended or supplemented.

Reduction of reimbursement for prior taxable year

18356. In the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract between the United States or any agency thereof and the taxpayer, if an item for which the taxpayer has been reimbursed by the United States or any agency thereof is disallowed as an item of cost chargeable to that contract, and, in a taxable year ending after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer is required to repay the United States or any agency thereof the amount disallowed, or the amount disallowed is applied as an offset against other amounts due the taxpayer, for the purposes of this part the amount so disallowed or so applied as an offset shall be allowed as a deduction in the taxable year in which the reimbursement for the item was received or was accrued to the extent that the taxpayer's taxable net income for the year in which the cost was incurred would have been reduced had no reimbursement been received or accrued.

Deduction disallowed

18357. The amount of the payment, repayment, or offset described in Sections 18351 and 18356 shall not constitute a deduction for the year in which paid or incurred.

Exception

18358. Sections 18351 to 18357, inclusive, shall not apply in respect of any contract if the taxpayer shows to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that a different method of accounting for the amount of the payment, repayment, or disallowance clearly reflects income, and in such case the payment, repayment, or disallowance shall be accounted for with respect to the taxable year provided for under that method.

Overpayment in tax

18359. Any overpayment in tax which results from the application of Sections 18351 to 18358, inclusive, shall be credited or refunded as provided in this part. Notwithstanding the provisions of any statute of limitations, credit or refund shall be made if claim therefor is filed within four years from the last day prescribed for filing the return or within two years from the date of payment, repayment, or offset described in Sections 18351 to 18358, inclusive, whichever is later.

Claim in abatement of unpaid tax

18360. If prior to the payment of the last installment of tax for the taxable year the taxpayer becomes entitled to the exclusions or deductions provided in Sections 18351 to 18358, inclusive, for its taxable year, the taxpayer may, under regulation prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, file a claim in abatement of any unpaid tax or portion thereof, but not in excess of the reduction in tax resulting from the application of these sections.

18361. In any case in which a claim in abatement is filed ^{Same} pursuant to Section 18360, and the Franchise Tax Board makes an abatement, the tax disclosed by the original return shall, for the purpose of Article 2 of Chapter 18 of this part, be deemed to be reduced by the amount of the tax abated.

SEC. 12. Section 18402 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Returns by
and wife

18402. If a husband and wife have for the taxable year an aggregate net income of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) or over, or an aggregate gross income of five thousand dollars ($5,000) or over—

(a) Each shall make such a return, or

(b) The income of each shall be included in a single joint return, in which case the tax shall be computed on the aggregate income, as provided in Section 17045. No joint return shall be made if husband and wife have different taxable years; except that if such taxable years begin on the same day and end on different days because of the death of either or of both, then the joint return may be made with respect to the taxable year of each. The above exception shall not apply if the surviving spouse remarries before the close of his taxable year, nor if the taxable year of either spouse is a fractional part of a year under Section 17553.

(c) In the case of the death of one spouse or both spouses the joint return with respect to the decedent may be made only by his executor or administrator; except that in the case of the death of one spouse the joint return may be made by the surviving spouse with respect to both himself and the decedent if (1) no return for the taxable year has been made by the decedent, (2) no executor or administrator has been appointed, and (3) no executor or administrator is appointed before the last day prescribed by law for filing the return of the surviving spouse. If an executor or administrator of the decedent is appointed after the making of the joint return by the surviving spouse, the executor or administrator may disaffirm such joint return by making, within one year after the last day prescribed by law for filing the return of the surviving spouse, a separate return for the taxable year of the decedent with respect to which the joint return was made, in which case the return made by the survivor shall constitute his separate return.

SEC. 13. Section 18408 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Returns by partnerships

18408. Returns by partnerships are provided for in Section 17932.

SEC. 14. Section 18410.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Joint return

18410.7. For the purposes of Article 1 of Chapter 20 (relating to refunds and credits), a joint return made under Section 18410 shall be deemed to have been filed on the last date prescribed by this part for filing the return for such taxable year (determined without regard to any extension of time granted to either spouse).

SEC. 15. Section 18410.9 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

“Return”

18410.9. For the purposes of Chapter 23 (relating to criminal penalties in the case of fraudulent returns) the term "return" includes a separate return filed by a spouse with respect to a taxable year for which a joint return is made under this article after the filing of such separate return.

SEC. 16. Section 18411 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18411. For the purpose of this part, the term "net income" ^{"Net income"} means gross income computed under this part, less the deductions allowed by this part, other than the deductions allowed by Article 5 of Chapter 3.

SEC. 17. Section 18433 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18433. The Franchise Tax Board, whenever in its judgment good cause exists, and under such rules and regulations as it shall prescribe, may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing the return or for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, disclosed by the return, due or to become due within the period of the extension. The Franchise Tax Board shall keep a record of every extension. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no extension or extensions may aggregate more than six months from the due date provided for the filing of returns. ^{Extension of time for filing return etc}

SEC. 18. Section 18434 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18434. (a) In the case of a taxpayer who is serving as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States or any auxiliary branch thereof, or the Merchant Marine, beyond the boundaries of the continental United States, the Franchise Tax Board shall automatically grant, without application being made therefor, an extension of time, free from interest and penalties, for filing the return, for payment of the tax, for taking any of the steps required by Sections 18590, 18593, 19053, 19057 and 19058 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, until 180 days after his return to the United States. ^{Member of Armed forces}

(b) "Continental United States," as used in subsection (a) means the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia. ^{"Continental United States"}

SEC. 19. Section 18451 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18451. If the amount of taxable income for any year of any taxpayer as returned to the United States Treasury Department is changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority, or where a renegotiation of a contract or subcontract with the United States results in a change in taxable income, such taxpayer shall report such change or corrected taxable income, or the results of such renegotiation, within 90 days after the final determination of such change or correction or renegotiation, or as required by the Franchise Tax Board, and shall concede the accuracy of such determination or state wherein it is erroneous. Any taxpayer filing an amended return with such department shall also file within 90 days thereafter an amended return with the Fran- ^{Federal adjustments report to Franchise Tax Board} chise Tax Board which shall contain such information as it shall require.

SEC. 20. Section 18452 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Trust
claiming charitable,
etc., deduction.
Required
information

18452. Every trust claiming a charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational deduction under Section 17734 for the taxable year shall furnish information with respect to such taxable year, at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, setting forth—

(a) The amount of the charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational deduction taken under Section 17734 within such year (showing separately the amount of such deduction which was paid out and the amount which was permanently set aside for charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational purposes during such year);

(b) The amount paid out within such year which represents amounts for which charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational deductions under Section 17734 have been taken in prior years;

(c) The amount for which charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational deductions have been taken in prior years but which has not been paid out at the beginning of such year;

(d) The amount paid out of principal in the current and prior years for charitable, religious, scientific, literary, or educational purposes;

(e) The total income of the trust within such year and the expenses attributable thereto; and

(f) A balance sheet showing the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the trust as of the beginning of such year.

This section shall not apply in the case of a taxable year if all the taxable income for such year, determined under the applicable principles of the law of trusts, is required to be distributed currently to the beneficiaries.

SEC. 21. Section 18470 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Member of armed forces Liability for penalties,
etc

18470. If an individual serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, or serving in support of such armed forces, is continuously outside the Americas for longer than 90 days, that period of time and the next 90 days thereafter shall be disregarded in determining under this part the amount of any credit or refund (including interest) or in respect of any liability for taxes, interests or penalties of that individual whether any of the following acts were performed within the time prescribed:

(a) Filing any return of income tax (except income tax withheld at source);

(b) Payment of any income tax (except income tax withheld at source);

(c) Filing an appeal with the State Board of Equalization;

(d) Allowance of a credit or refund of any tax;

- (e) Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax;
- (f) Bringing a suit upon any such claim for credit or refund;
- (g) Assessment of any tax;
- (h) Giving or making any notice or demand, for the payment of any tax, or with respect to any liability in respect of any tax;
- (i) Collection, by the Franchise Tax Board or the collector, by distraint or otherwise, of the amount of any liability in respect of any tax;
- (j) Bringing suit by the State of California, or any officer on its behalf, in respect of any liability in respect of any tax; and
- (k) Any other act required or permitted under this part.

SEC. 22. Sections 18471 and 18472 of the Revenue and Tax- Repeal ation Code are hereby repealed.

SEC. 23. Section 18473 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18473. 19281. The Franchise Tax Board shall preserve reports and returns for four years and thereafter until it orders them to be destroyed. Returns filed pursuant to Sections 18802, 18802.1, and 18803 shall be preserved until the Franchise Tax Board orders them to be destroyed.

Tax levy

SEC. 45. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

SEC. 46. The amendments made by this act are applicable only in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1955.

CHAPTER 940

An act to amend Section 3022 of the Civil Code, relating to giving of notice of assignment of accounts receivable.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3022 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3022. Any such notice shall be ineffective, except as to accounts theretofore assigned while such notice was in effect, after three years from the date of filing. At any time before expiration of the effectiveness of the original or any subsequent filing, a like statement, signed by the assignor and the assignee, or an affidavit by the assignee alone, setting out the information required by Section 3019, may be filed in like manner as the original filing. Any filing of such further notice or affidavit shall be effective in like manner and for a like period as an original filing. It shall be the duty of the filing officer to mark, file and index the further statement or affidavit in like manner as the original. At any time after seven years from the date when such notice has been on file in the recorder's office, the recorder may destroy the same, together with any certificate or statement of cancellation filed in connection with such notice, unless he has been notified in writing to retain the same by someone claiming some interest under such notice.

CHAPTER 941

An act to amend Section 460 of the Penal Code, relating to the crime of burglary.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 460 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

460. 1. Every burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or building committed in the nighttime, and every burglary, whether in the daytime or nighttime, committed by a person armed with a deadly weapon, or who while in the commission of such burglary arms himself with a deadly weapon, or who while in the commission of such burglary assaults any person, is burglary of the first degree.

2. All other kinds of burglary are of the second degree.

3. This section shall not be construed to supersede or affect Section 464 of the Penal Code.

CHAPTER 942

An act to amend Sections 9802 and 9802.1 of the Education Code, relating to the education of mentally retarded minors.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9802 of the Education Code is amended to read:

9802. The governing board of any elementary, unified, or high school district which has an average daily attendance of 900 or more shall provide for the education in special training schools or classes of mentally retarded minors residing in the district who come within the provisions of Section 9801.1 and who are not in attendance upon other special training schools or classes maintained under the provisions of this chapter. The mandatory provisions of the section as they apply to high school districts shall become effective July 1, 1956, but the governing board of any high school district may provide for such education for all or any portion of the mentally retarded minors residing in the high school district prior to said date.

The governing board of any elementary or unified school district may provide for the education of mentally retarded minors residing in the district who come within the provisions of Section 9801.2.

SEC. 2. Section 9802.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

9802.1. The governing board of any high school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 900 may establish and maintain special training schools or classes for the education of such mentally retarded minors as may be admitted to such schools or classes by the governing board of the district.

CHAPTER 943

An act to amend Sections 5402 and 5422 of the Public Resources Code, relating to recreation, park and parkway districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5402 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

5402. Any city or portion thereof, or any portion of the unincorporated area of any county, whether or not said portion consists of contiguous territory, not included in any other park, recreation, and parkway district and lying entirely outside of any national forest may be formed into a park, recreation, and parkway district. No territory outside the county may be included within the district.

The district may acquire by gift, lease, purchase, eminent domain, or any other manner, all necessary and proper lands and do all necessary and proper construction and work, including the planting of trees and shrubs, to secure, maintain and operate an adequate system of parks, recreation grounds, facilities for community recreation, and parkways within the district.

The district may acquire such lands and facilities or any portion thereof by means of a plan to borrow money or by purchase on contract. The amount of indebtedness to be incurred shall not exceed an amount equal to the anticipated tax income for a two-year period, and all indebtedness shall be repaid within a period of time not exceeding five years from its incurrence.

SEC. 2. Section 5422 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

5422. If at any time after establishment of any district its governing body determines that certain territory whether contiguous to the existing district or not should be annexed to the existing district, or that certain territory should be withdrawn from the district, the governing body shall fix a time and place for hearing the matter of the annexation or withdrawal of territory. No territory outside the county in which the district was formed may be annexed to the district.

Annexation
or withdrawal of territory

It shall direct its clerk to publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper circulated in the territory which it is proposed to annex to or withdraw from the district. The newspaper shall be one which the governing body deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of the territory.

CHAPTER 944

An act to amend Section 3162 of the Financial Code, relating to the disposition of unclaimed property.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3162 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

3162. All money or other property delivered to the State Treasurer or State Controller pursuant to this article, except Section 3163, shall be deemed to be so delivered for deposit in the State Treasury under the provisions of Article 8 of Chapter 6 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and shall be subject to claim or other disposition as provided in said Title 10.

SEC. 2. All money or other property delivered to the State Treasurer or State Controller under the provisions of Section 136d of the Bank Act or Section 3163 of the Financial Code prior to the effective date of this section, and all interest or other increment derived from the investment by the State Treasurer as substituted trustee of such money or other property prior to said date, shall, on order of the State Controller, be transferred to, and accounted separately in, the Special Deposit Fund on said effective date.

CHAPTER 945

An act to amend Section 1192.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to claims of laborers and materialmen on public contracts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1192.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Statement
of claims

1192.1. (a) Any materialman or person furnishing materials, provisions, provender, or other supplies used in, upon, for, or about the performance of work contracted to be executed or performed to which Chapter 3 of Division 5, Title 1 of the Government Code applies, except the prime contractor, or any person, excluding the prime contractor, renting or hiring teams or implements or machinery for or contributing to the work to be done, or any person, except the prime contractor, who performed work or labor upon the same or any person, except the prime contractor, who supplies both work and materials, and whose claim has not been paid by the contractor or person to whom the contract has been awarded, or by the subcontractors of the contractor or person, may at any time, after he has furnished material or ceased to perform labor, or both, and before the expiration of the periods within which claims of lien must be filed for record as prescribed by this section or by Section 1193.1, file with the public agency, body or officer by whom the contract was awarded, or with the controller, auditor, or other public disbursing officer whose duty it is to make payments under the provisions of such contract, a verified statement of such claims, together with a statement that the same have not been paid.

(b) Except as to contracts awarded under the State Contract Act, Chapter 3, Part 5, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, a cessation of labor on any work of improvement at any time after the commencement thereof, for a continuous period of 30 days or more, shall be deemed a completion of the contract, structure, or work of improvement. Within 10 days after the completion of any contract, structure, or work of improvement to which Chapter 3 of Division 5, Title 1 of the Government Code applies, the State, or any public board, commission, or officer thereof, or any political subdivision thereof, may file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county or counties where the property is situated a notice setting forth the date when the same was completed or on which cessation from labor occurred, together with the name of the state or such public board, commission, or officer thereof, or such political subdivision thereof, and a description of the property or public work or structure sufficient for identification, and the name of the contractor or contractors, and the names of the sureties, if any. The notice shall be verified by some officer of the State or some member of such board, commission, or officer thereof, or of such political subdivision thereof. If the notice is not so filed, the failure to do so has the same effect as is provided in Section 1193.1 with reference to the "owner." In the case of any contract awarded under the provisions of the State Contract Act, such notice of completion, if filed, shall be filed within 10 days after acceptance of the project, and as to such contracts, verified statements of claims may be filed at any time after the claimant has furnished materials or ceased to perform labor, or both, and before the expiration of 30 days from the filing for record of such notice, or if such notice is not so filed, before the expiration of 90 days after the acceptance of the project.

(c) Actions against the State, public board, commission, or officer thereof, or the political subdivision of the State, or the disbursing officer whose duty it is to make payments under the provisions of the contract for the public improvement in question, brought by any claimant who has filed claim under this section, or his assign, shall be governed by the provisions of Sections 1190.1 and 1197.1 and the verified notice provided for in those sections is equivalent for all purposes to the verified claim provided for herein. Actions against State, etc

(d) No assignment by the contractor of the whole or any part of the money due him or to be due him under the contract, or for "extras" in connection therewith, whether made before a verified claim is filed as provided for herein or after the claim is filed, takes priority over claims filed under this section and such assignment has no binding force insofar as the rights of the claimants who file claims hereunder, or their assigns, are concerned. Assignments

(e) This section does not prohibit the payment of any money to the contractor or his assigns, so long as no verified claim is on file before the disbursing officer has actually surrendered possession of the warrant, checks, bonds, or money or the payment to the contractor or his assigns of any money due him or his assigns over and above the total amount of the claims filed at that time plus such interest and court costs Payments as might be reasonably anticipated in connection with the claims.

Disputed
claims

(f) If the contractor, subcontractor, or other person against whom any claim is filed as provided in this section disputes the correctness or validity of any claim so filed, the controller, auditor, or other public disbursing officer whose duty it is to make payments under the provisions of such contract or the commissioner, managers, trustees, officers, board of supervisors, board of trustees, common council, or other body by whom the contract for the improvement was awarded, in its or his discretion, may permit the contractor to whom the contract was awarded to deliver to such board, commission, or officer a bond executed by some corporation authorized to issue surety bonds in the State of California, in a penal sum equal to one and one-fourth times the amount of the claim, which bond shall guarantee the payment of any sum which the claimant may recover on the claim together with his costs of suit in the action, if he recovers therein. Upon the filing of the bond by and with the consent of such board, commission or officer, then such board, commission or officer shall not withhold any moneys from the contractor on account of the claim. The sureties upon the bond are jointly and severally liable to the claimant with the sureties upon the contractor's bond given in accordance with Chapter 3 of Division 5, Title 1 of the Government Code.

Purpose

SEC. 2. It is the purpose of this act to clarify and declare the prior legislative intent as to the meaning of the section which this act amends, and not to make any substantive changes therein.

CHAPTER 946

An act to amend Section 31590 of the Government Code, relating to warrants drawn on retirement funds.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31590 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31590 All warrants drawn on the retirement fund shall be signed or authorized by the treasurer and at least one other member of the board, who shall be designated by the board. Such authorization may be by blanket authorization of all warrants appearing on a list or register, or may be by a standing order to draw warrants monthly, which order shall be good until revoked. A warrant is not valid until it is signed, numbered, and recorded by the county auditor.

CHAPTER 947

An act to add Sections 25303.1, 25303.2, 25303.3, 25303.4, 25303.5 and 25303.6 to the Government Code, relating to the acceptance of negotiable paper.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25303.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

25303.1. The board of supervisors of any county or city and county may authorize any officer of a county or judicial district who is not specifically authorized by any other code section to accept negotiable paper in payment of any assessment, license, permit, fee, fine, or other money owing to any county or city and county. After authorization by the board of supervisors, any officer of the county or judicial district governed by provisions of this section may, at his discretion, accept negotiable paper in payment of any assessment, license, permit, fee, fine or other money owing to the county or to the city and county.

Authorization to accept negotiable
paper

SEC. 2. Section 25303.2 is added to said code, to read:

25303.2. As used in this chapter, negotiable paper means bank checks and drafts and express and post-office money orders.

"Negotiable
paper"

SEC. 3. Section 25303.3 is added to said code, to read:

25303.3. The acceptance of negotiable paper constitutes payment of any amount owing to a county or a city and county as of the date of acceptance when, but not before, the negotiable paper is duly paid.

Effect of acceptance

SEC. 4. Section 25303.4 is added to said code, to read:

25303.4. The officer accepting negotiable paper may deposit it daily with a bank for collection and receive from the bank cashier's checks in an amount equal to the total deposit. The cashier's checks shall be deposited in the county treasury like cash received for the same purpose. The officer accepting negotiable paper may at his option deposit such negotiable paper daily in the county treasury instead of in a bank; and the county treasurer shall handle such negotiable paper like any other negotiable paper accepted by him.

Deposit of negotiable
paper

If any negotiable paper is returned unpaid to the bank with which it was deposited, the bank shall return it to the officer who deposited it and, if its amount has been included in any cashier's check given by the bank, the bank is entitled to a refund in the amount of the unpaid negotiable paper. Any negotiable paper redeemed by or charged back to the county treasurer by reason of nonpayment shall be returned to the officer who deposited it with him. A memorandum charging the officer making the deposit and crediting the treasurer shall be issued by the county auditor on the fund into which the original deposit was made.

SEC. 5. Section 25303.5 is added to said code, to read:

Effect of
nonpayment

25303.5. If any negotiable paper is not paid on due presentment for any reason, any record of payment made on any official record or in cash and fee book of the officer shall be canceled. Any receipt issued likewise shall be deemed to be canceled. The assessment, license, permit, fee, fine and other money is a lien as though no payment has been attempted.

The officer accepting negotiable paper shall make any memoranda necessary to enable him to make proper cancellation on its return without payment. The officer shall be discharged from accountability for collection on the dishonored paper only upon order of the board of supervisors.

SEC. 6. Section 25303.6 is added to said code, to read:

Cancellation
procedure

25303.6. When cancellation is made, the officer making it shall record it on the roll or on his cash and fee book. He shall immediately send a notice to the person who attempted payment by the negotiable paper of the cancellation of the payment.

The validity of any assessment, license, permit, fee, fine or other money is not affected by failure or irregularity in giving this notice.

CHAPTER 948

An act to amend Section 270e of the Penal Code, Section 195 of the Civil Code and Section 1962 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to presumptions of illegitimacy.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 270e of the Penal Code is amended to read:

Proof of marriage, parentage,
etc

270e. No other evidence shall be required to prove marriage of husband and wife, or that a person is the lawful father or mother of a child or children, than is or shall be required to prove such facts in a civil action. In all prosecutions under either Section 270 or 270a of this code any existing provisions of law prohibiting the disclosure of confidential communications between husband and wife shall not apply, and both husband and wife shall be competent to testify to any and all relevant matters, including the fact of marriage and the parentage of a child or children. Proof of the abandonment and nonsupport of a wife, or of the omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter, or of medical attendance for a child or children is prima facie evidence that such abandonment and nonsupport or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance is wilful. In any prosecution under Section 270, it shall be competent for the people to prove nonaccess of husband to wife or any other fact establishing nonpaternity of a husband

SEC. 2. Section 195 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

195. The presumption of legitimacy can be disputed only by the people of the State of California in a criminal action brought under the provisions of Section 270 of the Penal Code, or the husband or wife, or the descendant of one or both of them. Illegitimacy, in such case, may be proved like any other fact.

Who may dispute presumption of legitimacy

SEC. 3. Section 1962 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1962. The following presumptions, and no others, are deemed conclusive:

Conclusive
presumptions

1. A malicious and guilty intent, from the deliberate commission of an unlawful act, for the purpose of injuring another;

2. The truth of the facts recited, from the recital in a written instrument between the parties thereto, or their successors in interest by a subsequent title; but this rule does not apply to the recital of a consideration;

3 Whenever a party has, by his own declaration, act, or omission, intentionally and deliberately led another to believe a particular thing true, and to act upon such belief, he cannot, in any litigation arising out of such declaration, act, or omission, be permitted to falsify it;

4. A tenant is not permitted to deny the title of his landlord at the time of the commencement of the relation;

5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the issue of a wife cohabiting with her husband, who is not impotent, is indisputably presumed to be legitimate;

6. The judgment or order of a court, when declared by this code to be conclusive; but such judgment or order must be alleged in the pleadings if there be an opportunity to do so; if there be no such opportunity, the judgment or order may be used as evidence;

7. Any other presumption which by statute is expressly made conclusive.

CHAPTER 949

An act to amend Section 224n of the Civil Code, relating to adoptions.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 224n of the Civil Code is amended to read:

224n. The agency to which a child has been relinquished for adoption shall be responsible for the care of the child, and shall be entitled to the custody and control of the child at all times until a petition for adoption has been granted. Any placement for temporary care, or for adoption made by the agency, may be terminated at the discretion of the agency at any time prior to the granting of a petition for adoption. In the event of termination of any placement for temporary care or for adoption, the child shall be returned promptly to the physical custody of the agency.

No petition may be filed to adopt a child relinquished to a licensed adoption agency except by the prospective adoptive parents with whom the child has been placed for adoption by the adoption agency. If an agency refuses to consent to the adoption of a child by the person or persons with whom the agency placed the child for adoption, the superior court may nevertheless decree the adoption if it finds that the refusal to consent is not in the best interest of the child.

CHAPTER 950

An act to amend Section 1657 of the Probate Code, relating to guardianship.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1657 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1657. (a) Every guardian who has received or shall receive on account of his ward any moneys or other thing of value from the Veterans Administration shall file with the court annually, in addition to such other accounts as may be required by the court, a full, true, and accurate account under oath of all moneys or other things of value so received by him, all earnings, interest or profits derived therefrom and all property acquired therewith and of all disbursements therefrom, and showing the balance thereof in his hands at the date of the account and how invested.

(b) At the time of filing in the court any account, a true copy thereof shall be sent by the guardian to the office of the Veterans Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the court is located. The clerk shall fix a time and place for the hearing on the account, not less than 15 days nor more than 30 days from the date same is filed, unless a different available date be stipulated in writing. Written notice of the time and place of hearing shall be given the Veterans Administration office concerned and the guardian and any others entitled to notice not less than 15 days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The notice may be given by mail in which event it shall be deposited in the mails not less than 15 days prior to said date.

(c) If the guardian is accountable for property derived from sources other than the Veterans Administration, he shall be accountable as is or may be required under the applicable law of this State pertaining to the property of minors or persons of unsound mind who are not beneficiaries of the Veterans Administration, and as to such other property shall be entitled to the compensation provided by such law. The account for other property may be combined with the account filed in accordance with this section.

CHAPTER 951

An act to add Section 386.6 to the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to attorney fees in actions where parties are interpleaded.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 386.6 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

386.6. A party to an action who follows the procedure set forth in Section 386 or 386.5 may insert in his motion, petition, complaint, or cross complaint a request for allowance of his costs and reasonable attorney fees incurred in such action. In ordering the discharge of such party, the court may, in its discretion, award such party his costs and reasonable attorney fees from the amount in dispute which has been deposited with the court. At the time of final judgment in the action the court may make such further provision for assumption of such costs and attorney fees by one or more of the adverse claimants as may appear proper.

CHAPTER 952

An act to amend Section 2165d of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to real property of applicants for and recipients of aid to the aged.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2165d of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2165d. Any proceeds, including trust deeds, from the conversion of real property into personal property received by an applicant or recipient of aid under this chapter shall be considered real property for a period of one year from the time of their receipt, if such proceeds are retained for the purpose of providing a home.

CHAPTER 953

An act to amend Section 19538 of, and to add Sections 19538.1, and 19538.2 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to horse racing.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19538 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

Charity days 19538. The board may grant not to exceed five additional racing days to each licensee during any one meeting, to be conducted as charity days by such licensee for the purpose of distribution of the net proceeds therefrom as hereinafter defined to beneficiaries through the distributing agent, as provided herein. The board shall require that the licensee of such meeting shall conduct such charity day racing and shall furnish its plant, facilities and all personnel and property necessary for the conduct of racing on the charity days as a condition of the issuance of a license to the licensee for the meeting. All racing officials required by law or regulation to serve in connection with the meeting shall also serve, without further authority or designation, in their respective capacities and at the same rate of compensation in connection with the charity day racing.

On such charity days the income from all operations carried on in connection with or resulting from the conduct of racing on such days, including income from pari-mutuel wagering, admissions, parking, program sales and concessions shall be income from operations on such charity days. From the gross income from such operations on charity days there shall be deducted only the expenses incurred because of the conduct of racing on such days, but no deduction shall be made by the licensee for any overhead expenses or for expenses of the licensee which would be incurred irrespective of the conduct of the charity days racing. The balance of such income after such deductions is herein designated as charity days' net proceeds and shall be paid by such licensee to a distributing agent selected and qualified in accordance with Section 19538.1 hereof. No profit shall be made, either directly or indirectly, from such charity days' operations by the licensee of the meeting.

SEC. 2. Section 19538.1 is added to said code, to read:

Distributing
agents

19538.1. The distributing agent for such charity days' net proceeds shall always be a nonprofit organization or corporation, or nonprofit organizations or corporations, selected by the licensee of the meeting and approved by the board. Each such distributing agent to be qualified hereunder must conform to the then existing laws and regulations of this State and the United States, so as to be exempt or be entitled to exemption from the payment of any tax measured by income. It shall have not less than five trustees or directors. None of the individuals constituting the governing board of trustees or directors of such distributing agent shall be directly connected with, be a stockholder, or have any interest in the racing association which is the licensee of the race meeting. Each of such individual trustees or directors shall be a person who is at the time (a) a resident of this State, and (b) an executive, officer, director, trustee or member of the governing body or board, by whatever name such governing body or board may be known, of an organization engaged in civic, religious, charitable, educational or veteran activities in this State.

SEC. 3. Section 19538.2 is added to said code, to read:

19538.2. Each licensee shall pay over such charity days' ^{Distribution of proceeds} net proceeds to such distributing agent as soon as practicable after the determination thereof, and such agent or agents shall hereafter distribute not less than 90 percent of the aggregate proceeds from charity days' racing received and available for distribution by it to beneficiaries within 12 calendar months after the last day of the meeting during which such charity days were conducted. The balance, if any, of such aggregate charity days' net proceeds not distributed within such 12-month period shall be distributed as soon thereafter as is practicable. Such distribution shall be made by such distributing agent to beneficiaries entitled by law as a nonprofit corporation to receive the same and themselves qualified as exempt or entitled to exemption from taxes measured by income under the same provisions of the laws of this State and of the United States as those under which the distributing agent is qualified, and which beneficiaries are engaged in charitable or benevolent, civic, religious, or veterans work similar to that of agencies recognized by an organized community chest in the State of California, but not excluding the use of funds so distributed for capital expenditures by such beneficiaries. Such beneficiaries, in addition, must be approved by the board.

Each distributing agent shall adopt by-laws, shall provide for election to fill vacancies in the board of directors or trustees, and shall hold at least one meeting each year.

Each distributing agent, within such 12-month period and prior to payment of any contribution to any beneficiary, shall submit to the board the names of each of such beneficiaries for the approval of such board. If the board does not disapprove such listed beneficiaries within 60 days after the submittal to such board of the names of the proposed beneficiaries, then the approval of such board shall be deemed to have been given.

CHAPTER 954

An act to add Sections 23045, 23046, and 23321.5 to, and to amend Sections 23320, 23321, 23397, 23664, 23786, 24040, 24046, 24407, 24468, 24469, and 25171 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to alcoholic beverages.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 6, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23045 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Definitions

23045. "Air common carrier" means a person engaged in regularly scheduled air transportation between fixed termini under a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board, and "airplane" or "common carrier airplane" means an airplane operated in air transportation by an air common carrier.

SEC. 2. Section 23046 is added to said code, to read:

"Scheduled flight"

23046. "Scheduled flight" means a regularly scheduled and advertised flight of an air common carrier but does not mean each daily operation of airplanes upon such flight.

SEC. 5. Section 23321 of said code is amended to read:

23321. In fixing license fees for on-sale general licenses, the board may place common carrier boats, trains, and airplanes in a separate classification or separate classifications, and fix different or lesser license fees for boats, for trains, or for airplanes than those fixed for other on-sale general licenses, giving consideration to the limited number of possible customers on boats, trains, or airplanes and the limited number of hours within which it is practicable to exercise the license on a boat, train, or airplane.

Fees for boats, trains, etc

SEC. 6. Section 23321 of said code is amended to read:

23321. The license for trains shall be issued to a railroad company or other person selling distilled spirits on board trains operating in this State, and a duplicate thereof shall be obtained for each train on which distilled spirits are sold. The license for cars of sleeping car companies shall be issued to a sleeping car company operating sleeping cars in this State, and a duplicate thereof shall be obtained for each train in which distilled spirits are sold by such companies. The license for airplanes shall be issued to an air common carrier selling distilled spirits on board airplanes operating in this State, and

Licenses for trains, airplanes, etc

a duplicate thereof shall be obtained for each scheduled flight on which distilled spirits are sold.

SEC. 7. Section 23321.5 is added to said code, to read:

Licenses for airplanes

23321.5. The license for airplanes shall be issued to an air common carrier selling distilled spirits on board airplanes operating in this State, and a duplicate thereof shall be obtained for each scheduled flight on which distilled spirits are sold.

SEC. 8. Section 23397 of said code is amended to read:

Limitations
on service

23397. Alcoholic beverages may be served on trains, boats, and airplanes under on-sale licenses issued for trains, boats, and airplanes, only to passengers or employees not on duty.

Alcoholic beverages may be served on airplanes under on-sale licenses with meals only, and no charge, in addition to the price of the ticket for passage on an airplane, shall be made for the service of such alcoholic beverages.

SEC. 9. Section 23664 of said code is amended to read:

When not
importer

23664. A railroad, sleeping car, dining car, boat, or steamship company or air common carrier carrying interstate or foreign passengers on trains, boats, or airplanes shall not be deemed to be an importer or subject to an importer's license for bringing into this State alcoholic beverages for the purpose of sale within this State on the trains, cars, boats, or airplanes on which the alcoholic beverages are brought into this State exclusively to passengers or employees not on duty, and for carrying the same alcoholic beverages or any unsold portion thereof out of this State in due course of operation.

SEC. 10. Section 23786 of said code is amended to read:

Licenses

Issuable only to specific person and location

24040. Each license shall be issued to a specific person and, except in the case of licenses authorizing the sale of alcoholic beverages on trains, boats, or airplanes, shall be issued for a specific location, the principal address of which shall be indicated on the license.

SEC. 12. Section 24046 of said code is amended to read:

Posting
licenses

24046. Upon receipt of any license, the licensee shall sign it and post it in a conspicuous place upon the licensed premises. Licenses issued for trains, boats, or airplanes may, in lieu of being posted upon the train, boat, or airplane for which issued, be posted in such other place in this State as the board shall designate.

SEC. 13. Section 24407 of said code is amended to read:

Excise taxes
Beverages used without this State

24407. No tax shall be imposed upon the sale of alcoholic beverages by a licensee in this State to a common carrier or to a person licensed to sell alcoholic beverages on boats, trains, or airplanes operated by a common carrier when the alcoholic beverages are to be used without this State; nor in such case need the common carrier procure a license for purposes of purchasing alcoholic beverages from a licensed manufacturer, wine grower, rectifier, importer, or wholesaler.

SEC. 14. Section 24468 of said code is amended to read:

24468. Whenever distilled spirits are sold by manufacturers, rectifiers, importers, or wholesalers to common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign passenger service for use or sale by the carriers partly within the State and partly without the State on board boats, trains, or airplanes, or to persons licensed to sell distilled spirits on board such boats, trains, or airplanes, the tax shall not be levied on the sales made by manufacturers, rectifiers, importers, or wholesalers. Sales for interstate use

SEC. 15. Section 24469 of said code is amended to read:

24469. An excise tax is levied on sales made in this State of distilled spirits by common carriers on board boats, trains, and airplanes, or by persons licensed to sell distilled spirits on board such boats, trains, and airplanes, at the same rates as set forth in Section 24465. On or before the first day of each month such common carriers and such other licensed persons shall forward to the board a verified report of the sales of distilled spirits so made in the calendar month preceding the previous calendar month, in such detail and form as the board may prescribe, together with a payment sufficient to pay the tax on the sales. Sales by common carriers, etc

SEC. 16. Section 25171 of said code is amended to read:

25171. Any rectifier or wholesaler of distilled spirits who delivers to the premises of any on- or off-sale general licensee or any on- or off-sale general licensee who sells or has in his possession at the licensed premises distilled spirits in packages containing more than one gallon or less than one-half pint is guilty of a misdemeanor, except that this section does not apply to packages of distilled spirits in containers less than one-half pint which are sold and delivered to railroad, sleeping car, or steamship companies or air common carriers for use and consumption on trains, boats, or airplanes. Minimum and maximum containers

SEC. 17. Sections 4 and 6 of this act become operative only if Assembly Bill No. 796 is enacted by the Legislature at the 1955 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as said act takes effect, at which time Section 23320 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 3 of this act, and Section 23321 of said code, as amended by Section 5 of this act, are repealed. Effect 1955 Ch 1221

68201. The annual salary of each of the following justices and judges is the amount of the salary of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court less the amount indicated opposite the name of the office:

Associate Justices of Supreme Court,
District Court of Appeal
Justices, etc.

(a) Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(b) Presiding Justice of District Court of Appeal, two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(c) Justice of District Court of Appeal other than Presiding Justice, two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

(d) Judge of the superior court of a county having a population of 250,000 or more, six thousand dollars ($6,000).

(e) Judge of the superior court of a county having a population of more than 40,000 and less than 250,000, seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500).

(f) Judge of the superior court of a county having a population of 40,000 or less, nine thousand dollars ($9,000).

Municipal
court judges:
Counties
with 500,000 or more population

68202. The annual salary of a judge of a municipal court in a county having a population of 500,000 or more is fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) less than the annual salary of a judge of a superior court of the same county.

Population
between 250,000 and
500,000

68203. The annual salary of a judge of a municipal court in a county having a population of 250,000 or more and less than 500,000 is fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) less than the annual salary of a judge of a municipal court in a county having a population of 500,000 or more.

Population between 40,000 and
250,000

68204. The annual salary of a judge of a municipal court in a county having a population of more than 40,000 and less than 250,000 is three thousand dollars ($3,000) less than the annual salary of a judge of a municipal court in a county having a population of 500,000 or more.

Payment by county for superior court judge's
salary

68206. Of the annual salary of each superior court judge the county for which he is elected or appointed shall pay the amount prescribed below and the remainder shall be paid by the State:

(a) Nine thousand five hundred dollars ($9,500) for a county of 250,000 or more.

(b) Seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) for a county of more than 40,000 and less than 250,000.

(c) Five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500) for a county of 40,000 or less.

68207. For the purpose of this chapter the population of each county of the State is the population determined for the county pursuant to subdivision (a) hereof or, if the provisions of subdivision (b) apply to a county, pursuant to subdivision (b) hereof. Determination of population

(a) The population of each county is as shown and determined by the last preceding decennial census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States, except that whenever a new decennial census is taken under such authority after the effective date of this section the population shown and determined thereby shall be deemed the population of the county commencing on the first day of July in the year next succeeding the year as of which such census is taken and not before.

(b) Within 15 days after the effective date of this section, the Secretary of State shall determine the number of registered voters qualified to vote in each county at the general state election of 1954, and he shall thereafter, before the first day of December of each even-numbered year, so determine the number of registered voters in each county, qualified to vote at the general state election held during such even-numbered year. Upon determining such number of registered voters, the Secretary of State shall multiply the total in each county by two and certify the result to the Controller. The Controller shall forthwith ascertain from such certification whether any county has a population, determined as provided in this subdivision, which would raise it to a higher classification under this chapter than as determined by subdivision (a) of this section. If any county is so ascertained to be within such higher classification, the Controller shall promptly certify such fact to the board of supervisors of that county. For the purpose of this chapter each such county shall immediately after such certification by the Controller in 1955 and commencing on the first day of July following each general state election thereafter, be deemed to be of the population so certified by the Controller.

SEC. 2. Section 68540 of said code is amended to read:

68540. (a) Whenever a judge of a superior court is assigned by the Chairman of the Judicial Council to sit in a superior court in another county, any extra compensation to which this judge is entitled under the Constitution for the time so served shall be paid by the county to which such judge is assigned. Extra compensation and expenses Superior courts

Further, where such extra compensation is paid by a given county to a particular judge for a total time so served of 30 days or more within any one fiscal year, such county shall also reimburse the county in which such judge was elected or appointed by the Governor as a superior court judge in an amount equal to that portion of the regular salary of such judge paid for said time by the last mentioned county. This reimbursement shall be made from the same funds as the extra compensation is paid, and at such times and in such manner as the State Controller may by rule provide

In computing the time served under this subdivision (a), there shall be counted the actual time so served, plus Saturday, Sunday and holiday time duly allocable thereto.

(b) The State shall pay the same proportion of the extra compensation of a judge of a municipal or justice court, assigned to a superior court, that it pays of the salary of a judge of the superior court to which the assignment is made, and the remainder of such extra compensation shall be paid by the county in and for which is held the superior court to which the assignment is made.

SEC. 2.5. Section 68542 of said code is amended to read:

Expenses
Superior court judges and lower court judges

68542. The expenses for travel, board, and lodging of each judge assigned to a superior court or court of lower jurisdiction than a superior court in a county other than that in which he regularly sits shall be borne by the county to which the judge is assigned. The judge is entitled to, and the county shall pay, a per diem allowance in lieu of expenses for board and lodging. The amounts payable under this section shall be the same as the amounts payable for such purposes to justices of the Supreme Court under the rules of the State Board of Control.

CHAPTER 956

An act to amend Sections 4452, 4453, 4455, 4460, 4656 and 4702 of the Labor Code, relating to workmen's compensation.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 7, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4452 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4452. Four times the average annual earnings shall be taken at not less than four thousand eight hundred dollars and sixty-four cents ($4,800.64) nor more than twelve thousand eight hundred dollars and thirty-two cents ($12,800.32) in disability cases, and in death cases shall be taken at not less than the minimum nor more than the maximum limits as provided in Section 4702 of this code.

Average annual earnings
Disability and death cases

SEC. 2. Section 4453 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4453. In computing average annual earnings for the purposes of temporary disability indemnity only, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than twenty-three dollars and eight cents ($23.08) nor more than sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54). In computing average annual earnings for purposes of permanent disability indemnity, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than twenty-three dollars and eight cents ($23.08) nor more than fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85). Between these limits the average weekly earnings, except as provided in Sections 4456 to 4459, shall be arrived at as follows:

Temporary disability indemnity

Permanant disability
indemnity

Average weekly
earnings

(a) Where the employment is for 30 or more hours a week and for five or more working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be 95 percent of the number of working days a week times the daily earnings at the time of the injury.

(b) Where the employee is working for two or more employers at or about the time of the injury, the average weekly earnings shall be taken as 95 percent of the aggregate of such earnings from all employments computed in terms of one week; but the earnings from employments other than the employment in which the injury occurred shall not be taken at a higher rate than the hourly rate paid at the time of the injury.

(c) If the earnings are at an irregular rate, such as piece-work, or on a commission basis, or are specified to be by the week, month, or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivision (a) above shall be taken as 95 percent of the actual weekly earnings average for such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay.

(d) Where the employment is for less than 30 hours per week, or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings cannot reasonably and fairly be applied, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at 95 percent of the sum which reasonably represents the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments.

SEC. 3. Section 4455 of the Labor Code is amended to read:
Employee under age 21 4455. If the injured employee is under 21 years of age, and his incapacity is permanent, his average weekly earnings shall be deemed, within the limits fixed in Section 4453, to be the weekly sum which under ordinary circumstances he would probably be able to earn at the age of 21 years, in the occupation in which he was employed at the time of the injury or in any occupation to which he would reasonably have been promoted if he had not been injured. If such probable earnings at the age of 21 years cannot reasonably be determined, his average weekly earnings shall be taken as fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85).

SEC. 4. Section 4460 of the Labor Code is amended to read:
Computation of disability indemnity 4460. For the purpose of computing the temporary disability indemnity payable to any employee who sustains an original injury causing temporary disability, the maximum average weekly earnings shall be taken at sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54). For the purpose of computing the permanent disability indemnity payable to any employee who sustains an original injury causing permanent disability, the maximum average weekly earnings shall be taken at fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85).

Every computation made pursuant to this section as last amended shall be made only with reference to temporary disability or such permanent disability resulting from an original injury sustained after the act last amending this section becomes effective; provided, however, that all rights presently existing under this section shall be continued in force.

SEC. 5. Section 4656 of the Labor Code is amended to read:
Aggregate payments Temporary disability 4656. Aggregate disability payments for a single injury causing temporary disability shall not extend beyond 240 weeks from the date of the injury.

SEC. 6. Section 4702 of the Labor Code is amended to read:
Death benefit in total dependency cases 4702. Except as provided in the next paragraph, the death benefit in cases of total dependency, when added to all accrued disability indemnity, shall be the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) except in the case of a surviving widow and one or more dependent minor children, in which case the death benefit shall be increased 25 percent, but not to exceed twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) and except as otherwise provided in Sections 4553 and 4554. In cases of partial dependency the death benefit shall be a sum equal to four times the amount annually devoted to the support of the dependents by the employee, not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000). The death benefit in all cases shall be paid in installments in the same manner and amounts as temporary disability indemnity, payments to be made at least twice each calendar month, unless the commission otherwise orders.

Disability indemnity shall not be deducted from the death benefit and shall be paid in addition to the death benefit when the original injury resulting in death occurs after the effective date of the amendment to this section adopted at the 1949 Regular Session of the Legislature.

Every computation made pursuant to this section shall be made only with reference to death resulting from an original injury sustained after this section as amended during the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature becomes effective; provided, however, that all rights presently existing under this section shall be continued in force.

SEC. 7. This bill shall be known as the Abshire-Maloney-^{Short title} John McCarthy-Murdy-J. Howard Williams Bill.

CHAPTER 957

An act to amend Sections 2652, 2655, 2656, and 3270 of, to add Section 3271 to, and to repeal Section 3269 of, the California Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment compensation disability benefits.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 7, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2655 of the California Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2655. An individual's "weekly benefit amount" shall be the amount appearing in Column B in the table set forth in this section on the line of which in Column A of such table there appears the wage bracket containing the amount of wages paid to such individual for employment by employers during the quarter of his disability base period in which such wages were the highest.

A	B
Amount of wages in highest quarter	Weekly benefit amount
$75- $149.99	$10
150- 174.99	11
175- 199.99	12
200- 224.99	13
225- 249.99	14
250- 274.99	15
275- 299.99	16

800- 824.99	37
825- 849.99	38
850- 874.99	39
875 and over	40

For the purpose of this section, when an individual has been paid remuneration which would be taxable except for the three thousand dollars ($3,000) limitation on taxable wages, the "quarter of his base period in which his wages were the highest" may be determined by allocating to any quarter of the calendar year falling within the base period that portion of the taxable wages which is equal to the amount of remuneration paid to him in that quarter or eight hundred seventy-five dollars ($875), whichever is the lesser. The term "remuneration" as used in this section means taxable wages as well as wages which would be taxable except for the three thousand dollars ($3,000) limitation on taxable wages.

SEC. 2. Section 2652 of said code is amended to read:

Requirement for valid claim

2652. An individual cannot establish a valid claim unless he has during his disability base period been paid wages for employment by employers of not less than three hundred dollars ($300). If more than 75 percent of his disability base period wages were paid during a single calendar quarter, he is not eligible for benefits unless his total wages during the disability base period are not less than 30 times his weekly benefit amount, or not less than seven hundred fifty dollars ($750), whichever is lower.

SEC. 3. Section 2656 of said code is amended to read:

2656. An individual eligible to receive disability benefits who receives wages or regular wages from his employer during the period of his disability shall be paid disability benefits for any day in an amount not to exceed his maximum daily amount which together with the wages or regular wages does not exceed for such day one-seventh of his weekly wage immediately prior to the commencement of his disability.

Maximum
amount

SEC. 4. Section 3269 of said code is repealed.

Repeal

SEC. 5. The repeal of Section 3269 of the code shall become effective with respect to the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956, and the repeal shall not affect any assessments made thereunder for prior fiscal years, nor shall it affect the right of the director to proceed with effecting collections of any assessments for such prior fiscal years.

repeal

SEC. 6. Section 3270 of said code is amended to read:

3270. The provisions of Section 3254(h) and 3255(h), dealing with substantial selection of risks adverse to the Disability Fund shall be inoperative during the calendar years 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957.

Approval
of plans

SEC. 7. Section 3271 is added to said code, to read:

3271. Until January 10, 1956, the commission shall approve any amendment to a voluntary plan adjusting future benefits as to which it finds that the plan as amended will conform to the standards set forth in Section 3254 and that either of the following exist:

Approval of amendments to voluntary plans

(a) A majority of the employees covered by the plan have consented in writing to the amendment.

(b) All of the employees covered by the plan who are adversely affected by the amendment have consented in writing to the amendment.

(c) A notice, the form of which has been approved by the commission, has been posted and circulated to the employees covered by the plan at least 10 days prior to the effective date of the proposed amendment that the plan is to be amended and of their right to withdraw from the plan.

Nothing contained in this section is intended to deny or limit the right of the commission to make regulations supplementary thereto prior to January 10, 1956, nor on the general subject of requirements for amendments of voluntary plans subsequent to January 10, 1956.

SEC. 8. The amendments of Sections 2652, 2655 and 2656 of the code made by this act shall become operative with respect to periods of disability commencing on and after January 1, 1956, and the provisions of said sections of the code in effect prior to such amendments shall continue to be applicable with respect to periods of disability commencing prior to January 1, 1956.

CHAPTER 958

An act to add Article 3 to Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the San Pedro-Terminal Island Tube.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 12, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 14, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 is added to Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

Article 3. San Pedro-Terminal Island Tube

30680. As used in this article:

Definitions

(a) "Toll tube" means a toll tube across Los Angeles Harbor between San Pedro and Terminal Island, to be known as the San Pedro-Terminal Island Tube, and the approaches thereto.

(b) "City" means the City of Los Angeles.

(c) "Board" means the Board of Harbor Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles.

Alternative
procedure

30681. This article provides an alternative method of proceeding with respect to the financing, construction, operation, maintenance, and insurance of the toll tube. Nothing in this article shall prevent the California Toll Bridge Authority and department from proceeding under Chapter 1 of this division with respect to the toll tube without regard to this article.

Applicable
laws

30682. If the California Toll Bridge Authority elects to proceed under the terms of this article, it may instruct the department to enter into an agreement with the board on behalf of, and in the name of, the authority. If such agreement has been entered into as hereinafter provided in this article, the authority may issue bonds for the construction of the toll tube and undertake its construction pursuant to Chapter 1 of this division. The provisions of Chapter 1 of this division, insofar as they are not in conflict with the provisions of this article, shall apply to the proceedings under this article.

Lease of toll tube

The agreement with the board shall provide for the lease of the toll tube to the city at an annual rental fixed by the authority in an amount sufficient to provide annually not less than the minimum amounts necessary for interest, sinking fund, redemption, and reserve requirements for the bonds. Said annual rental shall be payable monthly to the department.

Contents of leasing

30683. The lease agreement shall be set out in full in the resolution adopted by the authority authorizing the issuance of bonds, and the terms of the agreement as set out shall be binding upon the board, the city, the department, the authority, and the bondholders.

30684. In addition to any other rights he may have, the holder of any bond issued for the construction of the toll tube may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding compel the performance of any of the duties imposed upon the board or the city, or any officers, agents, or employees of either, either by this article or by the lease agreement entered into pursuant to this article, in connection with the maintenance, operation, and insurance of the toll tube, with the collection of tolls and other charges from the operation and use of the toll tube, with the application of any funds pledged to make up any deficiency in toll revenues, and with the making of payments by the board to the department.

Compelling board to perform duties

30685. The toll tube shall be operated, maintained, and insured against all risks by the board, and the cost thereof shall be paid out of any funds made available to the board for this purpose other than tolls or other revenues received by the board from the use and operation of the toll tube.

Insurance

30686. The board may arrange with the Board of Public Works of the city for cooperation between the two with respect to the operation or maintenance, or both, of the toll tube, but the board shall be primarily responsible for the operation and maintenance thereof.

Cooperation with Board of Public Works

30687. The lease agreement shall contain a provision that the department, if it determines that the toll tube is not being operated or maintained, or both, in a satisfactory manner, may take over the operation or maintenance, or both, of the toll tube and charge the cost thereof to the board, which cost shall be paid by the board out of any funds made available to the board for this purpose other than tolls or other revenues received by the board from the use and operation of the toll tube. Whenever the department is satisfied thereafter that the board is equipped to perform the service taken over by the department, the department may relinquish the performance of that service to the board.

Assumption of operation, etc
by department

30688. The rates of toll or other charges for the use of the toll tube shall be fixed by the board, with the approval of the authority, at such rates so as to enable it to pay the rental to the authority as it becomes due and payable. The toll rates and other charges so fixed may be changed by the board, with the approval of the authority, from time to time as conditions warrant.

Rates and charges

30689. Any revenues received by the board each month in excess of the amount of rental payable to the department shall be paid over to the department along with the monthly rental payment and shall be paid over by the department to the State Treasurer. Such excess revenues received by the department shall be deposited to the credit of a reserve fund established by the authority, in an amount determined in the bond resolution, for the payment of rental in any month in which revenues are insufficient for such purpose, and the balance, if any, shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund established by the authority for the bonds.

Revenues in excess of rental payable

Pledge of funds as security

30690. In the lease agreement, the board may pledge, for the purpose of securing the payment of rental to the department as it becomes due and payable, any funds which it may legally pledge for such purpose. The funds so pledged shall be subject to the payment of rental only to the extent that the revenues received by the board from tolls and other charges are insufficient, together with amounts in the reserve fund established pursuant to Section 30689, to make the payment of rental as it becomes due and payable. Notwithstanding any provision of this article, the city shall not be required to levy any tax upon taxable property for the purpose of providing funds to make payments of rental under this article.

Retirement
of indebtedness

30691. Upon the retirement of all indebtedness incurred for the construction of the toll tube, the lease agreement shall terminate and the toll tube shall be transferred to the board and shall thereafter be maintained and operated free of tolls or the rate of tolls shall thereafter be so adjusted as to provide a fund of not to exceed the amount necessary for the proper operation, maintenance, and insurance of the toll tube under economical management.

CHAPTER 959

An act to amend Section 24465 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Section 32201 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the taxation of distilled spirits, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor June 14, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 14, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24465 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

Tax rates on distilled spirits

24465. (a) An excise tax is imposed upon all distilled spirits sold in this State by manufacturers, distilled spirits manufacturer's agents, brandy manufacturers, rectifiers, or wholesalers, or sellers of distilled spirits selling distilled spirits with respect to which no tax has been paid within areas over which the Federal Government exercises jurisdiction, at the following rates:

On all distilled spirits of proof strength or less, eighty cents ($0.80) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity, until July 1, 1955, and on and after July 1, 1955, one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity.

All distilled spirits in excess of proof strength shall be taxed at double the above rate.

(b) For the privilege of possessing or selling distilled spirits of proof strength or less, as to the sale of which a tax not exceeding eighty cents ($0.80) has been paid, every licensee under this division (other than a licensee obligated to pay a tax upon the sale thereof pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section) shall pay a tax of seventy cents ($0.70) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity, and shall pay a tax upon distilled spirits in excess of proof strength at double the above rate. The tax imposed by this subdivision shall also be paid by any person who possesses such distilled spirits for sale pursuant to Sections 23100 to 23105, inclusive, of this code. On or before August 15, 1955, each licensee or person subject to the tax imposed by this subdivision shall prepare and file with the board on forms prescribed by the board a return showing the amount of distilled spirits owned or possessed by him on July 1, 1955, that is subject to the tax imposed by this subdivision, and such other information as the board deems necessary for the proper administration of this division. The taxpayer shall deliver the return, together with a remittance of the amount of tax due, to the office of the board on or before such date.

All provisions, penalties and requirements in this division relating to excise taxes and provisions relative to payment of refunds, not inconsistent herewith, are applicable to the same force and extent with respect to the tax imposed under this subdivision.

SEC. 2. Section 32201 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

32201. (a) An excise tax is imposed upon all distilled ^{Same} spirits sold in this State or pursuant to Section 23384 of the Business and Professions Code by manufacturers, distilled spirits manufacturer's agents, brandy manufacturers, rectifiers, or wholesalers, or sellers of distilled spirits selling distilled spirits with respect to which no tax has been paid within areas over which the Federal Government exercises jurisdiction, at the following rates:

On all distilled spirits of proof strength or less, eighty cents ($0.80) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity, until July 1, 1955, and on and after July 1, 1955, one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity.

All distilled spirits in excess of proof strength shall be taxed at double the above rate.

(b) For the privilege of possessing or selling distilled spirits of proof strength or less, as to the sale of which a tax not exceeding eighty cents ($0.80) has been paid, every licensee under Division 9 of the Business and Professions Code (other than a licensee obligated to pay a tax upon the sale thereof pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section) shall pay a tax of seventy cents ($0.70) per wine gallon, and at a proportionate rate for any quantity, and shall pay a tax upon distilled spirits in excess of proof strength at double the above rate. The tax imposed by this subdivision shall also be paid by any person who possesses such distilled spirits for sale pursuant to Sections

23100 to 23105, inclusive, of the Business and Professions Code. On or before August 15, 1955, each licensee or person subject to the tax imposed by this subdivision shall prepare and file with the board on forms prescribed by the board a return showing the amount of distilled spirits owned or possessed by him on July 1, 1955, that is subject to the tax imposed by this subdivision, and such other information as the board deems necessary for the proper administration of this part. The taxpayer shall deliver the return, together with a remittance of the amount of tax due, to the office of the board on or before such date.

All provisions, penalties and requirements in this part relating to excise taxes and provisions relative to payment of refunds, not inconsistent herewith, are applicable to the same force and extent with respect to the tax imposed under this subdivision.

Tax levy

SEC. 3. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

Effect
Stats 1955,
Ch 1842

SEC. 4. Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if Part 14, the Alcoholic Beverage Tax Law, is added to Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature, and in such case at the same time as said part takes effect, at which time Section 24465 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 1 of this act, is repealed.

CHAPTER 960

An act to add Article 4 to Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the financing and construction of additional toll bridges across Carquinez Straits, including the modification and improvement of the existing Carquinez Bridge and the construction of approaches to such bridges, declaring the urgency thereof and providing this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor June 15, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 15, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 is added to Chapter 2 of Division 17 of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

Article 4. Bridges Across Carquinez Straits

30750. As used in this article:

Definitions

(a) "Existing bridge" means that certain bridge across the Carquinez Straits near Crockett, known as the Carquinez Bridge, together with any existing or new and additional approaches thereto necessary or desirable to connect with the present State Highway Routes 7 and 14, or any realignment thereof, which approaches shall extend, constructed to freeway standards, to a point approximately four and one-half miles north of the north end of the bridge, which point is just north of the Greenfield Avenue intersection, and to a point approximately four miles south of the south end of the bridge, which point is just north of the intersection of Routes 14 and 106.

(b) "Additional Carquinez Bridge" means a new toll bridge across the Carquinez Straits near Crockett, to be located approximately parallel to and upstream from the existing bridge, together with all approaches thereto necessary or desirable to connect with the present State Highway Routes 7 and 14 or any realignment thereof, which approaches shall extend, constructed to freeway standards, to a point approximately four and one-half miles north of the north end of the bridge, which point is just north of the Greenfield Avenue intersection, and to a point approximately four miles south of the south end of the bridge, which point is just north of the intersection of Routes 14 and 106, and toll collection facilities to serve both the existing bridge and the additional toll bridge.

(c) "Benicia-Martinez Bridge" means a new toll bridge across Carquinez Straits and connecting, with suitable approaches constructed to freeway standards, the Cities of Benicia and Martinez, such approaches to include improvements southerly to a connection with Route 106 and northerly to a connection with Route 74, approximately one-half mile northwesterly from Second Street in the City of Benicia, and toll collection facilities for the bridge.

(d) "Authority" means the California Toll Bridge Authority.

(e) "Department" means the Department of Public Works of the State of California.

30751. The department is authorized to lay out, acquire and construct the additional Carquinez Bridge and the Benicia-Martinez Bridge as defined in this article, and to make such modification, improvement and reconstruction of the existing bridge as is necessary adequately to handle anticipated traffic and permit the collection of tolls. The existing bridge and the additional Carquinez Bridge may be operated as a single unit.

Bridges across Carquinez
Straits

30752. For the purpose of obtaining funds to carry out the provisions of this article, the authority is authorized to issue revenue bonds. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act are hereby made applicable to such revenue bonds, and the authority and the department are authorized to do any and all things pursuant to law necessary to finance, construct and complete the bridges mentioned in this article and the improvement of the existing bridge. The authority may authorize the issuance of bonds in series in an amount estimated to be sufficient to complete the entire work authorized hereunder in successive stages, and may provide for the issuance and sale of sufficient revenue

Revenue
bonds
Applicable
laws

bonds to finance the construction of the additional Carquinez Bridge and the modification, improvement and reconstruction of the existing bridge as the initial stage of such work. The authority may insert in the bond indenture or resolution authorizing such bonds such conditions as it deems necessary upon the issuance and sale of the additional bonds necessary to finance the acquisition, construction and completion of the Benicia-Martinez Bridge. The revenues of each bridge need not be accounted for separately, but may be allocated as security for all of the bonds issued or to be issued hereunder as the authority may determine.

Tolls

30753. The authority is hereby authorized to reimpose tolls upon the existing bridge and to continue to collect tolls thereon for the purposes of this Article 4, the collection of said tolls to commence upon the date the additional Carquinez Bridge is opened to public traffic. The authority is likewise authorized to impose tolls upon the use of the additional Carquinez Bridge when it is opened to public traffic and the Benicia-Martinez Bridge when it is opened to public traffic. The authority may provide for the collection of tolls upon the existing bridge and the additional Carquinez Bridge under such rules and regulations as the authority deems necessary in order to operate both bridges as a single toll bridge. No tolls shall be charged for the use only of the approaches of any of such bridges as said approaches are defined in Section 30750. Subject to the limitations provided in this article, such tolls shall be used and applied as may be provided in a bond indenture or resolution of the authority authorizing the issuance of bonds for (a) the payment of principal and interest on said bonds; (b) the creation, establishment and maintenance of reserve and other funds for the protection or retirement of such bonds; (c) operation and insurance expenses, and (d) any other charges in connection with the construction, operation, insuring, and financing of said bridges and the improvement of the existing bridge as may be determined by the authority, including the establishment of rehabilitation and improvement funds for further rehabilitation and improvement of the bridges. Tolls shall continue to be collected upon the existing bridge, the additional Carquinez Bridge, and the Benicia-Martinez Bridge until all revenue bonds issued under this article have been fully paid and retired.

Payment of operation
costs

30754. The cost of operation of the existing bridge, the additional Carquinez Bridge, and the Benicia-Martinez Bridge, including the cost of insurance against loss of tolls or other revenue therefrom shall be paid from the tolls and revenue received from the use and operation of said bridges. The cost of physical maintenance, including the cost of insurance of said bridges against all risks, shall be paid by the department out of funds available to it for the maintenance of state highways. The department shall provide all engineering services for the work authorized in this article and the cost thereof shall be paid from funds available for the construction of state highways in Solano and Contra Costa Counties. The department shall proceed immediately with all necessary work, including but not limited to, plans, specifications, estimates of cost, traffic and financial studies for each of such bridges, to the end that each may be constructed as soon as funds can be made available from the proceeds of revenue bonds issued therefor.

30755. The bridges referred to in this article shall become toll free as soon as all bonds issued under this article are fully paid and retired. Toll free upon full payment

30756. While any revenue bonds issued pursuant to this article are outstanding, at such time as funds may be made available to the State of California from any federal interstate or main line highway system program in excess of federal allotments existing on January 1, 1955, the proportionate share of such funds which would have been allotted to the bridges mentioned in this article, or any of them, or the refund obtained because of the construction thereof, to the extent permitted by federal law, shall be credited to Solano and Contra Costa Counties in the proportions expended in each county (the cost of the bridges being evenly divided) for expenditure in accordance with law for construction on the state highways located in said counties. Additional federal or state grants

Traffic congestion is becoming more and more acute on the existing Carquinez Bridge and the portions of state highways leading to and from it, resulting not only in economic loss, but in hazards to traffic using the same; existing ferry accommodations between Benicia and Martinez are wholly inadequate; all resulting in a serious impediment to workers attempting to reach the military installations and defense industries in the areas affected. It is imperative that the bridges be constructed as soon as possible and this act shall therefore take effect immediately.

reporters

74351. Official reporters in such municipal courts, appointed pursuant to Section 72194, shall be attaches of the court and in lieu of any other compensation provided by law for their services in reporting testimony in felony criminal proceedings in the court, shall receive a monthly salary of five hundred dollars ($500). The salary shall be a charge against the general fund of the county.

SEC. 2. Section 74352 is added to said code, to read:

74352. Pursuant to Section 72194, the judges of the court may appoint as many additional reporters as the business of the court requires. The additional reporters shall be known as official reporters pro tempore, and they shall serve without salary but shall receive the fees provided by Sections 69947 to 69953, inclusive, which shall upon order of the court be a charge against the general fund of the county. Additional reporters

SEC. 3. Section 74353 is added to said code, to read:

74353. As otherwise provided by law fees for transcription of testimony and proceedings in the court shall be paid by the litigants to official reporters and official reporters pro tempore. In all cases where by law the court may direct the payment of transcription fees out of the county treasury, such fees shall, upon order of the court, be paid from the general fund, including fees for transcription of testimony and proceedings in criminal cases as provided in Sections 69947 to 69953, inclusive, which shall be paid from the county treasury. Fees

SEC. 4. Section 74354 is added to said code, to read:

74354. Official reporters of such court shall be members of any retirement system which includes attaches of such court. For the purposes of such retirement system, the salary provided in Section 74351 for such reporters shall be deemed their entire compensation, except that where credit is claimed for service rendered prior to the establishment of such salary, the actual compensation paid to them by the county shall be the basis for contributions for such prior service, and continuous employment of such municipal court, or a court superseded by it, prior to membership in said retirement system, shall be considered as "prior service" therein upon the payment by such reporters of the sums due, if any, under said retirement system. Membership in retirement system

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 16, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3371 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

3371. A bank shall not make any loan to a director of the bank, directly or indirectly, or to any corporation of which such director is a stockholder, officer, or employee or to any partnership of which such director is a partner or on the endorsement, surety, or guaranty of such director unless:

(a) The loan is secured by obligations of the United States or for the payment of which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged, obligations of the State of California or for the payment of which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged, or bonds of any city, county, city and county, metropolitan water district, or school district of the State of California; or

(b) The loan is to a corporation of which such director is a stockholder, officer, or director and such director does not own more than 10 percent of the capital stock of the corpora-

(c) The loan is authorized or is confirmed within 40 days after the same is made by a majority of all of the directors of the bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of the bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming the loan other than the interested director who shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board authorizing or confirming the loan, except that with the consent of the superintendent previously obtained in writing all directors may vote on such a loan made to any corporation or bank where all of the outstanding shares of stock of one are owned by or held in trust for the owners of not less than 90 percent of the outstanding shares of stock of the other and where all or a majority of the directors of the borrowing corporation or bank are directors of the loaning bank.

CHAPTER 973

An act to add Section 21151 to the Government Code, relating to the employment by certain contracting agencies of retired members to render services of a professional, scientific, or technical nature in connection with litigation.

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 16, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21151 is added to the Government Code, to read:

21151. A contracting agency furnishing a public water supply from the Colorado River may employ a person receiving a retirement allowance under this system who has special knowledge, experience and qualifications with reference to problems incident to providing such water supply from said Colorado River, to render services of a professional, scientific, or technical nature, in connection with litigation or prospective litigation involving such contracting agency, and may pay such person for services so rendered, pursuant to written contract setting forth the terms and duties of such employment. Any person who renders such services shall not be deemed to be an employee of the contracting agency for the purposes of the State Employees' Retirement Law, nor shall he acquire any additional rights or benefits thereunder because of such employment.

The monthly amount of such person's pension for any calendar month during which he rendered services to such contracting agency pursuant to such contract of employment, shall be reduced by the amount of the compensation so paid to him by such contracting agency for the services so rendered during said month, but such compensation so paid to such person shall not reduce the amount of such person's pension for any month or for any period other than the calendar month during which he rendered the services for which such compensation was paid to him by such contracting agency. If the compensation so paid for such services rendered during any calendar month shall exceed the amount of the monthly pension accrued for such month, no pension for such month shall be payable. The controller, auditor, or corresponding officer of the contracting agency shall furnish to the board of administration all information necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

The board of administration, promptly after receiving notification of any payment of compensation by a contracting agency for such services, shall make the proper entries in the pension account of such person and shall adjust the pension payments accordingly, and if necessary shall require refund of any overpayment of pension.

This section shall be effective notwithstanding the provisions of Section 20060 of this code or any other provision of law.

CHAPTER 974

An act to amend Section 6 of the Metropolitan Water District Act, relating to the government and management of metropolitan water districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 16, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6 of the Metropolitan Water District Act is amended to read:

Board of directors Functions,
personnel,
etc

Sec. 6. All powers, privileges and duties vested in or imposed upon any district incorporated hereunder shall be exercised and performed by and through a board of directors; provided, however, that the exercise of any and all executive, administrative and ministerial powers may be by said board of directors delegated and redelegated to any of the offices created hereby or by the board of directors acting hereunder.

The board of directors herein referred to shall consist of at least one representative from each municipality, the area of which shall lie within the metropolitan water district. Such representatives shall serve without compensation from the district and shall be designated and appointed by the chief executive officers of municipalities, respectively, with the consent and approval of the governing bodies of the municipalities, respectively. As a member of the board of directors, each representative shall be entitled to vote on all questions, orders, resolutions and ordinances coming before the board, and shall be entitled to cast one vote for each ten million dollars ($10,000,000), or major fractional part thereof, of assessed valuation of property taxable for district purposes in the city represented by him as shown by the assessment records of the county and evidenced by the certificate of the county auditor; provided, that each representative shall have at least one vote and no municipality shall have votes exceeding in number the total number of votes of all the other municipalities whose corporate areas are included in such district. In lieu of one representative any city may at its option designate and appoint several representatives not exceeding one additional representative for each five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) of assessed valuation, but such representatives shall cast the vote to which such city would otherwise be entitled as a unit and as a majority of such representatives present shall determine; provided, that no incumbent representative shall be deprived of his office by reason of increase in the amount of assessed valuation required to authorize designation and appointment of additional representatives nor by reason of any decrease in assessed valuation of the municipality which he represents occurring after his assumption of office. The affirmative votes of members representing more than fifty (50) percent of the total number of votes of all the members shall be necessary and, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be sufficient to carry any order, resolution or ordinance coming before the board of directors. Any meeting may be adjourned or recessed from day to day or from time to time, by vote of the director or directors present, irrespective of the number of directors present or the number of votes represented at such meeting. For the purposes of this section, the term "major fractional part" shall be deemed to mean a fractional part larger than one-half. Members of the board of directors so constituted shall convene at the time and place fixed by the chief executive officer of the municipality initiating the proceedings hereunder, and immediately upon convening, such board of directors shall elect from its membership a chairman, a vice chairman, and a secretary, who shall serve for a period of two years, or until their respective successors shall be elected and qualified.

The board of directors shall have power:

Powers

(1) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular meetings shall be held, and shall provide for the calling and holding of special meetings.

Meetings

(2) To make and pass ordinances, resolutions and orders not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California, or to the provisions of this act, necessary for the government and management of the affairs of the district, for the execution of the powers vested in the district and for carrying into effect the provisions of this act. On all ordinances the roll shall be called and the ayes and noes recorded. Resolutions and orders may be adopted by viva voce, but on

Ordinances
etc.

demand of any member the roll shall be called. No ordinance shall be adopted unless it shall have been introduced on a day previous to the time of such adoption except by unanimous vote of all the members of the board of directors present; provided, there shall be present directors from not less than three-fourths of all cities whose corporate areas are included in said metropolitan water district and representing not less than three-fourths of the total votes of said district; provided, that in lieu of such previous introduction or unanimous vote any ordinance may be mailed by registered mail, postage prepaid, to each member of the board of directors at least five (5) days prior to the day upon which such ordinance shall be presented for adoption. No ordinance adopted by the board of directors shall take effect until the expiration of thirty (30) days following the adoption thereof, except an ordinance ordering or otherwise relating to an election or to the issuance or sale of bonds or to the levying or collection of taxes or the fixing of water rates; and an ordinance necessary for the immediate preservation or protection of the property, interests or welfare of the district, which shall contain a specific statement showing its urgency, and is passed by three-fourths of the total vote of the board of directors but all ordinances of any of the classes heretofore excepted by this section shall take effect upon their adoption. All ordinances except those which shall take effect upon their adoption as provided in this section shall be subject to referendum in the manner provided by law for the legislative acts of boards of supervisors of counties.

Principal place of business

(3) To fix the location of the principal place of business of the district and the location of all offices and departments maintained hereunder.

Business
administration, etc.

(4) To prescribe by ordinance a system of business administration and to create any and all necessary offices which shall include the offices of controller and of treasurer and to establish and re-establish the powers and duties and compensation of all officers and employees and to require and fix the amount of all official bonds necessary for the protection of the funds and property of the district.

Civil service
Delegation of powers

(5) To prescribe by ordinance a system of civil service.

(6) To delegate and redelegate by ordinance to officers of the district power to employ clerical, legal and engineering assistants and labor, and under such conditions and restrictions as shall be fixed by the directors, power to bind the district by contract.

Claims,
contracts,
etc

(7) To prescribe a method of auditing and allowing or rejecting claims and demands; also to prescribe methods for the construction of works and for the letting of contracts for the construction of works, structures or equipment, or the performance or furnishing of labor, materials or supplies, required for the carrying out of any of the purposes of this act; provided that, in cases where work is not to be done by the district itself by force account, and the amount involved shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or more, the board of directors shall provide for the letting of contracts to the lowest responsible bidder, after publication of notices inviting bids, subject to the right of said board to reject any and all proposals; provided, likewise, that the board of directors in advertising for bids and in letting contracts as above provided, may require all articles to be furnished to the district thereunder to be manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its territories, and may prohibit the use in, or employment in connection with, the carrying out of such contracts by the contractor or any subcontractor, of all machinery or materials except such as shall have been manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its territories, if such are available, the question of such availability to be determined by the board of directors; provided further, that contracts, in writing or otherwise, may be let without advertising for or inviting bids, when any repairs, alterations, or other work, or the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or other property, shall be deemed by the board of directors to be of urgent necessity, and shall be authorized by a two-thirds vote thereof.

(8) To fix the rates at which water shall be sold; provided, ^{Water rates} however, that rates shall be uniform for like classes of service throughout the district.

CHAPTER 975

An act to amend Section 32311 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to the sale of bonds by hospital districts.

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 16, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 32311 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32311. At the time appointed, the board of directors shall open the proposals, and may sell the bonds or any portion thereof to the highest responsible bidder or bidders. Any and all bids may be rejected and no proposal shall be accepted unless accompanied by a certified or cashier's check for such reasonable percentage of the amount of the bid as shall be determined by the board of directors, to apply to the purchase price of the bonds. The amount of such check shall be forfeited if, after the acceptance of the proposal the bidder refuses to accept the bonds and to complete his purchase thereof on conditions stated in his bid. In case no award is made the board of directors thereafter may again advertise the bonds or any part thereof for sale.

CHAPTER 976

An act to amend Section 14101 of the Government Code, relating to public works.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 17, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14101 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14101. The department shall contract with qualified architects and engineers for the performance of work when it is determined by the Director of Public Works, with the approval of the Director of Finance, that the obtainable staff is unable to perform the particular work within the time the public interest requires such work to be done.

CHAPTER 977

An act to amend Sections 470, 471, and 472 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to the licensing of guides.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 17, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 470 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

"Guide"

470. As used in this chapter "guide" means any person who is engaged in the business of packing or guiding, and who for compensation assists another person in hunting or fishing and includes any person who transports other persons or their equipment or both to hunting or fishing areas, irrespective of whether or not the latter persons determine the destination or course of travel or both.

Sec. 2. Section 471 of said code is amended to read:

Guide
license

471. It shall be unlawful for any person to be engaged in the business of guiding or packing, as the terms are commonly understood for any consideration or compensation whatever, without first having secured a guide license from the Department of Fish and Game. An employee of a licensee who acts as a guide or packer only in connection with his employment need not have a guide license. Each licensee shall be responsible for all acts or omissions of his employees when acting within the scope of their employment.

Application

Any person who desires a license as a guide shall make application for such license on a form to be prescribed and furnished on request by the department. The application shall show all of the following:

(a) The name, age, and address of the applicant.

(b) The area or areas of the State in which he proposes to operate.

(c) The type or types of guiding or packing he proposes to engage in.

(d) The experience which he considers as qualifying him for the type or types of guiding or packing he proposes to conduct.

(e) The nature and amount of the equipment, vehicles, animals, and other property he proposes to use in his operations as a licensee.

(f) Such other information and matters as the department may require.

If the applicant proposes to furnish transportation the application shall show the location of the headquarters from which the applicant proposes to operate.

If the licensee is to operate with pack or riding animals in any area in which a grazing permit is required, the license shall not be valid unless the holder thereof has a valid grazing permit for the area.

The provisions of Section 13.3 relating to licenses shall apply to licenses issued under this chapter.

The license fee shall be ten dollars ($10) and the license ^{Fee} shall be valid for the fiscal year in which issued or, if issued after the beginning of a fiscal year, for the remainder thereof.

SEC. 3. Section 472 of said code is amended to read:

472. When any person licensed under this chapter, shall ^{Revocation of license} be adjudged guilty by a court of competent jurisdiction of violating or permitting the violation of any fish and game law of this State, in addition to any fine or other punishment imposed, the court may revoke his guide license.

Any person who obtains another guide license within two ^{Penalty} years after his guide license has been revoked, or forfeited, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days, or both fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 978

An act to amend Section 28134 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public service in counties of the thirty-fourth class.

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 17, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28134 of the Government Code is amended to read:

28134. In a county of the thirty-fourth class the following shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following ^{County of Madera officers Salaries} sums:

(a) The auditor, seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) a year.

(b) The district attorney, seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) a year.

(c) The chairman of the board of supervisors, for all services required of him as chairman, four thousand two hundred dollars ($4,200) a year. Each other supervisor, for all services required of him as supervisor, three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600) a year. He shall also receive the following mileage and traveling expenses: when using a privately owned automobile, eight cents ($0.08) for each mile actually traveled each way: (1) in going to and from his residence to the courthouse in attending each day's session of the regular and special meetings of the board of supervisors and in attending each day's session of the meetings of the board of supervisors when the board convenes as a board of equalization, and (2) in the county in the performance of his duties as supervisor and as a member of the county board of equalization. When traveling in a privately owned automobile each member of the board of supervisors shall also be allowed mileage at the rate of eight cents ($0.08) a mile or railroad or bus fare, together with other traveling expenses incurred in traveling to and from places outside of the county when he is on county business authorized by the board of supervisors.

(d) For attending as a juror in the superior court or in the justice courts, each juror shall be paid three dollars ($3) for each day's attendance upon the court and eight cents ($0.08) a mile for each mile actually traveled each way in attending each day's session of the court

For serving as a grand juror, each grand juror shall be paid six dollars ($6) for each day's attendance upon the duly called sessions of the grand jury and the meetings of committees appointed by the foreman of the grand jury and for each day's service when authorized in writing by the foreman to make individual investigations. When using a privately owned automobile, each grand juror shall also be allowed eight cents ($0.08) a mile for each mile actually traveled by him each way in attending each day's sessions of the grand jury and meetings of committees appointed by the foreman of the grand jury and when making individual investigations upon being authorized in writing to make such investigations by the foreman.

The fees and traveling expenses shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in the case of grand jurors and jurors attending the superior court, and upon written order of the judge of the court in which the juror was in attendance in the case of jurors attending the justice courts.

The compensation provided by this section shall be paid to incumbent officers.

CHAPTER 979

An act relating to the sale, exchange, other disposition, or administration of state property, and providing for the disposition of the proceeds from such sale or exchange and for accomplishing the purposes of this act.

CHAPTER 980

An act to add Section 13554 to the Government Code and amend Section 13661 of the Government Code, relating to the distribution of state publications, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 17, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13554 is added to the Government Code, to read:

Printing
charges

13554. Charges for printing publications, including legislative printing, shall include the cost of printing and distributing copies thereof to libraries as required by Section 13661 and also the cost of preparing, printing, and distributing the lists of publications required by Section 13667.

SEC. 2. Section 13661 of said code is amended to read:

Distribution,
etc., of printed material

13661. To the end that the policy specified in Section 13660 may be effectively carried out, the State Printer shall print one hundred seventy-five (175) copies of each state publication for deposit in a "library stock room" (to be maintained by the State Printer for that purpose) for distribution to libraries as hereinafter provided, except that of legislative bills, journals, and histories, only fifty (50) copies shall be printed for such deposit and distribution, and of publications not printed by the State Printer, the department, commission or other agency concerned shall print fifty (50) copies for such distribution. An additional two (2) copies of each state publication as selected by the State Archivist shall be printed and delivered to the State Archivist by the State Printer or the department, commission, or other agency concerned, and all remaining copies in excess of two (2) copies heretofore received shall be distributed to interested parties without charge or destroyed. The cost of printing, publishing, and distributing such copies shall be fixed and charged pursuant to Section 13551. Additional amounts shall be charged by the State Printer to cover the cost of preparing, printing, and distributing the lists of publications required by Section 13667.

Operative
and termination dates

SEC. 3. Section 13554 of the Government Code shall become operative on July 1, 1955, and shall become inoperative on July 1, 1957 and thereafter shall have no force or effect.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The allocation of charges for the cost of printing vitally affects the fiscal management of the Division of Printing. As any changes in the inter-agency accounting of state agencies must be consistent with the budgetary allotments of the agencies, which become operative for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1955, it is necessary that this bill take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 981

An act to amend Section 18006 of the Government Code, relating to moving expenses of state officers and employees, declaring the urgency thereof to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 17, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18006 of the Government Code is amended to read:

18006. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 11030, whenever a state officer or employee is required by the appointing power because of a change in assignment, promotion or other reason related to his duties to change his place of residence, such officer, agent or employee shall receive his actual and necessary moving, traveling, lodging and meal expense, incurred by him both before and after and by reason of such change of residence. The maximum allowances for such expenses shall be as follows: The costs of packing, transporting, and unpacking 8,000 pounds of household effects, traveling, lodging, and meal expenses for 30 days while locating a permanent residence, storage of household effects for 30 days, and additional miscellaneous allowances not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100). The maximum allowances may be exceeded in those particular instances where the Director of Finance determines in advance that the change of residence will result in unusual and unavoidable hardship for the officer or employee, and in such cases the Director of Finance shall determine the maximum allowances to be received by said officer or employee. The Board of Control may adopt general rules and regulations covering the payment of such expenses. The provisions of this section shall not apply to those changes of residence which are made at the request of the officer or employee and primarily for his convenience.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting the urgency is as follows:

There is an ambiguity in the existing law as to the authority to pay state officers and employees traveling, lodging and meal expenses when they are required to change their place of residence because of a change in assignment, promotion or other reason, and such authority has been questioned. Failure to continue to pay such traveling, lodging and meal expenses could result in serious hardship on employees assigned to duties involving such a change of residence for the benefit of the State. As a result thereof, the availability of personnel for transfer will be greatly curtailed and the morale of state employees and recruitment of new state employees will be affected. The orderly process of state business would be interrupted. It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 982

An act to add Section 11013 to the Government Code, relating to state institutions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 16, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 17, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11013 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11013. The director of any state department, subject to approval of the Department of Finance, may establish and maintain, or by contract or otherwise cause to be established and maintained by any person or organization, at any institution under the jurisdiction of such department, a store or canteen for the sale to, or for the benefit of, inmates, patients and other persons entitled to institutional services, or employees of such institution, of candies, tobacco products, packaged food, nonalcoholic beverages and other articles. Such stores or canteens shall be conducted subject to rules and regulations of the department and rental, utilities and service charges shall be fixed and collected from such stores or canteens in an amount sufficient to reimburse the institution for its costs in connection with such store or canteen. The store or canteen when conducted by the institution or under the direction of the superintendent thereof, shall be operated on a nonprofit basis. Any profit derived by the institution from any store or canteen shall be deposited for the use and benefit of said inmates, patients or persons entitled to institutional services.

This section shall not apply to any institution at which a store or canteen is authorized to be established under existing law.

CHAPTER 983

An act to amend Section 28122 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public services in counties of the twenty-second class.

salaries,
tuition

(a) Not less than 65 percent of the foundation program for elementary school attendance in elementary districts with an average daily attendance during the preceding year of less than 101, exclusive of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, as such foundation program is actually computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year pursuant to Article 4, Chapter 15 of this division, or pursuant to Section 7091, if the foundation program for such district is computed pursuant to Section 7091, whichever is the case for the particular district.

Amounts

(b) Not less than 65 percent of the foundation program for elementary school attendance of an elementary district with an average daily attendance during the preceding year of 101 or more, exclusive of the average daily attendance of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school, as such foundation program would be computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 15, or as it would be computed pursuant to Section 7091 for apportionments in the same fiscal year, whichever is the larger amount

(c) Not less than 65 percent of the foundation program for high school attendance in high school districts with an average daily attendance during the preceding year of less than 281, as such foundation program is actually computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 15, or pursuant to Section 7092.1, if the foundation program for such district is computed pursuant to Section 7092.1, whichever is the case for the particular district.

(d) Not less than 65 percent of the foundation program for high school attendance in a high school district which had an average daily attendance during the preceding year of 281 or more, which would be computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year pursuant to Article 4, Chapter 15, or which would be computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year pursuant to Section 7092.1, whichever is the larger amount.

(e) Not less than 65 percent of the foundation program computed for apportionments in the same fiscal year for junior college attendance.

(f) In addition to the above amounts, as determined for each district, not less than 65 percent of the apportionments for growth computed for the district during the preceding fiscal year.

Definitions

The terms "elementary district," "high school district" and "elementary school attendance," "high school attendance," and "junior college attendance," as used in this section, have the same meanings as if used in Chapter 15 of this division.

Exemption

In the event it appears to the governing board of a school district that the application of the preceding paragraphs of this section during a fiscal year would result in serious hardship to the district, or in the payment of salaries to persons employed by the district in positions requiring certification qualifications substantially in excess of the salaries paid persons employed in positions requiring certification qualifications by other districts of comparable type and functioning under comparable conditions, the board may, with the written approval of the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district, apply to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in writing not later than July 15th of the succeeding fiscal year for exemption from the requirements of the preceding paragraphs of this section for the fiscal year on account of which the application is made. Upon receipt of such application, duly approved, the Superintendent of Public Instruction may grant the district exemption, to the extent deemed necessary by him, from such requirements for the fiscal year on account of which the application is made.

Money not expended

If any portion of the money is not expended as required by this section and is not exempted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district shall add such portion to the amount required to be expended for salaries or tuition for the next succeeding fiscal year or he may transfer 80 percent of such amount to the county school service fund pursuant to Section 7203.

CHAPTER 997

An act to add Section 73.1 to the Water Conservation Act of 1931 (Chapter 1020 of the Statutes of 1931), relating to improvement district assessments, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 73.1 is added to the Water Conservation Act of 1931, to read:

Applicable
laws

Sec. 73.1. In the discretion of the board of directors in the construction of any work to be done or improvement made within an improvement district formed pursuant to Section 68 of this act and in the levying of assessments and reassessments and the issuing of bonds to pay for costs and expenses of the work and improvements done or to be done hereunder the board may use the Improvement Act of 1911, the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the Street Opening Act of 1903, or the Street Improvement Act of 1913 and said acts are and each of them is applicable to districts; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions or limitations of any of said acts relating to the work authorized to be done or the improvements authorized to be made thereunder, a district created by this act shall have power to acquire or construct in any such improvement district by the procedures permitted by this section any improvements authorized by this act, and the improvements authorized to be constructed or acquired by the procedure permitted by this section are restricted to those permitted by this act to be constructed or acquired in any such improvement district. In the application of said acts to proceedings hereunder, the terms used in said acts shall have the following meanings:

- (a) "City council" and "council" mean board. Definitions
- (b) "City" and "municipality" mean district.
- (c) "Clerk" and "city clerk" mean secretary.
- (d) "Superintendent of streets" and "street superintendent" and "city engineer" mean the chief engineer of the district or any other person appointed to perform such duties.
- (e) "Tax collector" means county tax collector.
- (f) "Treasurer" and "city treasurer" mean the county treasurer who is the depository of the district.
- (g) "Right of way" means any right of way owned or held by the district for the purpose of constructing or maintaining any work or improvements which the district is authorized to do.

The powers and duties conferred by said acts upon boards, officers and agents of cities shall be exercised by the board, officers and agents of the district, respectively. Parties to exercise powers, etc

No assessment or bond hereafter levied or issued shall become a lien and no person shall be deemed to have notice thereof until a certified copy of the assessment in the proceedings under any of said acts and the diagram attached to said assessment shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of the lands assessed are located. Lien recordation

Water is vital to the State of California and there is urgent necessity for its conservation. Water conservation districts in this State are unable to plan for new local projects in the most efficient and economical fashion under the present provisions relating to improvement districts and assessment proceedings therein. The immediate availability of this act will allow water conservation operations to proceed at maximum efficiency.

SEC. 2. Section 5 of said act is amended to read:

election

Sec. 5. Within 40 days after the effective date of this act the board shall, by resolution, provide for the holding of a special district election for the purpose of submitting to the electors the question of whether the organization of the district, as provided herein, shall be ratified and confirmed, and shall fix a date upon which such special district election shall be held, which date shall not be less than 30 nor more than 180 days after the adoption of such resolution.

General election laws
applicable

In all particulars not recited in said resolution such special district election shall be called and held in accordance with the general election laws of the State of California insofar as the same may be applicable, except that it shall be the duty of the county assessor to provide a list of landowners, which list shall be the list of electors for the purposes of this section. Preparation of such list shall be a charge against the county general fund. If there is a conflict in election procedures, the provisions of this act shall prevail. But in addition to the matters and things required to be set forth in the proclamation therein provided for, such proclamation shall likewise set forth the proposition to be submitted to the electors. The proposition shall be submitted in substantially the following form: "Shall the organization of the San Benito County Water Conservation and Flood Control District, as provided in the act adopted by the Legislature at its last regular session, known as the San Benito County Water Conservation and Flood Control Act, be ratified and confirmed?" Opposite shall be the word "YES" followed by a square wherein to mark a cross, and also opposite shall be the word "NO" followed by a square wherein to mark a cross.

There may be absentee ballots under this act.

Returns of the election shall be made and the votes canvassed by the board on the first Monday which is six or more days after the election and the results of the election shall be ascertained and declared by the board at the conclusion of the counting of any absentee ballots, which counting shall be done in conformity with the general election laws of the State of California.

If such proposition is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at such election the president and secretary of the board shall file or cause to be filed with the Secretary of State and shall record or cause to be recorded in the Office of the County Recorder of San Benito County, a certificate stating the result of such election to be the formation of the district under the provisions thereof. Upon receipt of the certificate the Secretary of State shall within 10 days issue his certificate reciting that the district has been duly incorporated. A copy of this certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the County Clerk of San Benito County.

constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work or improvement of common benefit to such zone or participating zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of same to be borne by the particular zones or participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution and which shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing, the last publication of which notice must be at least seven (7) days before said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation designated by the board, circulated in such zone or each of said participating zones, if there be such newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper then by posting notice for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing in five public places designated by the board, in such zone or in each of said participating zones. Said notice must designate a public place in such zone or in each of said participating zones where a copy or copies of the map or maps of said joint project may be seen by any interested person; said map must be posted in each of said public places so designated in said notice at least two weeks prior to said hearing.

Hearing

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or proceed with the same, or a portion thereof, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing written protests against the proposed project signed by a majority in number of the electors of such zone or participating zones be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to such project must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned at the discretion of the board.

SEC. 4. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. The board shall have power, in any year:

Tax levy

To levy taxes upon all land in each or any of said zones, or in the case of zones created for flood control, on all land and the improvements thereon, according to benefits derived or to be derived therein to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out any of the objects or purposes of this act of benefit to such zones, including the administering, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing, or otherwise improving any or all works of improvement established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zones. Said taxes shall be based upon the assessment rolls used by the county for general tax purposes.

In the event of project cooperation with any of the governmental bodies as authorized in subdivision 7 of Section 6 of this act, and the making of a contract with any such governmental body for the purposes set forth in said subdivision 7, by the terms of which work is agreed to be performed by any such governmental body in any specified zone or participating zones, for the particular benefit thereof, and by said contract it is agreed that the district is to pay to such governmental body, a sum of money in consideration or subvention for the performance of said work by such governmental body, the board may levy and collect a special tax upon the property in such zone or participating zones, whereby to raise funds to enable the district to make such payment. Special tax

Said taxes shall be levied and collected together with, and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and the revenues derived from said taxes shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of said district, and the respective zones thereof, and the board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said purposes; provided, however, that no revenues, or portions thereof, derived in any of the several zones from the taxes levied under the provisions of this section shall be expended for constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any works or improvements located in any other zone, except in the case of joint projects, or for projects authorized or established outside such zone, or zones, but for the benefit thereof. In cases of projects joint to two or more zones, such zones will become, and shall be referred to as, participating zones. Disposition of proceeds

SEC. 5. Section 18 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 18. (1) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work or improvement in any zone or zones, the board may by resolution, determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement and the denomination and rate of interest of said bonds. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the office of the recorder of San Benito County within five (5) days after its issuance. From and after said filing of said copy of said resolution the board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with the bond election. Bonded indebtedness
intention

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the board may call a special bond election in said zone or participating zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes levied upon the lands situated within the zone or participating zones, and all such lands shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as provided in this act. Special bond election

Ordinance

(3) Said board shall call such special bond election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone or participating zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the recorded copy of such resolution adopted by said board, and on file for particulars; and said ordinances shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and what part or installment of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, and which shall not in any one year be less than one-fortieth ($1/40$) of the whole amount of the principal and interest of such indebtedness, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. For the purposes of said election, said board shall in said ordinance establish a special bond election precinct or precincts within the boundaries of each zone and participating zone and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general elections in said district to a number not exceeding six general precincts for each such special bond election precinct, and shall designate polling places and appoint at least one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each of such special bond election precincts.

General election laws applicable

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such special bond election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State, except that voters shall be electors as defined in this act. It shall be the duty of the county assessor to provide a list of landowners, which list shall be the list of electors for purposes of this section. Preparation of such list shall be a charge against the county general fund.

Maps

Said board shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election.

Publication of ordinance

Said ordinance calling for such special bond election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in each zone and participating zone affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places designated by the board, in each zone and participating zone for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. If at such election two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds for such zone or participating zones for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided.

SEC. 6. Section 19 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 19. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the zone or participating zones affected, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and shall be payable on the days and at the place fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of five per centum (5%) per annum, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairman of the board, and countersigned by the auditor of said district, and the seal of said district shall be affixed thereto by the clerk of the board. The signature of the chairman of the board may be his engraved or lithographed signature. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the said auditor by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officer whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such bonds and coupons, and signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 7. Section 21 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 21. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon all land of the zone or zones of issuance, except in zones created for flood control the bonds shall be a lien on all land and the improvements thereon in the zone, and the lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual tax upon all land within said zone or participating zones and all land in said zone or participating zones shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as hereinafter provided. No zone nor the property therein shall be liable for the share of bonded indebtedness of any other zone, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation in any of the several zones be used in payment of principal or interest or otherwise of the share of bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other zone.

Deposit and registration

Said bonds may be deposited and registered with the treasurer of the county, and it shall be an official duty of said treasurer to receive and register said bonds in the name of the holder and to keep a sufficient book of registry thereof setting forth a description of the bonds and the names and addresses of the respective holders, and to give each holder of such bonds so registered a receipt therefor; said receipts shall be personal to the respective holders and not transferable. Such bonds shall be returned to such holders thereof or in case of death to the duly appointed personal representative of the holder's estate, upon the giving of receipt therefor, with or without return of the receipt given by the treasurer at the time of such deposit and registry. And the treasurer, at the request of such holder, or such personal representative, may detach and deliver to such holder or personal representative, mature coupons from time to time, first taking receipts therefor.

SEC. 8. Section 22 of said act is amended to read:

Annual
tax levy

Sec. 22. The board shall levy a tax each year upon all land in the zone or zones of issuance, or in zones created for flood control, upon all land and the improvements thereon in the zone or zones of issuance, sufficient to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of said bonds as is due or to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy. Such taxes shall be levied and collected in the respective zones of issuance together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said San Benito County to the credit of the zone of payment, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer of said San Benito County in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of said county.

SEC. 9. Section 29 of said act is amended to read:

Additional
bonds

Sec. 29. Whenever bonds have been authorized by any zone or participating zone of said district and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as in this act authorized, and the board shall by resolution determine that additional bonds should be issued for carrying out the work of flood control, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board may again proceed as in this act provided, and submit to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zone, the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedure as hereinbefore provided, and all the above provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

CHAPTER 1000

An act to amend Section 28137 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public services in counties of the thirty-seventh class.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28137 of the Government Code is amended to read:

28137. In a county of the thirty-seventh class the following shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following sums: Sutter
County
officers
Salaries

(a) The auditor, five thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($5,250) a year.

(b) The district attorney, five thousand three hundred dollars ($5,350) a year.

(c) Each supervisor shall receive three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) a year, and his actual expenses while attending to the business of the county by the order of the board of supervisors and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents ($.15) a mile one way, for traveling from his residence to the county seat to attend regular, special and adjourned sessions of the board of supervisors.

(d) Grand jurors and jurors in the superior court shall receive five dollars ($5) for each day's attendance and fifteen cents ($.15) for each mile actually traveled in attending court as a juror, and for attending regularly called grand jury meetings and grand jury committee meetings, one way. Mileage shall be paid for each time a regularly empaneled jury or grand jury is called in separate session.

The compensation provided by this section shall be payable to incumbent officers.

CHAPTER 1001

An act to amend Sections 12100 and 12300.3 of the Financial Code, relating to the Check Sellers and Cashers Law.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12100 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

Exemptions

12100. The provisions of this division do not apply to any of the following:

(a) Persons or their authorized agents doing business under license and authority of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of California, or under any law of this State or of the United States relating to banks, trust companies, building or savings and loan associations, industrial loan companies, personal property brokers, credit unions, or California small loan companies.

(b) Persons or their authorized agents engaged in the business of paying to others bills, invoices, or accounts of an obligor, or of selling or cashing checks, including traveler's checks, drafts, or money orders issued by a person who has been licensed under and complied with and continues to be licensed under and comply with, Article 3 of Chapter 14 of Division 1 of this code.

(c) Attorneys at law who are not actively engaged in business as a check seller or cashier.

(d) Persons or their authorized agents licensed as a collection agency or a merchant owned nonprofit credit association.

(e) Any transaction in which money or other property is paid to a "joint control agent" for dispersal or use in payment of the cost of labor, materials, services, permits, fees, or other items of expense incurred in construction of improvements upon real property.

SEC. 2. Section 12300.3 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

Trust funds

12300.3. All money received by a licensee or his agents from the sale of checks, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose and for the purpose of paying bills, invoices, or accounts of an obligor shall constitute trust funds owned by and belonging to the person from whom they were received. All such money received by an agent of a licensee shall be separated from the funds of the agent not later than the end of the third business day following receipt by such agent. All such money shall thereafter be kept separate and apart at all times from funds belonging to the licensee or any of its officers, employees or agents and may be used for no purpose other than paying bills of said persons, or paying checks, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper sold by the licensee. All such trust funds received at the main or branch offices of a licensee shall be deposited in a bank or banks in an account or accounts in the name of the licensee designated "trust account," or by some other appropriate name indicating that the funds are not the funds of the licensee or of its officers, employees, or agents, on or before the close of the next business day following receipt. Moneys received by an agent of a licensee must be deposited in such account on or before the close of the third business day following receipt by the agent. Such funds are not subject to attachment, levy of execution or sequestration by order of court except by a payee or bona fide assignee or bona fide holder in due course of a check, draft, or money order sold by a licensee, or except by an obligor for whom a licensee is acting as an agent in paying bills. Funds in said account, together with money on hand and in the hands of agents held for the account of the licensee, at all times shall be at least equal to the aggregate liability of the licensee on account of checks sold and bills, invoices, and accounts accepted for payment.

Trust
account

In the event a licensee obtains an unqualified guarantee of a surety or insurance company authorized to do business in the State of California which guarantees the payment of checks, drafts, money orders, or other commercial paper serving the same purpose sold by the licensee and the payment of bills, invoices, or accounts of an obligor under the provisions of this law, the commissioner may, if he considers such guarantee or insurance adequate, authorize such licensee to use such above described funds for the purpose of cashing checks, drafts, or money orders. In such an event, funds in the trust account, together with money on hand and in the hands of agents held for the account of the licensee, and checks, drafts, or money orders received in said business and on hand at all times shall be at least equal to the aggregate liability of the licensee on account of checks sold, and bills, invoices, and accounts accepted for payment.

Guarantee by surety or
company

Nothing in this law shall be construed to prevent a purchaser, a holder in due course, the payee of a check, draft, or money order sold by the licensee in the usual course of his business, or an obligor for whom the licensee is acting as an agent in paying bills of the obligor, from taking any legal action necessary to enforce any claims which said purchaser, holder in due course, payee, or obligor may desire to take including the right to levy attachment or execution.

Enforcement of claims by purchaser,
etc

In the event a license under this law shall be suspended or terminated the licensee shall immediately deposit in said trust account an amount which with funds therein contained shall be equal to the outstanding checks sold and bills unpaid.

Suspension,
etc., of license

CHAPTER 1002

An act to add Sections 62.2, 218, 219, and Division 2b to, and to amend Sections 215 and 216 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to highway user taxes and fees, creating the Reciprocity Commission, and defining the powers thereof.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 62.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

“Reciprocity Commission” 62.2. “Reciprocity Commission.” “Reciprocity Commission” is the commission empowered to enter into reciprocity agreements.

SEC. 2. Division 2b is added to said code, to read:

DIVISION 2b. THE RECIPROCITY COMMISSION

CHAPTER 1. ADMINISTRATION

- Members 139.75. Reciprocity Commission Created. The Reciprocity Commission shall be composed of the Lieutenant Governor, the Director of Motor Vehicles, the Director of Public Works, the State Controller, and the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol.
- Compensation 139.76. Compensation. All of the members of the commission shall serve thereon without additional compensation, but they shall receive their necessary actual traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.
- Majority 139.77. Majority May Act. A majority of the members of the commission may act for the commission.
- Assistance 139.78. Director of Motor Vehicles to Provide Assistance. The Director of Motor Vehicles shall provide such assistance to the commission as it may require.

CHAPTER 2. POWERS AND DUTIES

- Agreements 139.85. Commission to Enter Into Agreements. The commission is empowered to enter into formal agreements or arrangements as provided in Section 218 of this code.
- Regulations 139.86. Rules and Regulations. The commission may adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the powers granted to it by this code.
- SEC. 3. Section 215 of said code is amended to read:
- Commercial vehicles 215. Special Provisions Applicable to Commercial Vehicles. (a) The provisions of this section and Sections 218 and 219 shall apply to vehicles of a type subject to registration hereunder used or maintained for the transportation of persons for hire, compensation, or profit, or designed, used or maintained primarily for the transportation of property. The above described vehicles are hereinafter referred to as commercial vehicles for the purposes of this section and Sections 218 and 219.
- Registration (b) A nonresident owner of any foreign commercial vehicle as hereinabove described shall register each such vehicle in this State and pay the fees applicable thereto under this code except as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section or as otherwise provided in Sections 218 or 219 and except in the event any said vehicle is lawfully registered as a private passenger-carrying vehicle in the state, District of Columbia, territory, province or country in which the owner has his residence.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this code to the contrary, any vehicle which is a two-wheel semitrailer offered for short-term lease to operators of private motor vehicles for the purpose of transporting the lessee's personal property and does not exceed (a) a maximum unladen weight of 1,000 pounds, (b) a maximum gross vehicular weight of 2,500 pounds, (c) a maximum outside width of 80 inches, and (d) a maximum loading area of 48 square feet, and is owned by a nonresident owner shall be exempt from registration and registration fees if such vehicle is registered in the state, District of Columbia, territory, province or country in which the owner has his residence. Exemption

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b) of this section, the nonresident owner of a foreign vehicle as described in subdivision (a) of this section shall be granted such privileges and freedom from registration and payment of fees imposed by this Vehicle Code or the Vehicle License Fee Law in this State as the home state, District of Columbia, territory, province or country in which such foreign vehicle is registered or licensed grants to like vehicles registered in California or as provided in agreements, arrangements or declarations made under the provisions of Section 218. Reciprocity

SEC. 4. Section 216 of said code is amended to read:

216. Registration of Nonresident Vehicles Leased for Use in This State. Any vehicle owned by a nonresident owner not registered in this State, which vehicle is leased or rented to a user having an established place of business or residence in California, for use on California highways, shall be subject to registration either by the owner or lessee of the vehicle, unless such vehicle is a two-wheel semitrailer offered for short-term lease to operators of private motor vehicles for the purpose of transporting the lessee's personal property and does not exceed (a) maximum unladen weight of 1,000 pounds, (b) a maximum gross vehicular weight of 2,500 pounds, (c) a maximum outside width of 80 inches, and (d) a maximum loading area of 48 square feet, and is registered in the state, District of Columbia, territory, province or country in which the owner has his residence, or unless such vehicle is exempted from registration by the provisions of this chapter or under any agreement, arrangement, or declaration made pursuant to Section 218. Nonresident vehicles leased for use in State

SEC. 5. Section 218 is added to said code, to read:

218. Reciprocity Agreements, Arrangements, and Declarations. (a) The Reciprocity Commission shall have the power to enter into agreements or arrangements with duly authorized representatives of other states, the District of Columbia, territories or possessions of the United States and foreign states, provinces or countries granting exemption to owners or persons entitled to the possession of or right to operate vehicles of the type as described in subdivision (a) of Section 215 which are properly registered or licensed in such jurisdictions, and upon which evidence of registration is conspicuously dis- Reciprocal exemption agreements and arrangements played, from the payment, wholly or partially, of any vehicle license, registration, or weight fees imposed under this code and Division 2, Part 5, Revenue and Taxation Code. Such agreements or arrangements shall contain provisions by which owners or persons entitled to the possession of or right to operate any such vehicles registered or licensed in this State who operate vehicles of the same type upon the highways of such other states, the District of Columbia, territories or possessions of the United States and foreign states, provinces or countries may receive substantially equivalent exemptions, benefits and privileges, under terms and conditions which, in the commission's judgment, are best calculated to promote the interests of this State, as are extended to such persons or owners of vehicles of the same type from such jurisdictions in this State. It shall be incumbent upon the commission, whenever practicable, to enter into agreements or arrangements for the proportionate registration and licensing of vehicles under the provisions of Section 219.

Exemption
from registration in participating states

(b) Agreements or arrangements entered into under the authority herein granted may contain provisions authorizing an owner or owners or persons entitled to the possession of or right to operate vehicles of the type referred to in subdivision (a) of Section 215 who are residents of one of the states, district, territories or possession of the United States or foreign states, provinces or countries which is a party thereto to register or license such vehicles in another jurisdiction which is a party thereto. Vehicles registered or licensed in one of such jurisdictions under such provision shall be exempt from registration or licensing requirements in the other jurisdiction or jurisdictions which are parties thereto and shall be entitled to all exemptions, benefits and privileges granted with respect to other vehicles registered or licensed in such jurisdiction.

of privileges

(c) Agreements or arrangements entered into under the authority herein granted may contain provisions denying the exemptions, benefits and privileges granted thereunder to any person who violates conditions stated therein or who violates rules and regulations for the administration of reciprocal exemptions, benefits and privileges issued by the Reciprocity Commission.

States unauthorized to make agreements

(d) The Reciprocity Commission is authorized to examine the legal requirements of motor vehicle registration, license and weight fee statutes of jurisdictions which grant reciprocal privileges to out-of-state owners or persons but which do not authorize negotiation or execution of agreements by administrative officials and it is authorized to determine, by such examination, and to declare the extent and nature of the reciprocal exemptions, benefits and privileges to which owners of vehicles of the type as described in subdivision (a) of Section 215 or other persons from such jurisdictions shall be entitled under the laws of this State.

Approval,
effective
date, filing

(e) All agreements, arrangements, declarations and rules and regulations authorized by this act shall be in writing and shall be approved by endorsement by Attorney General as to legality only, at which time they will become effective, and shall remain in effect until revoked by act of the commission. Original copies of such agreements, arrangements, declarations and rules and regulations shall be filed in the Office of the Director of Motor Vehicles who shall make copies available to the public upon request.

(f) The commission shall report all of its transactions under Reports this section annually to the Legislature.

SEC. 6. Section 219 is added to said code, to read:

219. Proportionate Registration and Licensing. (a) Any person engaged in operating fleets of three or more vehicles of the type as described in subdivision (a) of Section 215 in this State in interstate commerce, which for the purpose of this section means operation during each year in two or more states, districts, possessions, or territories of the United States, or foreign states, provinces, or countries, may, in lieu of registration of such vehicles under the general provisions of Divisions 3 and 6 of this code and Division 2, Part 5, Revenue and Taxation Code, register and license each such fleet for operation in this State by filing a verified application with the department declaring the total mileage operated with each such fleet of vehicles in all such jurisdictions and the total mileage operated in this State during the preceding calendar year, or a preceding 12-month period as determined by the department, with each such fleet and describing and identifying each vehicle in each fleet to be operated in this State during the ensuing license year. Such application shall also designate a sufficient number of certain vehicles in each fleet to be registered and licensed under Divisions 3 and 6 of this code and Division 2, Part 5, Revenue and Taxation Code, to produce total fee payments not less than an amount obtained by applying the proportion of in-state fleet miles to total fleet miles, as defined in subdivision (b) hereof, as reported in said application, to the fees which would otherwise be required for complete licensing and registration of such fleet in this State. An application filed pursuant to this section with respect to fees due and payable on or before the next following fourth day of February may be filed with the department on or after November 1st. The department, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 143.5 of this code, shall register and issue a license plate or plates for such designated vehicles and shall issue distinctive stickers or other suitable devices for each other vehicle named in said application identifying it as an interstate fleet vehicle which shall be exempt from all further license, registration, and weight fee requirements of this State for any type of movement or operation; provided, that each of such vehicles is properly and duly licensed and registered in some other state, district, possession, or territory of the United States or some foreign province, state or country. A fee of two dollars ($2) shall be paid for each such sticker or device issued. The proportional registration and licensing provisions of this section of interstate fleets

Applications

shall apply to vehicles added to said fleet and operated in this State during the license year. Nonresidents shall be entitled to proportional registration hereunder unless the terms and conditions of any reciprocity agreement, arrangement, or declaration filed in the Office of the Director of Motor Vehicles under the provisions of Section 218 require otherwise.

"Total fleet miles"

(b) "Total fleet miles" for the purpose of proration under subdivision (a) includes total fleet miles in this State, in other jurisdictions having proportionate registration and licensing provisions, in jurisdictions with which this State has reciprocity, either under Section 215 or pursuant to a reciprocal agreement, arrangement, or declaration under Section 218, and in such other jurisdictions which the department determines should be included under the circumstances in order to protect or promote the interests of this State.

Determination of mileage proportions

(c) Mileage proportions for such interstate fleets not operated in this State during the preceding year shall be determined by the department upon verified application on forms to be supplied by the department, upon request, which will show the operations of the preceding year in other jurisdictions and the estimated operation in this State. If no operations were conducted the previous year a full statement of the proposed method of operation shall accompany said application.

Computation of penalties

(d) Any penalties for delinquency in payment of fees under Section 378 of this code and Section 10854 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be computed with respect to the fees required to be paid pursuant to this section if the fleet operator elects to pay fees pursuant to this section.

Records, audits, etc

(e) Any person complying with the provisions of this section shall preserve the records on which the application is based for a period of four full years following the year upon which said application is based and such applicant shall agree to make such records available to the department at its request and at its designated office for audit as to accuracy of computation and payments, or to pay the costs of an audit by the department or its duly appointed representative at the applicant's home office. If the department determines that the applicant should have registered more vehicles in this State under provisions of this section, the department may deny him the right of any further benefits by reason of any reciprocal agreement or declaration until the fees for such additional vehicle or vehicles which should have been registered have been paid. The fees determined to be due and owing under the provisions of this subdivision shall be a lien upon all vehicles of the applicant of a type subject to registration under this code and such lien shall attach at the time the audit report has been mailed to such applicant by the department and shall have the effect of an execution duly levied on such vehicles and shall so remain until said additional fees, so determined, are paid or a sufficient number of such vehicles sold for the payment thereof. At least 10 days prior to any such sale, notice thereof shall be given to any person appearing of record to have an interest in any such vehicle, by registered mail addressed to such person at the address indicated in such record.

(f) Vehicles of the type as described in subdivision (a) of Section 215 of nonresidents subject to registration and not entitled to exemption from registration or licensing under any of the provisions of this code or any agreements, arrangements or declarations made under the provisions of Section 218 may, if properly registered in another state, District of Columbia, territory, country, or province, secure a temporary permit to operate in this State for a period of not to exceed 90 days upon payment of one-tenth of the appropriate fees in Divisions 3 and 6 of this code and Division 2, Part 5, Revenue and Taxation Code applicable thereto for each 30-day period or fraction thereof that such vehicle is to be so operated in this State. Such permit shall be carried in such vehicle at all times while it is being operated in this State. Temporary permits

(g) This section shall become operative with respect to fees due and payable without regard to this section on and after January 1, 1956, but this shall not prevent the department from taking such administrative action prior to such operative date as will facilitate the operation of this section. Operative date

(h) The Legislature declares that in enacting this Section 219, it adheres to the principle that each state should have the freedom to develop the kind of highway user tax structure that it determines to be most appropriate to itself, that the method of taxation of interstate vehicles should not be a determining factor in developing its user tax structure, and that annual taxes or other taxes of the fixed fee type which are not imposed on a basis that reflects the amount of highway use should be apportioned among the states, within limits of practicality, on the basis of vehicle miles traveled within each of the states. SECTION 1. Section 72151 of the Government Code is amended to read:

72151. The additional deputies shall be selected in the same manner as those for whom express provision is made, and they shall receive compensation from the same source and in the same amount as the salary provided by law for the position of deputy clerk or deputy marshal of such court, respectively, but may hold office by virtue of such appointment not longer than 90 days after the adjournment of the next regular session of the Legislature. Where the provisions of law applicable to the particular municipal court provide for increments of salary after a specified period of service, additional deputies employed pursuant to Section 72150 and this section shall receive credit toward such increments for service performed pursuant to these sections. No deputy so temporarily appointed shall be eligible for reappointment pursuant to this article, unless the increase in business of the court or other emergency for which the appointment has been made is deemed by the judge or judges to still exist, in either of which case such deputy or deputies may receive one reappointment, to be made as in the case of an original appointment.

CHAPTER 1010

An act to amend Sections 8703.1 and 8819.1 of the Education Code, relating to summer schools.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8703.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Summer
schools.
High schools

8703.1. The governing board of a district maintaining one or more high schools may maintain a summer school at any of such high schools during the period between the close of one academic year and the beginning of the succeeding academic year in accordance with rules and regulations of the State Board of Education and with the prior written approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The term "academic year" as used in this section means that portion of the school year during which the regular day high school is maintained, which period must include not less than the number of days of teaching required to entitle the district to apportionments of state funds.

Junior colleges

SEC. 2. Section 8819.1 of said code is amended to read:

8819.1. The governing board of a district maintaining one or more junior colleges may maintain a summer school at any of such junior colleges during the period between the close of one academic year and the beginning of the succeeding academic year in accordance with rules and regulations of the State Board of Education and with the prior written approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The term "academic year" as used in this section means that portion of the school year during which the regular day junior college is maintained, which period must include not less than the number of days of teaching required to entitle the district to apportionments of state funds.

CHAPTER 1011

An act to amend Sections 1800, 1801, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1807, 1809, 1810, and 12100 of, and add Section 1809.1 to, the Financial Code, relating to the transmission of money.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1800 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

Transmission of money
abroad

1800. No person except (a) a bank or trust company or a foreign banking corporation licensed to do business in this State, or (b) an incorporated railroad, steamship, or express company, or (c) a partnership, corporation, or joint stock company or association actually engaged in international operation in the general travel and tourist business, shall engage in the business of receiving money for the purpose of transmitting the same or its equivalent to foreign countries. The provisions of this article shall also apply to the business of those persons hereinabove specified and described which consists of receiving money for the purpose of transmitting the same within the United States by an instrument or order drawn upon and directed to the person receiving the money for transmission. The provisions of this article shall not apply to the receipt of money by an agent of an incorporated telegraph company at any regular office of such company for immediate transmission by telegraph. A qualified company engaged in the business of receiving money for the purpose of paying to others, bills, invoices or accounts of an obligor, or selling or cashing checks, including travelers' cheques, drafts, or money orders, or receiving money for the purpose of transmitting the same within the United States by an instrument or order drawn upon and directed to the person receiving the money for transmission, shall pay to the superintendent annually on or before July 1st twenty dollars ($20) for each branch office and three dollars ($3) for each agency at which money is received for the purpose of paying the bills, invoices or accounts of an obligor or at which such instruments are cashed or sold, excluding any agency at which only travelers' cheques are cashed or sold.

SEC. 2. Section 1801 of said code is amended to read:

1801. Every railroad, steamship, or express company, and every partnership, corporation, or joint stock company or association engaging in the business or businesses described in Section 1800 shall first obtain the license from the superintendent and shall pay annually on or before July 1st a license fee of two hundred fifty dollars ($250). The superintendent in his discretion may grant or refuse such license and may at any time revoke any such license. For the purposes of this article, "qualified company" means any company, partnership, corporation, or joint stock company or association licensed pursuant to this section.

License

"Qualified company"

SEC. 3. Section 1803 of said code is amended to read:

1803. Each qualified company shall file with the superintendent annually on or before July 1st a verified report, in such form as the superintendent may prescribe, showing in such detail as he may require its business and transactions during the preceding calendar year relative to the receipt and transmission of money.

Verified report

SEC. 4. Section 1804 of said code is amended to read:

1804. The superintendent may at any time and from time to time examine the business of any agent in order to ascertain whether such business is being conducted in a lawful manner and whether all moneys received for transmission are properly accounted for. Each agent shall keep his books, records, and accounts in such form and manner as the superintendent may prescribe. The expense of the superintendent in making any such examination of an agent shall be paid to the superintendent on his demand by the company represented by such agent.

Examination

SEC. 5. Section 1805 of said code is amended to read:

1805. Each qualified company shall file with the superintendent a certified copy of every receipt form used by it or by its agents for money received for transmission. No such company or its agents shall use any receipt a certified copy of which has not first been filed with the superintendent. Any company violating the requirements of this section shall be subject to a fine of fifty dollars ($50) for each violation. If any such company or its agent uses a receipt form a certified copy of which has not first been filed with the superintendent, such company shall be liable for the acts of its agents whether or not the company authorized the agent to use such form.

Copy of forms

SEC. 6. Section 1807 of said code is amended to read:

Surety

1807. As security for the faithful performance of its obligations, each qualified company before engaging in the business of transmitting money shall deposit with the State Treasurer fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in lawful money, or securities of the kind which may be deposited by trust companies to secure court and private trusts under Section 1542 having a market value of at least fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or money and such securities amounting in the aggregate to at least fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). Such deposit shall be made in the manner specified in and shall be subject to the provisions of Section 1752.

SEC. 7. Section 1809 of said code is amended to read:

Same

1809. The money and securities deposited with the State Treasurer pursuant to Section 1807 and the proceeds of any bond held by the State Treasurer pursuant to Section 1808 shall constitute a trust fund for the benefit of such persons as shall deliver to any such qualified company or its agent money for transmission. Suit to recover on any such bond may be brought by any party aggrieved in a court of competent jurisdiction of any county in which such company has an agent. The service of summons on any agent of such company shall constitute service upon such company.

SEC. 8. Section 1809.1 is added to said code, to read:

Fees for cashing or selling checks

1809.1. No qualified company engaged in the business of selling or cashing checks, including travelers' cheques, drafts, or money orders within the United States or receiving money for the purpose of transmitting the same within the United States by an instrument or order drawn upon and directed to the person receiving the money for transmission, shall charge a fee for selling or cashing such instruments, except travelers' cheques, in excess of one-half of 1 percent of the face amount thereof or thirty-five cents ($0.35), whichever is greater.

SEC. 9. Section 1810 of said code is amended to read:

Penalty

1810. Any person, other than an authorized officer or employee of a bank or trust company or of a foreign banking corporation licensed to do business in this State or an agent of a qualified company, who represents that he is authorized to receive, or who solicits or receives, money or the equivalent thereof for transmission is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 10. Section 12100 of said code is amended to read:

Exemptions

12100. The provisions of this division do not apply to any of the following:

(a) Persons or their authorized agents doing business under license and authority of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of California, or under any law of this State or of the United States relating to banks, trust companies, building or savings and loan associations, industrial loan companies, personal property brokers, credit unions, or California small loan companies.

(b) Persons or their authorized agents engaged in the business of paying to others bills, invoices, or accounts of an obligor, or of selling or cashing checks, including travelers' cheques, drafts, or money orders issued by a person who has been licensed under and complied with, and continues to be licensed under and complies with, Article 3 of Chapter 14 of Division 1 of this code.

(c) Attorneys at law or their authorized agents.

(d) Persons or their authorized agents licensed as a collection agency or a merchant owned nonprofit credit association.

(e) Any transaction in which money or other property is paid to a "joint control agent" for dispersal or use in payment of the cost of labor, materials, services, permits, fees, or other items of expense incurred in construction of improvements upon real property.

CHAPTER 1012

An act to add Section 11528.1 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to proposed subdivisions of real estate.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11528.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

11528.1. The State Department of Public Works may file with the governing body of any city or county having jurisdiction, a map or an amended map of any territory within one mile on either or both sides of said state highway routing in which territory it believes subdivision development would have an effect upon an existing state highway or a future state highway the route of which has been adopted by the California Highway Commission.

The clerk of the governing body or the advisory agency of the city or county having jurisdiction shall issue a receipt for the territorial map and thereafter shall transmit to the district office of the Division of Highways of said department in the district in which the proposed subdivision is located, within three days after the receipt thereof, one copy of each tentative map of any subdivision located wholly or partly within the territory outlined on the territorial map.

The department, upon receiving a copy of the tentative map, may, within 15 days after receipt thereof, make recommendations to the appropriate agency of the city or county in connection therewith regarding the effect of the proposed subdivision upon said highway or highway route.

CHAPTER 1013

An act to amend Sections 8769, 11000, and 11535 of, and to add Section 11004 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to real estate subdivisions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11000 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

"Subdivided lands."
"subdivision"

11000. "Subdivided lands" and "subdivision" refer to improved or unimproved land or lands divided or proposed to be divided for the purpose of sale or lease, whether immediate or future, into five or more lots or parcels; provided, however, that land or lands sold by lots or parcels of not less than 160 acres which are designated by such lot or parcel description by government surveys and appear as such on the current assessment roll of the county in which such land or lands are situated shall not be deemed to be "subdivided lands" or "a subdivision" within the meaning of this section, unless such land or lands are divided or proposed to be divided for the purpose of sale for oil and gas purposes, in which case such land or lands shall be deemed to be "subdivided lands" or "a subdivision" within the meaning of this section; and provided further, this chapter does not apply to the leasing of apartments, offices, stores, or similar space within an apartment building, industrial building, or commercial building, except that the leasing of apartments in a community apartment project, as defined in Section 11004, shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 11004 is added to said code, to read:

Community
apartment project

11004. A community apartment project in which an undivided interest in the land is coupled with the right of exclusive occupancy of any apartment located thereon is subject to the provisions of this part.

SEC. 3. Section 11535 of said code is amended to read:

"Subdivision"

11535. (a) "Subdivision" refers to any real property, improved or unimproved, or portion thereof, shown on the latest adopted county tax roll as a unit or as contiguous units, which is divided for the purpose of sale or lease, whether immediate or future, by any subdivider into five or more parcels within any one-year period; provided, that this chapter shall not apply to the leasing of apartments, offices, stores, or similar space within an apartment building, industrial building, or commercial building, nor shall this chapter apply to mineral, oil or gas leases.

(b) "Subdivision" does not include either of the following:

(1) Any parcel or parcels of land in which all of the following conditions are present: (i) which contain less than five acres, (ii) which abut upon dedicated streets or highways, (iii) in which street opening or widening is not required by the governing body in dividing the land into lots or parcels, and (iv) the lot design meets the approval of the governing body.

(2) Any parcel or parcels of land divided into lots or parcels, each of a net area of one acre or more, a tentative map of which has been submitted to the governing body and has been approved by it as to street alignment and widths, drainage provisions and lot design.

(c) In either case provided in subsection (b) of this section, there shall be filed a record of survey map pursuant only to the provisions of Chapter 15 of Division 3 of this code and conveyances may be made of lots or parcels shown on such map by lot or block number, initial, or such other designation as may be shown on such map.

(d) Nothing contained in this chapter shall apply to land dedicated for cemetery purposes under the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

SEC. 4. Section 8769 of said code is amended to read:

8769. The charge for filing any record of survey, and for Fee indexing the same, shall be five dollars ($5).

CHAPTER 1014

An act to amend Section 409 of the Education Code, relating to compensation for public service in counties of the ninth class.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7362 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7362. A permanent waver may cleanse, dress, cut, and brush hair, whether done in connection with waving of hair or separately.

CHAPTER 1017

An act to amend Sections 7109.1, 7112, 7113, 7114, 7119, 7121.2, 7123, and 7124 of, and to repeal Section 7119.1 of the Education Code and Section 16.6 of Chapter 1510 of the Statutes of 1953, relating to State School Fund apportionments, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect
immediately

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7109.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Attendance
reports

7109.1. The governing board of each school district shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction during each fiscal year, as herein provided, the average daily attendance in the regular day schools of the district for all full school months in the fiscal year during (1) the period between July 1st and December 31st, inclusive, hereinafter referred to as the "first period," (2) the period between the end of the last full school month of the first period and May 1st, inclusive, hereinafter referred to as the "second period," and (3) each of the same periods that were reported during the preceding fiscal year. Such report with respect to the first period shall be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction on or before the next succeeding January 20th and with respect to the second period shall be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than the next succeeding May 10th. Each report shall be made in such form as shall be prescribed and furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 2. Section 7112 of said code is amended to read:

7112. If the total amount allowed from the State School Fund to all elementary school districts, county school service funds, and county school tuition funds under Articles 5, 6, 7, and 11 of this chapter on account of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all kindergarten and elementary schools in the state and county school tuition funds on account of elementary school pupils is less than the total amount provided in subdivision (b) of Section 7111, the balance shall be used to increase proportionately the allowances made to which Sections 7116 and 7117 applied. The increased allowances shall not exceed the amounts computed under Articles 5, 6, 8, 9, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter. The total increase for all high school or all junior college districts shall not exceed an amount that bears the same ratio to the total balance as the amount of the reduction for such districts under Section 7116 or 7117 bears to the total amount of the reduction. Any portion of the balance remaining after the computations required by this section shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

SEC. 3. Section 7113 of said code is amended to read:

7113. If the total amount allowed from the State School Fund to all high school districts, county school service funds, and county school tuition funds under Articles 5, 6, 8, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter on account of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all high schools in the state and county school tuition funds on account of high school pupils is less than the total amount provided in subdivision (c) of Section 7111, the balance shall be used to increase proportionately the allowances made to which Sections 7115 and 7117 applied. The increased allowances shall not exceed the amounts computed under Articles 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter. The total increase for all elementary or all junior college districts shall not exceed an amount that bears the same ratio to the total balance as the amount of the reduction for such districts under Section 7115 or 7117 bears to the total amount of the reduction. Any portion of the balance remaining after the computations required by this section shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

SEC. 4. Section 7114 of said code is amended to read:

Same
Junior college districts

7114. If the total amount allowed from the State School Fund to all junior college districts and county school service funds under Articles 5, 9, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter on account of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all junior college schools in the State is less than the total amount provided in subdivision (d) of Section 7111, the balance shall be used to increase proportionately the allowances made to which Sections 7115 and 7116 applied. The increased allowances shall not exceed the amounts computed under Articles 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter. The total increase for all elementary or all high school districts shall not exceed an amount that bears the same ratio to the total balance as the amount of the reduction for such districts under Section 7115 or 7116 bears to the total amount of the reduction. Any portion of the balance remaining after the computations required by this section shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

SEC. 5. Section 7119 of said code is amended to read:

Allowance
of balance

7119. If the total amount allowed county school service funds under Article 2 of this chapter is less than the amounts provided by Section 7001 the balance shall be added to the balances resulting from the application of Sections 7019, 7109.43, 7112, 7113, 7114, 7118, and subdivision (b) of Section 7121.2, and the total of such balances shall be used as follows:

(a) First, to increase proportionately the allowances made to which Sections 7115, 7116, and 7117 applied. The increased allowances shall not exceed the amounts computed under Articles 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 11.1 of this chapter. The total increase for all elementary, or all high school, or all junior college districts shall not exceed an amount that bears the same ratio to the total balance as the amount of the reduction for such districts under Section 7115, 7116, or 7117 bears to the total amount of the reduction.

(b) Second, to restore, in the order herein listed, the amounts reduced under Sections 7109.41, 7109.42, subdivision (a) of Section 7019, subdivision (d) of Section 7018.1, 7101.3, 7102.3, and 7103.3.

(c) Thereafter, to allow any remaining balance as additional state equalization aid to the districts that were allowed state equalization aid pursuant to Article 11 of this chapter during the then current fiscal year. The amount of additional state equalization aid allowed each such district for each unit of average daily attendance shall be determined by dividing such remaining balance by the average daily attendance of all districts receiving equalization aid.

Repeal

SEC. 6. Section 7119.1 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 7121.2 of said code is amended to read:

7121.2. (a) If by November 10th of any current fiscal year, an additional teacher or teachers are hired for a school in a district from which a withholding was made pursuant to Section 7121.1 and the school fully meets the requirements of the appropriate subdivision of Section 7032 or 7034, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion at the time the apportionment under Section 7122 is made to the district the amount withheld. Additional teachers

(b) In the event that more money is withheld pursuant to Section 7121.1 than is apportioned pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section, the balance shall be allowed pursuant to Section 7119.

SEC. 8. Section 7123 of said code is amended to read:

7123. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall on or before February 20th for the first period of each fiscal year apportion to each elementary, high school, and junior college district the amount allowed to each district under Article 15 of this chapter. This apportionment shall be called the First Period Growth Apportionment. First Period Growth Apportionment

(b) He shall on or before June 25th for the second period of each fiscal year apportion to each elementary, high school, and junior college district the amount allowed to each district under Article 15 of this chapter. This apportionment shall be called the Second Period Growth Apportionment. Second Period Growth Apportionment

SEC. 9. Section 7124 of said code is amended to read:

7124. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall on or before June 25th of each year apportion to each school district or fund the total of the amounts allowed to the district or fund under Section 7119 of Article 16 of this chapter. This apportionment shall be called the Final Apportionment. Final Apportionment

SEC. 10. Section 16.6 of Chapter 1510 of the Statutes of 1953 is repealed. Repeal

Under existing law any surpluses that occur in the State School Fund are apportioned as additional elementary equalization aid. During the last year large deficits occurred in apportionments for growth and transportation and deficit factors had to be applied. It is expected that large deficits will occur in the Fiscal Year 1955-56. Computations for the 1955-56 Fiscal Year apportionments must be made during the months of July, August, and September in order that the state school apportionment may be certified by September 25, 1955. In order that surpluses occurring in the State School Fund apportionments may be applied to deficits during the 1955-56 Fiscal Year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

SEC. 12. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1955. Operative date

CHAPTER 1018

An act to amend Section 12.5 of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act, relating to the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12.5 of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act is amended to read:

Sec. 12.5. As soon as is practicable after the establishment of any zone, the board shall appoint an advisory zone committee consisting of three (3) persons who are registered voters and property owners in the zone for which they are appointed to assist and advise said board in the institution of projects or works of improvement within the zone for which they are appointed. The board shall also appoint an advisory committee for the district to advise and assist the board on matters common to the district as a whole, including but not limited to the correlation and integration of zone projects. The board shall appoint at least one (1) member of each zone committee to positions on the district committee; provided, however, that the membership of the district committee shall not exceed seven (7) in number. Members of zone committees and the district committee shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

CHAPTER 1019

An act to amend Sections 14396, 14397, and 14399 of the Government Code, relating to performance of state contracts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14396 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Completion
after termination

14396. Upon such termination, the director may take possession of and use all or any part of the contractor's materials, tools, equipment, and appliances upon the premises to complete the contract. Thereupon, he may permit the surety to complete or cause the contract work to be completed, or he may direct that all or any part of the work be completed by day's labor or by employment of other contractors on informal contracts, or both.

SEC. 2. Section 14397 of said code is amended to read:

14397. Such informal contracts may be awarded only after a proposal form has been prepared, a copy is served upon the contractor whose control has been terminated, and upon his surety, and three days allowed thereafter so that he may cause others to bid. Any person who is prequalified therefor under Article 4 may bid on informal contracts.

Award of informal
contracts

SEC. 3. Section 14399 of said code is amended to read:

14399. If the control of a contractor is terminated or he abandons the work, and the work is performed by day's labor or informal contract as provided in Section 14396, he is not entitled to receive any portion of the amount to be paid under the contract until it is fully completed. After completion, if the unpaid balance exceeds the sum of the amount expended by the State in finishing the work, plus all damages sustained or to be sustained by the State, the excess not otherwise required by law to be retained shall be paid to the contractor, but if such sum exceeds the unpaid balance, the contractor and his surety are liable to the State for the excess. If the surety completes the contract work, as provided in Section 14396, such surety shall be subrogated to money due under the contract and to money which shall become due in the course of completion by the surety, to the extent provided by law.

Compensation for completion

termination

CHAPTER 1020

An act to repeal Section 9123 of, and to add Article 10, comprising Sections 9141 to 9143, inclusive, to Chapter 7 of Division 4 of, the Education Code, relating to teaching service and opportunity centers for the blind.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9123 of the Education Code is repealed. Repeal

SEC. 2. Article 10 is added to Chapter 7 of Division 4 of said code, to read:

Article 10. Teaching Service and Opportunity Centers for the Adult Blind

9141. The Department of Education may appoint field officers or field workers to teach handicrafts to the adult blind of the State in their homes, in opportunity centers, or in other suitable places, and to give them such other instruction as may ameliorate their condition.

Instruction of blind adults

9142. In connection with the teaching service provided in Section 9141, the Department of Education, with the approval of the Director of Finance, may establish and maintain opportunity centers for the blind in communities where the active cooperation of local sponsoring organizations has been secured and in which fifty (50) or more adults who are blind, as blind is defined in Section 9183, indicate a desire to receive instruction in handicrafts and to make or assemble articles for sale in the local community or through the sales facilities of the California Industries for the Blind.

Opportunity

Facilities,
employees,
etc

9143. The Department of Education, with the approval of the Director of Finance, may:

(a) Rent, lease, or otherwise provide suitable rooms or buildings to house the activities of the opportunity centers for the blind.

(b) Employ such employees at the centers as it deems necessary.

(c) Perform all necessary and proper acts to carry out the provisions of Section 9142 and of this section.

CHAPTER 1021

An act to amend Sections 7217 and 7301 of the Education Code, relating to pupils attending school in an adjoining state.

In effect
September
7 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7217 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Certification
of money
required

7217. The county superintendent of schools shall verify the certificates of attendance and cost of education of pupils attending schools in adjoining states and shall certify to the county auditor and the board of supervisors the amount of money required to be levied as a county school tuition tax. The amount shall not include any costs for the transportation of the pupils in excess of the amounts permitted by this article. The amount shall be determined by subtracting from the total cost of the tuition and transportation allowed under this article, the amount to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the amount apportioned by the county superintendent of schools pursuant to Section 7301, to the county school tuition fund during the fiscal year.

SEC. 2. Section 7301 of said code is amended to read:

County forest reserve school fund

7301. The county auditor of any county, receiving money from the Government of the United States pursuant to any act of Congress providing for the distribution and payment to states and territories of a fixed and definite percentage of the money received by the Government of the United States from the forest reserves established therein, shall apportion 50 percent of the money received to the credit of the forest reserve school fund of the county.

The money credited to the forest reserve school fund shall be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools with approval of the county board of education to school districts of the county lying within or adjacent to the United States forest reserve and to county superintendents of schools of counties lying within or adjacent to such forest reserve.

All of such money placed in the forest reserve school fund shall be apportioned in the manner prescribed prior to the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year next following the fiscal year in which received.

When a portion of the area of a county is subject to the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools of another county or counties and such portion lies in or adjacent to the United States forest reserve, no apportionment shall be made from the forest reserve school fund without the approval of the county boards of education of both or all counties. In the event that both or all county boards of education do not concur in the apportionments from the forest reserve school fund prior to the first day of April of any year the county superintendent of schools of both or all counties shall on that date notify the Superintendent of Public Instruction who shall, not later than 60 days following notification, make the apportionments. Apportionments made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction are final.

Money apportioned to a school district pursuant to this section shall be deposited by the county auditor to the credit of the several funds of the district as directed by the county superintendent of schools with the approval of the county board of education. Money apportioned to a county superintendent of schools pursuant to this section may be deposited by the county auditor to the credit of the county school tuition fund of his county.

CHAPTER 1022

An act to add Section 6109.1 to the Education Code, relating to the Public School System.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6109.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6109.1. In lieu of drawing his warrant as provided in Section 6109, the county auditor may, with the approval of the governing board of the school district, endorse, date, and number the order and requisition and may prepare a separate warrant on the county treasurer for the same amount as the order and requisition. The warrant shall show that it had been drawn on the order of a school district naming the school district and shall show, the payee, date of issue, as well as other information deemed appropriate by the auditor.

The auditor shall draw such separate warrant by signing it and no other signature shall be required. Thereupon the auditor shall transmit the separate warrant to the county superintendent of schools who shall transmit it to the governing board of the school district for issuance to the payee or to his order, or with the approval of the governing board of the school district, shall transmit it to the payee.

The order and requisition may direct the transfer of the amount of the separate warrant from the funds of the district to a clearing fund in the county treasury (to be known as the schools commercial revolving fund), to the end that separate warrants for all districts may be drawn against a single revolving fund.

CHAPTER 1023

An act to add Section 1133 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to highways.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1133 is added to the Streets and Highways Code to read:

1133. Proceedings to abandon any private or byroad shall be the same as proceedings to abandon any county highway.

CHAPTER 1024

An act to add Section 803.2 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to clams.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 803.2 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

803.2. The commission shall close for the taking of razor clams (Siliqua patula) not more than 50 percent of razor clam bearing beaches within or offshore from Del Norte County as a clam preserve or preserves. The commission may from time to time vary the location of the closed and open portions of such beaches.

Before the commission closes, opens, or varies the location of the closed and open portions of razor clam bearing beaches, one or more members of the commission shall hold in the county to be affected a public hearing, notice of which has been published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in that county. The commission may determine which such newspaper will be most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of such county, and its determination shall be final and conclusive. The commission may authorize the director in its place and stead to hold such hearing in which event a copy of a transcript of all proceedings taken or had at said hearing shall be furnished to each commissioner at least five days before any such order is made by the commission.

CHAPTER 1025

An act to add Section 21337 to the Government Code, relating to the State Employees' Retirement System in respect to benefits payable upon the deaths of local members.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21337 is added to Article 4 of Chapter 9 of Part 3 of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

21337. If a member who is a local fireman or policeman dies prior to retirement but after having qualified for retirement by age and length of service, in circumstances in which the basic death benefit is payable, and leaving a surviving wife or one or more children under age 18, or both, in lieu of the basic death benefit a monthly allowance equal to one-half of the unmodified retirement allowance which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired on the date of his death shall be payable:

(a) To the surviving wife of a male member as long as she lives or until her remarriage; or

(b) To the children under age 18 collectively of a female member, or of a male member if there is no surviving wife or if the surviving wife dies or remarries before all children of the deceased member attain age 18, until every child dies or attains age 18, provided that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18.

Where a member does not have a surviving wife nor any children under the age of 18 years at the time of his death, no allowance shall be payable under this section.

A beneficiary under subdivision (a) of this section, or the legal representative of the beneficiaries under subdivision (b) of this section, may elect before the first monthly allowance is paid to receive an amount equal to the basic death benefit in lieu of the benefits provided for herein.

This section shall not apply to any contracting agency nor to the employees of any contracting agency unless and until the agency elects to be subject to its provisions by amendment to its contract with the board, made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, except that an election among the employees is not required, or, in the case of contracts made after the date this section takes effect, by express provision in such contract making the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 1026

An act to repeal Chapter 7 of Division 4 of the Public Resources Code, relating to logging permits.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 7 of Division 4 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 1027

An act to repeal Article 5 of Chapter 2, Division 4 of the Public Resources Code, relating to a brush-burning experiment.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 5 of Chapter 2, Division 4 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 1028

An act relating to tidelands, lands lying under inland navigable waters, and swamp and overflow lands, situate in Alameda County, State of California, including without limitation as to the generality thereof, authority for the City of Alameda to convey certain parcels of such lands to the City of Oakland, and to convey certain parcels of such lands to the City of Oakland, in furtherance of navigation and commerce and fisheries, and providing for the government, management, use and control thereof, and reserving certain rights to the State.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Grant of tidelands to City of Oakland

SECTION 1. There is hereby granted to the City of Oakland, a municipal corporation, and to its successors, all of the right, title and interest of the State of California held by said State by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all lands, salt marsh, tidelands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within that portion of the City of Oakland described as follows:

Beginning at a granite monument located on the section line between Section 29 and Section 30 in Township 2 South, Range 3 West, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, said section line being also the east boundary line of the City of Alameda, said monument being located 330.00 feet south of the intersection of the northeast corner of Lot 17 in Section 30 and the northwest corner of Lot 24 in Section 29; thence south along said section line a distance of 4,261.61 feet to a point on the southerly boundary line of the tide lots as said tide lots are designated on "Sale Map No. 10 of Salt Marsh and Tide Lands, situate in the County of Alameda, State of California," filed June 9, 1888, in the Office of the County Recorder of Alameda County, in Map Book 17 at page 30, said point being also the true point of beginning of the area to be described; thence along said tide lot line south $69^{\circ} 43' 00''$ east a distance of 5,291.91 feet, to that certain strip of land under a right of way easement, P.R.C. 1411.9, dated July 12, 1954, between the State of California and the City of San Leandro, which land is 300 feet in width and 11,500 feet, more or less, in length, parallel to and immediately adjacent and bayward of the most westerly subdivision line across Sections 32 and 33, Township 2 South, Range 3 West, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, and Sections 4 and 9, Township 3 South, Range 3 West, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, as shown on Tideland Commissioners Map No. 1 of Alameda County, dated 1871, filed in the Office of the Division of State Lands in Sacramento, California; thence along the southwesterly side of said right of way south $73^{\circ} 30' 40''$ west a distance of 52.27 feet; thence south $21^{\circ} 48' 00''$ east a distance of 7,368.17 feet; thence south $33^{\circ} 41' 00''$ east a distance of 4,182.23 feet; thence south $44^{\circ} 00' 00''$ west along a line to its intersection with the western boundary line of the County of Alameda; thence northwesterly along said western boundary line of the County of Alameda to its intersection with the township line between Township 2 South, Range 4 West, and Township 3 South, Range 4 West, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian; thence easterly along said township line to the section line dividing Section 31 and Section 32, Township 2 South, Range 3 West, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian; thence North along said section line a distance of 3,271.63 feet to the true point of beginning.

To be forever held by said city, and its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) That said lands shall be used by said city, and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, including an airport or aviation facilities and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, terminal buildings, runways, roadways, aprons, taxiways, parking areas and other utilities, structures, facilities and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation by air as well as by water, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of public buildings and public works and playgrounds, and for public recreational purposes, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alienate said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods (but in no event exceeding 50 years), for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods (but in no event exceeding 50 years), for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the State of California, and with the requirements of commerce and navigation at said harbor and airport, and collect and retain rents from such leases, franchises, and privileges. Such lease or leases, franchises, and privileges may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with commerce or navigation.

Reservation
of public use for air and water commerce, etc

(b) That said lands shall be substantially improved by said city within 10 years of the effective date of this act, without expense to the State, and shall always remain available for public use for all purposes of commerce and navigation by water and air, and the State of California shall have at all times, the right to use, without charge, all of the said wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, terminal buildings, runways, roadways, aprons, taxiways, parking areas and other utilities, structures, facilities and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation by air as well as by water, and for the construction, maintenance, and operation of public buildings and public works and playgrounds, and for public recreational purposes, on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel, or other watercraft, or aircraft, or railroad, or road, or highway, owned or operated by the State of California, but the State of California shall pay to the said city just and reasonable compensation for the use and occupation of any improvements to the lands made thereon at the cost of said city or any of its lessees, licensees, assignees or franchise holders; and shall otherwise use and occupy any such improvements upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the city and the State. To satisfy the city's obligation to improve said lands, the city shall not be required to improve the entire area embraced within the grant, and extensive open areas may be left unimproved in order to provide the necessary protection to landings and take-offs of aircraft on airport runways, and to provide areas for seaplane operations. Said city shall file with the State Lands Commission at the end of such 10-year period a report setting forth to what extent it has improved the lands granted hereunder. The State Lands Commission shall make a determination as to whether the city has during said

10-year period improved said lands or any part thereof as herein required; should the determination be to the effect that the requirements of this act have not been fulfilled, all right, title, and interest of said city in and to all lands granted by this act shall cease, and said lands shall revert and vest in the State.

(c) That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor or airport, or of any of the utilities, structures, appliances or facilities mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit said city from making or entering into franchises, leases, assignments or licenses providing for the exclusive use or occupancy for limited periods (but in no event exceeding 50 years) of those utilities, structures, or facilities which are not capable of use in common with others, or from making or entering into an exclusive contract for the furnishing of services at said harbor or airport.

Discrimination in rates, tolls, etc., prohibited

(d) There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the State of California the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor and airport with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, together with the right of navigation; provided, that the city may take such measures as may be necessary in the interests of public safety to protect persons from moving vessels and aircraft.

Fishing rights reserved

(e) There is hereby excepted and reserved to the State of California all deposits of minerals, including oil and gas, in said land, and to the State of California, or persons authorized by the State of California, the right to prospect for, mine and remove such deposits from said land; provided, that said excepted and reserved rights and powers shall be exercised in a manner not inconsistent or incompatible with the use of said lands by the grantee for purposes of commerce and navigation.

Mineral rights reserved

(f) The lands herein described are granted subject to the express reservation and condition that the State may at any time in the future use said lands or any portion thereof for highway purposes or for other state purposes, including small boat harbors, without compensation to the city, its successors or assigns, or any person, firm or public or private corporation claiming under it, except that in the event improvements have been placed upon the property taken by the State for said purposes, compensation shall be made to the person entitled thereto for the value of his interest in the improvements taken or the damages to such interest.

Highway, etc., rights reserved

SEC. 2. The City of Alameda, a municipal corporation, is hereby empowered to grant to the City of Oakland, a municipal corporation, any of its salt marsh, tide or submerged lands in trust, however, for the same uses and purposes and upon the same conditions that said lands were acquired from the State of California, and such grant from the City of Alameda to the

Authorized grant City of Alameda to the City of Oakland

City of Oakland shall have the same force and effect as if it were made by the Legislature to the City of Oakland in the first instance.

State survey SEC. 3. The State Lands Commission shall, at the cost of the grantee, survey, monument, plat, and record in the Office of the County Recorder of Alameda County, the area of state lands described in this act. Said city shall enter into a contract with the State Lands Commission for surveying, monumenting and platting the area of state lands described in this act, and shall, upon submission of invoices by the State Lands Commission, pay said costs.

Severability SEC. 4. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

State grants SEC. 5. Nothing contained in this act shall preclude the city from accepting and retaining any grant of funds from the State made available for the purpose of aiding in the development of said lands for any public purpose not inconsistent with the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation by air and water.

CHAPTER 1029

An act to amend Section 14030 of the Government Code, relating to the Division of Architecture Revolving Fund.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14030 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14030. The Division of Architecture Revolving Fund in the State Treasury is continued in existence. With the approval of the Department of Finance, there shall be transferred to, or deposited in, the fund all money appropriated, contributed, or made available from any source, including sources other than state appropriations, for expenditure on work within the powers and duties of the Division of Architecture, including but not limited to services, new construction, major construction and equipment, minor construction, maintenance, improvements and equipment, and other building and improvement projects, as authorized by the state agency for which such an appropriation is made or, as to funds from sources other than state appropriations, as may be authorized by written agreement between the contributor or contributors of such funds and the Division of Architecture, when approved by the Department of Finance.

Money in the fund also may be used, upon approval of the Department of Finance, to finance the cost of any construction projects within the powers and duties of the Division of Architecture for which the Federal Government will contribute a partial cost thereof; provided, written evidence has been received from a federal agency that money has been appropriated by Congress and the Federal Government will pay to the State the amount specified upon the completion of construction of the project. The Director of Public Works may approve plans, specifications and estimates of cost, and advertise for and receive bids on such projects in anticipation of the receipt of such evidence.

Money so transferred or deposited is available for expenditure by the Division of Architecture for the purposes for which appropriated, contributed, or made available, without regard to fiscal years and irrespective of the provisions of Section 16304.

No money in such fund which is derived from an appropriation from the General Fund shall be used to pay the charges imposed by Sections 18750 or 11044 of the Government Code or the charges imposed pursuant to Articles 2 or 3 of Chapter 3, Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of said code.

CHAPTER 1030

An act to amend Sections 1622 and 2302 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to local inspection services for persons and institutions providing care or services for children or aged persons.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1622 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1622 The State Department of Social Welfare may inspect, examine and license under this chapter or any county or city may establish, and the State Department of Social Welfare may accredit and approve, a county or city inspection service to perform such functions under this chapter.

inspection
institutions for child care, etc

If any county or city establishes an inspection service, and such service is approved by the State Department of Social Welfare, the inspection may be made by a health department having at least one regularly licensed physician, or a qualified social service department.

The inspection service shall conform to the requirements of this chapter and to the rules of the State Department of Social Welfare.

The costs of any inspection service undertaken by a county or city, with the approval of the State Department of Social

Costs

Welfare, shall be borne by the State in the amount found necessary by the State Department of Social Welfare for proper and efficient administration, but not to exceed in any fiscal year an amount averaging five dollars ($5) per month per license. Claims shall be filed with the department at the time and in the manner specified by the department for reimbursement of the expenses incurred. Whenever a claim covering a prior fiscal year is found to have been in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without necessity of applying the adjustment to the appropriation for the prior fiscal year. If any grants-in-aid are made by the Federal Government for the support of any inspection service approved by the State Department of Social Welfare, the amount of the federal grant shall first be applied to defer the costs of the service and the remainder of the costs, if any, shall be borne by the State.

Sec. 2. Section 2302 of said code is amended to read:

Inspection
service
Institutions,
etc. for aged
persons

2302. The State Department of Social Welfare may inspect, examine and license under this chapter or any county or city may establish, and the State Department of Social Welfare may accredit and approve, a county or city inspection service to perform such functions under this chapter.

If any county or city establishes an inspection service, and such service is approved by the State Department of Social Welfare, the inspection may be made by either a health department having at least one regularly licensed physician, or a qualified social service department.

The inspection service shall conform to the requirements of this chapter and to the rules of the State Department of Social Welfare.

Costs

The costs of any inspection service undertaken by a county or city, with the approval of the State Department of Social Welfare, shall be borne by the State in the amount found necessary by the State Department of Social Welfare for proper and efficient administration, but not to exceed in any fiscal year an amount averaging five dollars ($5) per month per license. Claims shall be filed with the department at the time and in the manner specified by the department for reimbursement of the expenses incurred. Whenever a claim covering a prior fiscal year is found to have been in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without necessity of applying the adjustment to the appropriation for the prior fiscal year. If any grants-in-aid are made by the Federal Government for the support of any inspection service approved by the State Department of Social Welfare, the amount of the federal grant shall first be applied to defer the costs of the service and the remainder of the costs, if any, shall be borne by the State.

CHAPTER 1031

An act to amend Sections 5053, 5510, 6002, 6004, 6561, 6907, 7152, 7155, 7156, 7172, and 8403 of, and to add Sections 5613 and 6705.5 to, the Financial Code, relating to savings and loan associations and the administration of the law with respect thereto.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5053 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

5053. "Agent" means any person doing any of the following:

(a) Soliciting or receiving applications for loans to be made by an association, where such services are rendered for compensation and as a whole or partial vocation and not casually or intermittently in connection with a general loan brokerage business.

(b) Disbursing funds on behalf of an association on loans, where such services are rendered for compensation and as a whole or partial vocation and not casually or intermittently in connection with a general loan brokerage business.

(c) Representing himself as authorized by an association to solicit or receive applications for loans.

SEC. 2. Section 5510 of said code is amended to read:

5510. Upon the receipt of an application for a certificate to form a proposed association the commissioner, unless he finds that such certificate must be refused pursuant to this article, shall give written notice to each association existing in this State that an application for the issuance of a certificate has been made. The notice shall state the name of the proposed association, and the time and place that a hearing will be held. The hearing shall not be held less than 10 days after the mailing of the notice.

SEC. 3. Section 6002 of said code is amended to read:

6002. If the commissioner is satisfied that the operation of the proposed branch is in the interest of such association, that the area where the proposed branch is to be located is not adequately served by one or more existing associations or federal savings and loan associations, that such association's financial program is sound, and that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the operation of such branch, he shall issue a license for the proposed branch.

SEC. 4. Section 6004 of said code is amended to read:

6004. Upon receipt of an application for a branch license, the commissioner, unless he finds that such application must be denied pursuant to this chapter, shall give written notice to each association existing in this State that an application for the issuance of a branch license has been made. The notice shall state the name of the association, the name of the city or area in which such branch is proposed, and the time and place that a hearing will be held. The hearing shall not be held less than 10 days after the mailing of the notice.

SEC. 5. Section 6561 of said code is amended to read:

Partial
withdrawals

6561. If only a part of the sum evidenced by an investment certificate is withdrawn, the sum withdrawn is deemed to be that first received by the association unless otherwise agreed between the certificate holder and the association at or prior to the time of such withdrawal. Sums received by an association within the first 10 days of any calendar month (including, if the tenth day of any calendar month is Sunday or a holiday, the first day thereafter which is not Sunday or a holiday) may, at the option of the association, be deemed for the purpose of Section 6560 to have been received by such association on the first day of such month.

SEC. 6. Section 6907 of said code is amended to read:

Limitation
on distributions

6907. No association issuing investment certificates and not issuing stock shall pay any dividends to shareholders or distribute any profits to shareholders if its surplus, undivided profits and reserves are less than, or by such payment or distribution would be reduced below, the amount specified in this article.

SEC. 7. Section 7152 of said code is amended to read:

Unamortized
real property
loans

7152. An association may make unamortized loans upon the security of improved real property in an amount not in excess of 60 percent of the appraised value of such real property if the terms of such loans do not exceed three years or if the notes or other obligations representing such loans provide for payments which will make such loans, after an initial term not exceeding three years, amortized loans for the purpose of Section 7170.

SEC. 8. Section 7155 of said code is amended to read:

Unimproved
real property
loans

7155. An association may make loans upon the security of unimproved real property in an amount not in excess of 33½ percent of the appraised value of such real property if the terms of such loans do not exceed three years or if the notes or other obligations representing such loans provide for payments which will make such loans, after an initial term not exceeding three years, amortized loans for the purpose of Section 7170.

SEC. 9. Section 7156 of said code is amended to read:

Loans on property to be improved

7156. If any loan is made upon the security of real property where it is agreed or contemplated that improvements will be made to the property which shall become a part of such security, the real property shall be deemed improved real property and the value of the proposed improvements shall be included in the appraised value of such real property. At no time shall the amount advanced by the association on such loan exceed the ratio of loan to value authorized by this article. For the purpose of this computation the association shall include the value of such building or buildings at the time the amount is advanced, and the real property shall be deemed improved real property only from the time the foundation is completed.

SEC. 10. Section 7172 of said code is amended to read:

7172. An association shall not make any one loan in an amount exceeding fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) principal if the loan exceeds 1 percent of the book value of the association's assets unless consent is obtained from the commissioner. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 7104.

Limitation on single loans

SEC. 11. Section 8403 of said code is amended to read:

8403. Article 2 of this chapter and Section 8509 of Article 3 of this chapter do not apply to any association, or to any of its stockholders, six months after the association has met all of the following requirements:

Applicability

(a) The association is an "insured institution" as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act, as amended

(b) The association has caused notice in writing of prospective termination of stockholders' liability to be served upon the commissioner.

(c) The association has caused a copy of such notice of termination of stockholders' liability to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city in this State in which such association has its principal office or, if no newspaper of general circulation is published in such city, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which such principal office is located.

SEC. 12. Section 5613 is added to said code, to read:

5613. Except with the consent of the commissioner, no association, directly or indirectly, shall buy any real property from, or sell any real property to, its majority stockholder or any officer or director of such association, either for himself or as agent or partner of another, or from or to any corporation of which a majority of the stock is owned or controlled individually or collectively by any one or more of the directors, officers, or majority stockholder of such association. "Buy" and "sell," as used in this section, mean any acquisition or transfer, respectively, for a valuable consideration, except that "buy" does not include purchases or acquisitions pursuant to Section 6707.

Intra-association
transactions

SEC. 13. Section 6705.5 is added to said code, to read:

6705.5. No association shall have investments in land under Section 6705 (including costs of offsite improvements made or reasonably required) aggregating at any one time more than one-third the total amount of the investments permitted under Section 6705. "Offsite improvements," as used in this section, mean grading, installation of sewers, drains, gutters, curbs, sidewalks and public utilities, paving and other improvements to the land not including buildings, fences or landscaping.

Limitations
on investments

No association shall make investments under Section 6705, except with the consent of the commissioner, at any time when its investments under Section 6705, together with its loans

under Section 6701 to facilitate the sale of property acquired under Section 6705, other than loans which at such time would be permissible loans otherwise than under Section 6701, aggregate more than whichever of the following is the lesser :

(a) Five percent of its total assets.

(b) An amount equal to the sum of its capital, surplus, undivided profits, loan reserve, federal insurance reserve, and such other reserves as the commissioner may prescribe.

CHAPTER 1032

An act to add Article 4 to Chapter 17 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Financial Code, relating to conservatorships of savings and loan associations.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 is added to Chapter 17 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Financial Code, to read :

Article 4. Conservatorship

Appointment
of conservator

9126. If any facts occur which would entitle the commissioner under Section 9001 to take possession of the property, business and assets of an association the commissioner, in lieu of taking such possession, may appoint a conservator of such association and require of him such bond as the commissioner deems proper. The commissioner may also, upon the request of the board of directors of an association, appoint a conservator of such association and require of him such bond as the commissioner deems proper. The conservator, under the direction of the commissioner, shall take possession of the property, business and assets of the association and take such action as he may deem necessary to conserve the assets of such association pending further disposition of its business. The conservator shall retain such possession until the property, business and assets of the association are returned to the association or until the commissioner takes possession thereof.

Action to enjoin proceedings

9127. An association, within 30 days after the appointment of a conservator, unless such appointment was at the request of its board of directors, may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the association is located to enjoin further proceedings, and whenever the commissioner takes possession of an association's property, business and assets from a conservator appointed by the commissioner the association may within 15 days after the taking of such possession commence an action in the superior court of such county to enjoin further proceedings. In either case the court, after citing the commissioner to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties, and determining the facts, may upon the merits dismiss such action, or enjoin the commissioner (and the conservator, if in possession) from further proceedings and direct the commissioner or the conservator to surrender the property, business and assets of the association. Section 9004 is applicable to appeals from any such judgment, and Sections 9005 and 9006 are applicable to demands by a conservator for possession of the property, business and assets of an association. When a conservator takes possession of the property, business and assets of an association, the provisions of Section 9007 are applicable.

9128. Subject to the other provisions of this article, a conservator, while in possession of the property, business and assets of an association, has the same powers and rights and is subject to the same duties and obligations as the commissioner while in possession of the property, business and assets of an association; and during such time the rights of an association and of all persons with respect thereto, subject to the other provisions of this article, are the same as if the commissioner had taken possession of such property, business and assets. A conservator, while in possession of the property, business and assets of an association, shall have all the rights, powers and privileges of the association, its officers and directors, except as provided in Section 9127 or in the sections therein mentioned, or as provided in Section 9131. All expenses of any such conservatorship shall be paid out of the assets of the association and shall be a lien thereon which shall be prior to any other lien. The conservator shall receive a salary, fixed by the commissioner, in an amount no greater than that which would be paid by the commissioner to a special deputy in charge of the liquidation of the association.

Powers and duties of conservator

9129. Upon appointing a conservator the commissioner shall cause to be made and completed at the earliest possible date such an examination of the affairs of the association as shall be necessary to inform him as to its financial condition.

Determination of financial condition

9130. Unless the commissioner finds, either as the result of such examination or otherwise, that the association's assets are impaired to such an extent that, after deducting all liabilities other than to its investors, they do not equal or exceed the sum of the value of its outstanding shares and investment certificates, the conservator may, with the approval of the commissioner or on terms and conditions approved by the commissioner:

Alternatives
if assets
unimpaired

(a) Issue additional investment certificates and withdrawable shares and receive additional funds on investment certificates and withdrawable shares, with such provisions, if any, for preference of the funds so received, or for segregating or trusteeing such funds or the assets arising from the investment thereof, or for both, as the commissioner deems appropriate for the protection of the certificate holders and shareholders providing such funds.

(b) Pay interest on investment certificates and dividends on withdrawable shares at such rate as the commissioner deems appropriate for the protection of the association and its investors.

(c) Pay the withdrawal value of withdrawable shares and investment certificates, either with or, unless the association is "an association on notice" as defined in Section 8150, without notice, subject to such limitations and restrictions, if any, as the commissioner deems appropriate for the protection of the association and its investors.

Meetings

9131. A conservator, while in possession of the property, business and assets of an association, may call, upon the notice required by the association's by-laws, a meeting of the investors of the association who are entitled to vote, for any purpose, including without limitation the election of a board of directors, and upon the holding of a meeting for such purpose the terms of office of all directors shall expire, or may call, upon the notice required by the association's by-laws, a meeting of the board of directors for any purpose, including without limitation the filling of vacancies on the board of directors or the removal and election or the removal or election, of officers. Each such meeting shall be supervised by the conservator.

Termination
of conserva-
torship

9132. If the commissioner becomes satisfied that it may be done safely and in the public interest, he may terminate the conservatorship and permit the association for which a conservator was appointed to resume its business under direction of its board of directors, subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe.

CHAPTER 1033

An act to amend Sections 3505 and 3905 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to highway carriers and city carriers.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3505 of said code is amended to read:

3505. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

(a) Transportation service all of which is rendered in territory within the exterior boundaries of a city, or city and county including the area of any city situated wholly within such outside limits;

(b) The transportation of baggage and express which is incidental to the transportation of passengers by passenger stage corporations as defined in Section 226.

(c) The transportation by towing of a disabled vehicle.

SEC. 2. Section 3905 of said code is amended to read:

3905. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to

(a) A passenger stage corporation as defined in Section 226 engaged in transporting express when the transportation is incidental to the transportation of passengers.

(b) The transportation by towing of a disabled vehicle.

CHAPTER 1034

An act to amend Section 1062 of the Government Code, relating to absence from the State of municipal officers.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1062 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1062. No state or municipal officer shall absent himself from the State for more than 60 days, unless either:

(a) Upon business of the State, or the municipality,

(b) With the consent of the Legislature, or the governing body of the municipality.

In the case of illness or other urgent necessity, and upon a proper showing thereof the time limited for absence from the State shall be extended by:

(a) The Governor in the case of state officers.

(b) The city council or other governing body of the municipality in the case of municipal officers.

CHAPTER 1035

An act to add Section 19533.1 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to licenses to conduct horse race meetings.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19533.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19533.1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 19533, any licensed racing association operating a mile track may construct another track of not less than five-eighths of one mile in circumference in the infield of such mile track and may operate the same for either running or harness racing thereon, and a license may be granted to any harness racing association to conduct a horse race meeting upon any such track. The provisions of Section 19480.5 shall not apply to such an infield track.

CHAPTER 1036

An act to repeal Division 10 of, and to add Division 10, comprising Sections 24501 to 27509, inclusive, to, the Public Utilities Code, to amend Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to transit districts.

In effect
September
7, 1953

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. Division 10 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to repeals effected by said code, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Division 10, comprising Sections 24501 to 27509, inclusive, is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

DIVISION 10. TRANSIT DISTRICTS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Definitions

Short title 24501. This division may be cited as the "Transit District Law."

Construction 24502. Unless the context otherwise requires, the provisions of this article govern the construction of this division.

"District,"
"board" 24503. "District" means a transit district formed under this division; "board" means the board of directors of a district.

"Voter" 24504. "Voter" means any elector who is registered under the Elections Code.

"Transit" 24505. "Transit" means the transportation of passengers and their incidental baggage by any means.

"Transit
works,"
"transit
facilities" 24506. "Transit works" or "transit facilities" means all real and personal property, equipment, rights, or interests owned or to be acquired by the district for transit service.

"Percent of the total vote cast" 24507. "Percent of the total vote cast," when used with reference to the requirements of any petition or nomination paper, means percent of the total vote cast, exclusive of absent voter ballots, within the proposed district, district, or territory proposed to be annexed to a district, as the case may be at the last general state election.

"City" 24508. "City" includes city and county and incorporated town, but does not include unincorporated town or village.

"Public
agency" 24509. "Public agency" includes a city, city and county, a county, the State of California, or any public district organized under the laws of the State of California or any agency or authority of any thereof.

Article 2. General Provisions

Creation and powers

24531. A transit district may be created as provided in this division and when so created may exercise the powers herein granted.

24532. Except as otherwise provided in this division elections shall be held and conducted and the result ascertained, determined, and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State. Elections

24533. Except as otherwise provided in this division all ordinances and notices which are required to be published shall be published once a week for two successive weeks (two publications) in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district. Publications

24534. Whenever in this division publication in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district is required, and there is no such newspaper, then the publication may be made in a newspaper of general circulation published in any county where the district is situated. Newspapers

24535. Whenever the signature of any officer or employee of a district or of any member of the retirement board or of any officer or employee of the retirement system is authorized or required under the provisions of this division, except in the single instance provided in Section 26244, the signature may be made by the use of a plate bearing facsimiles of such signatures. Signatures

CHAPTER 2. FORMATION OF DISTRICTS

Article 1. General Provisions

24561. Any city together with unincorporated territory, or two or more cities, with or without unincorporated territory, in either Alameda County or Contra Costa County or both, may organize and incorporate as a transit district. Cities and unincorporated territory included within a district may be in the same or separate counties and need not be contiguous. No city shall be divided in the formation of a district. A city may be in more than one transit district formed under this division. Composition of districts Alameda and Contra Costa Counties

It is necessary that a district be formed in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties to meet the transit problem, for the area involved covers more than one city and is in two counties; moreover, the problem is unique to these counties due to their geographic location in relation to the centers of employment of many of their residents. Although a municipal utility district could provide transportation facilities, there is already an existent municipal utility district in part of the area which provides water and sewage disposal to persons who will not necessarily be benefited by the transportation facilities, and if a new municipal utility district is formed, there is a possibility of its becoming merged by operation of law with the existent district, which would result in those persons in the existent district being inequitably taxed to pay for the transit facilities and those benefited only by the transit facilities being taxed to support the water and sewage disposal functions of the district.

Also, there are existing transportation facilities in the area which may be taken over by the transit district and special provisions relating to this transfer and to the employees of these facilities, as provided for by this division, are necessary to protect the public interest.

Request for formation

24562. A request for the formation of a district may be made by resolution or by petition as set out in this chapter.

Article 2. Request by Resolution

Request by
resolution

24581. Legislative bodies of half or more of the cities proposed to be included in the proposed district may pass resolutions declaring that in their opinion public interest or necessity demands the creation and maintenance of a transit district to be known as the "(giving the name) transit district."

Proposed facilities,
boundaries

24582. The resolutions may state the transit facilities proposed to be first acquired, but failure to acquire such transit facilities shall not affect the validity of the district. They shall describe the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, except that if it is intended to organize the district of cities only, a statement of the names of such cities is a sufficient and legal description of the district.

Copies to board of superior judges

24583. Certified copies of the resolutions shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county containing the largest number of voters within the proposed district, requesting that board of supervisors to call an election without delay for determining whether the district will be created.

Article 3. Request by Petition

petition

24611. Instead of resolutions, a petition may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county containing the largest number of voters within the proposed district, signed by voters within the proposed district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the total vote cast.

Contents

24612. The petition shall contain substantially the same declarations and statements required to be contained in the resolutions presented to a board of supervisors under this chapter, and declare that, in the opinion of the petitioners, public interest or necessity demands the creation and maintenance of a transit district.

Affidavits

24613. The petition may be on separate papers, but each paper shall contain the affidavit of the person who circulated it certifying that each name signed thereto is a true signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

Certification
of signatures

24614. The clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the petition is presented shall compare the signatures to the petition with the affidavits of registration and certify to their sufficiency or insufficiency.

Article 4. Election

Election call

24641. Upon receipt of certified copies of the resolutions or of a sufficient petition, the board of supervisors to whom they are presented shall call an election within the proposed district without delay for the purpose of determining whether the proposed district will be created and established, and for the purpose of electing the first board of directors therefor in case the district is created.

24642. Before calling the election the board of supervisors shall divide the proposed district into five wards, the boundaries of which shall be so drawn that each shall contain approximately an equal number of voters, as nearly as may be. The cities and any other territory included in the proposed district may be divided for the purpose of establishing ward boundaries. Wards

24643. Upon establishing the wards, the board of supervisors shall publish notice of the election within the proposed district. Notice of election

24644. The notice shall state the name of the proposed district, and describe the boundaries thereof and the boundaries of the wards provided for the purpose of electing directors. Contents

24645. The ballot for the election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following: Ballot

Shall the "(giving name thereof) transit district" be created and established?	YES
	NO

24646. The ballots shall also contain the names of the persons nominated to serve as a member of the board showing separately each ward and its nominees and those nominated to be elected at large. Nominees

24647. Any person may be nominated for the office of director upon written petition of at least 50 voters of the ward in which such person resides or of the district for directors elected at large. Nominations

24648. Candidates for the office of director shall be voted upon and elected one from each ward and two at large. Election of directors

24649. No person shall be entitled to vote at the election unless he is a voter of the territory included in the proposed district. Voters

24650. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county, or city election, and be consolidated therewith. Consolidated election

24651. The board of supervisors which called the election shall meet on Monday next succeeding the day of the election and canvass the votes cast thereat. Canvass

24652. The board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of each city and each parcel of unincorporated territory, if any, separately, and shall order and declare the district created and established of the cities and territory in which a majority of those who voted on the proposition voted in favor of the creation of the district if the total number of voters in such approving cities and territory is not less than two-thirds Two-thirds vote the number of voters within the district as first proposed, according to the register used at the election.

Director
qualifications, appointments

24653. No person may serve as a director unless he is a resident and voter of the district as finally determined. Any vacancies on the board caused by the elimination of territory shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors, in which case ward lines may be disregarded.

Plurality required to elect
director

24654. The board of supervisors shall also canvass the returns of the election with respect to the persons voted for as directors, and shall declare the persons receiving the highest number of votes, for each ward, respectively, or in the district as a whole for those elected at large, to be duly elected as directors of the district, if they are residents and voters thereof as finally determined.

Conduct and
election

24655. The board of supervisors calling the election shall make all provision for the holding thereof throughout the entire district as proposed, and shall pay the cost thereof.

Reimburse-
ment

24656. If a special election is held exclusively on the proposition of organizing a district, the expenditure therefor shall be reimbursed to the county which called the election by means of a tax on all the taxable property within the cities and unincorporated territory which was proposed to be included in the district, and this tax shall be added to the next county tax bills by the proper officials of the counties involved, respectively.

Article 5. Establishment of the District

election
certificate

24681. The board of supervisors shall cause a certified copy of the order declaring the result of the election to be filed in the Office of the Secretary of State, from and after which the establishment of the district shall be deemed complete.

Article 6. Contest of Incorporation

Contest of incorporation

24701. No informality in any proceeding or in the conduct of any election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the incorporation of any district. Any proceedings wherein the validity of incorporation is denied shall be commenced within three months from the date of filing the order declaring the result of the election with the Secretary of State, otherwise the incorporation and the legal existence of the district shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

CHAPTER 3. INTERNAL ORGANIZATION OF DISTRICTS

Article 1. Government

Board of directors

24801. The government of every district is vested in a board of seven directors, one from each ward, and two at large, together with the other officers mentioned in this division. The directors shall be residents and voters of the respective wards from which they are nominated.

Article 2. Election of Directors

24821. The first directors are elected at the formation election as provided in Chapter 2. All elections of directors subsequent to the first shall be held at the same time as the general election in the manner provided in this article. Election of directors

24822. Notice of election shall be published and no other notice of such election need be given. Notice

24823. The board shall by resolution or ordinance fix the boundaries of the wards for the purpose of electing directors therefrom. Such wards shall be established in ample time prior to each biennial general election to permit candidates for the position of directors to circulate nominating papers. Wards

24824. The notice of election shall refer to the wards established by the board.

24825. Upon the filing of a sufficient nomination paper and affidavit by any candidate the name of the candidate shall go upon the ballot at the ensuing general election. Names on ballot

24826. The nomination paper, for those directors elected by wards, shall contain the name of the candidate, with such other information as may be required herein, and shall be signed by 50 voters of the district. The nomination paper for directors elected at large shall contain the name of the candidate, with such other information as may be required herein, and shall be signed by 50 voters of the district. Nomination papers

24827. Nomination papers may be circulated throughout the district. Circulation

24828. The time for verification deputies to obtain signatures to the nomination paper of any candidate, and for nomination papers to be filed with the secretary of the district and be examined by him, and for the secretary of the district to certify the names of all candidates to be placed upon the ballot to the county clerk or county clerks within the territory affected shall be such as is prescribed for independent nominations in the Elections Code. Time limitations

24829. The board shall in the notice, ordinance, or resolution calling an election consolidate it with the general election to be held at the same time in the respective counties in which the district is located and authorize the respective boards of supervisors to canvass the returns and certify the result of the canvass to the board. It shall be the duty of the board or boards of supervisors to so consolidate the election, canvass the returns, and cause the result thereof to be properly certified to the board of directors of the district. The election shall be held in all respects as if there were only one election, and only one ticket or ballot shall be used. Consolidation of elections

24830. Candidates for the office of director shall be voted upon and elected one from each ward and two at large. Election by ward, at large

24831. Upon receipt of the returns of the canvass by the respective boards of supervisors the board shall meet and determine results of the election and declare the candidate or candidates elected. Declaration of elected candidates

Certificates of election

24832. The secretary of the district shall issue certificates of election, signed by him and duly authenticated, immediately following the determination of the result of the election by the board.

Article 3. Terms of Office of Directors

Terms of office

24861. The directors elected at the formation election shall hold their respective offices only until the first Monday after the first day of January next following the next general election and until their successors are elected and qualified.

24862. Of the directors elected at the first election following the formation election, those three elected by wards and the one elected at large by the highest vote shall hold office for four years, and the other three for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Thereafter, at each biennial general election, a number of directors corresponding to the number whose terms of office expire shall be elected for the term of four years.

Commencement of term

24863. Directors elected at the formation election shall enter upon their official duties immediately upon the filing of the order declaring the result of the election with the Secretary of State, after qualifying according to law. The terms of directors elected after the formation election shall commence on the first Monday after the first day of January next following their election.

Recall

24864. Every director is subject to recall by voters of the district, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the State applicable to county officers.

Vacancies

24865. The board shall fill all vacancies on the board, including those caused by the death or resignation of a member. If, however, a vacancy exists for 60 days the Governor shall fill the vacancy.

Term of appointed director

24866. The person appointed to fill any vacancy on the board shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Article 4. Powers and Duties of Directors

Oath

24881. The oath of office of directors shall be taken, subscribed, and filed with the secretary of the district at any time after the director has notice of his election or appointment but not later than 15 days after the commencement of his term of office. No other filing is required.

President,
vice president

24882. The board shall choose one of its members president, and another vice president, who shall be authorized to act for the president during his absence or disability, and shall provide for the time and place of holding its meetings, which shall be held at least once each month.

Legislative
body

24883. The board is the legislative body of the district and determines all questions of policy.

24884. All matters and things necessary for the proper administration of the affairs of the district which are not provided for in this division shall be provided for by the board.

24885. The board shall supervise and regulate every transit facility owned and operated by the district, including the fixing of rates, rentals, charges, and classifications, and the making and enforcement of rules, regulations, contracts, practices, and schedules, for or in connection with any transit facility owned or controlled by the district. Regulation of facilities

24886. The board may adopt a personnel system for the purpose of recruiting and maintaining an effective working force with good morale. The board shall by resolution determine and create such number and character of positions as are necessary properly to carry on the functions of the district and shall establish an appropriate salary, salary range, or wage for each position so created. The board may by resolution abolish any such position. Except as otherwise provided, appointments to such positions shall be made by the general manager. Personnel system

24887. The board may from time to time contract for or employ any professional service required by the district or for the performance of work or services which cannot satisfactorily be performed by the regular employees of the district. Professional, etc., services

24888. The board shall have an annual audit made of all books and accounts of the district by a certified public accountant or public accountant. Annual audit

24889. The board may provide by resolution, under such terms and conditions as it sees fit, for the payment of demands against the district without prior specific approval thereof by the board if the demand is for a purpose for which an expenditure has been previously approved by the board and in an amount no greater than the amount so authorized, and if the demand is approved by the general manager. Payment of demands

24890. To facilitate the business of the district, the board may provide for the creation and administration of such funds as the needs of the district may require. The funds shall be disbursed in accordance with rules established by the board and all payments from any fund shall be reported to the board. Creation, etc., of funds

Article 5. Meetings and Legislation

24906. All legislative sessions of the board, whether regular or special, are open to the public. Public sessions

24907. A majority of the board constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business. Quorum

24908. The board shall establish rules for its proceedings and may provide by ordinance or resolution that each member shall receive for each attendance at the meetings of the board the sum of twenty dollars ($20) but not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) in any calendar month and shall be allowed such necessary traveling and personal expenses incurred in the performance of his duties as authorized by the board. Proceedings and compensation

- Ordinance ,
etc 24909. The acts of the board shall be expressed by motion, resolution, or ordinance. No ordinance shall be passed by the board on the day of its introduction, nor within three days thereafter, nor at any time other than a regular or adjourned regular meeting. No ordinance, resolution, or motion shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the affirmative votes of a majority of the directors.
- Publication
Enacting
clause 24910. All ordinances shall be published after passage.
24911. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows:
"Be it enacted by the board of directors of ----- transit district:"
- Signatures 24912. All ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board or the vice president, and attested by the secretary.

Article 6. Other Officers

- General
manager 24926. The board shall appoint and fix the salary of a general manager, who shall have full charge of the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of the facilities of the district and also of the administration of the business affairs of the district.
- Qualifications 24927. All other things being equal, the board shall appoint as general manager some person who has had experience in the construction or management of transit facilities.
24928. The general manager need not be a resident of this State at the time of his appointment.
- Term
removal,
reduction
in salary 24929. The general manager shall hold office for an indefinite term and may be removed by the board only upon the adoption of a resolution by the affirmative vote of not less than a majority of the board. Before the general manager may be removed, he shall, if he demands it, be given a written statement of the reasons alleged for his removal and he shall have the right to be publicly heard thereon at a meeting of the board prior to the final vote on the resolution providing for his removal, but pending and during such hearing the board may suspend him from office. The board may not reduce the salary of the general manager below the amount fixed at the time of his original appointment except upon the adoption of a resolution by a like vote and after a like opportunity to be heard. The action of the board in suspending or removing the general manager or reducing his salary, if approved by a majority of the membership of the board, is final.
- Appointment
during first six months 24930. Notwithstanding this article, until such time as the district has operated, controlled, or used facilities or parts of facilities for providing the inhabitants and cities within the boundaries of the district with transit services for a period of six months, the board may or may not appoint a general manager, who during such time holds office at the pleasure of the majority of the board.
- Secretary,
attorney 24931. The board may appoint a secretary and an attorney, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the board.

24932. The attorney shall be admitted to practice law in the Supreme Court of the State, and shall have been actively engaged in the practice of his profession for not less than three years next preceding his appointment.

Qualifications of attorney

24933. The board may consolidate any of the district offices in one person.

Consolidation of offices

24934. The oath of office of all appointive officers of the district shall be taken, subscribed, and filed with the secretary of the district at any time after the officer has notice of his appointment but not later than 15 days after the commencement of his term of office. No other filing is required.

Oath of office

24935. Each appointive officer shall give such bond and in such amount as the board may require.

Bond

24936. Subject to the control of the board, the powers and duties of the general manager are:

General manager Powers and duties

(a) To have full charge of the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of the facilities of the district.

(b) To have full charge of the administration of the business affairs of the district.

(c) To see that all ordinances of the district are enforced.

(d) To administer the personnel system adopted by the board and except for officers appointed by the board to appoint, discipline or remove all officers and employees subject to the rules and regulations adopted by the board and the labor provisions of this law, whichever are applicable.

(e) To attend all meetings of the board and submit a general report of the affairs of the district.

(f) To keep the board advised as to the needs of the district.

(g) To prepare or cause to be prepared all plans and specifications for the construction of the works of the district.

(h) To devote his entire time to the business of the district.

(i) To perform such other and additional duties as the board may require.

24937. The general manager shall within 90 days from the end of each fiscal year cause to be published a financial report showing the result of operations for the preceding fiscal year and the financial status of the district on the last day thereof. The publication shall be made in the manner provided in this division for the publication of ordinances and notices generally.

Financial report

24938. The attorney shall take charge of all suits and other legal matters to which the district is a party or in which it is legally interested. He shall give his advice or opinion in writing whenever required by the board. He shall be the legal adviser of the general manager and other district officers and shall prepare or approve the forms of all ordinances, resolutions, contracts, bonds, and other legal documents connected with the business of the district. He shall perform such other and additional services as the board may require.

Attorney Powers and duties

24939. The general manager shall cause to be installed and maintained a system of auditing and accounting which shall completely and at all times show the financial condition of the Installation of auditing and accounting system district. All warrants for the payment of demands against the district shall be paid in accordance with such rules as the board may establish.

Custody and accounting
of funds

24940. The general manager shall provide for the custody of the funds of the district and the keeping of accounts of all receipts and disbursements. Payments shall be made only upon warrants duly and regularly signed by the president or vice president of the board, or other person authorized by the board so to do, and by the general manager or secretary.

Deposit of
securities

24941. With the consent of the board, the general manager may:

(a) Authorize the trust department of any state or national bank in this State, or a trust company authorized to act as such in this State, to receive as his agent deposits of any securities acquired by the district.

(b) Place and maintain for safekeeping as a trust deposit with the trust department of any state or national bank in this State, or a trust company authorized to act as such in this State, any securities owned by the district.

The bank or trust company selected shall have a total paid-in capital of at least one million dollars ($1,000,000). The general manager shall take from the trust department or trust company a receipt for the securities, and neither the general manager nor the district is responsible for the custody and safe return of the securities until they are withdrawn from the trust department or trust company by the general manager. Any trust department or trust company to which securities are delivered, either as agent or depository for the general manager, shall make such disposition of the securities as the general manager directs and is responsible only for strict compliance with written instructions given to it by the general manager. All such securities are at all times subject to the order of the general manager.

CHAPTER 4. LABOR PROVISIONS

Collective bargaining agreements,
etc.

25051. Whenever a majority of the employees employed by said transit district in a unit appropriate for collective bargaining indicate a desire to be represented by a labor organization, the board, upon determining as provided in Section 25052 that said labor organization represents the employees in the appropriate unit, and the accredited representative shall bargain in good faith and make all reasonable efforts to reach agreement on the terms of a written contract governing wages, salaries, hours, working conditions and grievance procedures. In case of a dispute over the terms of a written contract governing wages, salaries, hours or working conditions, which is not resolved by negotiations in good faith between the board and the representatives of the employees, upon the agreement of both, the board and the representatives of the employees may submit said dispute to the decision of the majority of an arbitration board, and the decision of a majority of such arbitration board shall be final. The arbitration board shall be composed of two representatives of the transit board and two representatives of the labor organization, and they shall endeavor to agree upon the selection of a fifth member. If they are unable to agree, the fifth member shall be designated by the Secretary of the Judicial Council and shall be a person experienced in labor arbitrations. The expenses of such impartial arbitrator shall be provided half by the transit board and half by the labor organization.

No contract or agreement shall be made with any labor organization, association, group or individual where such organization, association, group or individual denies membership on the grounds of race, creed or color, provided such organization may preclude from membership any individual who advocates the overthrow of the government by force or violence.

25052. If there is a question whether a labor organization represents a majority of employees or whether the proposed unit is or is not appropriate, such matters shall be submitted to the State Conciliation Service for disposition. The State Conciliation Service shall promptly hold a public hearing and may, by decision, establish the boundaries of any collective bargaining unit and provide for an election to determine the question of representation. Provided, however, any certification of a labor organization to represent or act for the employees in any collective bargaining unit shall not be subject to challenge on the grounds that a new substantial question of representation within such collective bargaining unit exists until the lapse of one year from the date of certification or the expiration of any collective bargaining agreement, whichever is later.

Representation of employees by union. Submission to State Conciliation Service

25053. Whenever any district acquires existing facilities from a publicly or privately owned public utility, either in proceedings by eminent domain or otherwise, to the extent necessary for operation of facilities, all of the employees of such public utility whose duties pertain to the facilities acquired who have been employed by said utility for at least seventy-five (75) days shall be appointed to comparable positions in the district without examination and shall be governed thereafter by the personnel system adopted by the board, and these employees shall be given sick leave, seniority and vacation credits in accordance with the records of the acquired public utility.

Acquisition of facilities from utility. Inclusion of utility employees

The provisions of this section shall apply only to those officers or supervisory employees of the acquired utility as shall be designated by the board.

25054. Whenever any district acquires existing facilities from a publicly or privately owned public utility, either in proceedings in eminent domain or otherwise, that has a pension plan in operation, members and beneficiaries of such pension plan shall continue to have the rights, privileges, benefits, obligations and status with respect to such established

Retention of pension rights system; provided, however, that the outstanding obligations and liabilities of such public utility by reason of such pension plan have been considered and taken into account and allowance made for in the purchase price of such public utility.

Specification of rights in contract

25055. The persons entitled to pension benefits as provided for in Section 25054 and the benefits which are provided shall be specified in the agreement or order by which any public utility is acquired by the district.

Inclusion in district retirement
system

25056. All persons receiving pension benefits from such acquired public utility and all persons entitled to pension benefits under the pension plan of such acquired public utility may become members or receive pensions under the retirement system established by the district by mutual agreement of such persons and the district.

CHAPTER 5. RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Article 1. Establishment

Retirement
system

25301. The board may establish a retirement system for the officers and employees of the district and provide for the payment of annuities, pensions, retirement allowances, disability payments, and death benefits or any of them.

Retirement
fund, insurance,
etc

25302. The district may maintain its own retirement fund or may provide for benefits to eligible officers and employees, or their beneficiaries, by means of group insurance or other insurance, or by such means as in the opinion of the board will satisfactorily provide an adequate and sure method of meeting the payments contemplated by the retirement system.

actuary

25303. Before establishing any retirement system the board shall secure a report from a qualified actuary, which shall show the cost of the benefits provided by the system, and the prospective assets and liabilities of the system.

General
powers

25304. The board may adopt all ordinances and resolutions and perform all acts necessary or convenient to the initiation, maintenance, and administration of the retirement system.

State
Employees' Retirement System,
O. A. S. 1.

25305. Nothing in this chapter prevents a district from participating in and making all or part of its employees members of the State Employees' Retirement System by contract entered into between the district and the board of administration of the system under the State Employees' Retirement Law or from participating in the Federal Social Security Act pursuant to Chapter 8 of Part 3 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the district may perform all acts necessary or convenient for such participation.

Classification and determination of
members

25306. The board may classify and determine the officers and employees who shall be included as members in the retirement system and may change the classification from time to time. Membership of all officers and employees so classified and included in the retirement system is compulsory. The retirement system shall not apply to elective officers.

Article 2. Benefits and Contributions

25331. The board may prescribe the terms and conditions upon which the officers and employees of the district or their beneficiaries shall be entitled to benefits and the amounts thereof.

Benefits and contributions. Terms and conditions

25332. The retirement allowance may be predicated in part upon service rendered the district by a member prior to the establishment of the retirement system, which service is known as "prior service."

"Prior service"

25333. The board shall provide that both the district and the members shall contribute to the retirement system. The rate of contribution by an officer or employee of the district becoming a member of the retirement system shall be so fixed as to provide, with accumulated interest and based on tables and assumptions adopted by the board, substantially one-half the value of any retirement allowance granted for service, exclusive of any credits allowed for prior service.

Rate of contributions

25334. All members of the retirement system shall contribute in the manner and amount fixed by the board and such contributions may be collected by deducting the amounts thereof from the salary, wages, or compensation due such members.

Salary deductions

25335. Liabilities accruing under the retirement system because of benefits other than such as are the equivalent of contributions by the members, with accumulated interest, shall be met by contributions by the district. Prior service or other liabilities of the district may be met by annual appropriations instead of by one appropriation for the total of the liabilities; but until the present value of regular contributions for current service, together with assets then available, equals the present value of all allowances and benefits granted or to be granted under the system, the appropriation for any one year when added to any unused balance of any previous appropriations for such purpose shall not be less than the amount disbursed during that year on account of prior service or other liabilities of the district.

District contributions

25336. If any member withdraws from the retirement system prior to retirement the total amount contributed by him with such interest as may be credited thereto shall be returned to him; provided, however, that the board may prescribe the terms and conditions upon which a member, whose district service is terminated except by death or retirement, may elect to leave his contributions and interest thereon in the retirement fund, and the terms and conditions upon which a retirement allowance may be made to him after such termination based upon his contributions prior to such termination.

Withdrawal from system

25337. All money received by any person as an annuity, pension, retirement allowance, disability payment, or death benefit from the retirement system, and all contributions and interest thereon returned to any member of the retirement system, whether in the actual possession of such person or de-

Exemption of benefits from execution, etc

posited, loaned, or invested by him, is exempt from execution, garnishment, or attachment and is unassignable.

Article 3 Retirement Board

Retirement
board
Members

25361. The board shall create a retirement board of not more than five members, at least two members of which shall be the elected representatives of the employees, to administer the retirement system, and shall define its powers and duties and the tenure of the members.

Service
without pay

25362. All members of the retirement board shall serve without pay.

Determina-
tion of eligibility to membership

25363. The retirement board shall determine the eligibility of officers, employees, and their dependents to participation in the system and shall be the sole authority and judge under such ordinances as may be adopted by the board as to the conditions under which persons may be admitted to and continue to receive benefits of any sort under the retirement system, and may modify allowances for service and disability. The determination of the retirement board shall be final and conclusive and shall not be modified or set aside except for fraud or abuse of discretion.

Administration etc.
of fund

25364. If the district maintains its own retirement fund the retirement board shall have exclusive control of the administration, investment, and disbursement of such fund. Investment of the fund shall be subject to the terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions imposed by the laws of this State upon savings banks in the making of investments by savings banks, and cash may be deposited in any licensed national bank or banks in this State or in any bank, banks, or corporations authorized or licensed to do a banking business and organized under the laws of this State.

Article 4. Investigation and Penalties

Valuation
of fund

25391. At least once in each four-year period after the establishment of the retirement system the board shall cause to be made an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement fund, and upon the basis of such investigation and valuation shall make such revision or change of the rates of contribution, the periods and conditions of service, and amounts of retirement allowances as may be necessary.

Prohibited
interests

25392. Except as herein provided, no member of the board or of the retirement board, nor any member of the retirement system or employee of the district, shall have any interest direct or indirect in the making of any investment or in the gains or profits accruing therefrom, and no such person, directly or indirectly, for himself or as an agent or partner of others, shall borrow any of its funds, nor shall any such person in any manner use the same except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the retirement board, nor shall such a person become an endorser or surety as to, or in any manner an obligor for investments of the retirement fund.

CHAPTER 6. POWERS AND FUNCTIONS OF DISTRICT

Powers and functions of district

Article 1. Corporate Power

25701. A district has perpetual succession and may adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

Succession,
seal

25702. A district may sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided by law, in all actions and proceedings, in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Capacity
to sue

25703. A district shall have or exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use. A district may take any property necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers granted in this division, whether the property is already devoted to the same use or otherwise. In the proceedings, venue, and trial relative to the exercise of the right the district has all the rights, powers, and privileges of an incorporated city and all rights, powers, and privileges conferred in this division. A district shall proceed in the name of the district in condemnation proceedings. The district, in exercising such power, shall in addition to the damage for the taking, injury, or destruction of property, also pay the cost of removal, reconstruction, or relocation of any structure, railways, mains, pipes, conduits, wires, cables or poles of any public utility which is required to be moved to a new location.

Eminent domain

Article 2. Contracts

25721. A district may make contracts and enter into stipulations of any nature whatsoever, either in connection with eminent domain proceedings or otherwise, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, contracts and stipulations to indemnify and save harmless, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary and convenient for the full exercise of the powers granted in this division.

Contracts

25722. Neither the general manager nor any director of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board, or in the profits to be derived therefrom. Any violation of this provision is a misdemeanor, and conviction shall work a forfeiture of office. This section has no application to contracts awarded to corporations in which such officer owns less than 1 percent of the entire capital stock.

Interest by directors, violations

Article 3. Purchases

25751. The purchase of all supplies, equipment and materials, and the construction of facilities and works, when the expenditure required exceeds three thousand dollars ($3,000), shall be by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder. Notice requesting bids shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation, which publication shall be made at least 10 days before bids are received. The board may reject any and all bids and readvertise in its discretion.

Purchases
Bids

Open market
purchases

25752. If after rejecting bids the board determines and declares by a four-fifths vote of all its members that in its opinion the supplies, equipment and materials may be purchased at a lower price in the open market, the board may proceed to purchase the supplies, equipment and materials in the open market without further observance of the provisions requiring contracts, bids, or notice.

Expenditures
in case of public calamity

25753. In case of any great public calamity, such as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic, or other disaster, the board may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of all its members declare and determine that public interest and necessity demand the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health, or property, and thereupon proceed to expend or enter into a contract involving the expenditure of any sum needed in such emergency without observance of the provisions requiring contracts, bids, or notice.

Article 4. Property

Acquisition,
etc., of
property

25771. A district may take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, or condemn in proceedings under eminent domain, or otherwise acquire, and hold and enjoy, real and personal property of every kind within or without the district necessary to the full or convenient exercise of its powers. The board may lease, mortgage, sell, or otherwise dispose of any real or personal property within or without the district when in its judgment it is for the best interests of the district so to do.

Disposal of records,
maps, etc

25772. Whenever the board by resolution determines that any record, map, book, or paper in the possession of the district or any officer or employee thereof is of no further value to the district, the board may authorize its sale, destruction, or other disposition.

Article 5. Transit Facilities and Service

Acquisition,
etc., of transit
facilities

25801. A district may acquire, construct, own, operate, control or use rights of way, rail lines, bus lines, stations, platforms, switches, yards, terminals, and any and all other facilities necessary or convenient for transit service within or partly without the district, underground, upon, or above the ground and under, upon, or over public streets or other public ways or waterways, together with all physical structures necessary or convenient for the access of persons and vehicles thereto, and may acquire any interest in or rights to the joint use of any or all of the foregoing; provided, that installations in state freeways shall be subject to the approval of the State Department of Public Works and installations in other state highways shall be subject to Article 2, Chapter 3, Division 1 of the Streets and Highways Code.

25802. A district may accept, without limitation by any other provisions of this division requiring approval of indebtedness, contributions of money, rights of way, labor, materials, and any other property for the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of transit facilities, and may enter into any contracts and cooperate with and accept co-operation from the State, or any department, instrumentality, or agency thereof, or any public agency of the State in the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of, and in financing the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of, any such transit facilities.

Donations;
cooperation with public agencies

25803. A district shall not interfere with or exercise any control over any transit facilities now or hereafter owned and operated wholly or partly within the district by any city or public agency, unless by consent of such city or public agency and upon such terms as are mutually agreed upon between the board and such city or public agency.

City transit
facilities

25804. A district may lease or contract for the use of its transit facilities, or any portion thereof, to any operator, and may provide for subleases by such operator upon such terms and conditions as it deems in the public interest. The word "operator" as used in this section means any city or public agency or any person, firm or private corporation.

facilities

25805. A district may construct and operate or acquire and operate works and facilities in, under, upon, over, across, or along any street or public highway or any stream, bay or watercourse, or over any of the lands which are the property of the State, to the same extent that such rights and privileges appertaining thereto are granted to municipalities within the State. The district shall with respect to the operation of any rail facilities maintain the area of the street or public highway between such rails and for two feet on either side thereof and shall upon removal of such rails restore any such street or public highway to a like condition as the surrounding street or highway area, all in accordance with local ordinances. The district shall not use any street or public highway in a manner to unnecessarily impair its usefulness. The district shall upon acquiring by condemnation or otherwise the facilities of a private transit company assume any and all obligations of such private company to maintain, repair or replace any street, public highway or part thereof.

Right of way
over state
lands

25806. A district may enter into agreements for the joint use of any property and rights by the district and any city, public agency or public utility operating transit facilities; may enter into agreements with any city, public agency or public utility operating any transit facilities, either wholly or partially within, or without, the district, for the joint use of any property of the district or of such city, public agency or public utility, or the establishment of through routes, joint fares, transfer of passengers or pooling arrangements.

Joint use with city, public agency, etc.

- Rates and charges 25807. The rates and charges for service furnished pursuant to this division shall be fixed by the board and shall be reasonable.
- Hearing 25808. The board of supervisors of a county or a city and county, or the city council of a municipality having territory located within the district may file a request for a hearing before the district board as to the reasonableness of any rates or charges fixed by the district and as to any proposal for fixing the location of facilities by the district. The request shall be in writing and shall state the subject matter on which a hearing is desired.
- Time and place 25809. Upon the filing of a request for hearing as provided in Section 25808 the district board shall fix the time and place for hearing. The time fixed shall not be less than 15 days nor more than 60 days from the date such request is filed. Notice of such hearing shall be given to the county or city requesting such hearing and shall be published by the board.
- Intervening 25810. At the time fixed for any hearing before the board any board of supervisors or city council eligible to file a request for hearing, not a party to the original request for hearing, may intervene and shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence.
- Rights of petitioners 25811. The district, petitioner or petitioners, and the intervenors shall have the right to call and examine witnesses; to introduce exhibits; to cross-examine opposing witnesses on any matter relevant to the issues even though that matter was not covered in direct examination; and to rebut evidence introduced by other parties.
- Evidence 25812. Oral evidence shall be taken only on oath or affirmation. The hearing need not be conducted according to technical rules relating to evidence and witnesses. Any relevant evidence shall be admitted if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious business affairs, regardless of the existence of any common law or statutory rule which might make improper the admission of such evidence over objection in a civil action. Hearsay evidence may be used for the purpose of supplementing or explaining any direct evidence but shall not be sufficient in itself to support a finding unless it would be admissible over objection in a civil action.
- District attorney 25813. The attorney for the district shall be present at the hearing and shall advise the board on matters of law, and shall render such other assistance as may be requested by the board.
- Transcripts, records, etc. 25814. A complete record of all proceedings and testimony before the board at such hearing shall be taken down by a reporter appointed by the board. In case an action is brought to review any decision of the board, a transcript of such testimony, together with all exhibits or copies thereof introduced, together with the written request for hearing and other proceedings in the cause shall constitute the record on review; provided, however, that the board and other parties may stipulate in writing that a specified portion of the evidence be certified to the court for judgment and in such case the portion of the evidence specified and the stipulation specifying such evidence shall be the record on review.

25815. Within 30 days after submission of the case the board shall render its decision in writing together with written findings of fact. Copies of the findings and decision shall be sent forthwith to the petitioners and intervenors by registered mail, postage prepaid. Decision

25816. Within 40 days after the mailing of the decision to the petitioner, the petitioner may apply for a writ of mandate in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure. The complete record of the proceedings, or such parts thereof as are designated by the petitioner, shall be prepared by the district and shall be delivered to the petitioner within 30 days after a request therefor, upon payment of the expense of preparation and certification thereof. Writ of mandate

Article 6. Indebtedness

25841. A district may borrow money and incur indebtedness, and may issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness. No indebtedness shall be incurred exceeding the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district without the approval of a two-thirds vote of the voters voting on the proposition to incur such indebtedness; except that a further vote of the voters is not required for any indebtedness incurred within the purposes and not exceeding the available amount of any previously authorized bond issue, and as to such indebtedness the proceeds of any of the bonds unexpended in the treasury of the district, or the par value of any of the bonds which are unsold shall be deemed a part of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district. Power to borrow money etc

Two-thirds vote

25842. No district shall incur an indebtedness for public works which in the aggregate exceeds 20 percent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property within the district. Limitation

25843. Indebtedness which has been incurred for the acquisition, construction, and operation of transit facilities, where the revenue from the transit facilities for three years or more next preceding has been sufficient to pay the interest and principal due on any bonds issued for its construction or acquisition, in addition to the cost of operation and maintenance, shall not be counted and included in ascertaining the limit of indebtedness. Exclusions from debt limit

25844. A district may accept, without limitation by any other provisions of this division requiring approval of indebtedness, contributions or loans from the United States, or any department, instrumentality, or agency thereof, for the purpose of financing the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of transit facilities, and may enter into contracts and cooperate with, and accept cooperation from, the Federal assistance

United States, or any department, instrumentality, or agency thereof, in the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation, and in financing the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation, of any such transit facilities in accordance with any legislation which Congress may have heretofore adopted or may hereafter adopt, under which aid, assistance, and cooperation may be furnished by the United States in the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation or in financing the acquisition, construction, maintenance, and operation of any such transit facilities. A district may do any and all things necessary in order to avail itself of such aid, assistance, and cooperation under any federal legislation now or hereafter enacted. Any evidence of indebtedness issued under this section shall constitute a negotiable instrument.

Article 7. Investments

Investment of surplus money

25871. A district may invest any surplus money in its treasury, including money in any sinking fund, in any of the following:

(a) Its own bonds.

(b) Treasury notes, certificates of indebtedness, bills, bonds of the United States, or any other evidence of indebtedness secured by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(c) Obligations issued pursuant to the Federal Home Loan Bank Act or the National Housing Act.

(d) Treasury notes or bonds of this State, or of any public corporation, municipal corporation, public district, or political subdivision within this State which are legal as security for the deposit of public funds.

Purchase of bonds, etc.

25872. Such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of such bonds, treasury notes, or obligations, or part thereof, at the original sale or by the subsequent purchase of the bonds, treasury notes, or obligations.

Reinvest-
ments

25873. Any bonds, treasury notes, or obligations purchased and held as investments by the district may from time to time be sold and the proceeds reinvested in bonds, treasury notes, or obligations as provided in this article.

Sales in season

25874. Sales of any bonds, treasury notes, or obligations purchased and held by the district shall from time to time be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the money with which the bonds, treasury notes, or obligations were originally purchased was placed in the treasury of the district.

Article 8. Taxation

Taxation

25891. A district may levy, and collect or cause to be collected, taxes for any lawful purpose.

Levy

25892. If, in the opinion of the board, the revenues will not be sufficient for any and all lawful purposes the board shall levy a tax for such purpose or purposes and fix the amount of money necessary to be raised therefor by taxation.

25893. The board shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner provided for the general tax levy, levy and collect annually until the district's bonds are paid, or until there is a sum in the treasury of the district set apart for that purpose to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on the bonds as they become due a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on the bonds and such part of the principal thereof as becomes due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. If the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds begins more than one year after the date of the issuance thereof, the tax shall be levied and collected annually at the time and in the manner aforesaid, sufficient to pay the interest on the indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal on or before maturity.

Fixing levy and collection of taxes

25894. The taxes required to be levied and collected on account of interest, principal, and sinking fund of district bonds shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes, and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of the bonds and accruing interest.

Bond tax

25895. The board may provide for the assessment, levy, and collection of taxes by the district, including the sale of property to the district for delinquent taxes, with penalties, interest, and cost.

Tax
procedure

25896. The board may elect to avail itself of the assessments made by the assessors of the counties in which the district is situated, and of the assessments made by the State Board of Equalization for those counties, and may take such assessments as the basis for district taxation and have its taxes collected by the county officials if the board declares its election so to do by resolution or ordinance and files a certified copy of the resolution or ordinance on or before the first day of August with the auditors of the counties in which the district is situated. Thereafter, each year and until otherwise provided by the board, all assessments shall be made for the district by the State Board of Equalization and the county assessors, and all taxes shall be collected for the district by the tax collectors, of the counties in which the district is situated.

Assessments
of State and county, collection
by county

25897. In such case the county auditor shall, on or before the third Monday in August of each year, transmit to the board a statement in writing showing the total value of all property within the district, ascertained from the assessments referred to in Section 25896 as equalized.

County
auditor's
statement

25898. In case the board elects to avail itself of the assessments referred to in Section 25896 it shall, on or before the first weekday in September, or if such weekday falls upon a holiday then on the first business day thereafter, fix the rate of taxes, designating the number of cents upon each hundred dollars, using as a basis the value of property transmitted to the board by the county auditors, which rate of taxation shall be sufficient to raise the amount previously fixed by the board. These acts by the board shall constitute a valid assessment of the property and a valid levy of the taxes so fixed.

Tax rate

Transmitted to county auditor

25899. The board shall immediately after fixing the rate of taxes as above provided transmit to the county auditors of the counties in which the district is situated a statement of the rate of taxes fixed by the board.

Collection

25900. The district's taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes. When collected the net amount, ascertained as provided in this article, shall be paid to the treasurer of the district, under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes. The district may adopt the alternative procedure of tax collection and apportionment established by Chapter 3, Part 8, Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and any amendments thereof; provided, however, that the district may thereafter abandon said alternative procedure at the end of any fiscal year of the district.

Apportionment of redemption
payments

25901. Whenever any real property situate in any district which has availed itself of the provisions of Section 25896 has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for redemption shall be apportioned and paid to the district by the county treasurers receiving it in the proportion which the tax due to the district bears to the total tax for which the property was sold.

Compensation
of county

25902. The compensation to be charged by and paid to any county for the performance of services under this article shall be fixed by agreement between the board of supervisors of the county and the board. The compensation shall in no event exceed one-half of 1 percent of all money collected for the district. The compensation collected by the county shall be placed to the credit of the county salary fund.

Lien

25903. All taxes levied under this division are a lien on the property on which they are levied. Unless the board has by ordinance otherwise provided, the enforcement of the collection of such taxes shall be in the same manner and by the same means provided by law for the enforcement of liens for county taxes, all the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of the latter being made a part of this division, so far as applicable.

CHAPTER 7. BONDS

Article 1. Issuance

Bonded
indebtedness

26201. A district may from time to time incur a bonded indebtedness as provided in this chapter to pay the cost of acquiring, constructing, or completing the whole or any portion of any transit facilities, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes, or powers of the district.

26202. Whenever the board by resolution passed by vote of two-thirds of all its members determines that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction, or completion by the district of any transit facilities or any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes, or powers of the district, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district, it may at any subsequent meeting of the board provide by ordinance for the submission of the proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness for the purpose set forth in the resolution to the voters of the district at a special bond election held for that purpose.

Submission
of bond
propositions

26203. In lieu of a resolution passed by the board, proceedings for the issuance of bonds for the purposes provided in this chapter may be initiated by petition of the voters of the district.

Initiation
by petition

26204. Whenever any petition signed by voters within the district equal in number to at least 15 percent of the total vote cast is presented to the board asking for the acquisition, construction, or completion of the whole or any portion of any transit facilities or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes, or powers of the district, and also asking that a bonded indebtedness be incurred to pay for the cost thereof, the secretary of the district shall immediately examine and verify the signatures of the petition and certify the result of the examination to the board.

Verification
of petition

26205. If the required number of signatures is found to be genuine, the secretary shall transmit to the board an authentic copy of the petition without the signatures.

Transmittal to board

26206. Upon receiving a petition with the certificate of the secretary stating that it contains the required number of signatures, the board shall formulate for submission to the voters of the district at a special bond election called for that purpose the proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness for the purposes set forth in the petition. In its discretion the board may defer the calling of the election until the next general election to be held in the district in order to consolidate them.

Formulation of proposition

26207. The ordinance calling a special bond election shall fix the date on which the election will be held, and the manner of holding the election and of voting for or against incurring the indebtedness. It shall also recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the transit facilities, works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property proposed to be acquired, constructed, or completed, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on the indebtedness, which shall not exceed 6 percent per annum, payable semiannually or annually the first year and thereafter semiannually.

Bonds for more than one purpose

26208. Propositions for incurring indebtedness for more than one object or purpose may be submitted at the same election.

Consolida-
election

26209. Any special bond election may be held separately, or may be consolidated with any other election authorized by law at which the voters of the district may vote. If a special bond election is consolidated with any other election, the provisions of this chapter setting forth the procedure for the calling and holding of the special bond election shall be complied with, except that the ordinance calling the election need not set forth the election precincts, polling places, and officers of election, but may provide that the precincts, polling places, and officers of election shall be the same as those set forth in the ordinance, notice, or other proceedings calling the election with which the special bond election is consolidated, and shall refer to the ordinance, notice, or other proceedings by number and title, or by other definite description.

Publication

26210. The ordinance shall be published, and no other notice of election need be given.

Two-thirds
vote

26211. The votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting on the proposition at the election are required to authorize the issuance of bonds under this chapter.

Failure of proposition

26212. If the proposition submitted at a special bond election fails to receive the requisite number of votes, the board shall not within six months after the election hold another special election for the submission of a proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness substantially the same as the proposition voted upon at the prior election unless a petition signed by voters within the district equal in number to at least 15 percent of the total vote cast is filed with the board, requesting that the proposition, or a proposition substantially the same, be submitted at an election to be called for that purpose.

Article 2. Form and Content

Maturity

26241. Bonds authorized by this chapter shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board; except that payment shall begin not later than 10 years from the date thereof and be completed in not more than 50 years from that date.

Denominations

26242. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board determines, except that no bonds shall be of a denomination less than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or any multiple thereof, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in the bonds, and with interest at the rate specified therein, payable semiannually.

Call and redemption

26243. The board may at any time prior to the issuance and sale of any bonds provide for the call and redemption of any or all of the bonds on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity at not exceeding the par value and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding 5 percent upon the principal amount of the bonds, in which event the call price fixed by the board shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district or if there is no such newspaper printed and published within the district then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the county in which the district or any part thereof is situated, the first publication of which shall be at least 30 days prior to the date fixed for the redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption interest on the bonds thereafter shall cease.

26244. The bonds shall be signed by the president of the board or by such officer of the district as the board shall by resolution authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer, and be countersigned by the secretary. The coupons of the bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer. All signatures and countersignatures, except one of said signatures or countersignatures on the bonds, may be printed, lithographed, or engraved. If any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on the bonds or coupons ceases to be such officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, the signature or countersignature is nevertheless valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Signature, numbering

Article 3. Issue and Sale

26261. The bonds may be issued and sold for not less than their par value, but otherwise as the board determines. Before selling any bonds, or any part thereof, the board shall give notice inviting sealed bids in such manner as the board may prescribe. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be awarded to the highest responsible bidder. If no bids are received, or if the board determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, the board may reject all bids received, if any, and either again give notice inviting bids or sell the bonds at private sale.

Sale,
bids, etc

26262. All premiums and accrued interest received on the sale of bonds shall be placed in the fund to be used for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds. The remainder of the proceeds of the bonds shall be placed in the district treasury to the credit of the proper fund, and shall be used exclusively for the objects or purposes for which the bonds were voted; provided that when said objects and purposes have been accomplished any moneys remaining shall be transferred to the fund to be used for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds, and that when all principal of and interest on the bonds shall have been paid, any balance

Disposition
Premiums
and interest

of money then remaining shall be transferred to the general fund of the district.

Inclusion of interest expense

26263. In lieu of the immediate levy of a tax to pay the interest or any part thereof on any bonded indebtedness incurred in accordance with this division, the board may in the estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by the bonds include a sum sufficient to pay interest on all of the bonds or part thereof during the period of acquisition, construction, or completion, but for no period in excess of five years.

Article 4. Refunding

Refunding
bonds

26281. Whenever the board by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members determines that the refunding of the whole or any portion of the bonded indebtedness will be of advantage to the district the board may refund the bonded indebtedness or any portion thereof and issue refunding bonds of the district therefor.

Indebtedness
not increased or decreased

26282. The issuance of refunding bonds shall not be construed as the incurring or increase of an indebtedness within the meaning of this division, and the approval of the voters is not required for the issuance of refunding bonds. The board may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of the bonds on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds.

Applicability

26283. Except as otherwise provided, the provisions of this chapter shall substantially govern as to all matters pertaining to the issuance of refunding bonds, including and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the form, execution, issuance, maturity, redemption, refunding, validation, the payment of interest from bond funds, and the status of the bonds as investments.

Interest rate,
payment

26284. Refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding the interest rate on the refunded bonds, but payment of the refunding bonds shall begin not later than one year from the date thereof and be completed in not more than 40 years from that date.

Proceeds

26285. The proceeds of the sale of refunding bonds shall be applied only to the purchase, or retirement at not more than par and accrued interest, or the call price, of the bonded indebtedness for which the refunding bonds were issued.

Exchange

26286. In lieu of selling refunding bonds and using the proceeds to purchase or retire the bonds to be refunded, the board may exchange refunding bonds at not less than par and accrued interest for the bonds so refunded.

Cancellation

26287. Whenever outstanding bonds are refunded they shall be surrendered to the treasurer of the district, who shall cancel them by endorsing on their face the manner in which the refunding was effected (whether by exchange or purchase, and the amount for which so purchased, if any) and by perforating through each bond and each coupon attached thereto the word "canceled" together with the date of cancellation.

Article 5. Status as Investments

26311. All bonds including refunding bonds issued by a district are legal investments for all trust funds and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the State School Fund and for all sinking funds under the control of the State Treasurer. Whenever any money or funds may by law be invested in or loaned upon the security of bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts, in the State, such money or funds may be invested in or loaned upon the security of the bonds of a district; and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts by law may be used as security for the faithful performance or execution of any court or private trust or of any other act, bonds of the district may be so used. Bonds as legal investments

26312. All bonds of the district, to the same extent as bonds of any other municipality, are legal for use by any state or national bank or banks in the State as security for the deposit of funds of the State or of any county, city and county, city, municipality, or other public or municipal corporation within the State. Security for deposit

Article 6. Validation

26341. The board may at any time within 60 days from the date of an election authorizing the issuance of bonds or within 60 days from the date of the resolution authorizing the issuance of refunding bonds cause to be brought in the name of the district an action in the superior court of the county in which the district or the greater portion thereof is located to determine the validity of the bonds. Validation action

26342. The action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Publication of summons

26343. Jurisdiction is complete within 10 days after the full publication of the summons in the manner herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of the 10 days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of the bonds. Jurisdiction, appearance

26344. If there is more than one action or proceeding involving the validity of any such bonds, they shall be consolidated and tried together. Consolidation

26345. The court hearing any proceeding or action inquiring into the regularity, legality, or correctness of the Unsubstantiated errors etc proceedings leading up to the issuance of bonds or the validity of bonds shall disregard any error, irregularity, or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to the action or proceeding.

Pleading and practice rules

26346. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this division, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The motion for a new trial of any such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined within 10 days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs on any proceeding or action herein provided for may be allowed and apportioned between the parties, or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court.

Judgment, appeal, etc

26347. The action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring the bonds valid or invalid. Either party may appeal to the Supreme Court at any time within 30 days after the rendition of judgment, which appeal shall be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking the appeal.

Limitation
on action

26348. After the expiration of 90 days from the date of a bond election or the date of the resolution authorizing the issuance of refunding bonds, no action may be brought by any person to contest or question the validity of the bonds and the proceedings leading up to their issuance.

CHAPTER 8. ANNEXATION OF CITIES

Article 1. Annexation Agreement

Annexation
of cities

26401. Any city not included within the boundaries of a district may be annexed thereto in the manner provided in this chapter.

Agreement
by city

26402. The legislative body of the city proposed to be annexed shall agree in writing with the board upon the terms and conditions of annexation, which agreement (among other things) may provide for the levy and collection of special taxes within the city in addition to the taxes elsewhere in this division provided for, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere within the district, the incurring or assumption of indebtedness, or the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the city.

Article 2. Approval by District

Approval
by district

26421. The agreement shall become effective and be binding upon the district and the city when approved in the manner set forth in this chapter.

The board shall by ordinance setting forth the agreement at length declare its intention of causing it to be executed by the district.

26422. The ordinance, together with a notice fixing the time and place for hearing thereon, shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district. The time fixed for the hearing shall be not less than 30 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the ordinance. Notice of hearing

26423. At the hearing any person interested may file with the board written objections to the execution of the agreement. Objections

26424. Upon the hearing the board shall determine whether or not the agreement will be carried into execution and shall hear and determine all objections thereto. Failure of any person interested in the district or in the matter of the proposed execution of the agreement to show cause in writing pursuant to Section 25423 constitutes an assent on his part to a change in the boundaries of the district and to the execution of the agreement. Determination to proceed

26425. Any hearing on the agreement may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order to be entered upon the minutes of the meeting fixing the time and place of adjournment. Adjournment

26426. If no protests are filed or if the protests filed are overruled and denied the board shall thereupon by resolution finally approve the agreement and authorize its execution, which shall become effective when executed by the city, duly authorized in the manner provided in this chapter. Approval by board

26427. When executed by the district the agreement shall be dated and an executed copy filed with the secretary of the district. An executed copy shall also be filed with the clerk of the city to be annexed. Filing

Article 3. Approval by City

26451. At any time after the board has finally approved the agreement of annexation the legislative body of the city to be annexed shall cause an election to be held in the city to determine whether the city will be annexed to the district upon the terms and conditions stated in the agreement. Approval by city
Election

26452. Notice of election shall be published as provided in Section 24533 and shall either state that a copy of the annexation agreement is on file in the office of the secretary or clerk of the city proposed to be annexed, and open to the inspection of all persons interested, or set forth the terms and conditions of the agreement of annexation at length, in the discretion of the legislative body calling the election. Notice

26453. The ballots for the election shall contain substantially the instructions required to be printed on ballots for use at general state and county elections and in addition shall Ballot

set forth the proposition of annexation substantially as follows:

Shall the _____ (city) be annexed to _____ transit district in accordance with and subject to all of the terms and conditions of an agreement of annexation dated _____ now on file in the office of the clerk of _____ (city)?	YES

Vote
required

26454. If upon a canvass of the election it is found that a majority of all votes cast on the proposition at the election were cast in favor of the annexation, the proposition and all of the terms and conditions of the agreement of annexation shall be deemed carried and approved by the voters; except that if the terms and conditions of the agreement of annexation provide for the assumption of any indebtedness of the district by any city proposed to be annexed, the proposition of annexation shall not be deemed carried unless approved by the vote of two-thirds of all the voters voting on the proposition at the election.

Failure of
proposition

26455. If the proposition fails to carry, the result shall be entered upon the minutes of the governing body of the city.

Execution of agreement

26456. If the proposition receives the vote of the requisite majority of voters the governing body of the city shall enter in its minutes an order declaring the result of the election and shall thereupon cause the agreement of annexation to be executed by its duly authorized officers.

Article 4. Establishment of Annexation

Annexation
resolution,
filing

26486. Upon receipt by the district of a copy of the agreement of annexation properly executed by the district and the city proposed to be annexed the board shall pass a resolution declaring the city annexed to the district, and shall cause a certified copy of the resolution to be filed with the Secretary of State. From and after the date of filing of the resolution with the Secretary of State the annexation of the city to the district is complete.

Article 5. Annexation of Territory to Cities

Annexation of territories to cities

26511. Any territory annexed in accordance with law to any city included in the district shall, upon the completion of such annexation proceeding, be deemed incorporated into and annexed to the district, and thereafter is subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the district in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property thereof, for general district purposes, and for the payment of any indebtedness theretofore or thereafter incurred by the district.

Article 6. Effect of Annexation

26531. From and after the date of annexation the board shall levy upon all of the property in the city annexed such taxes, tolls, or charges as are necessary to provide funds for the payment of the indebtedness assumed by the city or otherwise necessary to comply with the terms and conditions of the annexation agreement, all in addition to the general district taxes authorized elsewhere in this division to be levied and collected. Effect of annexation

26532. No annexation of a city to a district shall operate to dissolve or terminate the legal existence of the city annexed. Existence of city

Article 7. Contest of Annexation

26551. The validity of any proceedings for the annexation of any city to any district shall not be contested in any action unless the action is brought within three months after the completion of the proceedings. Annexation contest

CHAPTER 9. ANNEXATION OF UNINCORPORATED TERRITORY

Article 1. Annexation Agreement

26651. Unincorporated territory may be annexed to a district in the manner provided in this chapter. Annexation of unincorporated territory

26652. Unincorporated territory not contiguous to a district may not be annexed if the district does not possess facilities for supplying transit service to that territory. Noncontiguous territory

26653. A petition signed by voters within the territory proposed to be annexed equal in number to at least 25 percent of the total vote cast, describing the territory and asking that proceedings be taken for its annexation, shall be addressed to the board and filed with the secretary of the district. Petition

26654. The secretary shall compare the signatures on the petition with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk and if he finds that the petition has been signed by the required number of voters he shall attach his signature thereto and present the petition to the board. Verification of signatures

26655. If the board determines that the annexation of the territory would facilitate the acquisition or operation of any transit facilities for the district, or be of advantage to the district, then the board shall also determine the terms and conditions upon which the annexation should be made. Terms and conditions

26656. Provisions may be made (among other things) for payment of taxes within the territory to be annexed in addition to the taxes elsewhere in this division provided for, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere within the district, the incurring or assumption of indebtedness, or the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the territory proposed to be an- Taxes rentals, etc

nexed. The boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed need not be coterminous with any election precincts. The terms and conditions shall become effective and be binding upon the district and the territory to be annexed when approved in the manner set forth in this chapter.

Approval
by district

Article 2. Approval by District

Ordinance of intention

26681. The board shall by ordinance setting forth the terms and conditions at length declare its intention of causing the agreement to be approved by the district.

Notice

26682. The ordinance together with a notice fixing the time and place for hearing thereon shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district. A copy of the ordinance shall be filed with the secretary of the district. The time fixed for hearing shall not be less than 30 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the ordinance.

Objections

26683. At the hearing any person interested may file with the board written objections to the approval of the terms and conditions.

Determination to proceed

26684. Upon the hearing the board shall determine whether or not the terms and conditions will be approved and shall hear and determine all objections thereto. Failure of any person interested in the district or in the matter of the proposed annexation on the terms and conditions set forth in the ordinance to show cause in writing pursuant to Section 26683 constitutes an assent on his part to a change in the boundaries of the district upon the terms and conditions set forth.

Adjournment

26685. Any hearing on the agreement may be adjourned from time to time by the board, not exceeding 30 days in all, without further notice other than an order entered upon the minutes of the meeting fixing the time and place of adjournment.

Approval
by board

26686. If no protests are filed or the protests filed are overruled and denied by the board the board shall thereupon by resolution finally approve the terms and conditions and proceed with the annexation in the manner provided in this chapter.

Dismissal of proceedings

26687. If protests against the proposed annexation are sustained, all proceedings shall be dismissed and no proceedings shall be undertaken again concerning the territory or any part thereof until after the expiration of one year.

Approval by unincorporated

Election

Article 3. Approval by Unincorporated Territory

27011. Within 90 days after the board has finally approved the terms and conditions of annexation the board shall cause an election to be held in the territory proposed to be annexed to determine whether the territory shall be annexed to the district upon the terms and conditions stated in the ordinance.

27012. Notice of election shall be published and shall either state that a copy of the ordinance containing the terms and conditions of annexation at length is on file in the office of the secretary of the district, and open to the inspection of all persons interested, or itself set forth the terms and conditions of annexation at length, in the discretion of the board. Notice

Shall the territory described in the petition filed with the secretary of the _____ transit district on the _____ day of _____ be annexed to the transit district in accordance with and subject to all of the terms and conditions set forth in that certain ordinance passed by the board of directors of the transit district on the _____ day of _____, a copy of which is now on file in the office of the secretary of the transit district?	YES

27014. If upon a canvass of the election it is found that a majority of all votes cast on the proposition at the election were cast in favor of the annexation, the proposition and all of the terms and conditions set forth in the ordinance shall be deemed carried and approved by the voters. Majority vote

27015. If the proposition fails to carry, the result shall be entered upon the minutes of the board. Failure of proposition

27016. If the proposition is defeated by the voters, no annexation proceeding shall be commenced involving the territory or any part thereof until after the expiration of one year. Future proceedings

Article 4. Establishment of Annexation

27041. In the event the proposition receives the vote of the requisite majority of voters the board shall pass a resolution declaring the territory annexed to the district, and shall cause a certified copy of the resolution to be filed with the Secretary of State, from and after the date of which filing with the Secretary of State the annexation of the territory to the district is complete. Annexation resolution, filing

Article 5. Annexation Without Election

27061. Unincorporated territory may be annexed to a district without an election in the manner provided in this article. Annexation without election

27062. A petition describing the territory proposed to be annexed and requesting that proceedings be taken for its annexation shall be signed by all of the owners of the real property described therein, verified by the affidavit of one of the Unincorporated territory petitioners, addressed to the board, and filed with the secretary of the district. If a portion of the territory consists of public highways, streets, roads or paths, it shall not be necessary to secure the signatures to the petition of the owners only of the real property occupied by such public highways, streets, roads or paths.
Petition

Procedure
Hearing,
resolution,
etc.

27063. Proceedings shall thereafter be taken and a hearing held in substantial compliance with the provisions of this chapter relating to the annexation of unincorporated territory except that no election shall be held within the territory proposed to be annexed and the territory shall be deemed annexed to the district upon the passage of a resolution of the board declaring the territory annexed and the filing of a certified copy thereof with the Secretary of State.

Article 6. Effect of Annexation

Levy of taxes, etc.
on annexed
territory

27091. From and after the date of annexation the board shall levy upon all of the property in the territory annexed such taxes, tolls, or charges as are necessary to provide funds for the payment of the indebtedness assumed by the territory or otherwise necessary to comply with the terms and conditions of the annexation, all in addition to the general district taxes authorized elsewhere in this division to be levied and collected

Article 7. Contest of Annexation

Annexation
contest

27111. The validity of any proceedings for the annexation of any unincorporated territory to any district shall not be contested in any action unless the action is brought within three months after the completion of the proceedings.

CHAPTER 10. EXCLUSION OF TERRITORY

Article 1. Exclusion of Unincorporated Territory

Exclusion
Unincorporated
territory

Petition
and order

27251. Any territory contained within a district not being served by any transit facilities of the district and not included within the boundaries of any incorporated city and not benefited in any manner by the district or by its continued inclusion therein may be excluded therefrom by order of the board upon the verified petition of the owners in fee of lands whose assessed value with improvements is in excess of one-half of the assessed value of all the lands with improvements held in private ownership in the territory sought to be excluded.

Petition
Contents

27252. The petition shall describe the territory sought to be excluded and shall set forth that the territory is not benefited in any manner by the district or by its continued inclusion therein, and shall pray that the territory be excluded from the district.

Filing
deposit

27253. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of the district and shall be accompanied by a deposit with the secretary of the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) to meet the expenses of advertising and other costs incident to the proceedings for the exclusion of the territory, including the cost of recording a certified copy of the order provided for in this chapter. Any unconsumed balance of the deposit shall be returned to the petitioners.

27254. Upon the filing of the petition the secretary shall cause it to be set for hearing at a regular or adjourned regular meeting of the board and shall cause a notice of the filing thereof to be published. The notice shall also state the date of the filing of the petition and that it will come on for hearing before the board and shall state the time and place of the hearing. The time fixed for hearing shall not be less than 30 days from the date of the first publication of the notice. The property to be excluded may or may not be specifically described in the notice, but if not described the notice shall refer to the petition on file with the secretary for a particular description of the property sought to be excluded. Notice of hearing

27255. Any landowner or taxpayer within the district may appear at the hearing either in behalf of or in opposition to the granting of the petition. Objections

27256. The petition shall come on for hearing before the board at the time and place specified in the notice of hearing. Hearing

27257. If upon the hearing the board determines that it is for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition or some portion thereof be excluded from the district, or if it appears that the lands or some portion thereof will not be benefited by their continued inclusion in this district, then the board shall make an order that the lands, or such portion thereof as the board may determine, be excluded from the district, describing specifically the lands so excluded. Order of exclusion

27258. A copy of the order of exclusion certified by the secretary of the district shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the lands are situated. The record of the certified copy is prima facie evidence of the exclusion from the district of the lands purporting to be excluded thereby. Recording

27259. From and after the making of the order of exclusion and the record thereof the lands excluded are no longer included in the district. The order of exclusion does not invalidate in any manner any taxes or assessments theretofore levied or assessed against the lands excluded nor relieve the property excluded from any outstanding bonds which are a lien thereon at the time of exclusion, nor from any taxes to pay the principal or interest thereof. Effect

Article 2. Exclusion of Incorporated Territory

27281. If the city to which any territory included in any district has been annexed already provides transit service in the territory annexed, the city council or other governing body of the city may petition the district for the exclusion of such territory from the district. Exclusion Incorporated territory Petition

Contents,
etc :
proceedings

27282. The petition shall contain the information prescribed for petitions for exclusion under Article 1 of this chapter, a deposit for expenses shall be made as therein provided, and thereafter all proceedings shall be had as provided therein for such petitions after filing.

Order
Liability for taxes and bonded indebtedness

27283. If an order of exclusion is granted, the board and the governing body of the city shall by contract provide for the payment by the city of the proportion of the taxes and bonded indebtedness for which the territory excluded is justly liable. If they do not agree, either may petition the superior court in and for the county in which the property is located for a judgment declaring the proportion of the taxes and bonded indebtedness for which the territory excluded is justly liable. The proceeding shall be governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to declaratory relief.

Obligations
not relieved by order

27284. The order of exclusion does not invalidate in any manner any taxes or assessments theretofore levied or assessed against the lands excluded nor relieve the property excluded from any outstanding bonds which are a lien thereon at the time of exclusion, nor from any taxes to pay the principal or interest thereof.

CHAPTER 11. DISSOLUTION

Dissolution

27501. The board of any district which operates no transit facilities, or with exterior boundaries coincident with the boundaries of a single city, may call an election at any time for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the district the question of whether the district will be dissolved. Upon the filing with the secretary of such a district of a petition signed by voters within the district equal in number to at least 25 percent of the total vote cast, asking that the question of dissolution of the district be submitted to the voters of the district, the board shall call such an election.

Election

Petition

election

27502. The election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the district the question of whether or not the district shall be dissolved shall be held within 60 days next succeeding the date on which the petition is filed.

Notice

27503. Notice of any election for dissolution, whether called because of the filing of a petition or ordered by the board without petition, shall be published. The date fixed for the election shall not be less than 30 days from the date of the first publication of the notice.

Ballot

27504. The ballots for the election shall contain substantially the instructions required to be printed on ballots for use at general state and county elections and in addition the following:

Shall the "(giving the name thereof) transit district" be dissolved?	YES
	NO

27505. No other notice of the election other than that provided for in this chapter need be given and no sample ballots need be sent to the voters.

27506. If upon a canvass of the election it is found that a majority of all votes cast on the proposition at the election were in favor of the dissolution, the dissolution shall be deemed carried and approved by the voters. The board shall meet on Monday next succeeding the election and canvass the votes cast.

27507. Upon dissolution of any district which has boundaries that are coincident with the corporate limits of a city, the district property wherever situated vests absolutely in the city, and upon the dissolution of any district operating no transit facilities and which has boundaries that extend beyond the boundaries of a single city the property of the district wherever situated vests in the county in which the whole or greater portion of the district is situated.

27508. If at the time of dissolution there is any outstanding indebtedness of the district the legislative authority of the city, where the limits of the district lie wholly within the corporate limits of a city, and in all other cases the board of supervisors of the county in which the whole or greater portion of the district is situated are ex officio the board of directors of the district for the purpose only of the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of the indebtedness of the district existing at the time of dissolution and the interest thereon. The board or legislative authority shall levy the taxes and perform such other acts as are necessary to raise the money necessary for the payment of the indebtedness and the interest thereon.

27509. In the event that the proposition for dissolution fails to carry, no subsequent election for the dissolution of the district shall be called until after the expiration of one year from the date of the prior election.

SEC. 3. Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1241. Before property can be taken, it must appear:

1. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law;

2. That the taking is necessary to such use; provided, when the board of directors of an irrigation district, of a transit district, of a public utility district, or of a water district or the legislative body of a county, city and county, or an incorporated city or town, or the governing board of a school district, shall, by resolution or ordinance, adopted by vote of two-thirds of all its members, have found and determined that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion, by such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or school district, or irrigation, transit, public utility, or water district, of any proposed public utility, or any public improvement, and that the property described in such resolution or ordinance is necessary therefor, such resolution or ordinance shall be conclusive evidence; (a) of the public necessity of such proposed public utility or public improvement; (b) that such property is necessary therefor, and (c) that such proposed public utility or public improvement is planned or located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good, and the least private injury; provided, that said resolution or ordinance shall not be such conclusive evidence in the case of the taking by any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or school district, or irrigation, transit, public utility, or water district, of property located outside of the territorial limits thereof.

Property
already appropriated to public use

3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use to which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use; provided, that where such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation the use thereof for a public street or highway of the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or the use thereof by the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or a municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a public utility district, or a water district for the same purposes to which it has been appropriated or for any public purpose, shall be deemed a more necessary use than the public use to which such property has been already appropriated; and provided, further, that property of any character, whether already appropriated to public use or not, including all rights of any nature in water, owned by any person, firm or private corporation may be taken by a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town or by a municipal water district, or an irrigation district, a transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, for the purpose of supplying water, or electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes to such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or an irrigation district, a transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, or the inhabitants thereof, or for the purpose of supplying any other public utility, or for any other public use. And such taking may be made, either to furnish a separate and distinct supply of such water, and such electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes, or to provide for any such separate and distinct other public utility or other public use; to furnish such a supply or provide for any such other public utility or other public use in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore provided for or that may thereafter be provided for in so supplying or providing for such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, or the inhabitants thereof; or in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore determined upon or that may thereafter be determined upon in accordance with law by the people of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a public utility district, or a water district. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any way limiting such rights as may be given by any other law of this State to counties, cities and counties, incorporated cities or towns or municipal water districts or irrigation districts, transit districts, public utility districts, or water districts.

But private property appropriated to the use of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or irrigation district, or transit district, or public utility district, or water district, may not be taken by any other county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal district, or irrigation district, or transit district, or public utility district, or water district, while such property is so appropriated and used for the public purposes for which it has been so appropriated. Private property appropriated to public use

SEC. 4. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. CHAPTER 1037

An act to repeal Sections 701, 702, and 705 of the Insurance Code and to add Sections 701 and 705 to said code, relating to the duration of certificates of authority issued to insurance carriers and the annual fees therefor.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 701 of the Insurance Code is hereby Repeal repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 702 of the Insurance Code is hereby Repeal repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 701 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

701 Subject to the annual fee provisions of Section 705, every certificate of authority shall be for an indefinite term and shall expire with the expiration or termination of a corporate existence of the holder thereof. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, whenever the commissioner shall determine, after notice and hearing, that any insurer to whom Certificate of authority such certificate has been issued is in arrears to the State, or to any county or city in the State, for fees, licenses, taxes, assessments, fines or penalties, accrued on business transacted in the State, or is otherwise in default for failure to comply with any of the laws of this State regarding the governmental control of such insurer by the State, he may order that such insurer comply with the said requirements within 30 days of such determination. If the insurer fails to comply within such period, the certificate of authority may then be revoked, unless the commissioner's order is stayed by a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

hearing

14230. The petition shall be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and notice of its filing, together with the names of owners and a general description sufficient for identification of the real property proposed to be included in the district, and a statement of the time fixed for hearing the petition, and a statement that all persons interested may appear and be heard, shall be published at least two weeks preceding the hearing, by the board of supervisors, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the district is located and in the territory which is to be included within the district.

SEC. 4. Section 14237 of said code is amended to read:

Exclusion of parcel of more than five acres

14237. Where any parcel of land containing more than five acres is included within the fire limits of the district, the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized, upon application of the owner, shall exclude from the district and from the taxable property of the district, all of the parcel except that portion or those portions thereof upon which a building or buildings, or similar structure, may be situated, each such portion to include such quantity of land, not less than five acres in area, as in the judgment of the board may be reasonable. No such portion need be contiguous to any other territory in the district.

SEC. 5. Section 14153.5 is added to said code, to read:

District in more than one county
Report of final budget

14153.5. If the district includes territory from more than one county, the provisions of Sections 14152.4, 14153, and 14153.1 shall have no application. The district board shall report the final budget to each board of supervisors after the budget hearing but not later than the thirty-first day of August of each year after making any changes in the preliminary budget it deems advisable during or after the hearing, including deductions, increases or additions, and after dividing the total amount set forth in the final budget in proportion to the value of the real property of the district in each county. The value shall be determined from the equalized values of the current assessment rolls of the counties.

Tax levy

The board of supervisors of each county in which any portion of the district is situated shall at the time of levying the county taxes levy a tax upon all taxable property within the district sufficient to meet the amounts set forth in the final budget submitted by the district board.

Collection,
etc

The taxes so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment roll and collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which the largest portion of the territory of the district is situated for the use of the district. All laws applicable to the levy, collection, and enforcement of county taxes are applicable to such taxes.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19209 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19209. Except as otherwise required to comply with the provisions of Article 9.5 of this chapter, the proceedings in any hearing or disciplinary action under this chapter shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

Proceedings
Administrative Procedure
Act

SEC. 2. Article 9.5 is added to Chapter 3 of Division 8 of said code, to read:

Article 9.5. Disciplinary Proceedings Against Nonresidents

19215. As used in this article, unless otherwise indicated, "chief" means the Chief of the Division of Administrative Procedure.

19215.1. The acceptance by a nonresident licensee of any of the rights and privileges conferred upon him by this chapter, as evidenced by his engaging within this State, either personally or through an agent or employee, in a business subject to license under this chapter, is equivalent to the appointment by such licensee of the chief as his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any disciplinary proceeding conducted against him under this chapter.

Service on
licensee

19215.2. The acceptance of such rights and privileges as so evidenced shall signify the agreement of the licensee that any such process which is served against him in the manner provided in this article shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon him personally in this State.

Effect of service
on chief

19215.3. Service shall be made by leaving a copy of the accusation, together with a notice of defense and statement to respondent as described in Section 11505 of the Government Code, with a fee of two dollars ($2) for each licensee to be served, in the hands of the chief or in his office in Sacramento. Such service shall be sufficient service on the licensee subject to compliance with Section 19215.4 of this code.

Method of service, fee

19215.4. A notice of such service and a copy of the accusation, together with the notice of defense and statement to respondent, shall forthwith be sent by registered mail by the chief to the licensee at his last known address as furnished by the bureau. Personal service of such notice, copy of the accu-

Mailing of notice

sation, notice of defense, and statement to respondent upon the licensee wherever found outside this State shall be the equivalent of such mailing.

Proof of compliance

19215.5. Proof of compliance with Section 19215.4 of this code shall be made in the event of service by mail by affidavit of the chief or his authorized employee showing such service by mailing, together with the return receipt of the United States post office bearing the signature of the licensee or his agent. Such affidavit and receipt shall be appended to the original accusation on file with the bureau. In the event of personal service outside this State such compliance may be proved by the return of any duly constituted public officer qualified to serve process in civil actions in the state or jurisdiction where the licensee is found, showing such service to have been made. Such return shall be appended to the original accusation on file with the bureau.

Continu-
ances, etc

19215.6. The bureau, or if the proceeding has been assigned to a hearing officer of the Division of Administrative Procedure, such hearing officer, may order such postponements or continuances and grant such extensions of time as may be necessary to afford the licensee reasonable opportunity to defend the proceeding. In no event shall the licensee have less than 30 days after the date of mailing or delivery to him of the copy of the accusation in which to file a notice of defense, nor shall the notice of hearing provided for in Section 11509 of the Government Code or the notice and copy of affidavit referred to in Section 11514 of said code be mailed or delivered less than 20 days prior to the date of hearing, and the time for making a request to cross-examine under said Section 11514 shall be not less than 15 days.

Records

19215.7. The chief shall keep a record of all process served upon him pursuant to this article which shall show the day and hour of service.

"Non-
resident"

19215.8. As used in this article "nonresident" means a person who is not a resident of this State at the time he engages in business in the State as described in Section 19215 of this code.

CHAPTER 1046

An act to amend Section 2181 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to income of responsible relatives of applicants for or recipients of aid to the aged.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Determina-
tion of responsible relatives'
ability to contribute support

SECTION 1. Section 2181 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2181. The board of supervisors shall determine the ability of responsible relatives to contribute to the support of applicant and designate the amount of aid, if any, to be granted. The maximum degree of liability of the responsible relative shall be determined by "Relatives' Contribution Scale." In determining ability to contribute, the financial circumstances of responsible relatives shall be given due consideration and, in unusual cases, contributions at less than the amount fixed by "Relatives' Contribution Scale" may be made as the board of supervisors may deem justifiable.

For purposes of this chapter, income of a responsible relative is defined as the sum of the income constituting the separate property of the responsible relative, the income (excluding earnings) which is community property subject to the direction and control of the responsible relative, and the earnings of the responsible relative but not of his or her spouse.

In computing net income, a flat 20 percent allowance shall be permitted in lieu of a reduction for the actual amount of personal income taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and social security taxes. Allowance shall also be permitted for net actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by the relative in performance of his employment. Traveling expenses shall include only those expenses incurred while away from home in pursuit of a trade or business which are not reimbursed by the relative's employer.

A responsible relative who is self-employed shall also be allowed to deduct the expenses necessary for obtaining the income.

CHAPTER 1047

An act to amend Section 8726.1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to cemeteries.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8726.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

8726.1. The trustee of the endowment care fund shall create a reserve from which principal losses may be replaced by setting aside a reasonable percentage of the income from the fund. The trustee may also set aside out of income or net capital gains from investments, reserves for future maintenance, repair or restoration of property or embellishments in the cemetery which may be necessary or desirable as a result of wear, deterioration, accident, damage or destruction. The total amount of such reserves for maintenance, repair and replacement shall not at any time exceed 10 percent of the endowment care fund. "Net capital gains," as used in this section, means the amount by which cumulative capital gains since the establishment of the endowment care fund exceed the sum of cumulative capital losses since the establishment of the endowment care fund and capital gains previously set aside in reserve. Additions to the reserve in any year from capital gains shall not exceed one-half the difference between the capital gains and the capital losses during the year. Any capital gains not set aside in reserve shall be a part of the principal of the endowment care fund.

CHAPTER 1048

An act to amend Section 8621 of the Water Code, relating to flood control.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8621 of the Water Code is amended to read:

8621. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of Chapters 1 and 3 of Part 6 of Division 6, the board, with the approval of the Department of Finance, may, when a saving to the State will result, in lieu of acquiring all or any portion of the lands, easements, or rights of way, in connection with a flood control project, execute a substitute plan which includes provision for the State to construct works or contribute to the United States a portion of the construction cost of the flood control project when such works to be constructed by the board or the changes in the design of the project are made which, while resulting in new or added state expenditures for construction, will reduce the costs of the lands, easements or rights of way which otherwise might be required. Any funds heretofore or hereafter appropriated or allocated to the board for the acquisition of lands, easements, or rights of way may be used for the purposes specified in this section.

In carrying out the provisions of this section, the board may negotiate with the United States and adopt on behalf of the State, any necessary revision of a project authorized by Chapter 2 of Part 6 of Division 6, but no money shall be expended pursuant to this section to meet the requirements of the United States for local cooperation in connection with such authorized project unless the United States agrees to accept the substitute plan as meeting the requirements for local cooperation.

CHAPTER 1049

An act to amend Section 441 of the Agricultural Code, relating to the powers of the Director of Agriculture.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 441 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Temporary
definitions
and standards
for new milk product

441. Upon the request of any interested person, the director may, by regulation, establish temporary definitions and standards for a new milk product in conformity with this section when all of the following conditions exist:

(a) Research in the uses of milk and the products or by-products thereof has developed a new milk product for which no definition or standard is prescribed.

(b) The new product cannot be produced or marketed because no definition or standard is prescribed for it.

(c) It appears to the satisfaction of the director that the public interest would be served by permitting the new product to be produced and marketed.

(d) The request to establish such definition and standard is presented to the director after final adjournment of a regular session of the Legislature and prior to the convening of the next ensuing regular session thereof.

(e) Proposed legislation embodying a permanent definition and standard for such new milk product has not failed of enactment into law at the immediately preceding session of the Legislature.

The director shall hold a hearing on the establishment of such a definition and standard and shall give notice thereof to such persons as he considers may be affected by the establishment of such definition and standard. Hearing

If, at such hearing, it appears that all of the foregoing prerequisite conditions exist and that the public interest would be served by the establishment of a temporary definition or standard for the product, the director may establish same. Any such definition or standard shall be such as will insure the quality and wholesomeness of the product. In establishing such a definition or standard the director shall take into consideration existing definitions and standards established for comparable products.

All manufacturers of products for which such temporary definitions and standards are established shall obtain a special permit for their production from the director, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this division applicable to milk products plants, and milk products.

All definitions, standards and permits established or issued under the provisions of this section shall expire on the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the next regular session of the Legislature. Operative
period

CHAPTER 1050

An act to add Section 651 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to discounts by persons engaged in the healing arts professions.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
September
7 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 651 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

651. It is unlawful for any person licensed under this division or under any initiative act referred to in this division to offer for sale or to sell any commodity or to offer to render or to render any service under the representation that the price or fee which is to be, or is, charged for such commodity or service, or both, is at a discount, or under the representation that the price or fee which is to be, or is, charged for such commodity or service, or both, is at a percentage or otherwise less than the average fee or price then regularly charged under like conditions by the person so licensed or by other persons for such commodity or service or commodity and service. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to modify or establish prices or fees or to modify or affect in any manner any other provision of this division.

CHAPTER 1051

An act to add Sections 4052 and 4061 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to pharmacy.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4052 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Rules prohibiting sale of drug except in pharmacy

4052. Notwithstanding any provision in this chapter to the contrary, the board may by rule prohibit the sale of any drug except in a pharmacy and under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist if after open hearing following due notice to persons who have filed written requests for such notice to the board, it shall find that the public health and safety is or will be endangered by the sale of such drug except in a pharmacy and under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist. A violation of any rule adopted by the board under this section shall be punished in the same manner as provided in Section 4235. If a person holding a certificate, license or permit issued by the board, under the provisions of this chapter, shall violate any such rule he shall, in addition, be subject to disciplinary proceedings, as provided in Section 4219; provided, he is a person against whom disciplinary proceedings may be invoked, under the provisions thereof. This section shall not apply to products sold or offered for sale under the provisions of Sections 4042, 4044, 4045, and 4046 of this code; nor shall this section apply to products lawfully sold or offered for sale to the general public under the provisions of Section 4032 of this code.

SEC. 2. Section 4061 is added to said code, to read:

Same

4061. Notwithstanding any provision in this chapter to the contrary, the board may by rule prohibit the sale of any drug except in a pharmacy and under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist if after open hearing following due notice to persons who have filed written requests for such notice to the board, it shall find that the public health and safety is or will be endangered by the sale of such drug except in a pharmacy and under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist. A violation of any rule adopted by the board under this section shall be punished in the same manner as provided in Section 4389. If a person holding a certificate, license or permit issued by the board, under the provisions of this chapter, shall violate any such rule he shall, in addition, be subject to disciplinary proceedings, as provided in Section 4357; provided, he is a person against whom disciplinary proceedings may be invoked, under the provisions thereof. This section shall not apply to products sold or offered for sale under the provisions of Sections 4055, 4057, 4058, and 4059 of this code; nor shall this section apply to products lawfully sold or offered for sale to the general public under the provisions of Section 4052 of this code.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act becomes operative only if Senate Bill No. 1387 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1955 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as said Senate Bill No. 1387 takes effect, at which time Section 4052 of the Business and Professions Code, as added to said code by this act, is repealed.

An act to amend Sections 4251 and 4411 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to pharmacy.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4251 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4251. In case any person defaults in payment of the renewal fee, his registration may be revoked by the board on 60 days' notice in writing from the secretary, unless within this time the fee is paid, together with such penalty, not exceeding the amount fixed by this chapter, as the board may impose. Upon payment of the fee and penalty the board shall reinstate the delinquent's registration. If the registration of any person is revoked, as provided in this section, the board may, nevertheless, thereafter issue a certificate of registration to such person if the board determines that he is qualified by education or experience, or both, adequately to practice the profession of a registered pharmacist.

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

In effect
immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. No money shall be transferred to the General Fund from the Athletic Commission Fund in augmentation of the appropriation for support of the Veterans Home of California as provided in Item 272 of the Budget Act of 1954. Any money heretofore so transferred shall be returned by the State Controller to the Athletic Commission Fund.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to provide for the orderly and efficient administration of the fiscal affairs of the State it is essential that this act, which relates thereto be in effect prior to the commencement of the next fiscal year on July 1st.

CHAPTER 1057

An act creating the "Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District" for the controlling, conservation, diversion, storage, and distribution of storm, flood, and other waters, prescribing the boundaries, organization, operation, management, financing, and powers and duties of the district.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 17, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 18, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Short title SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act.

District created, boundaries SEC. 2. A flood control district is hereby created to be called the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District. Said district shall consist of all the territory of the County of Santa Barbara lying within the exterior boundaries of said county. As used in this act "district" means the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

Zones SEC. 3. The board of directors of the district created by this act, by resolution thereof adopted from time to time, may establish zones within said district without reference to the boundaries of other zones, setting forth in such resolutions descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and entitling each of such zones by a zone number or name, and institute zone projects for the specific benefit of such zones.

Such zones shall be established in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act, and may be created independently of the institution of any project relating to such zone.

Alternately, such zones may be formed concurrently with and as a part of the proceeding for the installation of a project relating to such zones in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act.

SEC. 4. The objects and purposes of this act are to provide for the control of the flood and storm waters of said district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their source outside of said district, but which streams and the floodwaters thereof flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining and causing to percolate into the soil within said district, or without such district, such waters, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of such waters, and protect from such flood or storm waters the watercourses, watersheds, harbors, public highways, life and property in said district, and to prevent waste of water or diminution of the water supply in, or exportation of water from, said district and to obtain, retain and reclaim drainage, storm, flood and other waters for beneficial use in said district.

Purposes
Flood control, conservation
etc

SEC. 5. The district is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic and as such shall have, in addition to the other powers vested in it by this act, the following powers:

District
powers

1. To have perpetual succession.

2. To sue and be sued in the name of said district.

3. To adopt a seal.

4. To acquire by grant, purchase, lease, gift, devise, contract, condemnation, construction, or otherwise, and to hold, use, enjoy, sell, let, and dispose of real and personal property of every kind, including lands, structures, buildings, rights of way, easements, and privileges, and to construct, maintain, alter and operate any and all works or improvements, within or without the district, necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act and convenient to the full exercise of its powers, and to complete, extend, add to, alter, remove, repair or otherwise improve any works, or improvements, or property acquired by it as authorized by this act.

Acquisition,
etc., of
property

5. To control the flood and storm waters of said district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district, but which streams and the floodwaters thereof flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes of said district by spreading, storing, retaining and causing to percolate into the soil within or without said district, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of such waters and protect from damage from such flood or storm waters the watercourses, watersheds, harbors, public highways, life and property in said district, and the watercourses outside of the district of streams flowing into the district, and to prevent waste of water or diminution of the water supply in, or exportation of water from said district, and to obtain, retain and reclaim drainage, storm, flood and other waters for beneficial use in said district; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall authorize the carrying out of any plan of improvement, the purpose of which is, or the effect of which will be, to take water which flows in any watershed in said district and transport or sell same for use anywhere outside of the district when the water level of any gravel beds within the district is below the normal level and such water could reasonably be used to replenish the water level of said gravel beds; provided further, that none of the provisions of this act shall preclude the exercise by any other political subdivision that may now or hereafter exist, wholly or in part, within the district from exercising its powers, although such powers may be of the same nature as the powers of said district. Any such other political subdivision may, by written agreement with the district, provide for the use, or joint use, of property or facilities in which any such other political subdivision has an interest, or for the use, or joint use, of property or facilities in which said district has an interest.

Cooperation
with other public
agencies

6. To cooperate and to act in conjunction with the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with the Government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with any public or private corporation, or with the County of Santa Barbara, in the construction of any work for the controlling of flood or storm waters of or flowing into said district, or for the protection of life or property therein, or for the purpose of conserving said waters for beneficial use within said district, or in any other works, acts, or purposes provided for herein, and to adopt and carry out any definite plan or system of work for any such purpose.

Investigations,
studies, etc

7. To carry on technical and other investigations of all kinds, make measurements, collect data and make analyses, studies, and inspections pertaining to water supply, water rights, control of storm waters and floods and use of water, both within and without said district, and for such purposes said district shall have the right of access through its authorized representatives to all properties within said district. The district, through its authorized representatives, may enter upon such lands and make examinations, surveys, and maps thereof and such entry shall constitute no cause of action in favor of the owners of such land, except for injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness, or malice.

Surveys,
water rights,
etc

8. To enter upon any land, to make surveys and locate the necessary works of improvement and the lines for channels, conduits, canals, pipelines, roadways and other rights of way; to acquire by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, gift, devise, or other legal means all lands and water and water rights and other property necessary or convenient for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvement of said works, including works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for storage of necessary water, and all necessary appurtenances; to enter into contracts and agreements with, and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any such contracts and agreements with the

Contracts

United States, or any state, county, district of any kind, public or private or municipal corporation, association, firm, or individual, or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, leasing, ownership, disposition, use, management, maintenance, repair or operation of any rights, works or other property of a kind which might be lawfully acquired or owned by the district; to acquire the right to store water in any reservoirs, or to carry water through any canal, ditch or conduit not owned or controlled by the district; to grant to any owner or lessee the right to the use of any water or right to store such water in any reservoir of the district, or to carry such water through any tunnels, canal, ditch, or conduit of the district; to enter into and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with any district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them for the transfer or delivery to any such district, corporation, association, firm or individual of any water right or water pumped, stored, appropriated or otherwise acquired or secured, for the use of the district or for the purpose of exchanging the same for other water, water right or water supply in exchange for water, water or water supply to be delivered to said district by the other party to said agreement.

9. To incur indebtedness and to issue bonds in the manner Bonds herein provided.

10. To cause taxes or assessments to be levied and collected Taxes or assessments for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district, and to carry out any of the purposes of this act, in the manner hereinafter provided.

11. To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all Contracts acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district or any of the officers thereof by this act.

12. To exercise the right of eminent domain, either within Eminent domain or without said district, and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, whether such property be already devoted to any public use by any district or other public corporation, or agency, or otherwise; provided, however, that the district in exercising such power shall in addition to the damage for the taking, injury, or destruction of property, also pay the cost of removal, reconstruction, or relocation of any structure, railways, mains, pipes, conduits, wires, cable, poles, of any public utility which is required to be moved to a new location; and provided further, that notwithstanding any other provision of this act or any other law, no property shall be taken unless it is taken upon a finding by a court of competent jurisdiction that the taking is for a more necessary public use than that to which it has already been appropriated; and provided further, that no right shall exist in said district to take by proceedings in eminent domain any property, including water rights, appropriated to public use by any existing city and county or municipal utility district. The district shall also have and may exercise the right to condemn any existing works or improvements in said district or along streams flowing into said district now or hereafter used to control flood or storm waters, or to conserve such flood or storm waters or to protect any property in said district or along streams flowing into said district from damage from such flood or storm waters, and it is hereby declared that the use of the property, lands, rights of way, easements, or materials which may be condemned, taken or appropriated under the provisions of this act is a public use subject to the regulation and control of the State in the manner prescribed by law; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to authorize said district, or any person or persons to divert the waters of any river, creek, stream, irrigation system, canal or ditch, or the waters thereof or therein unless compensation therefor be first provided in the manner prescribed by law.

The power of eminent domain vested in the district shall include the power to condemn in the name of the district either the fee simple or any lesser estate, easement, or interest in any real property which the board of directors of the district by resolution shall determine is necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act. Such resolution shall be prima facie evidence that the taking of such fee simple or any lesser estate or easement or interest as the case may be, is necessary.

Whenever real property which is devoted to or held for some other public or quasi-public use is required by the district for any purpose authorized by this act, the district may condemn real property adjacent thereto or in the immediate vicinity thereof to be exchanged for the real property so required by the district.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as in any way affecting the plenary power of any existing city and county or municipal utility district or other district or public agency to provide for a water supply for such city and county or municipal utility district, or as affecting the absolute control of any properties of such city and county or municipal utility district necessary for such water supply and nothing herein contained shall be construed as vesting any power of control over such properties in such Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District or in any officer thereof, or in any person referred to in this act.

13. To make contracts with the County of Santa Barbara and with municipalities and public agencies, and to employ labor for the purpose of doing flood control work and for inspecting and passing upon the adequacy of drainage plans provided for each proposed new subdivision in the County of Santa Barbara.

SEC. 6. The Board of Supervisors of Santa Barbara County shall be and is hereby designated as, and empowered to act as, ex officio the Board of Directors of the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District. As used else-

Contracts

Barbara County, etc.

Board of directors

where in this act the terms "board" and "board of directors" mean the Board of Directors of the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

Each member of the board of directors of the district shall serve without compensation and may receive his actual and necessary expenses in the performance of official duties under this act, payable from the funds of said district in addition to his salary as county supervisor. Compensation, expenses

All ordinances, resolutions and other legislative acts for said district shall be adopted by said board of directors, and certified to, recorded and published, in the same manner, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, as are ordinances, resolutions or other legislative acts for the County of Santa Barbara. Adoption of ordinances, etc

SEC. 7. The District Attorney, County Surveyor, County Assessor, County Tax Collector, County Clerk, County Auditor, Purchasing Agent and County Treasurer of the County of Santa Barbara, and their successors in office, and all their assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, and all other officers of said Santa Barbara County, their assistants, deputies, clerks, and employees, shall be ex officio officers, assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, respectively, of the district, and shall respectively perform, unless otherwise provided by the board, the same various duties for the district as for said Santa Barbara County, in order to carry out the provisions of this act. Ex officio officers of district

All such officers, deputies, clerks and employees may receive their actual necessary expenses in the performance of official duties under this act payable from the funds of the district. Expenses

SEC. 8. The board shall have power to make and enforce all needful rules and regulations for the administration and government of the district, and to appoint and employ all needful agents, superintendents, engineers, attorneys, and employees to properly look after the performance of any work provided for in this act and to operate and maintain said works, and to perform all other acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this act. Powers of board of directors. Rules and regulations, etc.

In addition to the officers and employees herein otherwise prescribed, the board may in its discretion appoint a chairman, a secretary and such other officers, agents and employees for the board or district as in its judgment may be deemed necessary, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which said officers, agents and employees so appointed shall hold their respective offices or positions during the pleasure of the board. District officers, employees

SEC. 9. The board shall have jurisdiction and power to employ competent registered engineers, or other competent personnel, to investigate and carefully devise a plan or plans to control the flood and storm waters of the district, and the zones thereof, and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district but which streams and the floodwaters thereof flow into said district, and to con- Appointment of engineers serve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within or without the district, or to save or conserve in any manner, any or all of such waters, and to protect the public highways, life and property within the district, and the water-courses, harbors, and watersheds of streams flowing into the district, from damage relating to such waters; and to obtain such other information in regard thereto as may be deemed necessary or useful for carrying out the purposes of this act; and the board may direct such engineer or engineers to make and file reports from time to time with the board.

Determination of projects

SEC. 10. The board shall determine which projects or works of improvement shall be carried out and shall determine, as to each project or work of improvement, that it is either:

1. For the common benefit of the district as a whole; or
2. For the benefit of two or more zones hereinafter referred to as participating zones; or
3. For the benefit of a single zone.

Zone
projects

SEC. 11. The board may institute projects for single zones and joint projects for two or more zones, for the financing, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work or improvement of common benefit to such zone or participating zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of same to be borne by the particular zone and in the case of participating zones the proportionate cost to be borne by each of the participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution and which shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project. Notice of such hearing shall be given for a period of not less than twenty (20) days. If there is a newspaper published in the district and of general circulation in the territory proposed to be formed into a zone, notice shall be given by publication once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks prior to the hearing, the last publication of which must be at least seven (7) days before said hearing. If there is no such newspaper, notice shall be given by posting notice of the hearing for a period of fourteen (14) days prior to said hearing in five (5) public places in the said territory designated by the board. Said notice shall designate a public place in any such zone where a copy of the map of the project may be seen by any interested person.

Resolution

Notice of hearing

Hearing

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing a written protest against the proposed project signed by a majority in number of the holders of title to real property, or assessable rights therein, or evidence of title thereto, representing one-half or more of the assessed valuation of the real property within such zone or within any of the participating zones for which said project was initiated, to be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to such project must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

At the said hearing, or at any time to which it may be adjourned, the board may sustain any or all of the objections filed and change or alter the boundaries of the proposed zone to conform to the needs of the zone, and to exclude any land that will not be benefited by the formation of the zone. Any owner of lands adjacent to the zone may, by written application filed with the board at or before the time of the hearing, in the discretion of the board have such lands included within the proposed zone. Other lands not included in the proposed zone by the original resolution may not be included in the zone.

In all matters in this section referred to, the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Santa Barbara next preceding the filing of the protest shall be prima facie evidence as to the ownership of real property, the names and number of the persons who are the holders of title or evidence of title, or assessable rights therein, and as to the assessed valuation of real property within the zone or within any of the participating zones for which the project was initiated.

Assessment
roll evidence of
ownership

Executors, administrators, special administrators, and guardians may sign the protest provided for in this act on behalf of the estate represented by them. If the property is assessed in the name of such representatives, that fact shall establish the right of such representatives to sign the protest; if assessed in the name of the decedent, minor or incompetent person, certified copies of the letters or such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the board must be produced.

Protests
Executors, guardians,
etc

Where real property appears to be owned in common or jointly or by a partnership, or where letters of representatives of decedents, minors or guardians are joint, only one of the owners or representatives or partners may sign the protest for all joint owners or representatives or partners; provided, the party claiming the right to protest for all produces the written consent of his co-owners or representatives or partners so to do, duly acknowledged by the consenting co-owners or representatives or partners in the manner that deeds of real property are required to be acknowledged to entitle such deeds to be recorded in the recorder's office of the county.

Joint
ownership

Where real property is assessed in the name of a trustee or trustees, such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to be the person entitled to sign the protest, and if assessed in the name of more than one trustee the right to sign the protest shall be determined in like manner as above provided with respect to co-owners.

Trustee

Public and private corporations

The protest of any public or quasi-public corporation, private corporation or unincorporated association, may be signed by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other managing body thereof, which authorization shall be in writing; and a proxy executed by an officer or officers thereof, attested by its seal and duly acknowledged, shall constitute sufficient evidence of such authority, and shall be filed with the board.

Property
assessed to wrong owner

The owner of any real property or interest therein, appearing upon the assessment roll, which has been assessed in the wrong name or to unknown owners, or which has passed from the owner appearing as such on the last equalized assessment roll, since the same was made, shall be entitled to sign the protest represented thereby, either by the production of a proxy from such former owner, or by furnishing evidence of his ownership by a conveyance duly acknowledged showing the title to be vested in the person claiming the right to sign the protest, accompanied by a certificate of a competent searcher of titles, certifying that a search of the official records of the county, since the date of the conveyance, discloses no conveyance or transfer out from the grantee or transferee named in the conveyance.

Property
contracted for sale

Where the real property has been contracted to be sold, the vendee shall be entitled to sign the protest, unless such real property is assessed in the name of the vendor, in which event the vendor shall be entitled to so do.

The board shall likewise be entitled to inquire and take evidence for the purpose of identifying any person claiming the right to sign the protest as being the person shown on the assessment roll or otherwise as entitled thereto. And, unless satisfactory evidence is furnished, the right to sign said protest may be denied.

Powers

Taxes or assessments.

SEC 12. The board shall have power, in any year:

1. To levy ad valorem taxes or assessments upon all property in the district to pay the general administrative costs and expenses of the district, and to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act of common benefit to the district; provided, however, that said ad valorem tax or assessment shall not exceed two cents ($.02) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation, and

Zones

2. To levy taxes or assessments in each or any of said zones and participating zones to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any or all works or improvements established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zones, according to the benefits derived or to be derived by said respective zones, by the following method:

By a levy or assessment upon all taxable property within a zone or participating zone; provided, that the total amount of all taxes and assessments levied on property within any zone shall not exceed twenty cents ($0.20) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation, exclusive of the amounts necessary for interest and redemption of any bonds voted within such zone. It is declared that for the purposes of any tax or assessment levied under this subdivision, the property so taxed or assessed within a given zone is equally benefited.

3. To levy taxes or assessments authorized by subdivision 2 of this section in each or any of said zones, according to the special benefits derived or to be derived by the specific properties therein, to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out any of the objects or purposes of this act of special benefit to such zone or zones, including the constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing, or otherwise improving any or all works of improvement established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zone or zones.

In the event of project cooperation with any of the governmental bodies as authorized in subdivision 6 of Section 5 of this act, and requiring the making of a contract with any such governmental body for the purposes set forth in said subdivision 6, by the terms of which work is to be performed by any such governmental body in any specified zone or participating zones, for the particular benefit thereof, and by said proposed contract the district is to pay to such governmental body, a sum of money in consideration or subvention for the performance of said work by such governmental body, the board may, after proceedings in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act, levy and collect a special tax or assessment upon the property in such zone or participating zones, whereby to raise funds to enable the district to make such payment, in addition to other taxes or assessments herein otherwise provided for.

special tax

Said taxes or assessments shall be levied and collected together with, and not separately from, taxes for county purposes, and the revenues derived from said district taxes or assessments shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of said district, or the respective zones thereof, and the board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said purposes; provided, however, that no revenues, or portions thereof, derived in any zone from the taxes or assessments levied under the provisions of subdivision 2 or 3 of this section shall be expended for constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any works or improvements located in any other zone, except in the case of joint projects, or for projects authorized or established outside such zone, or zones, but for the benefit thereof. In cases of projects joint to two or more zones, such zones will become, and shall be referred to as, participating zones.

necessary to be issued in each zone in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement and the denomination and the maximum rate of interest of said bonds. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the Office of the Recorder of Santa Barbara County within five days after its issuance. From and after said filing of said copy of said resolution the board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with the bond election.

Recordation

Special bond election

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the board may call a special bond election in said zone or participating zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes or assessments levied as provided in this act.

The total amount of bonds issued to pay the cost of any work or improvement in any zone or zones shall not exceed five percent (5%) of the taxable property of the zones as shown by the last equalized assessment of the county.

Election called by ordinance

(3) Said board shall call such special bond election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone or participating zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the recorded copy of such resolution adopted by said board, and on file for particulars; and said ordinance shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. For the purposes of said election, said board shall in said ordinance establish special bond election precincts within the boundaries of each zone and participating zone and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general elections in said district to a number not exceeding six general precincts for each such special bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each of such special bond election precincts.

Conduct of election

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such special bond election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State.

Said board shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. Maps-
Posting

Said ordinance calling for such special bond election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in each zone and participating zone affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places designated by the board, in each zone and participating zone for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued. Publication of ordinance

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. Where a project affects a single zone only, if at such election two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast in said zone on the proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness are in favor thereof, then bonds for such zone for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided. Where the incurring of bonded indebtedness by participating zones is to be determined at such election, no bonds for any of such participating zones shall be issued or sold unless two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast on the proposition in each such participating zone are in favor of incurring the bonded indebtedness to be undertaken by such zone. Two-thirds
vote

SEC. 14. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the zone or participating zones affected, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid. Bonds
Form,
terms, etc

The board may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different times from those of any other series. The maturity of each series shall comply with this section. The board may fix a date, not more than two years from the date of issuance, for the earliest maturity of each issue or series of bonds. Beginning with the date of the earliest maturity of each issue Series or series, not less than one-fortieth of the indebtedness of such issue or series shall be paid every year. The final maturity date shall not exceed 40 years from the time of incurring the indebtedness evidenced by each issue or series.

Denominations

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as the board may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and shall be payable on the days and at the place fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of five per centum (5%) per annum, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairman of the board, and countersigned by the auditor of said district, and the seal of said district shall be affixed thereto by the clerk of the board. Either or both such signatures may be printed, engraved or lithographed. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the said auditor by his printed, engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such bonds and coupons, and signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officers had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Sale of bonds

SEC. 15. The board may issue and sell the bonds of any such zones authorized as hereinbefore provided at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the Treasury of the County of Santa Barbara to the credit of said district and the respective participating zones thereof, for the uses and purposes of the zone or zones voting said bonds; and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of said county treasurer, and said respective zone funds shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance calling for such special bond election as aforesaid, subject to the provisions in this act contained. Payments from said zone funds shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the County of Santa Barbara.

Liability for bonded indebtedness

SEC. 16. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual tax or assessment levied as provided in subdivision 2 of Section 12 of this act. No zone nor the property therein shall be liable for the bonded indebtedness of any other zone, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation or assessments in any of the several zones be used in payment of principal or interest or otherwise of the bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other zone.

Tax to pay principal and interest

SEC. 17. The board shall levy a tax or assessment each year sufficient to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of said bonds as is due or to become due before the time the proceeds from the next general tax levy are available. Such taxes or assessments shall be levied and collected in the respective zones of issuance together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the County Treasury of said Santa Barbara County to the credit of the zone of issuance, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose; provided, that any such money remaining in such fund in the county treasury after the payment of all bonds and coupons payable from the fund, or any money in excess of an amount sufficient to pay all unpaid bonds and coupons payable from the fund, may be used for construction, operation or maintenance of zone works and improvements, and, upon the order of the auditor, may be transferred to the general or other fund of the zone, or, if the zone has no general or other fund and there is no need for such money for construction, operation and maintenance of zone works and improvements, then such money may be transferred to the district general funds upon the order of the board. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the County Treasurer of said Santa Barbara County in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of said county.

Disposition of excess funds

SEC. 18. The provisions of law of this State, prescribing the time and manner of levying, assessing, equalizing and collecting county property taxes, including the sale of property for delinquency, and the redemption from such sale, and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto, are, so far as they are applicable, and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act. All property exempt from taxation for county purposes under the provisions of the Revenue and Taxation Code of the State of California is exempt from taxation for the purposes of this act.

Levying, etc.,
of taxes

SEC. 19. Notwithstanding Title 5, Division 2, Part 1, Chapter 8, of the Government Code, the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District is validly created for the purposes of assessment and taxation. The creation of any zone in the district shall not be effective for purposes of assessment or taxation for the Fiscal Year 1955-56 and shall not be effective for such purposes for any fiscal year thereafter unless the statement and map or plat required by Title 5, Division 2, Part 1, Chapter 8, of the Government Code are filed with the county assessor and the State Board of Equalization on or before the first of February of the year in which the assessments or taxes are to be levied. Until such time as the creation of any zone shall be effective for purposes of assessment or taxation, any tax or assessment levied by the board shall be levied at a uniform rate on all property in the district.

District

District
investigation law of 1933

SEC. 20. A zone formed or proposed to be formed under this act, or the acquisition of any property or the construction of any improvement thereby, shall not be subject to any of the provisions of the District Investigation Law of 1933.

Bonds
Legal
investments

SEC. 21. The bonds of the district issued for any zone thereof pursuant to this act, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities in the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of said district issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, such bonds of said district may be so used.

Repeal

This section of this act is intended to be and shall be considered the latest enactment with respect to the matters herein contained and any and all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

Bonds tax
exempt

SEC. 22. All bonds issued by said district under the provisions of this act shall be free and exempt from all taxation within the State of California. It is hereby declared that the district organized by this act is a reclamation district and an irrigation district within the meaning of Section 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ of Article XIII and Section 13 of Article XI of the Constitution of this State.

Contracts

SEC. 23. All contracts for any improvement or unit of work when the cost thereof, according to the estimate of the engineer, will exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders in the manner hereinafter provided. The board shall first determine whether such contract shall be let as a single unit for the whole of the work, or shall be divided into severable convenient parts, or both, according to the best interests of the district. The board shall make call for bids and advertise such call by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation or by two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said district inviting sealed proposals for the construction or performance of the improvement or work before any contract is made therefor. Such call for bids shall state whether such work is to be performed as a unit for the whole thereof or shall be divided into severable, convenient specific parts, or both, as stated in the call. The board may let such work by single contract for the whole thereof as a unit or it may divide such work into severable convenient parts by separate contracts, as stated in such call, according to the best interests of the district. The board shall require the successful bidder or bidders to file with the board good and sufficient bonds to be approved by the board conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of their claims for labor and material in connection therewith, such bonds to contain the terms and conditions set forth in Title 1, Division 5, Chapter 3 of the Government Code and to be subject to the provisions of that chapter. The board shall also have the right to reject any and all bids. In the event no proposals are received pursuant to advertisement therefor, or the estimated cost of such work does not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or the work consists of channel protection, or maintenance work, or emergency work when necessary in order to protect life and property from impending flood damage, the board of directors may, without advertising for bids therefor, have said work done by day labor, under the direction of the board, by contract, or by a combination of the two. If any change or alteration in a contract awarded under the provisions of this section is deemed necessary and the cost thereof does not exceed ten percent (10%) of the original contract price, the board may authorize the contractor to proceed with the change or alteration without the formality of obtaining bids therefor. The district shall have the power to acquire in the open market without advertising for bids therefor, materials, equipment and supplies for use in any work or for any other purpose; provided, however, that materials and supplies for use in any new construction work or improvement, except work referred to in the preceding sentence, may not be purchased if the cost thereof exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), without advertising for bids and awarding the contract therefor to the lowest responsible bidder.

When bids unnecessary

SEC. 24. Any improvement for which bonds are voted under the provisions of this act, shall be made in conformity with the report, plans, specifications and map theretofore adopted, as above specified, unless the doing of any of such work described in said report, shall be prohibited by law, or be rendered contrary to the best interests of the district by some change of conditions in relation thereto, subsequent to the date of filing the report, plans, specifications and map theretofore adopted, in which event the board of directors may order necessary changes made in such proposed work or improvements and may cause any plans and specifications to be made and adopted therefor.

Plans for improvements, changes

SEC. 25. Whenever bonds have been authorized by any zone or participating zone of said district and said bonds have been issued as in this act authorized, and the board shall by resolution determine that additional bonds should be issued for carrying out the work of flood control, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board may again proceed as in this act provided, and submit to the qualified voters of said zone or participating zone, the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedure as hereinbefore provided, and all the above provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

Additional bonds

Failure of bond vote

SEC. 26. Should a proposition for issuing bonds for any zone or participating zones submitted at any election under this act fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified electors voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the board shall not for six months after such election call or order another election in such zone or participating zone for incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds under the terms of this act for the same objects and purposes.

Exchange of refunding
bonds

SEC. 27. The board may, with the consent of any holder or holders of outstanding bonds of the district, exchange refunding bonds bearing a lower rate of interest for such outstanding bonds.

Consent of holder, board
resolution

Whenever any holder of outstanding bond or bonds shall have consented to such exchange, the board may, by resolution entered in its minutes, order the refunding of such bonds. The resolution shall designate the numbers, denominations, dates of maturity and aggregate principal amounts of the bonds so to be refunded and shall provide for the issuance of refunding bonds in exchange therefor, the form, numbers, denominations, dates of maturity and aggregate principal amounts of which shall be the same as the bonds so to be refunded. The resolution shall also fix the rate of interest said refunding bonds shall bear, which rate shall be less than the rate provided in the bonds to be refunded. The resolution shall also fix the form of the interest coupons attached to said refunding bonds, which shall be the same as the bonds so to be refunded, excepting that the rate and amounts of interest shall be less as hereinabove provided.

Signatures,
coupons

The refunding bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board or such other member of the board as said board may by resolution designate, and shall be countersigned by the treasurer of the district, and the seal of said district shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer of said district by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on said bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Matured
coupons

Each refunding bond may be exchanged for its corresponding outstanding bond as the board by agreement with the holder of such outstanding bond may determine, except that in effecting such exchange, any and all matured coupons on said refunding bonds shall be detached and canceled and the principal and accrued interest of both issues shall be accepted at par value and the district shall pay said holder in cash out of moneys in the bond interest fund of the district an amount equal to the difference between the interest on the outstanding bond and on the refunding bond accrued to the date of such exchange.

When any refunding bonds shall have been exchanged, taxes shall be levied and collected to pay the principal and interest thereof as provided by Section 17, all the provisions of which section shall apply to said refunding bonds to the same extent as to original issues. Taxes

The refunding bonds shall also be legal investments for fiduciaries and others as provided in Section 21. Legal investments

SEC. 28. The repeal or amendment of this act shall not in any way affect or release any of the property in said district or any zone thereof from the obligations of any outstanding bonds or indebtedness until all such bonds and outstanding indebtedness have been fully paid and discharged. Future repeals or amendments

SEC. 29. There is hereby granted to the district the right of way for the location, construction and maintenance of flood control channels, ditches, waterways, conduits, canals, storm dikes, embankments, and protective works in, over and across public lands of the State of California, not otherwise disposed of or in use, not in any case exceeding in length or width that which is necessary for the construction of such works and adjuncts or for the protection thereof. Whenever any selection of a right of way for such works or adjuncts thereto is made by the district the board thereof must transmit to the State Lands Commission, the Controller of the State and the recorder of the county in which the selected lands are situated, a plat of the lands so selected, giving the extent thereof and the uses for which the same is claimed or desired, duly verified to be correct. If the State Lands Commission shall approve the selections so made it shall endorse its approval upon the plat and issue to the district a permit to use such right of way and lands. Right of way over state lands

SEC. 30. (a) If by any judgment in condemnation or agreement the district shall be required to relocate any street, road, highway, railroad, canal or other property subject or devoted to public use, the board shall have power to acquire in the name of the district, by agreement or condemnation, all rights of way and other property necessary or proper for compliance with said agreement or said judgment of condemnation and thereafter to make such conveyance of such relocated street, road, highway, railroad, canal or other property as may be proper to comply with said agreement or judgment. Relocation of streets, etc., under condemnation judgment

(b) In the event the district and any common carrier railroad or other public utility fail to agree as to the character or location of new improvements or works sought to be performed by the district, the character and location of such new improvement or works and any other controversy relating thereto shall be submitted to and determined by the Public Utilities Location of new improvements

Commission; and jurisdiction of such controversies is hereby vested in said commission.

Applicable provisions

(c) Proceedings under this section relating to the jurisdiction of said commission may be instituted, maintained, and determined in the mode prescribed in Division 1, Part 1, Chapter 6 (Sections 1201-1220; 1402) of the Public Utilities Code of the State of California.

Claims against district

SEC. 31. Claims against the district whether arising out of contract, tort, or the taking or damaging of property without compensation must be made in writing and filed with the board within six months after the cause of action arises. Claims shall be presented in the general form and manner prescribed by general law relating to the making and filing of claims against counties. Such claims may be amended within said six months to correct defects in form or statement of facts. No action against the district shall be commenced or maintained unless such claim relating thereto has been filed as hereinabove prescribed and action thereon commenced within one year after the cause of action arose.

Property

SEC. 32. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately and by operation of law vest in said district, and shall be held by said district, in trust for, and is hereby dedicated and set apart to, the uses and purposes set forth in this act. The board is hereby authorized and empowered to hold, use, acquire, manage, occupy and possess said property, as herein provided; and said board may determine, by resolution duly entered in its minutes that any property, real or personal, held by said district is no longer necessary to be retained for the uses and purposes thereof, and may thereafter sell, lease or otherwise dispose of said property in the manner prescribed by law for such action by counties.

Action to determine legality of district's existence

SEC. 33. The district formed under this act in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of this State, in and for the County of Santa Barbara, by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal flood control district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Within thirty (30) days after proof of publication of said summons shall have been filed in said proceeding, the State, any property owner or resident in said district, or any person interested may appear as a defendant in said action by serving and filing an answer to said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district and shall be served upon the district attorney before being filed in such proceeding. Such proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the final judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive

Publication of summons

against all persons whomsoever, including the district and the State of California

SEC. 34. The board may require any officer or employee to give bond for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, in such penal sum as may be fixed by the board. When deemed expedient by the board, a master bond may be used which shall provide coverage on more than one officer, employee or agent of the district who is required by the district to give bond. Such bond shall be in the form and for the term which is approved by the board. The premium for such bond shall be paid by the district.

CHAPTER 1058

An act to amend Section 28139 of the Government Code, relating to compensation for public service in counties of the thirty-ninth class.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28139 of the Government Code is amended to read:

28139. In a county of the thirty-ninth class the following shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following sums:

Nevada
County
officers
Salaries

(a) The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) a year.

(b) The district attorney, six thousand dollars ($6,000) a year.

(c) Each supervisor, three thousand dollars ($3,000) a year for all services rendered as supervisor and as member of the board of equalization. Each supervisor shall also receive six cents ($.06) for each mile traveled on county business, but not to exceed forty dollars ($40) in any one calendar month, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses when traveling by order of the board of supervisors on county business outside of the county.

(d) Grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive six dollars ($6) for each day's attendance and mileage at the rate of thirty-five cents ($.35) for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residences to the county seat in going only, to be allowed but once during each session the jurors are required to attend. The fees and mileage shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of the county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the superior court.

The compensation provided by this section shall be payable to incumbent officers.

CHAPTER 1059

An act to amend Sections 8352, 8357 and 8358 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to repeal Sections 8354, 8355 and 8356 thereof, relating to aircraft fuel taxes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8352 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Appropriation
of money in Motor Vehicle Fund

8352. The money in the Motor Vehicle Fuel Fund is hereby appropriated, subject to the provisions of any budget bill heretofore or hereafter enacted and Section 661 of the Political Code, as follows:

(a) To pay the refunds authorized in this part, including refunds due on account of judgments for the return of license taxes illegally collected.

(b) To the Controller, to carry out any duties imposed upon him by this part.

(c) To the board, to carry out any duties imposed upon it by this part.

(d) To the Highway Users Tax Fund, as provided in this chapter.

(e) To pay the pro rata share of the overhead and general administrative expense of the Controller and the board attributable to duties imposed by this part. The pro rata share is payable upon presentation of a claim against any appropriation from the Motor Vehicle Fuel Fund for the support of the Controller or the board, as the case may be.

(f) To the counties, as provided in this chapter, the sum of three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) per annum, this sum representing the amount of money in the Motor Vehicle Fuel Fund attributable to taxes imposed by this part on distributions of motor vehicle fuel used or usable in propelling aircraft of a type heavier than air. Payments pursuant to this subdivision shall be made prior to payments pursuant to subdivision (d).

SEC. 2. Sections 8354, 8355 and 8356 of said code are repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 8357 of said code is amended to read:

8357. The amount available under subdivision (f) of Section 8352 shall be apportioned among the several counties. There shall first be paid to each county the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) annually and the balance shall be apportioned one-half in the proportion which the population of each county bears to the total population of the State, and one-half in the proportion which the area of each county bears to the total area of the State. Such population shall be that determined in the most recent federal decennial census.

Apportionment among counties

In any county wherein there is located an airport owned by a city, 50 percent of the amount apportioned to such county shall be paid to such city. In the event that there is more than one such city within the county, the cities' share shall be divided among such cities in the proportion which the population of each city bears to the total population of airport-owning cities within the county.

SEC. 4. Section 8358 of said code is amended to read:

8358. The amounts paid to the several counties shall be paid into a special aviation fund established by the counties and may be expended in counties having a population of less than 100,000 for capital outlays or maintenance for aviation or airport purposes and not for administration. In counties having a population of 100,000 or more such money may be expended only for capital outlays for aviation or airport purposes. Any city receiving money under Section 8357 may expend such money only for the purposes for which the county in which the city is located may expend such money as provided in this section. If any county has not established such an aviation fund, its proportion of the apportionment shall be retained by the State until provision for such an aviation fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over to the county. Any county may pay any part of the money in its special aviation fund to any city, state college or branch of the University of California located in the county to be expended for the same purposes as the county may expend money in its aviation fund. Any money paid to a state college or branch

Disposition
Special aviation fund, etc

of the University of California shall be expended within the county paying the money. Any city may pay any part of the money it receives under Section 8357 to the county within which it is located to be expended for expenditure for the purposes specified for such county by this section.

CHAPTER 1060

An act remising, releasing and quitclaiming to the Regents of the University of California the properties in the County of Santa Barbara which were heretofore transferred to and vested in said the Regents of the University of California by an act entitled "An act to authorize the creation of a branch of the University of California at Santa Barbara, to abolish Santa Barbara State College, to transfer to the Regents of the University of California all properties belonging to or used for the benefit of said college, including moneys appropriated and unexpended, or which may be appropriated, to grant to employees of Santa Barbara State College who may become employees of the University of California, certain privileges with respect to membership in retirement and pension systems" approved June 8, 1943, and also remising, releasing and quitclaiming to the Regents of the University of California all real property acquired by the State of California and transferred to the Regents of the University of California for the branch of the University of California at Santa Barbara pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act making an appropriation for the acquisition of land for the branch of the University of California at Santa Barbara providing for the transfer thereof to the Regents of the University of California for such use, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately," approved June 13, 1944.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Remise,
release, etc.,
of property
to University of California

SECTION 1. The State of California hereby unconditionally remises, releases, quitclaims and confirms to the Regents of the University of California all the properties transferred to and vested in said the Regents of the University of California by an act of the Legislature of the State of California entitled "An act to authorize the creation of a branch of the University of California at Santa Barbara, to abolish Santa Barbara State College, to transfer to the Regents of the University of California all properties belonging to or used for the benefit of said College, including moneys appropriated and unexpended, or which may be appropriated, to grant to employees of Santa Barbara State College who may become employees of the University of California, certain privileges with respect to membership in retirement and pension systems" approved June 8, 1943, and all that certain real property transferred to the Regents of the University of California pursuant to an act of the Legislature of the State of California entitled "An act making an appropriation for the acquisition of land for the branch of the University of California at Santa Barbara providing for the transfer thereof to the Regents of the University of California for such use, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately" approved June 13, 1944, and all other properties of every kind, real, personal and mixed, located upon, connected with, or pertinent to the said properties above designated and particularly frees and discharges the said properties from all limitations, conditions, and reservations specified or imposed by or withheld in the said act of June 8, 1943 and the said act of June 13, 1944. Said the Regents of the University of California are hereby given full power and authority to sell, lease or otherwise deal with or dispose of the said properties, either as a whole or in several parts, and to receive the sale price or other proceeds and to use the same for purposes of the University of California subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this act.

SEC. 2. The proceeds of any sale or other disposition of the said properties, or any of them, shall be expended for construction, improvements and equipment at University of California Santa Barbara College, located near Goleta, in the County of Santa Barbara. Disposition of proceeds

SEC. 3. Among the properties hereby released, remised, quitclaimed and confirmed to said the Regents of the University of California are all those certain lots, pieces and parcels of land situate in the City of Santa Barbara, County of Santa Barbara, State of California, conveyed by and particularly described in the following deeds: Description of properties

1. Deed from the State of California to the Regents of the University of California, dated the 21st day of January, 1949, and recorded on the 6th day of April, 1949, in Book 847 of Official Records, page 315, Records of Santa Barbara County, State of California;

2. Deed from the State of California to the Regents of the University of California, dated the 21st day of January, 1949, and recorded on the 6th day of April, 1949, in Book 847 of Official Records, page 328, Records of Santa Barbara County, State of California; and

3. Deed from the State of California to the Regents of the University of California, dated the 3rd day of November, 1950, and recorded on the 15th day of November, 1950, in Book 953 of Official Records, page 369, Records of Santa Barbara County, State of California.

Reservation
of mineral rights

SEC. 4. In any deed conveying to any person or legal entity other than the State of California, all or any part of the real property by this act remised, released and quitclaimed, the Regents of the University of California shall reserve to the Regents of the University of California all deposits of minerals, including oil and gas, which may exist at or below a level 500 feet below the surface of the land conveyed; provided, that such deed may provide that any means by which such rights may or shall be exercised shall not interfere with or in anywise prevent enjoyment of surface use or use to a level 500 feet below the surface.

Repeal

SEC. 5. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 1061

An act to add Section 13109.1 to the Government Code, relating to the power of the Director of Finance to lease state property.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13109.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

13109.1. Notwithstanding Section 13109, the Director of Finance, with the consent of the state agency concerned, may let for any period of time any real or personal property which belongs to the State, for radio or television purposes where he deems such letting is in the best interests of the State.

CHAPTER 1062

An act to amend Section 7030 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the licensing and regulation of contractors.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7030 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7030. Any person who acts in the capacity of a contractor without a license is guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 1063

An act to amend Section 374.5 of the Vehicle Code, relating to license plates.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 374.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

374.5. Exceptions as to Type of License Plates for Exempt Vehicles. The department may issue for any exempt vehicle license plates in the series of plates issued for nonexempt vehicles. Such plates may be issued for a period not extending beyond the then current calendar year and only upon the certification of the Attorney General that the issuance of such plates has been requested by the head of a law enforcement agency of a city, city and county, county, state, or federal department, that the vehicle is assigned to the duty of investigating actual or suspected violations of the law or the supervision of persons liberated from a state prison or other institution under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections by parole, and is intended for the use in line of duty of regularly employed law enforcement officers of a city, city and county, county, state or federal department. The department may issue such plates to the Department of Finance for use on motor vehicles maintained within motor vehicle pools of state-owned vehicles when such vehicles are used for the purposes set forth in this section; provided however, that the Department of Finance shall assign, dispatch or otherwise make any such vehicle available for use by any agency of the State only upon the certification of the Attorney General provided for in this section. The department shall maintain a record of any such registration, which record shall not be open to public inspection. Such record shall be disclosed in the event of any accident involving such vehicle on demand of the Attorney General or upon an order of court.

CHAPTER 1064*An act to amend Section 995 of the Agricultural Code, relating to fig trees.*

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 995 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

995. Capri fig trees unless properly controlled and regulated under supervision constitute a menace because they are a source of infection and pests, and capri figs unless properly treated contribute to, and are responsible for the transmission of endosepsis and other plant diseases by the blastophaga therein. In the interest of the public welfare and general prosperity of the State and to provide for the control, eradication, elimination and prevention of endosepsis and other plant diseases, all capri fig trees used for shade, ornamental or decorative purposes, and all capri fig trees in or associated with a fig orchard or orchards producing Calimyrna or other Smyrna type figs aggregating in number more than one and one-half per centum of the fig trees therein, are hereby declared unlawful and consequently a public nuisance; provided, that every commercial grower of Calimyrna or other Smyrna type fig shall be entitled to maintain at least one capri fig tree in connection with his planting. The commissioner shall notify the owner of such tree or trees declared by this section to be a public nuisance to graft or destroy the same within a time specified in the notice, and upon failure of the owner so to do within the time specified in the notice, shall cause the grafting or destruction of such tree or trees in a summary manner and at the expense of the owner. Instructions by the commissioner for application of methods best designed to accomplish the purposes of the notice by the owner may be furnished to such owners at the time of serving the notice.

A Calimyrna grower, regardless of the size of his holdings, must follow the standard procedures for cleanup of capri fig trees by picking the mamme capri figs before the wasps begin to issue, and treating the same with a fungicide, according to recognized procedures. Failure to comply with this provision as evidenced by the presence of both mamme and set profichi figs in the trees at the same time shall constitute a public nuisance and the capri figs, or the trees, or both, shall be destroyed by the owner, or by the commissioner, in the manner specified above, but before the profichi capri fig crop matures, and at the owner's expense.

CHAPTER 1065

An act to amend Section 2 of the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1656 of the Statutes of 1951), relating to the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act is amended to read:

Sec. 2. As used in this act, the following words shall have Definitions the following respective meanings except by the context otherwise indicated:

(a) "The district" shall mean the Solano County Flood Control and Water Conservation District;

(b) "The county" shall mean the County of Solano, State of California;

(c) "United States" shall include the United States of America and all bureaus, commissions, divisions, departments, boards, agencies and officers of the United States of America.

(d) "State of California" shall include the State of California and all bureaus, commissions, divisions, departments, boards, agencies and officers of the State of California;

(e) "Work" or "works" shall include dams and dam sites, all reservoirs and reservoir sites, and all conduits and other facilities useful in the control, conservation, diversion and transmission of surface waters, and all land, property, franchises, easements, rights of way and privileges necessary or useful to operate or maintain any of the foregoing;

(f) "Member unit" shall mean any county water district, reclamation district, irrigation district, water conservation district, municipality, flood control district and other district or political subdivision of the State empowered by law to appropriate water and to deliver to water users, the territory of which lies entirely within the exterior boundaries of the County of Solano and any city located outside the County of Solano, which is contiguous to the County of Solano, which member unit may enter into a contract with the district for (I) the repayment in whole or part to the district or any other person, corporation, public district, State of California, or the United States, of any or all of the construction costs of any works constructed by or on behalf of the district, or for (II) the underwriting in whole or part of any or all of such construction costs, or for (III) the repayment in whole or in part to the district or any other person, corporation, public district, State of California or the United States of any or all of the cost of furnishing water or a water supply to the district or the underwriting in whole or in part of such cost, or for (IV) the payment in whole or in part for water to be furnished or sold to such district by the district or the United States.

(g) "Elector" or "qualified elector" or "voter" or "qualified voter" shall mean any elector of the district qualified under the laws of the State of California to vote at general elections;

(h) "May" is permissive and "shall" is mandatory.

CHAPTER 1066

An act to amend Section 25371 of the Government Code, relating to contracts of counties concerning real property.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25371 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25371. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors of any county is hereby authorized and empowered to let to any person, firm or corporation, for a term not to exceed 40 years, any real property which belongs to the county; provided, that the use to which such property will be put, after construction thereon, is consistent with the use or purposes contemplated upon the original acquisition of such property or to which such property has been dedicated. Any instrument by which such property is let as aforesaid shall require the lessee therein to construct on the demised premises a building or buildings for the use of the county during the term thereof, shall provide that title to such building shall vest in the county at the expiration of said term and shall contain such other terms and conditions as the board of supervisors may deem to be in the best interests of the county. No county shall enter into any such contract if at the time 60 percent of the total payments which would become due from the county if all leases, including the contract to be let, entered into under the authority of this section, were to run their full term plus the total amount of county bonded indebtedness outstanding at said time exceeds the maximum bonded indebtedness of the county.

CHAPTER 1067

An act to amend Section 214 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the property tax welfare exemption in respect to property used for scientific purposes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 214 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Welfare
exemption

214. Property used exclusively for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes owned and operated by community chests, funds, foundations or corporations organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes is exempt from taxation if:

(1) The owner is not organized or operated for profit; provided, that in the case of hospitals, such organization shall not be deemed to be organized or operated for profit, if during the immediate preceding fiscal year the excess of operating revenues, exclusive of gifts, endowments and grants-in-aid, over operating expenses shall not have exceeded a sum equivalent to 10 percent of such operating expenses. As used herein, operating expenses shall include depreciation based on cost of replacement and amortization of, and interest on, indebtedness; Conditions

(2) No part of the net earnings of the owner inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual;

(3) The property is used for the actual operation of the exempt activity;

(4) The property is not used or operated by the owner or by any other person so as to benefit any officer, trustee, director, shareholder, member, employee, contributor, or bondholder of the owner or operator, or any other person, through the distribution of profits, payment of excessive charges or compensations or the more advantageous pursuit of their business or profession;

(5) The property is not used by the owner or members thereof for fraternal or lodge purposes, or for social club purposes except where such use is clearly incidental to a primary religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purpose;

(6) The property is irrevocably dedicated to religious, charitable, scientific, or hospital purposes and upon the liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner will not inure to the benefit of any private person except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes;

(7) The property, if used exclusively for scientific purposes, is used by a foundation or institution which, in addition to complying with the foregoing requirements for the exemption of charitable organizations in general, has been chartered by the Congress of the United States (except that this requirement shall not apply when the scientific purposes are medical research), and whose objects are the encouragement or conduct of scientific investigation, research and discovery for the benefit of the community at large.

The exemption provided for herein shall be known as the "welfare exemption." This exemption shall be in addition to any other exemption now provided by law. This section shall not be construed to enlarge the college exemption. Property used exclusively for school purposes of less than collegiate grade and owned and operated by religious, hospital or charitable funds, foundations or corporations, which property and funds, foundations or corporations meet all of the requirements of this section, shall be deemed to be within the exemption provided for in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and this section. CHAPTER 1068

An act to amend Sections 8522 and 8621 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to structural pest control.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8522 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

Structural Pest Control Board Appointment,
terms, etc

8522. Members of the board shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years, subject to removal by him at his pleasure.

The terms of the members of the board in office when this chapter takes effect shall expire as follows:

Two members, January 15, 1942; one member, January 15, 1943; one member, January 15, 1944; and one member, January 15, 1945.

The terms shall expire in the same relative order as to each member as the terms for which he holds office before this chapter takes effect.

Vacancies shall be filled by the Governor for the unexpired term.

Each member shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of his successor or until six months shall have elapsed since the expiration of the term for which he was appointed, whichever first occurs. No person shall serve as a member of the board for more than three consecutive terms, but this provision shall not apply to any member in office at the time this provision takes effect.

SEC. 2. Section 8621 of said code is amended to read:

Filing of accusations

8621. All accusations against licensees shall be filed within two years after the act or omission alleged as the ground for disciplinary action, except that with respect to an accusation alleging a violation of Section 8637, the accusation may be filed within two years after the discovery by the board of the alleged facts constituting the fraud or misrepresentation prohibited by the section.

CHAPTER 1069

An act to amend Section 7580 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to private investigators and adjusters.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7580 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7580. The amount of fees prescribed by this chapter, unless otherwise fixed, is that fixed in the following schedule:

(a) The application fee for an original license in any classification is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(b) The fee for an original license as a private investigator, or as a private investigator and private patrol operator shall be fixed by the director at not more than fifty dollars ($50) nor less than ten dollars ($10).

(c) The fee for an original license as a private patrol operator shall be fixed by the director at not more than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor less than five dollars ($5).

(d) The amount of the renewal license fee for any classification is the same as fixed herein for the original license fee.

(e) The application and license fee for classifications prescribed by the director, in addition to those provided for in this chapter, and the application and license fees for a change in the type of business organization of a licensee, shall be in the amount prescribed by rule and regulation of the director.

(f) The reinstatement fee for a license which has been forfeited for failure to renew within the time fixed by this chapter is the amount of the annual license fee plus a penalty of fifty percent (50%) thereof.

(g) The fee for an original license as an insurance adjuster shall be the same as prescribed in subdivision (b) of this section.

(h) The fee for the issuance of a branch office certificate is five dollars ($5).

(i) The fee for re-examination of an applicant or his manager is ten dollars ($10).

CHAPTER 1070

An act to amend Sections 4226, 4230, 4247, 4259, 4270, 4273, 4274, 4280, 4296, and 4351 of, to add Sections 4223, 4231, 4284, and 4355.5 to, to amend and renumber Sections 4292 and 4294.5 of, and to repeal Sections 4272 and 4291 of, the Agricultural Code, relating to stabilization and marketing of fluid milk and fluid cream.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4223 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

4223. "Fluid skim milk" means skim milk as defined in this code that is derived from market milk and conforms to the health and sanitary regulations of the place where sold or disposed of for human consumption. "Fluid skim milk"

SEC. 2. Section 4226 of said code is amended to read:

4226. Class 1 comprises any fluid milk, fluid skim milk, or fluid cream that is supplied to consumers as market milk, Class 1 market skim milk, or market cream or concentrated milk or any combination of market milk, market skim milk, and market cream, or any market milk which is not packaged in hermetically sealed containers, or any other dairy product in which the use of market milk or fluid skim milk is required by the provisions of this code, or any fluid milk, fluid skim milk, or fluid cream which is used in standardizing market milk.

SEC. 3. Section 4230 of said code is amended to read:

Establishment of minimum prices

4230. In designating and prescribing or providing methods for designating and prescribing minimum price to be paid by distributors to producers for Classes 1, 2 or 3 fluid milk, the director may take into consideration the market price of all milk which may be used for the same purposes set forth in such respective classes; but in no event shall any distributor pay producers or any association of producers less than the applicable price established for Class 1 usage for all usages required by the provisions of this code to be comprised of market milk, market cream, or market fluid skim milk, as such usages are defined in Section 4226; and no payment shall be made by distributors to producers or any association of producers of prices lower than those established in the applicable stabilization and marketing plan for Class 3 usage.

SEC. 4. Section 4231 is added to said code, to read:

Same

4231. In determining the minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers or associations of producers for the several class usages for a marketing area, the director may establish prices for fluid milk, or fluid cream and fluid skim milk, or milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk. Any such minimum prices established by the director shall be applicable to all fluid milk, or fluid cream and skim milk, or milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk utilized in such marketing area, in accordance with the several class usages of such fluid milk or such components of such fluid milk regardless of the area of origin.

Maximum
service
charges

The stabilization and marketing plan may further provide for maximum charges for plant and transportation services on the fluid milk, fluid cream and fluid skim milk, or milk fat or fluid skim milk components which are transported to the area where sold. The stabilization and marketing plan shall enumerate the applicable maximum charges, and shall establish individual charges for each function enumerated.

SEC. 5. Section 4247 of said code is amended to read:

Minimum
prices

4247. In the event that the director establishes under this chapter a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk, the director shall prescribe minimum prices to be paid by distributors for fluid cream, fluid skim milk, or milk fat, or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk, under such a stabilization and marketing plan; provided, that the prices so prescribed shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk for the marketing area involved from which the fluid cream and skim milk are derived, to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing such fluid milk over and above such costs incurred in producing and marketing such manufacturing milk.

SEC. 6. Section 4259 of said code is amended to read:

4259. Whenever the director determines that it is probable that one or more factors or conditions which affect prices of fluid milk and fluid cream and fluid skim milk have changed on a relatively uniform basis throughout two or more marketing areas he may consolidate the hearings on the matter of price changes for such areas. No price change shall be made as a result of such a consolidated hearing unless it is uniform throughout the areas affected. Hearings
consolidated

SEC. 7. Section 4270 of said code is amended to read:

4270. The director shall designate marketing areas which he deems necessary or advisable to effectuate the purposes of this chapter, and wherein he finds the conditions affecting the production, distribution and sale of fluid milk, fluid cream and fluid skim milk are reasonably uniform. The director shall have the power to establish additional areas or to modify areas theretofore established when he deems the establishment or modification of such areas necessary or advisable to effectuate the purposes of this chapter. When the director finds, after a public hearing in and for each particular marketing area under consideration for consolidation, that conditions of production and distribution are reasonably uniform in two or more such marketing areas wherein stabilization and marketing plans and minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices are in effect, he may consolidate the areas; provided, that at said hearings more than thirty-five (35) percent of the producers present who supply the areas proposed to be consolidated do not object to such consolidation. Marketing areas Designation

Consolidation

SEC. 8. Section 4272 of said code is repealed. Repeal

SEC. 9. Section 4273 of said code is amended to read:

4273. If the director finds that a stabilization and marketing plan is necessary to accomplish the purposes of this chapter, he shall formulate a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk for such area and issue a notice of public hearing upon the plan formulated to all producers and distributors of record with the Department of Agriculture who may be subject to the provisions of such plan. The notice of hearing may be effected by mail, or by publication for five successive days in a newspaper of general circulation in the area designated and shall specify the time and place of such hearing, which shall not be held prior to 10 days from the mailing, or from the final publication of such notice; provided, however, that if no daily newspaper of general circulation is published in the area designated, publication of notice for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in the area will be considered proper publication of notice. At the hearing, interested parties shall be heard and records kept of the proceedings of such hearing for determination by the director whether the plan proposed Notice of
hearing

will accomplish the purposes of this chapter. If, after public hearing the director determines that the proposed plan will tend to accomplish the purposes of this chapter within the standards herein prescribed, he shall issue an order to all producers and distributors of record with the director, and subject to the provisions of such plan, declaring such plan in effect within 30 days from the date of such hearing.

SEC. 10. Section 4274 of said code is amended to read:

Local control boards
Personnel,
duties, etc

4274. The director may appoint local control boards for the marketing areas established as prescribed in this chapter to assist and advise him in matters pertaining to the production and marketing of fluid milk or to the operation of a stabilization and marketing plan. The board shall consist of seven members who shall be producers who supply fluid milk to the particular marketing area. The term of office of each such member shall be two years, unless the plan is terminated before said term expires. Said local board may meet in regular session each month, and each member shall be allowed ten dollars ($10) per diem and mileage at the rate of five cents ($.05) per mile for attending such regular meetings. The board, or any member thereof, may be allowed actual and necessary expenses incurred in attending any meeting or conference called or authorized by the director within or outside of the boundaries of the State of California. Said board with the previous approval of the director may employ such personnel as may be necessary in the performance of its duties and shall adopt rules and regulations for its conduct. The board shall submit a budget of its expenses to the director for his approval. The funds to be used for the maintenance of the board shall be paid from the proceeds of assessments and licenses paid to the director under the plan upon verified claims presented by the board to the director. The board shall not incur any expenses other than those for per diem and mileage, unless approved by the director.

SEC. 11. Section 4280 of said code is amended to read:

Unfair
practices

4280. Each stabilization and marketing plan shall contain provisions for prohibiting distributors and retail stores from engaging in the unfair practices hereinafter set forth:

(a) The payment, allowance or acceptance of secret rebates, secret refunds, or unearned discounts by any person, whether in the form of money or otherwise

(b) The giving of any milk, cream, dairy products, services or articles of any kind, except to bona fide charities, for the purpose of securing or retaining the fluid milk or fluid cream or fluid skim milk business of any customer.

(c) The extension to certain customers of special prices or services not made available to all customers who purchase fluid milk or fluid cream or fluid skim milk of like quantity under like terms and conditions.

(d) The false or misleading advertising of fluid milk or fluid cream or fluid skim milk as defined in Sections 17500, 17501, and 17502 of the Business and Professions Code.

(e) The purchase of any fluid milk in excess of 200 gallons monthly from any producer or association of producers unless a written contract has been entered into with such producer or association of producers. Such contract shall include the following: (1) the amount of fluid milk to be purchased for any period; (2) the quantity of such milk to be paid for as Class 1. Such quantity shall be stated in pounds of milk or pounds of milk fat or gallons of milk; provided, that if the price to be paid for such Class 1 milk is established separately for the milk fat and skim milk contained in such milk, such quantity to be paid for as Class 1 shall be stated in pounds of milk or pounds of milk fat or gallons of milk or both in pounds of milk fat and pounds of skim milk separately, but in any marketing area where an equalization pool is a part of a stabilization and marketing plan, such contract need not specify the quantity of milk in any one class; (3) the price to be paid for all milk received; (4) the date and method of payment for such fluid milk, which shall be that payment shall be made for approximately one-half of the milk delivered in any calendar month not later than the first day of the next following month and the remainder not later than the fifteenth day of said month; (5) the charges for transportation if hauled by the distributor; and (6) a proviso to the effect that the producer shall not be obligated to deliver in any calendar month fluid milk to be paid for at or less than the minimum price for fluid milk that is used for Class 3, as said class is defined in Section 4228. The contract may contain such other provisions as are not in conflict with this chapter. A signed copy of such contract shall be filed by the distributor with the director within five days from the date of its execution. The provisions of this subdivision relating to dates of payment shall not apply to contracts for the purchase of fluid milk from nonprofit cooperative associations of producers.

(f) The purchasing, processing, bottling, transporting, delivering or otherwise handling in any marketing area of any fluid milk or fluid cream or fluid skim milk which is to be or is sold or otherwise disposed of by such distributor at any place in the geographical area within the outer, outside and external boundaries or limits of such marketing area, whether such place is a part of the marketing area or not, at less than the minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices effective in such marketing area.

(g) The payment by a distributor to any producer, including any association of producers, or the receipt by a producer, including any association of producers, from a distributor, of a lesser price for any fluid milk or fluid cream or fluid skim milk which is distributed to any person, including agencies of the federal, state or local government, located upon property within the geographical limits of any marketing area for less than the minimum prices established by the director to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk, or the milk fat and skim milk contained therein, or fluid cream or fluid skim milk for said marketing area. The provisions of this section with respect to fluid milk shall apply whether or not such fluid milk is received by the distributor as whole milk, or as skim milk and fluid cream, or either, or as any other derivatives of such fluid milk which are reconstituted into such fluid milk, or fluid cream or fluid skim milk for market usage, and whether or not a fluid cream plan has been established for the marketing area.

Repeal

SEC. 12. Section 4291 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 4292 of said code is amended and re-numbered to read:

Establishment of minimum
prices

4283. Each such plan shall contain provisions whereby the director shall provide methods for the establishment of minimum prices for fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, received within a marketing area regardless of whether such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, is subsequently sold or distributed within or without such marketing area within the jurisdiction of the State of California, and may contain such provisions whether or not such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk is subsequently sold or distributed without the jurisdiction of the State of California. Such stabilization and marketing plans shall provide for the establishment of prices for fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, whether or not such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, is subsequently sold or distributed in another marketing area within the State of California where a stabilization and marketing plan is in effect. The stabilization and marketing plan shall provide that producers shall be paid not less than the minimum prices established for the marketing area wherein such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, is ultimately sold or distributed, and shall further provide that in the event such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk, fluid skim milk, is subsequently sold or distributed in any place within the jurisdiction of the State of California where no stabilization and marketing plan is in effect, then such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, shall be paid by the distributor to the producer thereof at not less than the average of prices paid by distributors, whose plants are located within such area, to producers for fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk, but in the event no plants are located within said area, then the price which shall be paid by the distributor to the producer thereof shall not be less than the average of prices paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk, fluid cream, or fluid skim milk, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk, at the plants in the nearest marketing areas adjacent to the area where such fluid milk, fluid cream, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components of such fluid milk or fluid skim milk, is sold or distributed as established by the stabilization and marketing plans in effect in such adjacent marketing areas.

SEC. 14. Section 4294.5 of said code is amended and re-numbered to read:

4282. Each such stabilization and marketing plan shall contain provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk which is received by a distributor in one marketing area and separated in that area into fluid cream and fluid skim milk when such fluid cream or fluid skim milk or both are transported for utilization into another marketing area or into a locality in which no stabilization or marketing plan is in effect. This section shall not be construed to affect the provisions of this chapter relating to the establishment of minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices for fluid cream.

Fluid milk utilized in another marketing
area

SEC. 15. Section 4284 is added to said code, to read:

4284. The repeal of Sections 4272 and 4291 shall not be construed to affect the validity and continuing effect of any stabilization and marketing plan for fluid cream heretofore established by the director in any marketing area. Any such plan shall continue in effect, and may be amended or terminated only as provided in Section 4248.

Effect of repeals

SEC. 16. Section 4296 of said code is amended to read:

4296. No distributor subject to the provisions of any stabilization and marketing plan shall purchase milk from producers who do not comply with the provisions of this chapter and such plan. No such plan shall involve a limitation upon the production of fluid milk, fluid cream or fluid skim milk.

Prohibitions

SEC. 17. Section 4351 of said code is amended to read:

4351. In all marketing areas wherein a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk is in effect or is hereafter established under the provisions of this chapter, the director shall designate and prescribe or provide methods for designating and prescribing minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices for fluid milk, including pasteurized concentrated milk, pursuant to the provisions of this article.

Minimum
wholesale and retail prices

In all marketing areas wherein a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid cream is in effect or is hereafter established under the provisions of this chapter, or wherein the director has, under a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk, prescribed minimum prices to be paid by distributors for fluid cream, the director may designate and prescribe, or provide methods for designating and prescribing, minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices for fluid cream, pursuant to the provisions of this article.

SEC. 18. Section 4355.5 is added to said code, to read:

Considera-
tion of prices paid
by distributors to producers

4355.5. In determining minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices for any marketing area, the prices paid by distributors to producers as established pursuant to this chapter shall also be considered as the cost of fluid milk, fluid skim milk, or fluid cream to any association of producers, or other cooperative association, incorporated or unincorporated, engaged in the distribution of fluid milk, fluid skim milk, or fluid cream.

CHAPTER 1071

An act to amend Section 445 of the Education Code, and to amend Sections 28145 and 28151 of the Government Code, relating to county salaries.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 445 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Plumas
County
Superintendent of Schools
Salary

445. The annual salary of the county superintendent of schools of a county of the forty-fifth class is five thousand four hundred dollars ($5,400), and he shall possess a valid elementary or secondary teaching credential issued by the State Board of Education.

SEC. 2. Section 28145 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Plumas
County
officers
Salaries

28145. In a county of the forty-fifth class the following shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following sums:

(a) The auditor, five thousand four hundred dollars ($5,400) a year.

(b) The district attorney, seven thousand two hundred dollars ($7,200) a year.

(c) Each supervisor, three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600) a year and mileage from his residence to the county seat at each sitting of the board, twenty cents ($.20) a mile, such compensation to be in full for services as supervisor.

(d) Grand and trial jurors, five dollars ($5) per day and such mileage fees as are allowed by law.

The compensation provided by this section shall be payable to incumbent officers.

SEC. 3. Section 28151 of said code is amended to read:

Modoc
County
officers
Salaries

28151. In a county of the fifty-first class the following shall receive as compensation for services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following sums:

(a) The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) a year and such fees as are allowed by law.

(b) The district attorney, four thousand eight hundred dollars ($4,800) a year.

(c) Each supervisor, three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600) a year, and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents ($0.15) a mile in traveling from his residence to attend regular meetings of the board and in returning.

Each supervisor shall also be allowed fifteen cents ($0.15) a mile for each mile actually traveled in inspecting county roads, not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300) annually.

(d) For attending as a grand juror or as a trial juror in the superior court in criminal cases, three dollars ($3) for each day's attendance. For each mile actually traveled in attending upon the superior court, in going only, twenty-five cents ($0.25). The grand jurors and trial jurors in criminal cases shall be paid by warrants drawn by the county auditor, issued upon the order of the court, or judge thereof. Jurors who serve in civil actions in the superior court shall receive two dollars ($2) a day to be paid by the party demanding the jury.

The compensation provided by this section shall be payable to incumbent officers.

CHAPTER 1072

An act to add Sections 5025.11, 5025.12, and 5025.2 to the Public Resources Code, relating to historical routes.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5025.11 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

5025.11. The State Park Commission shall, with the advice of the Historical Landmarks Advisory Committee certify to the Director of Natural Resources and the Division of Beaches and Parks, the route followed by Colonel John Charles Fremont and party from the Nevada state line through Mono, Inyo, Alpine, Amador, and El Dorado Counties to Sutter's Fort in Sacramento County in the winter of 1843.

SEC. 2. Section 5025.12 is added to said code, to read:

5025.12. The Division of Beaches and Parks is authorized to place suitable markers along this certified route at intervals and at each intersection with a state highway or county road.

SEC. 3. Section 5025.2 is added to said code, to read:

5025.2. It shall be the duty of the Division of Beaches and Parks to keep in repair, or cause to be kept in repair, all markers of such historical routes.

CHAPTER 1073

An act to amend Section 2086 of the Agricultural Code, relating to the Agricultural Prorate Advisory Commission.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2086 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

2086. The office of the commission is in the City of Sacramento and it may meet at such times and in such places as may be expedient and necessary for the proper performance of its duties. The commission shall meet at least once every calendar year and oftener at the call of the president of the commission or of the director, when in the discretion of either the need arises. At all meetings of the commission a majority shall constitute a quorum.

CHAPTER 1074

An act to add Chapter 4 to Division 3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to pet birds and public health, and making an appropriation.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 4 is added to Division 3 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. PET BIRDS

Sale, etc., of parakeets
Banding

2100. No person, association, organization, partnership, or corporation shall raise and sell, offer for sale, trade, or barter any shell parakeet or budgerigar unless such bird is banded with traceable, seamless, closed bands of standard size not to exceed inside diameter of 0.148 of an inch.

Permit

2101. No band manufacturer, bird club, association, corporation, society, or person shall issue any bands prescribed under Section 2100 without a permit from the department. A permit shall be granted by the department upon compliance with such reasonable and necessary regulations as prescribed by the board.

Bond

2102. No manufacturer of bands prescribed under Section 2100 shall sell or market such bands in the State without giving such bond as required by the regulations of the board and without obtaining a permit from the department.

Records,
reports

2103. Every band issuing agency shall maintain such records and make such reports as required by reasonable and necessary regulations of the board. The board may by regulation prescribe the keeping of such sales records as it deems necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

2104. Whenever the director finds that psittacosis, or any other diseases transmissible to man from pet birds, have become a public health hazard to the extent that control measures are necessary or desirable, the board shall adopt such additional regulations as it deems necessary for the public health, which regulations shall apply to all pet birds whether or not of a species otherwise regulated under this chapter. Such regulations shall be adopted pursuant to Section 2105 and in accordance with Chapter 4 of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. Bird disease regulations

2105. The director, with the advice of the board, shall appoint an advisory committee consisting of nine members representing the pet bird industry from recognized pet bird organizations, which committee shall advise and consult with the department in carrying out the administration of this chapter. Advisory committee

2106. All manufacturers selling or marketing bands prescribed in Section 2100 shall pay a fee to the department on each such band sold. The board shall provide by regulation the amount of the fee to be paid, the total amount of such fees to yield a sum approximating the estimated cost of the administration of this chapter. All fees due and payable under this chapter shall be paid quarterly, the first quarter to begin on or before the fifteenth day of January of each year. Such fees shall be paid by the department into the General Fund in the State Treasury. Fees

2107. The violation of any of the provisions of this chapter shall constitute a misdemeanor. Misdemeanor

2108. The provisions of this chapter shall apply only to those pet birds hatched after October 1, 1955. Application

SEC. 2. The sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury in augmentation of Item 194 of the Budget Act of 1955, to be expended by the Department of Public Health in administration and enforcement of this act. Appropriation

CHAPTER 1075

Board of directors

SEC. 5. The district shall be governed by the board of directors, and whenever a duty, power, or jurisdiction is conferred upon the district, unless indicated to the contrary, such duty, power, or jurisdiction shall be exercised by the board.

Members

SEC. 6. The board shall consist of five members, one each to be appointed by the boards of supervisors of Fresno, Merced, and Madera Counties, and two by the governing body of the Central California Irrigation District. Each member shall be an owner of land within the district and shall serve at the pleasure of the authority appointing him.

District
purposes

SEC. 7. The purposes of the district are to give assurances and to effect the local cooperation required by the Secretary of the Army in connection with the plan of improvement for flood control and other purposes on the Lower San Joaquin River and tributaries, including Tuolumne and Stanislaus Rivers, which plan is substantially in accordance with the recommendations of the Chief of Engineers in Flood Control Committee Document Numbered 2, Seventy-eighth Congress, Second Session, adopted and authorized by Section 12651 of the Water Code, or any modification of such plan made pursuant to law. Such local cooperation shall consist substantially of the repair, operation, and maintenance of levees, works, structures, or other facilities in connection with such plan of improvement.

Assessments

SEC. 8. Annually, on or before the first day of June, the board shall cause to be prepared an estimate of the total amount of money necessary to be raised by assessment for all district purposes during the next ensuing fiscal year. The board shall add thereto an amount equal to 10 percent thereof for anticipated tax delinquencies. The board shall apportion such total amount of money among the counties of the district equitably in the same proportion as the value of lands, exclusive of improvements, of the district in each county bears to the total value of lands, exclusive of improvements, in the district as determined by the board. The amount so apportioned to each county shall be by resolution of the board, and a certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the boards of supervisors of each of the counties of the district. The board of supervisors shall cause assessments to be levied on the lands of the district within their respective counties, exclusive of improvements thereon, in proportion to the value thereof sufficient to raise the amounts so apportioned to their respective counties. The assessments shall be collected at the same time, in the same manner, and together with county taxes. Upon collection, all officers of the counties collecting or having in their possession sums derived from such assessments shall forthwith pay over the same to the county treasurer of Merced County for the credit of the district.

SEC. 9. The district may obtain experts, technical, legal, or other assistance and may employ such persons as it deems necessary to carry out fully its purposes and powers. Employees

SEC. 10. The district has all powers necessary or convenient to carry out fully its powers and purposes. Powers

SEC. 11. Claims against the district shall be presented, allowed, audited, and paid as are claims against the County of Merced, except that all claims must be presented to and allowed by the board. For the purposes of this section the County Auditor and the County Treasurer of Merced County are ex officio the auditor and treasurer of the district. Any reasonable and necessary expenses actually incurred by Merced County in carrying out any of the provisions of this act relating to the district shall be paid out of the funds of the district applicable thereto. CHAPTER 1076

An act to add Section 12023.5 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to cordage, twine and oakum.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12023.5 is added to Chapter 1, Division 5, of the Business and Professions Code, to read:

12023.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code or any other law, jute cordage, jute twine, hard fibre cordage, hard fibre twine (whether covered or uncovered), and oakum may be marked and sold on a gross weight basis. The provisions of the foregoing sentence shall not apply to sales in retail stores for consumer use of any such product which has been removed from the wrapper or container in which it was received by the retailer.

CHAPTER 1077

An act to amend Section 13583 of the Education Code, relating to certificated employees of school districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13583 of the Education Code is amended to read:

13583. Anything in Section 13582 to the contrary notwithstanding, governing boards of school districts having an average daily attendance of 85,000 or more pupils shall dismiss probationary employees for cause only. The determination of the board as to the sufficiency of the cause for dismissal shall be conclusive, but the cause shall relate solely to the welfare of the schools and the pupils thereof.

In case a hearing is requested by the employee the proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 of Part 1, of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code and the governing board shall have all the power granted to an agency in said Chapter 5, except that the respondent shall file his notice of defense, if any, within five days after service upon him of accusation and he shall be notified of such five-day period for filing in the accusation. All expenses of the hearing, including the cost of the hearing officer, shall be paid by the governing board from the district funds.

The board may adopt from time to time such rules and procedures not inconsistent with provisions of this section, as may be necessary to effectuate this section.

CHAPTER 1078

An act to add Section 1623 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to biologics and blood transfusions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1623 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1623. The procurement, processing, distribution, or use of whole blood, plasma, blood products, and blood derivatives for the purpose of injecting or transfusing the same, or any of them, into the human body shall be construed to be, and is declared to be, for all purposes whatsoever, the rendition of a service by each and every person, firm, or corporation participating therein, and shall not be construed to be, and is declared not to be, a sale of such whole blood, plasma, blood products, or blood derivatives, for any purpose or purposes whatsoever.

CHAPTER 1079

An act to amend Sections 26202, 26210, 26211.5, 26213, 26214, 26233, 26252, 26273, 26287, 26288, 26290, 26292, and 26362 of, and to add Section 26255 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to drugs and devices.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26202 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

26202. "Device" means instruments, apparatus and contrivances, including their components, parts, products or by-products of a device, and accessories, used or intended (1) for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in man or other animals; or (2) to affect the structure or any function of the body of man or other animals.

SEC. 2. Section 26210 of said code is amended to read:

26210. The representation of a drug or device, in its labeling or advertisement, as an antiseptic shall be considered to be a representation that it is a germicide, except in the case of a drug purporting to be, or represented as, an antiseptic for inhibitory use as a wet dressing, ointment, dusting powder, or such other use as involves prolonged contact with the body.

SEC. 3. Section 26211.5 of said code is amended to read:

26211.5. "Prescription" means an order given individually for the person for whom prescribed, directly from the prescriber to the furnisher or indirectly by means of an order signed by the prescriber and shall bear the name and address of the prescriber, his license classification, the name and address of the patient, name and quantity of drug or drugs or device prescribed, directions for use and the date of issue.

SEC. 4. Section 26213 of said code is amended to read:

26213. The provisions of this chapter regarding the selling, purchasing or use of drugs and devices, shall be considered to include the manufacture, production, processing, packing, exhibition, offering, possessing and holding of any such articles for sale; the sale, dispensing, and giving of any such article; and the supplying or applying of any such articles in the conduct of any establishment.

SEC. 5. Section 26214 of said code is amended to read:

"Package"

26214. "Package" includes any phial, bottle, jar, demijohn, carton, bag, case, can, box or barrel or any receptacle, vessel or container of whatsoever material or nature which may be used by a manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer or dealer, for inclosing or containing any drug or device.

SEC. 6. Section 26233 of said code is amended to read:

Adulterated drug

26233. A drug or device shall be deemed to be adulterated if its strength differs or its purity falls below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold.

SEC. 7. Section 26252 of said code is amended to read:

Exempt
drugs and devices

26252. A drug or device sold on a prescription of a member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession (except a drug sold in the course of the conduct of a business selling drugs pursuant to diagnosis by mail) shall be exempt from the requirements of this article if: (1) Such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession is licensed by law to administer such drug or device, and (2) Such drug or device bears a label containing the name and place of business of the seller, the serial number and date of such prescription, the name of the person for whom such drug or device is prescribed, the name of such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession, and bears directions for use as prescribed by such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession.

SEC. 8. Section 26255 is added to said code, to read:

Dispensing of habit-forming,
toxic, etc.,
drugs

26255. (1) A drug intended for use by man which:

(a) Is a habit-forming drug to which Section 26254 applies; or

(b) Because of its toxicity or other potentiality for harmful effect, or the method of its use, or the collateral measures necessary to its use, is not safe for use except under the supervision of a practitioner licensed by law to administer such drug; or

(c) Is limited by an effective application under Section 26288 to use under the professional supervision of a practitioner licensed by law to administer such drug, shall be dispensed only (i) upon a written prescription of a practitioner licensed by law to administer such drug, or (ii) upon an oral prescription of such practitioner which is reduced promptly to writing and filed by the pharmacist, or (iii) by refilling any such written or oral prescription if such refilling is authorized by the prescriber either in the original prescription or by oral order which is reduced promptly to writing and filed by the pharmacist. The act of dispensing a drug contrary to the provisions of this paragraph shall be deemed to be an act which results in the drug being misbranded while held for sale.

Exemptions

(2) Any drug dispensed by filling or refilling a written or oral prescription of a practitioner licensed by law to administer such drug shall be exempt from the requirements of Sections 26241, 26242, 26243, 26244, 26245, 26246, 26247, 26250, and 26254, and the provisions of Section 26249 deeming a drug misbranded if its container is so formed, made, or filled as to be misleading, except the packaging requirements of Sections 26245, 26246 and 26247. If the drug bears a label containing the name and address of the dispenser, the serial number and date of the prescription or of its filling, the name of the prescriber, and, if stated in the prescription, the name of the patient, and the directions for use and cautionary statements, if any, contained in such prescription. This exemption shall not apply to any drug dispensed in the course of the conduct of a business of dispensing drugs pursuant to diagnosis by mail, or to a drug dispensed in violation of subdivision (1) of this section.

(3) The board may by regulation remove drugs subject to Section 26254 and Section 26288 from the requirements of subdivision (1) of this section when such requirements are not necessary for the protection of the public health.

(4) A drug which is subject to subdivision (1) of this section shall be deemed to be misbranded if at any time prior to dispensing its label fails to bear the statement "Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription," or "Caution: Not to be dispensed without a prescription." A drug to which subdivision (1) of this section does not apply shall be deemed to be misbranded if at any time prior to dispensing its label bears the caution statement provided for in this subdivision. Misbranding

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve any person from any requirement described by or under authority of law with respect to drugs now included or which may hereafter be included within the classifications stated in Division 10 of this code. Construction

SEC. 9. Section 26273 of said code is amended to read:

26273. Whenever the board determines that an advance in medical science has made any type of self-medication safe as to any of the diseases named in Section 26286.5, the board shall by regulation authorize the advertisement of drugs or devices having curative or therapeutic effect for such disease, subject to such conditions and restrictions as the board may deem necessary in the interests of public health. Safe self-medication

SEC. 10. Section 26287 of said code is amended to read:

26287. The using on the labeling of any drug or device or in any advertisement relating to such drug or device of any representation or suggestion that an application with respect to such drug or device is effective under Section 26288 or that such drug or device complies with the provisions of that section is prohibited. Representation as new drug

SEC. 11. Section 26288 of said code is amended to read:

26288. The sale, offering for sale, holding for sale, delivering or giving away of any new drug or device is unlawful New drugs and prohibited unless (1) an application with respect thereto has become effective under Section 505 of the federal act, or (2) if the drug or device is not subject to the federal act unless such drug or device has been tested and has not been found to be unsafe for use under the conditions prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof, and prior to selling or offering for sale such drug or device there has been filed with the board an application setting forth:

Application

(a) Full reports of investigations which have been made to show whether or not such drug or device is safe for use;

(b) A full list of the articles used as components of such drug or device;

(c) A full statement of the composition of such drug or device;

(d) A full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing and packing of such drug or device;

(e) Such samples of such drug or device and of the articles used as components of the drug or device as the board may require; and

(f) Specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such drug or device.

SEC. 12. Section 26290 of said code is amended to read:

Finding
and order

26290. If the board finds after due notice to the applicant and giving him an opportunity for a hearing, that the drug or device is not safe for use under the conditions prescribed, recommended or suggested in the proposed labeling thereof, the board shall, prior to the effective date of the application, issue an order refusing to permit the application to become effective.

SEC. 13. Section 26292 of said code is amended to read:

Exceptions

26292. Section 26288 shall not apply—

(1) To a drug or device intended solely for investigational use by experts qualified by scientific training and experience to investigate the safety in drugs, if the drug or device is plainly labeled "For investigational use only"; or

(2) To a drug or device sold in this State at any time prior to the effective date of this chapter or introduced into interstate commerce at any time prior to the enactment of the federal act; or

(3) To any drug which is licensed under the Federal Virus, Serum, and Toxin Act of July 1, 1902.

SEC. 14. Section 26362 of said code is amended to read:

Prohibition
on disposition

26362. The drug or device shall not thereafter be sold, offered for sale, removed or otherwise disposed of until further notice in writing from the director or the Chief of the Bureau of Food and Drug Inspections. The unauthorized sale, removal or disposal of any quarantined article shall constitute a violation of this chapter, punishable as provided in Section 26295.

CHAPTER 1080

CHAPTER 1081

An act to add Section 607.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the assessment for property tax purposes of rights and privileges appertaining to mines or minerals.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 607.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

607.5. In the event that a separate assessment of rights and privileges appertaining to mines or minerals and land is made, the descriptive words "mining rights" or "mineral rights" on the assessment roll shall include the right to enter in or upon the land for the exploration, development and production of minerals, including oil, gas, and other hydrocarbons.

CHAPTER 1082

An act to repeal Sections 985.4, and 985.5 of, and to amend Sections 986.3, and 986.5 of the Military and Veterans Code, relating to aid to veterans under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1943.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. Sections 985.4 and 985.5 of the Military and Veterans Code are repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 986.3 of said code is amended to read:

Acquisition of farm or home by department

986.3. The department may acquire such farm or home from the owner thereof or may contract with a veteran for the construction of a dwelling house and other improvements for a farm or home, upon the terms agreed if:

(a) The department is satisfied of the desirability of the property submitted.

(b) The veteran has agreed with the department actually to reside on the property within 60 days from the date of purchase by the department, or if the residence on the property is not complete on the date of purchase, within 60 days after the residence is completed.

(c) The purchase price to the department of the property, or the sum to be expended by the department pursuant to a contract for the construction of a dwelling house and other improvements, does not exceed the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) in the case of a farm, or eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8,500) in the case of a home.

(d) Where the department is to contract with a veteran for the construction of a dwelling house and other buildings:

(1) The veteran is the owner in fee of the real property on which the dwelling house and other buildings are to be constructed and agrees to convey that property to the department without cost.

(2) The veteran has paid a reasonable fee set by the department to cover the cost of such preliminary service of the department as may be necessary to process the application.

(3) The veteran has filed with the department adequate plans and specifications for the improvements to be constructed upon said real property, together with a contract, executed by a contractor licensed by the State of California for the construction of said improvements in accordance with said plans and specifications within eight months after the acquisition of said real property by the department, and a bond executed by the contractor providing for compliance with the terms of said contract and for the payment of materialmen and labor furnishing material or labor on the job, executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California.

(4) The plans, specifications, contract and bond are approved by the department.

(5) The total value of said real property and the improvements to be constructed thereon in accordance with the contract, plans and specifications submitted shall not exceed the sum of seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000) in the case of a home or thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) in the case of a farm.

(6) The veteran has placed in escrow, all sums of money to be advanced by him where the cost is in excess of the maximum that may be expended by the department.

SEC. 3. Section 986.5 of said code is amended to read:

986.5. The purchase price of a home to the department, shall not exceed the sum of eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8,500), and a veteran purchasing the home may advance the difference between the total price or cost of the home and the sum of the purchase price of the home to the department and any amount the department is required under Section 986.9 of this code to add to the purchase price of the home in fixing the selling price thereof to the veteran, but in no case shall the total value thereof after completion of construction exceed seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000). The purchase price of a farm to the department shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), and a veteran purchasing the farm may advance the difference between the total price of the farm or cost of the dwelling and improvements to be constructed on a farm under a contract and the sum of such purchase price to the department or contract price to the department and any amount which the department is required under Section 986.9 of this code to add to such purchase or contract price to the department in fixing the selling price of the farm to the veteran, but in no case shall the total value of the farm and the dwellings and improvements thereon exceed thirty thousand dollars ($30,000).

CHAPTER 1083

An act to amend Section 5 of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act, relating to the Santa Clara Flood Control and Water District.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act is amended to read:

Powers
and duties

Sec. 5. The district is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic and as such shall have, in addition to the other powers vested in it by this act, the following powers:

Perpetual succession

1. To have perpetual succession.

Capacity
to sue

2. To sue and be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Seal

3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

Acquisition,
etc., of
property

4. To acquire by grant, purchase, lease, gift, devise, contract, condemnation, construction, or otherwise, and to hold, use, enjoy, sell, let, and dispose of real and personal property of every kind, including lands, structures, buildings, rights of way, easements, and privileges, and to construct, maintain, alter and operate any and all works or improvements, within or without the district, necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act and convenient to the full exercise of its powers, and to complete, extend, add to, alter, remove, repair or otherwise improve any works, or improvements, or property acquired by it as authorized by this act.

Storage,
etc., of water

5. To store water in surface or underground reservoirs within or outside of the district for the common benefit of the district or of any zone or zones affected; to conserve and reclaim water for present and future use within the district; to appropriate and acquire water and water rights, and import water into the district and to conserve within or outside of the district, water for any purpose useful to the district; and to do any and every lawful act necessary to be done that sufficient water may be available for any present or future beneficial use or uses of the lands or inhabitants within the district, including but not limited to, the acquisition, storage and distribution of water for irrigation, domestic, fire protection, municipal, commercial, industrial, and all other beneficial uses; to distribute, sell, or otherwise dispose of, outside the district, any waters not needed for beneficial uses within the district; to commence, maintain, intervene in, defend or compromise, in the name of the district in behalf of the landowners therein, or otherwise, and to assume the costs and expenses of any action or proceeding involving or affecting the ownership or use of waters or water rights within or without the district, used or useful for any purpose of the district or of common benefit to any land situated therein, or involving the wasteful use of water therein; to commence, maintain, intervene in, defend and compromise and to assume the cost and expenses of any and all actions and proceedings now or hereafter begun; to prevent interference with or diminution of, or to declare rights in the natural flow of any stream or surface or subterranean supply of waters used or useful for any purpose of the district or of common benefit to the lands within the district or to its inhabitants; to prevent unlawful exportation of water from said district; to prevent contamination, pollution or otherwise rendering unfit for beneficial use the surface or subsurface water used or useful in said district, and to commence, maintain and defend actions and proceedings to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger or damage the inhabitants, lands, or use of water in, or flowing into, the district; provided, however, that said district shall not have power to intervene or take part in, or to pay the costs or expenses of, actions or controversies between the owners of lands or water rights which do not affect the interests of the district.

6. To control the flood and storm waters of said district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district, but which streams and the flood waters thereof, flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes of said district by spreading, storing, retaining and causing to percolate into the soil within or without said district, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of such waters and protect from damage from such flood or storm waters the watercourses, watersheds, public highways, life and property in said district, and the watercourses outside of the district of streams flowing into the district.

7. To cooperate and to act in conjunction with the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with the Government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with any public district, or with any public or private corporation, or with any city, city and county, or county, in the construction of any work for the controlling of flood or storm waters of or flowing into said district or for the protection of life or property therein, or for the purpose of conserving any waters whatsoever for beneficial use within said district, or in any other works, acts, or purposes provided for herein, and to adopt and carry out any definite plan or system of work for any such purpose.

8. To carry on technical and other necessary investigations, make measurements, collect data, make analyses, studies, and inspections pertaining to water supply, water rights, control of flood and storm waters, and use of water both within and without said district relating to watercourses or streams flowing in or into said district, and in all cases where land may be required for public use by said district, the district, or its agents in charge of such use, shall have the right of access to all properties within the district and elsewhere relating to water-courses and streams flowing in or into said district and may survey and locate the same; but such must be located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury. The district, or its agents in charge of such public use may enter upon such lands and make examinations, surveys, and maps thereof, and such entry shall constitute no cause of action in favor of the owners of such land, except for injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness, or malice.

Surveys, acquisition of water
rights, etc

9. To enter upon any land, to make surveys and locate the necessary works of improvement and the lines for channels, conduits, canals, pipelines, roadways and other rights of way; to acquire by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, gift, devise, or other legal means all lands and water and water rights and other property necessary or convenient for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvement of said works, including works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for storage of necessary water, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said end, and for said purposes and uses, to acquire and to hold in the name of the State, the capital stock of any mutual water company or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning water or water rights, canals, water works, franchises, concessions, or rights, when the ownership of such stock is necessary to secure a water supply required by the district or any part thereof, upon the condition that when holding such stock, the district shall be entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges, and shall be subject to all the obligations and liabilities conferred or imposed by law upon other holders of such stock in the same company; to enter into and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with the United States, or any state, county, district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, leasing, ownership, disposition, use, management, maintenance, repair or operation of any rights, works or other property of a kind which might be lawfully acquired or owned by said Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District; to acquire the right to store water in any reservoirs, or to carry water through any canal, ditch or conduit not owned or controlled by the district; to grant to any owner or lessee the right to the use of any water or right to store such water in any reservoir of the district, or to carry such water through any tunnels, canal, ditch, or conduit of the district; to enter into and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with any district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them for the transfer or delivery to any such district, corporation, association, firm or individual of any water right or water pumped, stored, appropriated or otherwise acquired or secured, for the use of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, or for the purpose of exchanging the same for other water, water right or water supply in exchange for water, water right or water supply to be delivered to said district by the other party to said agreement; to cooperate with, and to act in conjunction with, the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with the Government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with any public or private corporation, in the construction of any work for controlling flood or storm waters of streams in or running into said district, or for the protection of life or property therein, or for the purpose of conserving said waters for beneficial use within said district, or in any other works, acts, or purposes provided for herein, and to adopt and carry out any definite plan or system of work for any such purpose.

10. To incur indebtedness and to issue bonds in the manner herein provided. Bonds

11. To cause taxes or assessments to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district, and to carry out any of the purposes of this act, in the manner hereinafter provided. Taxes or assessments

12. To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district or any of the officers thereof, by this act. Employees

13. To have the power and right to disseminate information concerning the rights, properties, activities, plans and proposals of the district; provided, however, that expenditures during any fiscal year for such purposes shall not exceed one-half cent ($.005) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of such district. Dissemination of information

An act to add Section 937 to the Health and Safety Code, to add Section 16426 to, and to amend Sections 16461 and 16463 of, the Education Code, relating to health services for public school pupils.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 937 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

937. The district board of a local health district may contract with the county superintendent of schools of the county for the performance by health officers or other employees of the district of any or all of the functions and duties set forth in Chapter 3 of Division 8 of the Education Code, relating to the health supervision of school buildings and of pupils en- Contracts for health districts to provide health services to schools rolled in the schools of any or all elementary and high school districts over which the county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction.

In the contract the consideration shall be such as may be agreed upon by the district board and the county superintendent of schools and shall be paid by the county superintendent of schools at such times as shall be specified in the contract into the county treasury to the credit of the district fund.

SEC. 2. Section 16426 is added to the Education Code, to read:

Authoriza-
tion of
contracts

16426. Contracts between any local health district and the governing board of any school district located wholly or partially within such local health district for the performance by the health officers or other employees of the local health district of any or all of the functions and duties set forth in Chapter 3 of Division 8 of the Education Code, relating to health supervision of school buildings and pupils are hereby authorized.

In any such contracts the consideration shall be such as may be agreed upon by the governing board and the local health district and shall be paid to the local health district by the governing board at such times as shall be specified in the contract.

Supervisors
of health

SEC. 3. Section 16461 of said code is amended to read:

16461. The county superintendent of schools of each county may employ one or more supervisors of health as defined in Section 16441, to supervise the health of pupils enrolled in the schools of elementary and high school districts over which he has jurisdiction, or may contract with the board of supervisors of the county in which he holds office, or the district board of a local health district situated in the county, for the performance by employees of the county health department, or employees of the local health district, of any or all of the functions relating to proper health supervision of the school buildings and of pupils enrolled in the schools of such elementary and high school districts. All rules governing health supervision in the schools shall be made by the county superintendent of schools. No supervisor of health shall be employed, and no county or district employees shall perform duties under any contract, who does not possess a health and development credential; provided, however, that a psychologist may be so employed or may perform such duties under a contract if he is the holder of a school psychologist credential issued by the State Board of Education.

Salary and
expenses

SEC. 4. Section 16463 of said code is amended to read:

16463 The salary and necessary traveling and other expenses of any supervisor of health employed pursuant to this article or the contract price agreed upon between the board of supervisors or the district board of a local health district, as the case may be, and the county superintendent of schools shall be paid by the county superintendent of schools from the county school service fund.

CHAPTER 1085

An act to add Article 6.5 to Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to special fire protection zones in fire protection districts in one or more counties.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 6.5 is added to Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 6.5 Creation of Special Fire Protection Zones

14712 Whenever the board of directors deems it to be for the best interest of the public, it may, by resolution, initiate proceedings for creation of a special fire protection zone in the district for the purpose of paying for installation of capital improvements such as fire mains, fire plugs, or any other similar improvement which is of sole benefit to the territory in said zone, or for purchase of equipment or employment of personnel over and above the equipment and personnel which the district can afford to furnish to said zone out of its general district tax. Special fire protection zones

14713. Said resolution initiating said proceedings shall describe the boundaries of said special fire protection zone, declaring the public interest and necessity demand its creation and the reasons therefor and therein set a date for public hearing on the question of creation of said zone before the board of directors. Initiating resolution

14714. Notice of said hearing shall be given by publication of a copy of said resolution in a newspaper of general circulation within the district, and by posting copies thereof, one in each of at least three public places in said proposed zone, at least thirty (30) days prior to date of hearing. Notice

14715. Any person interested, at or before said hearing, may file with the board of directors a written objection to the creation of said zone or to the inclusion of his property in it. At said hearing the board of directors shall hear and determine all protests and objections. At the conclusion of the hearing the board of directors shall decide and determine whether the proposed zone shall be created with the boundaries as described in the original resolution, except that the board of directors may revise the proposed boundaries by reducing the size of the said zone. A copy of the order creating said special zone describing the territory thereof, accompanied by a plat thereof, shall be filed with the agencies designated in and as required by Sections 54900, 54901, and 54902 of the Government Code. Hearing, creation

14716. On and after the date of creation of said special fire protection zone, subject to the provisions of said Sections Tax levies

54900, 54901, and 54902 of the Government Code, the board of supervisors shall have the power and duty to levy on all taxable property in said zone a tax for expenditures for such purposes provided for in the resolution which the board of directors has certified to the board of supervisors to be for the sole benefit of said zone.

Abolition of special zones

14717. The board of directors shall have power by resolution to abolish any special zone so created, after hearing held in the manner provided for in this article for the original creation of the zone, whenever the board of directors determines that the public interest and necessity mentioned in the original order of creation no longer exists.

CHAPTER 1086

An act to add Article 8.6 to Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to changing the name of fire protection districts in one or more counties.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 8.6 is added to Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 8.6. Change of Name

name

14759.1. A district may change its name, by action of the board of supervisors of the county in which the land or the greater portion of it lies, as provided by this article.

Resolution

14759.2. Whenever, after the organization of a district pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, in the judgment of the board of directors it is for the best interest of a district that its name be changed to a stated name, the board of directors may pass a resolution reciting that fact.

Forwarding to board of supervisors

14759.3. A copy of the resolution shall be forwarded to the board of supervisors of the county in which the land or the greater portion of it lies with the request that the name of the district be changed to the stated name.

Date for consideration

14759.4. The board of supervisors shall designate a day on which it will consider the request, which day shall not be less than 10 days nor more than 40 days after the receipt of the petition, and the board of supervisors may either grant or deny the request.

Notice

14759.5. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall give notice by sending by registered mail to each of the directors of the district a notice of the time for the hearing of the request. Notices shall be mailed at least 10 days before the day set for the hearing.

The clerk shall also cause the notice of the time of the hearing of the resolution to be published at least once not less than 10 days before the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation within the district and printed and published within the county in which the land of the district or the greater portion of it lies.

14759.6. If the board of supervisors denies the request, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall notify the board of directors of the denial. Denial of request

14759.7. If the board of supervisors grants the request, the board of supervisors shall enter an order changing the name of the district to the stated name. The clerk shall, within 10 days after adoption of the order, file a certified copy of the order with the board of directors, the county assessor, and the State Board of Equalization. The clerk shall also cause to be recorded, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land of the district or the greater portion of the land lies, a certified copy of the order. Grant of request

14759.8. From and after the filing of the certified copy with the State Board of Equalization the new name shall be the official name of the district. Filing

CHAPTER 1087

An act to amend Section 332 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to wilderness areas.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 332 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

332. It shall be unlawful for any person other than a legally constituted peace officer or officer or employee of the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, the Department of Fish and Game, or of the Division of Forestry, Department of Natural Resources of California, or county fire and life wardens or their duly authorized representatives, to travel by motor boat, automobile, motorcycle, or other type of motorized vehicle, or, except for emergencies and for rescue and aerial search for rescue purposes, to land an airplane, helicopter or similar equipment, within the boundaries of a primitive, wilderness, or wild area closed to the above modes of travel as established by a duly authorized officer of the Forest Service or the Department of Agriculture and recorded in the office of the Regional Headquarters of the California Region of the United States Forest Service, Department of Agriculture and with the Department of Fish and Game of California.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting access over any road or trail in any such area to any land to which any person is entitled to possession by such person or any person authorized by him to use such road or trail as a means of access to said land, provided that none of the motorized vehicles or aircraft mentioned in this section shall be used by any person as a means of gaining access to the said wilderness areas for the purpose of hunting or fishing, nor shall anyone having a lawful right to enter such wilderness area with a motorized vehicle or aircraft fish or hunt while within said wilderness area after having entered said wilderness area with a motorized vehicle or aircraft.

CHAPTER 1088

An act to authorize the conveyance of certain property, belonging to the State of California and situated in the County of Mendocino, to the River Union Elementary School District of Mendocino County, State of California.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Director of Finance is hereby authorized and empowered to grant and convey to the River Union Elementary School District situated in the County of Mendocino, State of California, upon such terms and conditions as in his opinion may be for the best interests of the State, any and all of the following described real estate situated in the County of Mendocino, State of California, to wit:

That certain real estate consisting of approximately three acres of land adjacent to the site of the school building of the River Union Elementary School District of Mendocino County, State of California.

A copy of each deed of conveyance executed and delivered by the Director of Finance shall be delivered to the State Lands Commission.

CHAPTER 1089

An act to amend Section 1300.15 of the Agricultural Code, relating to marketing of agricultural products.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1300.15 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1300.15. (a) (1) Any marketing order issued pursuant to this chapter shall provide for the establishment of an advisory board to assist the director in the administration of any marketing order. The members of the board shall be appointed by the director and may hold office at the pleasure of the director. If the marketing order affects directly only producers of a particular commodity the members of the board shall be producers. If the marketing order affects directly only handlers of a particular commodity the members of the board shall be handlers. If the marketing order affects directly both producers and handlers of a particular commodity, such board shall be composed of both producers and handlers. The number of producers or handlers upon any such board shall be of such number of producers or handlers as the director finds is necessary to assist properly in the administration of such order. Upon the recommendation of the board, the director may appoint one person who is neither a producer nor a handler to represent the Department of Agriculture or the public generally. Advisory boards

(2) No member of any such board shall receive a salary but each shall be entitled to his actual expenses incurred while engaged in performing his duties herein authorized. The director may authorize such board: to enter into contracts or agreements, to employ necessary personnel including attorneys engaged in the private practice of the law, fix their compensation and terms of employment; and to incur such expenses, to be paid by the director from moneys collected as herein provided, as the director may deem necessary and proper to enable such board properly to perform such of its duties as are authorized herein. The duties of any such board shall be administrative Expenses Duties only and may include only the following:

a. Subject to the approval of the director to administer such marketing order.

b. To recommend to the director administrative rules and regulations relating to the marketing order.

c. To receive and report to the director complaints of violations of the marketing order.

d. To recommend to the director amendments to the marketing order.

e. To assist the director in the assessment of members of the industry and in the collection of funds to cover expenses incurred by the director in the administration of the marketing order.

f. To assist the director in the collection of such necessary information and data as the director may deem necessary to the proper administration of this chapter.

(3) In addition to the advisory board there may be established one or more special committees or subcommittees to assist the advisory board in carrying out its duties and functions. Upon approval of the director each advisory board may establish committees or subcommittees to carry out assigned duties and functions and designate the members or alternate members of the board to serve upon such committees. If the marketing Special

order so authorizes or upon recommendation of the board, the director may authorize the establishment of special committees or subcommittees of persons who are not members or alternate members of the board to perform specific duties and functions; provided, that the members and alternate members of any such special committee or subcommittee shall be appointed by the director.

Any action of any committee, special committee or subcommittee of the board shall be subject to final approval by the board. Members and alternate members of any committee, special committee or subcommittee whether by appointment or approval of the director shall be entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses incurred while acting in their authorized capacities.

Marketing order
provisions

(b) Subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations set forth herein any marketing order issued by the director pursuant to this chapter may contain any or all of the following provisions for regulating or providing methods for regulating producer marketing or the handling or any of the operations of processing or distributing by handlers of any agricultural commodity within this State, but no others:

Determination of surplus

(1) Provisions for determining the existence and extent of the surplus of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, and providing for the control and disposition of such surplus, and for equalizing the burden of such surplus elimination or control among the producers, processors, distributors or other handlers affected. Notwithstanding any other appropriate means of equalizing the burden of surplus control and the elimination thereof as provided in this chapter, provision may be made for the creation of a stabilization fund to be used for purchasing or otherwise acquiring any portion of the surplus of any agricultural commodity either in fresh or processed form, except when processed in hermetically sealed containers, and for the diversion of such surplus quantity of such commodity so acquired into noncompetitive or by-products uses or for disposing of such surplus in noncommercial channels. Moneys for such stabilization fund shall be provided by means of the establishment of an assessment rate for such purpose levied upon producers or handlers or upon both producers and handlers. Such assessment rate shall be based upon the units in which such agricultural commodity is handled or marketed or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable. For convenience of collection, the director may collect any producer assessments from handlers of such commodity. Handlers paying such assessments for and on behalf of any producers are authorized to deduct such producer assessments from any moneys owed by such handlers to such producers.

Stabilization fund

Limitation on quantity to be marketed etc

(2) Provisions for limiting the total quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which may be marketed by producers or processed, distributed or otherwise handled within this State during any specified period or periods, by any and all persons engaged in such producer marketing, processing, distributing or handling; provided, that any such limitation shall be applied under a uniform rule applicable to all such persons so regulated. The total quantity of any such commodity so regulated and permitted to be marketed by producers, processed, distributed or otherwise handled, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is reasonably necessary to supply the market demands of consumers of such commodity.

(3) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may purchase or acquire from, or handle on behalf of, any and all producers thereof, within this State during any specified period or periods under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated based upon the amounts produced or sold by such producers in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or upon the current season's production or sales of such producers, or both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof, so purchased or handled within this State shall be apportioned equitably among the producers thereof.

of quantity acquired

(4) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may process, distribute or handle within this State under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated, based upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof of the current season's crop which each such handler has available for such processing, distribution or handling, or upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof so processed, distributed or handled by each such handler in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or based upon both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or any grade, size or quality thereof, processed, distributed or handled within this State during any specified period or periods shall be equitably apportioned among all such handlers thereof.

Allotment
of quantity processed by handlers

(5) Provisions regulating the period, or periods, during which any agricultural commodity, or any grade, size or quality of such commodity, may be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed within this State by any and all persons engaged in such processing, distributing or marketing within this State; provided, that the total quantity of such commodity so regulated and permitted to be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed during such period or periods, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is necessary to reasonably supply the needs of consumers of such commodity.

Processing,
marketing,
etc., periods

(6) Provisions for the establishment of surplus, stabilization, or by-product pools for any agricultural commodity or of any grade, size, quality or condition thereof, and providing for the sale of the commodity in any such pool and for the equi-

Surplus,
etc. pools

table distribution among the persons participating therein of the net returns derived from the sale of such commodity. Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of any such pool or pools the advisory board shall have power to receive such commodity from each producer or handler and to handle the same according to the grade, size, quality or condition thereof and to account to each producer or handler participating therein upon a pro rata basis for the net proceeds derived from the sale thereof.

The contents of any surplus pool shall not be marketed by the board in any form which would compete directly with that portion of the commodity which is marketed in regular channels of trade. However, any portion of any surplus pool may be transferred by the board upon any gratuitous basis to charitable organizations and other similar agencies under proper safeguards to insure that none of such commodity shall compete directly with the unrestricted portion of such commodity. The board may dispose of the contents of a stabilization pool in the regular marketing channels in such manner and at such times as the board deems advisable, consistent with the maintenance of stabilized marketing conditions for such commodity. The board may dispose of the contents of any by-product pool only for by-products or for other similar purposes under proper safeguards to prevent such portion of the commodity so disposed of from directly competing with that part of the commodity which is marketed in the usual form or in the regular channels of trade.

Facilities
for storing financing,
etc

Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of a surplus, stabilization, or by-product pool, the board shall have authority to arrange for and operate any necessary facilities for the storing, financing, grading, packing, servicing, processing, preparing for market, selling, and disposing of the contents of any pools provided for in this section; provided, however, the board shall not have authority to engage in commercial warehousing.

Pledge
for loans

The board shall have power to pledge all of the commodity in any such pools with banks or other lending agencies for the purpose of obtaining loans thereon. The board shall have title, for the purpose of financing and handling, to all of the commodity in any such pools.

Equalization
fund

Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of any type of pool authorized in this section, the board shall have authority to create, by a uniform assessment upon producers, or upon some other uniform and equitable basis, maintain, and disburse an equalization fund to be used for the removal of any inequalities between producers or handlers participating in any pool resulting from errors in estimating production or surplus or for indemnifying producers whose production, in whole or in part, is diverted in green form or otherwise from normal marketing outlets or diverted to by-products, relief, or other noncompetitive purposes pursuant to the provisions of the marketing order.

(7) Provisions establishing or providing for establishing with respect to any agricultural commodity either as delivered by producers to handlers or processors, or as handled, processed, or otherwise prepared for market, or as marketed by producers, handlers or processors: (A) grading standards of quality, condition, size, maturity or pack, which standards may include minimum standards provided the standards so established shall not be established below any minimum standards prescribed by law for such commodity; and (B) uniform inspection and grading of such commodity in accordance with the standards so established.

Standards of grading, etc

(8) Provisions for the establishment of plans for advertising and sales promotion to maintain present markets or to create new or larger markets for agricultural commodities grown in the State of California, or for the prevention, modification or removal of trade barriers which obstruct the free flow of agricultural commodities to market. The director is hereby authorized to prepare, issue, administer and enforce plans for promoting the sale of any agricultural commodity.

Advertising and sales promotion

Provided, that any such plan shall be directed toward increasing the sale of such commodity without reference to a particular brand or trade name, and

Provided further, that no advertising or sales promotion program shall be issued by the director which shall make use of false or unwarranted claims in behalf of any such product, or disparage the quality, value, sale or use of any other agricultural commodity.

(9) Provisions relating to the prohibition of unfair trade practices. In addition to the unfair trade practices, now prohibited by law, applicable to the processing, distribution or handling of agricultural commodities within this State, the director is hereby authorized to include in any marketing order issued hereunder provisions designed to correct any trade practice affecting the processing, distributing or handling of any agricultural commodity within this State which the director finds, after a hearing thereupon in which all interested persons are given an opportunity to be heard, is unfair and detrimental to the effectuation of the declared purposes of this chapter.

practices

(10) Provisions for the application for, review, certification and equitable payment of, production adjustment benefits to growers from funds collected for such purpose on a uniform basis from all commercial growers of any agricultural commodity in the State, for which production adjustment payments are made. Such funds may be supplemented by funds, if any, received from federal, state or other agencies for such purpose.

Production adjustment
benefits

No program of production adjustment adopted hereunder shall authorize payments for the removal of acreages of trees or vines of the species, variety or varieties specified in the program which have, during the three years immediately preceding the date of application, produced an annual yield per acre in excess of the comparably computed average yield from bearing trees or vines of the same species, variety or varieties for the State as a whole, such yields and averages to be determined by the director from statistical data compiled by state or federal agencies or such other data as the director deems to be representative and reliable.

Research studies

(11) Provisions for carrying on research studies in the production, processing or distribution of any agricultural commodity and for the expenditure of moneys for such purposes. In any research in production or processing carried on hereunder, the Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of California and the advisory board provided for in Section 1300.15 hereof shall cooperate in selecting the research project or projects to be carried on from time to time. Insofar as practicable such projects shall be carried out by said College of Agriculture, but if the dean of said college and the advisory board determine that the college has no facilities for a particular project or that some other research agency has better facilities therefor, the project may be carried out by other research agencies selected by the dean and the advisory board.

program

(12) Provisions establishing or providing authority for establishing, for any agricultural commodity, either as such commodity is produced or is delivered by producers to handlers, or as handled or otherwise prepared for market, or as marketed by producers or handlers, an educational program designed to acquaint producers, handlers or other interested persons with quality improvement, including sanitation practices, procedures or methods as applied to such commodity.

Commodities not regulated by United States

(c) In addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the processing or preparation for marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity processed within this State, and in addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the distribution of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity within this State and subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations of Section 1300.14 of this chapter, the director may also issue marketing orders regulating the handling, processing, preparation for marketing or marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity produced in this State for which marketing regulatory powers are not being exercised by the Federal Government under the provisions of the Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, being Public Law No. 137, Seventy-fifth Congress, Chapter 296, First Session, 7 U. S. C. A. 674, 50 Statute 249.

CHAPTER 1090

An act to amend Section 242 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to the definition of "wharfinger."

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 242 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

242. "Wharfinger" includes every corporation or person owning, controlling, operating, or managing any dock, wharf, or structure used by vessels in connection with or to facilitate the receipt or discharge of freight, other than bulk liquid commodities, or passengers for compensation within this State.

CHAPTER 1091

An act to amend Section 239 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to the definition of "warehouseman."

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 239 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

239. (a) "Warehouseman" includes:

Every corporation or person owning, controlling, operating, or managing any building or structure in which property, other than liquid petroleum commodities in bulk, is regularly stored for compensation within this State, in connection with or to facilitate the transportation of property by a common carrier or vessel, or the loading or unloading of property, other than liquid petroleum commodities in bulk, and other than a dock, wharf, or structure, owned, operated, controlled, or managed by a wharfinger.

(b) Every corporation or person owning, controlling, operating, or managing any building, structure, or warehouse, in which merchandise, other than secondhand household goods or effects, and other than liquid petroleum commodities in bulk, and other than merchandise sold but retained in the custody of the vendor, is regularly stored for the public generally, for compensation, within this State, except warehouses conducted by any nonprofit, cooperative association or corporation which is engaged in the handling or marketing of the agricultural products of its members and warehouses conducted by the agents, individual or corporate, of such associations or corporations, while acting within the limitations imposed by law on their principals.

An act to amend Sections 4751 and 4753 of the Labor Code, relating to workmen's compensation.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4751 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

Additional
compensation

4751. If an employee who is permanently partially disabled receives a subsequent compensable injury resulting in additional permanent partial disability so that the degree of disability caused by the combination of both disabilities is greater than that which would have resulted from the subsequent injury alone, and the combined effect of the last injury and the previous disability or impairment is a permanent disability equal to 70 percent or more of total, he shall be paid in addition to the compensation due under this code for the permanent partial disability caused by the last injury, compensation for the remainder of the combined permanent disability existing after the last injury as provided in this article; provided, that either (a) the previous disability or impairment affected a hand, an arm, a foot, a leg, or an eye, and the permanent disability resulting from the subsequent injury affects the opposite and corresponding member, or (b) the permanent disability resulting from the subsequent injury, when considered alone and without regard to the age of the employee, is equal to 40 percent or more of total.

SEC. 2. Section 4753 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

Deductions

4753. Such additional compensation is not in addition to but shall be reduced to the extent of any monetary payments received by the employee, from any source whatsoever, for or on account of said pre-existing disability or impairment, except as to payments being made to the employee or to which he is entitled as a pension or other compensation for disability incurred in service in the armed forces of the United States, and except as to payments being made to him or to which he is entitled as assistance under the provisions of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2, or Chapter 1 of Division 3, or Chapter 2 of Division 4, or Division 5, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and excluding from such monetary payments received by the employee for or on account of said pre-existing disability or impairment a sum equal to all sums reasonably and necessarily expended by the employee for or on account of attorney's fees, costs and expenses incidental to the recovery of such monetary payments.

Application

The provisions of this section and Section 4751 as amended at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature shall apply only to disabilities resulting from an original subsequent injury sustained after this section and Section 4751 as amended at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature become effective; provided, however, that all rights presently existing under this section and Section 4751 shall be continued in force.

The amendments to this section and Section 4751 adopted at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature. While such amendments are in effect they shall supersede the provisions of this section and Section 4751 as they existed prior to such amendments; but such provisions are not repealed by such amendments, and after such amendments are no longer effective shall have the same force as though such amendments had not been enacted.

Termination
date

CHAPTER 1093

An act to add Section 5100.5 to the Labor Code, relating to commutation of compensation in workmen's compensation proceedings.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5100.5 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

5100.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5100, the commission shall not commute the compensation payable under this division to a lump sum when such compensation is payable under Section 4751 of the Labor Code.

CHAPTER 1094

An act to amend Sections 8, 10, and 17 of the Storm Water District Act of 1909 (Chapter 222 of the Statutes of 1909), relating to storm water districts.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8 of the Storm Water District Act of 1909 is amended to read:

SEC. 8. Each storm water district shall have power to sue and be sued. The trustees thereof shall have power in the name and in behalf of the district to purchase, receive by donation or acquire by condemnation any rights of way or other real or personal property necessary to carry out the

Powers
and duties

purposes for which the district was formed, and for that purpose all the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain are hereby made applicable to proceedings by such district to condemn property. The said board of trustees shall also have power to employ such engineers, surveyors and others as may be necessary to survey, plan, or locate, or supervise the construction or repair of, the improvements necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district was formed; to construct, maintain and keep in repair any and all improvements, requisite or necessary to carry out the purposes of the district; and to do any and all other acts and things necessary or required for the protection of the lands in said district from damage from storm waters and from waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash; or for the spreading, conserving, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within such district any or all of such waters; and to employ the services of any person, legal or otherwise, which in the judgment of said board of trustees may be necessary to carry out said purposes. All work of construction, repair, or maintenance, the cost whereof exceeds one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), shall be done by contract; and all contracts shall be let by the board to the lowest responsible bidder, who will give bond for the faithful performance thereof satisfactory to the board, after advertisement for bids published by their clerk for not less than 10 days in some newspaper of general circulation, designated by the board and published in the county in which the district or some part thereof is situated, specifying the time and place for the opening of bids, and the particular work to be bid for; provided, however, that the board may reject all bids and readvertise, and may by unanimous action in cases of great emergency, the nature of which shall be entered on their minutes, proceed at once to replace or repair any of the works or improvements of the district without advertisement.

SEC. 2. Section 10 of said act is amended to read:

Estimation of improvement costs

Sec. 10. After adopting said map, plans and specifications, the board of trustees shall appoint three commissioners, one of whom shall be a civil engineer, to assess benefits and damages and to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvements, which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred or to be incurred, either directly or indirectly, in carrying out said improvements. Before entering upon the discharge of their duties, the commissioners shall each take and subscribe an oath to perform the duties of such commission to the best of their ability, and shall each file with the clerk of said trustees a bond to the State of California in the penal sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), to faithfully perform the duties of the office of said commissioner, which bond must be approved by said board of trustees. The board of trustees may at any time remove any or all of said commissioners for cause upon reasonable notice and hearing, and may fill any vacancies occurring among them from any cause. Said commissioners shall receive for their services such compensation as the trustees may determine from time to time. The compensation of the commissioners shall be considered as an expense of the improvements, and shall be chargeable and payable as other expenses thereof.

SEC. 3. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. Within one month after the filing of such certified ^{Assessments} copy of said report, assessment, plat and order with the tax collector, and the entry of the same upon the county assessment roll, said tax collector shall give notice by 10 days' publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in said district, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in his county, that the assessment roll of ----- storm water district of ----- county, has been filed in his office, and entered upon the county assessment roll, with the date of such entry; that the amounts entered thereon are due and payable; that if not paid on or before the first Monday in January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes. If the first Monday in January next ensuing is less than three months from the date of filing the assessment roll with the tax collector, the date, to be stated in the notice, shall be three months after such entry upon the county assessment roll. The tax collector shall note on the county assessment roll all assessments paid, with the dates of payment, giving receipts as in the case of payments of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into such treasury. All collections of subsequent installments of the assessment shall be made in the same manner as above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually (after the first year), immediately after the first Monday of October give notice that the (giving the number) annual installment of the assessments of said district is now due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes; and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as upon the collection of the first assessment. Such notice shall be published once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, if there is one published in the district, or, if none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any part of the district is situated. If said district is situated in two or more different counties, all moneys collected on account of such assessment shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which said district was organized.

CHAPTER 1095

An act to amend Sections 72706, 72707, and 72708 of the Government Code, relating to commissioners of the municipal court.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 72706 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Municipal court commissioners

72706. The judges of the municipal court shall appoint as many commissioners, not exceeding four, as the business of the court requires. Each commissioner shall possess the same qualifications as the law requires of a judge of the court. Within the jurisdiction of the court and under the direction of the judges, each commissioner shall exercise the powers and perform the duties authorized by law to be performed by commissioners of the superior court and such additional powers and duties as may be prescribed by law. The commissioners shall hold office at the pleasure of the judges and shall receive an annual salary equal to that specified in Section 70140 for commissioners of the superior court. The commissioners shall be ex officio deputy clerks of the court and shall be members of any retirement system which includes attaches of the court.

SEC. 2. Section 72708 of said code is amended to read:

Traffic com-

CHAPTER 1100

An act to add Section 13533.5 to the Education Code, relating to the dismissal of certificated employees of school districts.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13533.5 is added to said code, to read:

13533.5. Upon any such trial, the court or any party may call and examine expert witnesses to testify as to any matter of professional or personnel standards, skill, fitness, competency, performance, or other such professional matters as may be involved in the subject matter at issue. Any such expert witness so called shall be examined as to his competency and qualifications as an expert and as to his bias, by the party or the court calling him. He shall be subject to objection as to such competency and qualifications or bias. If any such witness is called and examined by the court, the rights of the parties shall be those provided by Section 1871 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

If the court determines that any such witness is competent and qualified to testify as an expert as to any issue or matter involved in the trial, the court may also receive and consider as evidence any report thereon, or any relevant portions thereof, submitted by such expert witness individually or as a member of a commission on personnel standards, or a panel thereof, maintained by a state-wide professional educational association, but only if during such trial all members of such commission or panel are subject to the process of the court. The members of the commission, or of the panel which prepared the report may be called by the court or by any party to the proceeding to testify as expert witnesses as to the matters reported upon.

Before any such report or portion thereof may be introduced as evidence, a copy shall have been served upon the defendant at least 10 days before trial. Any report so received, and all testimony, statements and other proceedings before the commission, or the panel thereof, shall be deemed to be in connection with judicial proceedings within the meaning of Section 47 of the Civil Code.

The court may fix, and apportion and charge, the compensation and necessary expenses of any such expert or experts in the manner provided by Section 1871 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

CHAPTER 1101

An act to add Section 1603a to the Business and Professions Code, relating to the Board of Dental Examiners.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1603a is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read as follows:

1603a. A member of the Board of Dental Examiners who has served two terms shall not be eligible for reappointment to the board. In computing two terms hereunder, that portion of an unexpired term which a member fills as a result of a vacancy shall be excluded.

CHAPTER 1102

An act to amend Sections 5, 6, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 22, 26, 27, and 29 of the Humboldt County Flood Control District Act (Chapter 939, Stats. 1945), relating to flood control in Humboldt County.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of the Humboldt County Flood Control District Act is amended to read:

Sec. 5. The objects and purposes of this act are to provide for the control of the flood and storm waters of the district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside the district, but which streams and flood waters flow into the district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining, and causing such waters to percolate into the soil within the district, or to save and conserve in any manner all or any of such waters and to protect from such flood or storm waters the public highways, life and property in the district, and the watercourses and watersheds in the district and the watercourses and watersheds of streams flowing into the district, and to increase, and to prevent the waste or diminution of the water supply in the district, and to obtain, retain and reclaim drainage, storm, flood and other waters for beneficial use within the district.

It is a further purpose of this act to provide water to inhabitants of the district for any domestic use, irrigation, sanitation, industrial use, fire protection and recreation and to provide for all necessary facilities for distribution, sale, and storage of water for distribution for any such uses.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 6. The district is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic and as such shall have, in addition to the other powers vested in it by this act, the following powers:

1. To have perpetual succession.
2. To sue and be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.
4. To acquire by grant, purchase, lease, gift, devise, contract, condemnation, construction, or otherwise, and to hold, use, enjoy, sell, let, and dispose of real and personal property of every kind, including lands, structures, buildings, rights of way, easements, and privileges, and to construct, maintain, alter, and operate any and all works or improvements, within or without the district, necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act and convenient to the full exercise of its powers, and to complete, extend, add to, repair or otherwise

5. To furnish water for any of the purposes herein authorized and to construct all necessary facilities to distribute such water. To store water in surface or underground reservoirs within or outside of the district for the common benefit of the district or of any zone or zones affected; to conserve and reclaim water for present and future use within the district; to appropriate and acquire water and water rights, and import water into the district and to conserve within or outside of the district, water for any purpose of the district; to commence, maintain, intervene in, and compromise, in the name of the district, or otherwise, and to assume the costs and expenses of any action or proceeding involving or affecting the ownership or use of waters or water rights within or without the district, used or useful for any purpose of the district or of common benefit to any land situated therein, or involving the wasteful use of water therein; to commence, maintain, intervene in, defend and compromise and to assume the cost and expenses of any and all actions and proceedings now or hereafter begun; to prevent interference with or diminution of, or to declare rights in the natural flow of any stream or surface or subterranean supply of waters used or useful for any purpose of the district or of common benefit to the lands within the district or to its inhabitants; to prevent unlawful exportation of water from said district; to prevent contamination, pollution or otherwise rendering unfit for beneficial use the surface or subsurface water used in said district, and to commence, maintain and defend actions and proceedings to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger or damage the inhabitants, lands, or use of water in or flowing into the district; provided, however, that said district shall not have power to intervene or take part in, or to pay the costs or expenses of, actions or controversies between the owners of lands or water rights which do not affect the interests of the district.

Prohibitions

Flood and storm waters

6. To control the flood and storm waters of said district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district, but which streams and the flood waters thereof, flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes of said district by spreading, storing, retaining and causing to percolate into the soil within or without said district, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of such waters and protect from damage from such flood or storm waters the watercourses, watersheds, public highways, life and property in said district, and the watercourses and watersheds outside of the district of streams flowing into the district.

Cooperation
with other agencies

7. To cooperate and to act in conjunction with the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with the Government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with any public or private corporation, or with the County of Humboldt, in the construction of any work for the controlling of flood or storm waters of or flowing into said district, or for the protection of life or property therein, or for the purpose of conserving said waters for beneficial use within said district, or in any other works, acts, or purposes provided for herein, and to adopt and carry out any definite plan or system of work for any such purpose.

8. To carry on technical and other necessary investigations, make measurements, collect data, make analyses, studies, and inspections pertaining to water supply, water rights, control of flood and storm waters, and use of water both within and without said district relating to watercourses of streams flowing in or into said district, and in all cases where land may be required for public use by said district, the district, or its agents in charge of such use, shall have the right of access to all properties within the district and elsewhere relating to watercourses and streams flowing in or into said district and may survey and locate the same; but such must be located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury. The district, or its agents in charge of such public use may enter upon such lands and make examinations, surveys, and maps thereof, and such entry shall constitute no cause of action in favor of the owners of such land, except for injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness, or malice.

9. To enter upon any land, to make surveys and locate the necessary works of improvement and the lines for channels, conduits, canals, pipelines, roadways and other rights of way; to acquire by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, gift, devise, or other legal means all lands and water and water rights and other property necessary or convenient for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvement of said works, including works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for storage of necessary water, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said end, and for said purposes and uses, to acquire and to hold in the name of the State, the capital stock of any mutual water company or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning water or water rights, canals, waterworks, franchises, concessions, or rights, when the ownership of such stock is necessary to secure a water supply required by the district or any part thereof, upon the condition that when holding such stock, the district shall be entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges, and shall be subject to all the obligations and liabilities conferred or imposed by law upon other holders of such stock in the same company; to enter into and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with the United States, or any state, county, district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, leasing, ownership, disposition, use, management, maintenance, repair or operation of any rights, works or other property of a kind which might be lawfully acquired or owned by said Humboldt County Flood Control District; to acquire the right to store water in any reservoirs, or to carry water through any canal, ditch or conduit not owned or controlled by the district; to grant to any owner or lessee the right to the use of any water or right to store such water in any reservoir of the district, or to carry such water through any tunnels, canal, ditch, or conduit of the district; to enter into and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreement with any district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them for the transfer or delivery to any such district, corporation, association, firm or individual of any water right or water pumped, stored, appropriated or otherwise acquired or secured, for the use of the Humboldt County Flood Control District, or for the purpose of exchanging the same for other water, water right or water supply in exchange for water, water right or water supply to be delivered to said district by the other party to said agreement; to cooperate with, and to act in conjunction with, the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with the Government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments or agencies, or with any public or private corporation, in the construction of any work for the controlling of flood or storm waters of streams in or running into said district, or for the protection of life or property therein, or for the purpose of conserving said waters for beneficial use within said district, or in any other works, acts, or purposes provided for herein, and to adopt and carry out any definite plan or system of work for any such purpose.

Indebtedness
and bonds

10. To incur indebtedness and to issue bonds in the manner herein provided, including, but not limited to, the issuance of bonds on a district-wide or zone basis, the proceeds to be used for the works necessary to obtain, store, supply, and distribute water to the inhabitants of the district for any purposes herein authorized.

Taxes or assessments

11. To cause taxes or assessments to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district, and to carry out any of the purposes of this act, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Contracts,
etc

12. To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district or any of the officers thereof, by this act.

SEC. 3. Section 11 of said act is amended to read:

Employment
of engineers

Sec. 11. The board shall have jurisdiction and power by resolution to employ competent registered civil engineers to investigate and carefully devise a plan or plans to carry out any of the powers or purposes of the district to control the flood and storm waters of the district, and the zones thereof, and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district but which streams and the flood waters thereof flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by distributing or spreading, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within or without the district, or to save or conserve in any manner, any or all of such waters, and to protect the public highways, life and property within the district, and the watercourses and watersheds in the district and the watercourses and watersheds of streams flowing into the district, from damage relating to such waters; and to obtain such other information in regard thereto as may be deemed necessary or useful for carrying out the purposes of this act; and such resolution may direct such engineer or engineers to make and file reports from time to time with the board, which shall show:

Reports

1. A general description of the work proposed to be done, together with general plans, profiles, cross-sections, and general specifications relating thereto, on each project or work of improvement.

2. A general description of the lands, rights of way, easements and property proposed to be taken, acquired or injured in carrying out said work.

3. A map or maps which shall show the location and zones, as may be required, of each of said projects or improvements, and lands, rights of way, easements and property to be taken, acquired, or injured in carrying out said work, and any other information in regard to the same that may be deemed necessary or useful.

4. An estimate of the cost of each project or work of improvement, including an estimate of the cost of lands, rights of way, easements and property proposed to be taken, acquired or injured in carrying out said project or work of improvement, and also of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection therewith, including legal, clerical, engineering, superintendence, inspection, printing and advertising, and stating the total amount of bonds, if any, necessary to be issued to pay for the same.

Such engineer or engineers shall from time to time and as directed by the board file with the board supplementary, amendatory and additional reports and recommendations, as necessity and convenience may require.

Such engineer or engineers, employed by the board, shall have power and authority, subject to the control and direction of said board, to employ such engineers, surveyors, and others, as may be required for making all surveys or doing any other work necessary for the making of such report.

Assistants

The board may at any time remove any or all of the engineers or employees appointed or employed under this act, and may fill any vacancies occurring among them from any cause.

Removal

SEC. 4. Section 13 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 13. The board may institute district projects or projects for single zones and joint projects for two or more zones, and projects for subzones, for the financing, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work or improvement of common benefit to the district or to such zone, subzone, or participating zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of same to be borne by the district as a whole or by the particular zones, subzones, or participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution and which shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing, the last publication of which notice must be at least seven (7) days before said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation designated by the board, circulated in the district or in such zone, subzone, or each of said participating zones, if there be such newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper then by posting notice for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing in five public places designated by the board, in the district or in such zone, subzone, or in each of said participating zones. Said notice must designate a public place in the district or in such zone, subzone, or in each of said participating zones where a copy or copies of the map or maps of said project may be seen by any interested person; said map must be posted in each of said public places so designated in said notice at least two weeks prior to said hearing.

Notice of hearing

Hearing

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing written protests against the proposed project signed by a majority in number of the registered voters residing within the district or such zone, subzone, or participating zones be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to such project must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

SEC. 5. Section 14 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 14. The board shall have power, in any year:

Tax levies

1. To levy ad valorem taxes or assessments upon all property in the district to pay the general administrative costs and expenses of the district, and to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act of common benefit to the district, and

2. To levy taxes or assessments upon all property in each or any of said zones, subzones, and participating zones to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any or all works or improvements established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zones or subzones, according to the benefits derived or to be derived by said respective zones or subzones.

3. To levy taxes or assessments upon all property in each or any of said zones or subzones, according to the special benefits derived or to be derived by the specific properties therein to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out any of the objects or purposes of this act of special benefit to such zones or subzones, including the constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing, or otherwise improving any or all works of improvement established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zones or subzones.

In the event of project cooperation with any of the governmental bodies as authorized in Subdivision 7 of Section 6 of this act, and the making of a contract with any such governmental body for the purposes set forth in said Subdivision 7, by the terms of which work is agreed to be performed by any such governmental body in any specified zones, subzones, or participating zones, for the particular benefit thereof, and by said contract it is agreed that the district is to pay to such governmental body, a sum of money in consideration or subvention for the performance of said work by such governmental body, the board may levy and collect a special tax or assessment upon the property in such zone, subzone, or participating zones, whereby to raise funds to enable the district to make such payment, in addition to other taxes or assessments herein otherwise provided for.

Special
tax or assessment

Said taxes or assessments shall be levied and collected together with, and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and the revenues derived from said district taxes or assessments shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of said district, or the respective zones or subzones thereof, and the board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said purposes; provided, however, that no revenues, or portions thereof, derived in any of the several zones or subzones from the taxes or assessments levied under the provisions of Subdivision 2 of this section shall be expended for constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any works or improvements located in any other zone, or outside of such subzone, except in the case of joint projects, or for projects authorized or established outside such subzones, zone, or zones, but for the benefit thereof. In cases of projects joint to two or more zones, for which purpose a subzone may be construed to be a zone, such zones will become, and shall be referred to as, participating zones.

Collection
disposition

4. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, to levy taxes or assessments upon all real property and the improvements thereon on a district-wide basis to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving or constructing any or all works or improvements established to supply or distribute water.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, all assessments or taxes shall be levied on all real property and the improvements thereon only and any bonds issued under this act shall constitute a lien on real property and the improvements thereon only.

SEC. 6. Section 15 of said act is amended to read:

Resolution to incur bonded debt

Sec. 15. (1) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work or improvement in the district or any zone, subzone, or zones, the board may by resolution, determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement and the denomination and rate of interest of said bonds. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the office of the recorder of Humboldt County within five (5) days after its issuance. From and after said filing of said copy of said resolution the board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with the bond election.

Filing for record

election

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the board may call a special election in the district or said zone, subzone, or participating zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the district or said zone, subzone, or participating zones the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes or assessments levied upon the property situated within the district or the zone, subzone, or participating zones, and all such property shall be and remain liable to be taxed or assessed for such payments as provided in this act.

(3) Said board shall call such special bond election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of the district or said zone, subzone, or participating zones, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in the district or such zone, subzone, or participating zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the recorded copy of such resolution adopted by said board, and on file for particulars; and said ordinances shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and what part or installment of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, and which shall not in any one year be less than one-fortieth (1/40) of the whole amount of the principal and interest of such indebtedness, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. For the purposes of said election, said board shall in said ordinance establish election precincts within the boundaries of the district or each zone, subzone, and participating zone and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election precincts in said district to a number not exceeding six general precincts for each such bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each of such bond election precincts.

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State.

Said board shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. Maps Preparation and posting

Said ordinance calling for such election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in the district or in each zone, subzone, and participating zone affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places designated by the board, in the district or in each zone, subzone, and participating zone affected for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued. Publication and posting of election notices

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. If at such election two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds for the district or such zone, subzone or participating zones for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided. Two-thirds vote

SEC. 7. Section 16 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 16. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the zone, subzone, or participating zones affected, or a statement that the bonds are district-wide if such is the case, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid. SEC. 8. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. The board may issue and sell the bonds of the district or of such district zones, authorized as hereinbefore provided, at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the County of Humboldt to the credit of said district or the respective participating zones thereof, for the uses and purposes of the district or of the zone, subzone, or zones voting said bonds; and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of said county treasurer, and said respective zone funds or district-wide fund shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance calling such special bond election as aforesaid, subject to the provisions in this act contained. Payments from said zone funds or district fund shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the County of Humboldt. Before selling the bonds, or any part thereof, the legislative body shall give notice not less than 10 days prior to the date of sale by publication in a newspaper of general circulation circulating in the district inviting sealed bids in such manner as the legislative body shall prescribe. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be awarded to the highest responsible bidder. If no bids are received, or if the legislative body determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, the legislative body may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or sell the bonds at private sale.

Lien

SEC. 9. Section 18 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 18. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon all property of the district or of the zone, subzone, or zones of issuance as the case may be, and the lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual tax or assessment upon all property within the district where appropriate, or the zone, subzone, or participating zones, and all property in said zone, subzone, or participating zones shall be and remain liable to be taxed or assessed for such payments as hereinafter provided. No zone or subzone, nor the property therein shall be liable for the share of bonded indebtedness of any other zone, district, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation or assessment in any of the several zones or subzones be used in payment of principal or interest or otherwise of the share of bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other zone.

Annual tax for payment, etc

Said bonds may be deposited and registered with the treasurer of the county, and it shall be an official duty of said treasurer to receive and register said bonds in the name of the holder and to keep a sufficient book of registry thereof setting forth a description of the bonds and the names and addresses of the respective holders, and to give each holder of such bonds so registered a receipt therefor; that said receipts shall be personal to the respective holders and not transferable. That such bonds shall be returned to such holders thereof or in case of death to the duly appointed personal representative of the holder's estate upon the giving of receipt therefor, with or without return of the receipt given by the treasurer at the time of such deposit and registry. And the treasurer, at the request of such holder, or such personal representative, may detach and deliver to such holder or personal representative, mature coupons from time to time, first taking receipts therefor.

SEC. 9.5. Section 19 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 19. The board shall levy a tax or assessment each year upon all property in the district or the zone, subzone, or zones of issuance sufficient to pay the interest upon said bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy. Such taxes or assessments shall be levied and collected in the respective district, zones, or subzones of issuance together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said Humboldt County to the credit of the district or of the zone or subzone of payment, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer of said Humboldt County in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of said county.

trust companies, and for the State school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities in the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of said district issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, such bonds of said district may be so used.

Inconsistent
laws

This section of this act is intended to be and shall be considered the latest enactment with respect to the matters herein contained, and any and all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 26 of said act is amended to read:

Additional
bonds

Sec. 26. Whenever bonds have been authorized by the district as a whole or by any zone, subzone, or participating zone of said district and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as in this act authorized, and the board shall by resolution determine that additional bonds should be issued for carrying out the work for any of the purposes of this act, the board may again proceed as in this act provided, and submit to the qualified voters of the district or of said zone, subzone, or participating zone, the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedure as hereinbefore provided, and all the above provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

SEC. 12. Section 27 of said act is amended to read:

Limitation
on holding new election

Sec. 27. Should a proposition for issuing bonds for the district or for any zone, subzone, or participating zones submitted at any election under this act fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified electors voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the board shall not for six months after such election call or order another election in the district or in such zone, subzone, or participating zone for incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds under the terms of this act for the same objects and purposes.

SEC. 13. Section 29 of said act is amended to read:

Grant of right of way
for works

Sec. 29. There is hereby granted to Humboldt County Flood Control District the right of way for the location, construction and maintenance of flood control channels, ditches, waterways, conduits, canals, storm dikes, embankments, and protective works in, over and across public lands of the State of California, not otherwise disposed of or in use, not in any case exceeding in length or width that which is necessary for the construction of such works and adjuncts or for the protection thereof. Whenever any selection of a right of way for such works or adjuncts thereto is made by the district the board thereof must transmit to the State Lands Commission, the Controller of the State and the recorder of the county in which the selected lands are situated, a plat of the lands so selected, giving the extent thereof and the uses for which the same is claimed or desired, duly verified to be correct. If the State Lands Commission shall approve the selections so made it shall endorse its approval upon the plat and issue to the district a permit to use such right of way and lands.

CHAPTER 1103

An act to amend Section 4200 of the Government Code, relating to the posting of bonds on public works contracts.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4200 of the Government Code is amended to read:

4200. Every person to whom is awarded a contract involving an expenditure in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the improvement, erection or construction of any building, road, bridge or other structure, excavating, or other mechanical work for the State, or for any political subdivision or agency of the State shall, before entering upon the performance of the work, file a good and sufficient bond with the officer or body by whom the contract was awarded.

CHAPTER 1104

An act to amend Sections 3, 6.1, 11, and 13 of, and to add Sections 3.5 and 3.6 to, the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 666 of the Statutes of 1953), relating to flood control in Marin County.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3 of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act is amended to read:

Sec. 3. The board of supervisors of the district created by this act, by resolution thereof adopted from time to time, may establish zones within said district without reference to the boundaries of other zones, setting forth in such resolutions descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and entitling each of such zones by a zone number, and institute zone projects for specific benefit of such zones.

Establishment of
zones

Proceedings, including a hearing and determination of protests, for the establishment of any zone or any project shall be conducted in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act.

Proceedings for the establishment of zones may be conducted concurrently with and as a part of proceedings for the instituting of projects relating to such zones.

SEC. 2. Section 3.5 is added to said act, to read:

Concurrence of city

Sec. 3.5. Before acquiring authority to proceed with the establishment of any zone the exterior boundaries of which will include any land lying within the exterior boundaries of any chartered or incorporated city within the district, the board of supervisors shall first obtain the concurrence of such city to conduct such proceedings, such concurrence to be evidenced by a resolution or ordinance adopted by a majority of the members of the city council of such city, or by a vote of a majority of the qualified electors residing in such city or portion thereof to be included in said zone voting at any regular or special election on said proposition; said election shall in all particulars be held as provided by law for holding a municipal election in said city and the cost thereof shall be a city charge.

SEC. 3. Section 3.6 is added to said act, to read:

Protests

Sec. 3.6. The unincorporated area of a proposed zone shall be excluded if written protests are filed with the board, signed by registered voters of the unincorporated area to be included in the proposed zone equal in number to 50 percent of the votes cast for the Office of Governor at the last gubernatorial election in the unincorporated area of the proposed zone, or signed by holders of title to real property or assessable rights therein equal in value to one-half or more of the assessed value of the real property in the unincorporated area of the proposed zone with the determination of who may sign such protests to be made in the same manner as are determinations of who may sign the protests to establishment of zones or projects under Section 11 of this act.

SEC. 4. Section 6.1 of said act is amended to read:

Commission
appointed

Sec. 6.1. The board shall appoint a commission consisting of one member from each incorporated city within the County of Marin and such additional members as the board may deem adequate for proper representation from the balance of the County of Marin to assist and advise said board in the institution of projects or works of improvement, and the board may by ordinance provide for compensation for services and payment of the actual necessary expenses incurred by said members in the performance of official duties under this act, payable from the funds of the district. Members of the advisory commission shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

SEC. 5. Section 11 of said act is amended to read:

Authorized
projects

Sec. 11. The board may institute projects for single zones and joint projects for two or more zones, for the financing, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work or improvement of common benefit to such zones or participating zones and may establish zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project or establishment of a zone, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project or zone establishment, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of any project to be borne by the particular zone and in the case of participating zones the proportionate cost to be borne by each of the participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution and which shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project or proposed zone. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing, the last publication of which notice must be at least seven (7) days before said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation, circulated in such zone or each of said participating zones, if there be such newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper then by posting notice for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing in five public places designated by the board, in such zone or territory of a proposed zone or in each of said participating zones. Said notice must designate a public place in such zone or territory of a proposed zone or in each of said participating zones where a copy or copies of the map or maps of said joint project may be seen by any interested person. Said map must be posted in each of said public places so designated in said notice at least two weeks prior to said hearing.

intentionNotice of
hearing

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project or zone. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or zone or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing a written protest against the proposed project or zone signed by a majority in number of the holders of title to real property, or assessable rights therein, or evidence of title thereto, representing one-half or more of the assessed valuation of the real property within such zone or within any of the participating zones for which said project was initiated or the territory to be included in the proposed zone, be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to such project or zone must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

Protests

In all matters in this section referred to, the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin next preceding the filing of the protest shall be prima facie evidence as to the ownership of real property, the names and number of the persons who are the holders of title or evidence of title, or assessable rights therein, and as to the assessed valuation of real property within the zone, or proposed zone, or within any of the participating zones for which the project was initiated.

Evidence of
ownership

Protests by executors,
administrators,
etc.

Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may sign the protest provided for in this act on behalf of the estate represented by them. If the property is assessed in the name of such representatives, that fact shall establish the right of such representatives to sign the protest; if assessed in the name of the decedent, minor or incompetent person, certified copies of the letters or such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the board must be produced.

Common,
etc. ownership

Where real property appears to be owned in common or jointly or by a partnership, or where letters of representatives of decedents, minors or guardians are joint, only one of the owners or representatives or partners may sign the protest for all joint owners or representatives or partners; provided, the party claiming the right to protest for all produces the written consent of his co-owners or representatives or partners so to do, duly acknowledged by the consenting co-owners or representatives or partners in the manner that deeds of real property are required to be acknowledged to entitle such deeds to be recorded in the recorder's office of the county except that if the property jointly held is held by husband and wife and occupied by them as a dwelling, if the other spouse consents, the protest may be signed by either spouse without producing written evidence of the other's consent.

Trustees

Where real property is assessed in the name of a trustee or trustees, such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to be the person entitled to sign the protest, and if assessed in the name of more than one trustee the right to sign the protest shall be determined in like manner as above provided with respect to co-owners.

Public corporations,
etc.

The protest of any public or quasi-public corporation, private corporation or unincorporated association, may be signed by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other managing body thereof, which authorization shall be in writing; and a proxy executed by an officer or officers thereof, attested by its seal and duly acknowledged, shall constitute sufficient evidence of such authority, and shall be filed with the board.

Owner not of record

The owner of any real property or interest therein, appearing upon the assessment roll, which has been assessed in the wrong name or to unknown owners or which has passed from the owner appearing as such on the last equalized assessment roll, since the same was made, shall be entitled to sign the protest represented thereby, either by the production of a proxy from such former owner, or by furnishing evidence of his ownership by a conveyance duly acknowledged showing the title to be vested in the person claiming the right to sign the protest, accompanied by a certificate of a competent searcher of titles, certifying that a search of the official records of the county, since the date of the conveyance, discloses no conveyance or transfer out from the grantee or transferee named in the conveyance.

Where the real property has been contracted to be sold, the vendee shall be entitled to sign the protest, unless such real property is assessed in the name of the vendor, in which event the vendor shall be entitled to so do. Vendee

The board shall likewise be entitled to inquire and take evidence for the purpose of identifying any person claiming the right to sign the protest as being the person shown on the assessment roll or otherwise as entitled thereto. And, unless satisfactory evidence is furnished, the right to sign said protest may be denied.

SEC. 6. Section 13 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 13. (1) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work or improvement in any zone or zones, the board may by resolution, determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds necessary to be issued in each zone in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement and the denomination and the maximum rate of interest of said bonds. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the Office of the Recorder of Marin County within five (5) days after its issuance. From and after said filing of said copy of said resolution the board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with the bond election. Bond
Issues
Procedure

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the board may call a special bond election in said zone or participating zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes or assessments levied upon the property situated within the zone or participating zones, and all such property shall be and remain liable to be taxed or assessed for such payments as provided in this act. Special

(3) Said board shall call such special bond election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone or participating zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the recorded copy of such resolution adopted by said board, and on file for particulars; and said ordinance shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and what part or installment of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, and which shall in each year be approximately one-fortieth ($\frac{1}{40}$) of the aggregate of the whole amount of the principal and the total amount of interest to be paid over the entire term of such indebtedness, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. For the purpose of said election, said board shall in said ordinance establish special bond election precincts within the boundaries of each zone and participating zone and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general elections in said district to a number not exceeding six general precincts for each such special bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each of such special bond election precincts.

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such special bond election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State.

Maps

Said board shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election.

Publication

Said ordinance calling for such special bond election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in each zone and participating zone affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two consecutive times in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places designated by the board, in each zone and participating zone for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued.

Defect in proceedings

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. Where a project affects a single zone only, if at such election two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast in said zone on the proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness are in favor thereof, then bonds for such zone for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided. Where the incurring of bonded indebtedness by participating zones is to be determined at such election, no bonds for any such participating zones shall be issued or sold unless two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast on the proposition in each such participating zone are in favor of incurring the bonded indebtedness to be undertaken by such zone.

CHAPTER 1105

An act to amend Section 31595 of the Government Code, relating to investment of county retirement system funds.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31595 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31595. All funds received by the county treasurer not required for current disbursements shall be invested only in:

(a) Securities which are legal for savings bank investments in the State or which have been certified as legal investments for savings banks pursuant to Division 10 of the Water Code, or any bonds which, pursuant to the statutes or laws providing for the issuance of such bonds are entitled to the same force or value or use as bonds issued by any municipality, or any bonds issued pursuant to those acts, statutes or laws of this State wherein such law specifically states by reference or otherwise that such bonds shall be legal investments for either savings banks, insurance companies, all trust funds, state school funds and any funds which may be invested in bonds of cities, counties, cities and counties, school districts, or municipalities in the State, or any bonds which have been investigated and approved by a commission or board now or hereafter authorized by law to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which said bonds are declared to be legal investments for insurers.

(b) Deposits at interest in any state or national bank in accordance with law authorizing and controlling the deposit of public funds in banks.

(c) Certificates and shares of a building and loan association or a federal savings and loan association if the certificates or shares are insured as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act.

(d) Registered warrants of any political subdivision of this State.

(e) Real property or improvements constructed or to be constructed on real property when such real property or such improvements are acquired for sale or lease to a county of this State and subject to the limitations of this article.

(f) Deeds of Trust and Mortgages. Not to exceed 10 percent of all funds invested may be invested pursuant to this subdivision. Such investment may be made by the retirement board with the approval of the board of supervisors of said county.

CHAPTER 1106

An act to amend Section 6363 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to sales and use taxes.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6363 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6363. There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of, and the storage, use, or other consumption in this State of, meals and food products for human consumption served to the students or teachers of a school by public or private schools, school districts, student organizations, parent-teacher associations, and any blind person (as defined in Section 6905 of the Government Code) operating a restaurant or vending stand in an educational institution under Chapter 11 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, and meals and food products for human consumption served by employers or employee organizations to the employees engaged in work upon a particular project or undertaking. The term "food products" as used in this section has the meaning ascribed to it in Section 6359 except that the term includes foods furnished, prepared, or served for consumption at tables, chairs, or counters, or from trays, glasses, dishes, or other tableware provided by the retailer.

CHAPTER 1107

An act to add Article 3 to Chapter 4, Division 5, Title 1 of the Government Code, relating to services and supplies furnished by agricultural aircraft operators to public agencies.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 is added to Chapter 4, Division 5, Title 1 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 3. Services and Supplies of Agricultural Aircraft Operators

4360. As used in this article

(a) "Agricultural aircraft operator" means any person who applies, from an aircraft, chemicals, seeds, or fertilizers.

(b) "Services" means the application, from an aircraft, of chemicals, seeds, or fertilizers.

(c) "Supplies" means supplies used by an agricultural aircraft operator in performing services.

4361. Public officers and bodies charged with the purchase or the letting of contracts for services or supplies for any public use may give such contracts and purchase such services and supplies from agricultural aircraft operators who are residents of California if the bids of such persons, or the prices quoted by them, do not exceed by more than 5 percent the lowest bids or prices quoted by agricultural aircraft operators who are not residents of California.

CHAPTER 1108

An act to amend Sections 737, 739 and 743.6 of the Vehicle Code, relating to written notice to appear for traffic offenses.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 737 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

737. When Officer Has Option to Take Arrested Person Before a Magistrate. Whenever any person is arrested for any of the following offenses and the arresting officer is not required as hereinbefore provided to take such person without unnecessary delay before a magistrate, the arrested person shall, in the judgment of the arresting officer, either be given a 10 days' notice to appear as herein provided or be taken without unnecessary delay before a magistrate within the county in which the offense charged is alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of such offense and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where said arrest is made or, if the magistrate is not available, before his clerk or a jail custodian, as provided in Section 737.1.

(d) Section 670(e), relating to a failure or refusal of the driver of a vehicle to stop and submit to a brake test which is punishable as a misdemeanor.

(e) Section 709(e), relating to refusal to submit vehicle and load to a weighing which is punishable as a misdemeanor.

(f) Section 481, relating to failure to stop in the event of an accident involving damage to property.

(g) Section 483, relating to failure to stop after collision with an unattended vehicle.

(h) Section 601.5, relating to participating in speed contests.

(i) Section 332, relating to driving while license is suspended or revoked.

(j) When the person arrested has attempted to evade arrest.

(k) Section 608.3, relating to persons upon vehicular crossings.

SEC. 2. Section 739 of said code is amended to read:

When person arrested to be given notice to

739. When Person Arrested to Be Given Notice to Appear.

(a) Whenever a person is arrested for any violation of this code, not declared herein to be a felony, or for a violation of an ordinance of a city, county, or city and county, relating to traffic offenses, and such person is not immediately taken before a magistrate as hereinbefore required or permitted, the arresting officer shall prepare in duplicate a written notice to appear in court or before a person authorized to receive a deposit of bail, containing the name and address of such person, the license number of his vehicle, if any, the offense charged and the time and place when and where such person shall appear.

(b) The time specified in said notice to appear must be at least 10 days after such arrest.

(c) The place specified in said notice to appear shall be either:

(1) Before a magistrate within the county in which the offense charged is alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of the offense and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where said arrest is made; or

(2) Upon demand of the person arrested, before a municipal court judge or other magistrate having jurisdiction of such offense at the county seat of the county in which such offense is alleged to have been committed or before a magistrate in the judicial district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

(3) Before a person authorized to receive a deposit of bail. The clerk and deputy clerks of the municipal and justice's courts are persons authorized to receive bail in accordance with a schedule of bail approved by the judges of said courts.

(d) Said officer shall deliver one copy of said notice to appear to the arrested person and said arrested person in order to secure release must give his written promise so to appear in court or before a person authorized to receive a deposit of bail by signing the duplicate notice which shall be retained by said officer. Thereupon the arresting officer shall forthwith release the person arrested from custody.

(e) Said officer shall, as soon as practicable, file said duplicate notice with the magistrate or before a person authorized to receive a deposit of bail specified therein. If bail has not been previously fixed and approved by the judges of the court in accordance with a schedule of bail, the magistrate shall fix the amount of bail which in his judgment, in accordance with the provisions of Section 1275 of the Penal Code, will be reasonable and sufficient for the appearance of the defendant and shall endorse upon said notice a statement signed by him in the form set forth in Section 815a of the Penal Code. The defendant may, prior to the date upon which he promised to appear, deposit with the magistrate or the person authorized to receive a deposit of bail the amount of bail thus set. Thereafter, at the time when the case is called for arraignment before the magistrate, if the defendant shall not appear, either in person or by counsel, the magistrate may declare the bail forfeited, and may in his discretion order that no further proceedings shall be had in such case.

Upon the making of such order that no further proceedings be had, all sums deposited as bail shall forthwith be paid into the city or county treasury, as the case may be.

(f) No warrant shall issue on such charge for the arrest of a person who has given such written promise to appear in court or before a person authorized to receive a deposit of bail, unless and until he has violated such promise or has failed to deposit bail, to appear for arraignment, trial or judgment, or to comply with the terms and provisions of the judgment, as required by law.

SEC. 3. Section 743.6 of said code is amended to read:

743.6. Procedure Upon Arrest Discretionary in Certain Cases. Whenever any person is arrested by any member of the California Highway Patrol for any violation of any state law regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways declared to be a misdemeanor but which offense is not specified in this code, such person shall, in the judgment of the arresting officer, either be given a 10-day notice to appear in the manner hereinbefore provided or be taken without unnecessary delay before a magistrate within the county in which the offense charged is alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of such offense and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where said arrest is made, or, upon demand of the person arrested, before a magistrate in the judicial district in which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

CHAPTER 1109

An act to amend Section 130 of the Vehicle Code, relating to records of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 130 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

130. Records of Department. (a) All records of the department relating to the registration of vehicles and such information as is contained on an application for an operator's or chauffeur's license shall be open to public inspection during office hours, except that such records of the department relating to the physical or mental condition of any person shall be confidential.

(b) The department shall have the right to sell information from its records concerning the registration of any vehicle or information from the files for operator or chauffeur licenses at a charge sufficient to pay the actual cost to the department for providing such information, the charge for such information to be determined by the Director of Motor Vehicles with the approval of the Department of Finance, with a minimum charge of twenty-five cents ($0.25) for each item. The department may sell stamps or coupons in appropriate denominations for the convenient enforcement of this section. Such stamps or coupons may be used to accompany requests for information in lieu of cash, but otherwise shall be nonredeemable and shall be canceled by the department upon granting the request for information. This subdivision does not apply to statistical information of the type heretofore compiled and distributed by the department nor to information, the purpose of which relates to traffic accidents or traffic offenses or traffic enforcement.

(c) The department shall have the right to sell copies of all or any part of its records at a charge sufficient to pay at least the entire actual cost to the department of such copies, the charge for such records and the conditions under which they may be sold to be determined by the Director of Motor Vehicles, with the approval of the Department of Finance.

(d) The department shall not make any charge for any copies of records, or for information given out from its records, to any county, city, or city and county, or to any state department, or Federal Government.

CHAPTER 1110

An act to amend Section 258 of the Probate Code, relating to estates of victims of homicide.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 258 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

258. No person convicted of the murder or voluntary manslaughter of the decedent shall be entitled to succeed to any portion of the estate; but the portion thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled to succeed goes to the other persons entitled thereto under the provisions of this chapter.

CHAPTER 1111

An act to amend Section 795.1 of the Agricultural Code, relating to citrus fruits.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 795.1 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

795.1. Oranges, except bloods, tangerines and mandarins, shall not be considered mature (a) unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice (the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization), and unless 90 percent or more of the oranges in any lot, by count, before picking have attained, on at least one-fourth of the fruit surface, at least a minimum characteristic orange color, as indicated by Color Plate No. 13-L-2 in "Dictionary of Color," Maerz and Paul, first edition, 1930; or (b) unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of 10 parts to every part of acid contained in the juice (the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization), and unless the average hue of the surface of 95 percent or more of the oranges before picking have attained a minimum characteristic orange color, as indicated by Color Plate No. 21-L-6 in "Dictionary of Color," Maerz and Paul, first edition, 1930. No oranges may be accelerated in color unless the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice (the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization).

The tolerances allowed by Section 795 shall not apply to the provisions of this section when determining whether any lot of oranges complies with the maturity standard.

CHAPTER 1112

An act to add Section 13205 to the Education Code, relating to political activities of school employees.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13205 is added to the Education Code, to read:

13205. Neither any local legislative body nor any school district governing board shall enact or enforce any ordinance or promulgate or enforce any rule or regulation which limits, during their off-duty hours, the participation of school employees in political activities not prohibited by this code.

CHAPTER 1113

An act to amend Section 919 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish nets.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 919 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

919. As used in this chapter the term "bait net" means a lampara or round haul type net with cotton twine mesh not exceeding standard No. 9 medium cotton seine twine, except that the selvedge webbing for a distance of three feet from the cork line, measured stretched, mesh shall not exceed in size standard No. 9 cotton twine. The net shall not have rings along the lead line or any method of pursing the bottom of the net.

Bait nets may be used to take fish for bait in any ocean district except District 20; provided, that in Districts 19A and 19B bait nets may be used only to take sardines, anchovies, queenfish, white croakers, and smelt for bait only, and no other species of fish may be taken or possessed on any boat carrying a bait net in District 19A.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the use of bait nets in Districts 19A and 19B for taking fish for use as fish food in state fish hatcheries.

CHAPTER 1114

An act to amend Section 14112 of, and to add Section 14112.1 to, the Education Code, relating to school district merit systems for noncertificated employees.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14112 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Classification
of employees and positions

14112. The commission shall classify all employees and positions within the jurisdiction of the governing board or of the commission. The employees and positions shall be known as the classified service. Positions required to have certification qualifications, part-time playground positions, full-time day students employed part time, apprentices and professional experts employed on a temporary basis for a specific project by the governing board or by the commission when so designated by the commission, shall not be included therein.

However, nothing in this section shall prevent an employee, who has attained regular status in a full-time position, from taking a voluntary reduction in time and retaining his regular status under the provisions of this law.

No person whose contribution consists solely in the rendition of individual personal services and whose employment does not come within the scope of the exceptions listed above shall be employed outside of the classified service.

A part-time position is one for which the assigned time, when computed on an hourly, daily, weekly, or monthly basis, is less than $87\frac{1}{2}$ percent of the normally assigned time of the majority of employees in the classified service. Part-time position

SEC. 2. Section 14112.1 is added to said code, to read:

14112.1. The commission may classify as apprentice positions certain positions where the principal requirement is that of learning to perform efficiently, by study and practice, specific duties concerning which a definite plan of systematic instruction and special supervision has been provided by the California Apprenticeship Council for the designated trade. Apprentice positions

The apprenticeship training plan adopted by the governing board of the school district must be approved by the California Apprenticeship Council.

No assignment to any position classified as an apprentice position shall be allowed to continue beyond the predetermined apprenticeship period prescribed by the California Apprenticeship Council for the designated trade. Selection of eligibles shall be made in accordance with their position on employment lists established by competitive or qualifying examinations.

Credit for prior training in a regularly indentured apprenticeship program shall be given to qualified candidates. Same

In all cases of apprenticeship probationary periods, the standards of duration and qualifications shall be fixed by the commission insofar as they do not exceed the maximum standards set up by the California Apprenticeship Council. Termination for cause may be prescribed for any apprentice who fails to attain the predetermined standards of apprenticeship or for causes as prescribed by the rules of the commission.

The commission shall recommend to the governing board a graduated scale of compensation rates for the various levels of apprentices, taking into consideration the percentage relationship to the districts' journeyman wage of the trade as provided in the statement of policies of the California Apprenticeship Council.

The commission may determine that promotional examinations shall be held for entrance into various levels of apprentice positions and entrance into journeyman positions in a skilled trade; provided, that there is a field of promotion from adequately trained apprentices in the trade concerned.

CHAPTER 1115

An act to amend Section 1304 of the Education Code, relating to qualifications for school superintendents and their staffs.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1304 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1304. No person shall be eligible to hold a position as city superintendent, district superintendent, deputy superintendent, associate superintendent, or assistant superintendent of schools unless he is the holder of both a valid school administration certificate and a valid teacher's certificate, but any person employed as a deputy, associate, or assistant superintendent in a purely clerical capacity shall not be required to hold an administration certificate.

CHAPTER 1116

An act to add Sections 14121.1 and 14121.2 to the Education Code, relating to classified employees of school districts.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14121.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

Certification
prior to examination

14121.1. When an open competitive examination and a promotional examination for a particular class are held at the same time, the commission may prior to the examination authorize certification for employment of candidates from the open competitive eligibility list before the promotional eligibility list has been exhausted if (1) the candidate on the open list has a higher score before adjustment for preferential credits than the score of the highest available candidate on the promotional list after seniority credits have been added, and also if (2) either the class has fewer than three positions in the class or the most recent promotional examination for the class has failed to provide an adequate number of available eligibles on a promotional list to fill all regular vacancies which developed during the first year of the life of the eligibility list.

SEC. 2. Section 14121.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

Classification
without examination

14121.2. When all of the positions in a class are reclassified to a higher class or responsibility level, the incumbents of the positions who have been in the class for five or more years may be reclassified without competitive examination. When a portion of the positions within a class are reclassified to a higher class or responsibility level an incumbent who has a continuous employment record of five or more years in one or more of the positions being reclassified is eligible upon passing competitive or qualifying examination as provided by commission rule to reclassification to the higher class.

CHAPTER 1117

An act to amend Section 6321 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to fees payable for law libraries.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6321 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6321. On the commencement in, or the removal to, the superior court of any county in this State, of any civil action, proceeding, or appeal, and on the commencement in, or removal to, the municipal court or justice court in any county, of any civil action or proceeding, the party instituting such proceeding, or filing the first papers, shall pay to the clerk of the court, for the law library, on filing the first papers, the sum of one dollar ($1) as costs, in addition to the fees fixed by law

CHAPTER 1118

An act to amend Sections 21155 and 21156 of the Education Code, relating to the California Maritime Academy.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21155 of the Education Code is amended to read:

21155. Any male resident of the State who has the required qualifications may be admitted to the school as a student. Each such student shall pay the tuition fee fixed by the board of governors but such fee shall not be fixed at less than one hundred thirty-five dollars ($135) a trimester.

SEC. 2. Section 21156 of said code is amended to read:

21156. Nonresident students may be admitted to the school when vacancies occur, subject to the payment of a tuition fee in such amount as the board of governors may fix but such fee shall not be fixed at less than two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225) a trimester.

CHAPTER 1119

An act to amend Sections 1030, 1031, 1032, 1033, 1034 and 1044 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to domestic fish breeder's license.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1030 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

Ponds

1030. Any person who owns or leases privately owned land may establish and maintain thereon ponds for the propagation and raising of fish domesticated subject to the provisions of this article.

SEC. 2. Section 1031 of said code is amended to read:

Requirements for artificial bodies of water, etc

1031. All artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries in which fish may be propagated and raised under the provisions of this article shall be entirely within the exterior boundaries of the land owned or leased by the applicant, and there shall be no natural inlet or outlet for the waters contained therein. For the purpose of this section, waters existing seasonally or intermittently and not serving as a passageway or nursery area for anadromous fish are considered as being without a natural inlet or outlet. All artificial inlets and outlets of said artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries must be screened to prevent the ingress or egress of fish to or from any natural body of water.

SEC. 3. Section 1032 of said code is amended to read:

Application
for license

1032. A person desiring to propagate and raise fish shall file with the department each year a written application for a license so to do.

SEC. 4. Section 1033 of said code is amended to read:

Fee

1033. The fee for a domestic fish breeder's license shall be fifteen dollars ($15) per calendar year or part thereof. This section shall become effective January 1, 1956.

SEC. 5. Section 1034 of said code is amended to read:

Examination
for license

1034. Upon receipt of the application, the department shall examine the land and waters described therein at the expense of the applicant. If the body of water or private hatchery has been constructed and screened according to the provisions of this article and the application is proper and reasonable, the department shall grant to the applicant a license to propagate and raise the domesticated fish mentioned in the application, and to possess said domesticated fish for a calendar year, or, if issued after the beginning of such year, for the remainder thereof. The license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on the land described in the application and shall expire at the end of the calendar year.

SEC. 6. Section 1044 of said code is amended to read:

1044. Live domestically raised fish may be sold and transported only when accompanied by a permit issued by the department. No such permit shall be issued unless said fish are consigned to a person having a license or permit under Section 1034, 1047, or 561.1. Permit to sell or transport

CHAPTER 1120

An act to add Section 31.1 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to the improvement of lakes and streams for fish.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31.1 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

31.1. The department may expend such funds as may be necessary for the improvement of lakes and streams for fish, including the selection, restoration, rehabilitation and improvement of areas of water or land adaptable as hatching, feeding, resting or breeding places for fish, and the construction of such works as may be necessary to make them available for such purposes, including the removal of barriers to the movement and migration of fish with the permission of the owner.

The department may carry on said fisheries habitat improvement work on private land with the permission of the property owner, without the State acquiring an interest therein.

CHAPTER 1121

An act to amend Section 5151 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to expenses of proceedings for the commitment of persons alleged to be mentally ill or insane.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5151 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5151. If the person alleged to be mentally ill or sought to be committed is not an indigent person, the costs of the proceedings are a charge upon his estate, or shall be paid by persons legally liable for his maintenance, unless the judge orders otherwise. The fees allowed the medical examiners, court appointed or otherwise, shall be included as charges against the estate of the person alleged to be mentally ill or against persons responsible for his maintenance only if such person is adjudged to be mentally ill.

CHAPTER 1122

An act to amend Section 2571 of the Elections Code, relating to elections.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2571 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

2571. A statement of the number of voters in his county at the close of registration on the nineteenth day prior thereto shall be transmitted to the Secretary of State by each county clerk at the following times:

(a) On the one hundred thirty-fifth day before each presidential primary.

(b) On the ninety-fifth day before each direct primary.

(c) On the one hundred thirty-fifth day before each direct primary.

(d) On the thirty-fifth day before each general election.

The statement shall show the total number of voters in the county, the number registered as affiliated with each political party and the number who declined to state a party affiliation.

CHAPTER 1123

An act to amend Sections 14728.1 and 14728.3 of, and to add Section 14728.2 to, the Education Code, relating to school district retirement systems.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14728.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

14728.1. Excepting as provided in Section 14744 of this code, upon the termination of a member's employment, his accumulated contributions shall be paid to him at his request unless the member owes funds to the school district of which he was an employee and of which the district retirement system has been informed, in which case repayment will not be made until his obligation to said school district has been discharged; and provided, he is not reinstated prior to receipt of repayment of his accumulated contributions. It is further provided that, if in the opinion of the district retirement board his employment is permanently terminated, such repayment may be made without request by the member.

SEC. 2. Section 14728.2 is added to said code, to read:

14728.2. If a person is returned to service prior to the receipt of a refund of his accumulated contributions, the time between the date of termination of his service and his return to service shall be considered as a leave of absence for district retirement system purposes.

SEC. 3. Section 14728.3 of said code is amended to read:

14728.3. If a person whose accumulated contributions have been returned to him thereafter re-enters the system within 39 months after such return of his contributions, he may within 60 days after his re-entry elect to redeposit said contributions, with interest from the date of return of the contributions by the district to the date of redeposit, at such rates and within such period as the rules of the governing board may provide, but such period shall be not less than five years, or limited to the date of retirement or subsequent termination of service for reason other than death, whichever shall first occur.

CHAPTER 1124

An act to amend Section 13841.3 of, and to add Sections 13671.5 and 14071.5 to, the Education Code, relating to school district employees.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13671.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

13671.5. When any provision of this code expressly authorizes or requires the governing board of a school district to grant a leave of absence for any purpose or for any period of time to persons employed in positions requiring certification qualifications, that express authorization or requirement does not deprive the governing board of the power to grant leaves of absence with or without pay to such employees for other purposes or for other periods of time, so long as the governing board does not deprive any employee of any leave of absence to which he is entitled by law.

Leaves of absence Certificated
employees

SEC. 2. Section 13841.3 of said code is amended to read:

13841.3. Every person employed by a school district in a position requiring certification qualifications is entitled to three days' leave of absence for the death of any member of his immediate family, and to such additional days therefor as the governing board of the district may allow. No deduction shall be made from the salary of such employee on account of such leave of absence. The governing board may enlarge the benefits of this section.

Absence for death in immediate family

"Member of his immediate family" as used in this section means the mother, father, husband, wife, son, daughter,

"Member
of his immediate family"

brother, or sister of the employee, or any relative living in the immediate household of the employee.

SEC. 3. Section 14071.5 is added to said code, to read:

Noncertified
employees

14071.5. When any provision of this code expressly authorizes or requires the governing board of a school district to grant a leave of absence for any purpose or for any period of time to persons employed in positions not requiring certification qualifications, that express authorization or requirement does not deprive the governing board of the power to grant leaves of absence with or without pay to such employees for other purposes or for other periods of time, so long as the governing board does not deprive any employee of any leave of absence to which he is entitled by law.

Legislative declaration

SEC. 4. It is hereby declared that this act is not a change in the present law but is a declaration of pre-existing law.

CHAPTER 1125

An act to add Sections 1011.1, 1011.2, and 1011.3 to the Education Code and to amend Sections 1097 and 3060 of the Government Code, relating to the interest of members of governing boards of school districts in contracts and transactions made by the boards.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1011.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

When board members may have interest in contracts,
etc.

1011.1. Except as provided in Section 1011.2, no contract or other transaction entered into by the governing board of any school district is either void or voidable under the provisions of Section 1011, nor shall any member of such board be disqualified or deemed guilty of misconduct in office under said provisions, if the circumstances specified in the following subdivisions exist:

(a) The fact of such interest is disclosed or known to the governing board and noted in the minutes, and the governing board thereafter authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract or transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of such interested member or members, and

(b) The contract or transaction is just and reasonable as to the school district at the time it is authorized or approved.

SEC. 2. Section 1011.2 is added to said code, to read:

Exceptions

1011.2. The provisions of Section 1011.1 shall not be applicable if the circumstances specified in any of the following subdivisions exist:

(a) The contract or transaction is between the school district and a member of the governing board of that district.

(b) The contract or transaction is between the school district and a partnership or unincorporated association of which any member of the governing board of that district is a partner or in which he is the owner or holder, directly or indirectly, of a proprietorship interest.

(c) The contract or transaction is between the school district and a corporation in which any member of the governing board of that district is the owner or holder, directly or indirectly, of five percent (5%) or more of the outstanding common stock.

(d) A board member is interested in a contract or transaction within the meaning of Section 1011, and without first disclosing such interest to the governing board at a public meeting of the board, influences or attempts to influence another member or members of the board to enter into the contract or transaction.

SEC. 3. Section 1011.3 is added to said code, to read:

1011.3. The question of the validity or invalidity of a contract or other transaction entered into by the governing board of any school district where a member of the governing board of that district is interested in such contract or transaction, as well as the question of disqualification or misconduct in office of such interested member, shall be exclusively governed by the provisions of the Education Code which are hereby declared to and shall supersede (1) any and all provisions of law contained in any code or law of this State, except those which specifically refer to members of the governing board of school districts and which might otherwise be applicable and (2) any and all provisions of law contained in any charter or ordinance of a city, county or city and county, which might otherwise be applicable.

SEC. 4. Section 1097 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1097. Every officer or person prohibited by the laws of this State from making or being interested in contracts, or from becoming a vendor or purchaser at sales, or from purchasing scrip, or other evidences of indebtedness, including any member of the governing board of a school district, who wilfully violates any of the provisions of such laws, is punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, and is forever disqualified from holding any office in this State.

SEC. 5. Section 3060 of said code is amended to read:

3060. An accusation in writing against any officer of a district, county, or city, including any member of the governing board of a school district, for wilful or corrupt misconduct in office, may be presented by the grand jury of the county for or in which the officer accused is elected or appointed. An accusation may not be presented without the concurrence of at least 12 grand jurors.

CHAPTER 1126

An act to amend Section 4248 of the Agricultural Code, relating to stabilization and marketing of fluid milk and fluid cream.

In effect
September
7 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4248 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

4248. The director may amend or terminate any stabilization and marketing plan, after notice and public hearing as prescribed in Article 5, in the event that he finds that such plan is no longer in conformity with the standards prescribed in, or will not tend to effectuate the purposes of, this chapter. Such hearing may be held upon the motion of the director and shall be held upon receipt of a petition signed by producers, or by the board of directors of any nonprofit agricultural cooperative marketing association which is authorized by its members to so petition. Such petition or petitions shall represent not less than 55 percent of the total number of all producers and not less than 55 percent of the total production of all producers who are eligible to petition the director for the formulation of such plan.

CHAPTER 1127

An act to amend Section 743 of the Agricultural Code, relating to the California Dairy Industry Advisory Board.

In effect
September
7 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 743 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

743. There is in the State Government the California Dairy Industry Advisory Board which consists of twenty-five (25) members, who shall be citizens and residents of this State. Eleven (11) members of said board shall be actually engaged in the production of milk, or shall represent producers actually engaged in the production of milk. These 11 members are the producer members of the board. Eleven (11) members of said board shall be handlers of dairy products. These 11 members are the handler members of the board. Insofar as it is practicable, the proportion of the producer members who produce market milk and the proportion of such members who produce manufacturing milk, and the proportion of the handler members who handle market milk and the proportion of such members who handle manufacturing milk shall be the same as the proportions in which market milk and manufacturing milk are produced in this State as shown by the then most recently available records of the department; but this requirement shall not operate to remove from office any member of the board. The remaining three (3) members of the board shall be producer-handlers who produce a major portion of the milk used in the dairy products handled by them. Officials or members, otherwise qualified, of corporations, associations, and other business units, which are actually engaged in business as producers, producer-representatives, handlers, or producer-handlers of dairy products, shall be eligible to be members of the board.

Producer-representatives may be nominated in the same manner as provided in Section 744.1, except that to be eligible for appointment, the producer-representative shall furnish to the director a resolution in writing transmitting the official action of the board of directors of the organization he represents so nominating him

An act to add Title 3 to Part 4 of the Penal Code and to repeal Sections 11109, 11110, 11111, 11113, and 11114 of said code, relating to a Uniform Criminal Statistics Act, based upon the uniform act adopted by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 3 is added to Part 4 of the Penal Code, to read:

TITLE 3. CRIMINAL STATISTICS

CHAPTER 1. BUREAU OF CRIMINAL STATISTICS

Article 1. Administration

13000. There is in the Department of Justice a Bureau of Criminal Statistics. Bureau of Criminal Statistics

13001. The bureau shall be supervised by a Chief, Bureau of Criminal Statistics, who shall be a person with statistical training and experience and possessing a good knowledge of the problems of criminal law enforcement and administration and penal and correctional institutions and methods. Chief

The Attorney General shall appoint the chief and employees of the bureau, subject to provisions of the State Civil Service Act.

The tenure and status of the chief and employees of the bureau, as heretofore constituted, shall not be affected by the enactment of this title.

Article 2. Duties of the Bureau

Duties of bureau

13010. It shall be the duty of the bureau:

(a) To collect data necessary for the work of the bureau, from all persons and agencies mentioned in Section 13020 and from any other appropriate source;

(b) To prepare and distribute to all such persons and agencies, cards or other forms used in reporting data to the bureau. Such cards or forms may, in addition to other items, include items of information needed by federal bureaus or departments engaged in the development of national and uniform criminal statistics;

(c) To recommend the form and content of records which must be kept by such persons and agencies in order to insure the correct reporting of data to the bureau;

(d) To instruct such persons and agencies in the installation, maintenance, and use of such records and in the reporting of data therefrom to the bureau;

(e) To process, tabulate, analyze and interpret the data collected from such persons and agencies;

(f) To supply, at their request, to federal bureaus or departments engaged in the collection of national criminal statistics data they need from this State; and

(g) To present to the Governor, on or before July 1st, a printed annual report containing the criminal statistics of the preceding calendar year and to present at such other times as the Attorney General may approve reports on special aspects of criminal statistics. A sufficient number of copies of all reports shall be printed or otherwise prepared to enable the Attorney General to send a copy to all public officials in the State dealing with criminals and to distribute them generally in channels where they will add to the public enlightenment.

Service as statistical and research
agency

13011. The bureau may serve as statistical and research agency to the Department of Corrections, the Adult Authority, the Board of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority and the Board of Trustees of the California Institution for Women.

CHAPTER 1130

An act to add Section 1686 to Article 2, Chapter 9, Division 2 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to county aid to cities.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1686 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

1686. The Legislature hereby finds that the improvement and maintenance of all city streets is of general county interest. The board of supervisors of any county may, by resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of its members, determine that county aid shall be extended for the improvement or maintenance of streets within a city or extending along or across the boundary of a city.

Such resolution shall specify the general nature of the improvement and maintenance proposed, the nature of the aid to be furnished by the county, and any funds from which the aid is to be paid. Such resolution need not specify the streets to be improved or maintained within such city but may in general terms specify the general character of the work proposed and require such reports and accounting of the expenditure of such aid funds as it may find to be necessary and convenient. The provisions of this section shall be deemed as an alternative procedure to that otherwise specified in this article.

CHAPTER 1131

An act to amend Section 25353 of the Government Code, relating to the powers and duties of boards of supervisors.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25353 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25353. The board may purchase, receive by donation, lease, or otherwise acquire water rights or real or personal property necessary for use of the county for any county buildings, public pleasure grounds, public parks, botanical gardens, harbors, historical monuments, and other public purposes, or upon which to sink wells to obtain water for sprinkling roads and other county purposes. The board may improve, preserve, take care of, manage, and control the property.

CHAPTER 1132

An act to add Sections 72757, 72758, and 72759 to the Government Code, relating to municipal court officers.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 72757 is added to the Government Code, to read:

72757. In each municipal court district having not more than five judges authorized by law, a jury and traffic commissioner may be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the judge in service in a municipal court district having one judge or a majority of the judges or the senior judge in service in a municipal court district having two or more judges.

SEC. 2. Section 72758 is added to said code, to read:

72758. The jury and traffic commissioner shall exercise all the powers and perform all of the duties of the jury commissioner of a superior court insofar as they are applicable to municipal courts, together with such additional powers and duties as may be prescribed by law. In addition and without extra compensation, he may be appointed and serve as a general commissioner of the court if he possesses the qualifications prescribed therefor. As such general commissioner, he shall exercise all the powers and perform all of the duties of a commissioner of a superior court insofar as they are applicable to municipal courts, together with such additional powers and duties as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 3. Section 72759 is added to said code, to read:

72759. Notwithstanding the provision of Section 72190 relating to qualifications, the jury and traffic commissioner shall be a law school graduate and shall be appointed from the staff of court clerks and shall receive the salary to which he would otherwise be entitled.

CHAPTER 1133

An act to amend Section 2021 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to depositions.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2021 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2021. The testimony of a witness in this State may be taken by deposition in an action at any time after the service of the summons or the appearance of the defendant, and in a special proceeding after a question of fact has arisen therein, in the following cases:

1. When the witness is a party to the action or proceeding or an officer, member, agent, or employee of a corporation, or the agent or employee of a municipal corporation, which corporation or municipal corporation is a party to the action or proceeding, or an agent or employee of an individual who is a party to the action or proceeding, or a person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended;

2. When the witness resides out of the county in which his testimony is to be used, or resides in the county but more than 50 miles distant from the place of trial or hearing by the nearest usual traveled route;

3. When the witness is about to leave the county where the action is to be tried, and will probably continue absent when the testimony is required;

4. When the witness, otherwise liable to attend the trial, is nevertheless too infirm to attend;

5. When the testimony is required upon a motion, or in any other case where the oral examination of the witness is not required;

6. When the witness is the only one who can establish facts or a fact material to the issue; provided, that the deposition of such witness shall not be used if his presence can be procured at the time of the trial of the cause;

7. When the witness is a subscribing witness to a will and the action is one to contest the will;

8. When the witness is the custodian, or one of the custodians, of hospital records relating to a patient whose physical or mental condition is at issue.

CHAPTER 1134

An act to amend Section 73300 of the Government Code, relating to salaries in municipal court districts.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 73300 of the Government Code is amended to read:

73300. When an annual salary is prescribed in this chapter, the salary is payable in equal monthly installments, except that if an annual salary is prescribed in this chapter for the judges, clerks, and other officers and attaches of the municipal court of the City and County of San Francisco, such salary is payable either in equal monthly installments or in equal semimonthly installments, as may be determined pursuant to law.

CHAPTER 1135

An act to amend Section 118 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the requirement that public assistance records be kept confidential.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955 Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 118 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

118. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all applications and records concerning any individual made or kept by any public officer or agency in connection with the administration of any provision of this code relating to any form of public assistance for which grants-in-aid are received by this State from the United States Government shall be confidential, and shall not be open to examination for any purpose not directly connected with the administration of such provision of this code; provided, however, any agency having custody of such records may make the disbursement records available to the district attorney upon his request. The information thus obtained shall be made available to the district attorney for the official conduct of his agency and shall not be used for any other purpose.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, no person shall publish or disclose or permit or cause to be published or disclosed any list of persons receiving any such public assistance. Except for purposes directly connected with the administration of such public assistance, no person shall publish, disclose, or use or permit or cause to be published, disclosed, or used any confidential information pertaining to an applicant or recipient. Any violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

The State Department of Social Welfare may make rules and regulations governing the custody, use and preservation of all records, papers, files and communications pertaining to the administration of the public assistance laws. The rules and regulations shall be binding on all departments, officials and employees of the State, or of any political subdivision of the State and may provide for giving information to or exchanging information with public agencies or private social welfare or health agencies for their use in relation to cases in which such agencies, as a part of their usual duties, are making social investigations for the purpose of rendering social services, and for making case records available for research purposes; provided, that such research will not result in the disclosure of the identity of applicants for public assistance.

Any person, including every public officer and employee, who knowingly secures, or possesses, other than in the course of official duty, an official list or a list compiled from official sources, published or disclosed in violation of this section, of persons who have applied for or who have been granted any form of public assistance for which state assistance is made available to the counties of the State, including but not limited to aid to the aged, aid to needy children, aid to needy blind, and aid to partially self-supporting blind residents, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 1136

An act to add Article 3 to Chapter 5, Division 12 of the Education Code, relating to the protection of school pupils.

In effect
September
7, 1955

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with
Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 is added to Chapter 5, Division 12 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 3. Prohibition Against Giving Out Information Concerning School Pupils

24560. No teacher, principal, employee, or governing board member of any public, private, or parochial school shall give out any personal information concerning any particular minor pupil enrolled in the school in any class of the twelfth grade or below to any person except under judicial process unless the person is one of the following:

- (a) A parent or guardian of such pupil.

(b) A person designated by such parent or guardian in writing.

(c) An officer or employee of a public, private, or parochial school where the pupil attends, has attended, or intends to enroll.

(d) An officer or employee of the United States, the State of California, or a city, city and county, or county seeking information in the course of his duties.

(e) An officer or employee of a public or private guidance or welfare agency of which the pupil is a client.

(f) An employer or potential employer of the pupil.

Restrictions imposed by this act are not intended to interfere with the giving of information by school personnel concerning participation in athletics and other school activities, the winning of scholastic or other honors and awards, and other like information.

CHAPTER 1137

An act to amend Section 3070 of the Labor Code, relating to the Apprenticeship Labor Standards Act.

[Approved by Governor June 18, 1955. Filed with Secretary of State June 20, 1955.]

In effect
September
7, 1955

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3070 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3070. The Governor shall appoint an Apprenticeship Council, composed of six representatives each from employer and employee organizations, respectively, geographically selected, and of two representatives of the general public. The Director of Industrial Relations and the state official who is in charge of trade and industrial education under authority of the State Board of Education shall also be members of the Apprenticeship Council. The chairman shall be elected by vote of the Apprenticeship Council. The terms of office of the members of the Apprenticeship Council first appointed shall expire as designated by the Governor at the time of making the appointment: two representatives each of employers, employees, and the public representative shall serve until January 15, 1941. Two representatives each of the employers and employees shall serve until January 15, 1942. Thereafter each member shall serve for a term of two years. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term of his predecessor shall be appointed for the remainder of said term. Each member of the council shall receive the sum of twenty dollars ($20) for each day of his actual attendance at meetings of the council, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in connection therewith.

The terms of the five additional members provided by the amendment of this section at the 1955 Regular Session shall expire, as designated by the Governor at the time of making the appointment, as follows: one additional representative each of employers, employees, and the additional public representative shall serve until January 15, 1957; and one additional representative each of employers and employees shall serve until January 15, 1958.

CHAPTER 1138

An act to amend Section 69900 of the Government Code, relating to appointment of judicial employees in a county with a population over 750,000 and under 900,000.
